

That Greenville and Pitt County people are not insensible to a GOOD THING is well attested by the patronage and support that is being given the Community Sale now on here. Dealers say that the project is going far better than anticipated in view of the period of particularly dull business. However, it has passed the experimental stage, it is a proved success.

According to statements of merchants who originated the value-giving and profit-sharing event, the volume of business today is better than yesterday. The fact that every business concern interested is offering some special bargain on each day is finding liberal response. The Community Sale is the biggest thing of its kind ever undertaken by Greenville merchants on a cooperative basis of selling.

All conditions being even it is expected that the crowning achievement of the event—tomorrow—the closing day will be recorded with a new high mark of business. The stocks are plentiful and varied. It is suggested that buyers take early advantage of the sale to insure satisfied selection. The window trims and lighting schemes are being warmly commended. GET INTO LINE NOW.

SCORES KILLED BY HEAT

Torrid Wave Sets New Death Record; Frost In New Mexico

CHICAGO, June 22.—Scores of deaths and numerous prostrations have been caused by the torrid wave. During the last few days high temperature and death records have been shattered in many sections.

A notable contrast in weather conditions is furnished by New Mexico where severe frosts made it necessary to break the ice in livestock watering troughs, last night, while the mercury dropped to 28 degrees above on the Arizona desert and temperature descended to 40 degrees in Wisconsin.

Forty three deaths are recorded from heat in the east. Chicago reported 21 and in Ohio five died today from the effects of the heat.

Advices covering a wide territory indicate there is much suffering from the torrid condition. Weather forecasters do not see any early relief, it was declared today.

Michigan Smelters.

DETROIT, June 22.—Hot weather has taken nine lives in lower Michigan in the past 24 hours, according to reports received here.

Seven deaths were by drowning. One man dropped dead on the street in Saginaw. The ninth death occurred at Owosso where a 15-year-old boy was struck by lightning.

Court Order Seals Mouth of Klan Head, Police Order Defied

ATLANTA, June 22.—A temporary injunction restraining William J. Simmons, emperor of the Klu Klux Klan and others from giving away secrets and rituals of the Klan to the newly organized knights of Kamela, was signed late yesterday by Judge Humphreys, it became known today. The order was issued in response to the petition of representatives of the Klan faction headed by Imperial Wizard Evans.

Washington-Lee Plays Approved

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The fine arts commission has approved plans submitted by Flourney & Flourney, Washington architects for the proposed auditorium for Washington and Lee University, at Lexington, Va. The structure will be so placed as not to disturb the existing chapel which contains the tomb of General R. E. Lee.

Threat of Ku Klux Exposure Muffled

NEW YORK, June 22.—The Klu Klux Klan will parade in New York with complete regalia in defiance of Mayor Hylan's threat to break up any such demonstration with the police, King Kleagle Johnson, announced today.

GOATS FROM CHICAGO TO SAVE NORTHERN BABIES

CHICAGO.—The Grenfell mission in Labrador needs goats to supply milk to preserve infant life, and the herds of some Chicago millionaires are being assessed to meet the demand. Mrs. James A. Patten and Charles A. Stevens are among those who have contribute pure bred animals.

It has been said that the lives of 500,000 babies could be saved annually in the United States if the infants could have goats' milk, which comes nearest to mothers' milk. Goats' milk sells at about 40 cents a quart, and even at this price it is hard to get.

Hannah Dixon, Dick Rogers, Winners In Loving Cup Contest

White's theater hung out the "S. R. O." sign last night. There was a reason. All Greenville was anxious to find out who was the most popular girl and the homeliest man in the city, which was decided by a voting contest. The awards were silver loving cups offered by the Community Pictures, Inc., which concern made the films of the local views scenes presented for the first time last night.

The ballots cast showed an equal number for Miss Hannah Dixon and Miss Rosemond Flanagan. There was only one thing to do to settle a tie vote—that is, draw. Miss Dixon, was on the long end of the long straw and won. That was a fair way to decide that part of the contest, as both young ladies are among the most attractive and popular of all the fair girls of Eastern Carolina.

But listen to this. It was with visible embarrassment that Sam White announced that dashing, handsome, debonaire Sam Rodgers, was first in the "homeliest" class. Any way, Sam's friends wanted to put him over for something and they did.

The community pictures showing scenes of the East Carolina Teachers Colleges, several of the interiors of local stores, street views and scenes are good. A number of the persons in the films quickly recognized by the audience, provoked laughter. The picture will be repeated tonight.

Brice Little, Wilson, Elected President of Junior Baptist Body

HIGH POINT, June 22.—The fourteenth annual convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of North Carolina came to a close last night with the election of Brice Little, of Wilson, as president, the selection of Wilmington as the meeting place of next year's convention and the awarding of the efficiency banners.

The election of officers came first on the evening's program and the report of the nominating committee was read by C. F. Gore, of Weldon. In addition to the president, the following other officers were elected: First Vice-President, C. S. Green, Durham; second vice-president, C. W. Holland Monroe; third vice-president, Miss Hattie Boone, Murfreesboro; fourth vice-president, Paul Caudell, North Wilkesboro; fifth vice-president, Miss Ethel Eaton, New Bern; recording secretary, Miss Mary Annie Younts, High Point; press reporter, Rev. Walter M. Gilmore, Raleigh.

New Prison Policy Will Cut Sentences

RALEIGH, June 22.—George Ross, Pou, state prison superintendent, under the direction of the governor, is now working out the details for the wholesale commutation of prisoners in the state prison to meet the requirements of the new prison regulations based on the indeterminate sentence.

Under the new regulations, the state prison authorities will have the right to recognize the observance of prison discipline and good conduct by liberation of the prisoner after the expiration of the minimum sentence. Under the commutation authorized by the governor term of the original sentence will constitute the maximum and the reduction allowed by the governor the minimum.

R. E. Mayo Brings In First Cotton Bloom

R. E. Mayo, living three miles from here on the north side of the river brought to The Reflector office today the first cotton blossom of the season. Mayo also exhibited two specimens of the boll weevil. However, he expressed no apprehension from any material damage to his crop from the pest. He stated crop conditions looked good, and predicted satisfactory yields of cotton and tobacco in his section of the country.

DISTRICT COMMITTEEMEN URGE SCHOOL SYSTEM CONSOLIDATED

At a meeting of school district committeemen of Pitt county yesterday in the court house, the general adoption throughout the county of the consolidated school systems was heartily approved. One or more representatives of the various districts were in attendance.

The plan is carried out all of the smaller buildings will be abandoned and rural pupils will have the same free educational benefits, both in the grades and high school instruction as enjoyed in the cities and towns of the state.

The Pitt County Board of Education and Superintendent Fitzgerald are exerting every effort to put this system into operation as soon as possible, covering every corner of the county.

The ultimate purpose is to maintain high school system in the county located at such points as will best serve the population needs. When

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE EXPELLS MEMBER, HEAD TO QUIT

NEW YORK, June 22.—The consolidated stock Exchange expelled P. G. Stamm, of P. G. Stamm & company today.

The house clearing in Wall Street, inaugurated after the failure of E. M. Fuller and company for $5,000,000 and disclosure that the house was one of scores of bucket shops where brokers bet their brains against their customers' money, brought four important developments today.

One—Inauguration by Attorney General Sherman of a campaign to close all bucket shops by injunction, under the recently adopted Martin Act.

Two—Announcement that W. S. Silkworth, who has been sharply under fire because of his alleged relations with now bankrupt members of the Consolidated Stock Exchange, had decided to resign the exchange presidency next Thursday, and that Lawrence Tweedy, vice-president, slated to succeed him, would immediately start a thorough re-organization of the exchange.

Three—Disciplinary action by the New York Curb Market against two members alleged to have committed acts injurious to the exchange. One was expelled and one suspended for a year.

Fourth—Reports that powerful banking interests in the street had inaugurated a series of conferences to seek some means of stabilizing conditions in the financial zone. In this connection, the statement last night of President Cromwell, of the New York Stock Exchange, that a new movement was on foot to organize a pool to save houses subjected to runs was recalled.

U. S. To Fight Unions If Attempt Is Made To Stop Coal Impact

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Any attempt of the United Mine Workers of America in combination with the unions of foreign countries to prevent the shipment of coal from abroad into the United States during the progress of coal strikes here will be "prevented by the government of the United States promptly and forcefully," Attorney General Daugherty, declared in a letter to the Federal commission, made public today.

Quality Cotton Growers Big Need, Declare Officials

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The assured future of the cotton growing section of the United States, its seems clear, the department of agriculture announced here, is in standardizing upland cotton production to a very few superior varieties, and in improving the quality of cotton in evenness of staple, strength and other desirable spinning qualities, so as to completely free American cotton growers from competition of the inferior cottons of India, China and other cotton growing sections of the world.

"With more money and effort being expended than ever before to promote cotton growing on a commercial scale in other parts of the world," says the department's announcement, "competition from these sources with inferior types of American cotton will greatly increase. Experiments of the past decade have shown that it does not materially affect the cost of production to grow superior varieties in single variety communities, as compared with the present scattered system of growing a large number of varieties in a single region.

J. S. Tunstall Laid To Rest In Cherry Hill; Widow Is Ill

Funeral services for J. S. Tunstall, who died at his summer home in Swannanoa Wednesday were held from the family home yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by the Rev. W. P. Shambart, of the Christian Church. Burial was in Cherry Hill cemetery. The active pallbearers were: W. E. Hooker, J. G. Moye, J. R. Moye, C. T. Munford, T. E. Hooker, Dow Lassiter, W. Z. Morton, G. E. Forbes, J. L. Little, L. H. Pender, W. B. Wilson. Honorary pallbearers: R. S. May, W. S. Moye, Archie Bilbro, S. T. White, C. Washington, H. B. Harris, R. L. Crow.

K. R. Tunstall, Kinston, and W. U. Tunstall, Maury, brothers, together with other relatives and out of town friends attended the funeral.

Mrs. Tunstall, was unable to attend the rites for her husband. Following his death she was taken ill and is under the care of a physician at Swannanoa.

Editors Must Be Leaders, Says Writer At Press Meeting

BLOWING ROCK, June 2.—"The future is pregnant with possibilities for every editor who possesses energy and courage to command the door of opportunity to open for him," declared M. L. Shipman, historian of the North Carolina Press Association, in an address reviewing the progress of the association during the past year. "Those who wait for a lucky wind to blow the door ajar or for an opportunity to sneak through it when someone with more energy than they have opened the door to success, is doomed to disappointment."

"The editor of other days was generally a leader," continued Shipman. "The editor of the future must likewise be a leader if he expects to reach 'the promised land.' To lead successfully, one must be honest. The public may be deceived for a time but the truth will finally rise up to plague and to destroy. Furthermore, an editor, to be a successful leader, must have faith in a cause he espouses and let his words ring true. Convinced as to the righteousness of his cause, the highest, courageous editor may send forth his message to the public with hope and confidence."

Mrs. Bertha Schillo, of Chicago, is under arrest there as a suspect in the murder of Richard Tesmer, Chicago insurance man, who was slain by a woman bandit who held him and his wife up in his garage and then shot her to death when he fought to save his wife's wedding ring. Mrs. Schillo denies the charge.

Curb Market Will Offer Fine Variety At Saturday Sale

Patrons of the curb market are promised a choice selection of country products at the sale tomorrow which opens at 8 o'clock in Forbes and Mortons warehouse. With each succeeding sale day the popularity of the project grows. Housewives and others find that they can obtain choice selections of vegetables, frying chickens, eggs and other foodstuffs at well balanced prices.

To get in on the best selections, it is advisable to attend the market sale early. It is also suggested that shopping bags or baskets be provided by buyers.

Nobles Must Die, Clemency Refused

RALEIGH, June 22.—Governor Morrison has refused clemency and Dan M. Nobles, convicted of the murder of his cousin, Henry Nobles, in Columbus county, will be electrocuted at the state's prison Tuesday, June 26.

Application for the commutation of Nobles was made before the Governor yesterday by D. C. Francis, Raleigh attorney, employed by those who have become interested in Nobles and who have raised funds by popular subscription to fight for his commutation. In a brief supported by affidavits, the attorney emphasized the contention that Nobles did not have a fair trial, that the defense was deprived of advantages it should have been able to use in the preparation of the case.

Eleven Entries For July Balloon Race

INDIANAPOLIS.—Eleven pilots have signified their intention of competing in the national balloon race, which starts here July 4, according to Blaine McGrath, promotion director of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the race will be held. There probably will be one or two added starters, Mr. McGrath believes.

With the annual 500-mile automobile race out of the way, workmen have begun preparing for the balloons which will be started from the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Gas mains already are installed and other arrangements are progressing rapidly.

NEW YORK, June 22.—While treasury officials were concentrating attention on the Cunard liner Berengaria today, the Baltic steamed into quarantine with 6182 bottles of liquor under British government seal for her next eastbound voyage in defiance of American dry regulations.

Dry agents under orders of Secretary Mellon, were ready to board the Berengaria, but the fact that the White Star liner was also defying the dry edict was not known to American officials for no federal dry agents were at quarantine to meet her.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Beverage liquor brought into American territorial waters under foreign government seals will be seized.

This policy was announced at the treasury and when the liner Berengaria docks at New York customs agents will break the British customs seals that guard her beverage liquor stores and take charge of them. Any other attempts to bring intoxicating beverages inside the three mile limit, it was declared, will be dealt with in the same fashion.

Announcement of the Treasury's determination to stand pat on its regulations, issued to carry out the recent supreme court ship liquor decision, was made after a day of conferences between Secretary Mellon and his advisers and officials of the state department. It came after Mr. Mellon had made it known that the decision of the treasury would remain confidential until an occasion arose requiring action. It was nevertheless made clear that the decision was unqualified and positive.

LONDON, June 22.—It is declared in well informed circles here that the British government is no way desirous to challenge the authority of American officials to break the British government seals and confiscate liquors aboard English ships. It is recognized that the jurisdiction of the British government in case of liquor or any other goods sealed at a British port can be seized once the three mile limit is passed.

700 AUTOISTS DIE AT CROSSINGS

If the record of automobile grade crossing accidents in the week of June 2, in which 55 people were killed, is maintained let alone exceeded there will be approximately 700 deaths from this cause during the months of July, August and September, according to a statement of the Bureau of Safety of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The state law providing that all drivers of automobiles come to a full stop at 50 feet from the nearest rail at railway crossings goes into effect July 1. The only exception made to this specific language of the law is where "there is a gate or watchman." The law does not apply to electric roads in cities or towns.

Railroads have been charged with maintaining sign boards on the right side of the road 100 feet from the crossings, bearing the lettering: "N. C. Law, STOP!" Penalties ranging from 10 days imprisonment and fine of $10 or both, are provided for violation of the law. Jurisdiction of such cases is taken away from justices of the peace and vested in the superior court. Sheriffs and other law officers are charged with its enforcement.

ment and fine of $10 or both, are provided for violation of the law. Jurisdiction of such cases is taken away from justices of the peace and vested in the superior court. Sheriffs and other law officers are charged with its enforcement.

Figures show that in states where a similar law is in effect, and is being rigidly enforced that the number of accidents has been appreciably reduced. The law itself is a splendid move in direction of curtailing reckless driving, but its strict enforcement is an altogether different proposition.

The best and most effective method found in bringing motorists to their senses of trying to beat trains across the tracks, never halting long enough to even cast an eye up and down the right-of-way to observe whether railroad motive power is moving is by educating them to the needless hazard of injury and possible death. Drivers should be taught that their lack of judgment is a direct and un-called-for death invitation that invariably involves others who are made the victims. Reckless driving develops acute speed mania, and there is altogether too many of that type at the wheels of cars that are an increasing menace to society.

If the new state stop law is as well enforced throughout the county as the traffic regulations are in Greenville there will be slight reason to entertain apprehension over needless accidents. Pitt county recently appointed an officer whose duty it is to maintain a careful watch on speeders. At the very inception of his job he has his hands full, but the extent of his activities will have a big part in educating drivers that he laws are to be OBSERVED.

The careful driver of today is the live one of tomorrow.

There should be sense of gratification to an autoist to know that he is not wantonly courting accident or fatality. Again, it is a reassuring feeling that through no personal blame that friends and others will not have the privilege of coming around, put a white lily in your hand, and say, "don't be look natural," or unnatural as the case may be, and start your body to the cemetery.

SHE IS HAPPY AS A SCHOOL GIRL, SAYS MRS. BLACK

Mrs. EFFIE BLACK

"I needed something to strengthen my nerves and appetite and to tone up my whole system, and that is just what Tanlac has done for me to perfection," says Mrs. E. E. Black, South Hardisty, St., Kansas City, Mo.

"For a long time I suffered from indigestion, gas and heartburn, had a very weak appetite, and was burdened with several headaches and dizzy spells. My nerves were on edge. I was too restless to sleep at night, and felt drowsy and worn out all the time.

"I was convinced before I ever took Tanlac that it was a meritorious medicine, and now I know from experience that the treatment is just wonderful. My appetite and digestion have been restored perfectly, my sleep is refreshing, and I am as healthy and happy as a school girl. I believe Tanlac will help anybody who suffers like I did."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Boys Are Nation's Greatest Assets, Rotarians Are Told

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—Conserving the nation's greatest natural resource—the boy—to the end that he will grow up with the idea that "he profits most who serves best," is the idea underlying the boys work of Rotary International as outlined by Chairman Everett Hill of the International Boys Work Committee, during session of the Rotary International Convention here today.

Rotation Frank D. Slutz of Dayton, Ohio, and Eddie Guest, the newspaper poet of Detroit, also spoke.

The supreme challenge of each generation is the next generation, Mr. Slutz told the convention. The supreme challenge of Rotary—an organization of men—is the boys, he said.

"Boys are history and civilization at the source," Mr. Slutz continued. "A fraction of the time spent upon the influencing of adults—of men—if spent upon boys will establish boys, their loyalties and their ideals. Every consideration of business efficiency demands that Rotary train boys in the new ideals."

BUSINESS NEEDS, PRESENT, FUTURE OF PITT COUNTY

By A. M. MOSELEY.

Insurance and Realtor.

"We know what we have, but the outside world does not know" is an expression frequently heard, when reference is made to Pitt county.

I want to take issue with this statement, for nothing could be farther from the real facts in the case. WE DO NOT KNOW WHAT WE HAVE. While situated in the most favored section the sun ever shone upon, yet we are utterly oblivious to this fact.

Quoting from the Manufacturers Record of last October 5, the following pertinent statement says: "The bureau of agriculture advises that eastern North Carolina enjoys the distinction of having the finest lands, commercially speaking, in the United States. You may draw a line through Hamlet to the North as far as the Virginia line and to the south as far as the South Carolina line (Pitt County IS IN THE CENTER OF THIS SECTION), and that section of the state can be made to produce, agriculturally, and from a trucking standpoint, almost anything that the state of California raises. The Piedmont section is now becoming the greatest textile and industrial center of the world; western North Carolina enjoys a climatic condition and scenic beauty unparalleled by any section of the nation. If we would but forget our conservatism and advertise our natural advantages and resources as California has done, we can easily rank FIRST commercially and industrially in the states of the union."

Grow Our Supplies.

"North Carolinians owe it to themselves to produce their own needed supplies, and further we should manufacture all our raw material and natural resources, to the end that we may receive the profits and dividends on the finished product instead of the raw product. Today we are shipping over $200,000,000 annually of foodstuffs and other supplies from without our border, which could easily be produced at home, thereby adding an enormous surplus to our coffers.

"The port of Wilmington should be dredged and enlarged to the point where ships of all sizes could easily enter and depart to the end that our agricultural and manufactured products of the State could be shipped to all the markets of the world, bringing to us in return wealth and prosperity."

Offers Definite Suggestions.

I would like to place the above clipping from the Manufacturers Record before the thinking men and women of Pitt County.

I repeat the statement made in the beginning of this article—we do not know what we have.

I want to offer two definite suggestions as a means of remedying the situation in which we find ourselves.

First, our Chamber of Commerce directors could, with profit, have a primer—agricultural and industrial—prepared. This primer should then be placed in every school in Pitt county and become a part of the instruction given. Through this medium our boys and girls would gain valuable information as touching the great county in which they lie, and, no doubt, would be the means of causing many to make Pitt county, after completing their education, their future home.—ALSO THIS PRIMER could be used as a means of advertising—copies being mailed to the vari-

Talks on Osteopathy

By DR. F. FITTS

WHY OSTEOPATHY ADJUSTS STRUCTURE

When the mechanism of a great dynamo is disturbed by parts that break down or fail to perform their full function, the result is trouble.

It is equally as true of your body. When the mechanism that Nature provides is interfered with or its normal operation compromised by faulty adjustment, a period of sickness begins.

The body depends upon the protective forces of Nature to keep it free from disease. If perverted structure prevents these forces from effectively operating, resistance is lowered and sickness is the result.

Oil alone cannot restore strength to a faulty machine. It needs adjustment.

So it is with your body. When structure is out of adjustment it needs the kind of attention that will restore the natural relationship between parts. Nothing but this can insure full, natural action and truly normal processes.

This is why the Osteopathic Physician lays so great emphasis on adjustment structure. It is the one way to insure full operation of natural law.

MRS. W. I. SKINNER ENTERTAINS

Delightful Bridge Party Complimentary to Miss Nancy Arthur. Thursday afternoon at her attractive home on Fifth street, Mrs. W. I. Skinner, was hostess at eight tables of bridge complimentary to Miss Nancy Arthur, having as honor guests Misses Alice and Hannah Fulford and Mrs. W. H. Bradsher.

The entire decorations of the drawing room and library, in which the tables were arranged, carried out the color scheme of white and yellow, sweet peas and nasturtiums being used in profusion.

Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by the hostess and served refreshing Coco-Colas and sandwiches. Miss Hannah Dixon, making the top score was presented a deck of cards while the honoree, Miss Arthur, was given beautiful silk hose. Misses Fulford and Mrs. Bradsher were remembered with bottles of toilet water.

At the conclusion of the games an ice course was served.

MRS. S. E. GATES ENTERTAINS

Hostess at Delightful Party Complimentary to Mrs. H. G. Sparrow.

Yesterday morning at the Country Club Mrs. S. E. Gates delightfully entertained at two tables of bridge and one table of rook complimentary to Mrs. H. G. Sparrow, of Florence, S. C., house guest of Mrs. L. A. Randolph.

The reception room was very attractive with its decorations of spring flowers. Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Gates and served Coco-Cola and sandwiches.

Mrs. Roy Batchelor making the top bridge score was presented a string of beads while Mrs. L. A. Randolph making the top rook score was given an attractive souvenir. Mrs. Sparrow, the honor guest, was also given a souvenir.

At the conclusion of several spirited games Mrs. Gates assisted by Miss Margaret Cone Tucker and Mrs. Earle Carter, served delicious salad.

End of English Betting Still Seems Far Off

LONDON.—The special committee appointed to help the government decide whether it will pay to tax betting, held another public sitting recently and examined several police officials. Their testimony was against it.

Mrs. Caldwell police superintendent of Liverpool, said the betting law was very difficult to enforce and very unpopular. Its inconsistencies and loopholes were so numerous that in practice it amounted to one law for the well-to-do, who could bet on credit without incurring any risk of getting fined or imprisoned, and another for the poor who, because of their poverty, had to confine themselves to ready money betting which meant street betting and were liable to get into trouble if they were caught at it.

HARDING PLEADS FOR CREATION COURT OF WORLD JUSTICE

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—President Harding placed before the country last night a renewed plea for American adherence to the permanent court of international justice "as the only existing agency of peace to which we can safely subscribe without violating the basic principles of our national being."

Making the first prepared address of his Western trip, the President said that to bring about the end he desired he "would gladly wipe out factional difference," and proposed a reconstruction of the machinery of the international tribunal "to dispose conclusively of all other cited apprehensions of danger from the exercise of any influence whatsoever, either open or furtive, by the League of Nations or by any other organization."

Suggests Two Plans.
"This could be done in one of two ways," he asserted, "first, by empowering the court itself to fill any vacancy arising from the death of a member or retirement for whatever cause, without interposition from any other body; or second, by continuing the existing authority of the Permanent Court of Arbitration to nominate, and by transferring the power to elect from the council and assembly of the League to the remaining members of the court of justice."

Then anticipating "the voice of the doubter," who might inquire whether the 40 nations now represented on the court would consent to these changes in the structure of the tribunal, Mr. Harding answered that "to submit terms which we consider essential to the preservation of our nationality is not a act of discourtesy; it is the only fair, square and honorable thing a great, self-respecting nation can do."

Crux of Conditions.
The crux of the conditions suggested the President described as "the making of the world court precisely what its name implies."
"Can it be possible that despite their protestations to the contrary, is not what some of our sister states at heart desire?" he asked, "Must there be a test of sincerity abroad as well as at home? Then the more quickly it can be made the better, the better for them and the better for us. There is nothing to be accomplished in ambiguity. We want to know. And the only way to find out is to inquire."

BUCHAREST.—Hermannstadt, a city in Transylvania, 160 miles north west of Bucharest, is being considered as the new capital of Greater Rumania. For a long time many Rumanians have felt that the enormously increased frontiers of the country demanded a capital nearer the Western States of Europe than Bucharest. They want to make of Hermannstadt, which in Rumanian is called Sibiu, a sort of executive Washington.

AUSTRIA SENDS EMISSARY TO AMERICAN TOURISTS
VIENNA.—Capt. Joseph Einsle, formerly of the Austrian navy, accompanied by two friends, will attempt to cross the Atlantic in June from Hamburg to New York in a sailing yacht 4 feet long. The three men built the boat themselves on Lake Constance, the cost being defrayed by public subscription.

On arrival in America Capt. Einsle intends to give a series of lectures on Austria as a tourist country.

Gentlemen:

I am just in receipt of check in payment of life insurance carried by my late husband, Lorenza McLawhorn, and take this occasion to thank your company and your local agent, MR. R. T. COX, for the prompt, courteous and efficient settlement of the claim. It is very gratifying to me to have the claim settled in so satisfactory and expeditious manner. Mr. McLawhorn carried other insurance, but your company was the first to effect settlement.

Very truly yours,

KNOW YOUR OWN STATE

North Carolinas' famous Chimney Rock

You certainly don't know North Carolina if you've never been to Chimney Rock! It is on the Asheville-Charlotte Highway, Asheville, 26 miles; Hendersonville, 19 miles.

There are few views as remarkable and easily accessible anywhere in the country as that from Chimney Rock. Far below lies Hickory Nut Gorge. Then there's Needle's Eye, Blockade's Lookout, Devil's Head and other points of interest that go with "the trip". Better make it soon!

If, perchance, you plan to spend more than a day in the vicinity, run over to beautiful Lake Junaluska. "Standard" is a balanced gasoline which will go a long way toward making every trip a complete success. You can always depend on "Standard" for full power and mileage, quick starting, nimble pick-up and a clean-burning mixture.

Along the principal highways in every direction you'll find those pumps with the red "S.O." that give you the quality gasoline—made in the Carolinas. You can safely stick to "Standard".

This rock is justly famous for its odd shape and for the wonderful view that it affords of the surrounding country. Right in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Devil's Head, one of the many curious rock formations in the vicinity of Chimney Rock. Looks as though it might topple over any minute.

Lake Junaluska, near Waverly, 26 miles from Asheville. A charming spot where there is plenty of canoeing, bathing and boating.
