

Ayden, N. C., this county, is conceded by those familiar with it to be one of the most progressive little cities for its size in the entire Southland. Its people have always rallied to support every measure created for the betterment and building up, of not only their town, but they have manifested the proper spirit in the advancement of their county.

of Ayden township, and that is the proper high school facilities. The present building is inadequate in many respects. There is not sufficient room to give the child the same grades that are provided in the ordinary institution of this kind. Instead of being prepared to give the high school scholars advantages that would entitle them to enter college, as it now is, the child finishing there would have to spend one or two years in a preparatory school before they are admitted in college.

Next Tuesday an election is to be held in Ayden township for issuing of bonds for the erection of the necessary school building to take care of the demand. Every voter should consider it his or her duty to the children to provide every educational advantage possible, and they could do nothing that would mean more to the generations to come than vote Tuesday in favor of this issue.

Several Events Being Enjoyed Teachers College

This has been a week full of good things for the students, teachers and officers of East Carolina Teachers College. On Monday evening Prof. C. M. Heck, of A. & E. College, Raleigh, gave a very instructive as well as entertaining lecture on "Science and Music." Wednesday morning the Senior College class presented a Fourth of July program in honor of the day. Thursday Senator S. J. Everett delivered the Founders Day address in which he stressed the great opportunities presented to teachers by our rural communities.

Friday, Mr. Jule B. Warren, of Raleigh, secretary of the North Carolina Education association told the teachers of the work of the organization he represented. Saturday Rev. Leland W. Smith spoke to the students on some phases of their spiritual development.

In the evening after dinner, the students congregate on the campus where they join in games, plays and singing. There is something to engage every moment of the student's time.

This week closes the first half of the summer term. The students are putting forth every effort to make the most of their time and the work is moving along well in spite of the heat and the overcrowded dormitories. There are 436 students enrolled for the summer term.

This Year's Cotton Crop Largest In History of State

RALEIGH, July 7.—"The cotton crop of North Carolina is unusually promising considering the planting seasons and is the largest in its history," according to a statement issued here today by Frank Parker, statistician of the co-operative crop reporting service of the U. S. and N. C. departments of agriculture. The report is based on information received from 28 counties of the state.

"With the acreage at 103 percent," says the report "North Carolina shows the least increase of any state. The average for the cotton belt is 12 per cent increase. It is reported that the increase would have been more had the April report not been given publicity. That report showed the same acreage per cent according to the planting intentions of several thousand cotton farmers. It is further recognized that it was the speculator who suffered most by that 'intentions' report, which indicated prospective planting.

"The present conditions of 80 percent of a normal or full crop prospect for 256 pounds per acre, if applied to the 1,703,460 acres means that the crop might be over 910,000 bales if the state conditions remain favorable. The boll weevil and adverse weather conditions must be reckoned with before the early frost gets its share. These figures are based on conditions now and do not include any but favorable influences to follow. The last crop made 250 pounds per acre and 851,000 bales.

"There are estimated to have been planted in the United States the greatest acreage of any year, 38,287,000 with a prospective yield of 11,412,000 bales or 17 per cent increase over the 1922 production. The present condition prospects are 1.3 per cent below last years report and six per cent below the ten years average.

"The weather conditions in North Carolina have been unusually favorable for cotton during June. The recent rains have helped to relieve the drought that might soon have become serious, even on cotton. The boll weevil has not become noticeably bad but its presence and activities are now claiming the attention of the southern cotton counties of the state, stands are poorest on the stiff eastern soils and in the northern Piedmont or clay belt. The crop has grown and recuperated wonderfully during June."

German Tobacco Threatens to Spoil Japan's Monopoly

TOKIO, July 6.—Although protected by a customs duty of 355 percent ad valorem, the Japanese tobacco monopoly held by the government had a scare thrown into it last month when the returns of imports showed that German cigarettes were being dumped here and being sold at a price below that charged by the monopoly.

A cry immediately arose for a further increase in the import duty or, alternately that the government should purchase the German cigarettes and should sell them through the usual sources. Imported cigars and cigarettes are sold in Japan at almost prohibitive prices.

PALMER DELIVERS SPLENDID ADDRESS BAR ASSOCIATION

Speaks on "Responsibility of United States to Her Allies"

BLOWING ROCK, July 7.—A. Mitchell Palmer, former attorney general of the United States, delivered the principal address at last night's session of the North Carolina Bar Association taking for his subject, "The responsibility of United States toward her allies." He expressed approval of France's action in the occupation of the Ruhr and criticized the abandonment of France by the United States and other allies. He further stated that he wished to emphasize that France had been a loyal ally of the United States for one hundred and fifty years.

Stating that old indebtedness of the United States to France incurred during the early colonies and never repaid would now amount to over $3,000,000,000. If the United States, he said, had adopted a different policy in 1919 that she could have helped in a great measure to alleviate the terrible conditions which exist in Europe today. Since the war, stated Mr. Palmer, the first and greatest mistake made by the United States was the failure of the Senate to ratify the treaty of Versailles. I must consider he said that France had a perfect right to enter and occupy the German commercial center to insure if possible the payment of indemnity which she was justly due.

Mr. Palmer who was introduced by Senator Lee S. Overman had not prepared a speech for the convention in advance but spoke extemporaneously for several minutes. His talk contained many valuable suggestions and was an outstanding feature of the association.

Balloon With Basket Submerged in Lake Erie Is Sighted

FT. STANLEY, Ont., July 7.—The sighting of a balloon with basket half submerged in Lake Erie about 25 miles southwest of here was reported by the arrival of the steamer Colonial upon arrival here today. The bag was described as being blue with a wide white circle around the middle and in the center of the circle a red star. The captain of the Colonial said that there was no visible trace of the occupants of the balloon. Government naval and air craft has been ordered to aid in locating Lieutenant L. J. Roth, pilot, and Lieutenant T. B. Hull aide, occupants of the ill-fated balloon and the Elsie Doris was ordered out before noon today to search for the balloon and to return before late in the afternoon.

The ill-fated craft which was the U. S. Navy Number A-5698 left Indianapolis in the National balloon race on July 4 in which thirteen balloons started and was the only one which had not been located up until last night.

Considerable damage was done in the county yesterday afternoon during one of the worst hail, wind and electrical storms that has been reported this summer. The section covering a narrow strip about four miles north of Tar river was possibly the hardest hit.

A. business girls' clubs, and southern colleges.

There was also time for all of the delegates to enjoy the wonderful scenery and the recreational advantages of this section.

Presidential Boom For McAdoo Worked Out By Friends

NEW YORK, July 7.—Definite plans for the launching of a William G. McAdoo presidential boom for 1924 has been worked out at a dinner of a dozen of his intimate friends here according to a statement printed in the Evening Post here this afternoon. Although Mr. Adoo has not formally announced his candidacy for the office it is declared that his hat will be in the ring.

The diners discussed thoroughly the possibilities of Cox, of Ohio, Governor Smith, of New York, Senator Underwood, John W. Davis and Henry Ford as candidates and it was the general belief that the most opposition would be Ford. It was thought however that if McAdoo announced his candidacy soon enough that he could head off a Ford democratic boom and enter the convention with at least 400 delegates and a chance of great increase in strength by the switching over of others as soon as they were registered. The fact was not overlooked that in case the McAdoo strength proved too great for the Detroit manufacturer that he would probably oppose as a third party.

Organization of the McAdoo clubs will begin immediately.

United States To Maintain Minimum Naval Strength

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The United States will maintain full minimum naval strength at sea of 18 first line battleships, 14 cruisers and 84 submarines, it was announced today, until definite action is reached regarding the now existing unratified treaties. The decision was reached by the general board and formally approved by Secretary Denby. It was stated that the government proposes to keep her navy at sea in fighting trim until settlement is completed.

Lightning Kills Mules

On the farm of Mr. William J. Fleming about three miles from Greenville, the lightning struck his feed barn burning it to the ground. A stock stable which was about 30 feet away was also hit and four head of mules and one horse were killed instantly. There was considerable wind and a small quantity of hail at this point.

Tobacco Crop Destroyed

The tobacco crop on the R. L. Smith's Fleming farm which is located but a short distance from where the lightning played havoc, was completely destroyed by hail. And while this crop was considered one of the prettiest pieces of tobacco in that section there remains now only a field of naked stalks. The wind that accompanied the hail on this farm uprooted a number of trees and threatened the moving of several small buildings from their foundation.

The Joe Teel farm which is also owned by R. L. Smith suffered because of the hail and wind. The tobacco crop being almost completely ruined.

On the Jonah Briley farm which properly adjoins the above mentioned, the fields of tobacco was leveled to the ground by hail and wind. The crop belonged to Messrs. Harvey Briley and Dall Laughhouse of this city who had the farm rented. In other sections of the county reports are to the effect that the wind did considerable damage to the crops and buildings, but the details were not available.

There were several minor damages in Greenville, none of which proved very serious. One dwelling on Greene street had the top of one of its chimneys practically torn down by lightning and the adjoining building had a window frame slightly damaged.

Session of Miners And Operators To Be Held Monday

ATLANTIC CITY, July 7.—The joint session of anthracite miners and operators to be held here today at which time the employers were to have made their reply to the demands of the workers has been postponed until Monday afternoon. The postponement was asked for by the operators because of the inability of the stenographers to transcribe the proceedings of yesterday's session at which three hours was consumed in discussing the demands to be taken up today. International President John L. Louis together with several other of the employers readily agreed to the postponement.

RAILROAD GATES

The City Fathers are to be commended for their recent ordinance compelling railroad officials to install gates or place watchmen at the tracks. This is a splendid step and one which should have been taken long before this time. The public is entirely too careless in crossing the tracks while driving automobiles and serious accidents have occurred on account of failure to watch trains. The railroad tracks cross some of Greenville's principal streets and the city fathers showed their wisdom in taking this step without further loss of time.

Now experts are trying to find out how old the earth is. They would be wiser to let well enough alone and try to find out how much longer they have to live in which to prepare for the end which they know is just as certain as the beginning.

Put on your dimmers—another good ordinance passed by the Aldermen.

Dempsey says that he draws no color line and is not afraid to fight. If we remember correctly there was a time when "fight" did not sound so attractive to the heavy weight champion.

Governor Smith, of New York, evidently appreciates the fact that some of his friends want him for president, but he must remember that wanting and getting are not synonymous. There is a big difference between governorship and the office of President of the United States.

Road sentences and fines seem to have little effect on the men found guilty of making monkey rum whiskey. They continue to manufacture it in large quantities and will do so until some method of punishment is used in proportion to the offense. The papers continue to carry accounts of good officers being shot by men from ambush who are guilty of making whiskey and before running the risk of being apprehended will take a life in order to escape. It will not be stopped until laws are made which will punish such a violator in proportion to the crime.

If pretty crops predict a successful year, then Pitt County farmers will reap great results during the coming months. No people deserve to prosper more than the farmers and if they fail the whole country suffers.

No doubt the occupants of a Ford car who escaped without injury when the car was demolished by a train going at the rate of forty miles an hour will forever hereafter believe in predestination. Who can blame them if they do? It was certainly a miraculous escape.

Underwood scores Harding's administration for its "Do-Nothing Policy" in foreign affairs. The sad part is that the administration is not only guilty of this charge but also of the "Do-Nothing Policy," in home affairs. It is a case of being guilty of the whole and not a part.

This Dress Comes From the Melting Pot of Style

You take a stiff, self-conscious Eton boy and passionate Toreador and mix them and their costumes up, allow the mixture to simmer awhile in the brain of some such Parisian fashion expert as Henri Creange, and pour out to cool. As soon as it is cool enough to try on you will find a delightful blending of styles into an afternoon frock with the flair that only a conception from Paris has. It's as magic as you ever thought the rabbit that came out of the top hat was.

The Eton comes out in this dress of Krisalrepe in the short jacket front, opening over a vestee of plain sheer organdie. The dashing Spanish touch appears in the belt which is draped in a swinging low line about the hips. The wrap-around skirt comes to an end in a drape shorter than the hem, that is caught in shirrings in a way to suggest smoking.

Rather wide set in sleeves narrow until they fit tightly about the lower arm, but flare into an attractive cuff. The foreign influences are at work only in the front—the back is plain, merely bloused above the folds of the sash.

White organdy makes a jaunty band and bow around the felt hat.

convention of school superintendents and principals of Connecticut in session at Yale University today.
 Eighty thousand men, women and children met death by accident in the United States during the last year, the speaker said. Of this number 49,000, a life every ten minutes, have been saved by the general application of safety instruction in schools. "The reason for this needless sacrifice is that the development of modern civilization has been so rapid our intelligence has not kept up with it."

Cattle Breeders to Meet.
 HIGH POINT, The North Carolina Holstein-Friesian association will meet in annual convention here on Friday, July 6. At the initial session Friday morning officers will be elected. The other sessions will be devoted to discussion of problems peculiar to the cattle breeding industry.

ITALY ADOPTS U. S. CANOES

ROME.—The American Indian canoe, which for centuries has piled only the streams and lakes of the North American continent, has at last found its way to the classic "yellow Tiber." Canoeing has become a favorite river sport of the Romans. On Sunday a dozen or more of the frail Indian craft can be seen in the yellow waters gliding along the shores in company with skiffs, shells, and motor boats.

The graceful Indian water conveyance has become so popular that an Italian firm has commenced the manufacture of them. They took several American canoes as models and then began turning them out by the scores. A canoe club also has been organized, and many Americans have joined. Paddling to the perfection of the Indians has not yet been achieved. The Romans make vain efforts to keep the canoe headed straight, but a change of paddle is necessary after every few strokes.

Turks To Change Name of Ancient Greek Shrine

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 6.—In order to remove all vestiges of Greek domination of Constantinople, the Turks intend changing the name of the historic mosque of St. Sophia to Mechmedie Mosque, that is, the Mosque of Mahomet.

Founded by the builder of Constantinople itself, Constantine the Great, who dedicated it to "Eternal Wisdom, St. Sophia Mosque is one of the most famous religious buildings in the world. For more than a thousand years it was one of Christianity's most cherished shrines. It was built in the year 326. It was destroyed by fire in 404, restored, and again destroyed. Under Theodosius it was rebuilt into a magnificent church in 415, and 150 years later was further embellished by Justinian. Twenty years later the main dome fell in, and again it was restored to eclipse its former grandeur.

It is said 100 architects were employed, each of whom had a staff of 100 artisans. The altar was of gems set in gold and silver; the doors were of ivory, amber and cedar, the outer one being silver-plated. After the capture of Constantinople by the Turks in 1453 the church was converted into a mosque.

By the Turks St. Sophia Mosque is held in a veneration second only to that which surrounds the famous Kaaba, or Sacred House, at Mecca. The Greeks regard it with equal sacredness, and they have never given up their dream that a king of the name of Constantine would one day retake Constantinople for Greece and with it St. Sophia. They hoped the late King Constantine would fulfill that role, but political misfortune and death intervened.

FACTS ABOUT "THE CHRISTIAN WHITE'S THEATRE MONDAY

Each year there appears before audiences a few films that are singled out from the mass of motion picture, written about lavishly in the newspapers, spoken about widely by the public. Such a photoplay is "The Christian" the grandest directorial work of Maurice Tourneur and his first big offering from the Goldwyn studios. "The Christian" is a great, surging achievement—great in the sense that the Bible is a great work, powerful in its message of love and devotion, powerful in its exposition of the passions, lusts, sacrifices and tenderness of humanity. "The Christian" is universally known and loved, a novel that has been translated into almost every living tongue, a play that is a classic in the theatres of the world, the most brilliant contribution of the famous author, Sir Hall Caine, to English literature.

"The Christian" has no propagandists for any religion other than the religion of humanity, harassed by thrusts of Fate, but emerging mellowed of soul and strong of heart by the all-powerful influence of love. John Storm's devotion to religion and his sacrifice for the love of an actress present a dramatic situation rich in human qualities. Maurice Tourneur has brought his story to the screen in a blaze of power and glory.

This negro divine was here a few weeks ago and conducted a series of revival services, during which time he won many admirers among both races. He is a well read Biblical student and each of his sermons tomorrow will carry with them a wonderful message. He will no doubt be well received by those of his race, also many white people will be glad of the opportunity of hearing him again.

A Wish

"I have taken Cardui for run-down, worn-out condition, nervousness and sleeplessness, and I was weak, too," says Mrs. Silvie Estes, of Jennings, Okla. "Cardui did me just lots of good—so much that I gave it to my daughter. She took three bottles of and her condition was much better.

"We have lived here, near Jennings, for 26 years, and now we have our own home in town. I have had to work pretty hard, as this country wasn't built up, and it made it hard for us.

"I WISH I could tell weak women of Cardui—the medicine that helped give me strength to go on and do my work."
