

The day of lurid, flamboyant, extravagant advertising has passed. Today every progressive business man realizes that advertising rests squarely upon the TRUTH, that is the keystone to the arch of successful advertising. Advertising has come to stay because the public demands it, but copy should be written to attract, to inform and to convince!

Advertising in the strict sense of the word, is not advertising, BUT NEWS. It frequently occurs that some copy is much more entertaining than the news columns of newspapers. If a merchant is doing things out of the ordinary the public is at once interested and expects to read all about it in the advertising columns of his local newspaper. But let the merchant understand this: That it is worse than useless to buy space if he cannot PUT INTO THAT SPACE something that will STRIKE THE PUBLIC as being UNUSUAL, as out of the ordinary as being interesting. The business concern that establishes individual prestige by its ADVERTISING COPY is the one that SUCCEEDS. Greenville has a number of that class.

Morrison Behind State Department of Commerce, He Says

ASHEVILLE, July 28.—A department of commerce for the state of North Carolina is needed, Governor Morrison told members of the commercial secretaries of the state at a session here today. Although commercial interests of the state pay more taxes than the farming and labor classes combined, this state had departments of both agriculture and labor, but has never seen fit to establish a department of commerce, said Morrison. He declared that he advocated such a department on his message to the last general assembly, but that politicians and few newspapers fought it and he was forced to abandon the project before it could reach a vote.

M. L. Shipman, he said, helped to defeat this measure, and he hoped that the commercial interests of the state would remember that fact the next time Shipman represented himself for public office.

H. L. Smith, Greenville, was elected second vice president of the organization.

Hits Georgia Prison System, She Would Wear Chains for Him

NEW YORK, July 28.—"I shall ask again if I may not wear his chains for him, for I know if they put them on him again it will mean his death," declared Mrs. William Morrell today. She is the wife of a Georgia prison road gang fugitive who is fighting extradition to that state. He escaped from the convict gang but was arrested here a week ago.

"Through those terrible months when my husband was a prisoner in Georgia," said Morrell, "I wrote repeatedly to Governor Hardwick, begging permission to take my husband's place and serve his term for him, because I knew he was good at heart, and was not mentally responsible for the incident that caused his arrest."

Governor Hardwick kindly replied that he would give my appeal careful consideration, but said it was impossible for anyone to serve a prison sentence by proxy. Nevertheless if they say my husband must go back there, I shall renew my plea."

HICKORY, N. Allen has been arrested in Los Angeles, Cal., on an indictment found in Sabot, Va., charging violation of the Mann law, after he had taken Miss Elizabeth Allen, 17, from the South to his "Mountain School" in Virginia. Authorities are seeking information as to the whereabouts of the 57 other "daughters" Allen is said to have taken to Pittsburgh Pa., from his "Mountain School." He described himself as leader of a movement to uplift the poorer white children of the mountains of North Carolina.

VANCEBORO, July 28.—The seven-year-old daughter of Tobe Jones, who lives five miles south of here, was killed by lightning during a severe electric storm that swept over this community. The little girl was on the porch of her father's farm house, as were other members of the family. She was leaning against a porch post talking with her brothers and sisters, when the terrific bolt struck which threw the girl out into the yard several feet and tore to splinters two of the posts and split every post that was under the porch roof. The other members of the family were not severely shocked.

The tentative plans, however, are that Firpo is to train at Atlantic City and Dempsey at Saratoga.

HIS WIFE FLED WITH OBSCURE DENTIST

Edward W. Browning, multi-millionaire New York real estate operator, son of the founder of Brown, King & Co., an immense New York clothing house, has filed suit for divorce against his wife, Mrs. Nellie Browning, alleging she, has fled to Paris with Dr. Charles Wilen, an obscure Bronx (New York) dentist, who is said to have quite a way with the fair sex. Mr. Browning, who is 14 years older than his beautiful wife, had recently made over a trust fund of $100,000 for her. They had no children, but had adopted two, one of whom, Margery, is missing. The Browning's New York home, atop an office building with artificial lakes and gardens, was one of the most beautiful in the metropolis.

PRODIGAL FATHER FREQUENTLY TO BLAME FOR PRODIGAL SON, REV. MR. HARTLEY, POINTS OUT

The following is a summary of a sermon delivered by the Rev. Dr. John Hartley, during the series of mission discourses at St. Paul's Episcopal church, which were brought to a close last night.

"A certain man had two sons. The younger of them said to his father: 'Give me the portion of thy life and thy attention and thy companionship and thy counsel and guidance which falleth to me.'

"And he divided unto them his living in that he paid the boys bills and sent him to a selective preparatory school and to dancing school and college and tried to believe that he was doing his full duty by the boy. And not many days after, the father gathered all his interests and aspirations and ambitions and took his journey into a far country, into a land of stocks and bonds and securities and other things which do not interest the boy.

And there he wasted his precious opportunities of being a chum to his own son. And when he had spent the very best of his life and had gained money but had failed to find satisfaction there arose a mighty famine in his heart and he began to be in want of sympathy and real companionship.

And he went and joined himself to the country club and they elected him first chairman of the house committee and then president of the club and finally sent him to the legislature.

Production of oak flooring in June amounted to 34,342,000 board feet as against 34,636,000 board feet in May and 23,495,000 board feet in June a year ago.

Maxwell Hits At Morrison, Insists Call Legislature

RALEIGH, July 28.—Answering Governor Morrison's charge that he has dodged the issue with the reminder that it was the governor who first claimed no deficit and then insisted that Maxwell was responsible for the one discovered, A. J. Maxwell's latest contribution to the Maxwell-Morrison controversy is a challenge for the governor to call a special session of the legislature to devise some means of keeping the states appropriations and revenue in reaching distance of one another.

"If Governor Morrison wants to fancy me responsible for 1921," said Mr. Maxwell, "surely he can by no stretch of imagination hold me responsible for 1923. I not only had nothing to do with revenue or appropriation bills for 1923, but wore out my batteries ringing alarm bells. After the five million cash deficit became a developed fact, and after ample warning, he had the 1921 revenue bill re-enacted without change and added millions more to the appropriations.

"That, beyond all question, is his responsibility and demands action at his hands."

N. C. Farms Company In Receivers Hands

COLUMBUS, OHIO, July 28.—Stockholders in three more subsidiaries of the R. L. Dollings company of Ohio, now in receivership, the North Carolina Farms company, the Florida Farms and Industry company, both of Columbus, and the Phoenix Cement company, of Columbus and Nazareth, Penn., today filed applications in court here asking for appointment of receivers.

Paul A. Delong, of Columbus, and Robert L. Dowling, of Green Cove Springs, Florida were appointed co-receivers for the Florida company. Bond was fixed at $50,000 each. Hearing on the application for receivers of the North Carolina company and the Phoenix company will be heard today.

Teachers Association Arranges Spelling Bee

RALEIGH, July 28.—The State Teachers' association will conduct an elimination contest during the coming school year to determine the champion speller of the state. Secretary Jule B. Warren announced today. This contest has been one of the interesting features of the state meeting of the teachers for a number of years, but certain changes will be made in the rules and regulations this year, Warren said, in order that more children in the state can have a chance to compete in the final spelling match.

"These changes are made possible because of the decision of the association to hold district meetings this year, for the semi-final preliminaries will be held at the district meetings," Mr. Warren stated. "The four best spellers in each district, two boys and two girls, will be sent on to the state meeting, so that there will be only twenty four spellers in the final contest held during the annual meeting of the teachers.

Life Insurance Gains.
Washington, July 28.—New sales of life insurance in June represented a policy value of $727,493,000 as against $704,376,000 in May and $553,135,000 in June 1922, it is announced by the department of commerce.

SHEFFIELD, ENG., July 28.—Twenty-eight miners were entombed in the Maltby Colliery near this place today by an explosion caused by fire that has been causing trouble at the mines for several weeks.

The terrific nature of the explosion has made it impossible, so far, to get into touch with the entombed men. Rescue parties are on hand equipped with every facility to start the work of rescue just as soon as internal conditions in the mine will permit.

Distressing scenes are being witnessed around the mouth of the pit where hundreds of wives, mothers and other relatives are awaiting word of the fate of the entombed miners. One hundred men were working in the mine when the explosion occurred. Twenty-eight of this number were employed in an adjoining chamber and escape was cut off by the first and the wall of debris that followed the explosion.

Unless conditions quickly change, it is feared the men will perish before aid can reach them.

Schilleter and Chief Marketing Agent Hurkey, of Clemson College, to visit the local associations throughout South Carolina and arrange with them to send a delegate to Columbia the last Monday in September to perfect plans to form a co-operative association to handle the South Carolina peach crop.

Methodists North and South United

CLEVELAND, OHIO, July 28.—Details of the plan for merging the separate general conferences of the Methodist Episcopal church and the Methodist Episcopal church, South, adopted by the joint commission of unification conference here this week, were learned today.

The report of the commission of sixteen, which was approved by the joint commission, holds that these two churches are essentially one church in origin, belief, spirit, purpose and in policy and, desiring that this essential unity may be made actual in organization and administration throughout the world, propose a plan of unification and recommend its adoption by the two churches.

RALEIGH, July 28.—Growers of improved farm seeds in North Carolina who are members of the North Carolina Seed Breeders' association will meet at the State College during the farmers' state convention on Tuesday afternoon, July 31, according to an announcement by Dr. R. GOVERNMENT CROP INSURANCE

Active agitation has been carried on to launch the government into the field of government insurance, but a report just issued by the department of agriculture...

Among the difficulties would be that of fixing equitable rates which would be acceptable as such as between different localities and different farms. Great diversity in rates is unavoidable...

The department gives many helpful suggestions for bringing about crop insurance. Although private fire insurance companies which wrote crop insurance in 1920 suffered heavy losses...

It is refreshing and encouraging to see the department of agriculture lend its assistance toward working out a feasible plan of crop insurance through private agencies...

THE RIGHT TO WORK

Employers in the building industry in New York have decided to undertake establishing the open shop in the entire country.

Unionism has accomplished much for the workers in this nation and contributed greatly to the common welfare. It has a legitimate place in our highly systematized industrial machine...

When any union tries to set itself above the constitution which guarantees a man protection in his right to work regardless of his religious, political or labor affiliations, it is headed straight for the rocks of public condemnation.

FICTION OF CONGRESS

Congress has precious little to do with making our laws. Under the rules of the House, three or four men absolutely control the important legislation of the country...

Congress is not a hardworked body. On the contrary, beyond the few men who really make the laws, congressmen have less to do than any class of men on earth. They meet at noon and seldom remain in session more than four or five hours. The theory that they are busy at the department or on committees the rest of the time is a fiction. Any competent secretary by the use of the telephone and an hour each day, can attend the department routine as well as the member could himself.

Again, contrary to public belief, the measures requiring legislation are not numerous. Congress may be deluged with bills, but most of them are not of general importance. Most of them never reach the floor.

However, the greatest reform would be to scrap the rules committee, which was unknown to congress prior to 1910, and leave to the House itself to decide by vote just what bills reported out by committee it would take up, and in what order.

In this way it may be possible to restore some of the great power and usefulness of congress, before it ceases to be a deliberative body and becomes a registering machine for the decrees of party bosses.

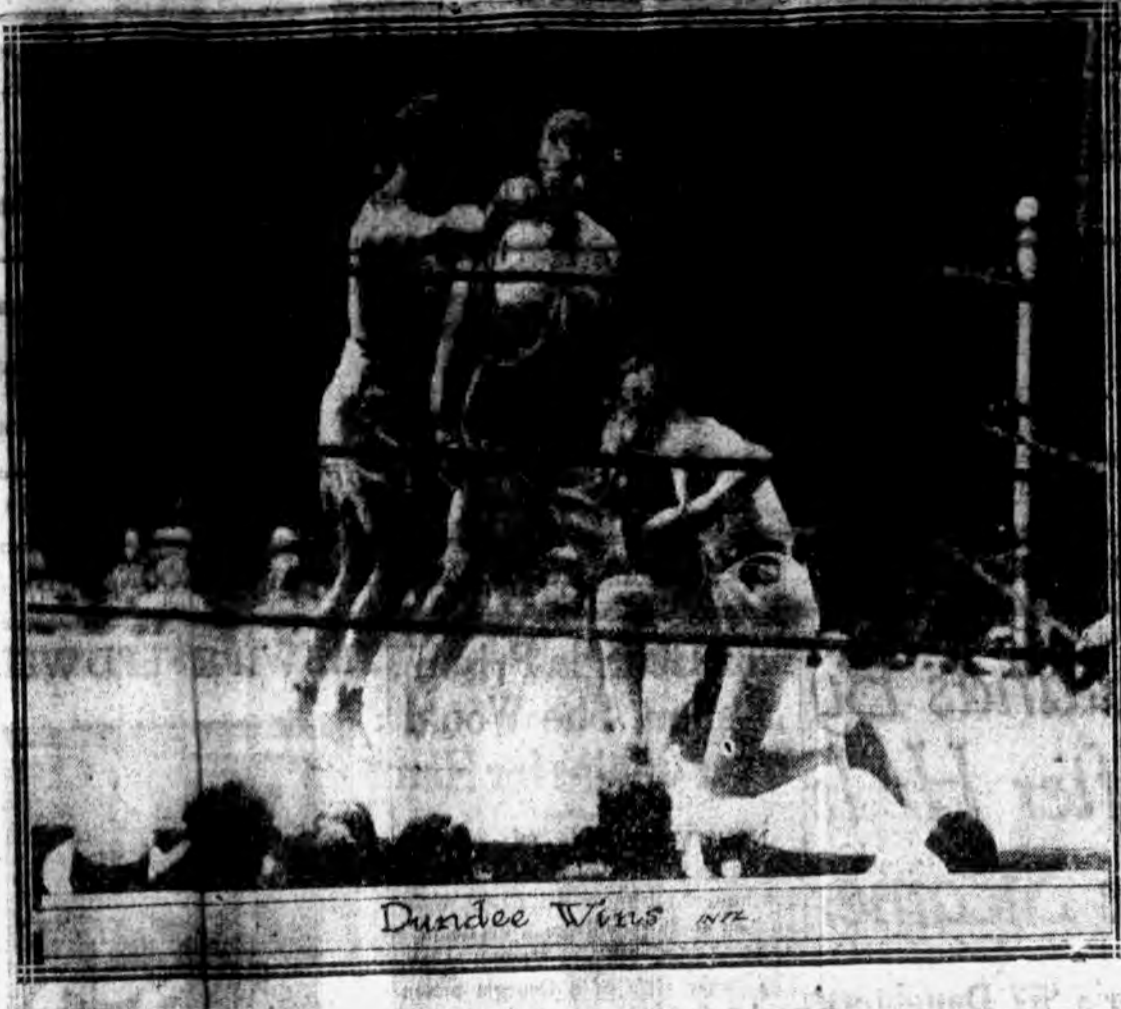

SQUARE DEAL FOR THE INDIANS

The American Indians are not a dying race, but on the contrary, are increasing in number every year. There are now in this country about three hundred and forty thousand descendants of the aborigines and of these, two hundred and twenty-five thousand are under the direct supervision of the bureau of Indian affairs of the interior department.

It was not until 1875 that any organized effort was made to look after the health of the Indians. Disease was then very common among them and was very rapidly reducing their numbers. The first hospital for their care was established in 1882, and there are about twenty-four hundred beds.

The commissioner of Indian affairs, Charles H. Burke, estimates that approximately twenty-five thousand Indians are afflicted with tuberculosis in some form or stage and that thirty thousand have trachoma or some other disease of the eye. These two ills represent by far the greatest health problem the bureau is called on to meet.

This government has expended millions of dollars on the care of its Indian wards, and the administration of its funds has not always been kept free from scandal. The bureau was at one time a football of politics, and not a few of the Indian agents appointed made themselves rich at the expense of the government and its helpless wards.

Predicts Air Routes Covering Greater Part of the World

LONDON.—A most interesting and instructive paper was read before International Air Congress, recently in session in London, by Brigadier-General F. H. Williamson, director of postal services of the British government.

General Williamson predicted that the United States, Canada, the West Indies and other parts of the North American continent would soon be linked up by air with Great Britain. Connecting air lines would also run to Egypt, India, The Straits Settlements, Australia, New Zealand, and Africa.

General Williamson said the Cairo-Bagdad air mail service, now in operation, saved 20 days over the old land route which ran via Bombay, Karachi and the Persian Gulf. The mail planes covered the 850 miles in a single day.

Discussing the future of mail transport by air, the speaker said that the conveyance of the whole of the mails by air was an unripe development unless and until there is a very marked change in the cost of air transport, and in the financial limitations under which postal services are compelled to work.

MOTOR GILDERS FORESHADOW NEW ERA IN AVIATION

LONDON.—A new era in air flying, that of cheap, safe, popular air-planing is foreshadowed by the remarkable success attained by tiny British airplanes called motor gilders. One of these, a small monoplane fitted with a three horsepower engine recently reached a speed of 53 miles an hour during tests near London.

French aviation experts also are perfecting similar "pocket-planes," intended for use by amateur aviators and sporting enthusiasts. A contest soon to be held near Paris thirty of these diminutive planes will take part. In England a small "ear with wings," capable of carrying its owner through the air at the speed of an express train with no more power than is required by a motorcycle, has reached such a practical stage that orders are being booked for it by the public.

Rising out of small fields and being wonderfully controllable in the air, these cheaply-run winged cars are to be made to alight so slowly that the risk of a crash on landing, even under adverse circumstances, will be practically eliminated. Furthermore, such machines will be so handy on the ground, and their wings will fold so neatly, that it will be possible to house them in ordinary motor garages.

Rhine Cities Stagnate With French In Ruhr

STRASBOURG.—Capital city of Alsace-Lorraine, and Mannheim, the inland Rhine port which is the chief commercial center of Baden, both are suffering greatly today as a result of the continued French occupation of the Ruhr. Freight on the river are virtually at a standstill, and the tourist traffic of other days is no more. Hence docks are deserted and hotels empty.

Strasbourg's factories are almost all closed down. The canal connecting the city with the Rhine is filled with idle ships. There is little activity on the railroad yards, and few trains cross the bridge. Tourists have turned to other routes, where travel is easier and not subject to military interference, and the local hotels and cafes are empty. With its 300,000 inhabitants, Strasbourg is in a sad plight, and can be likened to a deserted orphan.

Father, Son Week Be Held In November

NEW YORK.—A change in the dates of National Father and Son Week so as to have the observance center each year around Armistice Day, is endorsed by President Harding in a letter received at the New York offices of the International committee, Y. M. C. A., which originated the observance in 1917 and whose Boys' Work committee continues to lead its promotion.

SIXTY-FOUR EARTHQUAKES ROCK TOKIO IN TWO WEEKS

TOKIO.—Tokio had a surfeit of earthquakes during June. Between the second and fourteenth of the month 64 were recorded on the seismograph, many of them of sufficient force to waken the hardened citizens of the capital and send them scurrying under door jams, which are considered the safest places when mother earth decides to readjust herself. Most of these shocks originated in Kashiwa Bay, which is in the earthquake zone, and fortunately did no damage.

Dr. Fusakichi Omori, authority on earthquakes and volcanoes, has assured the people that, despite the recent restlessness of the earth which will continue for some time, Tokio is a region comparatively free from danger.

He reports the crops as being good throughout the section into which he went, and predicts a large crop for North Carolina if present favorable weather conditions continue. JUBBULPORE APPLAUDS RAISING OF INDIA'S FLAG NAGPUR.—Demonstrations held in connection with the display of the Indian national flag continue daily in Nagpur, and have spread to other cities of India. Arrests in Nagpur for flag agitation now total 560. As a rule the prisoners are given brief prison sentences.

At Jubbulpore the national flag has been hoisted over the Town Hall on four separate days, with resulting arrests by the police on each occasion. The initial hoisting of the flag was preceded by a street procession in which about eight thousand people, including many women, took part. This procession, headed by a drum corps, marched to the Town Hall singing national songs.

Keen for Government Homes.

LONDON.—More than 15,000 applications have been made for use of the 10,000 houses which the government will build within the next few months.

The houses, which are being constructed under the scheme to stop the house shortage of England and Scotland, may be rented or purchased by the public, and so great has been the demand that it has been necessary to refuse two thirds of the applications made since the war.

Statistics Show Slim Men Have Best Hope of Life

NEW YORK.—Thirty is the magical age in the health development of the ordinary person's life. At thirty he is supposed more nearly to approach the normal. Under thirty he may well weigh a number of pounds above the average called for in the standard height, weight and age tables, but after thirty the longest life span prevails among those whose weight is uniformly below the average, according to figures compiled by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, of this city, and given out by the American Child Health Association.

The association asks everyone to keep track of his or her weight, and to remedy any excess by diet and right living.

In a statement accompanying the figure, Dr. Louis T. Dublin, of the insurance company, who compiled them, says:

"After thirty, people who weigh less than the average have a better chance for long life, the records of the insurance companies show. After this age it is a decided advantage to be slight and a serious handicap to gain materially in weight, provided, of course, that the light weight is not the result of a sudden loss in weight which may be the result of organic disease."

"But the weight tables posted on public scales," he continues, "should not be taken too literally. Young persons may well weigh a number of pounds above the average called for by the tables. An excess of ten pounds is associated with the most favorable conditions among people between twenty and twenty-five years old."

Publishers to Serve Federal Prison Term

NEW YORK, July 28.—The sentence of Dr. Edward Rumly, H. Walter Kaufman and Norman M. Lindheim, one of one year and one day in the Atlanta penitentiary was confirmed today by the United States circuit court appeals.

The trio were convicted on charges of making false statements covering the ownership of the New York Mail.

NEW YORK, July 28.—One hundred and forty-eight inmates of the state penal institution here became suddenly ill today after eating breakfast. Doctors who examined the prisoners, forty of whom are said to be in a serious condition, expressed the belief they were suffering from ptomaine poisoning.

Doctors from Green Castle were called in to assist local physicians in caring for the prisoners.

Officials of the state board of health at Indianapolis were notified and after taking samples of the food consumed by the men returned to Indianapolis to make an analysis. After a cursory examination here, the officials expressed the belief that milk served the men was impure.

Scientists Seek Means Increase Cotton Crop

TALLULAH, La.—Entomologists at the United States Department of Agriculture Experiment Station here hope to see, as a result of their researches, the enactment of uniform state laws to compel the dusting of all cotton with calcium arsenate from airplanes, or by auxiliary machinery where planes cannot be utilized. The dusting, it is claimed, would result in the maximum control of the boll weevil, which has caused the loss of untold millions of dollars in the cotton growers of the south.

The boll weevil has been controlled on dusted acreage, it is stated, but untreated acreage has permitted the reproduction of the pest and a continuation of devastation. The weevil depends primarily upon the cotton plant for food, and the poisoning of its eating food supply, according to the experts, would permit maximum control. This can be done only through the compulsory treatment of all cotton, and legislative acts are regarded as necessary for a successful campaign.

Baseball Dying Out In Philippine Islands Now

MANILA, P. I.—Baseball, the American national pastime which was expected to replace cock-fighting here, is dying out in the Philippine Islands, and the department of Public Instruction, by its lack of interest, is blamed for the failure by a sporting writer in a local newspaper. The Manila league is said to be the only baseball organization in the islands in a flourishing condition today.

During the last five years, sporting authorities say, the department of public instruction has given no encouragement to baseball through the bureau of education. Prior to that time, it is said, the bureau of education was actively engaged in fostering the national game in the islands, with a view to eliminating the island sport of cock-fighting.

England Now Possesses Undersea Cruiser, Said

CHATHAM, Eng.—When England's new "mystery ship" submarine X-1 was launched here recently, newspapermen and spectators were rigidly excluded, and the approaches to the dockyards were heavily guarded to make sure no unauthorized person should see her take the water. Nevertheless it can be said the launching was in all ways successful, and the latest addition to under-sea power was at once towed to the dockyard for completion.

The new vessel is the last word in submarines; she is really a submersible battle-cruiser. Her displacement when submerged will be 3,600 tons, 1,400 tons greater than that of the largest German submarine and considerably greater than any of the existing American types. On the surface the X-1 will use steam for navigation, but when submerged will use electricity.

This Blouse is as Indispensable to a Railroad Journey as the Ticket

If one were doing one of those psychological word reflex tests the association of ideas in this weather would be—Traveling—Suits—Blouse—and almost all the little scholars would get a hundred.

Although of late years a dress and a coat have become perfectly good form for traveling, most women still have an inherent conviction that the costume for a train is a suit and naturally, the accompanying blouse. If the journey is only to last for a single day a white silk blouse is always fresh and charming. In case the trip is one on which one must look at oneself and be seen by others for several days at a time, a crepe blouse of darker color is advisable. The pictured Crepe de Chine blouse, just sent by M. Henri Creange, the fashion leader, from Paris, is eminently suited for far as it has no trimming that will soil and no accordion pleats to wrinkle in the heat.

Two oval mother-of-pearl buttons are its only fastening. They button in a new manner through a frill which extends the length of the blouse. Horizontal shirrings at the right side define the low waistline—and similar shirrings hold in the sleeves above a flaring cuff.

* Unless you belong to the conservative party this blouse a most effective in a color that contrast with the suit.

A happy motion picture story ending that doesn't include a marriage or an embrace!

That is one of the unique distinctions claimed for "The Rustle of Silk," Herbert Brennon's Paramount picture featuring Betty Compson and Conway Tearle, which will be the feature of the bill at White's theatre for Monday matinee and night.

The story, adapted from Cosmo Hamilton's novel by Sada Cowan and Ouida Bergere, centers about a humble English girl who falls in love with a great British statesman who is already married.

By accident the man learns of the girl's love. Unhappy with his wife and disheartened by the course of political events, he offers to get a divorce and marry the girl.

But a crisis in the affairs of state requires all of his attention. If he resigns, chaos threatens to engulf the government. The girl, because she loves him, sacrifices her love and sends him back to fight his cause against overwhelming odds.

Unlike so many screen plays of the day, "The Rustle of Silk" does not introduce an episode five or ten years later showing the principals happily married. It ends as real life stories so often end—in happiness achieved through sacrifice, but with promise of happiness to both in the future.

Swedish Speeders To Establish Own Guilt

STOCKHOLM.—Unusual measures for preventing automobile accidents and an entirely original idea for keeping the speeding nuisance in check are features in the new motor traffic laws which have just been passed by the Swedish Riksdag.

A striking paragraph in the new law is that which provides for the compulsory use of recording speedometers on all motor-vehicles. Such a device not only indicates the number of miles the car has run but also the rate of speed during any part of the run.

RADIATOR STETHOSCOPE IS NEW DEVICE TO SAVE COOL

CHICAGO.—The leaky radiator and the radiator that sounds like a strike in a boiler factory must go. The research committee of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers declares it has discovered means of saving thousands of tons of coal a year by preventing wastage of steam.

The committee has invented a stethoscope. It works quite like the one the doctor uses when he tests your lungs or your heart. The escape of steam in the radiator traps can be gauged the way the doctor finds out about a malfunctioning heart.

COWS ADDICTED TO NARCOTICS MAY BE ARRESTED IN MONTANA

HELENA.—A cow, or any other animal, which becomes addicted to the narcotic habit in Montana, may be arrested and confined in the state sanitarium until pronounced cured by the physicians in charge, according to a new state law.

The new law, legislators say, is the result of a clerical error made in the closing days of the session. An amendment, intended to strengthen the anti-narcotic law, was tacked onto the law providing for the condemnation of stock driven insane by the eating of loco weed.
