

During the last week three accidents occurred on the highways contiguous to Greenville in which horse and mule drawn vehicles have been struck by automobiles because of failure of drivers to display lights on their wagons, carts, etc. Fortunately no serious injuries or damages followed. That was merely providential. The practice is inviting disaster and should be remedied.

True, the effort to pass a state law requiring vehicles of every description to show lights failed but that fact does not lessen the hazard to which both horse drawn traffic and motorists are subjected. For their own personal safety farmers and others should recognize the necessity of carrying lights. As a rule vehicles without lights usually fare worse when accidents occur.

The patent urgency for observing such precaution is particularly needed just as the tobacco market is about to open here with corresponding heavy traffic increase. On dark nights it is next to impossible for an auto driver to see a team on either side of the road until he is upon it. The danger is doubly enhanced in the case of cars approaching from opposite directions showing blinding lights.

Nation Pours Out Grief At Bier Late President Under Dome of Capitol

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Under the dome of the capitol with a low spoken prayer and the tender words of old hymns Warren G. Harding was given into God's keeping at noon today by men of high places of the nation who had served with him in the short years of his leadership for the glory of the flag, which was his winding sheet. With dignity and high faith in the goodness of God, the religious ceremony which marked the passing of the chief executive, lasted barely 20 minutes.

The sentries who had been keeping faithful vigil, standing motionless about the rotunda, noiselessly opened the great doors that the many waiting thousands who were biding their time to enter the building and view the features of the dead president and thus express for countless millions the sorrow of the nation and the world.

Mrs. Harding during the ceremonies sat motionless in the seat of honor next to the casket of her devoted husband. She faced her public ordeal with stoic courage and never a break in the spirit which has sustained her since the death of her loved one last Thursday, was indicated. When the last words of the ceremony had been pronounced she walked through the senate corridor with her hand lightly resting on the arm of Dr. Sawyer, her slender figure straight, showing no hint of the crushed heart within. For the first time since her husband died the casket was left by the loving wife to the keeping of the nation for a few hours. She will reclaim it this evening at 7 o'clock when the body will be taken to Marion, O., where funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Honors that bore Warren G. Harding back over the road where he came triumphantly two years ago to take up the call of the nation as its chief executive brought sharp reminders of the antithesis of acclaim and plaudits that attended the solemn funeral cortege that proceeded today from the White House to the capitol, where the nation through its official representatives, close friends and others paid reverent tribute to the dead chieftain.

With moist eyes thousands of countrymen massed the length of Pennsylvania avenue between the White House and the capitol their hearts overflowing with sorrow. This great voiceless throng were there to pay homage in a way that only the great head of a great nation deserved. The intense silence of the populace was only occasionally broken by the tramp of horse hoofs that drew the military caisson upon which rested the body of the late president as it wended its way to the capitol where brief funeral services will be held. After lying in state for a few hours it will be returned to the soil of his native town, where it will stay forever. And there attain the peace and quiet he loved, but could not set aside at the nation's call.

The flag-draped casket of Warren Gamaliel Harding, twenty-ninth President of the United States, stricken while leading his country back from shell-torn fields to paths of peace, was drawn gently last night into the capitol by a funeral train that had crossed a continent.

Nine hours late was the train, which east of Chicago crawled through great crowds reluctant to send their tribute. It was after 10 o'clock when it arrived, but tens of thousands who stood hours beneath a blazing sun and through a humid evening still stood sorrowfully from railroad plaza to White House.

Casket Tenderly Moved.
Tenderly the casket was carried from the train through the terminal, past the new President and his Cabinet, standing in silent salute.

Tenderly it was placed on an artillery caisson.

Tenderly it was drawn through the lanes of silent thousands to the great mansion that had been Mr. Harding's home.

The guard of honor—marines, seamen and soldiers—lifted it from the caisson under the portico of the White House, and carried it for a night of rest into the East Room in which had lain Lincoln and McKinley.

Nation Claims Dead.
Then the new President, his Cabinet, high officials of the government, military escort withdrew, leaving to Mrs. Harding her dead.

The lights in the funeral car cast a brilliant glow in the big train shed. Secretary Christian and Dr. Sawyer were on the back platform and were first to alight. There was no noise in the station but the throbbing of the air pump of a distant engine.

Mrs. Harding Bears Up.
Mrs. Harding stepped off the car, leaning on Secretary Christian's arm, and with Dr. Sawyer on her other side. The band in the concourse began playing "Nearer My God, to Thee."

Mrs. Harding walked erect, but slowly, along the station platform. While her hand was on Secretary Christian's arm, she apparently needed no support.

Members of the party who came all the way said Mrs. Harding had stood the trip well.

Solemn Procession.
Headed by General John Pershing, General Pershing was chief marshal of the funeral procession, troops of soldiers, sailors and marines who were in line in the respective order, followed by a large delegations of civic organizations. Behind the military came President Coolidge, also two former presidents—W. H. Taft and Woodrow Wilson—the latter shattered in health and but visibly showing signs of grief. It was equally apparent that President Coolidge was bowed in sorrow that he came into the highest office in the land at such a price.

Behind the military officials and distinguished personages marched crowds of American people. Military bands at the intersections of the streets covering the line of the funeral march played old hymns—the setting was the most solemn that has ever been held in this country.

Scenes at White House.
The body of the president was borne between the portals of the White House from the east room and again placed on the caisson that brought it from the railroad station last night. As the funeral hour approached the casket was opened for a few minutes that near relatives

BUCKET SHOP MEN STIRRED BY CONFESSION

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Additional indictments of bucket shop operators and backers and "other prominent persons" will be sought by the federal grand jury, as a result of the confessions last night of Edward M. Fuller and W. F. McGee, partners in the bankrupt firm of E. M. Fuller & Company, United States Attorney Hayward announced today.

It was indicated that an attempt would be made to show that the Fuller concern was a sub-division of a loosely organized system—one of several directed by a council and supply center—and was in turn the center for a number of bucket shops operated under different names in this and other cities; also that many of the outpost branches are still in live operation in an unsuccessful effort to "clear" enough from the "credulous" to pay the legal expenses of these "big game" men.

might have a last look upon the features of their beloved dead laid in a peaceful smile of eternity.

President Wilson broken by the death of the fallen chieftain came to the portico to take his place in the cortege. William Howard Taft, the only other living ex-president was also there waiting his position in the funeral of his devoted friend. When the casket was brought to the portico it was in much the same manner as other soldiers who have made the supreme sacrifice in the service of his country. It was lifted tenderly from its setting to be removed amid an other grander array of floral offerings and fragrance in the rotunda in the capitol.

Coolidge Bowed in Grief.
President Coolidge who with a heavy heart upon the duties of the highest office in the nation upon arrival took up his position just at the hour set for departure. The entire scene formed a vista by many great trees through which many presidents have looked out over the world some in triumph and others in sorrow. The climax of the touching incidents came when the bells of St. John's Episcopal church, just across the square began tolling the doleful lament of another passing into the great galaxy of immortals.

Following the casket as it left the White House were the Rev. A. Freeman Anderson, pastor of President Harding's church, in Washington and Rev. James Sheara Montgomery chaplain of the house of representatives. At this juncture a bugler came upon the portico and sounded a single note. The military came to salute and blades flashed in the sunlight. The flourish of drums followed as the guns of Fort Myer, across the silent Potomac awoke echoes of the salute to the departed commander.

Mrs. Harding Heavily Veiled.
Mrs. Harding, a pale, heavily veiled figure, came down the steps and stood out in strong contrast to the splendor and pomp—the greatest honor that could be paid her husband and the beloved head of nation. She was his devoted helpmeet that helped and inspired him to achieve his great position as chief executive of the nation. She was escorted by Secretary Christian and Brig. Gen. Sawyer, the late president's life long friend and physician.

LAST RESTING PLACE OF WARREN G. HARDING

This is the little receiving vault in the Marion, O., cemetery, where the body of Warren G. Harding will lie temporarily. The late president owned a plot in the cemetery, where his mother and sister are buried, and in this plot his own remains later will be interred, when a tomb has been erected.

Southern Farmers In Better Condition Than In Corn Belt

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Farm sentiment mixed with the South and east in a better frame of mind than the corn belt, the department of agriculture's monthly review says of the agricultural situation. "Such agricultural depression as exists is still largely due to the disparity of prices of farm products and the prices of things farmers buy.

"It is not an easy season. The weather has been harassing and labor is scarce. The wheat belt is the sore spot. The present corn-bog relationship brings little advantage to farmers as a group since corn is not sold to the urban community but to other farmers. High priced corn itself adds to the cost of producing animal products.

His Beard Yard Long Grown For 40 Years

GREENSBORO, Aug. 8.—O. A. Farrington, sleeping clerk of the White, Oak mills here, hasn't shaved in 40 years, not since he was 23 years old.

And he did not do it to win a bet, not to join the Zion City colony, whose members are forbidden to shave. He was and is simply obeying doctor's orders.

His physician, 40 years ago, ordered him to let his beard grow. Mr. Farrington had the measles then, leaving him with an extreme hoarseness. "Let your beard grow long to protect your throat," his physician said.

His beard is all hair and a yard long.

Stocking Bank Saves Her Jewelry, Money

GREENSBORO, Aug. 8.—When a highwayman held up John T. Rees, prominent cigar maker of this city and his wife and daughter on the Guilford College-Greensboro road last night, near the outskirts of this city, Mrs. Rees stuffed her jewelry, valued at more than $1,000 in her mouth, later putting it into her stocking and the bandit got only Mr. Rees' wallet, containing $9.50.

Trio Up In Court Fined For Assault

Therado Brown, Eva and James Whitfield, all colored, were in police court today charged with mutual assault. James was fined $10 and the cost was split three ways. For allowing his dog to roam at large E. B. Thomas, paid the cost. B. T. Henderson, drew a $10 fine cost for being drunk. He was also charged trespass and assessed that cost. Charged with being drunk and disorderly, W. E. Pettway, was fined $10 and cost.

Farmer Killed When His Automobile Skids

HENDERSON, Aug. 8.—W. L. Edwards, prominent farmer of this county, died at his home in Kittrell this city, yesterday of injuries sustained when his automobile skidded and overturned with him Sunday some distance from his residence.

Laddie Boy Says Long Farewell To Beloved Master

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Laddie Boy, the President's Scotch Airedale dog and constant companion who has grown an awkward pup to full majority, said his last farewell to his master and friend in the east room of the White House early this morning. It might be said that a dog does not know when he has lost his master, but those gathered about the casket say that Laddie Boy did fully realize that something was wrong.

Mrs. Harding who loves Laddie Boy and always remembering how devoted her husband was to him told the servants to take him into the east room. At once the intelligent animal sniffed the air heavily freighted with the fragrance of funeral blossoms. He walked solemnly around the bier lying under the great crystal chandelier—and poked his nose among the flowers looking for his master. Laddie Boy knew he was there, but he could not see him. He looked inquiringly into the eyes of those around the casket, who could not suppress the wells of tear that gathered in their eyes. Laddie Boy appeared to feel and know that his master was back in the white house, but he could not find him. With bowed head he left the room returning to the faithful spot where he has been constantly awaiting the return of his companion who bade him good-bye last June. And there Laddie Boy will watch and wait until he accompanies Mrs. Harding to Ohio, where he will probably spend the remainder of his days on a farm.

Convict Flogging Must Cease, Says Senator In Speech

RALEIGH, Aug. 8.—Wake county commissioners, who listened in silent silence while Senator Charles U. Harris and J. F. McMahon made appeals for the abolition of the lash in the county prison, and B. C. Beckwith argued the necessity of corporal punishment, were put on notice yesterday that the enlightened public sentiment in North Carolina will no longer tolerate the use of the whip.

Senator Harris made his plea, questioning the legality of flogging and citing Chief Justice Walter Clark and Judge N. A. Sinclair as his authorities, while Mr. Beckwith, going back to the Scriptures for his authority, cited the commissioners to the example of Christ, who, with a whip in his hand, ran the money changers out of the Temple in Jerusalem.

The Wake county senator advanced the proposal that he laid before the recent welfare conference at Chapel Hill, the use of the indeterminate sentence, as recommended by Governor Merriam, for an inducement of good behavior, and the making of prison rule violations a misdemeanor punishable by further imprisonment.

British Seeking Way To End Reparations Problem, Is Report

LONDON, Aug. 8.—While little tangible evidence is at hand to indicate the probability of British and French statesmen arriving at any sort of agreement at present on a method of solving the Ruhr and reparations problems, British government spokesmen declared today the situation was not so serious as the week-end press reports and comment had seemed to indicate.

It is true, commentators are remarking that the British have been out-maneuvered in stating their case to the world. The French publication of documents relating to the diplomatic negotiations of recent months is cited as an example of this. But it is said the British have a number of possible solutions for the present impasse, any one of which may be adopted.

Premier Baldwin and his ministers will meet again in Downing Street tomorrow to formulate answers to the French and Belgian unyielding statements of policy they are carrying out with a view to getting reparations out of the Ruhr district.

Friday Is Holiday In California

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—Governor Richardson today issued a proclamation declaring a State holiday, to be observed as a day of "prayer, fasting and mourning" for the late President Harding, "who sacrificed his life in the service of his country."

Man 70 Slays Two Then Ends Own Life

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Aug. 8.—The body of Mrs. B. H. Stewart, 88 years old, was found by a posse of searchers today 10 miles southeast of this city, bringing to three the number of persons whose deaths are blamed on John H. Wells, 70, retired merchant and reputed to be wealthy.

Wells early today shot and killed his wife, Ella, 68, and himself. He left word with a nephew that he had killed Mrs. Stewart and placed her body in a clump of bushes some distance from this city.

Jealousy is the theory advanced by police as the cause of the triple killing.

Kansas Governor Is Ill of Typhoid Fever

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 8.—Governor J. M. Davis, of Kansas, who is seriously ill here, is suffering from typhoid fever and not influenza or pneumonia, it was announced today by Dr. L. M. Powell, his physician.

There was no apparent change in the Governor's condition it was announced.

STONEY LEADS RACE IN HARD FIGHT FOR MAYOR CHARLESTON

Grace Will Not Concede Defeat Until Official Count Is Made

CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 8.—Definite results of the municipal primary held here yesterday under protection of state troops will not be known until after the meeting of the board of elections on Friday. According to unofficial reports with three boxes in which irregularities are charged uncounted, T. P. Stoney has a lead of 950 over J. P. Grace, mayor, who was seeking the office for the third term.

The unofficial county give Stoney 6542 and the incumbent 5590. Fifteen out of the 24 candidates for alderman who appear from the unofficial count to have been nominated were candidates on the Stoney ticket, two of whom were women. Grace refused today to concede the nomination to Stoney until official reports had been submitted.

Four companies of South Carolina national guardsmen were ordered mobilized by Governor McLeod "as a matter of precaution" against possible outbreaks. So far no bitterness has outcropped on either side in the tightly drawn factional fight.

Five Die, 2 Injured, Auto Hit By Train

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Aug. 8.—Five persons were killed and four were injured, two of whom may die, when a freight train on the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad crashed into an automobile. The automobile tried to cross ahead of the train.

The dead are: O. L. Kendall, Kingsville, Ohio; Robert, 9, his son; Dorothy, 3, his daughter. Charles Spalding, Kingsville and Leola Spalding, 15, his daughter.

The four injured persons were members of the Kendall and Spalding families who were traveling together in a large touring car en route to Chicago. They were taken to a hospital at Hammond, Ind.

New York Plans Big Memorial Gathering

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—New York, already planning two days mourning for the late President Harding, this afternoon saw the birth of plans for a third, when the committee of the Lawyers' Club, which was to have greeted the President on his return from his Alaskan trip, re-organized as a committee of mourning and decided to arrange a mass memorial service.

President Coolidge is to be invited to deliver the eulogy to the dead chief. John A. Stewart, chairman of the committee, said the meeting probably would be held late in September or early in October, the exact date being left to President Coolidge, if he accepts the invitation.

High Class Films Booked For Early Showing White's

Manager H. H. Jackson, of White's theater announced today that he had just closed arrangements to give Greenville a series of the latest motion pictures during the next six weeks as they are released by producers. Some of them include: "Souls for Sale," by the celebrated novelist Rupert Hughes; "Hearts Aflame," "Sherlock Holmes," with John Barrymore; "Grumpy" with that grand old man of the stage Theodore Roberts, playing the leading role; "Law of the Lawless," "Only 38," "Fog Bound," "Children of Jazz," "Sixty Cents an Hour," "The Exciters," "Woman with Four Faces," "Gentleman of Leisure," "Salomy Jane," "Hollywood," in which more than 50 of the best known stars of the screen take part: "The Purple Highway," "Silent Partner," "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," with Gloria Swanson, "All Must Marry," "And the Cheat."

Jackson amplified this statement with the assurance that the people of Greenville could feel secure in the knowledge that the best in motion pictures would be had for their benefit and enjoyment.

After protracted negotiation Jackson stated that he had obtained Wayman Bridges, a well known organist of the middle west to furnish the music. He will be at the instrument next Monday, it was said.

"By the bye," remarked Uncle Bill, as they reached the street, "I must go over to the Farmers Bank and get another check book. Come along with me and meet Paul Clodfelter, the cashier, as this is the bank for you to open an account with, and it is proper for you to be introduced by some one well-known to the bank. I mention the Farmers Bank because the management is agreeable to do business with and will extend to you at any time and courtesy compatible with sound banking rules. Then, too, it is offered by conservative, yet progressive men with unquestioned integrity that are at all times alert to our city's best interests. This bank has ample resources aggregating over half million and does a general banking business in every sense of the term, rendering to trade and commerce a service in every way commendable. And I may add, it is an institution in which our citizens feel a just pride."

Hettie next asked Uncle Bill where the best millinery store was. "You just mentioned it in time," rejoined Uncle Bill, "for this is the principal one right here," pointing to the millinery of W. A. Bowen Millinery Co. "It's a thoroughly and pleasingly appointed millinery parlor, where the same new effects and latest creations appear simultaneously with Paris and metropolitan cities so zealously do the milliners in charge guard the interests of their clientele. The varied and attractive lines of millinery and ladies' accessories at the Bowen Millinery Co. were so tasty, dainty, and reasonably that Hettie soon succumbed to a nobby and exquisite new hat. This is Greenville's popular and only exclusive millinery store held in high esteem by a circle of ladies who recognize and respond to meritorious effort," said Uncle Bill, assuringly.

"Mad Love" With Pola Negri Shown At White's Today

For an actress to make her stage debut in a leading role—and that at the age of 16—is a most unusual record. To score an emphatic success with critics and public is still more of a triumph. But that was the triumph achieved on her first stage appearance in Warsaw of beautiful Pola Negri, star of the Goldwyn picture, "Mad Love," to be seen at White's theatre today.

Unable to continue her training as a dancer at the Imperial School of the Ballet in Petrograd, the young Pola entered the dramatic conservatory at Warsaw at the age of 15, completed its three years' course in one year and was engaged for a year by the management of the Maly theatre at a salary of 100 rubles—about $50 at the rate of exchange at the time—a month. She tasted her first financial independence. Her ambition to become an actress was realized and she felt then that she would always after be able to care for her mother.

A Wish

"I have taken Cardui for run-down, worn-out condition, nervousness and sleeplessness, and I was weak, too," says Mrs. Silvie Estes, of Jennings, Okla. "Cardui did me just lots of good—so much that I gave it to my daughter. She took three bottles of and her condition was much better.

CARDUI

"We have lived here, near Jennings, for 26 years, and now we have our own home in town. I have had to work pretty hard, as this country wasn't built up, and it made it hard for us.

"I WISH I could tell weak women of Cardui—the medicine that helped give me strength to go on and do my work."

Take Cardui. EX 95

VALUES OF BOYHOOD

Islands come wallowing up from the sea and rear mountain crests that belch volcanic flames. Earthquakes in mighty spasms destroy lands.

But in all the centuries of change boys have remained changeless. Boyhood only is not permanent. When the islands were yet unborn and the plains of Atlantis were still drowned, boys were the same as they are today.

Nowhere in all the ages can we find that boyhood has esteemed the treasures that maturity values highly. The diamonds and the gold that we have set as standards of riches are but trifles in the eyes of a boy.

At the end of his playtime when the bauble has lost its attraction, he will gladly trade it for a pint of strawberry soda.

But boyhood fixes a value on other things. Lowly things which his elders are like to scorn, yet wonderful things if we but see them aright.

The jewels of boyhood include the sparkle and sheen of the morning dew caught in an intricate cobweb, and of which no boy will speak; the green spider with orange heart of a thistle; a stranded shell that holds melodies of faraway adventures; a pale green moth that seems to have winged its way straight from the lands of the moon; a fish a bird and a squirrel that hold fraternity with the boy; and a dog, who best of all knows and understands the same valuation that boys know.

And all of the jewels and gold that men achieve by dint of labor and pain may never be bartered in exchange for a single treasure that boyhood stores for the distorted system of values the elders have evolved somewhere wrong.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

"The American people are very prone to become frightened when there is no real reason for it," said Judge Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation, in a statement on the business outlook.

The United States is a land rich in opportunities. It still offers to all its people every possible chance of advancement. Its educational facilities cannot be surpassed by any other country and are being improved from year to year.

In his statement, Judge Gary declared that if the people of this country will study and realize the exact situation, maintain their composure, appreciate their opportunities and take advantage of them, keep up their courage and stand together, co-operating for the benefit of all mankind, they need have no fear of the future.

THE TAX PROBLEM

"We believe the greatest problem before the American people today is the problem of taxation," says an exchange.

Two sane methods of relief are open. First, discourage new governmental fads and fancies which add unnecessary laws to our statute books with increased numbers of employees and more government overhead.

Second, see that all property pays taxes equally, which it does not at present. Under our existing laws any person is at liberty to convert his property into non-taxable bonds and thus escape all form of taxation.

The necessity (if it ever existed) for tax-exempt bond is past and the day is here when no such loophole as this should remain to enable those most able to pay to escape taxation.

Every dollar that tax-exempt bonds absorb cuts two ways—it doubles the tax on other people and removes a dollar from industries which need it for expansion and development.

C., Beginning at 12 O'clock Noon, Offer at Auction, the Real Estate of Parties Here in After Set Out and the Real Estate as Described in the Said Tax List Unless the Taxes and Cost on the Several Parcels Are Paid by That Time, Taxes 1922. Bill Strother Does Hair Raising Acts In Lloyd Picture

Ideas for comedies are rare. For the type of feature comedies that Harold Lloyd makes, they are "rarer than rare."

The happy thought that led to the making of the spectacular comedies latest and longest feature, "Safety Last," a seven-reel Pathécomedy, came like a flash out of a sky.

On day, about a year ago, Harold Lloyd and his producer, Hal Roach, were walking on a downtown street in Los Angeles. It so happened that at the Roslyn Hotel that day, "Bill" Strother, former Greenville man known the world over as the "human fly," was pitting his skill against the intricacies of the Roslyn's granite walls.

Immediately the idea hit Harold that it might be a good plan to make a thrill picture, and to fill it with just such daring and hilarious situations as he made in "Never Weaken" and "High and Dizzy," outstanding successes in Lloyds early achievements.

The idea was not long in the crystallization stage, for it was put into concrete form by Hal Roach, Sam Taylor, Tim Whalen and Harley M. Walker—the last three on the Lloyd scenario staff—and the filming began after the completion of "Dr. Jack." Strother, himself, was engaged to play the part of Lloyd's pal, and to do the climbing and create thrills.

"Safety Last" will be seen at the Strand theatre today and tomorrow.

St Paul's Church To Hold Memorial Services On Friday

The Rev. Mr. Cameron, of St. Paul's Episcopal church announces that memorial services in honor of the late President Harding will be held in the church Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Prayers will be said and the litany recited. "Lead Kindly Light," the favorite hymn of the Mr. Harding will be sung. The public is invited to participate in the services.

No formal announcement of similar services, so far as known, has been made by other churches. This is due to the absence from the city of practically the entire ministerial body of Greenville.

EDUCATIONAL DISTRICT MEETING OF FIFTH MASONIC DISTRICT

To the masters, wardens and brethren of the ten lodges of the 5th Masonic district—Greeting:

It is time for our annual district meeting. Tobacco curing conditions are such that Shelmerdine lodge cannot be our host until later in the season.

It does not seem wise to postpone our district meeting until after the tobacco market opens for not only will our country masons be busy but all the town masons as well.

The Grand Lodge of North Carolina has outlined, has underway some very important work for the subordinate lodges to carry on this year. It is expecting the lodges of the 5th Masonic district to interest themselves in this work and carry it on enthusiastically and effectively. If our district is to do it, we must get busy at once. We can not postpone action longer.

To do this work we must be informed as to its nature and what is expected of us. Accordingly I am asking the Masons of the 5th Masonic district to meet at the Teachers College, Greenville, Friday night, Aug. 17, promptly at 8 o'clock.

Brother W. C. Wicker, Educational Field Secretary of the Grand Lodge will be present. He is a forceful speaker, has a vital Masonic subject to present, and knows how to present it in an interesting way. He will bring his moving picture outfit with him and this will add to the pleasure and interest of the meeting.

Other features are being planned to make the meeting helpful and inspiring.

We are depending upon you and the members of your lodge, to cooperate in every way possible to make this meeting a success. Let us have as near a full attendance as possible from your lodge. Let this be the beginning of a year in Masonry that will mean much to Masons individually, to each subordinate lodge, and to the community where each lodge is located. Let us make this meeting a record breaker in attendance and enthusiasm. Do not forget the date, the hour, the place, the purpose.

Educational district meeting, Friday Aug. 17, East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville, 8 o'clock p. m. Further light in Masonry.

Fraternally,
H. E. AUSTIN,
District Deputy Grand Master.

Singing Frogs Again on Sale.
TOKIO.—The shops of Japan are this month offering for sale the Kaika, or "singing frog," the harbinger of the rainy season. The animals are selling readily, although the prices range from one to ten yen whereas a few years ago they could be brought for a few sen. But like everything else it is a question of supply and demand, and while the gatherers find the frogs harder to get, the number of purchasers has increased.

The frog will sing for hours at a time and a couple of flies a day is all he wants in the way of nourishment.

Federal Court Indicts Ten Oil Operators

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 8.—and four of Los Angeles and one dined 10 oil operators, six of Texas federal grand jury yesterday in Los Angeles corporation on charges of using the mails to defraud.

It became known today that investigators for the national Vigilance committee of the Associated Advertisers Clubs of the World with headquarters in New York have been in the California oil fields for the last three weeks attempting to expose alleged fraudulent representations in the sale of oil units.

Auto Hit By Train At Crossing, 4 Dead

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 8.—Four persons were killed at the Wheatfield highway crossing of the New York Central railroad, one mile east of La Salle, today. The dead are: Charles Pratz, of Wheatfield Road; Mrs. Letha Brooks, niece of Pratz; Christopher Brooks, five years old and John Brooks, one year old, sons of Mrs. Brooks.

PEASANTS FLOCK TO PRAY
BEFORE MYSTICAL SHRINE

BUDAPEST.—A great wave of religious feeling is today sweeping over the peasantry of Hungary because of the alleged appearance of a picture of the Holy Virgin in the branches of a walnut tree in a little village in the county of Zemplen.

Thousands of peasants come daily from all parts of the country to kneel piously before the spot where the tree stood. For within the past three weeks, since the picture is said first to have appeared, the tree has been cut up and carried away by the pilgrims. Peasants are now digging deep into the ground to possess themselves of the last vestiges of the roots.

BAR MEETING TO DISCUSS
MINNEAPOLIS. — Proposals to curb the power of the United States supreme court in the matter of declaring acts of congress unconstitutional by a majority vote, are expected to be one of the important questions before the annual convention here of the American Bar association, August 29-31, according to John Junell, secretary of the convention arrangements committee.

Talks on Osteopathy

By Dr. F. Fitts

RHEUMATISM

Poisonous substances, formed in the body, but not thrown off as they should be, cause chronic rheumatism. These poisons circulate in the blood and lodge around joints and in muscles, where they cause swelling, pain, stiffness, and loss of movement.

Osteopathy cures rheumatism by normalizing the kidney and liver centers in the spine. It also eliminates poison by stimulating the bowels to activity.

Deep breathing, moderate, wholesome diet, spinal treatment to promote healthy bowel and kidney activity, and mechanical treatment to loosen stiff muscles and joints.

This is what osteopathy prescribes for rheumatism.

THE NATIONAL BANK OF GREENVILLE

GREENVILLE, N. C.

HOW ARE YOU COMING ON?

You often get this greeting. You answer, "Pretty well." But are you? Whether you are or not depends upon how much of your surplus you are laying aside for the future. No man is getting on unless he is increasing his resources. A savings account is the last assistance.
