

There was an outstanding and valuable feature expressed on the opening day of the Greenville tobacco market yesterday, that is bound to react in expanding this market as a leader.

Farmers were made to feel that Greenville not only appreciated their patronage, but the greatest of human agencies—fellowship—was the dominant note of welcome.

Again, that same spirit of social fellowship will go further in building on a foundation of permanence than any other factor that enters into our national existence.

Call Bergdoll Hidden Treasure Story, Hoax

HAGESTOWN, MD., Aug. 29.—Lee Houser, who last Thursday, is reported to have found a box containing more than $100,000 while at work on a road near here, declared today that the story was a hoax.

One of his fellow workers, said Houser took the coin from his pocket and threw them on the ground causing the report that he had found a fortune. If the fortune was discovered, it is believed that it was buried by Grover C. Bergdoll, exiled American draft dodger.

Subsequent developments have led to the conclusion that the entire story was invented by fellow workmen and given to Hagerstown newspaper in furtherance of a joke on a tightwad member of the working gang to make him envious.

U. S. In Tangle Over Rum Running Case

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—One of the grounds that the United States is without jurisdiction in the case, United States Commissioner Hayes today refused to issue warrants for the arrest of seven men who last week attacked the British rum runner J. Scott Ham renson, off Rockport, and shot her skipper, Captain, Arthur Moore, and the cook, Harry Harms. The Department of Justice at Washington has been asked for instructions.

The fact that the Hankenson is a foreign vessel, flying the British flag, and the men shot are both British subjects has brought about a complicated situation, according to the commission.

SCHOOL PATRONS ASKED TO FOLLOW ENROLLMENT DATES

As before announced the Greenville City schools will open for regular work on Monday Sept. 10. However, the patrons of the school are asked to keep in mind the following dates for enrollment before that time, said Superintendent Ross today, who made this statement:

The high school as follows: All members of the freshman class must report to the high school Tuesday morning Sept. 4 at 9 o'clock in a body. This is a regular school day, and will be counted as such.

The sophomore class will report Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 5, at 1:30. The juniors, Thursday Sept. 6 at 9 o'clock. The seniors, Thursday afternoon Sept. 6 at 1:30. It will not be necessary for the sophomores, juniors and seniors to come in a body, they may come singly.

beginning school, who were not registered last May, are asked to report at the Evans street school Friday Sept. 7, at 9 o'clock.

All pupils other than beginners who have moved into Greenville recently, and who have never attended the Greenville schools will report at the high school building Friday Sept. 7, at 9 o'clock.

Due to the fact that so many people have moved into Greenville, the local schools will be crowded this year. For the past several years there has been an average increase in enrollment of 60 each year. This year it seems that the increased enrollment will be over 100. Of course, this enrollment is going to strain to the utmost the capacity of the schools who take care of them.

All the members of the faculty are ready to go to work, and will come to Greenville next week. The first teachers meeting will be held Saturday at 11 o'clock in the high school building. Most of the teachers will report Friday, Sept. 7.

Active Bidding For Headquarters World War Body

NORFOLK, Aug. 29.—Entry of Detroit in the list of contenders to obtain the national headquarters, proposal of 135 resolutions covering veterans' needs in legislation as well as revision of organization rules and regulations, and the proposal of other names for officers to be elected Thursday were the chief developments of the 24 annual encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in session here today.

Choice of a location for national headquarters, proposed to be moved from New York, loomed as the big fight of the encampment, taking precedence over the selection of officers for the ensuing year. From the best information obtainable from prominent members of the organization, Detroit was leading in favor of the home of the national officers.

Army Fliers Break Sixteen Records In Endurance Test

SAN DIEGO, CAL., Aug. 29.—Captain Lowell Smith and Lieutenant John Richter, army aviators, who took off Monday morning at 5:07 o'clock landed at 6:19:32 o'clock last night, having broken six aviation records, according to unofficial computations. The flight started and ended at Rockwell Field here.

The aviators, who were in the air more than 37 hours, established four new speed records as well as making new marks in duration and distance. To complete the flight they made fifteen contacts with another plane to take on gasoline, wood, water and oil.

Smith and Richter stayed in the air, according to unofficial figures one hour and seven minutes and 11 seconds longer than did Lieutenants Oakley Kelley and John MacReady, who made a continuous flight of 26 hours, 5 minutes, 21 second in the first non-stop transcontinental flight.

Stream Lines For 1924 Lizzie; No Change In Price

DETROIT, Aug. 29.—The Ford automobile takes its place among the automobiles of "stream line" with the 1924 model, to appear Sept. 1, it was announced. There will be no price changes.

A higher radiator on all types is the outstanding feature of the new design. The radiator is one and a half inches higher, allowing a stream line running the radiator to the back of the body. The abrupt jump from the hood to the body is greatly reduced by the higher radiator.

The cooling system is improved by the larger radiator. An apron at the bottom of the radiator, joining the two front fenders gives a highly finished appearance to the front of the car.

Most drastic changes in design are made in the new model Ford coupe, which has an entirely new body construction. The new coupe has neater exterior appearance, with better seating arrangements inside.

Cuba Places Censor On American Cables, No Comment by U. S.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—It was announced today that all cable messages intended for Cuba would be subjected to censor. Western Union officials, however, said they had not received official word of such action.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Although no administration official would discuss the imposition by Cuba of cable censorship between that government and the United States, it is believed that the step was taken as a precaution against possible serious political developments.

Vernacular Bible Roundly Assailed In Chicago Pulpit

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The translation of the New Testament into the present day vernacular by Professor Edward J. Goodspeed of the University of Chicago has aroused strong criticism from the pulpit. While a few leading ministers uphold the work, a cloud of ministerial critics denounced it as "slang," "bunk," and "sacrilegious."

"It's the worst bunk stuff I've ever heard of," declared Rev. William H. Carwardine, pastor of Holmes Methodist Episcopal church. "It's a most absurd idea. Who wants to read about policemen in the bible. You can read about them in the newspapers. Why, it's an insult to the people to 'write down the Bible to them. Its sacrilegious."

Rev. R. Keen Ryan, pastor of Garfield Boulevard Presbyterian church, said: "Professor Edgar J. Goodspeed, with his new-fangled translation, of rather mutilation, of the New Testament, becomes the Mr. Duplexy of the University of Chicago. There is no hue nor cry nor is there an apparent demand for his laborious production."

STARTLING INCREASE OF CRIME IN U. S. SHOWN BY REPORT

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Aug. 28.—Startling disclosures of the extent and rapid increase of crime in the United States were submitted before the American Bar Association today by a Special committee on law enforcement which urged that the whole code of criminal practice in the 48 states of the union be rewritten so that the long arm of the law might also become swift, sure, constant and, on occasion, merciful.

Data on numbers of crimes, methods of trial and treatment of prisoners in England and France were cited, in comparison with which this country showed to a decided disadvantage.

The blame was laid partly upon the structure of the law and the manner in which our courts function, but principally the increase of crimes and criminals was attributed to "the apathy and indifference of the American people" toward law enforcement.

BITTER FEELING IS SHOWN BY COUNSEL TRIAL OF GARRETT

Court Compelled Take Hand in Clashes Over Testimony in Case

CUMBERLAND C. H., VA., Aug. 29.—Heated clashes were frequent in the trial today of R. O. Garrett, charged with shooting to death the Rev. E. S. Pierce, June 5, last, when Commonwealth Attorney W. M. Smith took the stand to testify to the facts relating to R. O. Garrett coming to him complaining about the minister's criticism of the defendant. It was stated by Smith that R. O. Garrett appeared "wrought up" over what was described as the slain man's "talking about and annoying him."

Bitterness between counsel at times rose to such heights that Judge White, was compelled to interfere.

There were a number of dramatic incidents but the appearance of Mrs. Pierce on the stand brought the most intense moments. Though having more control of her emotions than on her former appearance, on the stand Mrs. Pierce's recital was tragic and as she went through her story, halted some times by sobs, members of the jury were visibly affected and at least three openly used their handkerchiefs to wipe away tears.

Most of eye-witnesses could not be sworn in as they were unwilling to swear as to who fired the first shot. Mrs. Pierce said Larkin Garrett started the shooting.

COMFORT FOR CRIPPLES

Herbert Quick, one of the most successful novelists, is now sixty years old and has been a cripple ever since he was a child. In spite of this infirmity, he is today a cheerful, optimistic, takes a contented view of life and says that he hopes to be going strong for many years to come. Recently he has given to the public his latest story, "The Hawkeye." He writes with an uncommon vigor and his characters are those of strong men and strong women who play their parts well.

Telling the story of his interesting life, Mr. Quick relates that while he was a baby, on an Iowa farm, he became a victim of infantile paralysis. The country doctors told his mother that there was something the matter with his spine and they could do nothing for him. He managed, however, to grow up and enjoy his life, in spite of his physical handicap.

"I admit," he said, "that when I was a boy it irked me because when I played baseball I had to knock a home run to get to first base, but if I was not good on the diamond, I had my revenge and showed that I was of some use when it came to the spelling-bee, for I could spell all the others down."

The author does not go so far as to assert that any child is better off having had infantile paralysis, but after many years of observation, he has found that many victims of this disease are superior mentally to their fellows. He has found many health specialists to agree with his theory that those who have survived this disease and have escaped complete helplessness are brighter mentally than their fellows in so many instances that it cannot be accidental.

Those who have become crippled through disease or through other causes can find some comfort in Mr. Quick's theory and there is no doubt of the fact that many men who have won high positions, not only in literature, but in nearly every field of human effort, have been handicapped by physical infirmities. It is this handicap that has driven them on to make the best use of all the other powers they possess, to cultivate their minds and to develop a mentality which might have been neglected, had their bodies been strong and sound.

This the author of "The Hawkeye" has done and he has won for himself an honorable position among American writers. Others, crippled for life as he has been, can well follow his example and by persistent effort overcome the obstacles that might seem to stand in the way of success.

RESTRAINING DOGS BY INJUNCTION

Arrogant and impudent, man, lord of creation, is more and more subjecting to his will all creatures and things. He enacts his laws and regulations until everything within his reach and experience is touched by one or another of his statutes. A judge in an Eastern state, for instance, has just brought home the fact that the injunction, that increasingly popular instrument of prevention in disputes, can be applied to dumb animals. He has issued an injunction restraining ten dogs from barking for a period of three weeks. The canines, it seems, were disturbing a camp meeting, and the evangelists registered a complaint against them. The dogs will be cited for contempt of court if they so much as let a yip out of them while the camp meeting is in progress.

This decision, and who shall say it was not wise, opens a great field of possibilities for "them as loves the law."

Within a few weeks another court has issued an injunction against a cow; restraining her from standing on a railroad track. The same process of law may be carried to fine and satisfactory lengths. Light sleepers are offered a hint as to how to stop the nightly concert of cats on the back fence. Owners of balky horses need worry no longer. The opportunity for restraining cackling hens and crowing roosters is obvious.

And mosquitoes, which seem to have closest relations with man, should now be shown "where they get off." Indeed, a properly issued injunction should, by the same process of reasoning that sees in it an efficacious remedy for barking dogs and stubborn cows, serve to restrain the wicked rattlesnake from striking and the vicious goat from butting.

There seems no real reason why all of nature may not be in the way of subjection to man. Probably some method of enjoining rainstorms and restraining excessive heat may be worked out. Those who argue for the rights of free speech for dogs and other animals must be reminded that such have no Constitutional rights.

But the same injunction in which the court appears to place such confidence seems to have little or no effect when it is used as a weapon in human disputes. For instance, there is grave doubt whether its restraint can halt a coal strike. Perhaps it is entirely reasonable to reserve it for use against barking dogs.

Another proof that the bootleg stuff is no good is the way it acts behind the steering wheel.

Many a susceptible heart will beat more calmly now that the truth is out that Mary Miles Minter is 30 years old.

For a man who says he dislikes publicity, Senator Magnus Johnson, Minnesota, has had himself elected to a strangely public job.

Both Mr. Dempsey and Senor Angel Firpo seem to realize that either of them may be the one who ought to enjoy the limelight as much as possible right now.

It doesn't always pay to set a thief to catch a thief. In Batavia, N. Y., one member of the police force confessed to a theft. Right then the pay of all others was raised.

It is getting to that time of the year when the small boy has a creepy feeling every time he gets near a schoolhouse.

Poor Distribution Held to Blame For German Food Crisis

HAMBURG. — Germany's collapsing currency and the resultant food shortages are producing a situation wholly unlike that in Russia two years ago when the ruble first depreciated to the point where one dollar purchased a million rubles.

Russians were in the throes of a famine caused by drought in the wheat-raising districts. And their railway system was in need of repair and utterly disorganized by labor troubles and sabotage.

Millions of persons were actually starving. Many of them were in flight from the burned-out districts, most of these, without the means of buying food even where it was available.

In Germany today the dislocated population is not large, and the families which have been deported from the Ruhr area, for the most part provided with some paper money by the government.

The Russian government, just previous to the decline of the ruble to the million point, had changed its economic policy and discontinued its plan whereby it had sought to prove money utterly worthless and useless by promising workmen actual food and clothing, and rent and light and heat in exchange for their work. Consequently Russians suddenly found themselves without food rations and without money as well, as unemployment was widespread.

Secretary Davis Greet Poles in Native Tongue

WARSAW. — Secretary of Labor James J. Davis recently was in this city looking into question of emigration to the United States, and astonished Polish officials with the display of unexpected linguistic abilities.

As a young man Secretary Davis was employed in the iron works of Pittsburgh and acquired some knowledge of Polish from fellow-workmen. The officials who met him here were greatly moved when he greeted them in their own tongue. Mr. Davis' Polish is so good that he was able to dispense with an interpreter except in formal conferences.

Power to Stop!

Buick Four-wheel Brakes

BUICK four-wheel brakes provide a factor of safety welcomed by every driver. No matter how careful he may be there are moments when the power to stop his car quickly and surely averts a serious accident.

Buick four-wheel brakes operate simply by light pressure on the foot pedal. There is no change in the method of operation over former Buick rear wheel brakes.

Buick rear brake construction has proved its dependability for many years. Identically the same principle, simple in its mechanism and effective in its braking control, now has been employed on the front wheels.

The adoption of four-wheel brakes by Buick on its 1924 cars is wholly in keeping with its policy of giving the owner everything that will increase his safety, comfort and satisfaction.

The 1924 Buick cars likewise are distinctive for their beauty, their increased power, ease of operation and comfort—giving features never before found on motor cars.

"THE LADIES' STORE"

Talks on Osteopathy By Dr. F. Fitts

OSTEOPATHY IN THE FIELD OF DIAGNOSIS

Do not confuse the methods of Osteopathy with those of other forms of mechanical healing. Osteopathy does not discard diagnosis. Careful diagnosis is the first duty of the Osteopathic Physician. All known and proven scientific methods are made use of in this procedure. The Osteopathic Physician determines where the trouble lies. He makes certain what the trouble is. And what is vastly more important, he determines the true cause of the sickness by his own peculiar methods of locating disordered structure. He is trained to proceed with his treatment only after he has determined the real nature of the illness and the true cause of the condition. This is why Osteopathic methods are so effective. Intelligent diagnosis and intelligent application of the principles of adjustment result in restoration of normal function and the return of health.

"Driven," Big Hit Say Critics, Shown at Strand Today

Accorded unstinted praise by cinema critics noted for their failure to enthuse greatly over most feature productions, "Driven" showing at Strand theatre today and Tuesday has just justified to the fullest measure the faith of the Universal Pictures Corporation had in it when he broke a precedent of six years' standing and purchased a production made outside of Universal City.

It is an epic of life in the Blue Ridge Mountains, a cross-section of a phase of American life, that one knows exists, but scarcely can imagine. It is the story of a mother who forgets everything, even family and tribal loyalty, and sells out her husband and three sons to insure happiness for the one real human being in the broad—a timid, shy lad, who longs for the better things of life and who, by some freak of fate, was born into this strange family.

A magnificent cast was gathered by Director Brabin. There is Burr McIntosh, one of the most finished and popular actors on either stage or screen, doing excellent work as the brutal father; Emily Fitzroy, a noted figure on stage and screen in both America and England, and playing with consummate artistry the part of the Spartan mother; Elinor Fair, young and beautiful as the sweetheart of timid Tommy, and Charles Emmet Mack, as "Tommy."

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

In the midst of life we are in death. In apparent good health, just a few days before her death, our faithful and beloved sister Mary Johnson Sellers, wife of Brother Earl Sellers, sat with us in a meeting of the Missionary and Aid Societies, but now she has left us forever.

We admired her faithfulness and loyalty. She was ever ready to serve the best interests of her church, societies and community.

She took the Bible as her council and we believe she walked and lived by the light of its teachings. Now that she has gone to reap the reward of her faith and service, may we, in our lives emulate her example of loyalty, faithfulness and unassuming Christian service.

In her death the societies have suffered a great loss. Therefore, be it resolved:

First, that in the death of Sister Sellers, our loss is great; her gain is greater, as we believe she is wearing a crown.

Second, that we join the bereaved family in their sorrow and in their hope of meeting her, where there will be no more parting.

Third, that those resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our societies, a copy sent to the bereaved family, one to the North Carolina Christian and to the World Call.

$1,000 Found in a "Book"

LONDON—The widow of the late John Troutbeck, for many years coroner for Westminster, had such a surprise when a box, shaped like a book containing 200 pounds $1,000, was returned to her, that she fainted. It appears the "book" was among a number which Mrs. Troutbeck sold for three pounds $15, thinking they were old medical works of her late husband, and of little value. The bookseller on examining them discovered one had a lock, and on opening it found a five-pound note and 190 one-pound notes, which he promptly returned to the widow.

Coney Island Is In Meighan Picture At White's Today

Coney Island breaks into pictures in large proportions in "The Frontier of the Stars," Thomas Meighan's new Paramount picture, which will be shown at White's theatre tonight. Director Charles Maigne chartered a boat and took Mr. Meighan, his leading woman, Faire Benney, and several hundred extras to the famous resort for scenes to embellish this picture.

Several thousand persons collected at the beach to watch the scenes being taken, and the police were called on to keep the crowds back. Two big acres turned night into day and made the lights of the amusement palace dim in comparison.

In "The Frontier of the Stars," Mr. Meighan has one of the strongest roles of his career, that of a gunman and gang leader. Faire Binney plays a cripple who has spent most of her life in a wheel chair. When these two characters accidentally meet, the ensuing events make an intensely human and interesting story.

Coal as Table Decoration. DURBAN, Natal, Africa.—Coal as a table decoration was seen at a banquet given here recently in connection with the inauguration of the new coal plant. At intervals on the tables were lumps of coal varnished to prevent soiling the linen, with holes drilled and filled with water to hold sprays of cut flowers.

Lawyers Will Ask President to Take His Office at Once

MINNEAPOLIS—While three full days of business sessions face delegates to the annual convention of the American Bar association here, Aug. 29-31, particular interest attaches to the reports to be submitted the second day of the meeting.

These reports will be presented at the afternoon session, and are the special committee reports on Americanization, Law Enforcement and Judicial Ethics.

William Howard Taft, chief justice of the United States, is chairman of the committee on judicial ethics, and will submit its report: R. E. L. Saner of Dallas, Tex., heads the Americanization committee while Charles S. Whitman of New York, is chairman of the law enforcement committee.

From the time John W. Davis of New York, president of the association, calls the convention to order at 10 a. m., August 29, until election of officers and business routine the afternoon of August 31, the delegates will be occupied with business and entertainment features.

Mrs. Clegg Connects Husband With Visit of Hooded Intruders

RALEIGH, Aug. 29.—Direct implication of her husband, Rev. I. N. Clegg, a Presbyterian minister, of collusion with a hooded gang which invaded her residence and thrust a letter of warning toward her will be made by Mrs. Annie Clegg in her fight before the Supreme Court for the possession of her children on a habeas corpus proceedings especially set from Robeson county.

The invasion of the home of the minister and his family in Rowland on a Sunday night in August of last year by a gang of eight men dressed in the regalia of the Ku Klux Klan is the culmination of a long recital of domestic infelicity in which the wife charges cruelty and neglect on the part of her husband, he counters with allegations that she was negligent of her children and her home.

Relief Workers Say Communism Dead System in Russia

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Communism in Russia is dead and Russia is on the road to recovery, Col. Wm. N. Haskell, who was in charge of American Relief Administration activities there, disclosed in a final report to Herbert Hoover, Secretary of commerce, and chairman of the relief administration. Not only did American aid, amounting to $80,000,000, during the last two years save millions of lives in Russia, said Haskell, but it helped to stimulate Russian recovery and, more valuable than all-spread a lasting inheritance for America in good-will of the Slav races.

Haskell's report summarized the two year's work of the relief administration and praised the American and Russian agents for the duty they performed and Secretary Hoover's conception and administration relief program.

GEDDE'S ATTACK ON ELLIS ISLAND MAY BRING CHANGES

The vicious attack upon conditions existing on Ellis Island, the great immigration detention station in New York Harbor, made in an official report to the British Government by Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to America, is likely to lead to important changes in the method of handling the thousands of immigrants who monthly enter America through the island.

Bible Criticism Is Scored By Minister, Book Always Stand

LAKE JUNALUSKA, Aug. 29.—A man can be both an evolutionist and a Christian, but only when he is neither a strong Christian or a deeply convinced evolutionist, declared Rev. Thurston B. Price, evangelist, in a sermon at the Bible and evangelistic conference, with which the Southern Methodist summer assembly will come to a close next Sunday.

"What will the higher critics do with Jesus Christ?" was Rev. Mr. Turpin's subject. He selected as his text the words of Pilate at the trial of Christ before his crucifixion—Matthew 27:22—"What shall I do then with Jesus, who is called Christ." There is today, the preacher said, a movement against Christianity called "higher criticism," which he declared could be much better named "destructive criticism." The Bible, he said, "will stand or fall a completed plan."

Protect Milk Supply By Tuberculin Test

RALEIGH, Aug. 29.—The milk

supply of ten counties in North Carolina is now fully protected against the spreading of the great white plague, tuberculosis, the cows of these counties all having been tested, released and passed by officials of the State department of agriculture, according to a report made public today by Dr. A. J. DeFossat, inspector in charge of this work.

Inspections have been completed in three other counties, he said, and these will be recommended for release this month. Fifteen other counties have made appropriations for carrying on this work in conjunction with the agricultural department and North Carolina State College and inspections are now going on in nearly all of them, he added.

LONDON.—The communistic ideas of J. W. PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 29.—The body of a man identified as Franklin H. Sargent, head of the Sargent school of dramatic art in New York city, was found with a revolver in one hand in a room of the Withersall hotel here today.

Coroner Oliver Fontaine, of Champlain, arrived here tonight to conduct an investigation into the death, but indications were said to point to suicide.

Banks Adopt Scientific Methods Against Crook

CHICAGO.—The bank robber of today is a post graduate of the university of crookedness and his methods of cracking safes are improving just as other inventions or theories are being improved upon in the evolution of things.

This fact, according to the Illinois Bankers Association, has led to protective measures by banks that are based on the very latest and most scientific lines. The bankers, according to the association, have long ceased to believe that any safe is impregnable to the fingers, acetylene torches or "soup" of the modern bank robber.

According to the bankers now are concerned with building safes that will give the robber the most trouble to open. When new vaults are constructed, they are built from the standpoint of how long it would take an expert safe cracker to enter them, rather than from a viewpoint of being absolutely impregnable.

Postal Campaign Directed Against Illegible Writing

WASHINGTON.—Postmaster General New, who is working on a new chapter in the great drama, "Why Mail Goes Wrong," has announced that a special campaign is being conducted to direct the attention of postal workers and the public to the frequent miscarriage of letters because of the similarity in the names of towns in various states.

Mail addressed, for instance, to Summerton, South Carolina; Summerton, Georgia; Summerville, South Carolina; and Lumberton, frequently is sent to the wrong place due to illegible writing. Dover, North Carolina, and Milford, Texas, also have considerable trouble, getting some of their mail because the addresses fail to make clear the state in which the town is situated.

German Souvenir-Hunters Steal 5,000 Mugs In Munich

MUNICH.—The State beerhouse, where hundreds of people drink out of huge mugs with lids, is disposing the loss of 5,000 of these, which were taken away as mementoes during festival week, besides 480 knives and forks and many decorated plates. In five days nearly a million visitors came here for the athletic festival. It is suggested many of these purchased the mugs, plates and cutlery.

Denmark's Claims To Greenland Are Opposed by Norway

COPENHAGEN, Denmark thought its title to Greenland was without blemish after the United States agreed to waive all claims to the Arctic island as part of the consideration in the purchase of the Danish West Indies. But the interest of Norway in the land which "Eric the Red" discovered has suddenly revived after centuries of inactivity. The controversy between the two Scandinavian countries over the ownership of the east coast of Greenland has become so acute that Denmark now has a commission, headed by former Minister Th. Zahle, traveling over the Arctic island for the purpose of making a report upon which negotiation with Norway may be based.

England Is Preparing For Next Olympiad

LONDON.—Britain has set out to win the next Olympiad, and if the trick is not pulled off, it will not be the fault of the English public in general which is giving its money to send a crack team to the games in 1924. It has been generally admitted that England has lost much of her athletic supremacy during the last decade, and to regain this a leading London newspaper has started a campaign for $200,000, the sum estimated as necessary to get together a team and send it to the Paris games next year.

New Road Laws Posters Will Be Widely Displayed

RALEIGH, Aug. 29.—Within the next fortnight 20,000 large posters and 50,000 pamphlets, outlining a new series of state highway regulations passed by the state highway commission at a meeting July 30 under and by virtue of authorization given it by the last general assembly, will be sent out over the state, the posters to be put up in conspicuous places and the pamphlets to be distributed among inhabitants of the state. It was announced at the highway commission's office.

It means that the people using North Carolina roads will have to acquaint themselves with over a score of new road laws, which were supposed to have gone into effect last July 15, but which are not generally known to the public as yet.

INCREASE IN USE OF LUXURIES

Census of 1921 shows gains in output of luxuries while most other manufactures show declines. Newspapers, both a necessity and luxury, show big gains, as do also the chief requirements in building and road construction.

Economy is apparently a forgotten word in the lexicon of American users of luxuries. An analysis of the recent census of manufactures, made by the Trade Report of The National City Bank of New York, shows that while the value of all manufactures produced in the United States in 1921 fell 30% below that of 1919 a large share of the articles classed as luxuries not only "held their own" but in many instances showed an actual increase. Out of the 450 articles or groups of articles enumerated by the census about 400 showed a decline in the value of the 1921 output when compared with that of 1919, and of the 50 articles which showed an increase about 67% were classed as luxuries, while about 33% of the remainder were articles required in the construction of new houses. Even among the articles which show an actual decline the fall off in articles of luxuries is less pronounced than in those of the ordinary requirements of daily life or industries of the country.

Just a few examples will show the contrast between the growth in the output of luxuries and the fall off in the total output in which there was a decline of 30% in value in 1921 compared with 1919. The value of tobacco manufactures increased from $1,013,000,000 in 1919 to $1,048,000,000 in 1921, an increase of 3.4%, while contrasted with this food products as a whole showed a fall of 37%, from $2,153,000,000 in 1919 to $1,373,700,000 in 1921, and in building materials and supplies cement alone an increase of $28,000,000; wall plaster and floor composition $6,000,000 increase; paving materials $16,000,000; doors and shutters $1 1/2 million dollars; window and door screens 1 1/2 million dollars; and gas and electric fixtures a half million dollars increase.

The chief increases outside of the luxury class occur in newspaper and magazine publishing, which advanced from $92,415,000 in 1919 to $1,123,700,000 in 1921, and in building materials and supplies, cement alone an increase of $28,000,000; wall plaster and floor composition $6,000,000 increase; paving materials $16,000,000; doors and shutters $1 1/2 million dollars; window and door screens 1 1/2 million dollars; and gas and electric fixtures a half million dollars increase.

Manufactured ice, no longer considered a luxury, increased $21,000,000 in the manufacture red output in the two year period. Paternity showed an increase of $10,000,000, while gas for illuminating and heating advanced from $329,000,000 in 1919 to $411,000,000 in 1921.

Mission School A City Which Supports Itself

CHICAGO. — A community self-sustaining, operated upon systematic methods which include all the latest labor-saving devices, where no one receives any pay—that is the institution of St. Mary's Mission House, at Techny, Illinois, 20 miles northwest of Chicago, where Catholic foreign missionaries are trained. Its parks, farms and industrial plants occupy more than 800 acres, managed by the priests and brothers who work for nothing. The 110 brothers do the manual work. The arising hour is 4:30 a. m. and all must have retired at 2:30 p. m. Each of the 32 priests is a business man as well as an educator of mission-aries. The residents make their own ice, grind the grain which is raised on the farms, generate their own electricity, do their own butchering, have their own dairy farm, livestock, chicken, vegetable and fruit farms, and carpenter, painter, plumber, blacksmith, shoe and soft drink shops. Tomatoes for their use are carved at home.

Mark's Fall on 'Change Laid German Strategy

LONDON.—Various reasons have been given for the depreciation of the mark. In a recent circular Messrs. Samuel Montagu & Co., bankers and financial experts, give an interesting example of how Germany herself is weakening the mark on foreign exchanges by enlarging the demand for stable currencies. Prussian and Bavarian banks, with State sanction, it is stated, are attracting savings deposits on the undertaking to repay the depositor in paper marks of the same gold value. The "Savings Gold Mark" thus avoids the depreciation of the deposits while they remain with the bank. The bank avoids any loss in this way. The "Savings Golds Mark" basis is merely camouflaged dollars. When the depositor hands his savings to the bank, he is kept safe for three months, at 3 percent, the bank at once buys a corresponding amount of dollars and deposits them with an American bank at, say, 5 percent.
