

Within the last year interest in the development of the poultry industry has taken on decided impetus. Farmers, farm women, farm boys and girls have become interested in breeding flocks along scientific lines with encouraging results. It has been found poultry pays a certain and steady income when undertaken and followed after approved methods.

Demand for the product of the commercial hatchery installed in Greenville has far exceeded the supply. It has proved that both suburban and rural folks realize that poultry offers a prolific source of income. Indeed, one Greenville man is so well satisfied with the progress he has made in less than a year that he will place in operation on his farm shortly, a brooder capable of hatching 10,000 chicks.

The Pitt County Poultry association meets Thursday in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at 3 p. m. Various questions relating to poultry development will be discussed. Successful poultrymen will speak. The gathering not only affords a splendid opportunity for those interested, but also for other seeking information relative to the industry.

BELGIUM TO STAND BEHIND ENGLAND IN ITALIAN-GRECO ROW

Delegate Makes Position Clear Before League Nations

GENEVA, Sept. 5.—Paul Hymans, Belgian delegate to the league of nations received instructions today from Brussels to stand with England in the latter's position to see that the Italian-Greco controversy is heard before the body. Hymans, added that the position would be maintained at the cost of Italy withdrawing from the league.

CORFU, Sept. 5.—With their meagre belongings piled about them, hundreds of refugees whose quarters were made uninhabitable by the Italian bombardment are sleeping in the open squares and along the streets. And thus the Armenians who fled from the Turks and found refuge here under the patronage of American and British charities find themselves.

The wounded—most of whom are children—are being treated in the civil and Near East Relief hospitals on the island.

It is contended by the local authorities that the Italians, grief after they had instructed the Greek prefect to ask the government at Athens to reconsider its refusal to surrender the island before the time had elapsed for a reply to be received. The remark attributed to an Italian officer in the first party which came ashore after the bombardment, which was, "Are there any British hurt?"

RALEIGH, Sept. 5.—A bill of indictment charging Lieutenant Governor W. B. Cooper and his brother, Thomas E. Cooper, with wrongfully abstracting funds and making false entries on the books of the defunct Commercial National Bank will be presented to the federal grand jury which will convene at Wilmington on November 6 and the case will come up regularly for the trial during the two weeks' criminal term of court which begins on the same day.

That announcement was made by District Attorney Irvin B. Tucker, who was in his office for the first time since the arrest of the prominent bankers several weeks ago.

Alleged Libel By Ford Ties Up Big Sum Of His Money

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Charles Kramer, deputy sheriff, with a writ of attachment against Henry Ford, searched for two weeks without finding any Ford property to attach.

Today, after trying 54 banks, trust companies and other places, Kramer discovered a deposit of $115,000 in the Corj Exchange Bank credited to the "world's richest man."

The attachment was granted to Herman Bernstein, who is suing Ford for $200,000 for alleged libel against him and other Jews in Ford's publication, the Dearborn Independent, and the $115,000 will be tied up pending the outcome of the suit.

FINDS BUSINESS CONDITIONS GOOD ON BIG MARKETS

Business conditions generally show marked improvement on the markets in the metropolitan centers which indicate normal and permanent strength, according to G. S. Willard proprietor of the Dry Goods Shop who has just returned from a trip to New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

"During the years that I have been buying on those markets I never witnessed such a demand for merchandise and as many buyers. Prices did not indicate any great drop, but I found shading here and there in many instances. The slump in the cotton market and its modified recovery increased prices on manufactured cotton goods, which well informed manufacturers and jobbers informed me would possibly remain slightly higher.

"But there was general air of confidence," he continued "that was particularly apparent. In conversation with buyers from various sections of the country they were all unanimous in forecasting stabilized prosperity."

Willard said that he bought heavily in anticipation of a substantial increase in fall and winter business. Some of the new stock arriving daily and he hopes to have it all placed for a formal opening display within the next two weeks. Various new and exclusive fashions will be reflected in the exhibition.

NUDE CHAUFFEUR ROUHS WOMEN IN SELECT DISTRICT

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—A touch of nature almost caused a panic in the city. Drive this afternoon. Dennis Nolan, 21, chauffeur, threw convention to the winds and proceeded two blocks down Riverside and two blocks east to Broadway without attire. Now he is under police supervision, pending an investigation by a probation officer.

When a policeman first saw Nolan he thought that the runner might be a female student of a Riverside, Drive dancing school overwrought from practicing some Bacchanalian step. The shrieking of nurse girls soon indicated that his first guess had been wrong. Elderly women also shrieked and fled.

The chase continued to Broadway, where Donovan overtook Nolan, who had just entered a haberdashery. Emergency clothing sufficed until Nolan could be taken to the police station. There he said friends had made him intoxicated and then taken his clothes.

Campaign Opened To Drive Gunmen From Metropolis

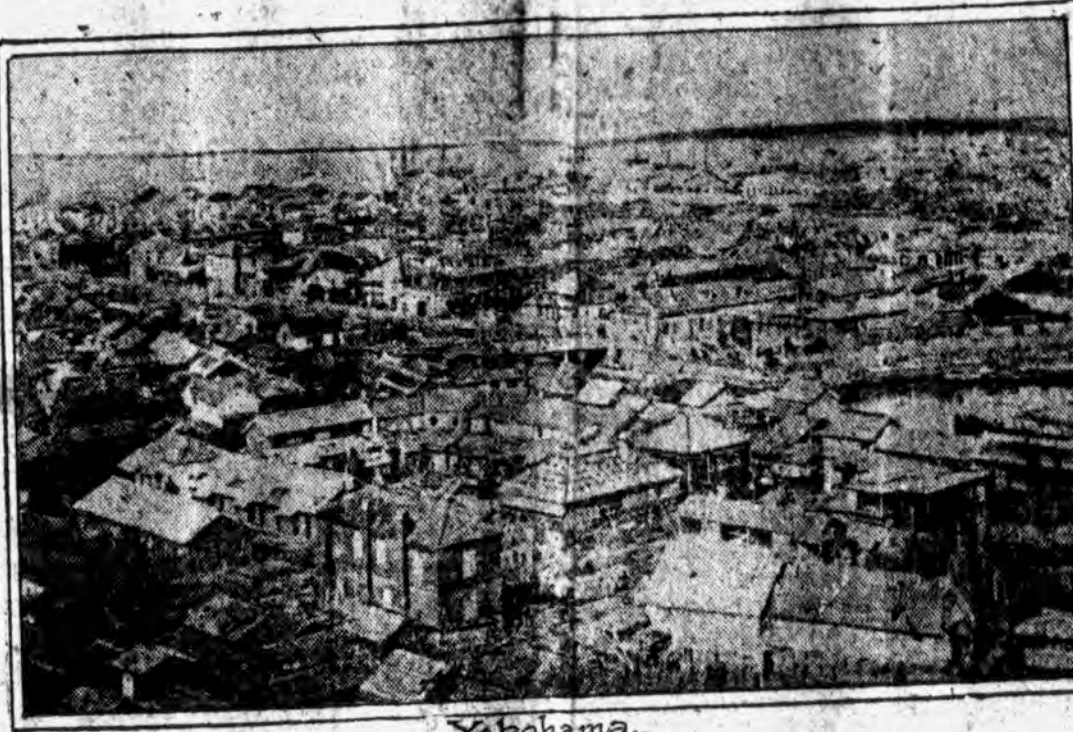

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—District Attorney Banton today announced a campaign to drive from the city or put behind the bars gangster gunmen and bandits, whose activities in the last week have given rise to fears of a "crime wave."

"Gunmen have got to leave New York and to bring it about we will have a special part of the court in session to try nothing but crimes of violence for the next month," Mr. Banton said. "We will give the gunmen, holdup men and other rough gentry of that like the same kind of treatment they received last year when they tried to take the bit in their teeth."

EARLY ACTION ON MUSCLE SHOALS, COOLIDGE HOPES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Muscle Shoals, which gave so much trouble to the Harding administration, will not be allowed to hang like a Nemesis over the Coolidge regime. It will be dealt with speedily and put out of the way.

Such is the opinion held by many political observers here who used to shudder for Mr. Harding every time the subject was broached. For it is the general belief that Mr. Harding alienated the South and the West, particularly the farmers, without whose support no man can be elected president of the United States.

It is said Mr. Coolidge is too well versed in economics and politics to let the Muscle Shoals problem lie at his back door. It is one ghost he wants to lay to a finish.

"Ford didn't get a fair deal" was the cry of thousands of farmers, South and West, who generally vote according to their convictions. Now, say the forecasters, if Mr. Coolidge wants a full term—which he undoubtedly will, having tasted a part—he will not follow the same path.

PHYSICIANS AND PUBLIC TO BE GUESTS OF THE PITT COMMUNITY HOSPITAL AT RECEPTION FRIDAY

While the Fifth Street unit of the Pitt Community Hospital is open to receive patients, it will be formally dedicated to public service at a reception next Friday evening.

Every physician of Pitt and adjacent counties has been invited to attend together with the public. The manner in which the second floor of Dail apartment building has been remodeled into modern, fully equipped hospital is little short of marvelous. The institution has a capacity of 30 beds, a staff of graduate nurses and every thing has been anticipated for the comfort and highly efficient care of patients.

The realization of the hospital is the fruition of effort covering more than 20 years. The Fifth street unit is only the beginning of the large new building under construction on a site near the Rotary Club.

AGE LIMIT AGAINST CHILDREN AUTO DRIVERS TO BE ENFORCED MUST DIM LIGHTS, MAYOR WARNS

Katie King and G. M. Kimry, were making parents or owners of automobiles driven by children under 16 years of age, responsible not only criminally, but civilly in cases of accident, that in the future all persons indicted for allowing children under 16 to operate automobiles will be fined $10 and the cost, and this is fair warning, for in the future this will be the minimum fine for this offense.

Mayor Clark also declared that he has instructed police officers not to give further warning regarding bright lights on autos, but rather order all violators of this ordinance to court; that this course has been made necessary by that class of motorist who disregard courtesies of the police officers in warning them, persist in violating the law and the only way to handle such cases is by the application of fines.

Referring to the enforcement of the law against permitting children under 16 to drive cars, Mayor Clark said: That the law having been amended

Hold Dentist As "Flogging Boss" In Georgia Outrages

MACON, GA., Sept. 5.—Dr. C. A. Yarborough, a dentist, and J. E. Patrick, a court official, were arrested today charged with assault and battery and rioting in connection with recent flogging activities in Macon. Dr. Yarborough, the police said, is a ranking official in the local Ku Klux Klan, and he has been charged with holding the position of the whipping boss of Macon.

W. F. Delmar, a salesman, was arrested tonight on warrants based on the same evidence as that in the case of Yarborough and Patrick.

Dr. Yarborough, the police said is known to have been associated with J. P. Durkee, said to be the organizer of the Klan in Macon. Durkee used Dr. Yarborough's office to hold classes of instructions for Klan candidates who wished to become "naturalized."

10,000 Refugees Dead; Trapped By Flames In Fleeing Devastated Area

DISASTER IN BRIEF

As the story of the Japanese earthquake and flood is unfolded in fact, by Press associations and individuals, it is apparent that the magnitude of the catastrophe has not been overdrawn.

In only dispatch has it been suggested that the death list is not as already given.

Radio messages place the dead in Tokio around 100,000 and the same figure for Yokohama. On the other hand advices from Admiral Anderson, commander of the Asiatic fleet unofficially reports the casualties at 240,000 and 450,000 injured, many of whom will die.

Naval officials believe that Admiral Anderson speeding with his fleet to Japanese waters obtained his information by radio before communicating with the navy department, at Washington.

Fresh calamity has overtaken Tokio when the terror stricken remnants of the city of several thousand and were trapped by flames in a military clothing factory and burned to death.

Food and water are scarce. Two hundred and sixteen distinct shocks were felt Saturday and 67 Sunday, one of the tremors of six minutes duration. Fire burned for 55 hours, leaving Tokio and environs in desolation for 51 square mile. More than 350,000 buildings and homes have been destroyed. The suffering in Yokohama is not exaggerated.

OSAKA, Sept. 5.—Tokio and Yokohama, with surrounding towns, which formed the center of the disturbances are almost completely in ruins. For two days Tokio was swept by flames, and apart from the loss of life caused directly through the falling of the buildings, thousands must have perished in their attempts to make their way through the fire zones and other thousands from exhaustion.

Ruin Everywhere. Yokohama, Tokio's busy port, is a city destroyed. Probably more complete destruction has been wrought there than in the capital itself, for its great docks were torn asunder, its shipping wrecked, its public buildings and homes levelled to the earth.

All advices received here indicate a succession of earth disturbances in that area extending for many miles inland and to the north, and everywhere the first destructive force, were augmented by explosions, the bursting of water mains, the overflow of rivers and the terrible overpowering rush of tidal waves.

Nothing Spared. Details of geographical changes are lacking, but it is reported that new islands have been forced up from the end of the ocean, while whole sections have disappeared. Rivers are said to have changed their courses, and volcanoes are erupting in various districts.

The disaster spared none who stood in its path. Many members of noble families have perished, but thus far the only notable foreign resident in the list of killed is the American consul at Yokohama, Max T. Kirtzinger, who with his wife is believed to have been buried in the ruins of the consulate.

U. S. Officials Safe. The American ambassador, Cyrus E. Woods, and all the members of the embassy at Tokio are known to be safe, but many of the diplomatic representatives of other nations have not been accounted for, nor has any word been received of their fate.

The newspaper Osaka Asahi estimates the earthquake dead at 320,000, which include 150,000 dead in Tokio, 100,000 in Yokohama and 60,000 in Yokosuka. Word is received that the fires in Tokio burned out Monday night, but at the same time, couriers carrying appeals for food and medicinal supplies and assistance for the hundreds of thousands of homeless refugees, who, unless succored speedily, cannot survive.

FUNDS FOR RELIEF JAPANESE PEOPLE STEADILY GROW

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—This city today dug into its pockets to provide relief for the hundreds of thousands of hurt, hungry and homeless sufferers of the catastrophe on the Island of Hondo.

Americans and Japanese joined in a campaign launched from headquarters of internationally known financial and charitable organizations. The fund started with a check for $50,000 from J. P. Morgan and company, was pouring into the hands of the American Red Cross at a rate which would indicate a million dollars would be recorded in a few hours.

CRIME IN THIS COUNTRY

A special committee on law enforcement, appointed by the American Bar Association, in a recent report makes startling disclosures regarding the extent and rapid increase of crime in the United States.

The blame for such a record is laid by the committee partly on the structure of the law and the manner in which the courts function, but principally on the apathy and indifference of the American people to law enforcement.

It would be difficult to prove the committee's assertion that the people are apathetic or indifferent to law enforcement. On the contrary, the large majority of the citizens of the country are not only law-abiding themselves, but are firm believers in a strict enforcement of laws.

No doubt some of the increase in crime can be accounted for by the laxity of courts, by long-delayed trials, and by successive appeals in behalf of the accused.

ADVISING THE PRESIDENT

President Coolidge is proving a good listener. He seems to have cultivated successfully the happy faculty of giving a hearing to all his callers, allowing them to make their little speeches and sending them away convinced that they have brought him to their way of thinking. Yet during these interviews, which have become numerous in the past few days, the President has, it is reported, gone no further than to tell his visitors that he was glad to see them and that he would give their suggestions his most careful consideration.

With this premise, so easy to make, all seemed to be satisfied and went their way rejoicing.

The new President is no novice in American politics. His term as Governor of Massachusetts gave him abundant opportunities to learn ways and methods of those who want legislation that will be of direct personal benefit to them and of those who try to convince a President that they can fill an official position better than any other person that could be named.

Then as Vice President he became well acquainted with the means employed by Congressmen to obtain well-paying government offices for loyal constituents, their frequent exchanges of votes to assure the passage of laws and their petty practices to enable them to retain their seats.

To use a slang expression, the President is "wise" to all these things.

MEXICO AS A FRIEND

Full recognition of the government of Mexico has been given by the government of the United States. This will mean the restoration of diplomatic relations, the exchange of ambassadors, and should mark the beginning of an era of closer friendship between the two countries.

It has required a number of years to bring about this result, but now all objections and obstacles appear to have been removed and no good reason exists why Mexico should longer be kept under the ban.

Under the agreement reached by the American-Mexican Commission, which brought about the present understanding between the two countries, Mexico guarantees to citizens of the United States full protection in their property rights. This issue has been the chief cause of the hesitancy of this government to grant the recognition that Mexico has long desired.

American capital has gone into that land in enormous sums, has aided in the development of many of its most important resources, but has in past years been subject to excessive taxation and at times to virtual confiscation.

With a stronger and better government in power, these frequent causes of friction should be removed, and this work Mexico promises to do. It also guarantees to assure better protection in the Southern border, which has long been the scene of smuggling of all kinds, which has necessitated the employment of a considerable force of United States troops there to hold this practice in check.

Heretofore Mexico has given the United States little aid in policing the border, but it now promises to do its full share.

MOVE TO END FEMALE MINE LABOR STIRS INDIA

SIMLA, India. — The question of the advisability of prohibiting the employment of women in mines has again been taken up by the Government of India. At present about one-third of the mine workers in India are women. Since 1842 women have been excluded from mines in England; in 1901 an attempt was made to prohibit them from Indian mines.

This effort failed on account of violent opposition on the part of employers. Expression was given to the fear that if steps were taken to prevent women relatives of men workers from going below the latter would themselves refuse to work in mines.

The department of industries and labor of the central government has sent a letter to each of the provincial governments, asking for advice with regard to possible legislation against the employment of women in mines.

Loyalty Of Women Of South Shown In "Held By The Enemy"

AGNES AYRES IN "HELD BY THE ENEMY" A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

Picturization of Wm. Gillette's Celebrated Play Notable Screen Achievement.

The loyalty and love of the women of the South during the American Civil War is admirably depicted in a new striking Paramount picturization of William Gillette's play, "Held by the Enemy," which will be shown at White's theatre today.

The local of the story is a Southern town newly captured by Northern troops. A young widow, who believes that her husband has been slain in battle, falls in love with a young Northern Colonel, who protects her from the looters. She is about to accept his proposal of marriage, when her husband appears on spy duty. He is arrested by the Colonel, and throughout the remainder of the story the dutiful little wife makes many sacrifices in her attempts to save her husband from death. The culminating situation is one of the most dramatic ever presented on the silver-sheet.

On Tuesday afternoon at her home on Second street, Miss Helen Brown was hostess to a large number of friends at a linen shower complimentary to Miss Linda Warren, bride-elect.

Twelve tables for bridge were arranged on the lawn which was beautifully decorated with autumn colors of gold and brown.

Upon arrival the guests were given a cordial welcome by the hostess and served punch and sandwiches by Misses Elizabeth and Mary Lou White, Louise and Margaret Fleming.

Mrs. John Flanagan making the top score was presented a Victrola record while Miss Alice Lee Hooker was given the consolation prize, a Victrola record. Miss Warren was remembered with a beautiful piece of lingerie.

After four progressions an ice course, carrying out the gold and brown color scheme, was served. Before departing the honor guest was told that after the "showers" there was always a rainbow and that at the end of it there was a treasure for her in a pot of gold. She found the rainbow and in the pot of gold she found a beautiful shower of linen.

Miss Warren will be married November 14. She is one of the most popular members of the young social set and will be the honoree at several social affairs during the coming weeks.

Chain Stores Have Created American Business Romance

NEW YORK.—One of the greatest romances in American retail business has been the growth of chain grocery stores, 20,000 of which now transact slightly less than 10 percent of the nation's retail grocery business, estimated at $20,000,000,000 annually. If the present ratio of growth is maintained, this will be increased to 25 percent within the next five years. Economy of operation by reason of the fact that the business is transacted on a cash basis with a heavy turnover and small profits, and the rapid development of American suburban and community life, has been the two main factors responsible for the tremendous growth. Statistics five years ago revealed that a community of 1,000 persons will permit the operation of a chain store grocery at satisfactory profit, though one store can serve several times that number. The first chain grocery stores in the country were viewed with suspicion on the theory that the lower prices they charged meant inferior products. This feeling, however, has to a large extent disappeared, mainly due to the fact that the chain stores have offered nationally advertised articles at prices below those charged by independent grocers.

The pioneer in the chain store field was the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, which was established in 1858. This concern now has more than 8,000 stores, doing an annual business of approximately $250,000,000. Unlike a number of other chain store concerns, the ownership and control of this organization has remained in the hands of one family.

Reduce the Skidding Danger!

BUICK Four-wheel Brakes

BUICK four-wheel brakes reduce to a minimum the skidding danger every driver encounters on wet pavements.

The action of the simple yet positive Buick brakes not only slows down the car safely but keeps it steady, preventing skidding to either side.

Buick four-wheel brakes operate with slight pressure on the steering brake pedal, are of the Buick-proved external contracting type and function independently of the emergency brake.

Buick has taken this advanced step of designing four-wheel brakes on its 1924 cars in conformance with its well-known policy of providing owners with the safest and most dependable transportation.

We will be pleased to give you a demonstration and let you prove the effectiveness of Buick four-wheel brakes yourself.

"I have had trouble with an inactive liver," wrote Mrs. S. Nichols, of 4412 Spencer St., Houston, Tex. "When I would get constipated, I would feel a light, dizzy feeling in my head. To get up in the morning with a tightness in the head and a tremble feeling is often a sign that the stomach is out of order. For this I took Thedford's Black-Draught, and without a doubt can say I have never found its equal in any liver medicine. I have used it a long time, when food does not seem to set well, or the stomach is a little sour."
