MUSSOLINI ASSERTS ITALY IS PURSUING SAME STAND AS U. S.

Premier Scores American Press For Influencing Opinion

ROME, Sept. 7.—Premier Mussolini is quoted today as saying that Italy is fully justified in its attitude respecting the jurisdiction of the league of nations involving the controversy of the Italian government with Greece. He plainly scored what was called unjust criticism directed against Italy by some newspapers of the American press. Mussolini explains that the American people failed to grasp the gravity of the "crime committed in Greece in the massacre of members of the Albanian boundary commission."

The premier added that the position of Italy in refusing to recognize the league should meet the approval of every nation, especially America.

GENEVA, Sept. 7.—Council of the league of nations decided not to meet today. It was also agreed that the scheduled sessions of the assembly be postponed to avoid dangerous discussion at the plenary meeting of the delegates until the council was able to shed some light on the Italian-Greece dispute. There is no question but that the firm stand of Italy not to be bound by the actions of the league, has created a situation that in some quarters, it is hinted, may cause the collapse of the body.

GENEVA, Sept. 7.—The storm over Italy's refusal to recognize the authority of the League of Nations to regulate her dispute with Greece gives no indication of dimming. On the contrary, it shows signs of developing into a political typhoon of the first degree. Representatives of world states like Belgium, Sweden and Uruguay went on record today as insisting upon respect for the League covenant and as being unqualifiedly convinced that Italy should submit the controversy to the League for settlement.

The cause of world peace demonstrated it; the very life of the League itself was at stake, several of the statesmen declared before the council's session, if the covenant was defied, precious guarantees for the smaller nations of the earth would cease to exist.

The council again avoided taking direct League action on the Italian attitude towards the League, but endeavored to advance a compromise plan calculated to hasten solution of the Greco-Italian crisis through the collaboration of the League of Nations, and the council of ambassadors.

POULTRY BREEDERS TO IMPROVE COUNTY FAIR SHOW THIS SEASON

The Pitt County Poultry association, met yesterday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms to discuss various phases of the industry of particular importance at this time.

An exchange of ideas and experience proved helpful, and threw light on many common problems.

Among the subjects considered first, standard-bred poultry must take the place of scrub stock. Mongrel chickens and a successful poultry business will not thrive in the same yard. Every one knows the advantage of the standard-bred fowl as a show bird, but even as a utility the standard breeds will bring a premium on the markets.

Second: The association was a unit on the value of club work among boys and girls of the county, and pledge were given to assist the county agent and chamber of commerce in organizing club, in their respective

Insurance Will Be Re-rated In City Chamber Is Advised

Re-rating of Greenville will mean a saving on the whole and will be welcomed by Local policy holders.

The modern fire equipment now owned by Greenville makes possible this re-rating.

Cotton Crop Third Lost By Ravages Weevil, He Avows

ABERDEEN, Sept. 7.—"The loss in cotton due to the boll weevil will average at least one-third of the crop in the southern and southeastern tier of counties of the state," says a statement issued today by Dr. R. W. Leiby, entomologist in charge of the boll weevil field station and laboratory supported here by the North Carolina State College and the department of Agriculture. Dr. Leiby recently made a trip through the heavily infested counties of Hoke, Robeson, Scotland, Moore and Richmond counties, of North Carolina, and into South Carolina, for the purpose of ascertaining the degree of injury and to learn to what extent the weevil was being controlled.

He reported he found that the injury varies considerably in different fields, some fields of early cotton where a good stand was secured escaping with a loss of about 20 per cent of the crop, while other fields, particular those which had to be replanted or were planted late, will show a loss of 30 to 70 per cent of the crop.

"These estimates of losses," said Dr. Leiby in his statement, "are based on weevil injury or rot following weevil injury, and are aside from any losses due to abnormal shedding experienced in some restricted regions."

Three Dead; 27 Hurt In Blast; Shock IS Felt for 100 Miles

SOUTH AMBOY, N. J., Sept. 7.—Three men and a boy were killed and 27 persons were injured, 15 probably fatally, by an explosion last night of thousands of cases of smokeless powder which were being transferred from barges to freight cars on the banks of the Raritan River.

The explosion, caused by a cooking fire on one of the barges, rocked the entire countryside, blew automobiles upside down in road nearby and enveloped everyone within a hundred yards in a sheet of flame. The two men killed were Winston Taylor and William Trench, of Newark. The third was unidentified. The boy, whose body has not been recovered, was blown into the river.

Other fields are to be located at mining towns within reasonable flying range of Birmingham, the mine rescue station.

Jack Dempsey Attends Strictly To Training

SARATOGA.—Jack Dempsey's hobbies in his training camp are not so many or varied. The champion most of the time attends strictly to the business of getting himself into shape. But when he does "let go," he plays cards with his sparring partners or favored visitors, romps around the place like a school kid, plays with the many dogs he owns, or puts in his spare time attempting to train some newcomer to his menagerie.

At Great Falls, Mont., where Dempsey conditioned himself for his Shelby match with Tommy Gibbons, a wolf cub was the recipient of most of the title holder's attention. At his present training camp he is attempting to win the affection of a leopard cub that was recently sent him.

Japan's New Premier Reported Missing

A cablegram from Manila reports that semi-official circles in Japan declare Admiral Gombel Yamamoto, newly appointed Premier of Japan, is missing in the earthquake and fire in Tokio. He had previously been reported as having fled to Osaka, where the new capital of Japan has been established. He was in conference with his Cabinet in the Naval Club, in Tokio, when the earthquake came and was reported to have been slightly injured. Another unconfirmed report at that time declared he had been assassinated but this was denied.

Says Prehistoric "Skull" Is Nothing But Sandstone

BUENOS AIRES.—The opinion of Argentine scientists that the alleged tertiary human skull discovered by Dr. J. G. Wolfe in Patagonia some months ago is not a fossil, has been confirmed here by Professor Elmer S. Riggs, paleontological explorer for the Field Museum, Chicago.

"That," said Professor Riggs turning over in his hands the oblong stone object curiously impressed with human-like features, and which for the past two months has served as a paper weight on the desk of Professor de Benedetti, an archaeologist, "that as a fossil, is certainly a piece of bunk. As a geological specimen it is piece of solid sandstone, a natural concretion, queerly shaped, but not so queer at that. I've seen others like it. It's only one of nature's little jokes."

AMERICAN SHIPS IN JAPAN TAKE ABOARD 300 U. S. REFUGEES

Food, Clothing Also Provided For Native And Other Sufferers

YOKAHAMA, Sept. 7.—Three United States destroyers attached to the Asiatic fleet under command of Admiral Anderson, reached here today and took aboard more than 300 American refugees. Emergency clothing and food supplies were furnished to sufferers. The full fleet is expected today when further immediate aid will be supplied.

According to late dispatches it is not believed that the death victims will number any thing like the first rough estimates. While it is large the figures given out are exaggerated, it was declared. Estimates of damage, however, have not been over stated. On the contrary there is no way of determining the extent of damage until an official check-up is made.

HONOLULU, Sept. 7.—No other word but "hell" can depict the scene in Tokio during and after the earthquake, according to the Tokio correspondent of the Hawaii Shonjo who today sent from Sendai, Japan, an "eye-witness" story of this disaster. No vocabulary, he declared, would suffice to describe it adequately.

Calls it Hell.
"The first great quake came at 11:55 a. m., Saturday, last," the correspondent said. "It was without warning. Most of the buildings of Tokio collapsed at the first shock. The center of the quake seemed to be in Tokio and Kanagawa, but it was felt throughout the entire region between Nagoya on the southwest and Aomori on the north, a region comprising virtually the northeastern half of the island of Hondo.

Fire Quickly Ensued.
"The earthquake was preceded by a tremendous landslide along the Sagami coast. Fires which followed in the wake of the earthquakes were partially due to the incendiarism of Koreans who applied torches to fallen buildings.

"With the proclamation of martial law, General Fukuda was appointed emergency commander of the Tokio area. Admiral Nomaguchi, commander of the Yokosuka naval base, was appointed commander of the area including Yokohama and Yokosuka.

Populace Crazed.
"Among the known dead are Baron Y. Hatsuoka, member of the privy council; Baron Y. Sonoda, member of the imperial council.

"After the earthquake Tokio was a living hell. Crazed, horrified refugees stormed the parks to escape the flames. Those who were too slow or too weak from exhaustion and excitement were soon overtaken by the flames which engulfed them. The fire spread with remarkable rapidity. The correspondent said he reached Sendai only after a series of indescribable adventures.

Praying Big Fund.
"NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—New York has passed the goal of $1,000,000 set for it in the nation's campaign for $5,000,000 to aid sufferers in stricken Japan. Today members of the New York chapter of the Japanese relief committee of the American Red Cross announced "the sky as the limit," in its drive for funds and it was predicted, unofficially, that the metropolis alone would donate a sum almost equal to that asked from the entire country.

RADIO LINK UP THE WORLD

The greatest achievement and service of radio so far is the part it played in giving the world first news of the terrible Japanese disaster. Immediately following the series of earthquakes and tidal waves Tokio and Yokohama and all contiguous districts were completely shut off from outside communication with the world. But radio stations took up the word of horror and flashed it broadcast. The value of the service is in its infancy and its future possibilities are illimitable.

In this connection plans are now under way to make the United States the radio center of the world.

There have already been established eight connections across the Atlantic, linking up this country with many parts of Europe, and one across the Pacific bringing into closer touch the lands of the East. Within the past week a direct radio telegraphic service has been opened to Holland and to Italy. The circuit to Italy is one of the longest in existence. In making the connection, the radio waves travel nearly five thousand miles, or one-fifth of the distance around the world. The distance traveled by the waves between this country and Holland is thirty-five hundred miles.

The importance of these new connections cannot be overestimated. The Italian government has for several years shown a desire to have a direct radio service with the United States. Not only will this service, now established, prove of great benefit to that country, but Italy will be in a position to place the use of its radio station at the disposal of Hungary, Serbia, Greece and others of her neighbors and thus provide more rapid and direct contact between all these countries and the United States.

Holland, through the new service will be able to handle communications to and from Belgium, Denmark and other lands. Thus the two new connections will provide an outlet for radio traffic with many European stations and will give to the United States a new and powerful means of commercial advancement abroad.

Commenting on this expansion of the service, the President of the Radio Corporation of America declares that direct communication with the United States has long been the dream of the people of both Italy and Holland. The opening of the service will link in a more perfect bond the business and social friendship of these peoples and will assist in bringing about the stabilization of trade conditions which depend largely on swift, reliable and direct communication.

In no other country has the practical use of the radio made such remarkable progress as in the United States and it is no surprise that this country has become the world center of the new form of telegraphic communication. What has already been accomplished is but of forecast of what will be done. Before many years have passed the whole world will be closely linked together by a service such as was not even dreamed of a generation ago.

Almost any newspaperman would be willing to follow Cornelius Vanderbilt's example in becoming a newspaper owner after a brief experience as a reporter, if they could acquire a similar handicap of a few millions at the start.

Summer's return with September may please the pleasure resort people, but it won't help the small boy much when school bells begin to chime.

Even in its earthquake Japan believes in doing things thoroughly.

Cheaper oil for heating may be another reason why the anthracite strike will be brief.

The annual argument as to when summer ends is now being conducted by the calendar and weather sharps.

What the wheat growers need is a crop of live salesmen to tell the world it needs more wheat.

FOREIGN TAX-DODGERS STIR AUTHORITIES IN YOKOHAMA
YOKOHAMA—After consultation with the foreign office the municipal authorities have explained that it is not the legitimate holders of perpetual leases at which the council aimed in its recent resolution instructing the mayor to collect arrears in taxes. The authorities now say that a number of foreigners, not holders of these leases, have been evading their taxes and also that some of the lease holders have waded taxes which the leases do not exempt them from.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS IN REUNION AT GUAYAMA
SAN JUAN—Members of the 4th Ohio Volunteer Infantry organization who participated in the occupation of Guayama during the Spanish-American war, gathered amid scenes of old time battle there, recently, on the occasion of the organization's twenty-fifth annual reunion.
The members believe they are the first veterans ever to stage a reunion in the country where they fought. Former soldiers from all states attended.

"When Danger Smiles" Continuous Thriller At The Strand Today

In making the big thrill for "When Danger Smiles," the William Duncan picture at the Strand today the star is dragged at the end of a rope attached to a speeding horse. He is carried several hundred yards before a shot fired by the heroine severs the rope. In making this sequence William Duncan was severely bruised about the legs and arms, but persisted in continuing his work, and the next day just to show he was suffering no pains from his experience did a buck and wing dance in the set.

William Duncan is an exceptionally good buck and wing dancer and in his younger days won an enviable reputation on the vaudeville stage in a dancing act.

Seek To Establish Ideal University In Honor Of Lincoln

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—A university for everybody, rich and poor, open day and night seven days a week, this is the ideal before the incorporators of the Abraham Lincoln University now being founded by the citizens of Lincoln's home town.

At meetings already held to further this idea of a national university for everybody, labor leaders and capitalists sat side by side. Among the men aiding in fostering the Lincoln university are former Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, Republican national committeeman for Illinois; John H. Walker, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, Jewish rabbis, Protestant ministers and Catholic priests. A fund of $1,000,000 is to be raised this year, according to Dr. E. E. Hagler, chairman of the university committee, and it is planned to open this new institution in September, 1924.

The ideals of the university will be Lincoln's ideals, Senator Sherman said, and its founders hope to make it a self-help institution where anybody who wants to learn, regardless of his bank account, can study night and day and Sunday, if he cannot come at other times. "In the classroom there is to be an honest search for truth," he declared. "The final word has not yet been said on morals, politics and economics. A teacher may agitate against existing institutions as much as he likes, provided only that he does not advocate reform by bloodshed and other forms of violence. "When the country is at peace there is no part of our system which will not be the better for an exchange of ideals and free criticism freely and sincerely given. We want to instill individuality of thought and personality of thought and personality in the students." An example of the interpretation of Lincolnian ideals by his fellow towns men was evidenced at one of the meetings, attended by 200 citizens, when someone proposed that the policy of the new university be to support the government against "its enemies." The meeting promptly vetoed a proposition so phrased.

The hospitality of Mrs. Dail was greatly enjoyed.

Cost Half Cotton Receipts To Feed Farm Animals

RALEIGH, Sept. 7.—It takes about half the money received from the cotton crop in North Carolina to feed the work animals on farms within this state, according to an estimate made by Earl Hostetler, who has been investigating the cost of feeding work animals used on the branch station farms conducted jointly by the North Carolina State College and the Department of Agriculture.

They ride easy, they drive good, they look good, they cost much less Chevrolet automobiles.

Last year 851,000 bales of cotton were produced in North Carolina and during the same period there were 406,701 work animals on North Carolina farms, says Mr. Hostetler. According to six years' study of animal feeding costs on three branch experimental farms, the average feeding cost of a work animal is $139.28 per head.

"Therefore," says Hostetler, "if we assume that the average farmer of the state can maintain his animals for $100 a head per year, we still have the astonishing fact that approximately one half of the money received from cotton is needed to maintain the work animals used on North Carolina farms. These figures are for the state as a whole. If we considered only the cotton producing areas alone, the cost of maintenance would be higher, because where greater diversification of crops is practiced the growers do not have to buy so much feed."

British War Surplus Sold.
LONDON.—In spite of alleged graft and proven theft, the British have made a profit of almost $45,000,000 on the sale of their surplus cartridges supplies left by the army and navy after the war. The profits go to the relief of disabled veterans. Following many whispers of scandal, a government committee investigated the sale, and found that most of the lowpriced goods were sold to former officials of the sales board. Two officials of the board were rebuked for "failing to exercise ordinary care" in disposing of the supplies.

DROWNING CURSE SLINGS TO BATTLE ABBEY

Battle Abbey, N.C.

The death by drowning of Sir Augustus Webster, the owner of Battle Abbey, recalls in a startling manner the "drowning curse" on the his toric spot. Battle Abbey was built on the scene of the battle of Hastings in England, as a monastery, but a later English king dispossessed the monks and gave the castle to one of his favorites. A monk is said to have cursed the place, predicting that all its owners would drown. Many did.

"CUDDLE UP"

Musical Comedy, a most delightful form will be presented next Tuesday at White's Theatre, the occasion being O. E. White's new musical show "Cuddle Up." It will serve to introduce a company of about thirty people, comprising comedians, singers and dancers.

The play scintillates with bright wholesome fun, and the musical program is a varied one, which has all the delightful creations and requirements of a musical comedy of the highest order.

An excellent cast including such well known musical comedy artists as George Seiden, Elmer Baker, Doris Clare, Kathleen Drenon, Ralph Coleman, The Golden West Trio, Sweeney & Rooney and others, comprise the principals, not overlooking the famous "Cuddle-Up" Chorus, who can sing and dance as well as wear pretty gowns.

"Cuddle-Up" is told in three acts and six scenes making it very elaborate and one of the most complete musical comedies touring the country. The book is from the pen of Robert Cushman, a well known playwright who has written many successful music by Hal Stoddard and lyrics by Wm. Downs. There are many song hits in the show which carry you along with the music among them being "Every Little Village Has A Broadway of Its Own," "Cuddle-Up," "Beautiful Lingerie," "Sweethearts," "My Mother's Name was Caroline," "My Sunshine Lady,"

"Dreams of Love" and others. The "Cuddle-Up" Beauty Chorus display some of the most lustrous creations of costuming, which are very fascinating and beautiful, many being original Parisian styles which add to the grace and beauty of the handsome models displaying them.

NOTED WRITERS' LOVE PACT RESULTS IN MANY SUICIDES

TOKIO—The recent double suicide of Mr. Arishima, one of Japan's foremost novelists and of Akiko Hata, a young married woman magazine writer as a result of a love affair and death pact continues to hold the attention of the Japanese public. This is due not merely to the prominence of the pair or to their tragic deaths, for suicides of prominent persons in this country are not unusual.
