MRS. CHARLES COBB SUDDENLY STRICKEN IN HER HOME, DEAD

Beloved Woman Sewing When Seized With Fatal Attack Friday

Mrs. Charles Cobb died suddenly in her home on Pitt street yesterday afternoon. Her lifeless body was found by her husband when he returned home about 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Cobb was born Jean Anna Moore, in Edgecombe county 56 years ago. She was one of the most active members of the Methodist church and conspicuously identified with an church and social movement.

Four Actors Sought In Death of 14 Year Old Girl In Jersey

MILLVILLE, N. J., Oct. 27.—Detectives, trying to solve the mystery surrounding the death of 15-year-old Emma Dickson more than a month ago continued checking up today on the statements alleged to have been made by Ernesto Faccenda implicating four men said to be members of a theatrical troupe which was playing in Atlantic City when the girl disappeared on Sept. 13.

Although they expressed the belief that these men were responsible for Miss Dickson's death, the authorities said no arrests were imminent and that none would be made until after a thorough investigation. The suspects, however, are known to the police and are constantly under surveillance.

Many Suits Decided At Session Of Court

In the case of the Pitt Lumber Company against John Savage and wife, in Superior court, in which the plaintiff sought to collect $784.99, a verdict for $288.22 was returned in favor of the defendant the amount which it was claimed due. Attorney A. L. Potter against L. C. Arthur, compromised; Attorney S. J. Everett for the plaintiff; James and Son for defendant. A verdict in favor of the L. A. Randolph company was given against R. C. Rea. Taft & Vandye against S. T. Caron, compromised. S. T. Hicks against Higgs Roanoke Seminary, verdict for plaintiff, $380 and interest.

WINS THE FIGHT TO KEEP HIS DOG

When Vernon Rolsee, of Chiles, started to get low marks in school his father thought it was due to giving too much time to his pet dog, "Tootsie." So Vernon was ordered to take "Tootsie" away and lose her. A policeman found Vernon and his dog in Lincoln Park late at night, and Vernon explained he had tried to lose "Tootsie," but that she looked so unhappy he couldn't, so he stayed away from home to be with his dog. The kindly cop offered to square it home if Vernon would make better marks in his classes. Vernon's father agreed, and Vernon is improving rapidly.

FAITHFUL DEAD COLORED EMPLOYEE IS PRAISED BY E. G. FLANAGAN

As an outstanding example of faithful and efficient service the life of Austin Harris, colored, an employee of the Flanagan Buggy company for more than 33 years, who died last Wednesday, was emphasized by Mr. Edward G. Flanagan, who regards the life of Harris worthy of emulation. Speaking of Harris Mr. Flanagan said today: "Harris who was 66 years old and born in Greenville, spent just half that number of years in the employ of the Flanagan Buggy company. During that period, I believe he never lost from work more than 60 days. He capably filled various and often responsible duties with the company. Before the advent of the automobile he was in charge of the assembling and shipping department of our concern. Harris was one of the best mechanics I ever knew. Any work entrusted to him was a full knowledge that it would be faithfully and efficiently carried out. The confidence that we reposed in him was never violated and responsibility never altered his respectful consideration of others. "I found him always careful in his promises, loyal to his friends and duty and of the most unswerving integrity. He was a genuine credit to his race, and his life and character should stand out to the present and coming generations of colored people well worth following. Funeral services will be conducted in the Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. "Another colored employee who died three weeks ago Charles Webb, also had a record of a quarter of a century continuous service with our company. He was also faithful to his duty and a man of many high attributes of character."

SIXTY FLEECED BY NEWLY WEDS IN SIXTY DAYS

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Some people go to Niagara Falls on their honeymoon. Others go to Atlantic City. The ocean and the Falls give them quite a kick. But not half the kick that Anna and Edward McDonald got out of a two months' honeymoon during which they robbed a taxi driver of his roll and cab nearly every night and all with a glass pistol that Anna carried in her wrap. It all happened up in the Bronx, which long ago replaced Brooklyn, as the stamping ground of the odd, the unusual and the droll. Night after night the same show was staged. A taxi was hailed by a well dressed couple. An address was given. At a dark spot the driver felt a cold barrel against his neck. Then they took his roll and his cab and told him not to look until they got away. Usually the cab was found abandoned in the Bronx. Sixty were robbed in this way in 60 days.

BODY IS FORMED TO FIGHT BOLL WEEVIL MENACE

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27.—The National Boll Weevil Control association was organized here as the concluding feature of the National Boll Weevil Menace Conference, which began Wednesday at the call of the Louisiana Bankers' association. This organization of the association will be perfected by an executive committee of 22 members representing 10 varied interests in the cotton industry and after appointment of a part of its members today, it immediately went into session and determined to meet in New Orleans November 17. At that time the entire personnel of the committee will have been named and steps will be taken to complete organization of the larger body. C. G. Rivers, Jr., president of the Louisiana Bankers' association and chairman of the convention, expects to announce within the next few days the complete personnel of the committee.

GREENVILLE HORSE WINS FIRST MONEY IN WILSON RACING EVENT; LILLIAN T. SPILLS DRIVER ON TRACKS

W. H. Dail's horse Gamey the Great and the public are promised great entertainment in that particular line over a big field of some of the best horses in the racing world on the Wilson track. The horses, were numerous and the best drivers in the world were there, including Thomas Murphy one of the best known grand circuit drivers, but Tommy Berry the driver of Gamey the Great out-generaled all the competitors and won the race making the second consecutive stake race that this little horse has won in the North Carolina grand circuit. Lillian T., owned by R. L. Smith, of Greenville, also made a fine showing but spilling the driver and which was almost a miracle that the driver was not killed, but neither Mr. Johnson who drove Lillian T., nor the other driver who was run into was hurt.

8 Brothers at Reunion; Never Smoked, Drank

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 27.—Eight brothers, whose ages total 509 years, and who boast that never in their lives have they touched intoxicants or smoked, held a family reunion here today. Six brought their wives. Two are widowers.

GIRLS ADVISED TO WEAR BLUE WHEN ANGLING FOR MEN

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—A red outfit never should be worn on a "date night," as a red dress, or too much red in the sitting room, will bring about a quarrel, the Young Women's Christian association offers as a hint in its course on etiquette for business girls. To avoid disastrous "date nights" and the dangerous atmosphere of too much red, which irritates eligible young men, the sponsors of "etiquette" suggest that blue has a soothing effect on a young man, "and leads him on" in a nice way. Blue, the sponsors say, is disarming, and girls in blue seem to have nicer disposition than those dressed in red or green. While green is pleasant, men are instinctively a little wary of the girl who wears it. It is a danger signal, warning him of mercurial ideas in the head of the girl wearing that color. Brown, while pretty and modest, does not call out the protective instincts of the male. He thinks a girl dressed in brown is practical and quite able to take care of herself.

FILIPINO ACCUSED SLAYING NURSE IS PLACED ON TRIAL

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—A story of violent love turning suddenly to intense hate, was recounted today by Assistant District Attorney McDonald to the jury that is trying Eulagio Lozado, Filipino, doctors assistant on a charge of murdering Blossom Martin, beautiful young nurse who spurred his advances. Lozado went to the nurse McDonald declared, with protestations of love and she laughed at him. In a rage he attacked her, choking her to death, according to the Prosecutor. Then he told how the Filipino wrapped the body in heavy curtains, and according to McDonald, after first denying his guilt, later confessed he had killed the nurse. George E. Medala, attorney for the accused Filipino, indicated he would seek to show the crime was not premeditated.

Homer Clark, vagrancy, 30 days on roads. Alfred E. colored, vagrancy, 30 days on roads. Charged with playing a game of chance with cards upon which money was bet, Albin Dunn, J. L. Starkey, K. B. Pace, J. C. Greene, E. G. Flanagan, waived hearing. Bond of $100 each was given pending action county court.

36 Get Hero Awards From Carnegie Fund

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 27.—Thirty-six acts of heroism were recognized by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission at its fall meeting here today. Eight of the heroes lost their lives, and to their dependents the commission granted pensions. In five cases silver medals were awarded, while in 31 cases the commission bestowed bronze medals. In one instance where a hero was injured, he was granted disability benefits. In eight other cases $1,800 was appropriated for educational purposes and $13,000 for other worthy purposes.

Wood Fears Moro Uprising in Philippines

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Governor General Wood of the Philippines cabled the war department today that he is leaving for the Moro country in Mindanao where the tribes are reported to be in a revolutionary humor. The Moros are hereditary enemies of the Filipinos, it was pointed out, and are chafing under what they declare to be unnecessary police regulations executed by the Filipino Constabulary. They are said to be moving for independence from the Philippines rather than from the United States.

Bulgarian King To Seek American Wife

PARIS, Oct. 27.—King Boris of Bulgaria, will make a tour of the world in search of a wife, leaving the Balkan capital some time in November. The King expects to look over the ladies in Rome, Paris, London, Brussels, Copenhagen and Berlin. If no princess is willing to be his bride, he has decided, according to Trieste newspapers, to journey to America and "unite the ancient dynasty of Balkan emperors with the new aristocracy of wealth."

STILL IN OPERATION LOCATED BY FEDERAL AGENTS NEAR CHICAGO

Three Alleged Violators Arrested Are Held For U. S. Court

Federal dry enforcement officers yesterday swooped down on a still which they asserted was in full operation in Greenville township, near Chicago, and arrested Frank Bright and Leroy Gladson, whom it was alleged were in charge of the illicit liquor making equipment. The still was destroyed. Investigation of the officers took them to the home of Oscar Harde, located about 400 yards from the still. Search of the premises disclosed a quantity of liquor, it was declared. The trio were brought to Greenville and arraigned before United States Commissioner H. T. King. Following a hearing they were released on $200 bond each for their appearance at the next term of the federal court in Washington, N. C. Recent advices from Washington were to the effect that Enforcement Commissioner Hayns, had instructed every regional prohibition director in North Carolina and Virginia to vigorously press strict enforcement of the national dry law. It is believed that the raid yesterday was only the beginning of a concerted program of action which will be directed by federal authorities against the liquor traffic in Eastern Carolina.

Former Crown Prince Begs to Return Home

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—After five years of exile the former Crown Prince of Germany is preparing to return to his native soil. Prince Wilhelm has asked that he may, as a private citizen, share the fate of the German people, whatever it may be. Many reports have been circulated that the former Crown Prince had returned to Germany secretly or that he had asked whether he might come back. It is learned on the highest authority, however, that Wilhelm has only now made formal application to the German government. The former Crown Prince wants to join his wife and children from whom he has been separated since November, 1918.

'TIGERS,' KINSTON PLAY FAST GAME WITHOUT SCORE

Before the largest audience of the season the Greenville High school eleven battled the Kinston team through four hotly contested quarters yesterday at the Fair grounds. When play was finally called neither side had scored. The team work of both sides was excellent while the individual plays were good and at times sensational. The line-up:

WAGES HIGHER THAN LIVING COST

Based on selected industries all over the country by the national bureau of labor, and the cost of living calculated by the national industrial conference board for a working-man's family of five, it is shown that since 1917 wage levels have kept generally above living costs.

The downward trend of wages in 1920-21 was arrested much sooner than the decline in cost of living. During 1922-23 fluctuations in living costs have been almost consequential, but wages have risen constantly.

As a result of the industrial revival in the United States during the past year and a half the advance in real wages, or purchasing power in necessities of life, has substantially increased, as shown by increased savings bank deposits and growth of retail trade.

OKLAHOMA'S HOUSE-CLEANING

After many weeks of maneuvering, marked at times by violence and threats of civil war, Oklahoma is proceeding in a regular manner to try the governor of the state for improprieties in official conduct, with a view to his removal from office. The lower house, sitting as a grand jury of impeachment, voted by overwhelming majorities to present certain specific accusations against the governor to the Senate. The latter body, by a vote of 36 to 1, suspended the governor from office pending his trial on the charges as presented, putting the lieutenant governor in charge of the state's affairs meanwhile. The trial will take place shortly.

Gov. Walton's efforts to prevent the legislature from meeting for the avowed purpose of his impeachment indicated a fear on his part that he could not muster a sufficient defensive following in either house or senate. The recent action shows that he was correct in this estimate of the relative strength of the administration and anti-administration forces. The vote in the senate especially showed that he has small chance of successful defense, even though conviction may require a two-thirds ballot.

The articles of impeachment thus far adopted, and others in process of consideration in the house, allege a shocking state of affairs—that is to say, shocking to the country at large, however well known the conditions may have been in Oklahoma. It is an accusation of grafting, of the appointment of incompetents at large fees on the state pay rolls, of the use of the state's money for personal service, of traffic in pardons for remuneration. The bare recital of these allegations shows that Oklahoma has a serious need of thorough house-cleaning.

The Rhineland republic is a sister democracy for whose welfare France is naturally concerned.

Lionel Barrymore Scores Big Triumph "Enemies of Women"

Lionel Barrymore in a Cosmopolitan Production "ENEMIES OF WOMEN" Distributed by Goldwyn-Cosmopolitan

There are a few royal families of the American stage. One of the greatest of these is the Drew-Barrymore line. Mrs. John Drew, actress and manager of a Philadelphia stock company in the old days, was the founder of the family. Her son, John Drew, is one of the bright particular luminaries of the American stage, which he has graced for nearly half a century. His daughter, Louise was an actress until her marriage to Jack Devereaux. His sister, Georgia, married Maurice Barrymore, the brilliant young Irish actor who came to the United States in the late 'seventies.

The three children of Maurice Barrymore and his wife were thus born to the royal purple. Lionel, the eldest is featured in the Cosmopolitan picture, "Enemies of Women," pictured from Vicente Blasco Ibanez's novel, which comes to White's theatre for two days, beginning Monday. He made his first appearance upon the stage with his uncle, John Drew, in "The Rivals." After a few years upon the stage, he determined to become a painter and spent several years in Paris studying art, in which he remains intensely interested.

ALBEMARLE PRESBYTERY MEETS IN FALKLAND

Falkland, N. C., Oct. 27.—On Tuesday, Oct. 23, the Presbytery of Albemarle met for the annual fall session in the Presbyterian church at Falkland. Rev. W. T. Wadley, of Edenton, was the retiring moderator, preached the opening sermon at the first meeting on Tuesday evening. Mr. A. J. Crane, of Tarboro, was elected moderator to succeed Mr. Wadley. The Presbyterial sermon on Wednesday morning was preached by Rev. C. K. Taffe, of Henderson, whose subject: "The Manifestations of God in His Word," was handled in a manner both interesting and inspiring. At the closing session Wednesday evening, the first hour was given over to the discussion of foreign mission work, Rev. J. A. Vache, president. Rev. H. B. Speight, of Washington, was in charge of the Bible study held at the beginning of each session. In spite of stormy weather, a large number of the ministers and a few elders of Albemarle Presbytery were present. The people of Falkland enjoyed having these visitors in their homes, and were greatly benefited by the inspiring messages received in the open sessions. The spring meeting of Albemarle Presbytery will be held at New Bern in the Presbyterian church of which Dr. J. N. H. Sumnerell is pastor.

Large Audiences Find "Sue Dear" A Pleasing Comedy

Reviewing "Sue Dear" recently presented in Newport News, Va., the Daily Press of that city among other things says:

"Sue Dear" is not a musical play to go down into history along with "Maytime," "She's a Good Fellow" and the five other brought milestones in recent history of comic opera, but it satisfied two large audiences at the Academy of Music yesterday.

Last night the old house was all but packed, and it is extremely doubtful if a single one who heard the show was anything but pleased. In fact, there were moments when "Sue Dear" bordered dangerously on the brink of immortality, and all the way through it was pleasing.

A Fine Potato.

On yesterday afternoon The Reflector was presented with a sweet potato of Porto Rica variety weighing 7 1/4 pounds. The potato was grown by James Dunn on his farm about five miles from this city on the north side of the river. Dunn stated that all the potatoes in his crop were of unusual size many weighing several pounds each.

THE MEN'S BIBLE CLASS OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ARE GOOD CARPENTERS

The Men's Bible Class met at the Presbyterian church on Thursday afternoon and recovered their class room in a short time. It was surprising to see how many men were expert carpenters and wanted to supervise the job. The room is now in good condition for winter work.

Bridge Club.

Miss Estelle Greene was hostess to her bridge club Friday evening. Mrs. W. H. Rogers making the top score was presented a potted plant.

After several interesting progressions a salad course was served. Three visitors enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Greene and the club.

Charles Ray has come to understand the meaning of "ten seconds flat," as applied to racers. In the filming of "Alias Julius Caesar" he was obliged by the scenario to race with the policemen over a distance of several miles. In the middle of the first mile a tire burst on him and he finished the stretch with a constant bumping and discomfiture that increased his respect for shoe leather.

"I used to wonder why it was considered such a feat to do a race in ten seconds flat," he commented afterwards, "but it's clear now. Anyone who completes a race with anything flat is entitled to all the credit he can get."

"Alias Julius Caesar" is being distributed by First National Pictures and is the current attraction at the Strand Theatre, where it will be shown Monday and Tuesday.

WORLD POTATO CROP IN 1923

Slightly below the 1922 outturn but still above the average of recent years. Europe the world's chief producer. United States supplies its own people but is not a large exporter.

With the 1923 potato crop of the United States reported 10% below that of last year and the European crop of the current year 20% below last year, the eyes of the world are naturally turning toward the potato bin.

But the potato situation, says the Trade Record of the National City Bank of New York, is not after all so serious because it happens that the 1922 crop with which we are comparing the prospective outturn of 1923 was abnormally large and this shortage of 10 or 20 per cent in the outturn of America and Europe still leaves the 1923 crop quite up to the average of recent years. In the case of the United States the average crop in the decade ending with 1922 was 378,000,000 bushels, while the estimate of the Department of Agriculture is for 390,000,000 in the calendar year 1923. Our crop of 1922, 450,000,000 bushels, was the "biggest ever" in Europe, exclusive of Russia for which no figures are yet available, the crop of 1922, according to figures of the Rome International Institute of Agriculture was 4,682,000,000 bushels against a little less than 3,000,000,000 in 1921, and while the partial reports from the principal European countries in 1923 show a slight reduction, it is quite apparent that the European total for 1923 will be materially greater than that of 1921, even though it should fall 20 per cent below the abnormally high year 1922. The term "abnormally high year" applies only to that section of Europe for which official figures are available, for the world is still lacking information about the crop of Russia, which was prior to the war a very large producer of potatoes.

Curiously, adds the Trade Record, the birthplace of the potato, South America is now one of the world's smallest producers of that important factor in world food supply. Prior to the war the world's biggest producers were, in the order of magnitude of production, Germany, Russia, France, Austria, and the United States, and even at the present time despite the post-war boundary changes in Europe, the respective countries stands about the same, the latest figures putting the 1922 outturn of Germany at 1,494,000,000 bushels, Poland, 1,220,000,000, France, 455,000,000, the United States 451,000,000, with no available figures for Russia for any year later than 1916. The big potato production of northern Europe is due to the fact that it supplies a larger amount of food per acre than do wheat or corn.

The pre-war potato crop of Europe was said to exceed in both quantity and value the recorded wheat crop of the entire world Of course, the world's potato crop was materially reduced during the war in view of the fact that the chief military activities occurred in the great potato producing section of Europe which supplied in normal times considerably more than three-fourths of the potatoes of the world. The world's record of potato outturn fell from 5,872,000,000 bushels in 1912 to less than 3,000,000,000 during the most active period of the war, but again crossed the 3 billion line in 1922, the total world outturn of that year, exclusive of Russia, having been 3 1/2 billion bushels against the world's highest record, that of 1912, 5,573,000,000. The world's potato crop slightly exceeds, in quantity, that of any other starch food, the high records of world outturn having been: potatoes, in 1912, 5,872,000,000 bushels; corn, in 1912, 4,371,000,000; and wheat, in 1915, 4,198,000,000 bushels.

Our own production of potatoes is almost exclusively for home consumption. We export a few million bushels, but only a small percentage of the entire crop, and our imports are also comparatively small. The exports in 1920, the high record year, were about 4 million bushels, and the imports in 1920 about 6 millions. The exports go chiefly to Cuba and smaller quantities to Canada and Mexico, and the imports are chiefly from Canada. Potatoes, as a rule, do not enter largely into international trade; they are chiefly consumed in the country of production.

Recovery From Disturbance of Calamity Tests Relief Services of Red Cross

SAVING PROPERTY ON THE EDGE OF A GREAT FIRE WHILE RED CROSS WORKERS SERVE THE INJURED AND HOMELESS

Washington. — "Japan's earthquake calamity, with its toll of 103,000 dead, 125,000 injured, 235,000 missing and more than 2,000,000 homeless, will affect the equilibrium of the people of the empire for a long period," says Judge John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross. "The after-effect of disaster is far-reaching in its disturbing influences, which persons at a distance cannot visualize, however deeply they are moved to sympathetic action by first reports of extensive loss of life and property," he added. "The munificence of America in giving two-fold for Japan's relief was characteristic of our people and it serves to point out the lesson learned by the Disaster Relief Service of the Red Cross that the first estimates of destruction generally err on the side of conservatism."

As an example of the long period of recovery which follows disaster Judge Payne cited the forest fires in Minnesota. Many of the persons injured and impoverished in October, 1918, are receiving relief from the Red Cross Chapter at Duluth today—four years after that disaster. The operations undertaken by the Red Cross to rescue and relieve the victims in this instance also had a happy contributing result, for these activities led to the establishing of the Forest Fire Commission by Minnesota, empowered to protect the State's great forest reserves.

The 110 disasters in the United States during the year ended June 30, according to the annual report of the American Red Cross, resulted in 240 deaths, 991 persons injured, and property losses estimated at $20,710,000. The record shows nearly every section of the country had its disaster, from Maine to California, and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. The victims sheltered, fed and clothed by the Red Cross numbered nearly 20,000. In the recent $10,000,000 fire which destroyed a large part of the residential section of Berkeley, Cal., pictured above, effective emergency service was given by hundreds of University of California students, who were quickly organized by Red Cross workers into safety battalions and did much to minimize loss of property and human suffering.

Disaster relief will ever be a foremost duty of the American Red Cross, Judge Payne points out, for calamity comes without warning, and the Red Cross must successfully meet the test of readiness for immediate relief operations whenever the call for services arises. "The American Red Cross is the outward expression, coined into action, of the hearts of the American people," says Judge Payne, who expresses confidence in the success of the membership Roll Call opening Armistice Day, November 11, and bespeaks his belief that the Red Cross would in this year's campaign maintain its numerical strength and recruit many thousands of new members among persons who had come to realize through recent world-stirring calamity that the Red Cross must carry on in peace time as promptly and effectually as in time of war.

defendant will further take notice that he is required to appear before the clerk of the superior court at Pitt county at his office in Greenville, North Carolina on Monday, October 29th, 1923, and answer or demur to the complaint in said action or the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said complaint.

Old Fashioned Coal Mining Camps Are Changed Into Model Towns As The Industry Keeps Step With Spirit of Industrial Progress

You remember those depressing stories of coal mining "camps" and the pictures of the wretched hovels, in which the "miner" and his half-starved children huddled miserably, ignorant of the ordinary decencies of American life? Look at these camps brought up-to-date, as shown in the above photographs taken in the mining town of Jerome, Pa.

At the top is the school playground, with the miners' children dispersing themselves on swings furnished by their fathers' employer. Below is an employee, the evidence of his trade still conspicuous on his person, "passing the time of day" with two neighbors' children on his way home to wash. Don't you wish that every little girl in the U. S. A. might be as plump, pretty and appropriately dressed as these two?

Enlightened business methods, the knowledge that in the end it "pays" an employer to have his men comfortably housed, decently clothed and generally happy, have wrought an enormous change in company-owned mining towns in the past few years. Naturally, the children's needs are among the first to be met.

According to a brief recently submitted by the Bituminous Operators' Special Committee to the United States Coal Commission, ninety-seven percent of 138 company-owned towns investigated by experts had baseball fields. Sixty percent of them had movie houses; more than half had playgrounds, and more than a quarter had Boy Scout troops. Every town had a school of its own or one easily accessible in a nearby community. And the schools in towns built by year, better paid teachers, and were generally far superior to those of adjacent rural communities. And so another myth is exploded. So far is the soft-core miner from being the "under-dog" in American industrial life that investigations

END OF SINECURES BRINGS DISMAY TO SPANISH OFFICIALS

MADRID. — The public pulse of Latin countries is beating true to form in Spain. The government has been overthrown by a coup d'etat, yet the excitement soon was over and today the mind of the crowd is busy as ever with its distractions, and pleasures.

The cafes are crowded, and one can rarely find an empty seat at the outdoor tables. Bull fights are to the fore, and will continue to attract crowds until the weather breaks. A roulette table, it is rumored, is to be installed at the Ice Palace by permission of the dictator, Primo Rivera, who is said to be not invariable to the attraction of the game. The well-to-do residents of Madrid have begun their exodus from San Sebastian, returning to the capital as fast as the limited train service can bring them.

Probably nothing has caused as much excited comment and speculation as the famous decree, the purpose of which is to make government employes do some work. It has been a veritable bombshell. It requires that all such men report at nine in the morning and be on duty until two in the afternoon. As a result the government buildings are overrun with strangers, stumbling over each other, asking where their offices are located, and when they find them, wondering what to do. A caricaturist suggests that concentration camps be established.

Night Life Flourishes Despite Berlin Police

BERLIN—Since reformers started out recently to put an end to the all night cafe life of Berlin, ingenious bootleggers have conceived all sorts of schemes to outwit the police. Despite the regulations, all-night cafes have been exceedingly popular here, and bring in handsome profits for their managers.

Clandestine cabarets and drinking places have been springing up like mushrooms, chiefly for the benefit of profiteers and their friends who usually do not feel like going to their homes when ousted by the police at midnight from the downtown licensed cafes. The bootlegging joints are easily found.

Women Stand Ready to Help Disabled Veterans

CINCINNATI—Thousands of girls and women throughout the United States will take an active part in the coming "National Forget-Me-Not-Day" of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, according to National Adjutant Raymond A. Lasance.

The splendid success of last year's "National Forget-Me-Not-Day" drive will be overshadowed this year, Mr. Lasance says, when the campaign will be opened Saturday, Nov. 10, in every city and town in the United States. Prominent national, state and civic officials have already guaranteed their support and active participation in the disabled veterans' great "Day," when public-spirited citizens all over the United States will purchase the little paper and cloth flowers.

Work Week Observed In Bulgarian Schools

SOFIA.—The autumn work week in all the public schools of Bulgaria was observed recently and another week will be similarly devoted in the spring. The boys and girls went to school as usual, but instead of studying employed the school hours in performing useful tasks. The girls knitted stockings and made night clothing for the children in the orphanages, while the boys cleaned up the school properties, applying paint where needed, digging up the school yards and repairing the pavement in front of the buildings.
