SOLDIERS BONUS SEEN BY SENATOR COMING CONGRESS

Curtis Says Legislation Will Be Passed And Taxes Reduced

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Congress will reduce taxes at the forthcoming session even though bonus legislation is enacted, Senator Curtis, Kansas republican whip and member of the finance committee declared today.

The senator made this statement after leaving the White House where he had a conference with President Coolidge, and added that he fully expects a bonus measure will be passed. The difficulty in passing a bill to reduce taxes, he pointed out, will probably be obviated by agreement between various groups to consider a reduction program.

There is a big demand throughout the country for tax reduction," Curtis said, "and it is the duty of congress to further wipe out war levies. Something was done along that line during the last congress in reducing the tax burden $800,000, and something more will be done at the coming session.

The proposed bonus measure will probably be similar to the legislation passed by congress and which was vetoed by President Harding. Such a bill would involve the expenditure of about $76,000,000 yearly, Curtis believes.

State Contributes Big Sum to Resources of Trust Company Levels

With a total of $145,177,000 North Carolina contributed to the new high level of trust company resources of the country according to "Trust Companies of the United States" for 1923 just issued by the United States Mortgage & Trust Company of New York.

The South Atlantic States registered a total of $570,385,640 a gain of $125,835,736, over the previous year.

Nearly fourteen and one-half billions of dollars is the impressive total of resources held by the Trust companies of the country. The actual figure for the year ending June 30, 1923 are $14,441,460,650, as compared with $12,739,620,733 in 1922, representing a gain of $1,701,839,917. Deposits increased from $10,470,477,477,814 to $11,828,983,410.

Two Wounded In Pistol Duel After Wild Drinking Party

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Thomas Gillen, Philadelphia, was shot and seriously wounded in a pistol duel with J. F. McLean, in a Brooklyn hotel early today. Police arrested McLean as he stood over the body of Gillen, who pointed a gun at the officers and struggled with them. At a hospital where Gillen was removed it was said there was little hope for his recovery.

After McLean's arrest was found that he had been wounded in the jaw, wrist and chest. Neither of the men would say what led to the shooting. The duel in the hotel lobby followed an all night drinking party with women. The latter have not been located.

U. S. Submarine Boat Sinks In Canal Zone

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The United States submarine O-5 was sunk in Limon Bay, Canal Zone, after a collision with the United Fruit Company's vessel Abangarez, the Navy Department was notified by radio. Five members of the submarine's crew were reported missing. The Abangarez was undamaged. In the belief that the five men missing went down with the submarine, divers immediately began efforts to recover their bodies.

HEAD OF COLLEGE RESENTS CRITICISM OF GIRL OF TODAY

BOSTON, Oct. 29.—"Ethics and bobbed hair have not come in common, so why criticize the young woman who adopts this form of head-dress?"

So argues Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of Mills College, California, in Boston to address the American Society of University Women, of which she is the head.

With visions of jazz dances and partying parties indulged in to the exclusion of studies, as is the indictment against the college girl of 1923, Mrs. Reinhardt was a loud howl she managed her girls.

"Don't manage 'em at all," she returned, breezily. "They manage themselves."

"We have an honor system at the college which has worked out beautifully."

"I am heartily in favor of the girl of today and resent the flood of criticism which has been poured upon her during the past few years."

Changed Beetles' Sex By Transfer of Heads Both Specimens Thrive

BALTIMORE, MD., Oct. 29.—Dr. R. W. Wood of Johns Hopkins University, who has just returned from London, told today of operations of head transference he saw before the Royal Society in London. The experiments in transferring head from one living body to another may lead to the creation of two new sexes, he said.

At the meeting of the society Dr. Wood saw the head of a male beetle transferred to the body of a female beetle, while the female's head was transferred to the body of the decapitated male.

Both beetles recovered from the operation and showed a complete reversal of form, the head apparently determining the sex habits and characteristics. The two new sexes that created were called masculin-female and feminine-male.

Girls, If You Pick This One Before Nov. 1, You Wed Money

EATON, CALIF., Oct. 29.—A bride by Nov. 1, will be worth $62,000 to J. P. Cominsky, 23, employee of a concern here. Two years ago his uncle left him a fortune provided he was married not later than Armistice Day 1923. If he does marry by the stipulated date the money is to go to charity.

SHESSLEY SHOWS WILL OFFER FINE ENTERTAINMENT AT PITT FAIR NOV. 6-10; NEARLY MILE GENUINE MIRTH

All the old time favorites, the Thomas J. Johnson, noted Chicago whirlring rides, giants, midgets, diving girls, freaks, the barkers and "hot dog" vendors will arrive in Greenville on Sunday, when the 20 double-length railroad cars of the Greater Sheesley Shows come to bring the midway amusement for the fourth annual Pitt County Fair.

In a few hours after the big wagons are taken from the cars to the fair grounds a magic city will spring up, peopled by more than 400 show-folk and 50 animals. Among the modern riding devices carried are the Caterpillar, $15,000 creation of a joy-architect of Coney Island; the giant carousel with its $5,000 concert organ, considered a triumph of mechanical construction; the big Elliott's MDM reel shrdlu uu up Ferris wheel, the aerial swings, the wide, airplanes and Over-the-Falls, the big laughing ride of all time.

Leader for Clear Shows. Capt. John M. Sheesley is a leader in the clean up campaign in outdoor showmen which this season has succeeded in purging the tented midway of many features and followers which have been considered undesirable by legitimate showmen. The Showmen's Legislative Committee of America has as its commissioner and dictator

DEATH SIGN IN CINCINNATI COURT FOR SPEED MANIACS Doctor Makes Roosters Lay Eggs Like the Hens, Poultry World Stunned

This striking warning, designed to reduce the number of auto deaths and accidents, has been erected in Cincinnati (O.) Municipal Court over the bench where Judge Meredith Yeatonman daily tries many persons accused of speeding, reckless driving and other traffic violations. One hundred and two deaths so far this year! stands out in big red numbers. The number is changed when another is added.

WOMAN DOESN'T KNOW HUSBAND AFTER 8 YEARS

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Does a woman ever know her husband? Does her long acquaintance with him as his wife and mother of his children make it certain she will recognize him after an absence say of eight years? Mrs. Barrett Lubinsky of Richmond, Indiana, feels sure she knows her husband, yet she is not certain and she hesitates.

There is a man under arrest here a millionaire clothing merchant, who calls himself Cohen. But Mrs. Lubinsky and her daughter, Bertha, claim that the man who calls himself Cohen is really Barnett Lubinsky and that he deserted their eight year ago.

There was a dramatic moment in court today. Bertha, the daughter, who had traveled in many cities, looking for her father, had had Cohen arrested several days ago saying he was the Bartlett Lubinsky, who ran away from Richmond leaving his wife and family. The man denied it.

Today Mrs. Lubinsky came into court. There were fifty men in a group and she was asked to pick out the man she believed to be her husband, the man she had lived with many years.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN OF Y. W. C. A. INTRODUCED AT TEACHERS COLLEGE INTERESTING PAGEANT, 'GIFT OF SELF'

To introduce the membership campaign of the Y. W. C. A. of East Carolina Teachers College, the association presented a very interesting pageant, "The Gift of Self." The stage was tastefully decorated to represent a college campus, which was the scene of the pageant.

A prologue was delivered by Wilma Griffin. Then the Girl, Ruth Barbee and the Boy, James Butler, came on the campus to rest after a dance. While there, they discussed the Boy's future plans, and the Girl tries to persuade him not to think only of himself, but to think of the bigger things of life. They discover the Throne of Receiving, and sit upon it.

Several Novel Effects. As they are talking, there appears Estory, Gladys Bateman, who informs them that the Throne of Receiving is theirs if they will open their eyes and learn. From the elevated seat of the Boy and the Girl, they are enabled to see visions of the better things of the future. History lights the torches of enlightenment.

Then the church, Annie McFadyne, comes in. She emphasizes what History has said. An invisible choir sings "The church's One Foundation." The church tells the Boy and Girl the significance of the Bible, the Cross of Calvary, and the cup of communion. She says that these symbols are the gateway to the road of self-giving.

Convince Boy and Girl. The Shrinking Self, Christa Vek, and the Selfish Self, Mary Lou Grier, succeed in convincing the Boy and Girl that they are the masters, and they exchange places on the throne. Then the conscience of the Girl commands the Boy and Girl to dethrone the Shrinking Self and the Selfish Self. The Boy and Girl do this, and leave the Throne empty.

While the Boy and Girl are wandering whom they should place on the Throne, there appear to them the needs of the world. These are, the Friendless Child, Louise Robinson, the Poverty Child, Lillian Lary, the Laboring Child, Mary Alice Eatman, and the Immigrant Child, Mattie Mae Lyons.

Selfish Self Reappears. These needs of the world wish to occupy the Throne, but the Shrinking Self and the Selfish Self reappear to urge the Boy and Girl not to let the needs, sit on the Throne. History comes to beg that the Boy and Girl think carefully before they refuse the pleas of the needs.

An Eskimo, Mary Grey Moore, a Mexican, Clara Lewis, a Mohamandan, Edna Lovy, and a Chinese, Gladys Sledge, plead that the Boy and Girl teach them more about God

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Dr. Victor D. LePainasse of the Medical School of the Northwestern University has been Burbanking the animal kingdom and by means of interstitial gland operation has produced results in small animals and poultry that surgeons consider as amazing as anything that Luther Burbank has done with plants. A group of distinguished surgeons who are here attending the annual congress of the American College of Surgeons visited Dr. LePainasse today, and they are some of the things he showed them:

A hen with a well developed comb and wattles, that struts and crows like a rooster. A rooster that cucks, and lays eggs. A few that was hatched a hen, was operated on and began to be a rooster, but has not yet quite made the change.

PLUNDER AND VIOLENCE REIGN THRUOUT RUHR

DUESSELDORF, Oct. 29.—Plundering and violence have suddenly become so general and menacing throughout the Ruhr that both the French and German authorities are beginning to realize that something drastic must be done to remove the economic causes immediately.

The pillaging of stores continued last night in the suburbs regardless of the curfew law, and the mobs were so rampant today that the Dueseldorf police, who have been disarmed, dare not enter the district to face the looters, who carry modern rifles, pistols and hand grenades.

Several were hurt or wounded over night. The plundering emptied a large liquor store in Koelnertrasse in the night, and dawn found dozens of men, women and children scattered along the streets, apparently dead.

Filipino Tried To Hurl Girl's Body Into the River, He Says

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A graphic description of the attempt of Eugenio Lazado, charged with the murder of Blossom Martin, a nurse, to dispose of the body, was told to a jury in General Sessions Court trying Lazado, by Anthony Maffe, of Elizabethport. Maffe, a ticket collector on a Staten Island ferryboat, single-handedly captured Lazado and prevented him from throwing the body in the river.

Maffe said his attention was attracted to Lazado's nervousness. Lazado, he testified, had the package poised on the rail, ready to push it into the water. "I rushed up to him and asked him what was in the bundle," Maffe said. "He did not answer but tried to push it overboard. He broke out in a cold sweat of terror as I grappled with him and pulled the bundle back on the deck."

Wife Takes Poison After Her Husband Gets Five Year Term

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Mrs. Frances Schiff attempted to kill herself yesterday by drinking iodine in the corridor outside of Judge Tully's part of General Sessions in the Criminal Courts Building when she learned that the court had ignored her plea for clemency for her husband, a pickpocket, whom she married seven months ago, and had sentenced him to five years in Sing Sing.

Sam Schiff, the husband, had been arrested on numerous occasions for robbery, but in most instances managed to avoid prosecution by having his trial delayed on various pretexts, thus forcing the complainants eventually to fail to appear against him. When he was arraigned last week on the complaint of a man who said that Schiff stole his wallet while he was seated in a theater.

Return Fine of $5,600 to German Envoy to Maintain Relatives

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Oct. 29.—West Virginia re-established friendly relations with Germany today when the State Road Commission sent a check for $5,600 to Otto L. Wiedfeldt, German ambassador at Washington. The $5,600 represented a bond given a Bolivian policeman who charged the Ambassador with speeding. Negotiations for the return of the money covered several weeks.

the business transactions of the United States. It is true that Editor Wallace might have learned from Secretary Wallace that two and a half millions pounds of Argentina beef would scarcely suffice for more than one good meal for New York City and that most of the South American beef was of that dried and smoked variety not produced to perfection in this country. But that would not have been good politics.

The farmer subscribers might have been tempted to think for themselves. They might have even started comparing the total exports of American beef with the total imports. Worse than that they might have asked embarrassing questions regarding the low prices which the American farmer receives for his products, in spite of the Republican tariff, and the high prices the farmer has to pay for his supplies, because of the Republican tariff.

Altogether, it looks as if Editor Wallace is saving himself a great deal of trouble by adopting the easy course of keeping away from Secretary Wallace. By remaining discreetly ignorant of what Secretary Wallace knows, Editor Wallace may yet be able to fool a few of his farmer readers into believing that the Republican tariff is a great and good thing for the country, especially that part of the country occupied by Republican officeholders.

HENRY FORD BOOMERS

So the Ford boom for President of the United States is to be formally launched as a third-party movement, and Henry will soon have to "fish out bait or go ashore." His friends and neighbors have called a convention for December 12, 13 and 14 to which will be invited representatives of the National Grange, the American Federation of Labor; the Farm Bureau, the farmer-labor party and other groups. The declared object of the convention is to start a movement to nominate Ford as an independent candidate. Emphasis is laid upon the statement that Mr. Ford has given no intimation that he will accept such a nomination.

But he cannot continue to act the sphinx very long after that convention meets, if it draws an attendance worthy of consideration and includes men of any political importance whatever. It would not be judicious for Mr. Ford to allow an unsponsored boom to go bumping around in politics without a guiding hand. So if the convention does nothing more than to force him to say "yes" or "no" to the subject of the candidacy it will have served a useful purpose in politics.

The proclamation, which was signed by all the men who sat in the conference, has a strangely familiar ring. It declares that government in the hands of a privileged class becomes an agency for exploitation; that the land of the free and the home of the brave is fast declining into a land of exploiters and the exploited; that the leadership of both the democratic and republican parties has become the servant of the "interests," and all that sort of thing.

The time, it is declared, has arrived for patriots to arise and save democracy; Ford is the one man to lead them; he is comparable only to Washington and Lincoln.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—Consolidation of the war and navy departments into a department of national defense, as provided in the government re-organization plan worked out by the commission engaged in a study of the proposal, probably will not be approved by President Coolidge.

The re-organization plan was taken up today by President Coolidge and his cabinet and although the proposal of merging the war and navy departments was not reached, it became known that the President would hesitate to recommend such a consolidation in passing the general plan on to congress for necessary legislative action.

Ray's Screen Roles Continuous Uproar of Refined Humor

Charles Ray probably holds the record as the screen's most versatile artist as far as characterizations go. The statistical records show that he has successively appeared as a country bumpkin, prize fighter, race track bout, artist, football gladiator, professional baseball player, detective, journalist, and reformed gangster.

To these roles he is now adding another in the society spark whom he emulates in "Alias Julius Caesar." His current attraction playing at the Strand theatre Monday and Tuesday. It is being distributed by First National. According to all accounts, the star comedian is capable of evoking even more fun in his new character acquisition than in the roles he has portrayed in the past.

JUDGE OVERRULES JURY VERDICT OF $5,000 FOR KISS

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The market quotation on stolen kisses suffered a severe setback today after a strong gain a few days ago. Supreme Court Justice Mitchell was the cause of the heavy bear movement when he set aside a verdict of $5,000 given to Mrs. Alice Mercer by a jury Tuesday in Brooklyn against Louis Goodman, a married man. A new trial was granted.

Mrs. Mercer testified that Goodman forcibly took a kiss from her in the hallway of her home. Three days later she told her husband, and Goodman was sued for $50,000.

"The conceded facts in this case and all surrounding circumstances belie the contention of the plaintiff herein," said Justice Mitchell's decision. "The story told by the plaintiff and her husband, the manner in which the stories were told and their appearance and general attitude convince me that their testimony is unworthy of belief. It is evident that the sympathy of the jury was unduly aroused by the testimony of the plaintiff, a young, slight and attractive woman, to the effect that she had been brutally attacked by the defendant."

Snakes Guarding the Loot of Thieves, Succumb to Cold

LEXINGTON, KY., Oct. 29.—When the $4,500 pay roll of the

Roth Coal Company was stolen here a week ago the Sheriff's office trailed the thieves with bloodhounds.

The animals led the way through the hills to a spot noted for its venomous snakes. They stopped before an old tree, but the posse, fearing the snakes, made a cursory search and reported failure.

Sheriff's officers, less afraid of snakes, returned today, poked about the interior and drew an old coat in which the entire $4,500 was wrapped. The severe frost of the last few days is thought to have put the snakes in a coma and out of the running as sentinels.

ONE OF NORTH CAROLINA'S LEADING BUSINESS MEN ENDORSES OUR SERVICE

Burlington, N. C., Oct. 14, 1922

Mr. H. M. White, Vice-Pres.
Atlantic Coast Realty Co.,
Petersburg, Va.

My Dear Mr. White:

This refers to the sale of Real Estate which you managed for us on September 12th last in disposing of some property belonging to my Father's Estate and situated between here and Graham. I have been wanting to write you in regard to this for some days but have not had an opportunity of doing so until now. It gives me great pleasure Mr. White to say that from the time we gave you the contract for the sale of the property until the sale was actually pulled off, that your Company managed the proposition in a most intelligent and satisfactory manner. I have never seen a better organization than your Company has. In the first place the property was laid out properly and intelligently by a man who understands such work, then came your very efficient advertising man who did his part as you saw from the crowd that attended this sale. It was really interesting to me to attend this sale and to see the live active and intelligent way in which your men handled the proposition. Everything in connection with this matter was correct and right from start to finish and I never did business with people who treated me more fairly and in whom I had any more confidence. I can assure you that if I ever have another proposition of this kind, I will call upon you to handle the same for me. It is also with pleasure that I can say to others who wish a similar proposition handled, they can take from me that they can place all the confidence they want in you and your Company with the positive assurance that they will be fairly and honestly treated.

With my kindest regards and best wishes for Mr. Ferrell, yourself and the others who aided you in our sale, I am,

Yours very truly,

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT LOVE? You might think you know all about love—maybe you do. But do you know about ALL KINDS of love? Do you know about that love which reaches far above and beyond the love of man for woman and woman for man? Do you know about the love that can transform a convict with a long record of black crimes into a fighting power for good in the community? But whether or not you know about such a love you owe it to your honest craving for entertainment — to your natural desire to see real screen drama with a punch, to see the picture that bares the cruel fighting hearts of the Ozark Mountains and lights it with a sunburst of love triumphant — "THE BISHOP OF THE OZARKS" STRAND THEATRE WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY Bargain Matinee Wednesday, Ladies 10c

MODERN SCHOOLS OPENED IN GUAM BY U. S. TEACHERS

AGANA, Guam.—The first professional American teachers ever brought to the island of Guam, which the United States took over from Spain 25 years ago, have just arrived here. Chaplain W. L. Thompson, U. S. N., who was detailed as head of the department of education of Guam in 1921, says he will now be able to modernize the school system of the island. Up-to-date text books have arrived from the United States, and the chaplain will now be able to extend the course of studies for the native children. One-third of all the revenue of the island government is expended for education.

The new American teachers, Dr. Thomas Collins and four young women, will perform a veritable missionary work in giving the Chamorro children a knowledge of the English language, which Chaplain Thompson says is the most necessary element in the effort for general development. Associated General Contractors of America, Inc., will meet in an annual convention here November 1 and 2. The organization is composed of architects, engineers, contractors, sub-contractors and other persons interested in building work.

City of Lawrence, Kan., To Get Quantrell's Flag

EL PASO, Texas.—The flag said to be that which William Clark Quantrell, guerilla chief of the Civil War period, carried during many of his raids has been preserved and is in possession of S. H. Sutherland of El Paso.

During the Quantrell excursions, according to the story related by Sutherland, who now is 65 years of age, the flag was carried by Jack Swartz. Swartz is said to have died at La Cruces, N. M., 25 years ago and to have expressed the desire that the flag be buried with him. The wish was not granted, however, and Sutherland claims to have obtained it.

The emblem, according to Sutherland, was carried on the raid on Lawrence, Kansas, on the morning of August 3, 1863, when 110 persons were killed.

The organization is composed of architects, engineers, contractors, sub-contractors and other persons interested in building work.

Farm Women Give Graphic Details Of Life In Illinois Now

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—One woman in Illinois plows a corn field eight hours a day and then finds her greatest recreation in "putting the kids to bed," while another has as a recreation "taking a bath," according to answers to a questionnaire sent Illinois housewives by the Home Economic association, assisted by the Illinois Farmers' Institute.

From the plowing woman to the mother who, at the end of a hard day sought her pleasure in "listening to the music of the birds," the answers tell a vivid story of life in Illinois homes. The home maker, extolled by others in song and story, finally has written her own epic, official, of the economics association believe.

The purpose of the questionnaire was to gather information on which to base a practical schedule of household work, giving woman an equalized ratio of work and recreation.

The women were asked the size of the family, number of boys and girls, names of father and mother, their ages, whether there were any relatives living in the home dependent on the family, how much time was devoted to household work, how much to recreation, and what sort of labor saving apparatus was in the home. The questionnaire was accompanied by seven blank pages on which the women were to put down their schedule of work for each day in the week.

Diners Kiss Hands That Feed Them In Sofia Restaurant

SOFIA.—There are not many restaurants in the world where a diner kisses the waitress's hand before he proceeds to order his dinner. But there is such a public restaurant in this city, and it is probably the only one of its kind in the world. This restaurant, called the "Russki Komunisti in Bulgaria, has suspended the custom of kissing the hands of the waitresses. The waitresses are sufficiently noble, some of whom used to have

"salons" in Petrograd under the empire, to which princes, generals, diplomats and savants regarded it an honor to be admitted.

Driven to the ends of the earth by Bolshevik persecution, these particular "princesses, comteses, seren English altessen"—as Svengali called them in "Tribby"—settled down to the business of their wrecked lives in this little corner almost beneath the shadow of the beautiful equestrian statue of the "Czar Liberator," Alexander II.

It is somewhat disconcerting to American eyes to see a tall Russian who seems to have seen better days rise from his table when the waitress comes to take the order, salute madame's hand with his lips in the best manner of a courier, then resume his seat and address himself to the prosaic business of ordering his meal.

Pact to Recognize Soviet In Russia Is Aim of Jugoslavia

BELGRADE.—M. Balughitch, Jugoslavian minister to Greece, who recently negotiated the working agreement between Jugoslavia and Greece, concerning the free Jugoslavian zone of Salonica, is now in Berlin where he is looking into the possibilities for negotiating with Russian Commissars a treaty for the recognition of Soviet Russia, the first agreement of its kind to be effected with any European power. It is predicted here that M. Balughitch's mission will be successful.

Two years ago Jugoslavia, by the passage of a "defence of the realm" law, outlawed the Communist movement completely. It is felt here the ban on the right of assemblage enforced vigorously since then with one important exception, when the government permitted the holding of a Communist mass meeting in this city to protest against the repression of the Jugoslavian Communists in Bulgaria, has suspended the law sufficiently to make them a negligible quantity politically.
