FORD IS AFRAID TO ENTER RACE SAYS SENATOR COUZENS

He Is "Lovable Man;" Candidacy As Big Fiasco As Peace Ship

DETROIT, Nov. 1.—Henry Ford does not announce his candidacy for the Presidency because he is afraid it will be "as great a fiasco as his peace ship," United States Senator James Couzens declared last night in an address at a dinner of the Detroit Republican Club.

Referring to the automobile manufacturer, who recently criticized the Senator's announced stand for five per cent beer, Mr. Couzens said:

Why does Henry Ford refrain from announcing his candidacy for President of the United States? He is afraid it would be as big a fiasco as his peace ship."

"Lovable" Man.

Senator Couzens and Henry were associated in the Ford Company when the company was still in its infancy.

During the address Senator Couzens referred to the automobile manufacturer as a "lovable" man and declared that he "loved Ford as much as any man could love another."

"But when Henry Ford differs with me on an amendment which I proposed to the Volstead Act, and says, according to a newspaper interview, 'I know better than to propose such an amendment,' I challenge his integrity and sincerity," Senator Couzens declared.

"Ford has never recovered from his defeat as a candidate for the Senate in 1918," Senator Couzens asserted, "and for a man so politically ambitious, he has made more unfulfilled statements than any other man in America."

"Sue Dear" Pleases Large Audience In City Last Evening

"Sue Dear," a delightful musical comedy was presented in White's Theatre last night to a large and appreciative audience. It was a pleasing, tuneful attraction and theatricals declare it to be the best musical comedy seen here in several seasons.

The plot, as usual with shows of this kind was just enough to make a story and to hold interest. The leading role, "Sue," was played by Eleanor Bennett who showed much skill in acting and won the hearts of the audience from her first appearance on the stage. Her singing numbers were also very good.

The success of the play was due in a large part to the dancing of Miss Woodworth in the role of "Zoo." She is a very clever comedienne. George Thon as "Philip West," completely captivated the audience with his fine tenor voice.

Two of the outstanding features of the evening performance were the specialty dance by Adeline Foley and the Carnival de Venice by Miss Clark.

The entire chorus are due their part of praise, their songs being tuneful, catchy and thoroughly enjoyed. Seldom has Greenville seen a better comedian than Jay Elwood, as "Chick O'Brien." His acting was fine and kept the audience in continuous laughter throughout the play.

The costumes and scenery added much to the success of the attraction and "Sue Dear," will long be remembered as a pleasing musical comedy.

RED CROSS WORK ACCOMPLISHED IN OUR OWN SECTION; 2 DEFINITE EXAMPLES, NEW BERN, WENDELL

The attention of Pitt counties is directed to the two definite examples of Red Cross work in our own section. We do not know when a similar catastrophe will visit our fair county and, in the light of the fact that it is a comforting thought to know that "the mother of us all"—the Red Cross, stands ready to help.

Makes Progress In North Carolina. In the fiscal year ending July 1, 1923, the people of North Carolina have accomplished more through the American Red Cross than they have in any previous year that the organization has been active in the state.

Through their co-operation and active interest in the work, it has been possible to expand the Red Cross program to include more and better service to a greater number of people.

The year is notable also in Red Cross history because in it the organization has successfully coped with two of the worst disasters the state has perhaps ever experienced in a single year.

Effort to show that through organized effort as expressed in the Red Cross, the state is fully capable of coping with any emergency that may arise.

It is indeed doubtful whether the efficiency of any like organization has ever been more thoroughly tested, and it is highly gratifying to those who labored so diligently to vindicate the trust placed in them to know they have been weighed in the balance and found not wanting.

Goldsboro To Play Greenville Club On Friday Afternoon

That the Greenville club will put up an exceptionally fast game is assured. They have been going through strenuous practice the last few days, and should be in perfect trim when they face Goldsboro tomorrow.

The club standing now shows that Greenville has two games to her credit, one lost game and one tie game. The following line-up will be seen in action tomorrow:

Black Sea Pirates Drive Ships to Port

Varna, Bulgaria, Nov. 1.—The Black Sea is fast winning an unenviable reputation for piracy and lawlessness upon its waters. Seafaring men are terrified by two acts of violence in the past fortnight, and in some cases have declined to take their ships out of the harbors.

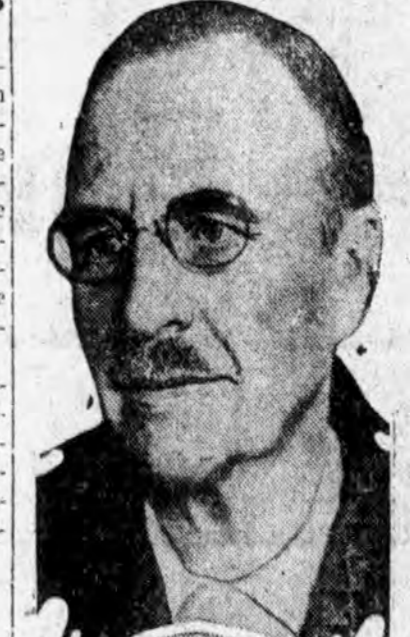

The tale of the destruction of the Bulgarian sailing ship Bata was hardly out of men's mouths, when there came the recital of how the crew of the Amon were done to death by Turkish marauders from the coast of Asia Minor. The Amon sailed from this port for Constantinople, laden with turpentine. A few miles out she was approached by two large motor boats.

Swedish Millers make hay in sicklers, sou-westers, American tourists traveling in Sweden, and they are here in especially large numbers this year because of the Gothenburg exposition, never cease to marvel at the difficulties in which the men and women of Sweden gather their harvest.

However August and early September, when the grain and hay crops are cut, are generally rainy. This has been an unusually wet season and farmers have had great difficulty in saving their crops.

GRAND JURY REPORT COMMENDS HORTON FOR SPLENDID WORK

Report As Whole One of Best For Several Terms of Court

To Honorable J. Lloyd Horton, Judge Presiding:

We, the Grand Jury for the October term of Pitt County Superior Court, beg to submit the following report:

First: We have passed on all bills presented to us, except those in which we were unable to secure witnesses and have submitted said bills to the court.

Second: We have visited the offices of the sheriff, the clerk of the court, the register of deeds, the county auditor, and we find these offices in good shape, the record being well and neatly kept.

Third: We visited the county jail and found the same in good condition. We found one prisoner ill with pneumonia, he being confined in the cell with other prisoners, and we recommend that provisions be made whereby sick prisoners can be isolated when necessary.

Fourth: We visited the county home and convict camps and found them in splendid condition, with the exception of convict camp No. 2, which camp is not kept up to the standard of camp No. 1.

The grand jury hears with pleasure that the docket will be cleared after Thursday's calendar has been tried, and we wish to commend Judge Horton for the expeditious manner of handling the business of this court and for the fair and impartial manner in which he deals out justice.

We wish to thank the presiding judge, the solicitor and all court officers for the courtesy extended to us in our work as grand jurors at this term.

Respectfully submitted,
H. A. WHITE,
Foreman.

Rev. J. M. Freeman Speaks at Ceremonies In Alexandria, Va.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., Nov. 1.—A plea for the nation to dedicate itself to those principles of unselfish devotion to liberty and human brotherhood of which Washington was the "Great Exemplar" as voiced by Reverend James M. Freeman, an Episcopal bishop of Washington, in the principal oration at the ceremonies of the laying of the corner stone today of the George Washington National Masonic Memorial. In his address the bishop warned against the common practice of greed and such influences as tend to ruin the fundamental basis of government and religion.

"We are met here today," he said, "not so much to think of Washington, the patriot, the soldier, the commander-in-chief and ultimately the president, but of Washington the high exemplar of the splendid ideals upon which this ancient order is founded." "More and more we realize today that if our nation is to endure and maintain its just place in prestige and power among the other nations of this world, we must stand squarely for these important phases which marked the Genesis and evolution of our form of government."

"Among the influences which helped to shape the destiny of our republic, none have been more far-reaching than those principles for which free masonry has forever stood, the Fatherhood of God and Brotherhood of man. These are the underlying principles and security of our fraternity."

In recalling the life of Washington who so exemplified these important principles, the speaker appealed to all people for a larger expression in living such principles if our nation and the world is to stand.

THE RHINELAND SEPARATION

Proclamation of a Rhineland republic is not a surprise, for the possibility of a separatist movement of that character has been discussed freely for some time. It comes, however, in an unexpected manner. While Joseph Matthes has been recognized heretofore as the leader and chief promoter of the plan, this present move is sponsored by Leo Deckers and Dr. Guthardt. Deckers declares that there is no conflict with the Matthes organization. Matthes himself, dispatches state, has set up general headquarters at Dueren, where the French and Belgian authorities have provided him with a telephone system to keep in close touch with the Rhineland cities. At the same time Deckers announces that Coblenz is to be the capital of the new republic.

Suspicion is immediately expressed that this new separatist movement has the sanction, if not the support of France and Belgium. Mr. Lloyd-George has so stated explicitly in an interview. From Berlin comes the same expression of belief. From Paris comes the statement that France and Belgium will not interfere unless there is disorder. Deckers is quoted as saying that the separatists will recognize the treaty of Versailles and proportional reparations obligations.

Perhaps the most significant fact in this connection is that, according to Deckers, the Berlin currency is to be at once repudiated, and a new Rhineland franc set up as a standard of value, equivalent to the French franc, and probably printed in Paris or Brussels.

Whether Berlin will undertake to check this movement by military force is not indicated. Deckers announces that although the Rhineland forces are now unarmed they "know where to find weapons if necessary." This again suggests an understanding with the forces of occupation.

EDUCATING HUMAN NATURE

Addressing the American Child Health Association in Detroit, Mrs. Marietta Johnson advised the postponement of all intellectual activities, such as reading, writing and arithmetic, until a child is eight or nine years old. She is quite certain that such delay would "make for an improvement in the body, mind and spirit."

Mrs. Johnson, in common with many other eager reformers, seems to have overlooked the element of human nature in preparing her theory. It must be an exceedingly stupid child that long before the age of eight or nine does not aspire to read, write and juggle figures. The little fellow, as soon as his mind begins to assimilate the context of life, instinctively reaches for the beginning of knowledge. The boy or girl who has reached the eighth year of life without realizing that two and two make four or that a combination of C and T equals the name of the household pet is surely not a ninspiring study. Most of us can recall with pleasure the fun we had before we were nine in reading picture book stories. Deprivation of even such stumbling reading as that of a child is a sad affliction.

Mrs. Johnson will find that enforcement of her theory would be almost as impossible of success as enforcement of other laws that have not taken into consideration the human nature factor in the equation. If she can find any normal child in the land, except amid unfavorable surroundings, that does not learn, teachers or no, before he or she is eight years old, how to read and write, she will have a better basis from which to argue.

Mr. Dooley, that wise and mature philosopher, once visited a kindergarten and asked a hopeful youngster to spell "cat." The teacher remonstrated, "Oh, Mr. Dooley, you mustn't ask 'em to spell anything. They don't learn that 'till they go to college, and sometimes not even then." Our present system of education is leisurely enough as it is, without Mrs. Johnson attempting to retard it further.

Resolutions Aneat the Death of Brother Jarvis B. Harding.

Whereas: In the good providence of God our beloved friend and brother, Jarvis B. Harding, has been called from earth to heaven, and whereas, in his death, our community has sustained the loss of one of her most useful citizens, and our church a most valued and faithful member, and whereas, as a member of this official body of the church he provided himself liberal, zealous, and faithful in the performance of his every duty, and we do now feel most keenly the loss of his counsel and help in the discharge of our duties, as the board of Stewards of Jarvis Memorial church, Be it Resolved: First, that we, notwithstanding our great sorrow in having to give him up, nevertheless, desire to put ourselves on record as bowing in humble submission to the will of our Heavenly Father, knowing that our loss is heaven's gain.

Second, that we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved loved one—wife, mother and little daughter, together with the surviving brothers and sisters, and that with our faith and prayers we do commend them to the God of all grace who is able and willing to comfort them in this time of their deep sorrow.

Third, that each member of this board will strive to profit by the example of faithful and punctual performance of duty which was evidenced by him ever since he became a member of our body.

Lastly, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the quarterly conference journal, and also a copy be given The Reflector for publication, and a copy mailed to the wife and another to the mother, both of whom are most faithful and beloved members of our church.

100 R. R. CARS WILL BRING BIG CIRCUS
 Arriving aboard 100 double-length railroad cars forming trains more than one-and-one-third miles long, and made even greater than in 1922 by the addition of many big, new foreign acts. Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined will exhibit at Wilson, N. C., Saturday Nov. 3.

Those who read the daily papers or who keep in touch with the movie news-reels need not be reminded of the shioplod of acts and animals recently imported by the Greatest Show on earth. The remarkable cargo included two companies of baby elephants are now joined with the forty adults of the mammoth herd. There were also 100 more performing horses accompanied by Europe's greatest trainer, and many wild animals, some of which have been added to the scores of trained jungle beasts, while others have become part of the marvelous menagerie.

More than a million persons saw the mammoth new circus of 1923 during the weeks that it exhibited in Madison Square Garden, New York. Now this marvelous exhibition is touring the country aboard five great trains. It is a third bigger than the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey show of last season. It is ten times larger than any other circus now on tour.

Big as is this wonder circus of 1923—with its more than 30 trained wild animal displays in steel arenas, fully 200 wonderfully schooled horses, 700 men and women performers, 100 clowns, and scores of feature—the price of admission is no more than before. And though the trained animal numbers and the immense horse show were circuses in themselves while touring Europe, they are not offered as separate attractions by the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey combined shows. Instead all are on one gigantic program. Everything is in one mammoth main tent. One ticket admits to all these and to the tremendous double menagerie.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Files of the Reflector Oct. 21-27, 1903.

The following account of the Edmonson-Taylor wedding appeared in the issue of the Reflector Oct. 31, 1903.

"October 28th was an ideal day. Mother Nature was smiling her blessings on the world without. The sky was clear, the gentle zephyrs touched tenderly the leaves of yellow and gold, the sun, riding in his chariot of fire, was quietly ripening the fruits of the forest and the harvest of the field. The world without was indicative of the feelings of hope and joy and love that reigned in the hearts of a fair young couple, in our midst. A host of friends and relatives had gathered at the bride's home Mr. G. W. Edmonsons about a half mile north of Bethel.

It was a beautiful parlor scene when Mr. Walter Taylor with Miss Pearl, his bride, leaning upon his strong arm and trusting in his true and noble heart came marching to the strains of Mendelssohn's march. The music was more sweet and the spell was more magical because of the artistic touch of the skillful performer, Miss Effie Grimes. The bride, tastily dressed in a blue tailor suit, confidently approached the marriage altar with no apparent ripple upon the wave of her emotion. The high tide of her emotion had broken upon the shore of peaceful love and was quietly rolling over the sands of perfect trust. The groom, dressed in conventional black, betrayed his joy in the eventful day by his placid smile and steady steps as they faced Rev. J. C. Howett, who so impressively performed the matrimonial rites, there was a hushed silence, as if the sympathizing crowd were listening for the holy word to seal the sacred vow. Clear and soft spoke his words that changed two into one, and clear and calm came their assent.

Many useful presents were given. After the happy union Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, accompanied by a few friends drove to the home of their father, Mr. Bert Taylor were awaiting them were seasons of refreshing. May their lives ever be as happy as their union and their union be as sacred as their lives.

Marriage License.

The following marriage licenses were issued: Walter W. Taylor and

White's Theatre One Night Wednesday Nov. 7

AROUND - THE - WORLD - TOUR
THE GREATEST COMEDY SUCCESS
IN THE HISTORY OF THE STAGE

IMPORTANT

A Card to the Public From H. H. Jackson, Mgr.

Today I make the most important announcement I have been called upon to make as the manager of White's Theatre.

Arrangements have just been concluded with Jules Hurlig and the Messrs. Shubert whereby their elaborate production of the honeymoon farce comedy, "Just Married," written by Adelaide Matthews and Anna Nichols, will be presented at White's Theatre on Wednesday, Nov. 7. Although this event is one week distant, the magnitude and importance of the engagement are such that I deem it my duty to make this announcement to the theatre-goers of Greenville so that they may make their plans well in advance to witness such an extraordinary attraction.

The story of "JUST MARRIED" centers about a genially stimulated young man who gets aboard the French Line steamship "La-fayette," by mistake, just before she sails from Bordeaux, France, for New York. There are several oddly assorted couples aboard, old and young, married and unmarried—and some honeymooners. From the time the stimulated gentleman comes aboard, without any effort of will on his part, they are all so bedevilled, scrambling and messed up that there is apparently no untangling their difficulties. There seems to be only two ways out—either the ship must go back to Bordeaux, or the young man must be thrown overboard. Things come right eventually after three hours of hearty laughter, however, and the voyage peacefully proceeds.

"Just Married" ran for two solid years in New York; it was shown for six months in Chicago; it played four months in Philadelphia; and it just recently completed five months in Boston; the longest engagement ever known there for a comedy.

"Just Married" comes to this city with the Broadway cast and production intact en-route for a tour around the world.

I cannot commend "Just Married" too highly to my patrons. It is a cyclone of honest laughter.

Signed: H. H. JACKSON,

Mgr. White's Theatre, Greenville
