State Expending $2,000,000 Monthly On Road System

RALEIGH, Nov. 2.—Over two million dollars per month has been spent by the State Highway Commission during the months of June, July, August and September, according to figures made public here in a review of the general road situation. Of this amount more than $300,000 per month has been paid back into the state treasury through the collection of the gasoline tax of three cents per gallon.

The construction has been divided over the entire state and no effort has been spared to make the roads which have been completed the most modern of their kind and they are built to stand the traffic of many years to come, provided proper maintenance is continued.

For every mile in the state road system there are 37.6 automobiles and to use each of these cars there are 12.4 persons. That is there are 1-8 as many automobiles in North Carolina as there are people.

Though the license tax in the state varies for each type and model of car, according to the figures of the Commission the average fee for the first 229,400 automobiles registered this year is $14.84.

'HONORARY CORPORAL' OF FASCISTI DENIES PETITION FOR A RECEIVER FOR KU KLUX KLAN

Above is Benito Mussolini, Fascist Premier of Italy, in the new uniform of the order which he has been awarded. He ranks as an "Honorary Corporal" Mussolini takes exception to the fact that he has been likened to Napoleon and expressly called this photograph, "The Two Eagles." An eagle was killed and stuffed expressly for this picture.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 2.—The petition of David M. Littlejohn, of Philadelphia, and others asking the appointment of a receiver for the assets of the Ku Klux Klan was denied in superior court here yesterday by Judge John R. Humphries. The court also denied a petition for a temporary injunction to restrain the distribution of Klan funds until the next Klavocent of the order.

In his oral outline of the order to be drawn up by attorney and to be submitted and signed later by the court, Judge Humphries said he denied the petition for the receiver on the ground the evidence failed to justify the appointment of a receiver. Referring to the injunction asked to restrain the distribution of Klan funds, he said it was denied on the ground that "there was no immediate, positive, alleged act to be enjoined."

In remarking on his case, Judge Humphries said: "It seemed to be an inside fight by about three hundred members against a million and a half other members."

Attorneys for the plaintiffs announced in court that they would carry the case to the Georgia supreme court for a final word of the proceedings by that body.

250,000 Members Is Goal Set For Annual Red Cross Roll Call

An enrollment of 250,000 members is the goal set for the annual Red Cross Roll Call in the eight Southern States of the Southern Division on November 11, through Thanksgiving according to a statement received today from Southern Division Headquarters, Atlanta, Ga.

The state courts for the division are North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, and Mississippi. Campaign for membership will be conducted in almost every community in the South by the 719 local Red Cross chapters in the eight states.

For every membership taken in the Red Cross, fifty cents is sent to National Headquarters, Washington, D. C. This money, the aggregate of many small sums from all over the country, is pooled into one big fund and used for extending services to chapters that it would be impracticable for them to undertake locally, including disaster relief work. Without the nurses, doctors, hospital supplies, food, clothing, provisions for shelter, and trained disaster workers, with the Red Cross unable to pour into any community of the South, the calamities of the past year would have been even more critical, and human suffering would have been augmented many times.

Fire, flood, and disaster give no warning before they strike, and it is through membership in the Red Cross that an organization is perpetually capable of coping with any emergency.

Counsel For Walton To Appeal If Court Decides Unfavorably

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 2.—Counsel for Governor J. C. Walton who is on trial before the Senate, said today that if the court decided unfavorably to his governor that the case would be appealed to the United States district court. The court of appeals is to make known the details of the convention but it was indicated that the action of October 2, when a special election was held in absolute disregard to the governor's order would be the basis of the appeal.

Farmers Urged to Inoculate Stock Against Cholera

RALEIGH, Nov. 2.—Asserting that outbreaks of hog cholera are being reported from many sections, Dr. F. D. Owen in charge of hog control work for State College and the state department of agriculture today issued a statement urging all farmers to safeguard their stock by having all the animals inoculated.

Dr. Owen asserted that an epidemic of the disease lasting eight to eighteen days will wipe out a herd that may have required eight to eighteen months to mature.

"No man of intelligence," reads the statement "will question that hog cholera is contagious and no man who has lived in the hog cholera sections and has seen the antiseptic serum used will question the virtue of the serum as a means of avoiding loss. Therefore more hogs are being vaccinated each year; but notwithstanding such use of vaccination, there are many hundreds of swine owners who either think they can, with safety, put off vaccination or feel that because it costs from possibly 35 cents per pig to $1.35 per large animal, they will take a chance with the disease and thus flirt with the danger of losing their herd."

"Further many men who may be firm believers in the vaccination of their swine herds think they have done their sole duty when their herd has been treated. They forget the simple fact that hog cholera is one of the most contagious of all animal diseases and one of the most easily carried of all animal maladies and do not realize that owners of sick herds isolate the herds and bury the dead animals at least four feet of earth as required by the laws of North Carolina.

The doctor concludes with a statement it is to be hoped that the present indifference of some will shortly cease and that proper precautions will be taken to the end that the farmer themselves may not lose by reason of the disease.

La Follette Appeals To Americans to Help Unfortunate Germans

PORTLAND, MAINE, Nov. 2.—Senator Robert M. LaFollette, returning to America today upon the liner George Washington, after a three months visit to Europe, stated to newspaper men that he was more determined than ever to bring our government back to the people. "I am prepared to spend the balance of my life," he said, "in combating with renewed energy three forces which are tending to undermine and destroy the principles and traditions of the American government." In making his appeal to the American people he said: "Any delay means a possible overthrow of government; dissolution, chaos, civil war of hell let loose in Europe. I feel bound," Mr. LaFollette said, "to avail myself of this first opportunity to appeal to the men and women of our country to help the unfortunate Germans. The common humanity calls upon the American people to aid the German people in their bare need."

DISLOCATING NATURE

Destruction wrought by an insect pest in the grain fields of the South and West is causing as much worry to the United States Department of Agriculture as is the work of the boll weevil in the cotton belt.

Inquiry into the habits of the chinch bug discloses the fact that in a number of sections of the United States where bountiful crops of grain used to be raised, the returns on recent plantings have been so small as to be scarcely worth harvesting, due to the invasion of bugs.

The results of recent inquiries are of interest to sportsmen, as well as to farmers. It appears that the greatest natural foe of the chinch bug is the quail, which pursues and devours the hungry bugs with even greater eagerness than the insects eat the farmer's crops.

Of all the enemies of the quail, the man with the gun probably is the most efficient and deadly. The hunting house cat takes toll of young birds, and wet, cold seasons destroy others.

Now that the Greeks have squelched their revolution, the Balkans can settle down peacefully to their regular routine of warfare.

NOT A NATION OF SPENDTHRIFTS

A New York banker has made, or thinks he has made, the remarkable discovery that the American people have now no incentive for thrift and that they are engaged in a mad orgy of spending.

There has no doubt been a large amount of money paid to see prize-fights, but those who paid it knew exactly what they were doing, and if they were buncoed had no one but themselves to blame.

This is not a nation of spendthrifts, but just the reverse. If the people are not buying as many bonds and stocks as the banker would desire, they are putting their money into better homes, into those things that add to their comfort and health, into investments that lend to better living and to better citizenship.

Plans of the Hohenzollern-Stinnes combine to wreck Germany rather than allow the Republic to live seem to be progressing successfully.

Sir Niels Bukh's idea of building stronger and handsomer Americans by making physical culture more attractive at least deserves a look, the censor willing.

Of course, monumental school buildings are easy on the eyes, but just plain schools and enough of them would be more effective, as Mr. Weeks indicates in his report.

We are after the man who knows us by name but not by underwear--

We want to find out the kind and weight he likes best and then show him the best of its kind.

We want to show him that we can save him twitching and itching at $1.00 to $2.50 per suit.

If we can do this you are willing to listen to reason--aren't you?

All right—we are doing it for hundreds of others and there's no reason why we can't duplicate the performance on you.

KNOW—DON'T GUESS THE NATIONAL BANK OF GREENVILLE

All riding devices, and the 16 tented attractions carried by the Greater Sheesley Shows will be brought to the Pitt County Fair in Greenville, when the big show train of 25 extra length railroad cars arrives here on Sunday. All the joy-making apparatus which made such a favorable impression on "Entertainment Row" at the State Fair in Raleigh will be brought to Greenville.

Capt. John M. Sheeley is a leader in the clean-up campaign in outdoor showmen which this season has purged the tent midway of many features and followers which have long been considered undesirable by legitimate showmen. The Showmen's Legislative committee of America has as its commissioner and dictator Thomas J. Johnson, noted Chicago lawyer, at $20,000 a year, holding a position similar to that of Judge Landis in baseball and Will Hays in the movies, and his word is law in the big tents and sawdust rings. Captain Sheeley has guaranteed the fair officials a clean and wholesome midway, and his organization comes highly recommended from eastern and southern fairs played this season.

Among the featured rides are the caterpillar and the butterfly, new thrill-makers turned out this season by the joy-architects of Coney Island. Then there are the kiddie airplane, giant merry-go-round with $5,000 concert organ, the Elmer wheel, the whip and aerial swing. These are augmented by Over-the-Falls, the great laughmaker of all time, and the thrilling autodrome where dare-devil riders change from auto to motorcycles while going at top speed on a perpendicular wall in the outside enclosure.

In the big water circuits are Betty "Bubbles" Deane, eastern ocean champion, and her galaxy of diving beauties, and high divers, headed by Cap. Oscar La Valle, plunging from a high ladder into a shallow tank. There are two big circus sidshows with many living curiosities; the freak animal show, with 50 rare specimens born when Dame Nature was in frankish mood; Sheeley's Famous Georgia Minstrels and their crack band and orchestra; John M. Sheeley's Tenie Weenie Midget, featuring George and Ida Chesworth, society dancers; Bertha Reul, wire walker, and Duke Ross, the miniature Hound. Robert Adler's Jaunted musical comedy; Oris, the wonder-girl; Ralph, the elephant boy; Tiny-Mite, the little California movie horse; Tony, the actor boy, and others are also offered.

There will be daily bands and orchestras. Sheeley's 515 vocalists, known to kiddies from coast to coast, who have followed in the footsteps of the late dead-end singer, Carl Sandberg, will come a long way to the show world.

Sheesley's Greater Shows To Arrive Here On Monday

With the first peek of sunrise on the eastern horizon next Monday, the 5th young Greenville will be wide awake, the reason for this sudden outburst of boyhood who loves to lie in bed all the last night. At the Greater Sheeley Shows will have entered and built their tented city at the Pitt County Fair Grounds or a week's stay. Although this is the first time for this colossal traveling player, and to exhibit at this fair, it is said to be the most spectacular attraction on the road today with a picture-que gold leaf wagon other, and pyramid, of various colors, and electric lights, with each and every attraction adopted to the patronage of ladies and children. However, one of the most imposing exhibits is the Sheeley Tenie Weenie Midgets featuring George and Ida Chesworth, as

America Cleaned Up One Of World's Great Plague Spots In Aid To Russia, Says Haskell

L. R. CYRIL J. C. QUINN of SAGINAW MICH. ASST. DIRECTOR OF THE RUSSIAN UNIT OF THE A. R. A. COL. HASKELL, DIRECTOR and ELMER G. BURLAND of BERKELEY, CAL. WHO AS CHIEF OF THE REMITTANCE DIVISION, A. R. A. IN RUSSIA CONTROLLED THE DELIVERY OF FOOD AND CLOTHING PACKAGES

America's work in Russia cleaned up one of the great plague spots of the world, according to Col. William M. Haskell, director of the Russian Unit of the American Relief Administration, who landed recently in New York with the last of the Americans who had been with him in Moscow.

"Russia, when we went in, was more than a famine country," he said. "It was a disease focus. Typhus could have been confined to Russia, but typhus and cholera knew no man-made boundaries. I am not sure that the medical work accomplished by the American Relief Administration has not saved even more lives than the feeding of more than ten million Russians."

"Aside from vast areas where there was actual starvation and the prompt arrival of American food saved the population from being wiped out, diseases borne by refugees fleeing from famine districts had spread throughout the country. Hospitals were overcrowded, their supplies and equipment almost nil because of years of war; water supplies polluted and sewer systems broken down, and everything disorganized. Every filthy freight car, crowded with refugees, was a breeding place for typhus-bearing vermin. In some cities corpses lay unburied in the streets and hundreds of bodies were piled in cellars of hospitals. And Russia was threatening her neighbors with contagion."

"When Cerky and the patriarch, Tikhon, appealed to the world for aid in the summer of 1921, and Herbert Hoover offered through the American Relief Administration to feed a million Russian children, we never dreamed that before we finished America would be called upon to feed nearly ten and a half million children and adults. And even then gymnasts, the little folks are rarities. Mr. Che worth a 60 pound bundle of exactly, lifts defeat little men of two hundred and seventy pounds actual weight. A dancing act, walking and a score of other novelties are presented in this canvas mania that is bound to win favor.

Capt. John M. Sheeley will show up at the state fair at Raleigh following the 4th following letter, which he prizes very highly and has filed with fair grounds, received this year, from heads of institutions and public officials Commonwealth of Virginia, Richmond, Va., My Dear Mr. Sheeley:

Please allow me to write and thank you for the many courtesies shown me while your show, were at the Virginia State Fair during the week of Oct. 1, to 7. I enjoy all kinds of pleasures my children enjoy and of

we were feeding only just enough to keep them alive, with our 912,000 tons of supplies—just kept alive children and grown-ups who otherwise would have starved to death until they could plant their fields again. With this encouragement Russia is no longer a famine country. It is emerging from the pauper class. And now typhus cases are no more frequent than before the war. We inoculated literally millions of people and checked cholera. With 30 tons of quinine we helped the fight against malaria; and we supplied the neo-salvarsan which has all but wiped out recurrent typhus.

"There were 6,317,958 corn rations for adults issued in a single month—a fund of corn a day for 31 days; and during that same month 4,173,339 children were sitting down every day to a hot meal served in some 20,000 kitchens and children's homes. That was in August, 1922. And even that doesn't include thousands of people kept alive that month by A. R. A. food packages bought by relatives and friends or philanthropic persons in America.

"And I am thinking of the 250 other Americans who worked month in and month out in a famine and disease-ridden country, overcoming seemingly insuperable difficulties, grinning when things went wrong, joking when they were sick, just to keep the spirit of the others up. Blandy died of typhus out at Ufa last spring. Sheild was killed at Simbirsk and his body never found."

Although Colonel Haskell was lent by the Army, the great American work of relief in Russia and elsewhere in Europe should not be regarded as a military job. More than ninety per cent. of all the American personnel was civilian.

courses they were greatly interested. Mr. Che worth a 60 pound bundle of on the carnival and carried several times through your show. I found them all good and was particularly delighted with the way in which they were managed, free from disorder and other things that have sometimes been usual with carnivals. I think your shows taken as a whole were the best I have ever seen on any fair grounds. With my personal regards, I am,

Very truly yours,
E. LEE TRINKLE,
Governor.

COURT IS LAUDED BY GERMAN BASIS FIRST EXPERIENCE

BERLIN.—The Permanent court of International Justice at The Hague is warmly commended by Dr. Eugen Schiffer in a statement which is based on his recent experience before the court as a representative of Germany in the Wimbledon case and two others concerning the rights of German minorities in Poland.

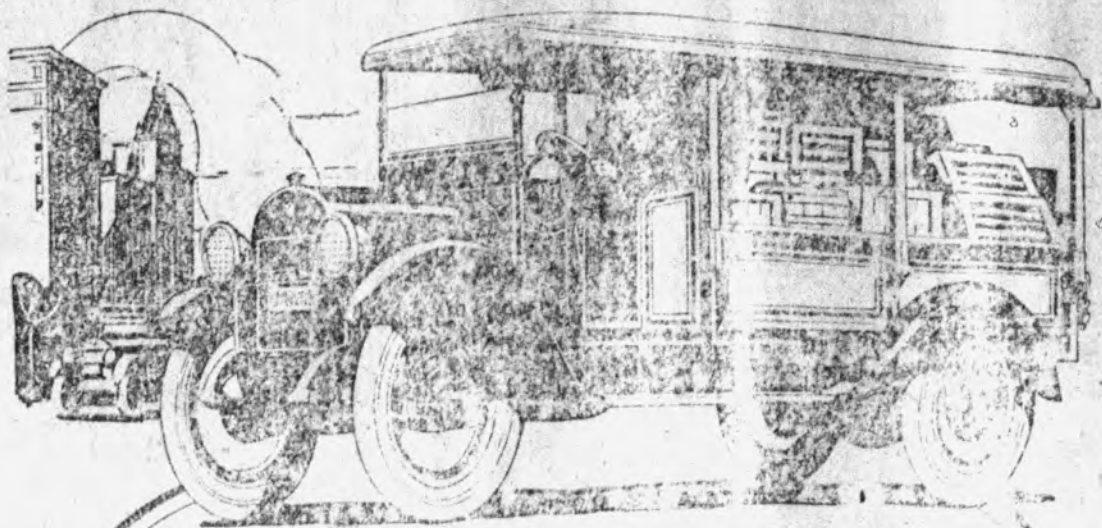

Dr. Schiffer says President Harding's advocacy of American participation in the court puts the court in a new light, as American participation would give a certain guarantee of impartial judgment. This action of the late President of the United States has, in a measure, in the opinion of Dr. Schiffer, caused Germany to renounce its distrust in the court, as the American effort to separate the tribunal entirely from the League of Nations leads to the hope that the tribunal is operating along other lines than those forecast in the Versailles treaty.

Discussing the decision on the Wimbledon case, which was against Germany, Dr. Schiffer says it has not been thoroughly understood in Germany. Germany proved to the British ship Wimbledon from passing through the Kiel Canal on the ground that the ship was carrying ammunition for Poland, which was at that time engaged in war with Soviet Russia. The contention of England was that under the Versailles treaty, Germany had no right to take such action, even if it was done on the ground that Germany was maintaining neutrality by preventing arms and ammunition from going to a nation which was actually at war with another. Dr. Schiffer says the principles upon which the court rendered a verdict against Germany are contained in the Versailles treaty and put Germany in the wrong.

The American Legion is planning to have a booth at the county fair and all relics, which can be secured, will be on display. This does not apply to members of the American Legion only, but to every ex-service man in the county.

The smallest relic will be appreciated and at the close of the fair will be returned to its owner.

B. L. and S. T. Carson to Bethel Baptist church, consideration $25.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR RED CROSS BOOTH AT COUNTY FAIR

It will be good news to know that plans are now being made to have a Red Cross booth at the Pitt County Fair next week. It will be recalled that the booth or rest room was directed the past two seasons by Miss Louisa Hubbard, former secretary for the Pitt County Chapter.

That the Rest Room will be justly decorated is an assured fact since Miss Ward Moore will have that in hand. Then again, that real service will be rendered during the week can be seen easily inasmuch as Mr. Victor Davis, principal of the Greenville High School, will be director and ably assisted by the Boy Scouts.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR BOYS ORGANIZE CLUB

(Reported by Luther Moore).

On Monday night the boys of the Senior class with the addition of four honorary members from the Junior class and two from the Sophomore class, met under the supervision of the principal to organize a Senior boys' club for the purpose of helping to solve some of the difficulties confronting the High School and College Boys.

The boys met at the Rotary Club and had about two hours of real fun. First, there was the hand shaking contest in which each one told his full name. One of the Senior boys had a quarter and the tenth boy to shake his hand calling him by his full name would get the quarter. Thomas Willard had the quarter and Doug West was the lucky one. This was followed by supper and it was a real supper. Every one was hungry especially Ferdinand Joe who fought over a biscuit. After supper Mr. Saddler gave a talk on "How a boy may beget a manly man."

At Mr. Saddler's talk there was 36th Series opens tomorrow—Home Building & Loan Association.

a lemonade drinking contest in which Charles Heber Forbes' side lost. Mike Mayo then gave an interesting game. Mr. Duncan was captain of the Wake Forest team and Mr. Rose was captain of Trinity team. They chose sides, took an egg and tried to blow it into the goal of the other team. Mr. Rose's team won.

The meeting adjourned to meet again on November 26.

The club is to meet once a month and at each meeting some man will give a talk.

Mr. Rose, Mr. Davis and Mr. Duncan are members from the faculty and the other members are Norman Winslow, D. S. Smith, Leslie Humber, Charles Forbes, Marvin Sugg, Claude Gaskins, Walter Dail, Sidney Skinner, Robert Mayo, Ferdinando Satterthwaite, Jonathan Overton, Robert Arthur, Clifton Duke, Joe Taft, Henry Fleming, Justus Everett, J. Lucie Moyer, John Saied, Thomas Willard, Asmus Wells, Charles Carr, Luther Moore, Wesley Harvey, Doug West and Fred Forbes.

This Is The Town That Bell Rebuilt; American Relief Administration Worker Uses Corn As Lure and Ufa Takes New Life

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT AT UFA.

COL. BELL, A. R. A. DISTRICT SUPERVISOR HONORED.

Ufa, in Russia, isn't the town it was. American corn pulled it out of the mud, as well as out of the famine. Pavements, bridges, sewers, even railroads have been built in and about Ufa by workmen under the direction of Colonel W. L. Bell, who hired them, not because they were strong enough to do the work most efficiently, but because they were starving, and could be paid in corn which they would have received anyway. "Those who work eat" was Colonel Bell's dictum and as everybody was hungry everybody worked.

Twenty miles of railroad, a rock-lined storm drain half a mile long, 278 new bridges, repairs to schools and hospitals and miles of new road are among the permanent improvements in the Ufa area as a result of the famine relief work as administered by Colonel Bell.

The railroad runs from Beloutze to Laphistra just south of the main line of the Trans-Siberian and just east of the Urals. It connects the Beloutze Iron Works with important coal and iron ore areas and has enabled the works to be run continuously. The storm drain is in the city of Zaloust and had been projected for years, but there was never enough money on hand to build it. When the corn came there were hundreds of men—all famine victims—who were hugely content to work for food. The 278 bridges are built across creeks and lesser rivers throughout the area.

reconstruction go hand in hand has been generally pursued by the American Relief Administration. Physicians were given food packages and thereby enabled to continue their practice. The Russian doctors who carried out the program of inoculation against disease were paid with food. In so far as possible the relief given to homes and hospitals was used as a spur to raise the standards of the institutions.

Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa returning from his recent visit to Russia said that the American Relief Administration had given that country a "national education." "The idea" continued the Senator, "that in return for the food, roads should be built; hospitals and children's homes repaired and equipped; cities cleaned up and put in a sanitary condition, and that the workers should be paid in food was a wonderful one. It worked out marvelously and you will find that the Russians themselves will adopt it in the future. It is an idea of unlimited possibilities."

Happiness After Marriage----

True happiness after marriage is possible only where there is true love, virtue and esteem. It does not necessarily follow, however, that where these qualities are present in the beginning there is sure to be lasting happiness after marriage, for matrimony is a road strewn with many pitfalls, and many ogres wait in ambush ready to come between any man and wife.

It is our opinion that the one thing which is most apt to keep secure and to foster love and happiness after marriage is the environment of a real home—a HOME OF ONE'S VERY OWN!! Through we may call it "Home," a rented house or apartment can never mean "Home" in the same sense as a HOME of our very own.

One of the greatest present day evils and greatest reasons for so much marital unhappiness is the fact that too many young people rent, and too few own their own homes. And so, to the newly married and those about to be married we say with genuine sincerity: For THE SAKE OF FUTURE HAPPINESS

Russians Honor Americans Who Died
In Relief Administration's Service
During War Against Great Famine

EXTERIOR BLANDY SCHOOL AT UFA

INTERIOR BLANDY CHILDRENS HOME AT UFA

HAROLD F. BLANDY

Harold F. Blandy of New York, the American Relief Administration worker who died in Ufa, Russia, from typhus contracted while working among the disease stricken victims of the Great Hunger, has been honored by having two Russian institutions named for him.

At Ufa the Blandy Memorial Hospital is ministering to the needs of the population and the name of the young American martyr is held in sacred remembrance. On the anniversary of his death, ten thousand people of the city knelt bareheaded in the square on which the hospital faces, while the Russian archbishop of Ufa, Dionysius, celebrated a requiem mass. High officials and church dignitaries marched in the procession and they were followed by long lines of peasants and workers who had been saved from starvation by the help of America. There were children in the procession who had eaten in the A. R. A. kitchens; men and women to whom the American gift of corn had come as manna from heaven; grateful patients whose diseases had been healed with medicaments which American charity had brought to Russia; mothers whose children had been born within the walls of the hospital whose doors would have been closed to them had it not been for A. R. A. support.

And out in the city of Miass, not far from Ekaterinburg on the edge of Siberia, there is the Blandy Memorial Home for Children where famine waifs and orphans are still being fed from the rations that the A. R. A. left behind.

Nor is Harold Blandy the only American to be so honored. At Simbirsk, where Philip B. Shield mysteriously disappeared, and is admittedly dead, there is a Shield Memorial Home, the finest children's home in the entire city, a model in its equipment and management, whose juvenile inmates sleep between A. R. A. sheets, under American blankets, bathe with A. R. A. soap, dry themselves on A. R. A. towels, wear A. R. A. shoes and, when they are sick, take A. R. A. medicines, as do the children in thousands of other government institutions throughout the Soviet Republic.

The A. R. A. has withdrawn from Russia but what America did there will not be forgotten. The relief ended because the famine which the far off American people had fought so successfully was an end. Russia is no longer starving, but the masses of her people know where their salvation came from, and they are grateful.

ONLY INDEPENDENCE
WILL SATISFY INDIA
DECLARES ONE CHIEF

BOMBAY.—The view that Indian discontent can be remedied only by independence from Britain was forcibly expressed by Mahomed Ali Jinnah, a Mohammedan political leader, when interviewed here on the Kenya decision. "India and Indians," he said, "will not command any respect as long as India remains a dependency of Great Britain."

"The Kenya decision only brings home more vividly to the people of India that while in their own country they are yet a subject race; it is impossible for them to establish equality of status with the white race in the administration of other parts of the British Commonwealth. The decision is clearly based upon the ground of white domination and the assumed inferiority of Indians. Until India becomes the mistress of her own house, I do not believe she has the slightest chance of ever realizing the 'citizenship of the empire,' no matter how often the British government may make declarations of a desire to treat Indians as citizens, and no matter what pledges may be given."

"It is not much use passing resolutions and making long speeches, except for educating public opinion. The attainment of self-government is the only remedy for our grievances. I hope the Kenya lesson will bear some fruit and will bring about unity and co-operation between the various leaders, and the people of India."

DEFT PICKPOCKETS
TAUGHT TRADE BY
MASTERS IN ART

VIENNA.—The mental and physical make-up of that world-wide class of minor criminals, the pick-pocket, has been set forth with convincing accuracy by the one man in Europe doubtless best qualified to do so, Dr. E. Lewisch, for 18 years chief of the pick-pocket section of the Vienna police.

The chief was addressing the delegates to the international police congress. The pick-pocket, he said, was essentially a nomad, a rover. He finds his prey on the street, in places of amusement, when an accident draws people together, in the cloak-room of a theater, in short, wherever there is a crowd. He may operate in Vienna today, and tomorrow be loitering about a city a hundred miles away. He must be ready to keep moving and give up any idea of a settled home. In Europe, he must be a good linguist.

It is reasonably certain, Dr. Lewisch said, that these men are systematically trained in their work, and he believed the best schools are in Poland and Hungary. Beside strength and manual dexterity the pick-pocket must have presence of mind, knowledge of men, and a ready adaptability to cope with unexpected and dangerous situations. Unbounded effrontery, self-confidence, and a ready eloquence are important assets, and often help him to calm the agitation of his victim, avert suspicion, and even win the confidence and gratitude of the man he is robbing.
