BAPTIST CONVENTION MEETS IN GASTONIA DURING WEEK DEC 11

Dr. Samuel J. Porter to Deliver Address Each Day At Noon Hour

RALEIGH, Nov. 15.—The 93rd annual North Carolina Baptist Convention will be held at Gastonia, N. C., December 11 to 14, inclusive, according to announcement at the Baptist State Convention headquarters here.

The convention, which will open at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, will be preceded by the Baptist Pastors' Conference, which will convene Monday evening, Dec. 10, and adjourn following a morning session the next day.

What is described as an outstanding feature of this year's Baptist State Convention will be addresses each day at noon by Dr. Samuel J. Porter, formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church of Oklahoma City, Okla., but the present pastor of the First Baptist church of Durham. Dr. Porter is a native of North Carolina and is a graduate of Wake Forest College.

Also on the program as one of the principal speakers is Dr. L. R. Prnette, Charlotte, who is expected to deliver the annual convention sermon at the evening session of the first day. Dr. J. W. Kincheloe, Rocky Mount, has been named as his alternate and in the event that Dr. Prnette is unable to deliver the sermon, the duty will be with the Rocky Mount pastor.

At the convention in Gastonia, according to attaches of the Baptist State Convention headquarters, plans will be formulated for bringing to a close in North Carolina this State's part of the 75 million campaign launched by the church as a nationwide movement four years ago.

Picture Of Blount-Harvey's Window Sent To Reflector

The Armistice celebration committee sent to The Reflector today a picture of Blount-Harvey's window which they decorated in honor of the ex-service men of the late world war.

The window in which were arranged cards bearing the names of the gold star boys, and decorated with the national colors, before the picture was taken, had added to it a picture of Woodrow Wilson placed in the center with a large floral design made by Mrs. E. P. Spence and contributed by the Greenville Floral Company, as a background.

The following letter accompanied the picture:

Dear Sir: We are handing you herewith a photograph of the best showing in our recent Armistice celebration which we trust you will use to keep alive those sentiments of respect due our boys that gave their all on the battle fields of France and to the glory of our returned soldiers, likewise in a measure pay tribute to our afflicted war Captain Woodrow Wilson—whose glory will have no end. Yours very truly,

J. H. Blount, H. P. Johnson, W. C. Vincent, J. S. Congleton, R. L. Jones, W. C. Braswell, W. H. White, B. T. Rouse, A. W. Flake, W. S. Galloway, J. K. Harris, Dr. E. P. Spence, Mrs. E. F. Tucker, Mrs. Joseph Palmer, Mrs. H. W. Martin, Mrs. W. C. Braswell, Miss B. M. Huggins, Mrs. C. B. Franchise, Miss Ella Wayne.

G. FRANKLIN LENZ ADDRESSES ROTARY CLUBS GOLDSBORO

Speaks On the Subject "Just Rotary," At Inter-City Meeting

GOLDSBORO, N. C., Nov. 15.—Speaking on the subject "Just Rotary" at the Inter-City meeting of Rotary Clubs of eastern North Carolina here today, G. Frank Lenz, of Newport News, Va., governor of the 37th Rotary district, told of the founding of the Rotary Club idea, the growth of the organization and its purposes.

Mr. Lenz spoke before hundreds of his fellow club members who represented practically every town of eastern North Carolina large enough to have a Rotary Club. Among other speakers at the Inter-City meet were Rogers Davis, of Charlotte, a past district governor, and Guy Gundaker, of Philadelphia, international Rotary president.

Nearly 100,000 Members.

The Rotary organization, the speaker declared, now has nearly 100,000 members and 1,500 clubs. Rotary will keep on, he predicted, until every town and every nation "that can grasp Rotary and maintain a club shall have it."

"Quite an evolution," Mr. Lenz continued, "has taken place in Rotary since its inception, in fact its beginning had anything but unselfish motives attending it. The original thought of Paul Harris and his four associates was to constantly add to their small number desirable men of other businesses and professions for the sole purpose of broadening their acquaintanceships."

Service Above Self. "We had to search for the higher and more noble things of life, and to seek to serve others rather than ourselves, for only in so doing could the full measure of happiness be attained. And so the motto, "Service above Self" and the slogan, "He profits most who serves best," came into being, with the emphasis and service rather than on self or profit."

After referring to the work of Rotary clubs in carrying on boys work, aiding the crippled and performing other philanthropic tasks in illustrating what the functions of Rotary are and what the organization stands for, Mr. Lenz said, "You will find back of it all the still small voice of conscience awakened by a sense of duty, realizing full well that the strong must always aid the weak; the well equipped must help those not so fortunate. The urge is always to do our part; that's Rotary."

He quoted a resolution passed at the St. Louis Rotary International convention defining Rotary—"Rotary is fundamentally a philosophy of life that undertakes to reconcile the ever present conflict between the desire to profit for one's self and the duty and consequence impulses to serve others. This philosophy is the philosophy of service, "Service above Self," and is based on the practical ethical principle that "he profits most who serves best."

"To me," the speaker continued, "Rotary is simply the full consciousness of one's duty to God, to self, to fellowman and country, and the burning desire to fulfill that duty in the light of the Golden Rule to the very limit of our strength."

Headed to his explanation of Rotary with the terse statement, "Rotary is largely a state of mind, but it cannot perforce remain in an inactive state."

EDUCATIONAL MEETING

Greenville is indeed fortunate in having the honor of entertaining such a large number of guests as will be here on Friday and Saturday of this week, when the north eastern district, Education Association convenes. Principals, teachers and educational leaders from twenty-two counties will be in attendance and it is expected that it will be one of the greatest educational meetings ever held in this city. A cordial welcome is extended each and every one, "Our Greenville, Yours If You Come."

Each day's program will be featured with addresses by prominent men and educators and will no doubt be of invaluable aid to everyone attending. Such gatherings of people who have the teaching of the boys and girls of our state in their charge should receive the encouragement and support of every man in the community who has the welfare of the future generations at heart. It is to be hoped that the general session will be attended by a large number of the citizens of this community.

A man who lets others do his spiritual thinking, might as logically have some one select his wife.

THE NEED OF DAIRIES

Speaking of Greenville and one of its needs reminds me of a conversation that took place the other day:

"Why is it that some one doesn't put up an additional dairy in Greenville? I know the value of milk as a food and I want to give my children a glass each morning—my two little girls—and all the dairymen tell me that they cannot supply it."

This is but one of a long chain of just such conversations that have taken place in Greenville for the past two years, and as yet no one has answered.

The Pitt County Chamber of Commerce has constantly agitated more milk for growing boys and girls, not only in Greenville but thru-out the county, and, as a result, several cars have come into the county during the time.

Notwithstanding the work of the Chamber of Commerce in urging more milk, yet public opinion has not been sufficiently aroused to take such steps as would bring about this constructive measure—more dairies.

That dairies are remunerative to the proprietors can best be seen in localities where they have been given a fair, impartial trial. Furthermore, Chambers of Commerce in many sections, yea, even in large centers of population, have staged successful "Drink More Milk Campaigns," which resulted in an increased number of dairy cows to supply the increased demand.

A campaign for more milk could be put on in Greenville and make possible and practicable a 100 high-producing cow dairy. For some one this stands out as a real opportunity for getting on the ground floor of an enterprise the growth of which is obviously bright and inevitably coming.

How long will Greenville's mothers be denied the privilege of supplying their children with this authoritatively recognized food—pure, sweet milk?

When opportunity knocks at the door and finds there a greater knocker than himself, he passes on.

Every man thinks he has the ability to outline the duty of another.

Consumption of Horse Meat As Food Now Increasing In France

WASHINGTON—Consumption of horse meat as an article of daily diet is increasing in France, the Department of Commerce is informed, and the annual slaughter of horses is estimated at about 120,000 head. Of this number about 100,000 are of French origin, while the greater portion of the balance is imported from Great Britain.

The advantages claimed for horse meat are its comparative cheapness and nutritive qualities. Its sale is regulated by law to avoid its substitution for other meats and it is usually sold in butcher shops especially adapted for that purpose.

Woman, Children Took Part in The Bulgarian Revolt

SOFIA — Questioned concerning rumors current of summary executions of imprisoned Communists and alleged killing of their wives and children since the crushing of the recent revolution, Premier Tsankoff said: "I have no doubt there were excesses during the progress of the struggle for the restoration of order. As soon as rumors of excesses reached the ears of the government, however, measures were taken by the ministerial council to check abuses and insure strict observance of the law. Whenever evidence of illegality or cruelty could be discovered the guilty persons were immediately put under judicial process."

As to the rumors that women and children have been killed in considerable numbers, it was stated that a feature of the uprising was the large proportion of public school pupils who took part in it, rifle or revolver in hand. These have been treated as belligerents. The proportion of women who took an active part in the disturbance was equally remarkable, but an amnesty to women and minors is being generally extended.

German Brands Money Picturing Goethe a Sacrilege

BERLIN.—Dr. Heuer director of the Frankfurt Goethe Museum, says it is sacrilege to print Goethe's picture on the almost valueless paper money. Frankfurt recently issued a two-million mark note bearing the famous German poet's portrait, and similar money has been issued by other German cities.

When Goth was prime minister of the little dukedom of Saxe-Weimar he strongly opposed the issuance of paper money and used to say, "Paper money swallows at first the silver and then itself." In "Faust" Goethe made Mephistopheles the creator of sham paper money, thus showing the dramatist's contempt for that form of circulating medium.

LOST FOOT SAVING HIS DAUGHTER

Mr. & Mrs. J. A. Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hudson, of Seattle, have just returned to San Francisco from Yokohama, Japan, where Mr. Hudson had been in a hospital suffering the amputation of his foot as the result of the fall of a wall in Yokohama during the earthquake. He could have escaped, but was crushed when he rushed to save his ten-year-old daughter, who escaped unharmed.

SHARPE-WARREN.

Beautiful Wedding Solemnized in Immanuel Baptist Church.

The culmination of a number of autumn social functions, was the wedding of Miss Lynda Warren to Mr. George Graham Sharpe, of Burlington, which was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock in the Immanuel Baptist church. The church was beautifully decorated to carry out the color scheme of green and white. The altar and choir loft were covered with white, while southern ivy and ferns were used in profusion. Numerous tapers shed a soft glow over the happy scene.

As the many guests were assembling, Miss Mary Bertlett, at the organ, rendered an appropriate musical program. Just before the arrival of the bridal party, Miss Bessie Brown, gowned in old blue brocade velvet with black hat and carrying yellow chrysanthemums, entered and sweetly sang "All for You" in her deep, rich voice. As Lohengrin's wedding march pealed forth, the bridal party approached and proceeded to the altar, where they made a beautiful tableau during the ceremony.

First to enter were the four brothers of the bride, as ushers, Messrs. C. M., E. S., N. O. and W. B. Warren. They were followed by the bridemaid and groomsmen, who entered alternately two at the time and proceeded down opposite aisles. The bridesmaids were Misses Virginia Arthur, Helen Brown, Hennie Long and Mari Bonitz, of Wilmington, N. C., all wearing emerald green gorges frocks with black picture hats and carrying arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. The groomsmen were Messrs. John Stone, of Greensboro, Ralph Lewis, of Graham; Claude Long, of Burlington and Dewey Farrell, of Greensboro. Mesdames Harry Smith, of Weldon, sister of the bride, and R. H. Cartland, of Greensboro, as dames of honor, next entered. Mrs. Smith wore a velvet gown of old blue with silver trimmings, while Mrs. Cartland wore a crepe gown of old blue, beaded with silver. Both wore black picture hats and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Then came the maid of honor, Miss Mary Warren, sister of the bride, who wore gray georgette with steel bead as trimming and a blue velvet hat trimmed with ostrich. Her flowers were yellow chrysanthemums. Just preceding the bride came the little flower girls, Miss Eloise Sharpe, of Burlington, niece of the groom and Miss Marian Wilson, cousin of the bride. They were dainty in their little frocks of shell pink chiffon and lace and bandeaux of malin and carried silver baskets of yellow pom-poms.

The bride was lovely in an afternoon gown of sapphire blue panne velvet and black hat trimmed with plumes. Her bouquet was of bride's roses showered with valley lilies. She entered with her father, and was met at the altar by the groom with his best man, W. E. Sharpe, of Burlington, a brother. The solemn vows which made the happy couple man and wife, were spoken before Dr. T. H. Plimmans, the bride's pastor who used the ever beautiful ring service.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe motored to Rocky Mount, where they took the train for New York and other northern points. Her going-away gown was blue point twill, with which she wore a small black hat, champagne slippers and gloves and a black fur trimmed coat.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ollen Warren, Jr. Her lovable disposition and gentle manners, have endeared her to a number of friends. She graduated at the East Carolina Teacher's College and since has successfully taught in the Burlington school for two sessions. Mr. Sharpe is a prominent young insurance man, of Burlington. He has visited here several times, where he has won a host of friends. The popularity of the young couple was shown by the large number of handsome wedding gifts they received.

The following out of town guests attend the wedding:
Mr. W. E. Sharpe, Mrs. J. S. Sharpe, Mrs. J. L. Cook, Miss Eloise Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Sharpe, Burlington; Miss Sarah Canady, Oxford; Mrs. J. C. Powell, Raleigh; Mrs. Casey Holt and Mr. Herbert Steel, Burlington; Mrs. R. H. Cartland, Greensboro; Miss Marie Bonitz, Wilmington.

TRIUMPHS IN OPERA

MACBETH AS LUCIA

Amid scenes of greatest enthusiasm, Florence Macbeth making her season's debut in "Lucia of Lammermoor" with the Chicago opera company, was acclaimed as the greatest singing actress of the present century. Although her line of ancestry goes back to Macbeth, once King of Scotland, Miss Macbeth is proud of her American birth and of the fact that all her musical education has been at the hands of an American teacher.

ton; Mrs. D. S. Wilson, Jackson, Miss.; Mrs. Harry Smith, Weldon; Ralph Lewis, Graham; John Stone, Greensboro; Claude Long, Burlington, and Dewey Farrell, Greensboro.

MR. AND MRS. H. L. HOGES ENTERTAIN BRIDAL PARTY

Immediately after the rehearsal Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hoges, entertained informally with a beautiful reception complimentary to Miss Warren, Mr. Sharpe and their bridal party.

The drawing room, reception hall, library and dining room were attractively decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and potted plants carrying out the yellow and green color scheme. The bride's cake was arranged on a beautifully decorated table and much merriment ensued from the cutting. Miss Mary Warren cut the ring, while the thimble fell to Mr. Claude Long. The wishbone was cut by Mr. Ralph Lewis and the dime by Miss Marie Bonitz. The bachelor's button was never found. A tempting salad course with hot tea was served. An orchestra stationed in the rear hall rendered delightful music throughout the entirety of the evening.

MRS. GEORGE HADLEY HOSTESS TO PHILATHEA CLASS METHODIST CHURCH

On Tuesday night the Philathea class of the Methodist church held one of the most delightful meetings of the year with Mrs. George Hadley, in whose lovely home, glowed a warm hospitality, making each one happy to be present.

Mrs. Fred Forbes, the president, carefully arranged for the accomplishment of several matters of business after which the splendid program which had been planned was enjoyed and appreciated.

This consisted of several popular songs, by Misses Emma Mallison and Helen Higges, piano duets by Mrs. S. T. Whit and Mrs. Hough, and piano selection by Miss Louise Burton.

Then there was a spirited contest in the form of an examination on some Bible truths, with the result that the prize went to Miss Martha Lee Cowell. Dainty refreshments and a happy social hour closed a well spent evening.

Woman Says Paw Paw Freed Her From Highly Nervous Condition

"After using one bottle of Paw Paw Tonic, I can say without exaggeration that I have added years to my life," writes Mrs. A. E. Williams, 332 S. Blakely St., Dunmore, Pa. "I was in a highly nervous condition due to an attack of grip. I could scarcely do my housework. The least noise grated on my nerves and would drive me almost mad. Thanks to Paw Paw Tonic, I am once more back to my old self and I enjoy my work, sleep and rest like a babe. I ask all sufferers to employ Paw Paw Tonic if they wish to enjoy life." "WE'LL BE BACK" SAY THE CHILDREN

W. G. McAdoo and children.

William Gibbs McAdoo and his two children—Mary Faith (left) and Ellen Wilson, granddaughter of ex-President Wilson—were recent callers on President Coolidge. As they left the White House, Mr. Coolidge asked them "to call again." "Oh, we'll be back!" answered Ellen, whose father is a strong possibility for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency next year.

which is a contribution to all these things. The managements of the two motion picture theaters in Greenville would be happy to establish a worthy standard of pictures suitable for children. At White's theater on Friday afternoon at the request of the Woman's Club, "David Copperfield" will be shown, and it is hoped that every parent who is interested in his child's reading and of course, every parent is, will encourage him to see this picture which certainly appeals to boys and girls as well as adults.

Where a film is presented that is based on a well-known book, boys and girls not only read that book but often read all the books in the public library by the same author. Once there was a boy who read very ordinary books, but on seeing Charles Dickens' Great Expectations, he was aroused to an interest in Dickens and read every one of Dickens' novels and every scrap of biography of the author he could procure. From Dickens he went to Thackeray, and so his taste for standard books developed.

Odd Sized Cards And Envelopes Cause Trouble In Post Office

WASHINGTON.—The Post Office Department has renewed its campaign against the use of small and odd-sized holiday postcards. Postmasters have been urged to seek co-operation of manufacturers, dealers and the public generally in eliminating the objectionable sized mail matter.

These cards will not pass through the cancelling machines and cause much annoyance to postal employees during the busiest season of the year. The department requests that no cards or envelopes smaller than two and three-quarters by four inches be used.

Farm Crops Gain As Acres Decline, Survey Discloses

MADISON, Wis. — Agricultural production in the United States during the last decade has increased, although the number of acres in agriculture has declined, according to statistics compiled by the Institute for Research in Land Economics and public utilities, with headquarters here.

The study indicates a return of agriculture to normal conditions by the steady increase in population, and includes a comparison of the increase in population with the interest in land devoted to agriculture.

"The farm area increased only approximately nine percent from 1910 to 1920, and most of this was in the semi-arid states," the summary declares. "There were fewer acres in farms in 1920 than in 1910 in many of the states in the corn belt and in virtually all the states east of the Mississippi river.

"Part of this decrease is accounted for by errors in former enumeration, and in the south by failure to include woodland as a part of the farm area. The growth of cities, development of factories, industries, mining and the increase in highways and railroads account for the remaining decrease."

"More significant is the permanent reversion of farm land to forest and brush because it was not fit for agriculture," the summary continues.

"Throughout the eastern section, land has gone back to a more economical use. The last census reveals an increase of 5.5 percent in area of improved land but an increase of 36 percent in unimproved land. The increase in unimproved land is almost equal in acres to the increase in all farm land.
