The defense table was deserted during this latter part of the trial. M. M. Henderson, state highway commissioner testified that he obtained $2,000 from Mr. Brown of Louisville, Ky., to aid in Walton's campaign for governor. He stated that Brown was connected with a shirt manufacturing concern which supplied the Oklahoma state penitentiary.

FRANCE TO HOLD RHINELAND UNTIL TREATY FULFILLED

Ambassadors in Session Today Declare Break Has Been Avoided

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The French cabinet called together to consider agreement in principle reached this morning by the Inter-allied Council of Ambassadors, regarding the attitude to be adopted toward the German situation issued a statement to the effect that the cabinet unanimously approved the attitude taken by M. Poincare in the negotiations. The Council of Ambassadors reconvened at 6 o'clock this afternoon with all its members present but immediately adjourned postponing the meeting until tomorrow. The hour of tomorrow's meeting has not been fixed. The postponement is understood to have been in order to allow time for the British and Belgian ambassadors to receive word from their respective governments regarding the text of the note to Germany.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The first delegates to leave this morning's session of the Inter-allied Council of Ambassadors said that no rupture between England and France had occurred. Ambassadors stated they had agreed provisionally on measures regarding resumption of allied military control in Germany.

The conference adjourned after two hours discussion. The ambassadors came out of the meeting room looking much relieved and content but agreed that a break had been avoided. The agreement reached, it was stated, will be submitted to the French and Belgian cabinets this afternoon.

It was announced that the council would meet again this afternoon at which time it would discuss the return of the ex-Crown Prince.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Determination to continue to occupy Germany, until the treaty of Versailles has been executed and France's protection assured as expressed by Poincare in his speech at Neuilly yesterday applies only to the Rhineland and bridge heads according to a statement today. Decision concerning the Ruhr depends upon the agreement with Belgium.

NEUILLY, FRANCE, Nov. 19—Laymond Poincare, Premier of France yesterday served notice on the world that France is determined to remain in the Ruhr and the Rhineland until all clauses of the Versailles treaty are completely executed and the security of France is gained.

The Premier, who apparently was in a combative mood, added that new penalties against Germany would be imposed until full satisfaction from Germany was obtained.

No Disappointment. The Premier expressed no disappointment over the failure of the negotiations for the creation of a commission of experts to determine Germany's capacity to pay. He said France was firmly resolved she was quite capable of bringing Germany to terms.

"France is determined," said M. Poincare, "not to evacuate the occupied territories until the clauses of the treaty signed at Versailles have been completely executed and we are firmly protected against fresh policies of aggression."

German defiance of the treaty as regards military control and the return to Germany of former Crown Prince Frederick William called for penalties against Germany, the Premier declared, "and we shall take them unless we obtain satisfaction."

The occasion of the Premier's speech was the unveiling of a monument to the war dead at Neuilly. Great interest has been attached to the speech inasmuch as it was the first delivered by M. Poincare in the metropolitan district since he began his Sunday oratorical campaign. Today the Premier stated France's case more bluntly and went farther into France's demands upon Germany than he had done in the provinces. Hitherto he always had declared the Ruhr would be evacuated progressively in propor-

REV. LEE SADDLER CONDUCTS Y. W. C. A. TEACHERS COLLEGE

"The Call of the World to the women with great confidence and being Young of Today," was the subject of Mr. Sandler's talk to the students of East Carolina Teachers College.

Rosalind Muir, accompanied by Mary Lou Grier, sang "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

Mr. Sandler read eight verses from the twelfth chapter of Romans. He then made the emphatic statement that we are living in a world teeming with delightful possibilities. The violation of the basic principles of womanhood. There is a call for the one thing that the world demands is character. There is abundance of wealth and knowledge, of skill and of technique. But the commodity that is always in demand is genuine, old-time perpendicular, honest character. Character is the paramount essential for which this generation is looking.

The one thing which will sell yourself to the world to which you take yourself, Mr. Sandler stated, is to make your life in demand. Nothing can make life a success if it is lacking in character. In this world, with its thousands of voices that call for attention, one thing is supreme. One should allow nothing to stain his character, to destroy the basic principles of reality, to lower the ideals of life.

Training and equipment are the fundamental principles on which life must rest. There has come a revolt against foolish things. The youth of America will not permit a double standard, the one for men and the other for women. A generation of courageous womanhood is being born out of this turmoil through which we are passing. The false and artificial things are being thrown away. We now have the dearest-eyed, noblest type of womanhood that has ever existed, and men realize this and respect it. The virtue and real qualities and the character of womanhood are emphasized more than ever before. Progressively, men are looking to don to the reparations payments. "As much as we insist upon receiving reparations," declared M. Poincare, "we are no less determined to obtain our security. Germany for a long time has played fast and loose with the treaty's stipulations destined to guarantee it. She has paralyzed the action of the Inter-Allied Control Commission; she has been endeavoring to rebuild in secret her war weapons and to re-organize her military formations forbidden by the treaty.

SEVERAL RESPOND TO RED CROSS ROLL CALL DURING WEEK

Complete Returns Will Be Known During the First of Next Week

The Red Cross Roll Call, which has been in full swing here several days, has met with a generous response on the part of a number of Greenville citizens. The work has such a distinct humanitarian note in it, in that not only national needs are met and provided for, but Pitt county's individual children are covered and given a helping hand, until it causes the strings to loosen as the matter progresses.

Unless taken care of through Red Cross Funds, expended by the executive committee and through the Pitt County Welfare Department, a large number of our own children will continue to be deprived of their inherent right—the right to reach normal manhood and womanhood and to take their rightful place in the social order and to contribute towards the sum total of progress, happiness and every beneficent enterprise.

Dr. Paul Fitzgerald, local chairman, stated this morning that the complete returns would be known during the first part of next week. In the meantime, some of the committees will complete their territory and be ready for the final count.

In the effort to see every person and extend the privilege of contributing towards such a worthy cause, it may be that some one has been overlooked. Such a person or persons are asked to see any of the general committees, whose names are given below, and who have labored faithfully for a successful drive:

- J. L. Little, B. W. Mostley, R. C. Fitzgerald, J. B. James, H. A. White, J. H. Waldrup, Paul Fitzgerald, K. T. Cutrell, A. B. Corry, Dave Moore, J. J. Gaskins, C. J. Ellen, A. M. Schultz, Curtis Parkins, H. L. Smith and Mrs. I. S. Ragadale; Mrs. N. S. Fulford, Mrs. J. H. Blount, Mrs. J. M. Hine, Mrs. Claude Grant, Mrs. E. B. Ficklen, Mrs. J. G. Woodward, Mrs. J. E. Winslow, Mrs. Sam White, Mrs. R. J. Cobb, Mrs. J. L. Kilgo.

Typhoon From Pacific Sweeps Over Luzon And Visayas Islands

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 19.—A typhoon from the Pacific ocean has swept over Luzon and Visayas island and all rail and telegraph communications have been entirely suspended. Manila is partially under water as a result of the heavy downpour and boats have replaced motor cars in the streets. The storm has also done considerable damage to the crops.

The rainfall which was accompanied by high winds has totaled over 16 inches. Wires were torn from the poles by the wind and rain and roads have been washed out. Many ships scheduled to sail from here were kept in port by the storm.

Y. M. C. A. Work Being Carried On In High Point Now

HIGH POINT, Nov. 19—Although High Point's Young Men's Christian Association Building has not been completed, funds for the structure having been raised only several months ago, active Y. M. C. A. work is being carried on in the city with Edgar Hartley, secretary, supervising it. Mr. Hartley was appointed secretary shortly after the Y. M. C. A. work was launched. He announced last week that he expects 50 local boys to attend the Older Boys' Y. M. C. A. conference at Greensboro, November 30 to December 2.

OUR GREENVILLE, YOURS IF YOU COME

Again the Greenville spirit asserts itself and opens her homes to the teachers of eastern North Carolina. It is understood from the Chamber of Commerce that a ready response was given to their call for rooms for the District Convention of the North Carolina Educational Association, which convened here last Friday, and that a number of rooms on the available list were not called for.

One of the teachers was heard to say: "I know something of Greenville and you more than make good your slogan: 'Our Greenville, Yours If You Come.'"

Others were heard to say: "You Greenville people have done everything possible to make our stay pleasant. We hope the convention will meet here next year."

The value of a convention of this kind to a city is indeed difficult to estimate. Think what it will mean to have the more than 100 teachers go back to their homes and have kindly word to say about the cordial manner in which they were received.

If advertised as a value, thoughtful citizens will not deny its value—then from this standpoint alone, Greenville was repaid many fold for making possible this gathering.

Then again brought to our very doors were able addresses, some of the state's representative leaders, which, if the convention had not convened here, would have been denied our people.

Since it has been clearly demonstrated that Greenville can adequately care for a convention, let there be a greater effort on the part of the Chamber of Commerce to work for more conventions.

BOOKS FOR THE CHILDREN

If North Carolinians make a poor record in a census of those who read books, it is largely because North Carolina boys and girls are not more often turned loose in good libraries. The libraries in home, school, or town have either too few books of any kind or too many that are not attractive to children.

No one questions the fact that good books scatter the seed of culture, of high ambition; that they nourish the seeds of genius. But in fact, this influence of books is very largely ignored, and that is why last week was observed as Children's Book Week.

As the winter season comes on, parents take care to provide for the bodies of their children warm clothing and nourishing food; but unfortunately in too many instances the minds of the men and women of tomorrow are left to get what inspiration they may by accident. The wise direction of one's child's reading may be worth more to the nation than all the products of mines, fields, forests, and factories, throughout a century. Let parents not overlook that opportunity and responsibility.

GERMAN SHIPPING IS SUFFERING FROM FINANCIAL COLLAPSE

HAMBURG, Nov. — Germany's ship-building activity was short-lived. The terms of the Versailles Treaty, which deprived Germany of all her large commercial ships, brought many shipyards into existence and started a general construction boom. But the collapse of the mark, with consequent difficulties between labor and employers, and the troubles builders found in financing purchases of raw materials, called a sudden halt.

Germany had to give up to its former enemies all of its ships larger than 1,600 tons and half of its ships with a tonnage of between 1,000 and 1,600. Only ships suitable for coastwise shipping remained.

Roughly a total of 4,000,000 tons of German shipping was turned over. As there had been a heavy loss of German ships in the war, there were only 600,000 tons left after the terms of the Versailles Treaty were executed. New ships were built, and Germans bought ships back from their former enemies until the German merchant fleet now has 2,600,000 tons of bottoms which is less than half the prewar size, and less than 5 percent of the merchant shipping of the world.

The government gave large sums to encourage ship-building, supplying two-thirds of the cost. But German money fell in value so rapidly that government appropriations depreciated before construction was completed on many of the ships. Iron and coal prices in Germany rose higher than world prices, and the general depression of world trade caused many ships to lie idle in German harbors just as elsewhere. Shipowners today are scarcely able to make operating expenses, and have nothing left for building programs. German exports are now worth only about 100,000,000 gold marks monthly, which is about one-tenth of the pre-war figures.

Shipping circles are hoping for a resumption of the American grain trade to Europe and a general improvement in the world trade situation as an offset to the hard blow which the German internal situation has struck at shipbuilding and ship operation.

Kansas City to Shelter Annual Livestock Show

KANSAS CITY. — The American Royal Livestock Show, which opens here November 17 for a run of seven days, will occupy more than 10 acres of floor space in the $600,000 building erected last year to house the exhibition.

The show will draw 2,000 head of cattle in the car-lot section alone officials said. These animals are ready or nearly ready to be converted into prime beef, and will be shown in the open stock yards. In the breeding classes of beef cattle, more than 300 head each of Herefords and Shorthorns and more than 100 head of Angus cattle already are entered.

The showing of 150 head of milk Shorthorns, arranged for the exhibition, will be an innovation as this will be the first time this type of cattle has been displayed at any national show west of the Mississippi River. Floor space also has been set aside for the dog and pet stock shows.

The horse has not been forgotten. Draft horses and many head of saddle, roadster, driving hunter and jumping horses, many of the latter two classes entered by the United States Army, will be exhibited.

This year a new department has been added, in which members of all accredited boys' and girls' livestock clubs in the United States will have an opportunity to exhibit the result of their club work. An interstate prize competition is promised.

Roy Chapman Andrews, renowned scientist and explorer, leader of the American Museum of Natural History's expedition to the Gobi Desert, in China, declared upon his return to Seattle, Wash., that his party had discovered in Asia, the "Paleontological Garden of Eden." The skeleton of the newly discovered "beluchiteerium," or browsing rhinoceros, and one of a gigantic dog, with a 3-foot head and an 18-inch jaw, were also brought back for the New York museum.

RALEIGH, Nov. 19 — With the vari-colored leaves flaking down from the trees and Thanksgiving less than two weeks away, the turkey season is in full swing and housewives and also housewives' husbands are watching turkey prices.

The agricultural market, reporting wire, extending throughout the south and passing through Raleigh, now is carrying frequent daily reports concerning prices and shipments of turkeys, live and dressed at the principal markets of the country. So North Carolina folks looking forward to selling or buying Thanksgiving turkey can find out what prices they should pay or be paid by a request to the Division of Markets, the Department of Agriculture, Raleigh, N. C.

Friday, reports received by the Division of Markets, stated that cold storage reports indicated that there were five million pounds of turkey in refrigerators throughout the country, while at the same time last year there were but three million pounds on hand. Big dressing plants in Texas, it was reported from Austin, were paying a price of 22 to 23 cents a pound to farmers and that it was indicated they would reduce these prices. From Philadelphia came the report that the demand for turkeys was not active, but strong enough to keep the market moving prices ranging from 45 to 50 cents for live, per pound and 64 and 65 cents for dressed. New York reported live turkeys unchanged at 40 cents a pound.

ALUMNAE OF TEACHERS COLLEGE ENTERTAINED

The Alumnae of East Carolina Teachers College of Pitt county and those attending the meeting of the Education Association were entertained on Saturday afternoon by the alumnae who are in residence in the college. Miss Pattie Dowell, president of the Alumnae Association and a teacher in the college, presided. Some business was attended to, but most of the afternoon was given up to social features.

President Wright welcomed the guests and spoke with deep gratification of the success with which the graduates of the college are meeting in their professional careers. One superintendent, he said, had already requested fifty graduates from this grade's class for the schools in his county. He presented in brief outline the building plan some of which are being carried out now.

Mr. Austin extended to the graduates the offer of the continuous services of the appointment committee, of which he is chairman. There are frequent calls for experienced teachers and for strong teachers, who can do supervising work.

New members of the faculty were introduced and welcomed to the college family.

Music was furnished by the college orchestra.

Joseph H. Pratt To Deliver Address At Forestry Association

CHAPEL HILL, Nov. 19. — Col. Joseph Hyde Pratt, director of the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey, will be one of the speakers at the forestry, reclamation and immigration conference in New Orleans, Nov. 19 to 22.

This conference, national in scope, will assemble to consider means and recommend legislation for reclamation and land settlement in the arid lands of the west, as well as the more extensive areas of swamp and cut-over lands in the south.

Reclaiming measures to be considered by the conference, Col. Pratt said today:

"For twenty years the west has been the beneficiary of a great deal of assistance from the federal government in irrigating millions of acres of arid desert lands. Legislation was passed by congress because southern representatives and senators combined with those from the west to make this land reclamation possible.

"Today the south feels that it too should share the federal aid in this matter, and that through this means millions of acres of swamp lands in southern states can be reclaimed for profitable agricultural purposes. It is estimated that the cost of reclaiming land in the south will be from one fourth to one half the cost for such work in the west.

"The south has 76,000,000 acres of unused lands more fertile and far easier of development than the arid sections in the west.

"North Carolina with its 600,000 acres of land reclaimed by its drainage districts financed through bonds, affords to the south and the country as a whole a practical illustration in a relatively small way of what can be done in reclamation."

You can get the most food value out of wheat by eating bakings that are made from good plain flour. A dependable baking powder must be employed or you do not get the full nutritious value of the wheat—nor will your bakings be as palatable and easily digested.

The same results cannot be had if you use Self Rising Flour, which are improperly packed in porous cotton sacks or bags, thus allowing absorption of moisture from the air. Food authorities and physicians agree that bakings that do not raise properly are bad for health. Such foods are hard to digest and in time cause stomach trouble.

Mothers who are interested in the proper growth and health of their children (and all mothers are) should never use anything but a good brand of plain flour and a time-tested leavener such as Calumet—the economy Baking Powder.

Calumet has more than the ordinary leavening strength. It raises every baking to its height of nutritious value. It is pure and dependable—do not look for a substitute—there is none.

Use Calumet and be positive of wholesome nutritious and economical foods.

Dicie Howell Will Sing At Teachers College Tonight

Dicie Howell, in her recital at East Carolina Teachers College this evening at 8:30, will sing the best and most charming songs in her repertoire. She knows what the people like in music, the sweet, tuneful melodies as well as the brilliant ones, and has on her program a number of English songs. She is noted for her pure diction, every word in these English songs rings clear so that the story and poetry are followed with the rhythm and mood of the music. The classical songs she will sing are the fine old favorites that grow richer and more beautiful every time one hears them. Among these are: Handel's "On, Sleep; Why Dost Thou Leave Me?"; Mozart's "Allahuia"; Liszt's "Lorelei, Schumann's "Meine Rose"; The Bird Song from Paganini, and one of Schubert's songs. She will also sing a group of French songs.

The English songs are these: "Wind flowers," Werner Jost; "The Unforeseen," Cyril Scott; "Fairy Tales," Erich Wolf; "A Brown Bird Singing," Haydn Wolf; "Come with Me," H. T. Burleigh.

Charles G. Vardell will accompany her at the piano.

The price of admission is one dollar. Seats will be on sale at the door for some time before the hour of the recital. During the afternoon they are on sale at the Station-Horne Drug Store.

TRIBUTE

"We shall be a lot better for you. There will be a glamping down."

The passing out into the great beyond of Mrs. Charles Cobb has left a vacancy in our midst. The span of life is over, the page of our record is no more.

We are reminded of the words found in St. Matt. 23 chapter 23 verse. "Therefore ye also ready for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of Man cometh." Mrs. Cobb was sitting at the machine when the summons came, but she was ready to answer the one clear call.

She spent many years of her life for the Master. She loved her church and its many activities, and she enjoyed attending church service, Sunday school and her Missionary Society.

She was a faithful member of the Epworth class No. 1 of First Methodist church, therefore we commend her to God.

First—That all the members of this class will pray for the soul of the departed.

Second—That we try to imitate her in the things she did.

Third—That a copy of the solutions be sent to the bereaved family, The Daily Reflector and a copy be spread on the minutes of our class record.

Thanksgiving Game Brings Morris' Football Career to End

CHAPEL HILL, Nov. 17 — The shrill blast of the referee's whistle that will put an end to the annual struggle between Carolina and Virginia Thanksgiving Day will also bring to a close the football career of Captain "Casey" Morris of the Carolina varsity eleven.

On Dr. T. J. Wilson's registration list of 2,124 students is recorded the name of Roy W. Morris, but on the Carolina Campus that name is about as meaningless as that of the inconspicuous freshman. The name "Casey" Morris, however, is the sort of human trademark that will always be a synonym for the best in Carolina athletics.

He is the second student who ever captained both the football and baseball teams at the University, the other Ronney Stary back in 1906. "Casey" was captain of the baseball team last year, when four Carolina victories were attributed directly to his home runs. When the Carolina eleven won from Virginia last fall the squad picked him to succeed Bill Blount.

When he hangs up his baseball togs next spring there will be left to be filled two big pairs of shoes, one with spikes, the other with cleats.

LAUGHS APLENTY IN BIG COMEDY; CAST FINEST YET

When James Cruze's admirable picturization of Harry Leon Wilson's novel, "Ruggles of Red Gap," featuring Edward Horton, Ernest Torrence, Lois Wilson, Fritz Ridgeway, Charles Ogle and Louise Dresser, is shown for the first time here at the Whit's theatre today, picture fans will see not only one of the most delightful comedies ever produced, but a cast of players of such merit as has seldom if ever been assembled for any picture production of the current season.

Edward Horton, popular stage and screen leading man, plays the title role of a valet, who is Americanized. He was chosen as Ruggles because he is the ideal type to handle the delicately shaded humor of the part to perfection.

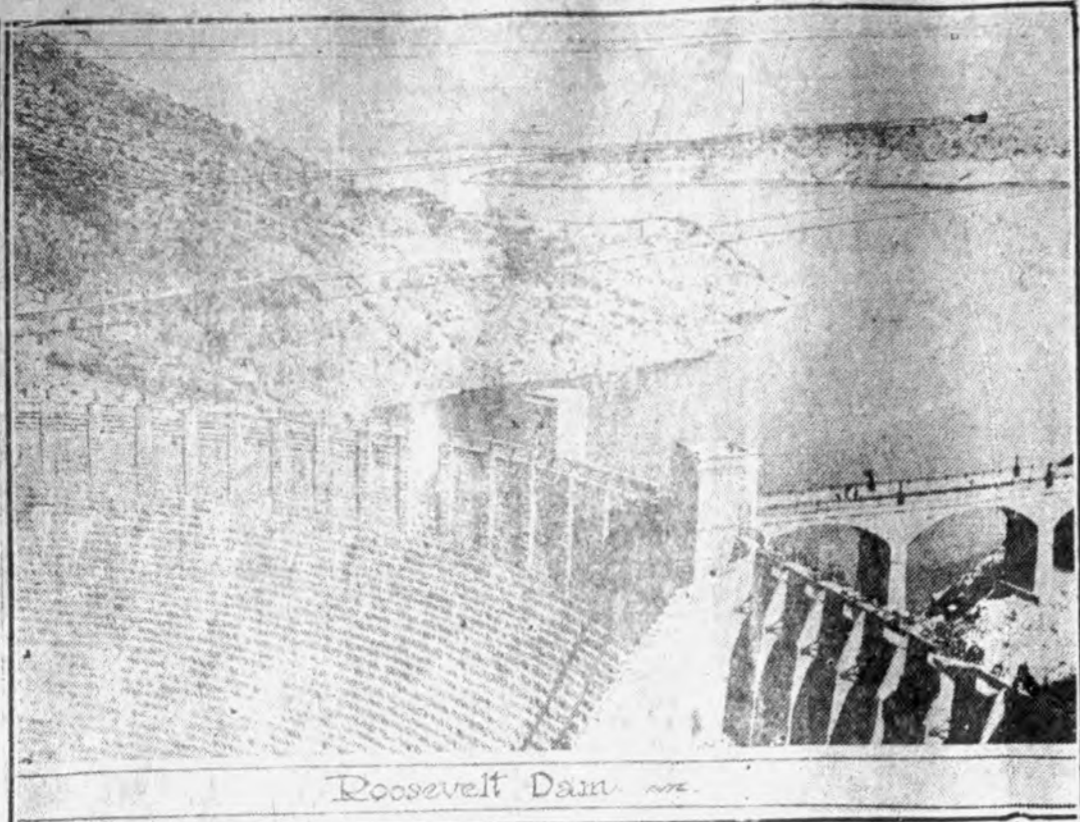

Ernest Torrence, famous screen character player, who made an immense hit in "The Covered Wagon," was cast in the equally important role of Cousin Egbert, a rough and ready Westerner who hates the refinements of high society, while Lois Wilson plays Klondyke Kate, the daughter of a saloonkeeper who has no social aspirations but, nevertheless, becomes the wife of an English Earl.

No man knows better than James Cruze the importance of a powerful cast. Consequently his selection of the other featured players — Fritz Ridgeway, Charles Ogle and Louise Dresser — is a recognition of merit of the highest caliber.

Harry Leon Wilson's story, "Ruggles of Red Gap," attained its popularity because of its truly human comedy cloaking a theme of vital importance. It is this theme which, adapted by Walter Woods and Anthony Coldewey, has developed into a picture story absorbing interest, always amusing and with powerfully human.

Other players in the big cast include William Austin, Lillian Leighton, Anna Lehr, Frank Ebbot, Thomas Holding, Kalla Pastar, Sidney Bracy, Mill Brown and Guy Oliver, all screen players of recognized ability.

TRANSFORMS DESERT INTO FERTILE FARMLANDS

Roosevelt Dam

Above is pictured the world-famous Roosevelt Dam, near Phoenix, Arizona, one of the greatest irrigation projects ever undertaken, as well as one of the greatest engineering feats. This immense dam has transformed thousands of acres of arid desert into fertile farmlands and has opened a way to a new center of settlement in the great Southwest.

child in the country equal opportunity with the town. "The time should come when no public school in North Carolina will turn a child back anywhere. The chief business is democracy and democracy is the business of education. A Hindenburg line of wealth has been set up in North Carolina that has caused social stratification." The richer communities turn away the children for the poorer communities because they have not the price of tuition. The cities have gone ahead, and nothing should be done to check their progress, but they should not draw around themselves a line. The people of the country are coming to town so that the children now from the country will be the citizens of the towns tomorrow, so there is a real incentive for the towns to help educate the children from the country near by.

He would not have anything to interfere with the local initiative or that would discourage localities from helping themselves but those unable to give the best opportunities to the children should be helped, and all wealth should be placed the same burden of taxation. As it is now one county has to levy three times as much taxation in order to get six months school as another has to get eight months, and there should be an equalizing tax burden for the maintenance of equal terms.

Grammar Grade Dept.

The grammar grade section had the privilege of listening to an illuminating talk from Dr. E. C. Brooks giving inspiring and practical suggestions in the teaching of citizenship. His talk proved that his ideals of citizenship expressed in his address on Friday evening could be practically developed. The schools are the laboratories for making citizens, and all subjects are to be used for the purpose.

The theory was further proved by the demonstration lesson Miss Pattle Dowell gave with the seventh grade of the Model School in which she taught citizenship through geography. A round table discussion of grammar grade problems was led by Miss Maycie Southall, supervisor of Pitt county schools. Mr. L. C. Brogden led on the topic "training the child to study." A number joined in a discussion of the reading problem. Miss Mariam Lytle showed how to make exhibits valuable. She used for illustration an exhibit her fourth grade at the Model School is preparing to send to a school in northern Michigan. A catalogue accompanies the exhibit.

Demonstration Sessions.

The primary teachers had three interesting demonstration lessons. Miss Tolson, teacher of physical education in the college, had some children from the Model School give some games that teach citizenship. Miss Eleanor Huske, of the Evans Street school, taught a class of Arithmetic through games. Miss Agnes White-side, primary Methods teacher in the college, taught a language lesson based on a phase of citizenship, and a discussion led by Miss Parrott, of the State department followed this. Mrs. T. E. Johnston, of the State department, gave some valuable suggestions for the use of the state course of study.

Art Teachers Meet.

The Art teachers held a most interesting meeting Saturday morning under the leadership of Miss Kate Lewis, chairman. Miss Susan Fulghum, of the state department, talked on picture study. Mr. H. B. Smith, superintendent of the New Bern schools, and Miss Mollie Hath, of New Bern, spoke of the effect of art study on the other school work, showing that it is an inspiration as well as of great practical value.

Home Economics Department.

The Home Economics department had a round table discussion of various problems that confront the teacher of this subject. Miss Margaret Edwards, state supervisor of Home Economics, was leader of this.

Last General Session.

At twelve o'clock all the departments assembled for the general session which closed the meeting. In addition to the special features reported above, two matters were presented. Miss Hattie Berry presented the cause of co-operative credits. President Wright, as director, spoke on the National Education Association, which will meet in Washington City next summer. Secretary of Commerce, H. L. Smith, was introduced to the visitors and thanks extended to him and the town because of the excellent services rendered by housing the guests.

The people returned to their homes in the twenty-two counties no doubt feeling that they had spent two exceedingly profitable and pleasant days
