BIG FIGHT APPEARS CERTAIN GOP RANKS OVER HOUSE LEADER

Graham Expected to Be Strong Opponent Of Longworth

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 — The candidacy of Representative William J. Graham, of Illinois, for the Republican leadership of the next House in opposition to Representative Longworth, of Ohio, was announced formally last night after a conference of Representative Graham and a number of his supporters, means fight. The announcement is interpreted as assuring a vigorous contest for floor leader at the Republican organization conference December 1. About a dozen representatives from almost as many states and sections participated in tonight's conference. It was declared in the formal announcement of Representative Graham's candidacy that the confirmation of Representative Gillette of Massachusetts, for Speaker, and Representative Longworth, for floor leader would not recognize properly the various sections and interests of the nation. The announcement said: "Graham, of Illinois is a candidate for Republican floor leader. His candidacy will be vigorously supported by members from every section of the country who believe that the proposition of Gillette for Speaker and Longworth for floor leader does not give proper representation in the organization to the various sections and interests of the country. The great agricultural and progressive West has no desire to monopolize, but it does intend to be duly represented in the organization of the House. This sentiment is not confined to the West alone, but permeates the whole body of the Republican party in the east and west alike. A vigorous contest in support of this program will be made, embodied in the candidacy of Graham for floor leader. Those behind the movement on behalf of Representative Graham are expected to center their fight on the floor leadership, and although Speaker Gillette is linked in the announcement with Representative Longworth it is expected that the opposition will be centered on Mr. Longworth.

CAUGHT RED-HANDED ROBBING THE MAILS

NEW BERN, N. C., Nov. 20 — "Ain't this a sight to be in on your 16th birthday," was the question popped at Postmaster Roy Schupp by Eugen Land, a white youth when he was caught red handed stealing registered mail from the United States postoffice here early Sunday morning. "Shoot me please; I can't go home and face my father after this," he pleaded, tears streaming down his face. For several weeks special delivery mail has been disappearing from the postoffice and complaints were pouring into the postmaster's office from many sources. When one clerk went off duty a few hours after midnight the next man would come on and find letters mysteriously disappeared. There was no clue left by the thief. Postmaster Schupp and his office force were at sea completely as far as finding the party responsible for the theft. Finally the postmaster decided to take a hand personally in the case and early Sunday morning went to the postoffice with Mr. Eubanks, a clerk, and armed with a .45 calibre pistol, mounted a steel ladder in the basement and climbed up into one of the secret chambers with which the walls of the office are equipped, to await developments. The watchers had not waited long when things began to happen. At 7 o'clock a form appeared at one of the outside windows. The screen on the window was lifted and a second later the sash raised. Land climbed through the window, lowered the sash, and walked across the floor, directly under the eyes of Postmaster Schupp and Mr. Eubanks, to a table where several special delivery letters lay. While the youthful robber was picking out the letters that he pocketed a few seconds later, Mr. Eubanks was dispatched to the rear of the postoffice. He slipped out through the cellar, came around to the rear of the building to open the back door just as Land was walking toward it. There was no idle or fight. The young thief made no effort to escape and a few moments later Postmaster Schupp was on the scene.

LADIES' NIGHT IS GREATLY ENJOYED AT ROTARY CLUB

Mrs. Jasper Winslow Responds to Address Of Welcome

Last night was ladies' night at the Greenville Rotary Club and proved an enjoyable affair for the Rotarians and Rotary-Ann. Following the course dinner were songs by the club and quartette after which came the introduction of B. T. Lee by Mrs. Charles Porter. Bill in eloquence with a touch of humor assured the ladies that this was one of the nights to which the club always looks with pleasure and that their presence was a joy to all the Rotarians. Haywood Dail introduced Mrs. Jasper Winslow who responded to Bill's address of welcome and expressed the delight of the Rotary-Ann at being again privileged to meet with the club. After the addresses President Bob Wright called for a roll call, each one present being asked to introduce the person on their right giving their name and occupation. Some of the entilements given were amusing and caused uproars of laughter throughout. J. B. Kattrell, who was called on for a stunt, presented each of the ladies a vanity box with which she could keep her nose from being shiny and a tape line with which to measure her husband's affection and sincerity. In turn he presented the men a key ring, in order that they could lock their contraband from their wives, and a vest pocket clothes brush with a caution to use it to remove all powder or stray hair from their coat lapels before returning home each night. At the conclusion of these presentations the quartette rendered a few selections and "Good Night Ladies" by the entire club brought the happy occasion to a close.

Next War To Be Won Or Lost On Munitions Reserves

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 — The next major war "will be won or lost on the sufficiency of munitions reserves," Major General Clarence C. Williams, chief of Army ordnance, predicted in his annual report made public today at the War Department. "I wish to emphasize the preeminent importance of adequate munitions reserves," General Williams said, adding that in view of the isolated position, highly developed specialized industries and immense resources of the United States it seemed "fairly certain" that no power or combination of powers now in existence "could successfully invade the country after American man power and industry had been fully mobilized. "The possible rate of mobilization will always be determined by the state of our munitions reserves," he said, "since man power can be mobilized much more rapidly than industry. From this point of view, taking into account the present economic development of the world, it may be said that the next major war will be won or lost on the sufficiency of munitions reserves." The war left the country with a large stock of reserves on hand, General Williams continued, but with the passage of time the value of these is decreasing "due to development of improved and more powerful types." There is also, he added, a deterioration in stocks of ammunition which "is very much more pressing" than the question of obsolescence of material. The report said that lack of funds during the last two years has prevented completion of the artillery development program worked out at the close of the war and that it has been possible "to cover reasonably well" in a contracted program only the gun equipment for infantry, divisional batteries and small caliber anti-aircraft weapons together with a quantity of tank. When the contracted program cannot proceed "to an effective degree" during the coming year under budget limitations, the report added. "The department has now been working on the program for four years and can see no hopes of developing for the service and getting certain designs under the limited program ready for production without substantial increase in the funds available," said General Williams. He added that work which could be done in one year by his department now required three years time to complete.

Monroe's Birthplace Be Made a Memorial

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 — The birthplace of James Monroe, in Westmoreland county, Va., now owned by a negro clergyman, is to be restored as a memorial to the expounder of the Monroe Doctrine. It is the plan of the society of descendants of James Monroe to buy the house which is rapidly being carried away brick by brick by souvenir hunters and make it a depository for other treasures and relics in connection with the Monroe administration.

Settlement Between England and France Has Been Reached

PARIS, Nov. 20—The meeting of the council of ambassadors called for 5 o'clock this afternoon has been called off according to announcement made shortly after 4 o'clock. The postponement was made because Lord Crew, the British ambassador, had not received word from his government owing to the stress of business. It is understood that instructions will be received before the meeting tomorrow. LONDON, Nov. 20 — British officials considered this morning that the difference with France over the return of the former Crown Prince and the resumption of military control in Germany had passed. It is expected that the Council of Ambassadors will reach a compromise unless some unforeseen obstacle interposes. It was pointed out that the only question now is the appropriate phraseology to be used in the note to Germany. It is forecast here that it will be along these lines: The proposed joint note will not be a formal ultimatum nor will it set a time limit in which Germany must comply with the requirements of the allied conditions, neither will it demand an immediate reply. Mainly in character it will set forth in stern terms the allied intention of an inspection of Germany's armaments in certain areas still under control of the Central government. Regarding the return of the Crown Prince the German cabinet will be held directly responsible for any acts or disturbances which should arise in an effort to restore the former monarchy.

GREAT INTEREST IS BEING MANIFESTED RED CROSS DRIVE

Miss Hubbard Writes Expressing Interest In the Great Work

In connection with the present Red Cross Roll Call it would seem to be most appropriate to mention a few extracts from a letter written by Miss Louie Hubbard, former Red Cross and Social Service secretary for the Pitt County chapter: "Please excuse pencil but I am flail of my back and must answer your letter with I just with I could do with a trip to Greenville and Pitt county, I hope you in any and every way I could wish the Roll Call." "Am sorry to say that I am not so well and have been put back to bed and have to stay there half of every day, and have been asked to stop all writing that was not absolutely necessary." "Mr. Furell, I just think of our planned work so often, that with the children I would have enjoyed more than any in all of Pitt county and then to think that I get sick, and, as far as I am concerned, will not be able to take it up again." In view of the work of Miss Hubbard, who now is in bed on account of her wonderful activity on behalf of Pitt county's children; ex-Servicemen, etc. can we afford not to do our very best? Greenville teams have practically completed their canvass. They are asked to finish at the earliest date. K. T. Furell, county chairman, states that Farnville, Ayden, Bethel, Weaverville, Grifton, Grimsland, Fountain, Stokes, Falkland and Paeletous are putting on their drive, this week and that fine interest is being evidenced in the drive. In speaking of the drive, Mr. Furell said: "I want every section of the good old county of Pitt to respond as a man to this Roll Call and make possible a record that we will be proud of. Also to make such a creditable showing that we can telegraph Miss Hubbard and make it news act bravely on her weakened body and bring recovery to one whose whole soul and personality was wrapped up in the people of Pitt county."

Golden Rule Sunday To Be Observed On Second of December

CHARLOTTE, Nov. 20—Plans for observance of "International Golden Rule Sunday" in North Carolina by the number 2, are taking shape today with the announcement that the entire student body of Davidson College is planning to eat the regular fare of the Armenians on that day—a slice or two of stale bread and a cup of thin soup or water. The Presbyterian Institution, under the leadership of J. P. Williams, Y. M. C. A. secretary, will also extend their activities to the town of Davidson, a student committee composed of Ernest Milton, Claude Macintosh, Wallace Purdy, A. Y. Bewie and T. A. Gupton, having been appointed to ask co-operation of every one. Briefly, Col. George H. Bellamy, state chairman of the Near East Relief, has followed up President Coolidge's appeal by asking every North Carolinian to observe Golden Rule Sunday by eating for dinner a slice or two of stale bread and a cup of thin soup or water and sending the difference in the cost of that and their regular Sunday dinner to the Near East Relief. Col. George H. Bellamy, state chairman of that great humanitarian organization, has asked all Tar Heels to do likewise. The money thus derived will be used to help feed the hundreds of thousands of refugees now destitute as the result of being driven from their homes by the Lausanne treaty. This should not be confused with the regular Near East Relief campaign in the various counties, which will come later. Col. Bellamy pointed out. The regular campaign will be for the support of the state's quota of 3,334 orphans. President Coolidge has asked for wide spread observance in this manner of "Golden Rule Sunday" two weeks from tomorrow and states that by eating a meagre Sunday "dinner" our people will be brought closer to the plight of the Armenians.

$40,000,000 Will Be Asked of Congress Enforce Prohibition

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—Appropriation of over $10,000,000 for enforcement of prohibition and narcotic laws was included in the treasury officials' estimate for the budget it was announced by prohibition officials here today. If the figures are agreed to by congress this will be an increase of more than $1,500,000 over the amount for the year ending June 30 next. The treasury plans recently submitted for an appropriation of $20,000,000 to be used for additional coast guard cutters and personnel together with the regular appropriation will make the total more than $40,000,000, to be asked for at the next session of congress for enforcement of the prohibition and illicit drug laws and to prevent rum-smuggling along the American coast. Prohibition officials did not disclose just how the increase would be used.

WALTON REMOVED FROM OFFICE BY THE STATE SENATE

Governor Found Guilty of 11 of 16 Charges Against Him

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 20—J. C. Walton, fifth governor of Oklahoma, was removed from office last night by unanimous vote of the State Senate court of impeachment, after 1 1/2 trial on charges of corruption in office, neglect of duty, moral turpitude, and general incompetency. A formal verdict had been found guilty of 11 of the 16 charges presented. The vote was 41 to 0. Six of the original 22 charges, constituting the impeachment bill, were dismissed by order of the court. The court, by a standing vote, denied a motion for a new trial, which Governor Walton's counsel filed immediately after the verdict was announced. The governor's removal, although not formally ordered until after a verdict had been returned on each charge, was made certain yesterday afternoon when the court found him guilty of abusing his pardon and parole authority, the first charge to be voted upon. Forty-one senators, lacking only one of the total membership of the body, voted for conviction. Senator Jack Barker, who has consistently voted in the governor's favor throughout the 16 days of the trial, was absent. The articles of impeachment, were filed by the lower house of the state legislature, which less than two months ago, the executive had dismissed by military force. By the removal of Governor Walton, Lieutenant Governor Trapp became governor. Trapp has been lieutenant governor during two four-year administrations and has been acting Governor since October 23, when the senate suspended Governor Walton after the filing of impeachment charges. The vote followed with surprising suddenness, the examination of the last witness, E. W. Marland, president of the Maryland Refining Company, had barely left the stand when W. E. Disney, chairman of the house board of managers, which conducted the prosecution, announced that the evidence was concluded. A few preliminary maneuvers and the a motion was made to vote first on Article 19, the emcey charge. The court sustained the motion and the prosecution summed up briefly the testimony introduced in support of the charge. When the roll was complete the clerk read the result and Chief Justice J. T. Johnson, of the State Supreme Court, who presided at the trial announced the verdict. "Guilty as charged in Article 19," the chief justice said. (Then followed in rapid succession verdicts on each of the remaining charges.

BRITISH WARSHIPS BREAK UP TRAFFIC IN RED SEA SLAVES

LONDON, Nov.—Although the slave trade is commonly supposed to have been suppressed all over the world, two British warships, the Clematis and the Cornflower, have been engaged in suppressing this traffic in the Red Sea for the last two years. Not only have they succeeded in stopping most of the Red Sea slave trade, but they have also stopped gun-running which was occasionally attempted. High prices are paid for slaves in this part of the world, who are generally captured from the coastal tribes and sold to the Arabs, who take their victims inland.

A communication from a member of the crew of the Clematis tells an interesting story: "We had spent a period of two years in the Red Sea," he says, "witnessing very varied scenes of tropical life, and experiencing the almost intolerable heat of two summers. The duties of the two Red Sea sloops are primarily to frustrate the diabolical trafficking of humans which unfortunately still continues to a much larger extent than one is led to believe. On one occasion a dhow was detained which had been thus trading, but it is to be regretted that the occupants successfully evaded capture and carried away with them the gold they received for their slaves."

"It was, however, an exciting incident, for when we first tried to board they opened fire on our whalers. This necessitated the latter returning to the ship, and we eventually fired about eight rounds at the escaping crew. On another occasion a dhow was captured full of slaves, boys and girls between the ages of seven and 17. It was heartrending to stand by and see the hungry mites ravenously attack the bread we gave them. The dhow's crew endeavored to escape by jumping overboard and swimming ashore, but were successfully captured, and hopes are entertained that they get their furf deserts."

U. S. STILL LEADS IN OIL.
WASHINGTON.—The United States produced almost two-thirds of the world output of petroleum last year, and Mexico slightly more than one-fifth, the Geological Survey reports. World production was 854,889,000 barrels, of which the United States supplied 557,531,000 and Mexico 18,78,000 barrels. In the 65 years, 1857-1922, world production of petroleum totaled 10,36,778,000 barrels. The United States furnished 62.3 percent or 459,582,000 barrels.

WASHINGTON.—Economists of the department of agriculture have completed a study of the average annual expenditures of a farmer's family in Livingston county, N. Y., and finds the amount to be $2,012. The purpose of the study, which will be extended to various parts of the country, is to determine whether farmers get "adequate returns in comfort, health and enjoyment from their expenditures" as compared with the industrial family.

Livingston county was selected as a general farming community of average prosperity. The most striking feature of the study, the department said, was the almost complete similarity found in items of expenditures of the two classes. About one-third of the farm expenditures was figured on items not involving direct purchase—food produced on the farm and unpaid labor. Of the total, the expenditure for food was 39.5 percent; clothing, 13 percent; education, recreation and church and social activities, 16 percent.

Automobiles were owned by 75.6 percent of the families and the cost of their operation and repair, classed under expenditures for "advancement," was $65 a year.

How Long Should A Corset Last?
If wisely chosen and properly cared for, the Modart Front Laced Corset will give perfect service for many, many months—at least until you feel it's time for another Modart.

And during all these months of wear it will continue to hold its shape, its daintiness, its flexibility and above all its comfort. This extremely long service is one of the foremost reasons why there are today more than a million women wearing Modart Corsets.

Greenville Highest Market in State

Our market averaged last week $26.36 which is highest average made in Eastern Carolina. Below we give government (sworn) averages made in October on the four principal markets in Eastern Carolina in 1922 and 1923. These cold facts and figures speak for themselves and show that Greenville, when we consider the character of tobacco offered on this market as compared with others, is decidedly the highest market in State.

Troubles of Paris Newlyweds Begin In Apartment Hunting
PARIS.—The lodging crisis is far from having passed in France. All newly married couples find it difficult to discover an apartment to suit them even if they are prepared to pay a good price. Doctors and dentists are also among the sufferers as landlords having the possibility of choosing their tenants bar those who are bound professionally to cause annoyance to the janitors by having a number of visitors.

This advertisement in an evening paper shows to what extent a young doctor may be driven to find a place to carry on his practice.
"Young doctor, unmarried, in position marry, wants one or two rooms in a family apartment in the district. Would pay a high price."
PARIS.—When Paris University students return to their studies for the winter term they will find their club-house has been overhauled and at the bar, a highly popular corner of the establishment, they will be furnished with general meals at the astounding price of two francs and a half, or somewhere around fifteen cents at the present rate of exchange.
As these meals include wine or beer, it is a mystery how the students association can supply them at such a modest rate, with the high price of foodstuffs at the present time. The menu will comprise one hors d'oeuvre, meat, a vegetable and dessert or cheese.

Ratification Decision On Opium Pact May Take Several Years
GENEVA.—Fifty nations are awaiting the ratification of the opium convention by Switzerland, and they will have to wait many months, perhaps years, before a decision is taken. The question is not a federal but a cantonal one, and at present 22 Swiss cantons, not including three half-cantons, are "considering" the Basel is described by those endeavoring to suppress the opium traffic as having become the largest poison den in the world. Basel has great chemical factories employing many thousands of workmen, and the Swiss government, which is already responsible for more than one hundred thousand unemployed, is apprehensive of approving the treaty which would increase their number.

DICIE HOWELL IN FINE RECITAL AT COLLEGE

The recital by Dicie Howell, at East Carolina Teachers College last night, was a rare treat for music lovers. She is a great artist. She is not merely a singer with a glorious voice but a thoroughgoing musician who is combining with her singing and shows that she has worked constantly and intelligently to perfect herself in her art.

HER REPERTOIRE RANGES FROM THE Dainty lovely "Fairy Tales," by Edith Wolf, to the triumphant "Alleluia," of Mozart and the dramatic "Bird Song" from the opera "Gliac."

The "Alleluia" gave her listeners an idea of her why she has made such a reputation as a choir and oratorio singer.

THE GROUP OF ENGLISH SONGS NEAR THE END OF THE PROGRAM WERE PERHAPS MOST PLEASING TO THE AUDIENCE AS A WHOLE.

Many liked best the alluring old German folksong "Die Lorelei," Schubert's rippling water song was the favorite of others. She sang with great power the descriptive song "Die Mornecht" by Brahms. The tilt and rhythm of the French songs was pleasing, especially the funny little Duck and the Shepherd dance. The brilliant aria with which she closed the program was perhaps the climax of the program.

MISS HOWELL'S DEBUT IS REMARKABLY CLEAR AND FINE. HER PHRASING SHOWS HER MUSICALSHIP. HER LOW NOTES ARE RICH AND FULL AND HER HIGH NOTES CLEAR AND SUSTAINED.

She gave descriptive comments on many of the foreign songs which added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening.

MR. CHARLES G. VORDELT PLAYED THE ACCOMPANIMENT WITH GREAT SYMPATHY AND UNDERSTANDING.

The audience was so sympathetic one there were present many friends who have followed with great delight her growth from a school girl to an artist with a wide spread reputation.

THE TWO LITERARY SOCIETIES OF THE COLLEGE ARE DUE A VOTE OF THANKS FROM THE COMMUNITY FOR BRINGING MISS DICIE HOWELL HERE.

Each year they bring some artistic or literary treat to the town.

CHEERFUL WORDS

For Many in Greenville, Household To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed—to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders, is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. The following advice of one who has suffered will prove helpful to hundreds of Greenville, readers.

Mrs. J. J. Nobles, 110 Washington St., Greenville, says: "Some years ago I was had off with my kidneys and back. This trouble had me, feeling miserable, all the time. When I was around on my feet, my back pained so badly I couldn't stand it. It ached all the time, and I couldn't lift anything or bend over without a sharp shooting pain through my kidneys, which made me dizzy. Speeches floated before my eyes and my kidneys didn't get right, either. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills which I bought at the Warren Drug Co., and two boxes relieved me of the trouble."

"But, now—what a change! I have gained fifteen pounds, have a wonderful appetite and feel fine all the time. I enjoy singing and dancing like I used to. And I owe the change to Paw Paw Tonic. It has given me plenty of pep and energy and my former trouble has seemed to have gone entirely. It certainly is a fine tonic."

Sign Post Bears Witness To Famous Courtships

RINGER, England.—This little old village gave to the world the wives of John Harvard and William Penn, and a sign-post to tell the passing motorists of this fact has been erected. It was dedicated recently by George Harvey, the American Ambassador.

John Harvard, founder of the University which bears his name, married the daughter of John Sadler, vicar of Ringer, Penn married the daughter of Sir William Springett, whose name for a century preceding had been linked to this village, and whose blood has come down, in unbroken line, to the giver of the sign-post, Lady Demetriadi.

Many Queer Proposals Received By League

GENEVA.—Strange ideas prevail with some people as to the functions of the League of Nations. In more than one country it is regarded as a tourist agency. A Scotchman wired from Glasgow asking the League to reserve a room and bath in the best Geneva hotel and buy him a ticket to Rome. An American cabled asking for the names of good American dentists in Milan and the Hague, "as he would soon visit those cities."

Many people get provoked if their grandiose schemes are not attended to promptly. An Englishman wrote an indignant letter complaining that the council had not yet given due consideration to his unflinching scheme to determine the weather in all parts of the world months in advance. Cranks the world over flood the League with weird projects.

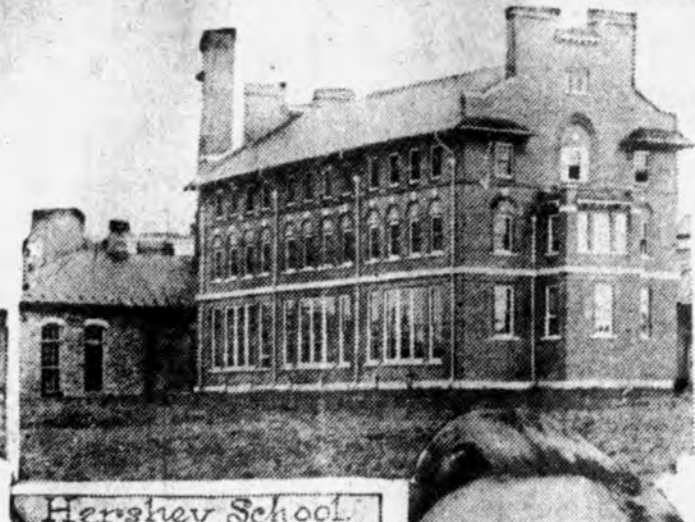

Rhode Island Red Hen Lays 558 Eggs In Past Ten Months

RALEIGH, Nov. 20.—Five hundred and fifty-eight eggs in ten months from January 1 to November 1, this year, is the record of a Rhode Island Red hen at the Mountain Branch, near Swannanoa station of the North Carolina Experiment station, according to reports received here and announced today. Another Rhode Island Red hen, it was reported laid 236 eggs in the same period and both of the chickens are still laying. Egg counts were kept by means of trap nests.

Speaking of the trap nesting tests at Swannanoa, Dr. B. F. Kaupp, head of the poultry investigation work of the North Carolina State College and the department of agriculture, said, "We started the work with 100 single comb Rhode Island Red pullets last winter. Sixteen of these pullets have laid over 200 eggs each during the year; nine have laid between 213 and 258 eggs, with two laying 258 and 236, respectively. This shows some of the results being secured by our poultry workers in developing high production fowls, as we generally consider the Red as a utility fowl used for both meat and eggs rather than for eggs alone as in the case of the L.ghorn."

Under Dr. Kaupp's direction, the experiment station is conducting poultry investigations both at Swannanoa and the Coastal Plain station near Willard. These tests are in addition to the work done at the large central plant on the State College farm near here. As a result on his tests and investigation work, Dr. Kaupp is gaining much recognition as a poultry expert. He recently was asked to present a paper on some of his investigations on the control of fowl typhoid before the Southeastern Veterinary Medical Association. This month he will attend a meeting of the American Association of Instructors and Investigators in Poultry Husbandry at New York city, where a study will be made of papers and exhibits to be sent from the United States to the Second World's Poultry congress at Barcelona, Spain. Dr. Kaupp was selected as one of ten educators to represent this country at the congress.
