SENATOR LODGE IS AGAIN CHOSEN TO LEAD OLD GUARD

Progressives Decline To Attend Conference of G. O. P. Regulars

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—All members of the senate's progressive bloc absented themselves today from the republican senate conference at which party organization was perfected with the re-election of Senator Lodge, Massachusetts, as leader. The question of the election of a resident of the senate did not come up before the conference, leaders adhering to their plan on the assumption that Senator Cummins, Iowa, retained his office as president pro tempore of the senate without the necessity of formal election.

Senator Cummins will call the senate to order next Monday.

Senator Curtis, Kansas, was re-elected vice chairman of the conference and party whip, and Senator Wadsworth, New York, secretary. Senator Lodge was authorized to name a committee on committees. These officers of the senate were re-elected: George A. Sanderson, secretary; David S. Barry, sergeant-at-arms and the Rev. J. J. Muir, chaplain.

Members of the bloc who did not attend the conference included Senator La Follette, Wisconsin, recognized leader, who is confined to his home by illness; Senator Norris, Nebraska; Brookheart, Iowa; Prazier and Ladd both of North Dakota. Senator Borah, Idaho, and six others were also absent.

Huckleberry Finn, Roaring Comedy, At Strand December 5

Replete with humorous situations that could only be created by America's greatest author—Mark Twain—"Huckleberry Finn" one of the greatest stories of all times comes to the Strand theatre next Wednesday, Dec. 5, for one day only.

In the development of the screaming musical farce comedy the quaint and original humor of the book has been worked into the production. The story of "Huckleberry Finn" is whole some for grown-ups as well as the youngsters. The comedy has been well received elsewhere in the state and is said to be far above the average road show in merit.

BOY, 11, RUNS RED KINDERGARTEN IN NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—At the tender age of 11, Leo Granoff, undersized Eastside boy, conducts a private class in Radicalism for the boys and girls in his neighborhood.

Bomb squad detectives made this amazing discovery today when they investigated reports that the "Little Red" and 12 to 15 boys and girls under 14 years of age, were all being taught Radicalism. The boy was arrested a week ago when a patrolman found him at midnight sticking copies of "Red" songs under the doors of tenement houses near his home. He faces arraignment in Children's Court on this charge.

Police describe the boy as "precocious, cynical and a Red hot agitator." His mother, a widow views his activities calmly and so told detectives "the boy has a brain of his own, so let him use it."

Michigan Democrats Ask Ford His Stand

SAGINAW, MICH., Dec. 1.—Announcement that steps were to be taken to place Henry Ford's name on the Democrat's Presidential preference primary ballot has brought from a member of the party's state central committee a demand that Mr. Ford's stand on Democratic principles be learned first.

The demand was made by F. Frank A. Picard, member of the committee for the Eighth Congressional District, in a letter to Edward F. Bradford, who recently announced he would circulate petitions in Mr. Ford's behalf.

ASHEVILLE MAN ARRESTED FOR MURDER AFTER TWENTY YEARS

ASHEVILLE, Dec. 1.—Charles Gibbs, wanted in Attala, Ala., charged with killing a policeman there 20 years ago was arrested today after living the life on an exemplary citizen here for more than 18 years. He was turned up by a man who married the wife Gibbs is alleged to have abandoned. It was strange fate that brought to this city and established next door to the home of Gibbs, L. W. Puckett, who married Mrs. Gibbs, after newspapers carried reports of the death of Gibbs in a Tennessee coal mine, about three years after the killing in Attala. Gibbs' second wife died about a year ago.

H. E. AUSTIN TALKS TO KIWANIS CLUB ON EDUCATION IN CAROLINA; START CHILDS' CHRISTMAS FUND

H. E. Austin, delivered an interesting and comprehensive address before the Kiwanis Club last night on "A Study of Cost of Education in North Carolina and Put County." Mr. Austin covered every detail of the ground thoroughly and brought out numerous illuminating facts connected with the development of the educational system. Members declared it was one of the most instructive and informative discourses that the Club has enjoyed.

At the suggestion of W. E. Hooker, a fund was started for the benefit of children in the county who at Christmas might be neglected. Sixty-five dollars was subscribed and this amount will be increased. Distribution of the fund will be in charge of the welfare committee, which comprises Frank Harrington, W. H. Woodard, J. K. Brown, K. T. Futrell, E. G. Flanagan, B. W. Mosley, H. A. White were appointed a committee to solicit memberships in the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce. The visitors included: L. W. Watts, June Rose, R. T. Burnett, Mr. Ives, Prof. R. C. Deal.

Mr. Austin's Address

The address of Mr. Austin in part follows: The average tax payer who thinks the schools of North Carolina and his particular county are costing too much money because he finds there was spent for all school purposes in North Carolina last year above five times as much as we spent ten years ago never has the information at hand that will enable him to form a fair and correct judgment in the matter. He knows nothing about the increased load the schools are carrying. These who talk about high and wasteful expenditures for public schools in North Carolina and Put county, as a rule fail to compare the expenditures in this state with other states; the county with other counties. "We are still considerably behind the national average in the amount we spend for teachers' salaries and for other school purposes. It costs the state of North Carolina 28.3 cents to send one child to school for one day. The national average per pupil per day is about 49 cents. So it will be seen that we are not running away with wild extravagance in North Carolina. You and other tax payers should have this information. I think I know North Carolinians well enough to know that they are disposed to do the right thing and can be depended upon to do the right thing when they know the facts.

Diamond Declines To Aid the Police In Search for Gunmen

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Barlow Diamond, one of the eight suspects arrested for the murder and robbery of the two West End Bank messengers in Brooklyn, November 4, today refused to accompany detectives through the slums in quest of the two gunmen the prisoners accuse of actually having fired the fatal shots. "Have a heart," he begged. "That's like handing me a death warrant without trial. You don't know the guys, why (naming the more notorious of the two gunmen) would kill me in front of you and get away with it. Between stickups and jobs where he has been paid to get men out of the way, he just goes out and takes whoever happens to be in it."

West Virginia Horse Sells For Five Cents

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., Dec. 1.—Horse flesh reached its lowest market value in Preston county recently, when an auctioneer at Terra Alta, when bidding was slow, promised to "knock off" the next offering to the first bidder. The bid was 5 cents and the bidder led the nag away. Under the same arrangement another horse sold for 10 cents. The county has gained the reputation for holding the banner cheap market for horses. At a sale at Kingwood recently it is stated one horse sold for a quarter, another for half a dollar and a third for 75 cents.

SHORT SKIRTS TO SHOW ANKLES IS FASHION DECREE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 1.—The return of the short skirt was predicted here today by David N. Mosessohn of New York, presiding officer of the annual convention of the Associated Dress Industries of America. "Advice from Paris," he said, "has stated that the dress of the fashionable woman should be eight inches from the ground." In conversation circles this word from Paris was taken as assurance that the short skirt would come back in the very near future. A movement is afoot to put the convention on record as opposed to the marketing of prison-made wearing apparel, and manufacturers will be asked to co-operate with Chambers of Commerce in agitating for legislation against such competition.

State Would Gain New Congressman Under Proposed Bill

SAYS HE ROBBED U. S. $75,000 IN STAMPS DURING FOUR YEARS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—A confession that he has systematically robbed the postoffice department of stamps valued at more than $75,000, after nearly 25 years' service, was obtained today, according to federal authorities, from Herman B. Davis. He is at liberty in $25,000 bond, after a signed confession, which was submitted to the authorities he admits having planned the thefts and carried them over a period of four years. ## THE COMING CONGRESS

Next Monday at noon the 68th Congress will convene in regular session for a term which is expected to last far into the summer months, and certain contingencies may continue until near the approach of the general elections.

On the eve of the presidential and congressional campaigns it is always the fond hope of the statesmen-politicians to "clean up and get away" as soon as possible, but experience has shown that it is not always feasible. We can vision the Senate and House republican leaders nodding respectively to the respective chairmen of the appropriations committee, too, with the suggestion, "You'd better keep 'em pretty busy with appropriation bills."

Too much legislation in a campaign year seems to be regarded as a hoodoo by the politicians. In this conclusion they are very correct. Probably it can be likened to the motto ascribed to President Coolidge as his own, "What I do not say cannot hurt me." Yet there can be such a thing as inadequate legislation, leaving the party in power open to criticism for non-performance. It is difficult to see how this congress can escape action upon tax reduction. The people are clamoring for it, and in spite of the attitude of republican leaders the issue cannot be dodged.

Secretary Mellon has the country all "kicked up" by his announcement of the possibility of a material reduction in federal taxes. The people "rose to it" like a hungry bass to a minnow, and the press picked it up eagerly. It is noted that a caravan of old fashioned prairie schooners is to journey from Ohio to Washington working up sentiment for tax reduction, economy and simplicity—a kind of Coxe's army. They will be supposed to impress the lawmakers.

It will probably be several days before the organization of the House is completed, owing to adjournment for the late President Harding, and longer for the Senate. It is the best judgment in Washington that Speaker Gillett will be elected speaker of the new House. The flurry over floor leadership between Representatives Longworth and Graham has been settled by giving the latter important committee assignments. Whether that short lived contest will leave any scars remains to be seen.

Congress has been away a long time. The country enjoyed a well deserved rest from the turmoil of useless talk and political claptrap. It is the hope of a majority of the people that this session will be a business congress. That it will get down to business in the interest of all the nation and forget for once every advantage that might possibly be turned to partisan use.

With the phonograph, the piano player and the radio, what excuse is left the isolated farmer for not enjoying a noisy evening at home?

King Tut's tomb is being photographed again; after the 3,300 year delay, it will require a lot of photographing to make up for lost time.

By the time the customs officials finish with Prince Joussouff, bearer of the Russian crown jewels the phonics of that gentleman's name will just about describe his condition. He will be both used up and off.

Germany is to substitute the "rentenmark" for the rotten mark.

Forward your holiday packages early and avoid mail and express service congestion.

Governor Pinchot is beginning to find out how hard the hard coal question is.

Huntly Gordon Quits As Broker To Be An Actor

Huntly Gordon, who plays the leading role in the Reginald Barker production of "Pleasure Mad," a Metro picture, now showing at White's theatre, is one of those actors who had to overcome a fear that acting wasn't "respectable" before he was able to go on the stage.
