COLDEST WEATHER IN SEVERAL YEARS ALL OVER SOUTH

Zero Temperatures Experienced; Four Persons Injured Explosion

Greenville had the coldest wave Saturday night and yesterday in many years. The thermometer was nine degrees above zero Saturday night and part of Sunday, but registered ten above yesterday afternoon. Much damage has been done to water pipes and flowers.

Zero Weather at Roanoke. ROANOKE, Va., Jan. 7. — The thermometer here registered zero for the first time since 1918 and the cold wave accompanied by strong wind sweeping in from the northwest made travel almost impossible. Automobiles were found disheveled in every street as a result of the zero weather and communication was seriously interrupted by the snapping of telephone wires due to contraction from the cold.

Coldest Weather in Gastonia. GASTONIA, Jan. 7. — Gastonia awoke this morning to the coldest day since 1918. In nearly every home there was either a burst or tightly frozen water pipe or a cracked automobile radiator. In many instances kitchen and bathrooms were flooded and plumbers have been on the jump all day. Some families had to do without breakfast until the man of the house found somebody in the block whose water pipes were not tight or cracked. Thermometers around town registered various degrees of cold, the reports ranging all the way from 6 to 12 degrees.

Mrs. Morris Painfully Hurt. RAEFORD, Jan. 7. — How one could escape alive under these circumstances is the question everybody is asking today in Raeford. Mrs. A. R. Morris knows something of T. N. T. although she never saw an ammunition plant nor a front line trench. After kindling a harmless fire in her kitchen range to prepare Sunday morning's breakfast, the confined steam in the fire box cut loose like a long range shell and did sudden havoc, blowing ice, soot, ashes, boiling water and the dismembered parts of her stove in every direction, leaving no part or parcel of the kitchen intact.

Mrs. Thornton Injured. MULLINS, S. C., Jan. 7. — Mrs. O. F. Thornton, of this place, is now in the Mullins Hospital as a result of an explosion in her kitchen stove, due to frozen water pipes. The explosion occurred around 9 o'clock yesterday morning. One of Mrs. Thornton's hands was blown almost completely off and she has numerous other injuries. She is a sister of Lieut. Gov. W. B. Cooper, of Wilmington, who was immediately notified of his sister's trouble. Mrs. Thornton is the mother of Miss Lucile Thornton, of Greensboro College and of Miss Blanche Thornton, who is a teacher at Lowell, and of Miss Thelma Thornton, who is a teacher at Cary.

Two Injured in Roanoke. ROANOKE, Jan. 7. — D. J. Smith and his 16-year-old son, James Smith are in a critical condition at a local hospital as a result of an explosion of a hot water boiler in their home yesterday. It is believed by the police that the water in the boiler had frozen and when an attempt was made to build a fire in it the boiler exploded. The father was blown through the brick wall of the basement by the blast. The son, standing near the boiler, was knocked unconscious and was severely scalded by the boiler water that poured out. The boiler itself was hurled a distance of 40 feet smashing windows in the ad-

Steamship Georgia Aground Fla. Coast

SAINT AGUSTINE, Jan. 7. — S. O. S. messages from the Steamship Georgia reporting the vessel aground in a rough sea on Mantilla reef opposite Saint Augustine Inlet were picked up by the government wireless station here about 8:30 o'clock this morning. The messages stated that two of the vessel's water tanks were full but that the bottom bolts were holding. The rudder and rudder post, said the message, were gone. The report also stated that despite an exceedingly rough sea the vessel was lying easy. A later radio message from the Georgia said that the rudder was not lost but that the rudder post was gone. The message stated that nothing other than tug boats would be able to render the Georgia assistance as the water on the reef was too shallow. The message did not state where the Georgia was from nor its destination.

Many Tar Heels Marry In South Carolina Now

GAFENEY, S. C., Jan. 7. — North Carolinians residing near the South Carolina border came over the South Carolina in large numbers last year for marriage licenses, according to records of the judge of probate of Cherokee county made public here today. 1,522 licenses were issued of which one half were taken by North Carolina couples. Gafney is in Cherokee county, just a few miles south of the border line. Why the place should be so popular for North Carolina couples seeking to be made as one is beyond the ken of Judge Lake W. Stroup, of the probate court.

joining house. Windows in the residence were shattered and the walls weakened to such an extent that the building was temporarily condemned until a closer inspection could be made. Hopes are entertained for saving the life of the father, but the condition of the boy is considered by the attending physicians to be almost hopeless.

SUMTER PHYSICIAN BANKER IS FOUND DEAD IN BATH ROOM

SUMTER, S. C., Jan. 7. — Dr. Archie China, physician and vice-president of the First National Bank, of Sumter, was found dead in the bath room of his home here about 8:30 this morning, with a bullet wound in the left side of his head. No weapon was found, however, either in the bath room or the adjoining room, when the neighbors were summoned by the adopted daughter of Dr. China. Upon discovery of Dr. China's body it was also learned that Mrs. China was in an unconscious condition. Physicians attending her said that she has not been able to make any statement whatever.

A coroner's jury has been empaneled but the inquest will not be held until this afternoon. Investigation showed that Dr. China's bed had not been slept in last night. His body was partly dressed when found. The physician, banker was said to have been enjoying good health recently.

Weather Coldest In Five Years Is Now Moderating

CHARLOTTE, Jan. 7. — Moderating in temperatures after the coldest 36 hours in five years is reported from virtually all points in North Carolina today. Though in many cases the mercury is still below the freezing point, the weather bureau forecast of "slowly rising temperatures" causes the belief that the backbone of the cold wave has been broken.

The lowest temperatures reported to the weather bureau here was from Asheville, where the thermometer showed a reading of 4.8 degrees below zero yesterday morning, which was .7 degrees warmer than in 1917 when the mercury dropped to 5.5 degrees below zero. Winston-Salem reports the lowest to have been 4 degrees below, while Greensboro reports 4, Raleigh 7, and Charlotte 5 degrees above zero. Salisbury reports a temperature of 6 degrees above zero at 6 o'clock this morning. The weather bureau reports that the coldest temperature here last night was 16 degrees above zero and that it has been steadily climbing since daylight.

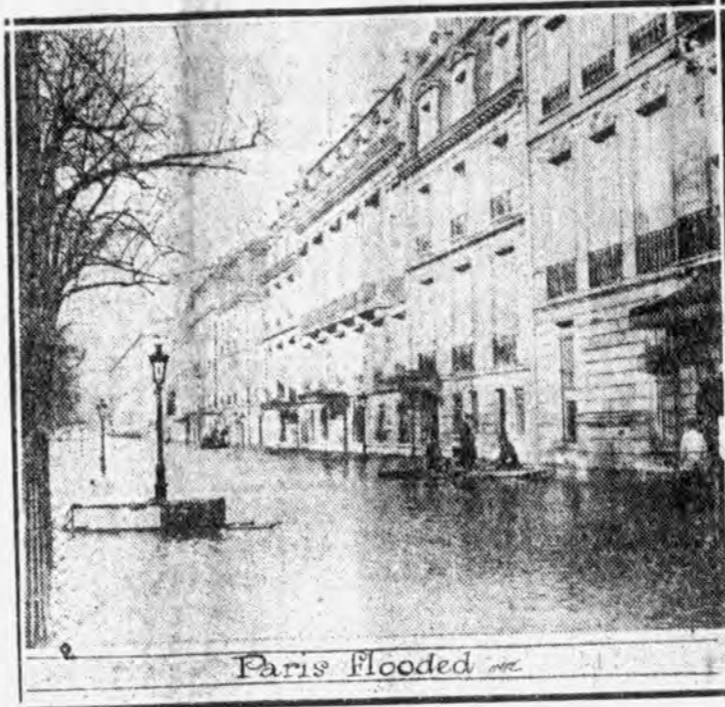

Ask Food Profiteers To Try New Gallows

UNTERROTH, Bavaria. — Moved by his growing antipathy to profiteers of all kinds, a local resident named Anton Prestele has erected a gibbet for them in this little town, and now invites the delivery of offenders. "The demand for a gallows has been supplied," Anton says in his announcements; "it remains only to send in the criminals. I would prefer those who have increased pre-war prices three and four fold, and who insist further upon payment on a gold mark basis."

Korea Badly Damaged By Tidal Waves, Floods

NEW YORK. — Reports received by the Presbyterian Board of Missions from missionaries in Korea show that that country suffered heavy damage during the latter part of 1923 from floods and tidal waves. A large part of the country was inundated and thousands of homes were swept away. The regions outside the submerged sections were visited by storms which caused the total destruction of rice fields, and these did not yield a grain of food. An added destructive force was a giant tidal wave, which surged inland and swallowed up entire villages. It swept large boats into village streets and cut a new beach line 50 to 100 feet further inland from the original shore line, the new line standing straight up like palisades. Many Presbyterian churches were washed away and others collapsed after being weakened by the floods and storms.

This photograph, taken when the present serious flood in Paris began, shows the finest residential section of the French capital inundated. The picture was taken on the Avenue Montague, at the intersection of the Champs Elysees.

Bandits Escape With $10,000 Worth Jewels

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. — Three bandits forced an entrance into the fashionable Seventh avenue apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Richmond early today and escaped with $10,000 worth of jewels. The robbery was perpetrated in a manner similar to the one on last Thursday when the apartment of David Palter was looted of $1,000 in jewels.

Fort Caswell Now Being Dismantled

WILMINGTON, Jan. 7. — Fort Caswell, at the mouth of the Cape Fear River, and a fortification which figured largely in the early history of North Carolina, is being dismantled by the United States government. Within the past few days two large loads of guns and projectiles have been removed from the fort to Charleston, S. C., and it is reported here that dismantling of the fort will be continued, the ordinance supplies being transferred to Fort Bragg, N. C.

Fire Destroys Cotton Oil Plant Lillington

LILLINGTON, Jan. 7. — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Lillington plant of the Farmers Cotton Oil Company early today. The loss was estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000 partially covered by insurance.

Rocky Mount Puts Bar on Shingle Roof

ROCKY MOUNT, Jan. 7. — Decision of the board of aldermen was taken this week banning the shingle roof on future buildings constructed in Rocky Mount. Action was taken to reduce fire hazard and lower insurance rates, it was said. Under the terms of the new ordinance, shingle roof damaged by more than 20 per cent may be replaced with shingles and no new construction of this sort will be allowed.

Free Clodfelter Of Charge of Assault

GREENSBORO, Jan. 7. — Taken before Miss Dorothy Law, of Elon College Saturday afternoon, D. Clodfelter, young white man, was released of the charge of assault lodged against him last Tuesday night. The young woman, who was the victim of an attempted criminal assault while crossing the campus of the college Tuesday night, said that he is not the man who attacked her. Clodfelter was brought here Tuesday night and lodged in Guilford jail for protection, feeling being high in Elon College. Since then Guilford officers have been waiting for Alamance authorities to send for the man and take him before the young woman for purpose of identification, but no action was taken until this afternoon when Alamance officers came to get him. No other arrests have been made in the case. Lack of definite clues make case a baffling one.

ATTEMPT MADE TO ASSASSINATE M. KEMAL PASHA

ATHENS, Jan. 7. — A Mitylene correspondent of a Greek newspaper telegraphs the announcement of an unsuccessful attempt made to assassinate Mustafa Kemal Pasha, head of the Turkish Republic at Smyrna. The hand grenade intended for Kemal, injured his wife, according to the report.

Sales Manager Commits Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7. — George A. Rooth, sales manager of a milling company here and prominent socially, shot and killed himself last night as police entering his apartment to arrest him in connection with the serious injury of Heber Tiden, prominent clubman, who was struck last night by an automobile as he alighted from a street car.

Coast Guard Cutters Fail In the Search Battleship Louisiana

NORFOLK, Jan. 7. — The old battleship Louisiana which broke her moorings at sea Saturday night and has been adrift since with a skeleton crew aboard was sighted about 10:50 o'clock this morning, according to reports from the coast guard cutter Manning this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — Coast Guard Cutters Manning and Mouscatin and the mine sweeper, Owl, had failed early today in their search for the dismantled battleship Louisiana, which broke adrift with seven men aboard Saturday night as it was being towed from Philadelphia to be scrapped in accordance with the Arms Limitations Treaty.

Charged Jumping Board Bill, Bound Over County Court

Police court was featured this morning by the hearing of several cases all of a varied nature. The session consumed only a short time with the following cases being disposed of: Will Moore, charged with jumping board bill with intent to defraud Mrs. Bertha Croom out of $155.00 board, plead not guilty. He was bound over to county court under $200.00 bond. J. E. Powell, charged with jumping board bill with intent to defraud Mrs. Bertha Croom out of $155.00 board, was bound over to county court under a $100.00 bond. Henry Fleming was found guilty of allowing dog to run at large and paid cost. John Langley, paid cost for blocking traffic by parking car in middle of Fifth street in the business section. Harvey Otterbridge, was found guilty of assault and fined $10.00 and cost. Alonza Grady charged with receiving, transporting and possessing intoxicating liquors for the purpose of sale was bound over to county court under a $300.00 bond.

International And Domestic Issues Before Congress

Democratic Tax Substitute Presented by Garner; Hill Replies to Upshaw on Prohibition; Lodge Supports Hughes' Contention for Non-Recognition of Soviet Russia

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — Congress, still waiting on important tea, viobhfi emtwyp sard shrdluu legislation from its committees, had the way cleared this morning for discussion of important domestic and international issues. Speeches will be heard in the House while in the Senate the question recognition of the Russian Soviet government will be up for discussion.

Chairman Lodge, of the Foreign Relations committee, will open the discussion with an address in support of the administration's policy of non-recognition while Senator Borah, of Idaho has planned to reply in support of recognition. Members of the Ways and Means committee which has been working on the Mellon tax bill, have been allotted time in the house for the expression of their views on revenue legislation. Representative Garner, of Texas, ranking Democrat on the committee, has prepared to elaborate on the Democrat's substitute for the Mellon plan. Representative Frear, of Wisconsin, leader of the Republican Insurgent group intends to go into details of what he thinks should be done in amending the present law.

Democratic Tax Plan.

The following is the plan in brief as outlined by Representative Garner. Fix normal income tax rates at two per cent on amounts of $5,000 and under instead of three per cent under $4,000 as Mr. Mellon proposes and of four per cent under existing law; four per cent from $5,000 to $10,000 instead of six per cent above $4,000 as recommended by Mr. Mellon and of eight per cent under existing law; six per cent on all amounts in excess of $10,000 instead of eight per cent under existing law. Start the surtax graduation at one per cent on incomes from $12,000 to $10,000 instead of $10,000 to $12,000 as proposed by Mr. Mellon and $6,000 to $8,000 under existing law. The rate would increase progressively to a maximum of 44 per cent on incomes of $92,000 and more as compared with the Mellon proposal for a maximum of 25 per cent on incomes in excess of $100,000, and the present maximum of 50 per cent on incomes of more than $200,000. Increase the exemption of the head of a family from $2,500 to $3,000 and for a single person from $1,000 to $2,000. The Mellon plan would continue the present exemptions. Fix the reduction allowed on earned incomes at 33 1-3 per cent instead of 25 per cent, as recommended by the Treasury Department, and broaden the provision so as to include farmers owning and personally operating their farms and merchants and tradesmen who combine capital and personal service for the purpose of earning income.

Prohibition Row Threatens. Another row over prohibition threatened to developed today when Representative Hill, of Maryland made a sharp answer to the address last week by Representative Upshaw, of Georgia, who demanded that all government officials, high and low, strictly observe the Volstead law. In making his reply Mr. Hill declared that violations of the Volstead law in Georgia were flagrant and continuous. "Mr. Upshaw and his anti-saloon leaguers," Representative Hill declared, "cannot enlist the public sentiment in Georgia to enforce the Volstead act." He asserted that the Georgia representative was not qualified to speak on "Majesty of Law" because "he sits in the house in direct violation of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution."

In making his charge Mr. Hill said, I am not making an attack against the suffrage laws of the south but I am charging those who are sitting here as a result of them should not charge law violations to those who by legal means are attempting to seek legislation to right the evils. Mr. Hill said that he was elected to the house from a district where one out of every five persons voted while the ratio in Mr. Upshaw's district was one out of every forty four or 2.75 per cent.

Urges Non-Recognition Russia. The administration's policy of non-recognition of the present Soviet Government of Russia was vigorously supported in the Senate today when Senator Lodge, of Mass., leading Republican and chairman of the Foreign Relations committee, read an address of over 3,000 words on the subject to the Senate. Mr. Lodge quoted extensively from public records and documents showing the interlocking of the Soviet government and the Communist International and brought out stronger than ever his support of Secretary Hughes' contention for non-recognition of a party of communists internationalists whose aim was to cause revolution and overthrow the American government. "In my judgment," said Mr. Lodge, "it is no time to give Soviet Russia the official recognition and approval of the United States and invite their official representatives to come among us and under diplomatic shield seek to break up our own organization, attack American laws and kindle a flame of riot and disorder throughout the country. "Obsta Principia," said Mr. Lodge, "is an ancient and wise rule and never more needed here than at this time when we are asked to recognize not a people or a country but a government which is an insidious enemy and working against all the principles and beliefs of the American people."

Sues Register Deeds For Issuing License To Girl Under Age

NEW BERN, Jan. 7. — Suit has been brought in Superior Court here by J. H. Harris, of Vanceboro, for $200 against S. S. Brown, register of deeds for Martin county. Brown is charged with issuing a marriage license for Miss Mamie Harris and Ernest Boyd of Vanceboro, and the father alleges that the girl was under the legal age. The law provides that he who issues a license to an underage person shall pay a fine of $200 and thus the amount of Brown's suit.

Motor Cars In State Increase 60,000, Said

RALEIGH, Jan. 7. — An increase of more than sixty thousand automobiles and trucks were registered in the state during the six months period ending December 31, 1924, over the same period in 1922 according to figures made public by Secretary of State W. N. Everett. Total collections during the calendar year ended 31, 1923 amounted to $6,642,503.20. The figures showed that 226,500 automobiles were registered in the months period, 31,300 trucks and 1,300 motorcycles.

Bandits Attack Monastery.

KIEFF. — Monks resisted strenuously when a group of bandits recently broke into the most famous monastery in Russia, the Peshorakaya Lavra, near here. The Father Superior, Dobiansky, was killed in the fighting but the bandits were forced to flee without taking any spoils.

Astronomers Forget the Past.

UTRECHT, Holland. — At the international meeting of the directors of meteorological institutions it was unanimously agreed to re-admit German and Austrian astronomers into the organization. Professor Hergesell of the Berlin University has been named as Germany's representative.

LET YOUR WISHES BE KNOWN

There was presented before the Board of Aldermen at the last meeting two petitions for the privilege of erecting filling stations, one at the corner of Fifth and Cotanche streets and the other at the corner of Greene street and Dickerson avenue.

Knowing that as usual there would be more or less opposition to these two projects the board deferred action until its meeting of January 17 in order that the public might have a chance to make any protests which they desired. The members of the board are your servants but they cannot carry out your wishes unless you let them be known. If you favor or oppose the erection of these two new filling stations, you should avail yourself of the opportunity of saying so at the meeting of the board as our councilmen will base their action entirely upon the wishes of the people. If you have an opinion in the matter and do not let it be known, don't criticize the board if it takes contrary action to that which you prefer.

RADIO EDUCATES THE PEOPLE

The educational value of the radio to families in their homes and on the farms is becoming more fully appreciated. From one western broadcasting station people in 114 cities and towns, and thousands of farm homes in the country enjoy daily entertainment lectures from great educational centers scattered over thirty-one states are heard from one super-station.

A family in Ferndale, California hears concerts from Portland, Oregon, and farmers at Livingstone, Montana enjoy concerts from Des Moines, Iowa.

The pleasure that a whole family gets from nation-wide music and lectures is intensified by the fact that they have been deprived of these things until the discovery of the radio.

LIFE WITH PLANTS AND ANIMALS

People who have never tried life on a farm have no idea of the satisfaction that comes to a normal minded man or woman from living with growing things. There is a wonderful sense of companionship in farm animals. The man who treats them kindly finds they are warm friends, and there is something almost human in the response that they give to the considerate master.

Even the flowers and vegetables in the garden seem almost to have personality. They make a grateful response to the effort put forth to rescue them from weeds and to give them water in the dry times, and seem to say, "Thank you," by redoubling their effort to grow and flourish. There are many rewards of happiness in this contact with nature, which is more satisfying than artificial pleasure.

Guess the fellow who has been wishing for winter weather will be around now to tell us how glad he will be when spring comes.

The Secretary of State reports an increase of 60,000 motor vehicles in the state in 1923. With a 3c per gallon gasoline tax it is easy to see who is paying for our road building.

While the cold wind has charge of the local course the golfers ought to have a chance to catch up with some of the work that was laid aside during the recent warm days.

Some say 5 some 4 and some zero but anyway it is low enough for us regardless of what it reads.

Hot air over the anthracite situation may be keeping Congress warm, but it is not helping the public much during the present cold wave.

Local merchants would do well to follow the examples set by merchants in other cities by offering reductions in an effort to cut down their large winter stocks. Don't wait until cold weather has passed and there is no demand for winter goods.

Armed Guards Protect Trillions Paper Money

BERLIN, Jan. — Banks in Berlin are having as much difficulty these days as are bakers in keeping their hungry customers satisfied. All day long their telephone brings in insistent demands for paper money. "Hamburg must have twenty thousand trillions tomorrow," is a typical message.

The money is all distributed from the Reichsbank, irrespective of where it may be printed. Small wagons constructed like iron-cages, travel on rail through the building and carry the money, the actual distribution of which is directed from one room. It is packed in large bags, carefully sealed. Two thousand consignments leave the Reichsbank daily.

While in the bank building the paper is stored in a heavily armored cellar which is practically an underground town, with scores of avenues and passages. This cellar is cluttered up with money of such small denominations that it was never issued because of its slight value. Thousands gave way to millions rapidly, and millions gave way to billions. Consequently the race between the Reichsbank presses and the falling exchange rates has frequently resulted in defeat for the money-printers.

Counter-Revolutionary Plot Detected by Police

KIEFF.—The political police recently detected a counter-revolutionary organization which under the name of the "Active Center of Kieff District," was acting as a branch of the Paris Anti-soviet center, which is working under the leadership of former Ministers Tshaikovsky and Kartashov. All members of the organization, among whom there are a number of professors of the Kieff University, were arrested. According to the communique issued by the State Political Department, the organization succeeded in obtaining from the head officers of the Kieff Military District all mobilization plans and documents which they handed over to Poland.

MISS MONA WILKINSON BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. JESSE VALCO HUNDLEY

The following account of the Hundley-Wilkinson wedding which took place in Durham, Saturday evening will be read with interest by people of this city. Mrs. Hundley is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lipscomb, Sr., and made her home with them in Greenville for a number of years.

DURHAM, Jan. 7.—The wedding of Miss Mona Wilkinson to Jesse Valco Hundley was solemnized on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at Memorial Methodist church. Rev. W. W. Peele, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, officiated, using the impressive ring ceremony.

Before the ceremony Miss Alice Hundley, a sister of the bridegroom, rendered a musical program. Camden Hundley, a brother of the bridegroom, sang very effectively "My Heart at thy Sweet Voice" from Samson and Delilah. The wedding march from Leucyria was used as the processional, and Mendelssohn's, as the recessional.

The ushers, G. W. Hundley, A. M. Harris, William Harris, William Cathrie, James Michael, and Flavius Gregory, all of Durham, were first to enter.

The groomsmen were Col. C. T. W. T. Lipscomb, of Greenville, both of Baltimore, Md., and M. Moseley, Jr., of Raleigh, (Tom B. Tighman at the home of Mrs. T. Knight, and Winfrey Bramham, of Jurnam.

The bridesmaids were Misses Maida Bryant, and Mabel Duke Goodall, of Durham, Ruth Andrews, and tea James, of Greenville.

Mrs. Charles T. Stuart, of Spartanburg, S. C., a sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

The bride had as her maid of honor her cousin, Miss Frances Whedbee, of Greenville.

Misses Katherine Stuart and Kate Lee Harris were flower girls and they were dainty fluff frocks of flesh colored chiffon.

Master Arthur M. Harris, Jr., was ring bearer and he carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

The bride entered with her father, T. B. Wilkinson and she was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Camden Hundley. She wore a handsome wedding gown of white fillet lace over a duchesse satin.

Panel elaborately embroidered with pearls were used as trimming to the lace overdress. The wedding veil was arranged coronet fashion and held in place with clusters of orange blossoms. She also wore a beautiful and magnificent platinum and diamond set with diamonds and rubies.

This being the gift of the groom and a pair of handsome earrings which were worn by her great-grandmother on her wedding day. A pair of dainty lace mitts, also an heirloom of the family, completed her costume. She carried a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses showered with valley lilies.

After the ceremony an informal reception was tendered the members of the bridal party, the two families, and out of town guests at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wilkinson, on Morris street.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wilkinson, Mrs. J. C. Hundley, the bride and groom, Judge and Mrs. W. H. Whedbee, of Greenville, Colonel and Mrs. C. T. Lipscomb, of Baltimore, Md., and W. T. Lipscomb, Jr., of Greenville.

Mrs. Hundley is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brame Wilkinson. She received her education in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Hundley is the son of Mrs. J. C. Hundley and is a well known young business man of the city, being at present connected with the fidelity bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Hundley left by automobile for Raleigh to board a southbound train for Florida, where they will spend a ten day honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside in their new home on Club boulevard in this city.

KITCHEN DAMAGED WHEN BOILER EXPLODES IN HOME OF MR. J. H. BOYD SUNDAY

The kitchen of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boyd, who reside on Sutton's Lane, was badly damaged yesterday morning when the boiler exploded, completely wrecking the range. The windows were shattered while the ceiling was blown off in many places.

The cook, fortunately, after building the fire, had left the room, and was out at the time of the explosion. Mrs. Boyd, being sure that the tank was frozen, warned against a big fire but in spite of her advice, was started which resulted in the explosion.

The kitchen was repaired today and a new range installed.

MRS. R. J. BARBEE TO UNDERGO OPERATION

Mrs. R. J. Barbee, of Raleigh, who has been spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Z. M. Whitehurst, left yesterday afternoon for Edgecomb General hospital, Tarboro, where she will undergo an operation. She was accompanied by Drs. Green and Harrell, of Tarboro.

A successful operation is the wish of her many friends.

There will be a meeting of the Methodist Philathea class Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. W. M. Moseley, Jr., of Raleigh, (Tom B. Tighman at the home of Mrs. T. Knight, and Winfrey Bramham, of Jurnam.

PROF. LEGGETT CONDUCTS Y. W. C. A. SERVICE AT TEACHERS COLLEGE

In the first Y. W. C. A. service for the year 1924, Prof. Leggett endeavored to prove that science and the Bible did not conflict, but that the Bible really is a scientific book.

Mr. Leggett said that in the history of nations we will always find a spirit of worship leading us onward and upward. Every living creature has faith, and looks forward to something. If anything is scientific, those two things, faith and worship, are.

Of course, Mr. Leggett said, we have to take the Bible literally. When the Bible says that the Lord in seven days made "the heavens and the earth, and all that is within them," it does not mean that a day then was the length of our day. A day in that time was perhaps a thousand years or more. Evolution merely means a process of development or growth. Does not the creation of the earth mean the same thing?

Again in the Bible we are admonished to train a child in the way he should go, and in his old age he will not depart from it. Angell, in a recent book, says the same thing in a different way.

From every day experience we know that "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap," is as true now as it ever was.

In the conflict between modernists and fundamentalists, we are in the wrong merely because we are not willing to open our eyes and ears, and take things with a little faith.

We have miracles now as in olden days. The only difference is that we are accustomed to them now.

Religion has been a dangerous thing. Men who stood up for their religious views were burned at martyrs at the stake. And more recently, men who upheld high principles were the ones who suffered.

In conclusion, Mr. Leggett stated religion is a dangerous thing; but if we are broad-minded and earnest, we will get much benefit from it.

Simplicity of Theme; Is Keynote of Film

Utter simplicity of theme, absence of the eternal triangle, and of the blood-thirsting bits, and the application instead of a true-to-life atmosphere, are the reasons for the power of the William Fox special production, "The Town That Forgot God," which will be shown at the Strand theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

As in all great dramas, love is the strongest factor. But the love in "The Town That Forgot God" is that of a small boy for his mother—and humanity. The part of the small boy

FOOD RIOTS IN BERLIN PRESIDENT COOLIDGE PROVIDE THRILLS FOR AMERICAN SHOPPERS AND SON

BERLIN.—American women keeping house in Berlin who make the rounds of the shops for the purpose of supplying their homes with food, seldom return from a shopping tour without a thrill. Fights and rows in the markets and in the residential districts where the food shops are located are of every day occurrence, but often do not amount to anything more than a good sized family rum-pus, and usually are stamped out by the police before any one gets even a bruised nose.

The trouble makers in most instances are women, some of whom frequently stand in line for hours. Their nerves become strained and they fly off the handle in a jiffy when the first little thing occurs to cause a ruffle. Men also sometimes get into these little encounters, and then the row grows and spreads rapidly. Within a few minutes, unless the police happen to be present, a first class riot may be in progress, and store windows are broken, heads are cracked and there is a general upheaval in the neighborhood until police reserves arrive and some times do some shooting.

The trouble begins usually when some market dealer, or a shop keeper refuses to sell his staples for the old paper mark which began tumbling head over heels five years ago and has been at it ever since. Dealers contend they are unable to replace their stocks unless they offer the wholesalers or peasants dollar bills or something nearly as good, and say they prefer to keep their shops closed rather than attempt to continue business with the old paper mark as the medium of exchange.

The action of the food dealers is in direct defiance of a decree issued some time ago by the government to the effect that paper marks must be accepted for bread, meat, potatoes, butter, cheese and other staples during the period of transition designed to bring out a new currency.

There are only 200 or 300 American women in Berlin this winter compared with several thousand this time last year, these being wives of United States government officials, business men and others making their headquarters here indefinitely. Tourists and foreign travelers generally have been steering shy of Germany for months because of the unsettled conditions.

NEW YORK, Jan.—President Coolidge has written a letter to Walter W. Head, of Omaha, Neb., connecting his approval of the National Father and Son Movement, as a through-the-year program, with its uses in helping to improve world conditions. Mr. Head is chairman of the National Father and Son committee.

Great advances in civilization in the past, the president points out, have come as a result of the awakening of the spiritual forces within the individual, as proposed in the Father and Son program. In his endorsement of the movement, President Coolidge follows the policy of President Harding, who urged general cooperation with it on the part of the public in a letter written shortly before the death of Harding. Coolidge's letter follows:

"In view of the present conditions throughout the world, which might involve even our own country, now so contented and peaceful, it seems peculiarly appropriate that there should be launched in our home land a program that has as its chief objective the desire that fathers reconsecrate themselves to their paternal obligations, and that the attention of sons be directed to their obligation to their fathers, to their homes and to their country.

"The Father and Son Movement is intended to lead sons to a greater appreciation of their fathers and of their homes, and to a higher respect for them. It is also intended to encourage them to accept in a larger way their responsibilities as citizens. "With the process of recuperation now going on throughout the world, it is imperative that the basic principles on which America rests should be recognized by all our citizens. History points in no uncertain terms to the fact that great advances in civilization have come as the result of the awakening of the spiritual forces within the individual. No more appropriate way to accomplish this can be devised than that proposed in the plans of the National Father and Son Movement.

Spanish Queen Took Part In Important Concert Recently

ROME.—Queen Victoria of Spain was the central figure in an impromptu concert held aboard the Spanish battleship "Jaime Primo" just before the Royal party left Naples on their return to Spain. The King and Queen of Spain lunched aboard the battleship with the Duke of Aosta, the Duke of Pistoia, General Primo de Rivera and others, when someone expressed a wish to hear the crew sing.

An impromptu concert was arranged and both the King and Queen of Spain joined in several choruses. Queen Victoria was invited to sing, and having a fine contralto voice she smilingly obliged, much to the gratification of the assembled guests and crew. Encores were demanded.
