KIWANIS CLUBS ARE CELEBRATING THEIR NINTH ANNIVERSARY

Largest Service Organization Has Eighty-Five Thousand Members

Joining in with the observance of the ninth anniversary of the Kiwanis Club International which is being celebrated throughout the entire United States and Canada this week, the local Kiwanis Club will hold a special meeting for that purpose.

On account of the fact that there is a joint meeting with Rotary and other civic organizations tonight, the anniversary celebration of Kiwanis will be postponed until the meeting on February 8.

This Anniversary of Kiwanis focuses public attention on the marvelous development of community spirit and activity on the part of people for their communities to a degree unknown before the war. It seems to point out the great development in the spirit of co-operation and service work which has in turn made for better citizens and better communities. Some ten or fifteen of these international service organizations and hundreds of local associations are engaged in aggressive service work, but of these Kiwanis is the largest in the United States and Canada.

"Kiwanis crystallizes community sentiment for municipal improvements," said Edmund F. Arras, President of Kiwanis International; "it cultivates public opinion for purer politics, and promotes community co-operation in all good things. It develops leaders, urges harmony in business, honesty and integrity in all dealings, and furnishes a forum for the discussion of all fair and interesting questions."

International Secretary Fred C. W. Parker in a message to all the clubs said that the organization has continually in mind the public nature of its work.

"Kiwanis," he said, "is a representative influence, organized for the advancement of public welfare in its many phases, for the stimulation of morals, charities, health, better citizenship, civic improvement, and obedience to law and all the tenets of better living."

The international policies which guide the activities of all Kiwanis clubs include these:

1. The emphasis and intensification of service on behalf of underprivileged children.
2. The development of better relations between the farmer and the city man.
3. The aggressive development of a co-operative spirit towards the Chambers of Commerce and the coordination of activities.
4. The fostering of a fuller realization of the responsibilities of patriotic citizenship.

While work on these policies has been made more intensive, activity along established policies is being continued. This includes constant development of better business standards and methods, general service work on behalf of charities, boys' and girls' clubs, play grounds, hospitals, memorials, safety campaigns, tourist camps, beautification of cities, Americanization good roads, and many other similar activities.

The first club is for boys between the ages of six years to twelve years old. The second club is for boys from twelve years and up. Herman Bunch was elected captain of the younger boys club and Harold Belongia was elected assistant captain. ## Mellon Refuses A Joint Debate With Couzens

Also Refuses to Tell of Personal Benefits From Own Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—While Republican members of the house were today considering the proposed draft of a tax reduction bill of its own using the Mellon plan as basis, Secretary Mellon renewed his defense of his proposal in another open letter to Senator Couzens, Republican of Michigan.

In the last letter from the Michigan senator to Mr. Mellon, Senator Couzens challenged the secretary to tell the country what effect the adoption of his proposal would have upon his personal taxes.

Secretary Mellon's letter today did not mention that subject. However he inquired again of Senator Couzens whether or not the present high surtax rates had not compelled him to invest a large part of his wealth in tax exempt securities. The secretary also disregarded Senator Couzens' challenge to a joint debate on the Mellon plan.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The assistant district attorney today continued his cross-examination of W. H. ## Baltimore, Jan. 25.—Unsuccessful efforts were made here today to find the John T. King, who William H. Anderson, New York superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, now on trial for forgery, testified gave him approximately $25,000 in Baltimore in 1912.

Seven persons by the name are listed in the city directory but all deny ever having had any dealings with Anderson.

Richmond Outfielder Applies for Voluntary Retirement From Game

RICHMOND, VA., Jan. 25.—Dave Robertson, manager and star outfielder of the Richmond Club of the Virginia League last year, has applied Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of Baseball, for voluntary retirement from the game. Robertson was traded recently to the Atlanta Club of the Southern League, for Joe Guyon, who before his signing up on the Cracker team was a football player at the Georgia School of Technology. He intends he declared, to devote his entire time hereafter to his insurance business and sporting goods house in Norfolk.

Robertson came to the Richmond Club from the New York Giants at the beginning of last season under an agreement which he claims provided that he was to be made a free agent at the end of the year. His trade to the Crackers came as a severe jolt to him and he declared that rather than accept the cut in salary which goes with the change from manager-player to player, he would quit the game. It was also stated that the former Giant player wished to play near his home and for this reason has declined several more lucrative offers from distant points.

A carpenter's saw smuggled into the improvised camp was used to cut through the walls and floor of the rooms in which the prisoners were held and the small guard was unable to stop the prisoners in their break for freedom.

The gain of one potato to every three was made on 33 test fields in the county where certified potato seed was planted and the plants properly sprayed. The actual yield was an average of 210 bushels to the acre, a gain of 56 bushels to the acre, a gain of 56 bushels over the old stock, according to county farm agent Harry A. Dooley.

Fire Destroys Rooming Place In High Point

Score of Second Story Occupants Receive Injuries in Leaping

HIGH POINT, Jan. 25.—Two persons were probably fatally injured and a number more or less seriously injured by jumping from the second story window here early today when fire completely destroyed a two story boarding and rooming house. The lives of more than twenty persons occupying the building were endangered and many suffered minor injuries in escaping from the burning building by jumping from the windows.

Emmet Uesuri, a young man whose home is in Georgia, was the most seriously hurt. He is in a local hospital suffering from severe burns that may prove fatal. Fireman E. P. Honeycutt who was rendered unconscious by the heavy smoke in completing a daring rescue of two persons trapped on the second floor of the building has regained consciousness and was able to leave the hospital apparently without having suffered any permanent injury.

The fire was discovered shortly before 4 o'clock this morning. It is judged to have originated in the furnace room of the building and sometime was lost in giving the alarm. Before firemen could reach the house the inmates had been aroused and were seeking means of escape. Several leaped from the second story windows but were not injured sufficiently to require hospital treatment.

S. D. Robbins and his roommate occupying the room above the furnace room were trapped by the flames and it was in rescuing these two lives that fireman Honeycutt was overcome with smoke.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bunn and their small child were forced to jump for safety. He led the way, taking the baby in his arms and leaping to the ground. Fortunately the only injury he sustained was a sprained ankle. Mrs. Bunn followed by seeking to jump into the arms of those below but misjudged her direction and fell to the ground, receiving slight injuries to her shoulder.

P. E. Lee another second floor roomer jumped to the ground receiving a sprained back.

The inmates of the house were not only denied time to dress but none were able to salvage any of their clothing or other belongings. According to the occupants of the second floor the smoke was so heavy when they were aroused that the electric lights failed to make any impression on the darkness.

SOUTHERN POWER CONCERNS SUBMIT FERTILIZER OFFER

Claim That They Can Advance the Price of Fertilizer 50 Pct.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Proposal to form a $5,000,000 corporation for the manufacture of up to 50,000 tons of fertilizer annually at the government's Muscle Shoals, Ala., project is contained in an offer to be submitted to Secretary Weeks today by the Southern Power companies, which also have offered to lease the power plant there, in conjunction with three experts in fixed nitrogen production. The rental of Nitrate Plant Number 1 for the purpose would be fixed by Congress and be calculated in the cost of producing the fertilizer, which would be sold to farmers and other consumers at a profit limited to eight per cent on production cost.

The lease would run fifty years the same period for which the associated companies have offered to pay the government $100,000,000 for lease of the power facilities.

The three experts associated with the companies in the offer are Theodore Swann, president of the Federal Phosphorus Company, of Birmingham, Ala.; Dr. R. M. Bacon, of New York, chief of the technical division of the American Expeditionary Force during the war and former director of the Mellon Institute for Industrial Research; and Dr. Louis C. Jones, of Syracuse, a member of the advisory board of the Chemical Warfare Division of the Army.

In a statement, the companies said they had been advised by the experts that production processes would be employed by which the farmer would be able to obtain his fertilizer at "less than half" the present price.

The lessees also would agree to maintain Nitrate Plant No. 2 in fit condition for production of nitrate for war munitions, and condition is made that the government could take over the operated plant on five days' notice for national defense.

The offer stipulates that the fertilizer plant be permitted to use at production cost 100,000 horse-power of the amount to be made available under their proposed power plant lease, and an additional 40,000 if required, for which the price would be fixed by the Federal Power Commission.

THINKS THERE IS OIL IN PLENTY IN EAST

WASHINGTON, N. C., Jan. 25.—"I believe you have the possibilities of the Texas oil fields," said B. C. Banks, an oil expert and mining engineer, Tuesday night speaking to a number of Beaufort county citizens assembled in the court house here. "For the past four years," said Mr. Banks, "I have conducted explorations from the Cape Fear to Deep river near Portsmouth, with the result that I know you have oil in this section, but how much cannot be determined until we drill for it." "No man, no matter how capable an engineer, can tell how much oil exists under the ground without first boring down to find out. We can easily determine the presence of oil and minerals, but as to the quantity—that has to be determined." "The proposition was now to sink a test well at or near Havelock, with a core drill so as to determine exactly what there was. Should oil be found in paying quantity in this well, then," said Mr. Banks, "we know where other wells can be sunk right here in Beaufort county."

THE UNLIGHTED VEHICLE

A few nights ago another accident caused by glaring headlights and an unlighted vehicle was added to the steadily increasing number in this county.

Similar to the hundreds of other accidents of this nature, one autoist blinded by the glaring lights of another crashed into an unlighted wagon on the roadside. The result of the accident was a damaged car, a demolished wagon and a patient in the hospital all of which could no doubt have been avoided by the expenditure of a dollar for a lantern by the driver of the wagon.

Not until each individual realizes that he is responsible not only for his own safety but of his fellowman as well will this constant danger to life and property be removed.

At the last session of the North Carolina General Assembly a bill requiring every vehicle traveling the public highways at night to carry lights was introduced but the lawmakers claiming that forcing drivers of animal drawn vehicles to purchase lanterns was an imposition and fearing the loss of a few constituents refused to pass the bill and it is upon their shoulders that rests the blame for such accidents as the above that have occurred since that time.

It will be only a short time before candidates for the next legislature will announce themselves and if it is to be hoped that voters in the state will refuse to support any candidate who will not pledge himself to use his efforts to make travel on our highways safe by supporting the vehicle light bill.

We have been asked what has become of the movement launched sometime ago for a play ground for Greenville. Will someone volunteer the information?

Each day more light is thrown on Teapot Dome and with each additional ray more corruption shines out.

TAKING CHANCES

In an effort to get something for nothing American citizens during 1923 invested half a billion dollars, never to see a penny of it again, in get-rich-quick schemes, according to a compilation made public by Secretary Mellon.

Education of course is a priceless gem and no doubt experience is the best known teacher but half a billion dollars is a dear price to pay for learning to practice thrift instead of taking chances.

Realizing that there is no hope of adopting the Administration's tax reduction plan the Republicans are seeking to compromise with the Democrats. It is now up to the Democrats.

Granting that the Garner plan is the most popular and would no doubt give the greatest relief to the tax burdened public, a half portion is better than none and what the public wants is relief. If the Democrats cannot carry out their plan to the letter it is up to them to make the best compromise possible with the Republicans rather than pass the tax reduction over to another Congress.

It is never too late to be sorry but the exercise of care and good judgment in driving will avoid many an after regret.

He has brought appreciation to the American public of the art development in silk and has by his work brought the silk industry to the highest point of French technique, particularly in these broades, in color harmonies, in group exhibitions.

The committee of award appointed by the League consisted of Michael Friedsam, Honorary Chairman, James Monroe Hewlett, Howard Greenley, and Dr. John H. Finley.

MICHAEL FRIEDSAM Art in Industry Medal, awarded by the Architectural League of New York to Henri Creange as Director of Cheney Brothers, was the individual who had contributed the most to the development of art in industry during 1923.

Losing Arms, House Painter Becomes Landscape Artist

ALAMEDA, Cal.—William Jones of this city used to earn his living as a painter of houses. One day as he was at work on a house his arms came in contact with a live wire and were burned so badly that it was necessary to amputate them just below the shoulder.

Castling about for a means of livelihood, Jones designed a pair of artificial arms for himself. He found that he could hold a brush; but he feared to undertake again the rigorous work of house painting. He could draw pretty well and he began experimenting with paints on a small scale. He studied art and tried painting pictures of outdoor scenes. He soon passed the crude stage and his work became vivid. He found that occasionally he could sell a painting and decided to devote his life to the pursuit that had come to fascinate him.

Now many of his pictures of the woods and mountains and waterways of this region find a ready sale, and local critics have encouraged him.

Knights of Old Were Says Movies Harmful To Young Children

CLEVELAND. — Suits of armor worn by knights of old would fit tightly on the average high school lad of today. Few men now are small enough to squeeze into the coats of mail at the Museum of Art here.

Men of the Middle Ages must have averaged about 130 pounds in weight, believes William M. Milliken, curator of decorative arts, who also finds that rounded paunches did not thrive in the age of steel corselets—at least among the fighting men.

Workmen have just assembled the latest acquisition for the museum's armor room, a rare suit of mail, "a man and horse. It was worn by a gallant of the 16th century. Dents in the plates show the armor suffered lusty blows. Yet the wearer had a waist line of only 30 inches, a calf 13 inches in circumference and would wear a No. 6 shoe in modern footwear.

"Virtually all medieval armor is correspondingly small," says Mr. Milliken. "In European galleries there is hardly a suit of mail that would fit the average sized man of today."

STOCKHOLM.—Studying the e-worn by knights of old would fit tightly on the average high school young, particularly under ten years of age, Dr. David Lund, of the Prisons board, has reached among others the following conclusions:

That the average movie drama is harmful to the young child. They cannot distinguish between fact and fancy on the screen. Their imaginations are confused, and they are likely to mistake falsehood for truth. The distortion of reality and the frequent discrepancy between cause and effect tend to warp the child's reasoning power, and the spurious emotions in the average photoplay are disturbing to the soul life of the child.

Dr. Lund approves of educational films, however, and believes, also, that many of the fairy tale films are valuable for children.

Net Income On Office Buildings Averages Over 8 Pct.

CHICAGO. — The average office building in the United States has a population of 1,054 and is a little more than 11 stories high, according to a survey made by the accounting and exchange committee of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers.

Office building in themselves were shown to be little cities with fire departments, police forces, transportation systems, cleaning departments, lighting systems, sewers, water departments and other facilities similar to those of modern cities.

The average taxable valuation is $9.94 a square foot of floor space, which means a valuation on the building averaging more than $1,000,000. The average net return to the owner is a little under $85,000 a year.

5 Operations—15 years suffering with constipation—Kellogg's Bran restores health

Mr. Lansing's case is typical of thousands of others. He found permanent relief from constipation in Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read what he says:

Dear Sir: I have been afflicted with constipation for the past 15 years, and during that time I have been in four different hospitals and submitted to five different operations that were the result of constipation. I was getting so bad that every meal I ate caused on my stomach. Two months ago I was advised to eat your Kellogg's Bran. I tried it, as I was trying everything I could hear of. From that day on I have never taken a physic. My stomach does not sour any more and my bowels move regularly morning and evening. Yours sincerely, Frank Lansing, 1306 Jerries Ave., Marion Ind. For permanent relief, eat Kellogg's Bran regularly. Two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money. You will like the delicious nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran—so different from ordinary bran, which are unpalatable. Eat Kellogg's Bran with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the recipes given on the package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is served by leading hotels and clubs in individual packages. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Pedestrians on country highways will find greater safety by staying on their left-hand side, according to Percy E. Towne, chairman of the public safety committee of the California State Automobile Association. He is urging them to adopt this method of walking.

Mr. Towne sees the necessity for this in the increasing number of accidents by vehicles approaching from the rear. The right side of the road is particularly dangerous at night, in his opinion, as motorists often are blinded temporarily by approaching headlights and fail to see pedestrians. The pedestrians, on the other hand, frequently assume that they are visible and do not look behind them. By walking on the left side, Mr. Towne points out, they face the approaching traffic and can stay out of its way.

At Mr. Towne's request Will C. Wood, state superintendent of schools has issued a bulletin to public school principals asking them to instruct their pupils accordingly.

Closed Car Comfort—Open Car Price

Due to Daylight Curtains on the New Touring Reo #1335 at Lansing, Add Tax With the High Powered Six Cylinder Engine

REO offers new open car comfort for winter driving with its storm-proof curtains and extra large curtain lights. They banish the shut-in feeling. Of course they open with the doors.

Until now most curtain lights have been destroyed by the tight folding or rolling necessary to fit them into small compartments. The lights were made small to reduce breakage.

In the New Touring Reo all side curtains are carried with the transparent material flat. They fit snugly in a dust proof compartment handily placed behind the back cushion of the rear seat. With folding avoided, the lights are safely made large.

Stout fasteners around the top and body combine with metal frames to hold the Reo daylight curtains tight against driving rain or wind.

Because the rear light is placed low the driver has clear vision to the rear when side curtains are in place.

Relatively unimportant details, these, but they indicate how thoroughly Reo engineers plan for complete comfort and utmost utility.

Other cold weather features are the easily started 50 h. p. Reo Six engine with intake valves in head and exhaust valves offset, —the first proof radiator with flat tubes which can expand,—the powerful starter driving through a chain so it can not jam the flywheel nor stick with chilled grease.

Remarkable freedom from skidding tendencies results from unusual balance, secured by cradling major power units in an inner frame. Reo brakes, greatly oversized, hold their adjustment for many thousands of miles. They are simply controlled by the two foot pedals. Service brake and clutch operate together.

Combine Ready to Launch Greatest Airway Scheme

LONDON, Jan. — The greatest airway scheme yet promoted is to be launched next year by the enormously powerful Trans-Europa Union, four of the seven combined companies in which, are German in origin and control, says the Daily Mail air correspondent.

The German companies in this group which seeks an airway control of Europe, are the Aero-Lloyd, Rumlper, Junkers and Bayerischer Luft-Lloyd. The three others are the Swiss Ad-Astra, the Austrian Oesterreichische Luftverkehr and the Hungarian Aero-Express. This combine in which the Junkers group predominates, aims at the control of something like 12,000 miles of European airways, stretching from Archangel in the north to Athens and Smyrna in the south, and from Lisbon in the southwest to Nishni-Novgorod, Tiflis and Teheran in the east.

The technically strong Junkers firm, profiting by the researches of Professor Hugo Junkers into lightweight metal alloys, proposes to supply these great airways with a standardized type of passenger air-express for both day and night flying, and also with slower bigger machines for the transport of goods.

Life of Longfellow, Author the Immortal Poem "The Village Blacksmith"

Henry Wardsworth Longfellow was born February 27, 1807, at Portland, Maine. The house where he first saw the light is still standing. The son of Stephen and Zilpha (Wadsworth) Longfellow, both of his parents were descended from Yorkshire, England, families which migrated in the seventeenth century. The name of Longfellow first appears in English records as Langfelle, while the name Wadsworth sometimes appears as Wordsworth, suggesting a possible connection with another poet.

Longfellow could trace his descent to not less than four of the Mayflower pilgrims, including Elder Brewster and Captain John Allen. He was named after his uncle Henry Wadsworth, a young naval lieutenant who was killed in 1804 by the explosion of a fire-ship, before the walls of Tripoli.

When he was fifteen he entered Bowdoin College, where Nathaniel Hawthorne was also a student. After graduation he spent three years abroad, mastering the languages and literatures of France, Spain, Italy and Germany. In 1834 he was offered the chair of modern languages in Harvard, but he remained in Europe to study the Scandinavian languages. He returned to America in 1836 and settled at Cambridge, where he remained until his death, March 24, 1882.

His first volume of verse was published in 1839. "The Village Blacksmith" was published in the next collection which included "The Skeleton in Armor."

Longfellow was the best-known and best loved poet in America. "The common experiences of life, the old regrets and longings of the soul, the discipline of patience, the grace of resignation—the heroism of self-surrender—these," says Edward Markham, "he knew and these he sang of with a sweet, tender beauty."

His great-grandfather was a "village blacksmith."

The Village Blacksmith will be shown at the Strand theatre soon.

SAY MANY COLLEGES TEACH REAL ESTATE AS BUSINESS CAREER

CHICAGO—The growing importance of real estate as a vocation is evidenced in the establishment of real estate courses and curriculums in leading universities and colleges, many of them pointed toward the degree, declares the National Association of Real Estate Boards, which has just completed a survey.

"Columbia university, which already is offering many of the courses in the suggested real estate curriculum, expects to put on the five-year course" officials said. "The University of Wisconsin, the University of Chicago and the University of Illinois have become actively interested in real estate education, and The University of Michigan is planning to put on the course as soon as possible.

"Northwestern University, Dean Ralph E. Heilman, representative of the American Collegiate Association on the joint committee of educators, economic research specialists and realtors, who are working out the whole outline of real estate education nationally, is at present working on a plan to include a full-year course in real estate, leading to the regular academic degree. Iowa State College has taken up the selection of instructors.

Farm Products Increase Billion Dollars Over '22

WASHINGTON—More than one-sixth of the entire land area of the country was used in growing farm crops last year. The Department of agriculture calculates the total acreage of all crops at 372,829,000 acres, or 582,608 square miles. Farm crops produced, not merely those sold, had a hypothetical total value of $9,470,976,000 in 1923 or almost a billion dollars more than in 1922.

Texas continues to hold first place in acreage and value of all crops. Her farms aggregated 27,921,000 acres and the crop value in 1923 was $1,064,775,000. Iowa's crops were second in value with $475,920,000

AND WHEREAS, this Board has made diligent inquiry to ascertain the cost of providing and establishing for said purpose an adequate electric lighting and power system and has found that the sum of $17,500 is necessary to secure and establish the same.

AND WHEREAS, the said Town has not the necessary funds with which to provide and establish such electric lighting and power system, found by this Board to be necessary for the above mentioned purpose.

AND WHEREAS, this Board finds that it is necessary that bonds of the Town of Grimesland be executed and sold, pledging its faith and credit in the sum of $17,500 to provide the necessary funds to secure and provide and establish an adequate electric lighting and power system for said Town.

NOW THEREFORE, be it resolved and ordained that the Town of Grimesland, execute its bonds in a sum not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of $17,500, to bear interest at a rate not exceeding 6 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, to run for a period not to exceed twenty-five years, and sell the same at not less than par to secure the necessary funds with which to provide and establish an adequate electric lighting and power system for the use and benefit of said Town and its citizens and to pay all necessary expenses incident thereto, and the expenses of preparing and selling said bonds and expenses incident thereto.

(c) The net debt, being the difference between the gross debt and the deductions, which amount is nothing.

(d) The assessed valuation of property as last used for municipal taxation—$245,807.00.

(e) The percentage that the net debt bears to said assessed valuation 0.711.

That this ordinance shall be published once in each of two successive weeks, after its final passage, in the

Study Your Fertilizer Needs

It will soon be time for our farmers to give serious thought to the grade of Fertilizers they will use during the spring. It will pay each farmer to spend a few minutes in discussing this subject with his dealer or manufacturer.

There is much money wasted, and many times the results desired are not obtained, due to the failure to use the proper grade of Fertilizers for the different crops. We have made a careful study of this subject, and we are always glad to give the farmers our views on this subject, at either our

Greenville or Farmville Office

We want to emphasize the fact that it is risky to expect to grow the best quality of Tobacco with a Fertilizer which is most suitable for growing Cotton under boll weevil conditions.

AMERICAN WARSHIPS RUSHED TO MEXICAN WATERS.

Above is shown the U. S. S. Scout Cruiser Richmond, a 35-knot vessel, which, with its sister ship, the Omaha, and six torpedo boat destroyers has been rushed to Vera Cruz, with orders to prevent rebel gunboats from molesting American and foreign shipping there and at Tampico.

Asks Authorities To Uphold Football Code

NEW YORK.—A suggestion that college authorities can and should correct dangers that threaten college football is contained in the 1923 report of E. K. Hall, of Dartmouth, chairman of the Football Rules Committee, to the National Collegiate A. A.

"If there are any dangers threatening the prestige or good name of the game," he declared, "they are not, in our opinion, of such nature that they can be averted by a mere framing of rules."

Mr. Hall urged the N. C. A. A. to work through the academic and athletic officials of the colleges in upholding the football code, stating that the apparently unlimited increase in general interest and support necessitated vigilance in preserving the good name and integrity of the sport.

"The responsibility," he continued "rests on the friends of this greatest of academic sports to make certain, not only that the game while being played, is kept free from unfair and unsportsmanlike tactics, but that the preparations for the football season and the development of the teams are equally free from anything which savors of unfair competition and unsportsmanlike tactics."

"The game itself is played in the open and under the supervision of officials who will not tolerate unfair tactics. If the preparations for the season and the building up of teams are likewise made in the open and under supervision of academic officials who will neither tolerate unsportsmanlike practices or standards in their own institutions by approving schedules on which appear teams whose first concern is having a strong team and whose last concern is how they get it, the efforts of the rules committee to make the game a good one will be powerfully supplemented."

The rules committee has put itself on record as opposed now to making any fundamental changes in regulating the gridiron game.

You can get the most food value out of wheat by eating bakings that are made from good plain flour. A dependable baking powder must be employed or you do not get the full nutritious value of the wheat—nor will your bakings be as palatable and easily digested.

The same results cannot be had if you use Self Rising Flours, which are improperly packed in porous sacks or bags, thus allowing absorption of moisture from the air. Food authorities and physicians agree that bakings that do not raise properly are bad for health. Such foods are hard to digest and in time cause stomach trouble.

Mothers who are interested in the proper growth and health of their children (and all mothers are) should never use anything but a good brand of plain flour and a time-tested leavener such as Calumet—the economy Baking Powder.

Calumet has more than the ordinary leavening strength. It raises every baking to its height of nutritious value. It is pure and dependable—do not look for a substitute—there is none.

Use Calumet and be positive of wholesome nutritious and economical foods.

BALLPLAYERS AND ROWING TEND TO PROLONG LIFE

BOSTON.—The chances of a Harvard athlete for a long life are excellent, according to figures compiled by Dr. W. H. Greer, director of physical education at the college, and an insurance statistician.

Of former baseball players who, by all the calculations of insurance experts should now be dead, 31 per cent, are still in the land of the living, and the percentage is the same among oarsmen. Of men who had been on the track team only 26 had died, this being 28 per cent. of the ordinary average. Of former football players, however, 97 per cent of those calculated to have died have fulfilled expectations.

The figures were obtained from the records of 528 men who won their letters at Harvard previous to 1900.
