

Wilson Be Buried With Simplicity of Service In Keeping Last Years Life

"War President" to Be Entombed Wednesday; Arrangements Made for Foreign Nations to be Represented; President and Mrs. Coolidge to Represent Great Nation Which He Served So Efficiently

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. — The fringe of folk along the street before the Wilson home waiting to see the great ones who came and went and the guardian police who turned all unnecessary traffic from the steep narrow street alone marked outwardly today the preparations for the last honors to the dead president. No marshaling of troops was necessary for a parade of sorrow; no setting of lines for thousands to pass by his bier, for he will go to his long sleep tomorrow the character in which death found him, a plain American citizen, his days, his place and his high dignity put aside forever.

With only two brief moments of services before entombment beneath Bethlehem Chapel high above and overlooking his home, there was little that official Washington could do to show the respect and admiration of the nation for the life that was ended. Had Mrs. Wilson willed otherwise honors would have been poured out to mark the nation's grief and admiration and as it is in every military post and naval post beneath the Stars and Stripes the last honors to the great leader will be paid in full by the booming of guns and the sounds of the bell beneath the half-masted colors. With a period of official mourning already declared, President Coolidge today thrust aside all social activity at the White House.

Very few of the thousands who would come to express their feelings at the services could find place or be admitted either to the home or the later service at the chapel. At the home only the family and a little group of closest friends can find room. There is no place for the mass of plain folk and no other means to express their sorrow and admiration is left but to stand for hours along the short guarded way where the funeral train will pass. For them as well as himself President Coolidge with Mrs. Coolidge will go to the house and follow the casket to the place of entombment. He will be surrounded by his cabinet in this last honor that the government can pay to its dead leader.

The family circle will be completed only a few hours before the casket is lowered into the marble vault beneath the cathedral. Mr. and Mrs. William G. McAdoo will reach Washington sometime during Wednesday morning. The service at the home will be conducted at 3 o'clock followed by one at the chapel at 5:30 at which time entombment will take place.

The chapel is so small that even with all seats removed and the few who can be admitted grouped close about the entrance to the vault, less than six hundred persons can be crowded into the building.

There is no foreign government but wishes to share in the last tribute to the dead President. At the State Department arrangements were being made that this may be done, always with Mrs. Wilson's wishes for little display or pomp in mind. To give formal expression to the widow's grief, President Coolidge and all the members of his cabinet will stand beside the vault during the services with the great ones of public life about them.

TERRIFIC STORM SWEEPS NORTHWEST; THREE DEAD; DAMAGE OVER ONE MILLION

DETROIT, Feb. 5. — Weather has run to gauntlet from mild temperatures in lower Michigan to drifted snows farther north, sleeted wires and rails resulting in three known deaths, property damage roughly estimated to be more than $1,000,000 and demoralization of traffic and communications in many sections.

Telephone and telegraph companies report heavy damage to their wires centered in a forty mile area around Chicago, but the octopus arms of the storm reached out in all directions from that center.

The worst damage to telephone and telegraph wires was in the vicinity where they are reported to have been damaged to the extent of $1,000,000. Several trains in that state are said to be stalled in the snow drifts. Banks of snow in some parts of Wisconsin are reported 10 feet deep.

Another arm of the storm extended south and southwest from Chicago through Illinois and Missouri and into Texas. A tornado accompanied by rain and hail caused hundreds of thousands of dollars damage in Indiana. The storm reached Missouri sweeping from the northwest attended by a drop in temperature and increasing wind velocity. The rain turned into sleet and ice and the burdened wires and poles snapped under its weight. Water and rail traffic was made hazardous by the glaze that made the entire section virtually a sea of ice.

German Embassy Does Not Mourn the Death Of the Former President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. —By direction of the Berlin government the German Embassy here has refrained from making any display of mourning over the passing of Woodrow Wilson. No flag has flown over the German Embassy since the announcement of Wilson's death although the embassies of all the other countries have carried their flags at half mast since the official communication of the death of the great leader before noon Sunday.

Baron Leopold Plessen, secretary of the German Embassy made this explanation: "The German government considers the late Mr. Woodrow Wilson a private citizen and therefore has instructed the German Embassy to refrain from any official display of mourning."

When Mr. Wilson died the State Department, following the diplomatic custom in such events, immediately notified the French Ambassador Jules Jusserand, dean of the diplomatic corps. The ambassador promptly notified all his colleagues and flags over the diplomatic missions were immediately displayed at half mast.

Failure of the German Embassy to display her colors was at first unnoticed. When the absence of a flag over the mission was noticed and inquiry made as to the cause, Baron Plessen made his statement.

State Department officials would not comment on the action of the German government.

Morrison Sets Aside Sunday for Memorial Services For Wilson

Fought Hard to Save Woodrow Wilson.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson.

Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, of the medical corps of the Navy, for years was President Wilson's chief medical adviser and struggled desperately to save the life of his devoted friend. Though his tour of duty at Washington has ended, the late President Harding ordered that Admiral Grayson was to remain in Washington as long as Mr. Wilson lived, and this order was continued instantly by President Coolidge.

Barrett Shot By Tyson at Warren's Chapel Sunday

Roland Barrett, negro, who resides in this county near Warren's Chapel, is suffering minor injuries received Sunday when he was shot by Ernest Tyson, negro. Tyson declaring that the shooting was accidental was arrested and later released under a $250 bond for his appearance at court next Monday morning.

The two negroes were on the church ground at Warren's Chapel when the shooting took place. Tyson was drinking. There had been no quarrel between the two men and all evidence seemed to indicate that the shooting was accidental. Barrett only suffered a flesh wound.

One Week's Course To Be Given Life Saving, First Aid

Miss Jane Moxley, executive secretary of the Pitt County Chapter of the American Red Cross, is in receipt of a letter from the Southern Division of Atlanta, Ga., in regard to the First Aid and Life Saving Institute, a portion of which reads as follows:

"I do not believe definite arrangements have yet been made for the location of the First Aid and Life Saving Institute, but Captain Yates is seriously considering Chunn's Cove Camp, near Asheville, N. C. The course will last one week, probably from June 16th to the 23rd."

As to what the course consists of, the following extract from the Southern Division will give enlightenment: "The Southern Division will conduct a First Aid and Life Saving Institute, which will last one week, for the benefit of camp swimming counselors and others who might be interested. This institute will be held at a camp close to Asheville, N. C., the date to be set later. The course will consist of expert instruction in leadership, First Aid and Life Saving, canoe work, boat work, camp protection, diving speed swimming instruction and coaching, physiology and hygiene of swimming."

Asks That Every City and Town Arrange Appropriate Religious Services in Memory of Nation's Most Beloved Man

RALEIGH, Feb. 5. — Governor Morrison today issued a proclamation setting aside Sunday next as a day for memorial services in honor of Woodrow Wilson to be held. The proclamation is as follows:

"In addition to the marks of respect which I have already asked the people of North Carolina to show in memory of our great ex-president, Woodrow Wilson, until after the funeral services tomorrow, with approval of the council of state I hereby appoint Sunday the 10th day of February at 3:30 o'clock p. m. as the occasion for memorial services throughout the state when a deep sense of our loss and our reverence and appreciation for the life of service of our great deceased world leader can be given expression.

We suggest that in every city, town and community throughout the state the people arrange for joint meeting places for appropriate religious and memorial services at the hour named."

The State Capitol and all offices of the state officials will be closed all day by order of Governor Morrison as a mark of respect to Woodrow Wilson. It was stated today by those close to the executive that Governor Morrison would most likely not go to Washington in view of the fact that the funeral services will be strictly private.

It is expected that within the next thirty days that the new yards will have been completed. Officials of the city and prominent men in business say that the new yards will greatly aid the city in handling of the continual increasing traffic and shipping business of the town.

Wilson Made Wish For Simple Funeral

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Decision to hold a simple funeral service for former President Wilson, it was authoritatively learned last night, was in deference to an expressed wish of Mr. Wilson that no public or official exercise be held in connection with his funeral or burial. It was in consequence of this circumstance that Mrs. Wilson has felt unable to yield to the expressed wishes of those who have urged public ceremonials.

Mrs. Wilson Feels Washington Should be The Resting Place

RICHMOND, VA., Feb. 5.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson feels that Washington should be the resting place of her late husband, John Randolph Bolling, secretary of America's wartime President, who died Sunday, stated last night in a telegram replying to a request of the Virginia General Assembly that Mr. Wilson be buried in Hollywood Cemetery here.

Mr. Bolling's telegram, addressed to John W. Williams, keeper of the rolls at the state capital, follows: "Mrs. Wilson is deeply grateful for your kind message and the generous offer of the House of delegates and Senate of Virginia. She wishes me to say that while she is deeply touched by this tribute from Virginia, his native state, that she feels Washington is the place where Mr. Wilson did his great work for the nation and which he chose as his home should be the place where he will rest."

Wake Forest will honor the memory of the late president at special services at 4:30 tomorrow afternoon. J. W. Bailey will deliver the principle oration.

FALL TO REAPPEAR BEFORE COMMITTEE ON NEXT FRIDAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Albert B. Fall central figure in the naval oil lease investigation, was notified yesterday that his reappearance before the Senate investigating committee would be deferred until next Friday because of the adjournment of the Senate until Thursday out of respect of the memory of former President Wilson.

The one-time Secretary of the Interior, who has challenged the authority of the committee to proceed with its inquiry, had been summoned for tomorrow, but further efforts to examine him will be postponed until the Senate has given the committee an additional grant of authority. This will be asked for Thursday with the expectation of prompt and favorable action.

The committee will meet tomorrow and adjourn until Thursday, when Carl P. Biggerman, assistant cashier of the Chase National Bank of New York, is to be called. Mr. Biggerman has been directed to bring to Washington the records of the Chase National Bank relating to any remittances of funds by that bank to any bank in Washington payable to the order of Harry F. Sinclair or his personal counsel, J. W. Zetely, between September 1, 1921, and June 1, 1923. Mr. Sinclair, obtained the lease to the Teapot Dome reserve on April 7, 1922.

Samuel Ungerleider and officials of other Washington brokerage firms have been summoned for tomorrow, but whether they will be called at that time was undetermined tonight. The committee will seek from them permission to have accountants examine their books in an effort to determine whether there was dealing by any government official in the stock of the Mammoth Oil Company, organized by the Sinclair interests to take over the Teapot Dome lease.

Dr. Cole to Deliver Address at Trinity College In March

DURHAM, Feb. 4.—Under the auspices of the Crowell Science Club of Trinity College, students and those interested in science will have an opportunity soon to hear Dr. H. C. Cole, of the Department of Botany of the University of Chicago, lecture on some vital scientific subject. Dr. Cole's lecture will be delivered some time in the early part of March, will be one of a series of lectures and discussions on scientific subjects of interest and importance that the Crowell Science Club is sponsoring this year.

non-commissioned officers of the army, eight sailors and eight marines all of similar ranks and records will form the guard of honor to accompany their former commander in chief to his final resting place. They will form guard around the hearse on its sorrowful journey to the chapel and they alone will touch the casket of the man under whose command they served during the war.

The naval squad are men from the Presidential ship Mayflower many of whom have seen the look on face of the now dead leader as during the dark hours of the war he wrestled with his trying problems to reach decisions vital to America and the world when none could share with him the troubles which he bore.

The marines and soldiers will come from posts in and around Washington, many of them being veterans of the far fields of battle where American valor claimed and received recognition from the world. It is upon the picked men of the service that this honor falls. The records of the personnel of all the posts from which men were drawn were carefully examined in order to select as far as possible war heroes to bear their former commander and comrade to his long rest.

At his word these men and millions more had leaped to fight the nation's battle with arms in their hands and loyalty to the flag in their hearts as he had fought with every wit and will for victory. It is fitting that such comrades bear him gently to his quiet resting place.

There were still demands on all sides today that last minute changes in arrangements be made and more elaborate ceremonies mark the funeral.

Trial of Coopers Began This Morning

WILMINGTON, Feb. 5.—Clarence Latham, of Raleigh, chief state bank examiner, was the first witness introduced this morning in the trial of Lieut.-Gov. W. B. Cooper and his brother, Thomas E. Cooper in United States District court here. The actual hearings began after the reading of the indictment charging the two brothers with alleged criminal acts in connection with the failure a year ago of the Commercial National Bank of Wilmington, of which the Coopers were officers.

The reading of the indictment by District Attorney Tucker consumed over 40 minutes after which the state introduced and swore in 42 witnesses.

The court room was crowded many standing around the walls when the session for hearing the first testimony was opened. Horace Cooper, son of the Lieut.-Gov. and C. W. Lassiter also under indictment in connection with the bank failure, were among those present in the court room.

Virginia, declared that he should go back to sleep forever in Virginia soil, and this brought forward the suggestion that the remains rest in the amphitheatre at Arlington where America's "Unknown Soldier" stands guard. Declaring that the life of Woodrow Wilson was given in the same cause as that of the American soldier that fell on the field of battle many urged he be placed in that enclosure so sacred to those who died for the flag.

TEAPOT DOME AND MELLON PLAN

There is certain to be a reaction against the Mellon plan and an increase of Republican opposition to it in Congress as a consequence of the scandalous revelations being made by the Senate Committee investigating the Teapot Dome naval oil lease, it is now felt in Washington. At first blush there does not seem to be any relation of cause and effect between the Mellon plan and the oil scandal, but politicians have begun to see this connection.

Republicans as well as Democrats and independents in the West are hostile to the Mellon plan. Western Republican Senators and Representatives have already showed their disinclination to support the Mellon proposal at the dictation of the Treasury and the White House. They know they would take their political lives in their hands if they gave their votes to a reduction of the higher surtaxes from a maximum of 50 per cent to 25 per cent under any ordinary circumstances, but they would be doomed now should they further inflame their constituents, already aghast and indignant at the exposure of corruption in high places, by cutting the taxes of the men who are accused of profiting by the oil scandal.

Anything that adds to the discredit of the Administration — as the hourly developments in the Teapot Dome investigation does — will increase the diffidence and difficulties of Republican Congressmen who want to be re-elected next November. To give their assistance to the passage of an unpopular tax bill — even under the whip and spur of the President — would make the reelection of western Republicans impossible.

In short, to the inherent weakness and defects of the Mellon plan there is added the accidental disadvantage of trying to pass it while the country is confronted by headlines that daily and hourly tell the story of official corruption and the public's betrayal in the leasing of the Navy's oil to private interests.

MONTANA TO THE FRONT

Montana has begun to loom large on the map of the United States as a result of the Teapot Dome scandal. Senator Thomas J. Walsh (Democrat) is not only winning nationwide notice and approval by the signal public service he is performing as a member of the committee but is also giving his State a favorable introduction to the people in all parts of the country.

Senator Walsh has long been recognized as one of the ablest Constitutional lawyers in Congress. It was generally predicted in Washington that when he undertook the task of probing the Teapot Dome transaction he would go to the very bottom of the case and let no personal relationship stand between him and a disclosure of the facts, however badly they might discredit a former colleague in the Senate.

Montana has been on more tongues in the last several weeks than in the previous several years. If Montana put Senator Walsh in the Senate he has returned the compliment by putting Montana into the Hall of Fame.

FULL SPEED AHEAD

There is every reason to believe that business generally will prosper in 1924, particularly in the states of the Middle West, according to William A. Baehr, of Chicago, vice president and general manager of the Illinois Power and Light Corporation.

"In spite of this being presidential year, I believe it will be a good one for the public utility companies and industry in general. The banking situation is sound and prospects now appear exceptionally bright.

"I look for a great year in building improvement in the public utility business, which mean not only steady employment for wage earners, but also earning power for the savings of the thrifty communities invested in the properties that are serving the territory.

It is felt in Washington that Secretary Hughes has simply increased the growing dissatisfaction with the Administration Mexican muddle by attempting to make the perpetuation of the Obregon regime a sign of their love and labor for peace. Many public men have begun to fear that a serious conflict between the United States and the rebels of Mexico and military intervention by this country in the internal affairs of the southern republic will be the outcome of the Administration's preference for Obregon.

IRENE CASTLE

AMERICA'S FASHION QUEEN

TO

America's Fashion World

THE NEW SELECTIONS BY "AMERICA'S BEST DRESSED WOMAN" breathe so unmistakably of the genius which has gained her world-wide esteem—a genius which gives a magic touch and transmutes fabrics into creations that are the despair alike

OF COUTURIERE AND AUTEUR

IRENE CASTLE
CORTICELLI FASHIONS
The DOLORES Model

For early spring wear, Irene Castle chooses this smart frock of rich Corticelli Cashmere Tremaine. The brown crocheted collar, the embroidered tabs over the shoulders with the splash of matching embroidery at the left side of the waist, the tiered cascade at the side—are equally interesting.

IRENE CASTLE
CORTICELLI FASHIONS
The DIANA Model

"Two in One," the registered name for this enticing coat, can be worn either side out. One side is of Scottish wool plaid while the other is Corticelli Crepe Tremaine. No wonder it is the sensation of the season, for it is as smart as it is audacious.

IRENE CASTLE
CORTICELLI FASHIONS
The DAGMAR Model

For this happy, youthful frock nothing but green Corticelli Cashmere Tremaine would possibly do. The material is gathered at the waist to give fullness to the skirt, while the line of the bodice runs perfectly straight to meet it. The absurdly puffed-up little sleeves and the collar are infinitely tucked.

Miss Castle has made two Master Strokes:

- FIRST—In choosing Corticelli Silks exclusively for her personal wear with practically the whole silk world eager to receive her recognition.
- SECOND—In selecting C. HEBER FORBES as her exclusive representative in Greenville, N. C.

"The Woman of Fashion" is thus assured of obtaining costumes of quality comparable with the genius entering into their design.

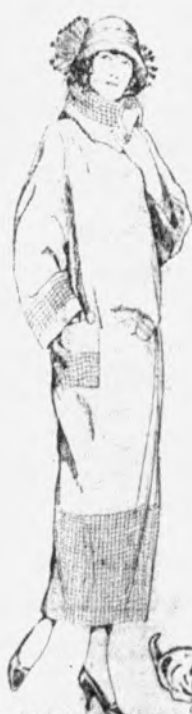

IRENE CASTLE
CORTICELLI FASHIONS
The DORIS Model

The tunic frock comes to the fore, as the newest version of the graceful silhouette. The same classic motif worked in blue, green and red is used on the edging of the collar and the side panels of the tunic. The material is Corticelli Cashmere Tremaine, a new introduction for spring.

IRENE CASTLE
CORTICELLI FASHIONS
The DOROTHY Model

The drapery of the new apron front imparts a decidedly smart touch to this lovely frock of Corticelli Cashmere Tremaine. An exotic beauty is attained through the use of rich embroidery, beautifully worked in soft tones, upon the background of black silk. The lines follow the flaring silhouette.

IRENE CASTLE
CORTICELLI FASHIONS
The DIXMONDE Model

Carefree grace and substantial comfort join forces in this new Scottish border sport coat. The heavy all-wool fabric is lined with Corticelli Crepe de Chine. The seven-eighths length, the box top effect and the friendly collar are eminently desirable features.

IRENE CASTLE
CORTICELLI FASHIONS
The DEEYSIA Model

The interesting side panels extending from the shoulders to within a few inches of the coat's hem are useful as well as enticingly decorative, since on them are placed the pockets. The perky collar, the turn-back cuffs and the pockets are marked with simple embroidery. The fabric is a rich velour, the lining Corticelli Crepe de Chine.

IRENE CASTLE
CORTICELLI FASHIONS
The DELIA Model

A multitude of tucks—pin tucks from collar to hem—bestows upon this piquant and youthful model an astonishing smartness. The brave jabot is marked down the middle with a row of buttons while another row catches it across the waist. The pointed cuffs match it, of course. The material is Corticelli Cashmere Tremaine.

IRENE CASTLE
CORTICELLI FASHIONS
The DAYSIE Model

The new sheathlike silhouette is charming when interpreted as it is by this frock of black Corticelli Cashmere Tremaine. The pointsettias in color at the right side are echoed by those on the cuffs. The white of the dainty lace collar and cuffs carries out the fashionable black and white note.

Notoriety Nearly Roosts Legislative Roof Tree

JACKSON, Miss., Feb.—The Mississippi House of Representatives, in organizing for the legislative session now in progress, almost scored the height of something or other by coming within a hair's breadth of electing a blind man as one of its two doorkeepers.

Doorkeepers in a modern legislative assembly are about as useful as a parachute to a jaybird, but every assembly must have them, and in Mississippi it is the custom to bestow the sinecures upon confederate veterans. There were seven candidates for the two jobs when Representative John Collins, of Jones county, placed in nomination the name of a Mr. Cox. "He is blind," explained Mr. Collins, "but the duties of a doorkeeper are such that a blind man could perform them easily."

Representatives Jessie Austin Adams of Montgomery county, himself blind, eagerly seconded the nomination. "The things that are easy for you who can see," Mr. Adams declared, "are difficult for those who are blind. But the blind ask no odds of anyone."

There was only one direct protest against electing a sightless man to guard the portals of the House. It was from Representative John K. Sennis, of Kemper county.

"The gentlemen are right in declaring that a blind man could discharge the duties of a door keeper in House of Representatives," said he. "In fact, a dead man could do it. I move the office of doorkeeper be abolished."

There was no second to Mr. Sennis' motion and balloting began. Cox, the sightless man, polled the highest vote on the first ballot and remained in the lead until the seven candidates had been weeded down to three. On the final ballot he was eliminated.

Famous Lake in Patagonia Opened to Tourist Travel Now

BUENOS AIRES, Feb.—One of the world's beauty spots, Lake Naturel Huapi in the Argentine Andes, soon will be opened to comfortable tourist travel. A body of deep blue water as large as Lake Champlain, it is surrounded by towering snow-capped mountains. It is close to the Chilean border, in the territory of Neuquen, which is a part of Patagonia. The country about, only partially explored, was long ago reserved by the government as a great national park.

A new state railroad is now within a hundred kilometers of Bariloche, the little port at the eastern end of the lake, and weekly tourist excursions are about to be inaugurated. Two hotels at Bariloche are being improved for tourist accommodation.

For rugged splendor, grandeur of distances, exquisite, ever changing coloring and glorious sunsets the panorama of Lake Naturel Huapi, with its combination of mountain, sky and water, presents scenes of beauty which the Alps and the Canadian Rockies do not excel, in the opinion of persons who already have been there. The lake has numerous bays whose water lap the sheer sides of the mountains, like those of Norwegian fjords, and here and there penetrate mysterious caves. Its islands are clothed with primeval forests, while in the distance can be seen among the Chilean peaks the smoke of volcanoes.

Theodore Roosevelt was among the venturesome tourists who have visited Lake Naturel Huapi, and who exclaimed over its beauty. He predicted that Bariloche would some day be one of Argentina's great cities.

CHEAP TAXIS MAKE MONEY IN ARGENTINA'S CAPITAL

Buenos Aires, Feb.—An American taxicab concern which operate large fleets of taxicabs in New York and other cities, sent a dozen of its vehicles to Buenos Aires a few months ago, and has found the enterprise profitable despite the fact that tax-fares are far cheaper than in New York, and the price of gasoline is higher. The cars are reported to have made a net profit of 800 pesos each a month, or about $275 at current exchange rates. American visitors to Buenos Aires say taxi fares are so cheap here that the people use them more, hence the profits.

Buenos Aires taximeters, regulated by municipal ordinance and inspection, are set at 50 centavos for the first 1,200 meters and thereafter register 10 centavos for each additional 300 meters. This works out in American money and distances, at current exchange, to about 17 cents the first three-quarters of a mile and less than 4 cents for each fifth of a mile additional.

Devoted American Labors To Subdue Mexican Desert

ENSENADA, Lower California, Feb.—The ultimate agricultural development of the desert regions of Mexico has impelled David Smith called "the Burbank of Mexico," to put in 35 years experimenting with the soil in a five-acre world of his own, two miles from here.

Thorny cactus and sagebrush once were all that grew on his little farm but now it is filled with flourishing fruit trees and vines. It is an oasis in a stretch of desert.

Among the 28 varieties of fruit that Smith is producing in the desert are thornless blackberries, spineless cactus, persimmons, mulberries, pears, apples, walnuts, chestnuts, milk-white pears, quinces, white satiates, avocados, grapes, guavas and a delicious result of the grafting of apricot and peach.

Smith is an American. He came from the middle west. He lives by himself, but not for himself. He is something more than 50 years of age, tall and sturdy, a man delighting in the open air.

PUBLIC STILL BARRED FROM DOM BOX OF FORMER KAISER

Berlin, Feb.—Why is the former imperial box in the Dom kept roped off and not opened for the use of the public?

Berlin papers are asking this question very insistently. On New Year's Eve the ex-emperor's box in the Dom, or Berlin cathedral, which contains several hundred seats formerly used by the Hohenzollern court, was not thrown open in spite of the fact that hundreds of persons stood in the crowded cathedral and many elderly women fainted through fatigue while standing waiting for the New Year to

The imperial boxes in the state theatres and operas have been thrown open to the public and the Berlin Morgen Post and other newspapers urge that a church is the last place in the world in which there should be an attempt to perpetuate class distinctions. The Dom clergy are blamed for this reactionary attitude and are charged with an attempt to perpetuate the imperial idea.

BEST PRUNES RESULT FROM ARTIFICIAL DRYING

DAVIS, Cal., Feb.—California sunshine, famous though it be, has been "covered by shade" in the prune industry. Experts from the University of California announce that dehydration, or artificial drying, is superior to having the sun dry the prunes, they predict that eventually all the prunes will be dehydrated.

During 1923 more than 100 new hydrators were erected in this state, tending one-fifth of the total prune crop.

California is a leading prune producing state, most of the crop being raised in the northern counties, adjacent to San Francisco. Last year the California prune crop brought farmers $15,400,000.

Bucharest Again Is Gay

Bucharest, Feb.—Bucharest is in a fair way to resume the appearance of a city that gave it the name of "Little Paris" before the war. One of the signs of the purpose of the government to restore the capital to its pre-war condition is the banishment of the beggars who a year ago were numerous on the streets.

Bucharest at Christmas time was as gay as ever to the eye and as exhausting as ever to the purse. The Manila, Feb.—A branch of the Japanese "Sho-Ho-Sha" or Bureau of Commercial information is to be established in Manila soon to bring about closer business relations. It is said the pressing need of construction materials, especially timber, has hastened the establishment of the Manila branch.

The bureau was established in Japan several years ago to bring foreign markets in closer touch with Japanese markets.

Are you suffering with well feet?

Do you feel at times that you simply would have to take off your shoes regardless of where you are? Have you ever slipped off a shoe at the theatre, or at a dinner? Most women do have such foot discomfort—and most women have well feet!

The ARCH PRESERVER SHOE is built with the one idea of making well feet comfortable without sacrificing appearance! This truly remarkable shoe is built according to Nature's plans — giving a firm walking base for the entire foot. It does not allow a strain on the arch, does not permit the ball of the foot to become cramped. Even the longest day does not bring the little aches and pains such as you may know with the shoes you now are wearing.

Why not enjoy your well feet? Why not have them vigorous and happy — all the time? Try a pair of ARCH PRESERVER SHOES and you'll be astonished at the difference. No other shoe can offer such advantages because the design of the ARCH PRESERVER is an exclusive feature. Weak feet are relieved, of course, by wearing this shoe.

Norma Makes Dramatic Screen Suicide Attempt

Norma Talmadge makes a spectacular attempt to commit suicide by throwing herself into the river, in her latest First National feature production, "Within the Law," which is said to be the most exciting and dramatic picture of the kind yet made by the popular star will be shown at the Strand theatre Feb. 11 and 12.

Miss Talmadge portrays Mary Turner, a shop girl sent to prison for a department store theft of which she is innocent. After serving her sentence she seeks employment in New York, but always she is turned down, with the police constantly bounding her. Discouraged, she tries drowning and is rescued by Joe Carson, a forger, who, with Aggie Lynch, a former prison companion, induces her to join a gang of blackmailers.

Always, however, does Mary keep "within the law" and this leads to one of the most amazingly dramatic romances ever brought to the screen.

Jack Mulhall appears opposite Miss Talmadge as Dick Gilder, selected as one of Mary Turner's "victims" in the exercise of her speciality—breach of promise suits.

Other important parts are played by Lew Cody, Eileen Percy, DeWitt Jennings, Lincoln Plummer, Joseph Kilgour, Helen Ferguson and Ward Crane.

Defying Destiny

SELZNICK DISTRIBUTING CORPORATION
Monte Blue and Irene Rick in Defying Destiny.

Defying Destiny, a photodrama of real people in a real American town, was written direct for the screen by the noted authoress, Grace Sander-son Michie, who at one time was the highest paid scenario writer in the United States.

Although responsible for many successful photoplays, such as The Wolf, Finger of Justice and Broken Wings Mrs. Michie has never accomplished a finer piece of work than Defying Destiny. It is brimming with romance and yet never for an instant does it give the slightest sensation of unreality. The characters actually seem to live and breathe and when the story ends one parts from them with a feeling of genuine regret.

Defying Destiny will be at the Strand theatre Wednesday and Thursday. Special ladies matinee Wednesday.

"Eagle's Feather" Has Notable Cast

"The Eagle's Feather," a Metro pieturization of the famous story of the same name by Katharine Newlin Burt, will be the feature attraction at the White's theatre today. The story appeared some time ago in Cosmopolitan magazine.

James Kirkwood and Mary Alden head the cast of well known players in "The Eagle's Feather." Mr. Kirkwood's role in this picture is his first since his return recently to Hollywood from New York where his acting in the Broadway success, "The Fool" was sensational.

Others in the cast are Elinor Fair,

Lester Cuneo, William Orlamond, John Elliott, Charles McHugh and George Morgan. Incidentally Mr. Morgan portrays the great role of Danton in Rex Ingram's Metro production of "Screamouche" recently announced as completed.

"The Eagle's Feather" is full of thrilling tense episodes, particularly suitable to the screen, and Edward Soman, the director, is said to have made the most of them. A great deal of the picture was made in the foot of the Sierra Mountains in California, and the picture depicts the noble, austere grandeur of this part of the country which is covered with great cattle ranches.

It was here that Metro Pictures Corporation took over the management of an entire ranch its several thousand head of cattle in order to film the spectacular stampede—an exciting and tense moment in "The Eagle's Feather."

"The Eagle's Feather" was adapted to the screen by Winfred Dana

"I have taken a bottle or two of backache, and I had gone down to almost a shadow. I had just about resigned myself to being an invalid all my days when some friends urged me to try Taniae. In a month after that I was a new and different person and Taniae has kept me strong and well ever since."

CALUMET

The Economy BAKING POWDER

"My bakings used to be a matter of 'hit or miss'—sometimes they were successful; then again a total failure; no matter how hard I tried. But that was before a friend persuaded me to try Calumet. Now I know what the result will be—what to expect every time—perfectly raised, uniformly baked foods. Bake day is really a delight."

Baking Powder plays an important part in the success or failure of your baking. The great American housewives all realize this. They have found by experience that a better leavener is not, and cannot be made—that for nutritious and wholesome foods it has no equal.

Calumet is made in the World's largest baking powder factories; human hands never touch it.

EVERY STREET IN GREENVILLE

Backache? Kidney weak? Distressed with urinary ills? Want a reliable kidney remedy? Don't have to look far. Use what Greenville people recommend. Every street in Greenville has its cases.

Here's one Greenville man's experience. J. W. Little, grain broker, 1515 Dickinson Ave., tell it. He says: "I have found Doan's Kidney Pills a good kidney medicine. My kidneys became disordered from constant riding and were not acting as they should. They were irregular in action and the secretions were scanty and highly colored. I had a feeling of listlessness and became tired more easily than usual. I lost no time in getting Doan's Kidney Pills at the Warren Drug Co., and one box put me in good condition."

"We will continue to grow as long as we continue to serve the public"

—W. S. RHODES to the employees of Miller & Rhoads

SOME thirty-five years ago, when Miller & Rhoads Store occupied but one small store-room, and served but a very small part of the community, it was easy for its youthful owners to look upon it as their own business, to do with it as they pleased. In those days there were not more than a few hundred who might be called regular customers of the store, and only a handful of clerks to wait on them. But times have changed. The handful of clerks has grown to hundreds, and the customers have grown to thousands. And we number among our customers not only the people of Richmond, but thousands of loyal friends throughout the Virginias and Carolinas.

To-day the business of Miller & Rhoads has grown to such proportions that it seems more like a great public service than a private business. Like a great railroad system, a street railway or an electric light plant, it serves the public.

We are dependent upon the good-will and confidence of our thousands of friends just as they are dependent upon us for continuous and faithful service to their wants. It seems to us now like a public duty to maintain a plentiful stock of merchandise at a wide range of prices.

We have recognized our obligation, too, of making it just as easy and convenient for our customers to shop as possible. We have built a spacious, well-lighted and well-ventilated store. We have laid it out in wide, roomy aisles so that you can shop without the discomforts of crowding. We have installed rapid, frequent service to the upper floors in centrally located, easily accessible elevators. We have provided comfortable rest-rooms where you can stop and refresh yourself, and on the top floor there are luxuriously furnished tea-rooms where you can have wholesome, appetizing food at reasonable prices.

We have built not only the greatest department store building in the South, but we have made it splendidly beautiful, so that your shopping is a real pleasure. We have done all these things because we realize that we will continue to grow just so long as we continue to serve our friends.

If you can't get what you want in your own locality, try

YOUTH OF AMERICA APPEAR INTERESTED IN FOREIGN TRADE

NEW YORK.—A rapidly increasing number of young Americans is becoming interested in foreign trade as a career, according to the Educational Committee of the National Foreign Trade Council. In order to encourage young men in this direction, and to prevent foreign trade being an adventure of ignorance on the part of employers, the committee is arranging a special educational session in connection with the annual convention of the council at Boston next June.

The committee has circulated colleges and universities in the United States which have foreign trade and business courses, inviting them to send teacher and student delegates to the convention. Also it is taking steps to call the attention of exporters and importers, manufacturers and others engaged in foreign trade, to the need of encouraging, by way of employment, American youth who show interest in foreign trade as a career.

An official compilation, not long ago, showed collegiate courses in foreign service training in 52 colleges and universities with a total number of student enrollments in all subjects relating to this type of training at 12,202, with 4,973 students carrying foreign work as a major branch. A more recent investigation showed 63 institutions with a total number of 16,746 students, in commerce and finance and allied subjects, and 3,787 students carrying foreign work as a major branch.

A closer analysis of these figures tends to reduce the number of students actually engaged in training themselves for foreign business service, for the above figures include men who intend to enter the consular or other foreign service work of the United States government.

The council says its investigations show that the foreign departments of American banks have been increased nearly eight-fold since 1914. E. H. Huxley, chairman of the educational committee, said recently: "We have built up a vast and complicated technique for our domestic trade; we must now do the same for our foreign trade. For haphazard methods we must substitute scientific training. Foreign trade is a profession; it can be learned only by study and experience."

Gov. Paroles Susan Butler For Period Of Three Months

RALEIGH, Feb. 4.—Governor Cameron Morrison has paroled Susan Butler, colored, for a period of three months, from an indeterminate sentence of twelve to eighteen months in the prison of Cumberland county. The prisoner was convicted of manslaughter in the Superior courts of that county. The judge in placing sentence decreed that she could stay the executive of the sentence until after the birth of her child, if she could put a bond of $1,000. The prisoner was unable to post the bond.

Governor Morrison in signing the parole said, that it seemed that the crime had been committed accidentally and that both she and her husband seemed to be of repute. He expressed the opinion that she was on no condition to be in jail and for these reasons said that she waived the orders for 90 days.
