

LINDSAY C. WARREN WILL BE CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED WARD

Possibility of Several Candidates Gives Prospects for Lively Contest for Seat in Congress

WASHINGTON, N. C., Feb. 8. — Lindsay C. Warren, of Washington, today announced his candidacy for election on the Democratic ticket to succeed Hallet S. Ward, present Congressman from the first district who has announced his retirement after the present session of Congress.

Mr. Warren has served two terms in the North Carolina General Assembly and in 1919 was President Pro-Tem of the State Senate.

Washington, Feb. 6. — Congressman Hallet S. Ward, of the First North Carolina district, will not be a candidate to succeed himself in Congress. He made a formal statement of this today, assigning as his reason the need for him to give attention to his duties at his home in connection with his business affairs.

Addressed to the Democrats of the First Congressional District of North Carolina, Congressman Ward's announcement reads:

"I cannot be a candidate for Congress before the next primary. I know I have friends in the district that will be disappointed and I share the disappointment to the extent of having hoped to be in a Democratic Congress, guided by a Democratic administration, where larger opportunities would be presented, to be of particular service to many of them and general service to their public interests, but conditions changed to a considerable extent since I left, compel me to go home. My partner, Mr. Grimes, has an increase of personal affairs that take much of his time from the office, and that and other conditions demand my return to exclusive attention to duties there that cannot be abandoned.

"My most intense concern and desire now, is to make every one whose preference and confidence promoted me to this position, believe that I sincerely thank them and hope that private life will afford just so much opportunity as public life to give assurances and prove worthy of that confidence in the future."

This announcement leaves a wide open field in the First District. For some time there has been talk that E. F. Aydtlett, of Elizabeth City would be a candidate and he has indicated that he expects to be a candidate. There has also been mention of Lindsay C. Warren, of Washington, and of J. C. B. Ehringhaus, of Elizabeth City. That there will be a lively contest is expected, and there are some who think that former Congressman John H. Small, who was defeated by Mr. Ward, may enter the field for the nomination.

Protest Building of Fishing Creek Bridge, Wentworth

REIDSVILLE, Feb. 7.—A large number of persons met at Wentworth and protested the building of the Fishing Creek Bridge. Resolutions were passed asking the commissioners for a conference. It later developed however that only two of the five commissioner were present for the regular monthly meeting.

The important move of the mass meeting was the final resolution that was passed instructing the citizens' committee to ask for the resignation of Commissioners Pratt, McCollum, and Pruitt. The resolution further requested the citizens' committee to take legal action have the three named commissioners ousted from office in case they refused to resign.

Red Cross Helped Belgium.

BRUSSELS.—A total of 101,850 persons died in Belgium during 1923, or 13.7 deaths to each thousand inhabitants as compared with 25.5 in 1830.

Official statistics say that hygienic measures inaugurated during and after the war, prominent in the application and of which were the members of the American Red Cross, have been largely responsible for bringing down the death rate.

The mask will remain the property of Mrs. Wilson, but will be available for sculptors and art students. Dr. Fortunato is shown with the cast under his arm as he left the S street home of Mr. Wilson in Washington.

Queen of Eastern Carolina Must Be Unmarried Woman

KINSTON, Feb. 7.—It has been definitely settled that the "Queen of East Carolina" must be unmarried, according to an announcement given out by the directors of the Sectional Exposition. The ruling stated that a contestant in the beauty contest to select Queen and reigning beauty of North Carolina's 46 counties of the eastern section, must be "unmarried" in order to be eligible for the honors.

Many towns will send representatives as their most beautiful to compete in the contest which will be held in April during the Eastern Carolina Fair. Lenoir county communities will elect their own queen. Each will be crowned separately and each will be presented with a diamond ring. One thousand dollars has already been set aside for the purchase of these gifts.

DENBY REITERATES CONTENTION THAT LEASES ARE LEGAL

Senate Resumes Battle In Oil Controversy During Day

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Without discussion the Senate today adopted the Walsh resolution directing the Interior Department to move for recovery for the section of Elk Hills naval oil reserves in California now held by the Standard Oil Company of California.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The oil leasing turmoil loomed up again today after having been subdued since Saturday because of the death of Woodrow Wilson.

The Senate resumed its consideration of various aspects of the question while accountants representing the investigating committee prepared to extend their study of the accounts of the books of a number of stock brokers to determine whether or not any government officials had had dealings in the stocks of any of the companies formed to take over the naval oil reserves, leases of which were negotiated by Albert B. Fall, as Secretary of Interior.

The committee sought from the Senate today renewed authority to conduct its inquiry, Fall last week having contended that their power to question further had expired.

Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, was also ready to press for action on his resolution looking to annulment of the lease held by the Standard Oil Company of California, on section 36 in Elk Hill reserves in that state, if debate on the measure did not threaten to delay unacceptably resumption of discussion of the Robinson resolution calling on President Coolidge to request the resignation of Secretary Denby, who signed the Teapot Dome and California naval reserve leases with Fall.

Secretary Denby in a telegram to Roy D. Chapin, of Detroit, replying to a message of confidence last night, reiterated his contention that the leases were sanctioned by law and were for the benefit of the government and that transfer of jurisdiction over them from the Navy Department to the Interior Department was also legal.

Governor Refuses To Pardon or Parole Darwin M. Keeton

RALEIGH, Feb. 7.—Governor Morrison has refused to pardon or parole Darwin M. Keeton, who was convicted in the Superior Court of Wake County in September 1923, on the charge of bigamy, and sentenced to serve nine months on the county roads.

In declining the application Governor Morrison said, "It seems to me that for a crime of this nature that for this crime the sentence was very light. This crime is such a deliberate one and can only be committed in a most solemn and deliberate manner. Although the plight of the young man and his first wife is appealing, I do not believe that I should appear in any manner to condone this offense."

Fire Destroys Garage And Tool Shanty

Fire entailing a loss of approximately $800 with $500 insurance, destroyed the garage of Mr. L. G. Congleton this morning at 12:30 o'clock. The fire is believed to have started by an incubator which was in a little house built next to the garage. A large number of chickens and rabbits were burned. Mr. Congleton's automobile was slightly damaged.

The first alarm at 7:25 was from a tool house at the new hospital which is now being built. The shanty was completely destroyed.

SENATE COMMITTEE NOT TO FURTHER QUESTION FALL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Further efforts to question Albert B. Fall, central figure in the Senate oil investigations, were abandoned today by the oil investigating committee.

The decision was reached upon advice from the special government counsel in the oil cases, Silas Strawn and Albee Pomerene. They recommended against permitting Mr. Fall to testify unless he waived immunity.

ROCKY MOUNT WILL PLAY HERE FRIDAY

The basketball team of the Rocky Mount High School will play against the Greenville boys in the Star warehouse tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. When they played against Rocky Mount several days ago Rocky Mount team defeated them by a score of 22 to 14. Since that time the local team has been put through strenuous practice and are planning to return the defeat to Rocky Mount tomorrow night.

This is the last game before the championship games.

Negro Graded School Pays Fine Tribute to Late War President

Woodrow Wilson the central figure of the greatest crisis in the world's history occupied for thirty minutes the attention of the pupils of the Negro Graded School.

The principal announced that they pause and pay tribute to memory of the war president, one of the teachers, Donnell acted as mistress of ceremonies, while another teacher, Nina W. Cherry led the school in singing "Lead Kindly Light."

Remarks were made by the principal, who said that he felt, that it was his duty to call the attention of the children, who had interested themselves in war saving stamps, to the passing of a man who has made an imperishable name in world history.

Negroes readily respond to pay honor to such historical characters as Lincoln, Grant, Sumner, Chase, Beecher, Phillips and Garrison. But we must take an advanced step and remember the ideals and achievements of the cavaliers as well as the Roundheads.

We are anxious to train the future men and women away from the hatreds and prejudices of the sixties, and point them to the elysian fields of everlasting peace and good will.

If we are to refer to the glories of the thousands of our young men, who wrought well on Flanders field we can do so recognizing that they followed the orders of Woodrow Wilson.

Many of us who note the great work the Presbyterian church has done and is doing, honor him for his great father, Dr. Joseph Wilson.

Exercises were closed by the singing of the "Negro National Anthem."

SELLS DAUGHTER GET MONEY MOTHER-IN-LAW'S FUNERAL

PEKING.—A young Chinese woman, poverty-stricken through the long absence of her husband, recently sold her five-year-old daughter for $30 and used the proceeds to bury her mother-in-law, according to Peking police records.

The husband many months ago joined one of the army divisions in Hupoh. The young wife supported her aged mother-in-law and child by sewing. She was highly respected by her neighbors because of her piety and diligence.

When the old woman died the daughter-in-law, prompted by devotion born of generations of reverence for the elders of the family, sacrificed her child that her husband's mother might receive proper burial.

Army Nurse Saw Two Presidents Die.

Miss Ruth Powderly, U. S. Army nurse, was in constant attendance upon Warren G. Harding when he died in San Francisco. Later returned to Washington, she was summoned to the bedside of Woodrow Wilson and constantly ministered to him until death ended his struggles. She also nursed Mrs. Harding on the occasion of her nearly fatal illness, and was a member of the Harding party in Alaska.

ULTIMATE TOMB OF WILSON TO BE IN DISTRICT COLUMBIA

War President Laid to Rest Yesterday With Services in Keeping With Oft Expressed Wish

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Wrapped in the glory of death Woodrow Wilson has found sanctuary under the towering arches of Washington Cathedral acclaimed by his countrymen and the world.

He was laid to his eternal rest in the silent vault with only the solemn and simple religious services as was his wish often spoken to his widow.

Before her is still the task of deciding where shall be the final resting place of her husband. For months he will probably lie in the vault to which he was committed yesterday just as night descended slowly over the nation's capital but a greater memorial will one day be reared to him to show the honor in which men held him. The dead war president had given thought to the place where he would rest in death and it will be within the District of Columbia that his ultimate tomb will be set.

Japan Appeals To United States To Heed Her Desire

TOKIO, JAPAN, Feb. 7.—Viewing with apparent anxiety "the increasing restrictions upon the Japanese residents of the United States and the proposal now before Congress for further exclusion of Japanese," Foreign Minister K. Matsui in an exclusive statement to the Associated Press today appealed to the United States to heed the Japan's "cherished desire to be treated on the same footing as other independent nations."

Southern Methodists Claim World's Record In Teacher Training

LAKE JUNALUSKA, Feb. 7.—In so far as the Protestant denominations are concerned, the Southern Methodist Church claims the world's record in teacher training work, according to reports received here from L. F. Sensabaugh, superintendent of the teacher training section, Methodist Episcopal Church South, General Sunday School Board. The report stated that the Methodists had closed the year with a record breaking number of units to its credit; they totaling 28,542.

The schools at Lake Junaluska, N. C., as a unit, led all other schools or training classes with a total number of 686 units issued during the year 1923.

A comparison of the reports issued by all the other heads of Protestant Boards of religious education is made by Mr. Sensabaugh.

Northern Methodist 10,961 units; Northern Baptists, 8,018; Southern Presbyterian, 2,592; Disciples, 2,487; Northern Presbyterian 1,200; Brethren, 800 (estimated); Congregationalists, 235. Of the credits reported by Mr. Sensabaugh, 13,971 were taken in the 185 standard training schools held in Southern Methodist territory during the past year; 493 were earned by pastors in twelve pastor's summer schools; 686 were issued at Leadership Schools at Lake Junaluska; 195 were issued to students at Methodist Institutions of learning; and 10,092 were issued by correspondence. More than 30,000 persons were reached by the training school system which is a feature of the Sunday School work of Southern Methodists.

The record of 1923 is a 52 per cent increase over the high water mark of 1922, it was stated and is nearly three times as many as the number of standard training school credits issued by any Protestant denomination in any one year.

The specific function of the teacher training section is to furnish a trained and consecrated lay teaching force for the church, according to the leaders of the movement.

COOLIDGE'S MEXICAN POLICY

Unwillingness on the part of Democrats to make partisan capital of the country's foreign policy has thus far saved the Coolidge administration from a Congressional attack on its Mexican maneuvers, but this immunity can hardly continue much longer, in the opinion of observers in Washington.

Senator Hiram Johnson has denounced the attempt of the Coolidge administration to preserve and perpetuate the Obregon regime and set a precedent of this Government's opposition to all revolutions in Latin-American whether or not they have provocation or popular support. The Progressives in the Senate and the House are echoing Johnson's denunciations.

Outside of Congress and in circles not partisan or political there is a good deal of dissatisfaction with the Administration's potential embroilment of the United States in a sanguinary conflict between two Mexican factions. These onlookers are wondering why the United States should do more than protect American interests in Mexico or elsewhere during the progress of an insurrection. They cannot understand why the American Government should sell supplies to one faction and practically put the American navy at its disposal and at the same time threaten and challenge the other faction.

One comment is heard in Washington rather frequently when the Mexican question is under discussion—"It smells of oil." There is a general conviction, even if it is not supported by proof, that some of the interests have recently acquired the American Navy's oil in this country are using official influence to protect their present holdings or procure additional properties in Mexico.

OIL GRABS AND RADICALISM

The end of the oil-lease scandals has nowhere near been reached, and no one, in the light of recent disclosures, can say in what direction they will spread. To the people of this country it was a staggering shock when out of their customary indifference to the affairs of government they were suddenly awakened by reports of official faithlessness and dishonesty. It would be too much to expect that they should wait in every case for full legal proofs of fraud and corruption before suffering some weakening in their faith in the soundness of the American system. It is too much to hope that they should suppress their worst suspicions through mere loyalty to party or even pride of patriotism.

The charges of rascality, based on testimony before the Senate committee, cut too deep. When bribery is openly alleged and discussed in Washington in connection with the personal and official relations of leading oil magnates and a former member of the Cabinet, when large sums of money are privately passed and immensely valuable leases of oil lands conveyed and the principals themselves are brought to admit the facts, it is not easy for the average man and woman to preserve unshaken faith in the integrity of the Government.

Such a crisis in public opinion as has arisen because of the oil-lease scandals cannot pass quickly. Its effects will long endure. It creates fresh opportunities, beyond anything they could have accomplished by their own efforts, for every breed of agitator, for every class of new and old social discontent. The Dohneys and Sinclairs and Falls may protest passionately their pureness of heart, their lawyers may plead that they are guiltless of wrongdoing, but they have worked more mischief in sipping the confidence of many people in their Government than all the radicals, domestic and imported, have done in years. We grow terribly excited over Bolshevik propaganda and secret agents of the Reds, and when men ranking high in industry and in public office are discovered in shameful traffic for their own gain it is treated as a matter of partisan politics. Is it any wonder that there are cynical comments?

Oil grabs may aid the grabbers to garner their thrifty $100,000,000 here and there. They aid also radicalism—and the revolution-ary can ask no more useful ally.—N. Y. World.

THEATRES

"DRIFTING" IS POWERFUL DEAN MELODRAMA

Priscilla Dean continues to make her appearance in strong emotional roles that bring out the best qualities of her dramatic ability.

"Drifting" at White's theatre today is her newest starring vehicle. "Drifting" is John Colton's stage play which William A. Brady produced with Alice Brady starring on the stage, adapted to the screen by A. P. Younger and Tod Browning and directed by Tod Browning as a Universal-Jewel special production. The story is an intensely dramatic, thrilling one of a white woman practically alone in China and engaged in a dangerous occupation—selling the opium that is the curse of the Mongolian empire. The plot ranges from the shadowed streets of Shanghai to the scarlet poppy fields of the hill country.

Fans have always thought of Priscilla Dean as the fiery figure of a woman alone fighting for her rights against trickery and dishonesty. It is in that sort of character that they will see her in "Drifting."

"WITHIN THE LAW" SEEMS NORMA'S BIGGEST YET

From the grandeur of the Court of Louis X in "The Eternal Flame" and the enchantment of the turquet East in Robert Hichens' "The Voice From the Minaret" to the underworld of New York City may seem a long step for any motion picture star, but the versatile Norma Talmadge makes it with her latest drama "Within the Law," one of the most powerful crook plays ever brought to the screen.

As Mary Turner, the little shop girl around whom Bayard Veiller wrote his tremendously successful stage production, Miss Talmadge is said to perform the finest emotional work of her career.

Some of the strongest scenes are enacted in the courtroom and in prison when Mary Turner, a shop girl, is convicted and sentenced for a theft of which she is not guilty. Because of her record and police persecution, Mary is unable to find respectable employment on her release, and it is this circumstance that sends her into a band of blackmailers and brings about an extraordinary romance.

This widely heralded photodrama, directed by Frank Lloyd, will be shown at the Strand Theatre next Monday and Tuesday. Special ladies' matinee Tuesday.

How to know "cured" fertilizer

Great bins of Royster Fertilizer "cure" or "age" for months so that your results from its use will swell the earnings from your land.

HOW can you tell Royster's "cured" Fertilizer from fertilizer that has not been aged? The greatest difference is seen in the more profitable crops grown by the cured fertilizer, but there is a difference even to the untrained eye!

After the first mixing, Royster's goods are placed in great bins where they age from four to six months. They are then re-milled and bagged.

The fine grinding of the ingredients and the close association of the plant-food elements bring about a more complete chemical action during this aging, making a fertilizer which is readily available to the plant from seed time to harvest.

The curing and re-milling are two of the reasons successful farmers say "Royster's helps to make bigger and better crops."

Don't buy fertilizer in a hit or miss fashion any longer. Put your faith in the old, well-known Royster reputation and ask for Royster's Fertilizer by name.

ROUND TABLE CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETINGS

(Reported.)
 The Round Table was royally entertained by Mrs. R. L. Smith Tuesday afternoon, in her beautiful home on Evans St.

The president, Mrs. Grant called the meeting to order by requesting all present to bow their heads in a few moments of silent prayer in honor of our beloved ex-President Woodrow Wilson.

The calling of the roll was responded to by interesting current events which caused much merriment.

The program committee for the following year was appointed by the president and reads as follows:

Mesdames Herring, Austin and Everett.

A letter from Oteen thanking us for Christmas sacks proved the great appreciation of the inmates of the hospital. An individual letter of thanks was received by Mrs. Milton White, the contents of which she read to our great delight, with request that if another followed we might have the pleasure of hearing that read also.

Mrs. Jesse Moye was called on for a few words concerning Bek's Peace Plan which was indeed greatly enjoyed.

The topic of the program for the afternoon was "Asia at the Cross Roads." The interesting paper on "Summary of conditions in Korea," given by Mrs. Milton White caused us to feel that we knew more about Korea than we had known before. Following this was another interesting

WHERE WOODROW WILSON WILL REST FIVE YEARS.

Crypt in Bethlehem Chapel

The minister of the Bethlehem Chapel, in the uncompleted Washington National Cathedral, is shown standing before the altar at the crypt in which the mortal remains of Woodrow Wilson will remain for five years. It is likely that when the cathedral is completed the body will be transferred to the crypt of the Chapel of the Resurrection at the crossing of the cathedral beneath the imposing tower. Rev. Sylvester Beech, of Princeton, N. J., former pastor of the Wilson family, officiated in part at the funeral services.

paper giving by Miss Denny. This was "Summary of conditions in the Philippines."

Miss Helene Higgs charmingly rendered two vocal selections, "Little Gray Home in the West" and "Marcheta" accompanied by Mrs. Ray Tyson. Mrs. Tyson then gave a beautiful musical selection which was doubly enjoyed because of having been rendered on the lovely new Baby Grand piano of the hostess.

Guests of the afternoon were Mesdames Foxhall, Ray Tyson, Everett Cooper and Miss Helene Higgs.

A tempting salad course was served by the hostess assisted by Mesdames Everett Cooper and Foxhall.

A very interesting meeting of the Round Table Club was held with Mrs. Tilghman on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 22, with 19 members present and Mrs. Chlce Brown as guest.

Mrs. Austin was appointed to represent the club at the meeting, Mr. Nuttall called to plan for more extensive charity work, with authority to pledge one dollar per month.

Mrs. E. B. Higgs gave a very instructive and interesting paper on "Conditions in Japan." Mrs. E. W. Griffin read an equally instructive and enjoyable paper on "Conditions in China." After some lively discussions of these topics the hostess served delightful refreshments.

Y. W. C. A. HAS MONTHLY BUSINESS MEETING

On Saturday evening at 6:30 the Y. W. C. A. of Teachers College held its monthly business meeting. Several important business matters came up for disposition. Reports from the various committees were heard.

After the business was completed the social committee, of which Miss Bertha Westbrook is chairman, had charge of the features of entertainment.

The program was very much enjoyed. The girls of 1924 were posed with the girls of 1921 in a short pageant. The characters were Colonial girls, Misses Gwyndolyn Hendren, Annie McFayden and Myrtle Syllivant, Puritan Girl, Miss and was very much enjoyed. Following this was another interesting

Reducing the cost of farm improvement—

land-clearing, ditching and tree-planting

THE use of explosives on the farm is increasing rapidly because dynamite does lots of heavy work cheaper and better than anything else. Many farmers around here have found this out.

DUMORITE, the new du Pont explosive, for land-clearing and tree-planting, gives uniformly effective results at very low cost.

RED CROSS EXTRA is an old standby—used by farmers everywhere for all-round use, except for ditching in wet soil.

DU PONT STRAIGHT DYNAMITE, 50% to 60% strength, is the explosive to use for ditching work.

Du Pont Dynamites are low in cost and do the work better and quicker. We keep complete stocks on hand. Let us figure on your requirements.

RETURNS LOST BOY TO PARENTS, GETS LETTER OF THANKS

Mrs. O. H. Smith Cares for Boy Who Was Following Race Horses

On last July 28, a little 14-year-old boy, by the name of Henry E. Dohmen, of Columbus, O., ran away from his parents and came South with race horses, spending the fall in attending fairs in this circuit. During this time and since, his parents have been doing everything possible to locate and have him returned to them, and even to the extent of hiring detectives and offering $200 reward.

Mrs. O. H. Smith, of Greenville, became attached to the lad, and by kindness, gained his confidence, and finally succeeded in getting him to go back home, but she has not claimed any reward, as her interest in the boy and his return to his parents was actuated by human kindness and the mother instinct. A few days ago Mrs. Smith received the following letter from the mother of the boy, and has asked that it be published as to set at rest the efforts being made by some parties to locate the boy and thus receive the reward, as any further effort along this line is now unnecessary:

Columbus, O.,
Feb. 1, 1924

Dear Mrs. Smith:
Our boy arrived home all O. K. You can't understand what we have suffered since July 28. His father had just about given up hopes when we heard from him.

We have spent close to two thousand dollars in detectives, railroad fares, and telegrams, not saying anything of our sleepless nights and days. Henry speaks very well of you both. We do hope he has had enough of horses. No boy could have a better home than he has, but he got the wonder lust. We can tell by his conversation that you were very good to him.

We were so worried about his Asthma, as he has it very bad. We have tried everything for it, but can't cure it. He spoke about some man that was to send him his sheepskin coat. If you hear or see anything of it, will you please tell him where to send it? I am sending you one of the circulars so you can see how we have tried to find him.
Thanking you for being good to my boy,
I remain,
MRS. J. J. DOHMEN,
837 S. 22nd St., Columbus, O.

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE DISCUSSES ITS EDUCATIONAL SERVICE OF PUBLIC LIBRARY

William Allen White recently prepared a statement in the interests of American education, pointing out the educational service which a library can render to its community. There are so many good points in this statement that we are going to quote it in full:

"Ignorance is the menace of civilization. If America continues to grow the minds of her people must grow. And the schools alone cannot satisfy this need for continuing the intellectual growth of American citizens. In America today, 85 per cent of the boys and girls are in school until the age of fourteen years. After that, but one in five continues school until the age of 18. Then what happens? A scanty few go on to college or university and the others do not. Is this the end of their education then? Must their mental growth cease when the school doors close behind them?
There must be some way out. Some way to continue the educational growth of American citizens. And there is a way. That way is the public library. It is America's continuation school. It is the most democratic of American educational institutions. It is free to every person—color or race, nationality or creed make no difference. It is free to every person who wishes to read, and who is willing to read. If the schools will only teach the reading habit, the library will educate the world, for the public library is free to every new idea, free to every fresh point of view; nothing is barred because it is new or radical or different. The public library is free from party politics; it is free from religious intolerance and prejudice. The public library provides information on all sides of every important question—so far as its funds will allow.

The citizen has his duty toward the library. First of all he should encourage larger appropriations of funds. Too many people are being turned away because there are not enough copies of certain books to supply the demand, or not enough money to buy all the books that should be on the shelves. More than half the people of the United States do not have library facilities of any kind. The educational facilities of the library have not been recognized as they should be; with that recognition will come greater service.

Democratic as the library is, its service should be greatly extended. The librarians should be prepared to give more service, more encouragement and sympathy to their patrons, whether to help the half-literate foreigner or the scholar. The public should be made to see that the library is a continuation school. While the library is useful and helpful, it has still not reached its maximum of helpfulness or usefulness and it cannot do so until the people themselves realize what it has to give them."—The Rotarian.

And you will join the legions who know this new Six, that is built by Hudson, in saying it provides ideal transportation.

It continues the well known Essex qualities of economy and reliability. It adds a smoothness of performance which heretofore was exclusively Hudson's. Both cars are alike in all details that count for long satisfactory service at small operating cost.

Steering is like guiding a bicycle. Gears shift easily. Care of the car calls for little more than keeping it lubricated. For the most part that is done with an oil can.

Fuel economy is impressive. Oil consumption is unusually low and tire mileage surprisingly high.

The New Essex is backed by a service policy that keeps maintenance down to the minimum.

I have been using fertilizers for the past twenty years, and have tried many different makes; but for the past two years I have put yours to a test under Corn, Cotton and Tobacco with some of the best fertilizers I could buy elsewhere. I could tell your fertilizers to the row, especially under tobacco. I made more weight and by far the best quality with yours.
From my own experience your fertilizers are worth more than any other sold in this community and there are at least a dozen of us here.
I take pleasure in recommending your goods to all wanting the best.
