

Republican Leaders Disagree On Status Att-Gen. Daugherty

Chairman Adams of Republican National Committee Declares Demand for Resignation of Attorney General Daugherty to Be "Absurd"

Washington, Feb. 22.—Attorney General Daugherty's refusal to retire from office under fire led to open disagreement among Republican party chiefs today as the Senate prepared to drive home the attack upon him.

At the same time Republican leaders in the Senate, who believe that Daugherty should get out at once, agreed definitely with the Democrats to place at the head of the committee to investigate the official actions of the Attorney General some other than Senator Brookhart, one of the a-Follette insurgent group, whose members steadily have attacked the Attorney General.

In the midst of the discussion, Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, who has taken the lead in the prosecution of the oil leases inquiry, appeared in the Senate after cutting short a vacation in North Carolina, held a hurried conference with his colleagues of the oil committee and announced that unless further evidence was forthcoming he was opposed to inquiry by the committee into Attorney General Daugherty's reported dealings in Sinclair oil stocks.

Mr. Daugherty, himself, created a stir by his appearance in the Senate chamber during today's session. He explained that a month ago he had promised Senator William, Republican, Ohio, that he would listen to the reading in the Senate today of Washington's "Farewell Address."

Washington, Feb. 22.—With Attorney General Daugherty on record as ready to carry to the country his fight against the assault to force him out of the cabinet, negotiations proceeded in the Senate today looking toward early action on the resolution of Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, providing for an investigation into Daugherty's administration.

Progress toward a compromise on the resolution is understood to have been made yesterday at a conference between Senator Wheeler and Senator Lodge, Massachusetts, Republican leader, who objected to the measure as introduced because it undertook to name the investigating committee instead of leaving that matter to president Coolidge.

Daugherty Still Defiant. Mr. Daugherty's statement of his position was made late yesterday in a letter to Senator Pepper, Pennsylvania, who with Senator Lodge advised President Coolidge Wednesday to ask for the Attorney-General's resignation. Earlier in the day it had been disclosed that the report received by Senator Wheeler from the special investigator stating that Daugherty had dealt in Sinclair oil stocks had been investigated by the oil committee and placed before the president.

Attorney General Daugherty made no reference to the Sinclair oil stocks report in his letter to Senator Pepper sent in response to a note addressed to him from the Senator advising him of the conference with the president.

He described as base lies the "scandalous and defamatory charges of my political adversaries in the Senate" and declared that his elimination from the cabinet "voluntarily or otherwise would be a confession that they were true."

"I will never be a party to such a program," he asserted, asking, "Am I to be denied the right granted to even the basest criminal to a trial by his peers?"

Says Demands Absurd. Chairman Adams, of the Republican National Committee, declared today that the demand for retirement of Attorney General Daugherty without a thorough investigation appeared to him to be "absurd."

The chairman and other officials of the national committee have advised President Coolidge that they believed the Mr. Daugherty should have a hearing before any action is taken.

"We feel that the demand now for the resignation of Attorney General Daugherty," said Adams, "without a trial in a case of only unsupported charges is absurd."

Although Adams has not conferred recently with the president, the subjects of the issue are well known at the White House. The matter has been discussed informally at committee headquarters for several days.

Senator Walsh Returns. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, leading figure in the oil leases issues returned to Washington unexpectedly today. He had gone to North Carolina for a vacation and it was expected that he would be absent until Sunday or Monday. Whether the Senator's return forecasted any turn in the oil inquiry remained undisclosed.

The Montana Senator got in touch with other members of the oil committee immediately after reaching his office. He said that he had no statement to make until he could familiarize himself with latest developments.

The Senator left Washington Sunday and has been in Pinehurst, North Carolina. Just before he started south he was informed of the special investigator's report of oil stock dealings by Daugherty and after a conference with other Senators regarding it, Chairman Lenroot had communicated the special report to the president. During his absence, Mr. Walsh declined to comment upon the oil lease situation.

CONDITION OF MRS. MEADOWS IS GREATLY IMPROVED

The friends of Mrs. L. R. Meadows who is ill in Florence, S. C., will be glad to learn that her condition is greatly improved today.

CENTRAL FIGURES IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

Attorney-General H. M. Daugherty, of Ohio, is under bitter attack in the United States Senate, in connection with the oil leases. Representative John N. Garner, Democrat, of Texas, is the author of the income tax bill passed by the House, sitting as a committee of the whole. W. P. G. Harding, head of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, has been selected as High Commissioner of the League of Nations to control the finances of Hungary, which is to be granted an international loan of $100,000,000.

Detroit Trust Co. Buys City's Bond Issue $107,484.00

At an adjourned meeting of the Greenville Board of Aldermen, Wednesday night, the $100,000 bond issue for sewer and street improvements was sold to the Detroit Trust Company for $107,484.00. The remainder of the matter was deferred to be taken up at a meeting which will be held in the near future.

The sale of bonds was the best ever conducted in the town of Greenville. There were fourteen sealed bids, seven of them having personal representatives. The sale of the bonds at the high price mentioned speaks eloquently for the financial affairs of the town. The fact that so many bond buyers were anxious to get Greenville bonds and that they sold at such a good premium is conclusive proof of the financial stability of the city. It shows our standing in the world of finance.

He was assisted in entertaining by his daughter, Miss Angelina and his sister Miss Ida Morrison. Col. Fred A. Olds, of the State Historical commission, was among the guests.

Governor Morrison addressed the students and complimented them on their conduct which he had observed during his three years administration. He said that Meredith College in its new program of expansion that was soon to start, was playing an even greater part in the educational life of North Carolina than ever before. Reference was made to the fact, by the Governor, that Meredith College is one of the three women colleges in the state that come within the class A. The other two were given as North Carolina College for Women and Salem.

SEEK INSURGENT VOTE TO DISPLACE DEMOCRATIC RATE

Republican Leaders Are Anxious to Line Up With Insurgents

Washington, Feb. 22.—With a vote in prospect next Tuesday the House pressed forward today in its consideration of the revenue bill, interest in the progress of which has been increased by the new effort on the part of Republican organization leaders to get enough of the insurgent votes to displace the Democratic income rates schedule incorporated in it as a substitute for the Mellon proposal.

Representative Longworth, Republican leader, said he had been assured that several of the 17 Republicans who voted for the Democratic rate schedule would vote for a plan calling for a maximum surtax of 37 1-2 per cent and reduction in the normal tax on incomes below $4,000 from three per cent to two per cent. The normal tax of six per cent on incomes above that amount would be retained.

Gives Interesting Facts Concerning Activities of Legion Since War

Winston-Salem, Feb. 22.—American Legion officials from every department in the south headed by National Commander John R. Quinn are here today in a get-together conference. The meeting was called by the department of North Carolina in order that the various departments might get together to settle upon certain measures for which the legion will fight. Matters pertaining to hospitalization and other subjects in which the legion is vitally interested were considered.

National Commander John R. Quinn was introduced to the conference and delivered an address the subject of which was "The American Legion."

Luncheon was served at a local hotel shortly after noon by the ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary. During the afternoon there were group meetings of the various officers of the different departments after which Commander Quinn presented membership trophies to various posts that had earned such recognition.

At the night session following a dinner there will be an address by Brigadier General Albert J. Bowley, commander of Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

"The obligation that the Legion treasurers dearest of all is the guardianship of our disabled comrades; the thousands of men who are suffering visible and invisible wounds, who gaze day after day at the bleak white walls of the hospitals of this country. That we call our hospitalization and rehabilitation problem" declared National Commander John R. Quinn.

"If you had toured these hospitals as I have, and seen row after row of pale patient faces out of which big suffering eyes gaze at you, their glances piercing your heart and bringing tears to your eyes and sobbing in your throat, you would know what a Legionaire feels when he gathers at a convention to express his will. He thinks when he sees them: 'Here but for the Grace of God am I!'"

"If I were not a Legionaire and like most of the people of the United States had obtained my information about the American Legion from certain newspapers, I should believe many things that are not true.

"I should believe that if these veterans were given a bonus there would be an orgy of crap shooting and card playing until the money was spent. I should believe that they were unpatriotic citizens selling their morals for a dollar and a quarter a day, I should believe that the Legion was a group of ex-service men organized merely to raid the treasury.

"It is to dissipate this impression that has come to be prevalent that I have chosen to speak on the American Legion and to outline for you its ideas. First I want to tell you that the adjusted compensation is but a small part of the Legions program, to be exact only one-fifth. Later I shall dwell on it in some detail but now I want to tell of the Legion's work for the disabled soldier. I want to tell you of its work for the orphans whose fathers died for their country and of its broad American policies. I want to tell you about its influence in the county, the city, the nation; what it stands for and why.

"Let me now touch briefly on the work of our Americanism Commission. It was the American Legion which drew attention to the fact that there are nearly five million adults in this country that can neither read nor write. It was the American Legion that initiated the National Education Week as a country-wide demonstration to wipe out the evils of illiteracy.

"And now the American Legion is advocating universal physical education so that if another war does come—and God forbid! Thousands of potential military men will not be lost to the country because of physical defects.

"The American Legion takes pride in the fact that it was through its unceasing endeavor that the three per cent immigration law was enacted. (Continued on page 6)

WISDOM OF WASHINGTON

The passing years have not dimmed the figure of "The Great Virginian," as Wendell Phillips called Washington; they have not humanized him and drawn him from the skies. Imposing as is the towering shaft of the nation's capitol, lovely and spacious as it Mount Vernon, interesting as are Valley Forge and Yorktown, not any one of these nor all of them are as interesting and impressive as the story of the man's fortitude, his pure and disinterested patriotism, his calm and sagacious judgment amidst turmoil and confusion.

Washington was a wise man from whatever angle we may view him. A score of our presidents have possessed greater knowledge but few have equaled him in wisdom. Knowledge and wisdom are often confused, and the terms carelessly employed. Wisdom is the ability to use what stock of knowledge we possess, and to use it with precision and power. Of "walking encyclopedias" there are half a dozen to one wise person who uses accurately his stock of knowledge, whether large or small. Washington trusted reason rather than impulse. He did not jump at conclusions or take snap judgments on anything. He was philosophical, not emotional, practical, not theoretical. A scrutiny of Washington's acts, both as private citizen and president, reveal the thoughtful man, and also something of his methods. His was the mind to reflect, to deliberate, to think things through, and Foreign trade with India and China, giving London, with its large trade in silver and silver exchanges, an advantage, the New York market offers the attraction of cheaper shipping charges to the silver buyers. New York also has been helped by the broadening market in Far-Eastern exchanges lessening the risks of sterling, rupee and Shanghai tael fluctuations. As a result this market is receiving continually increasing silver buying orders.

London's experience of several hundred years and its more extensive facilities for handling speculative transactions, however, will enable it to hold the preponderant silver trading position for some time, experts believe.

At the same time, they assert, the London market is at a disadvantage because it can no longer obtain from continental Europe large quantities of silver coin to be melted down and resold a process which since 1915 has added 400,000,000 ounces to the exports for India and China.

The United States, on the other hand, is benefited by its own large production, which has been swelled by an increased output from lead, zinc and copper companies, which are also silver producers.

Reduced transportation costs made possible by direct shipments of silver from this country to the Far Eastern nations, the largest consumers of the metal, have brought about the change. Formerly American shipments were made in large volume to London, from where re-shipment was made to the Orient.

Total silver exports from the United States direct to the Far East in 1923 amounted to 86,000,000 ounces as against 69,000,000 ounces in the preceding year, while London shipped only 76,000,000 ounces, of which 15,000,000 were re-shipments from the United States.

EVENING ENJOYED BY JUNIOR STEWARDS AND THEIR GIRL FRIENDS

Last evening a delightful supper and pleasant hour was much enjoyed by the Junior Stewards and their "best" girls in the basement of the Jarvis Memorial Church. The ladies of Mrs. Powell's circle served the supper. It consisted of:

Grapefruit, chicken, peas, sweet potatoes, dressing, Irish potato salad, fruit gelatine and Angel food cake, which was all "fit for a king."

Upon arrival the couples were greeted by Mr. Scoville, the pastor and Mr. K. T. Futrell, director of the board, and told to wait outside and the "eats" would soon be ready. Finally the supper call was heard and the boys and girls filed in and found their places.

Mr. Scoville then asked the blessing after which the folks began to start on the enjoyment of the evening. After the supper had been served Mr. Scoville made a few remarks on the Junior board stating that he wished for this occasion to be held annually. Mr. Futrell then made a few remarks on "The Finest of the Supper" to which all readily agreed. Then the real talks of the evening began. Mr. Joe Taft started the "ball rolling" he was followed by the other boys whose remarks (speeches) all more or less based on Mr. Futrell and Mr. Scoville's words especially on what Mr. Scoville said about the affair occurring annually.

Those present were: Misses Mary Holt, Mildred Matlocks, Elizabeth Austin, Louise Atkinson, Polly Fulford, Marie Hardee, Elizabeth Holton, Mary Lee Pittman, Mildred Mangum, and Inez Vanduyke, Messrs. Marvin Suggs, Walter Dail, Robert Forbes, Norman Winslow, Luther Moore, Joe Taft, Aaron Windham, Leslie Humber, Edward Powell and D. S. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Scoville and Mr. and Mrs. K. T. Futrell.

The Senior board of stewards gave this to the Junior board who enjoyed it very much. We wish to thank the Senior board for this most enjoyable occasion.

RECAST OF QUAKES POSSIBLE, DECLARES CALIFORNIA PROPHET

Santa Clara, Cal., Feb. 22. Earthquakes not only will be predicted in the future, but actually have been recast in the past, said Father Jeremiah S. Ricard, B. S. J., director of the observatory of Santa Clara university, in answer to an assertion made by Washington recently by Dr. Thomas A. Jagger, Jr., government seismologist that continued study of seismological data will enable scientists to predict our warnings of the approach of tremors.

Father Ricard, noted as a weather prophet, is known as "The Padre of Rain" and his theory of the relation of sun spots to the weather has attracted wide attention. "Earthquakes," he contended, "were first predicted by Marchand, a Frenchman, 25 years ago, by means of sun spots. Unfortunately he died without perfecting his system. And as late as his idea was greatly ridiculed. We took up the same idea here at Santa Clara and tested it until 1914. Our findings were that a sun spot passing the central meridian, or happening in the vicinity, east or west, was synchronized with earthquakes somewhere on the globe given out by the press. Professor J. S. Portia, of this observatory, became imbued with the findings and continued the study until his death last year.

Professor Portia's death determined that Father Ricard resume the study of predicting earthquakes. Of the attitude of the public and the attitude of the scientific world toward a theory advanced by Marchand, a Jesuit astronomer said: "It is hard for the layman, professed physicist though he be, to see a casual connection, or connection, between sun spots and earthquakes, or sun spots and weather. But this proves only a limitation of the human mind and a great ignorance, even among scientists."

According to Father Ricard, Marchand was not the only astronomer to study the relation between earthquakes and sun spots. Some time before the High Clements in London held only that earthquakes were caused by the joint action of the sun and moon. On this idea Clements explained the great earthquakes, particularly the disastrous Lisbon tremor.

Father Ricard also announced that he had begun the study of the possible relation of the moon to the direction of storms. If it is found, he explained, that the moon has influence on atmospheric tides capable of inducing barometric rises and falls along certain lines of the earth, the study should aid in long-range forecasting.

TELLS AMAZING STORY OF INFANT'S BIRTH.

Frederick Payson Keach, Dr. & Mrs. F. P. Keach, Mrs. Marian L. Lyman, mother of the child.

An amazing story of the parentage of little Frederick Payson Keach, 20 months old, is told in the divorce suit instituted in Salem, Mass., by Mrs. Frederick Payson Keach, wife of a well-known physician. She produced a letter, dated July, 1922, under the terms of which she permitted Mrs. Marian L. Lyman, of Beverly, Mass., to go to a Brooklyn (N. Y.) hospital under the name of "Mrs. Keach," to give birth to the baby, and since that time, until the filing of the divorce action, she had kept the story secret. Mrs. Lyman is named as co-respondent, and Horace Lyman, her divorced husband, is named as Dr. Keach's illegitimate son.

Lady Astor's House Styles Contrasted By Lady Terrington

London. — Lady Terrington has carried out her campaign threat to wear her best clothes in the House of Commons instead of following the lead of Lady Astor, who set a precedent for the first three women M. P.'s with her simple black coat suit and white silk shirt with broad turnback collar.

Seven of the eight feminine parliamentarians appeared for the first days' debating in plain dark costumes, either black or brown. But Lady Terrington wore a three-piece model of black charmeuse, the loose coat lined with lacquer red and bordered with gold overbraided in red to match. Her sheer silk stockings were of a light hue. She wore a little hat, its crown swathed with a wide black ribbon tied a bow on one side. In the center of the hat was an upright buckle that caught and reflected the light.

Lady Astor was dressed with the same severity, quakerish in its simplicity with which she has always appeared in the house. So was Mrs. Phillipson, a former musical comedy star, and Mrs. Wintringham were black, as usual. The Duchess of Atholl wore a black frock and shining hat of draped satin. The three laborite ladies—Dorothy Jewson, Susan Lawrence and Margaret Confield, were, unlike the rest, hatless. Their costumes were simple and plain.

More per acre

Every acre must be made to yield its best to secure satisfactory profit.

It takes a certain yield to pay for the cost of production. All over this quantity is practically clear profit.

Farmers have found that more fertilizer per acre means more yield per acre and hence more profit.

Your safest way to insure profit is to use a liberal application of Swift's Red Steer Fertilizer containing 4% or more of plant food.

NEW SPRING STYLES

MANNISH SUITS DOMINATE FASHION

The Mannish Suit is the proper suit for Spring. Those women who are not wearing or planning to wear one of those suits are hoping to wear one. They are distinctly different and decidedly desirable. Sometimes they have a sophisticated severity of line which is decidedly French and again they boast boyish lines which are decidedly sportive in a charming manner which is characteristic of British sport clothes that appeal to well dressed Americans.

New arrivals daily. Come in and look them over.

HOTEL THIEF GETS $107,000.

Mrs. Olive Waite.

Mrs. Olive Waite, of Paris, France, stopping in a New York hotel, has notified the police that a thief entered her room and stole $107,000 in bonds from her trunk. Mrs. Waite is the divorced wife of Archibald B. Waite, Cincinnati (O.) financier and public utilities owner. They were divorced in 1911. As Olive Celeste Moore, she was widely known as prima donna of the Westmans, an opera company.

wanted to reward the veterans. War time contracts cost millions of dollars and the government pays and given state compensation to their boys. They feel it is a debt owing them. Twenty-three state legislatures have petitioned Congress to enact this bill. The governors of thirty states have called on the President to sign such a bill. Everyone, except the Big Business, felt that this was an obligation that was owing. The railroads collected more than a billion dollars because they said that the government ownership has lost them money, it was justly due them and we make no complaint.

millions and wreck the country. But there were some men in Congress who did not believe that and when the bill came up it was passed. President Harding was induced to veto the bill and by an astounding miscalculation.

"These figures are not my figures, they are Secretary Mellons, and I quote from a report made by Representative A. Piatt Andrew, from Massachusetts. Here is what he said: 'As a matter of fact instead deficit in that fiscal year, we paid off $613,000,000 of the government debt, more $211,000,000 excess of all legal requirements and still the treasury entered the fiscal year with a balance to its credit of $370,000,000.'

"This year, when the adjusted compensation issue again came to the front, Secretary Mellon could no longer disguise the condition of the treasury, so he comes out with a slogan of "No tax cut, if the bonus passes." This was the cleverest political trick of the age, for he included in this enough superficially attractive schedules to make the small salaried man to believe he would benefit.

"Secretary Mellon promised a reduction of $330,000,000 if no bonus passed, and he added to that by saying that if a bonus did pass taxes would probably go up and prevent any reductions for years to come. We investigated his figures and found that he had estimated the cost of the adjusted compensation at approximately $84,000,000 per year for the first four years. We told him about that, showing that the adjusted compensation could be paid and still reduce taxes $246,000,000. We showed him that by reducing all the taxes, except the surtax that the money collected on surtaxes from 22,000 war-made millionaires would pay the cost of the bonus.

"And so it goes on Mellon juggles figures and big business spends a few of its hoarded war profits to fight against the passage of obligations which is pledged to us by the Republican party.

"I say that taxes can be reduced as much or even more than Secretary Mellon contemplates without hardships to any person and you have heard the figures that prove it. I leave the issue to your conscience.

"But let me tell you, that before the next war comes, and I hope there is none, the American Legion will endeavor to place on the statute of the United States a law that will draft men, money, and means, if we all serve alike and receive the same recompense, there will be no war profiteering and there will be no need of adjusted compensation.

Read What Greenville's Leading Warehousemen Say About Tobacco Grown With ROBERTSON'S FERTILIZER

Fox---Knows, he has been at it 25 years

It was our privilege during the present season to sell the crops of tobacco grown by Mr. C. S. ELKS and Mr. G. T. GODLEY. Both of these crops were of a very high type and fine quality and far superior to the average crop sold on our market this season. In fact in my 25 years as a warehouseman I do not recall having handled many large crops of tobacco of as fine quality as these. I understand these gentlemen use ROBERTSON'S FERTILIZER.

LOOK BEFORE LEAPING

The most venturesome of men would hesitate to leap over an embankment without first looking, even though he had the assurance of the most congratulating of strangers...

Yet every day in this section hundreds of dollars are made by their owners to take the blind leap on the promise of an easy thing and big profits to follow.

The man who would not trust his best friend with fifty dollars to invest in a local business or a piece of real estate of known value can be induced to hand over five hundred or a thousand to the smooth-tongued individual with speculative shares for sale.

This weakness is so common that get-rich-quick fakery make their living on no other stock in trade than it and their "line of talk" and brilliantly printed certificates.

Your money is your good friend only so long as you use it properly. It will work for you, if rightly directed. But it will go off with the first man to whom you entrust it...

LIABILITY SHOULD ATTACH FOR FIRE CARELESSNESS

There are not nearly so many fires in Europe as in United States, and it has been demonstrated in this country that by watchfulness damage from flames can be reduced.

The great manufacturing corporations do not suffer so much from fire now as they did at one time. This is especially true of the cotton mills. What watchfulness will do to prevent destruction of property by fire was also shown in France during the war.

Fire-fighting equipment like that used in American cities was not available. Yet this property was thoroughly protected from flames just by the use of care, enforced by army discipline.

There are a few simple suggestions which, if generally followed, would save us from the greater part of our annual fire loss. Matches and cigarettes should not be tossed about heedlessly.

Fire extinguishing apparatus should be installed wherever there is a possibility of flames appearing. Inspection should be made of property exposed to fire hazard.

In buildings where many persons are employed fire drills should be held so that in case of emergency all can be removed to safety quickly and steps taken promptly for extinguishing the flames.

Even if you are indifferent to your own safety and are willing to run the risk of the destruction of your own property by fire, you have no right to endanger the lives and property of your neighbors.

The only thing you can do without any trouble is nothing and you can't do that very long.

Robbing people isn't as easy as it once was. There is too much competition.

You know how big a cinder in your eye feels? Well, that is how big some men in the public eye feel.

VELEZ, CUBAN ENVOY
COGNITIVE IN HIDING, AS LEAVE EXTENDED

Havana. — The case of Carlos Velez, veteran of Cuba's war of independence and of several of the subsequent revolutions, presents an anomaly unparalleled in Cuban politics. Although he was indicted last fall for seeking to overthrow the government and legally is a fugitive from justice, President Zayas recently signed a decree extending a leave of absence from his post as minister to London, and Velez remains in hiding still talking revolution.

Velez came home last spring on his first leave in 12 years of service as minister to Mexico and Great Britain and went to South America to represent Cuba at a Pan-American conference. On returning to Havana he became dissatisfied and helped organize the Veterans' and Patriots' Association. Having been elected president, he drew up demands of governmental reforms similar to those made by American Ambassador Crowder in his famous "moralization program," and announced that the reforms would be forced on the Zayas government by revolution if necessary.

President Zayas formally announced that he was sympathetic toward reforms shown to be necessary, but that congress was the one to act. Activities of the Veterans and Patriots stirred the government to extraordinary precautions for a time last fall and finally resulted in indictments being returned against Velez and a dozen other leaders. All put up bonds except Velez, who went into hiding and issued a proclamation calling on his followers to be "ready for what might come."

Meantime the revolutionary talk is not so pronounced. The secret police appear to have ceased looking for Velez and the indictments have not been pressed. One government official in a position to know said he believed President Zayas granted the request for an extension of leave as a clever way of indicating that he did not take Velez's activities seriously. Velez declared he demanded the extension because legally he was entitled to it.

If Velez does decide to go back to London when his leave is up March 8 he will have to pass within a stone's throw of secret police headquarters to get to the state department for his final instructions.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE EATS 'POSSUM.

Darridge Epps

The White House cook has had to give place to kinky-haired Thomas P. Roach, White House butler and extra-special cooker of 'possums. Mr. Coolidge had never tasted one of the greasy Southern animals, and he expressed a desire to sink his teeth into the luscious meat. So Darridge Epps, of Natural Bridge, Va., called at the White House and presented this one to the President. The White House cook didn't know how to handle the critter, so Roach was called in.

in a trunk, comfortably lined, and provided with enough food and drink to last a week. In baggage cars or in freight sheds, alone and at night, Fritz would emerge, rifle trunks, and take the best of the loot back to his own box. Another trick was to change the destination address on trunks, the contents of which were valuable, sending them to a confederate.

The police have the box, but Fritz is still at large.

Relics of Lincoln
Wanted for Museum

Springfield, Ill.—An almost priceless collection of Lincoln relics has been offered by their owners as an inducement to the establishment of an Abraham Lincoln museum here, according to the Lincoln Centennial Association.

It is the hope of the association, its officers say, that eventually the Sangamon county court house can be obtained as a Lincoln museum. For the present rooms in the Centennial building, or space in the state historical museum, are suggested as a place for the exhibits.

William O. Converse, owner of the collection, has offered the relics to the association for exhibition in the proposed museum. The collection contains pioneer furniture and utensils and is regarded as almost priceless and the most complete in the United States, Mr. Converse said. Appropriately catalogued, protected from fire and theft, and open to the inspection of the public, preferably in a building dedicated to Lincoln, are the conditions under which

Mr. Converse made the offer. An appeal to owners of Lincoln relics, in Illinois and throughout the United States, to loan their relics to the museum is planned.

Warren May Be U. S.
Envoy to Mexico.

Charles Beecher Warren

Charles Beecher Warren, of Detroit, will be American Ambassador to Mexico if President Coolidge can persuade him to reconsider his announced intention of retiring from public life. Mr. Warren was former Ambassador to Japan and was a member of the commission that arranged for the American recognition of the Obregon Government in Mexico.

London Provides Well for Selected Vagabonds

London.—An effort to improve the lot of the tramp and give him another chance to become a decent member of society, has been made by the Metropolitan Asylums Board through the establishment of an hostel in Gray's Inn Road.

Here guests are entertained for a week or so, and provided with facilities for obtaining employment. Each of the 100 men accommodated is given a small sleeping cabin comfortably furnished. There is a large dining hall where meals are served three times a day, a reading room with newspapers, bath rooms with hot and cold water. The only restriction on liberty is that men must be in by 11 p. m., and are not allowed to smoke in their rooms.

The guests are selected by the ward superintendents from men who pass through the casual wards of the board, and some hundreds have already been given a chance to rehabilitate themselves.

EXPERTS WILL STUDY
EDUCATION IN AFRICA

London.—An Anglo-American commission has left England to study the educational system used in East, Central and South Africa and to draw up a report as to the best line on which the educational needs of Africa may be met.

The expedition will visit Abyssinia, Adis Abeba, Kenya and Uganda, and then proceed to Belgian Africa. The expenses of the trip are being paid from American bequest funds, and by British Missionary societies.

Hitherto 90 percent of the educational work among native Africans has been through missionary enterprise, but this commission will work with the British government in order to allow the latter to assume control of native education in the future.

REFUTE SLUR ON HARDING'S MEMORY.

Roy D. Moore & Louis H. Brush

Roy D. Moore and Louis H. Brush, joint owners of the Marion, O., Star, which they purchased from the late President Warren G. Harding, are shown as they appeared before the Senate Investigating Committee to refute slurs that had been cast on Mr. Harding regarding an alleged excessive price received for the newspaper property.

BOISTEROUS BOY BECOMES
BRITISH CABINET MEMBER

Northampton, Eng.—Frederick Owen Roberts, Pensions Minister in the Labor Cabinet, was the "noisiest" of four sons," his mother said recently to an Evening News representative, and developed an early liking for music. But as he tried to extract this from a cornet he became very unpopular in the house and had to be sent down to the garden to practise. Later he was entrusted with a kettle-drum in the local village band, and on arriving at years of greater discretion young Roberts adopted the violin.

When 14 years of age young Roberts started work in a newspaper office as compositor, and spent 20 years at the linotype machines before taking up trade unionism as a lifetime occupation. Roberts' mother is postmistress at the East Hadon postoffice, and received the news of his appointment as minister of pensions over the telephone.

PEOPLE OF BUENOS AIRES
TAKE UP MOTORBUSES

Buenos Aires.—Such a thing as a motorbus in Buenos Aires was hardly known eight months ago. Then an enterprising concern built a fleet of small 12 passenger buses on an American truck chassis and began operating them between two widely separated railroad stations. The charge was 20 centavos a passenger, or twice the street car fare. But they got there quicker than the street cars and cheaper than the taxis.

Today Buenos Aires streets are filled with big American, German and French motorbuses, on regular routes about the city and to the suburbs. They are cutting heavily into street car traffic, and competing also with the taxis. More buses are being imported, for the idea has taken hold in interior cities, and there is lively competition among the representatives of various motorcar manufacturers in the United States and Europe to get contracts.

WEST VIRGINIA THIEF TAKES REWARD WITH VACATIONS

Charleston, W. Va.—For one house breaker, 10 days vacation; for one hold-up man, 30 days vacation. Such are the benefits that will accrue to Charleston policemen who capture and obtain conviction of the criminals who have plunged this city into a series of burglaries and robberies. The rewards have been promised by Chief of Police John Britton, who includes in his campaign some advice to Charleston citizens.

"Keep a gun handy for house-breakers," is part of the advice, which also urges keeping houses locked at night. Another request is that citizens shall be both prompt and accurate in giving information to the police concerning crimes or attempted crimes, and in this connection be pointed to a recent instance, when, he said, an error was made in giving the address and the burglar had a 20 minute start on a squad of police when they went to the wrong house.

MINING TOWN NO LONGER
PAVED WITH GOLD NUGGETS

Grass Valley, Cal.—Despite the tradition that has clung to this mining town of the Sierra Nevada mountains for 75 years, that its streets literally were paved with gold, the populace, swept at last by the modern spirit, has caused thick coatings of concrete to be laid over the repented gold.

The tale of golden paving had some color of truth, for gold in the form of small nuggets and particles clinging to quartz was found not infrequently. This was due largely to the fact that from the earliest days the streets were macadamized with refuse from the mine reduction plants encircling the town. There was, besides, a certain amount of gold in the soil under the streets.

"THE MAN WHO MARRIED A DUMB WIFE" TO BE PRESENTED AT COLLEGE

"The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" by Anatole France, the distinguished French author, will be presented by the Junior and service class of East Carolina Teachers College on the evening of March 3. It is a most original and laughable comedy, dealing with the quaint customs and manners of the medieval time. The costumes are quaint and attractive, and the sparkling with satire will keep the audience in an uproar. The setting is unusual—most of the acting being done in a street beneath a large window, through which the dumb (?) wife is seen and heard.

A committee from the faculty is putting on the play, Miss Muffy and Mr. Deal as coaches, Miss Tarpley as designer of costumes, and Miss Tolleson as director of the dances. A highly enjoyable evening is promised to all.

CANDLE FLAME HOLDS ONLY HOPE WHEN AIR LOSES OXYGEN SUPPLY

In the William Fox melodrama, "Hell's Hole," starring Charles Jones three characters are caught in a cabin at the base of a mountain as an avalanche tumbles down upon them. While the cabin holds under the strain, the air supply is cut off.

A shady reprobate, a good man and the girl he loves—trapped together. On the table stands a candle. Its flame weakens and fitfully revives. They all know that when the candle-light dies, their lives are to be snuffed out, too. The disappearance of oxygen from the air will bring darkness.

That is the dramatic scene in "Hell's Hole," which is rated as one of the most thrilling melodramas on the screen.

"It seemed so real that I shuddered every time that candle sputtered," said Ruth Clifford, pretty little film star, who plays opposite Jones.

Is there anything more satisfying than a night of restful slumber? It is difficult to think of anything as refreshing—anything that so readily equips you for the duties of the morrow.

And yet, some people dread the coming of night-fall. To them, instead of hours of health imbuing sleep, it means long hours of twisting and tossing,—and why? The cause of a great majority of sleepless nights can be traced directly to hard, lumpy, sleep-hampering mattresses.

The Royal Elastic Felt Mattress was built for healthful, restful sleep. Its exclusive construction insures such rest. Investigate the Royal Elastic Felt Mattress at your dealers and learn to know what real sleep is.

THE HAREM MUST GO OR TURKEY WILL SEE SCARCITY OF WOMEN

Angora.—Polygamy and the harem disappear from Turkey, if the recommendations made by the Turkish parliamentary commission are adopted by the national assembly.

The commission recommends also the granting to women of the right of divorce, as well as giving them recourse to the law courts for separation proceedings.

These principles in favor of monogamous marriages and modern divorce will be urged by deputies when the project comes before the assembly. It is certain to meet with determined opposition by peasants to four wives, which is the maximum number allowed by the Prophet.

The modern Turk of the city finds it impossible to maintain such a harem because he has learned that Turkish women of the better class are fond of expensive dresses and city things. Silk stockings for four wives cost a lot of money.

Finally, there has been a great change in the status of Turkish women since Mustapha Kemal built up Turkey. They now go about unveiled, speak to foreigners, ride on street cars and appear at public places.

Dublin Still Shows Sign of the Recent Street Fighting

Dublin.—Dublin's main thoroughfare, O'Connell Street, presents a remarkable appearance. Half of the street was destroyed in the rising of Easter Week, 1916. The old houses then burned have been replaced by handsome modern buildings, the sole monument of the destruction being the general post office, a beautiful structure which now stands as an empty shell.

In the fighting of July last year, after the fall of the Four Courts, the whole of the upper portion of the street on one side was left in ruins, and it still looks like the pictures of Ypres. The buildings gutted by the fires were taken down, but the sites have not yet been cleared. With a view to relieving unemployment a movement has been set on foot to clear the sites, after which the whole problem of reconstruction will be discussed with the government which is finding the money to make good the damage. None of the big claims for damage has yet been completely adjusted, and it is not expected that rebuilding can take place before next summer.

The government does not intend at present to rebuild the general post office. The postal and telegraph work today is still carried on throughout the city in inadequate sub-offices, and the chief telegraph office is far away from the center of business life.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT HOUSE INADEQUATE FOR MEMBERS

London.—The present session of parliament with its large number of new members and the usual scramble for seats once again gives rise to grumbles and wonderment why the famous old chamber is not rearranged to meet the needs of modern times. Some 615 members are called by the electorate of the country to represent them in a house which has not accommodation for nearly that number, and even those obtaining seats throughout the session have little else to call their own except a hat peg and a small locker about three cubic feet.

In the actual chamber there is no provision for the papers of private members except a very narrow gully which runs along the benches so that those who want to speak have to gather their papers and notes and hug them. The library is said to contain only parliamentary papers instead of useful reference books; the reading rooms are small as are those set apart for private secretaries of ministers and other leaders.

Considering the lack of accommodation, however, members, as a rule take it philosophically and grumbles are scarcely ever translated into actual complaints.

BRITISH DEMAND FOR BRICK FORECASTS PAVING ACTIVITY

Cleveland.—A sharp increase in unfilled orders for vitrified paving brick, as reported to the U. S. department of commerce, may be taken as an indication of an active street and highway paving season for 1924, in the belief of the National Paving Brick association here.

"Unfilled orders in December jumped to 60,624,000 as against 54,735,000 for November, and this is considered an accurate gauge of the demand for early spring and summer paving to note also that contractors and engineers are assisting in shipments," said a statement from the association. "Stock on hand exceeds the total of unfilled orders. It is relieving the seasonal aspect of the paving brick industry by asking for winter deliveries."

In the distribution of unfilled orders, Oklahoma leads the list, with Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Illinois following consecutively.

MEN WITH PLENTY OF GOLD REMAIN IN ARCTIC CIRCLE

McGrath, Alaska.—A dozen men are living within the Arctic Circle on the Koyukuk river, with fortunes ranging from $25,000 to $50,000 in gold each, according to Captain Webb, an old-time prospector, who after striking "pay," came out this winter on his annual vacation. He said these men had married native women and settled down to enjoy their modest fortunes far from the vanities of civilization.

They use the parcel post to procure what luxuries their tastes demand. But they seem to have no desire to leave their Polar wilderness.

Only when some prospector makes a final clean-up and turns his dust in at some bank can an estimate be made of the amount of gold being taken from the Arctic creeks. Captain Webb was accompanied by a man who carried four suitcases, each containing a portion of his clean-up, estimated to total $40,000.

Offer Large Prizes For Glider Contests

Dayton, O.—A substantial prize for a new event, to be run in connection with the international air races at Wilbur Wright field here next fall, to be known as the "powered gliders" contest, has been announced by Dayton officials of the National Aeronautic Association, provided there are a sufficient number of entrants.

The finance committee believes here is a large number of such devices now being designed and built throughout the country, and a contest in which the builders would compete would encourage future activities in this direction.

Prizes totaling approximately $50,000 will be distributed to winners of the various races and the committee expects, with such an amount in prize money, that a representative number of entrants from Europe will be encouraged to compete in the more important events.

All costs of the race have been guaranteed. It was reported by the committee that about $150,000 has been underwritten by a large finance concern, with Dayton money behind it. The races will continue three days and arrangements are already being made to handle 300,000 people.

EAGER BRIDAY COUPLES KNOCK AT WRONG DOORS

Blodensburg, Pa.—Bloomsburg residents of houses adjoining churches declare life is just one interruption after another.

June and December are the two months with the most interruptions, and these are due to the number of young persons seeking ministers to perform marriage ceremonies. The supposition is general that parsonages are located adjacent to churches, but in Bloomsburg there are only three of 15 churches where this is true, and the other pastors live a block or two from their churches. The result is the families residing next to the churches are visited by couples galore.

G. Edward Elwell, whose residence adjoins the Methodist church here, received 69 calls from couples during 1923, all seeking a minister to perform a marriage ceremony. In each case they were informed that the parsonage is two blocks away.

France Pays for Reconstruction Paris.—France had spent, up to December 31 of last year, a total of 118,154,000,000 paper francs for the reconstruction of northern France and other accounts which, according to the Versailles treaty, should have been paid by Germany.

France has received from Germany to offset the above, a total of 244,058,000 gold marks. These figures are official.

CHARGES BONUS FIGURES WERE JUGGLED

Andrew J. Mellon & Col. T. W. Miller

Colonel T. W. Miller, alien property custodian, has started a bitter fight in the Treasury Department by charging, in speeches in New York City and Newark, N. J., that "high Treasury officials" had admitted the Treasury Department estimates of the cost of the soldier bonus had been "juggled" to create a false impression and defeat the proposal. Secretary of the Treasury Andrew J. Mellon denied the charges as "absolutely unfounded and untrue," and declared he was "amazed" at the statements.

ENGLAND HELPING IRELAND FINANCE LAND PURCHASE

Dublin.—Under the Land Purchase Act passed in 1923, all land tenancies in the Free State were abolished and the tenants become proprietors paying annual instalments to the state. The instalments are from 25 to 35 percent less than the rents, and the purchase will be completed in about 70 years.

The landlords are to be paid for their property in four and one-half percent Free State stock of which 25,000,000 pounds sterling will need to be issued. The cash value of this security to the landlords depends on a block or two from their churches. The result is the families residing next to the churches are visited by couples galore.

There are still in northern Ireland many unpurchased tenancies and the British government is pledged to assist the northern government to complete land purchase within its jurisdiction.

MANY WOMEN VICTIMS OF WILD CAT INVESTMENTS

Oakland, Cal.—Bad investments have trapped many women in the United States in the last year, Mrs. George A. Riggs, a bank official and treasurer of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, said in a recent address here.

"In 1922," she added, "$21,000,000 was lost by women in stock and bond investments. Thousands of women in the past two years have been led to invest their savings in the most precarious of wild cat schemes. Other women, coming suddenly into a sum of money, have not the slightest idea where it can be placed safely."

Mrs. Riggs pointed out that women depositors in banks now were nearly equal in number to men depositors.

The average woman of today, she said, does about 85 percent of the buying for the household, and her importance in the economic situation.

Frequent Headaches. "I suffered with chronic constipation that would bring on very severe headaches," says Mrs. Stephen H. Kincer, of R. F. D. 1, Cripple Creek, Va. "I tried different medicines and did not get relief. I heard of Theford's BLACK-DRAUGHT and took it for a headache, and the relief was very quick, and it was so long before I had another headache. Now I just keep the Black-Draught, and don't let myself get in that condition." Theford's Black-Draught (purely vegetable) has been found to relieve constipation, and by stimulating the action of the liver, helps to drive many poisons out of your system. Biliousness, indigestion, headache, and similar troubles are often relieved in this way. Try Black-Draught. EX 91

Railroad Man Attributes Good Health and Strength to TANLAC

Seventy-two years of age, but still in possession of the priceless boon of good health and actively on the job with the Central Vermont Railroad, where he has worked for 40 years, is the remarkable record of H.
