Committee Again Inquires Into Loan Made to A. B. Fall

Expert Accountants Are Ready to Report Their Findings As to Deals in Oil Stocks By Govt. Officials

Washington, Feb. 25.—The Senate oil committee opened another bag of surprises today when it resumed its hearings after a 10 day's recess.

Taking up the trail of the $100,000 loan made to Albert B. Fall by Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, the committee was told by officers of two Washington banks that Mr. McLean's checking balance in neither of the banks was more than $10,000 in December 1921. The publisher had informed the committee that he gave Fall checks aggregating $100,000 on these two banks during that period that they were returned to him uncashed.

Slemp Testifies.

C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to President Coolidge, was questioned as to a visit he made to Palm Beach, Fla., while Fall and McLean were there last December and January. The secretary declared that he talked to Fall several times and said that he asked Mr. Fall for the truth about the oil charges and advised him to tell everything. He stated that in reply Mr. Fall declared that he had nothing more to tell.

"I was in Palm Beach about 50 per cent of the time and I toured Florida the rest of the time," the witness declared. "I met McLean casually several times. I can't fix dates. I was there for health and recreation. I joined the tourists crowds in Palm Beach and there was not much interest in the oil controversy until it turned out that you (Senator Walsh) were coming down. There was more conversation about the Volstead law."

"It is quite likely you could tell the committee what you talked about to Mr. McLean and Secretary Fall?" asked Chairman Lenroot.

"I will say that there were no private or confidential talks between us" replied Secretary Slemp. "I wasn't intimate with either men. Mr. Fall looked ill and it seemed the desire of his associates to avoid the subject. I met the two men at dinner or lunch. Possibly I met Secretary Fall three or four times before Senator Walsh came. Mr. Fall said that the committee was not working along the right lines. I said, 'What are the facts about all this, Senator?' to Fall and he responded, 'I wish, young man, you'd read the records.'"

"I want you to understand that I had no knowledge or official mission there" said Mr. Slemp. "I wasn't representing President Coolidge but seeking recreation. The day before Walsh arrived I met McLean and he was going to tell the whole thing. I told him that I would not want the trip there to be looked upon as a political one though it was given out as such and as a result there were scores of callers who talked about local politics and I got rather accurate information about that. I did not talk about oil matters. I didn't get a chance to talk to these gentlemen as much as you would think."

Director Bain, of the Bureau of Mines, told the committee today that the plan to build storage tanks at Pearl Harbor in return for royalty oils had been discussed at a cabinet meeting and that Attorney General Daugherty had raised no objection to it.

Relations between Albert B. Fall and Edward McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, was the subject of further scrutiny upon resumption today of the oil inquiry with C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to President Coolidge, called as the chief witness.

The committee set out, after a week's recess in the public hearings, to determine whether administration officials or individual members of the committee itself had communicated with persons involved in the oil scandal since about the middle of December.

The invitation for Slemp's appearance before the committee was because of his visit to Palm Beach, Fla., while Fall and McLean were there and the committee has subpoenaed local managers of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies to produce copies of messages sent from Washington to the publisher or former secretary between December 20 and January 20, at the Florida resort or later when the latter was in New Orleans.

DISTRICT COACHES MEET IN THIS CITY

Championship Series Is Outlined; Last Game Before March 15th

The coaches of the Northeastern District of the Girl's High School Athletic Association met at the local high school on Saturday at 1:30 p. m. Miss Ruth Coble, Roanoke Rapids, N. C., presided over the meeting.

Miss Coble gave a report of the meeting of the executive committee which was held at Greensboro. The chairmen of the various districts were present at the Greensboro meeting. At this meeting, definite plans were made for creating greater interest in girls' athletics at large, and plans were suggested for the physical development of every type of girl student, from that of the best girl athlete to that of the physically undeveloped girl.

After the report of the Greensboro meeting, the present championship series of the Northeastern District were made, with the following results:

Group I. Hertford plays Belhaven at Belhaven on Feb. 29th. The winner of this game to play the winner of Group II.

Group II. Greenville plays Farmville at Greenville on March 1st. The winner to play Washington at Washington on March 4th. The winner of the game of March 4th to play the winner of Group I.

Group III. Tarboro and Elm City play at Tarboro on Feb. 29th. The winner to play the winner of Group IV-V.

Group IV. Roanoke Rapids and Rich Square play at Roanoke Rapids on Feb. 28th. The winner of this game to play the winner of Group V. Henderson and Oxford. (Date to be announced later). The winner to play winner of Group IV. The winner of Group IV-V to play winner of Group III.

The final game of the series will be played before March 15th. After an interesting discussion of the possibilities of field meets at Rocky Mount, and Washington the meeting adjourned.

ance before the committee was because of his visit to Palm Beach, Fla., while Fall and McLean were there and the committee has subpoenaed local managers of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies to produce copies of messages sent from Washington to the publisher or former secretary between December 20 and January 20, at the Florida resort or later when the latter was in New Orleans.

The expert accountants sent to New York to investigate the records of Harry Payne Whitney and the stock brokerage firm of J. P. Bankard and Company were ready to report today on their findings to deals in Ohio shares by public officials but the committee had decided to go into the Fall-McLean matter before returning to that phase of the scandal.

Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, had a balance of less than $10,000 in the Federal American National Bank during the months of November and December 1921 Charles D. Lyddane, vice-president of the bank, testified before the committee today. McLean had testified that during that period he gave Fall checks aggregating $100,000 drawn on the Federal-American and Commercial National banks, of Washington, but that the checks were returned to him unused.

WALSH REPLIES TO BUREAU STATEMENT

Washington, Feb. 25.—The News Bureau of the Republican National committee was charged today in the Senate by Senator Walsh, of Montana, with a "deliberate malicious misrepresentation of facts" in its statement issued yesterday that the naval oil leases were made possible under acts originated by him.

PROMINENT FIGURES IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

C. Bascom Slemp, of Virginia, private secretary to President Coolidge, was summoned before the Senate committee investigating the oil lease scandals to tell of his visit to Palm Beach, Fla., at the time ex-Secretary Albert B. Fall and Edward B. McLean, multi-millionaire Washington and Cincinnati publisher, were there. John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican National Committee, issued a statement defending Attorney-General H. M. Daugherty and inveighing against his being forced to retire under fire. Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace, of Iowa, is reported ready to retire from the Cabinet because of friction with Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover. Lieutenant John A. MacCreedy, in an unsuccessful effort to establish a new world's altitude record, rose 34,983 feet—six miles—above Dayton, O., when failure of his supercharger forced him to descend after flying in 60 degrees below zero weather. Gabrielle D'Annunzio, world famous Italian pilot and aviator, is seriously ill in Turin with gastritis. Dartmouth College, founded in 1776 by Eleazer Wheelock, with the good offices of Ben Franklin and John Adams, would take Leon Trotsky into his teaching staff if he would accept, according to its president, Dr. Ernest Martin Hopkins, in an address in Chicago.

Mrs. J. E. W. Cook Entertains Children At Story Telling

The story-telling hour Saturday afternoon was enjoyed by one hundred thirty children.

After the college girls finished telling stories, Mrs. James E. W. Cook took charge of the program and had the children play "The Old Family Crutch." The children enjoyed this, even when some of them fell down.

After this sandwiches were passed that had been sent to the children from the King's Daughters. The time being up every one left feeling that they had been to a real party.

The following college girls told stories.

- Miss Flora McCormick, Rowland, N. C. "Little Sunshine." Miss Grace Bishop, Durham, N. C. "The Line of Golden Light." Miss Leone Perry, Creedmore, N. C. "Why the Sea is Salt." Miss Maybelle Sylvant, Snow Hill, N. C. "A Little Rabbit that Wanted Red Wings." Miss Elizabeth Stanly, Goldsboro, N. C. "The Cat and the Parrot." Miss Inez Kennedy, Mt. Olive, N. C. "The Palace of Fortune." Miss Inez Gerred, Pine Level, N. C. "The Little Elfman and the Gray Mouse." Miss Nell Larnby, Statesville, N. C. "The Honest Wood Cutter."

Plans Now Being Closed For State Wide Spelling Contest

Raleigh, Feb. 25.—Final plans for the state-wide contest for spelling honors among the school children are now being rapidly brought to a close, according to information given out at the office of Jules Warren, Secretary of the State Teachers Association.

The contest will be held in the high school building here during the annual meeting of the State Teachers Association on Thursday, March 13. Three prizes will be given. They will be solid gold but of different designs and inscriptions to indicate first, second and third honors. A banner also be given to the schools the winners represent.

The preliminary contests have all been held in the various districts throughout the state, according to Mr. Warren and the representatives for the schools from each district has been named.

Much interest was manifested in the contest throughout the state it was and the promoters of the contest claim that it has already done much good in the way interesting the children in their work and striving for later honors in the schools.

LOOK FOR EARLY DECISION AS TO ATTY. DAUGHERTY

Washington, Feb. 25.—Some definite pronouncement from administration quarters regarding the controversy over Attorney General Daugherty was forecast today when the Senate assembled to consider the resolution for a sweeping inquiry into the Daugherty administration of the Department of Justice.

President Coolidge was represented by some of those closest to him as still without definite decision regarding the demand for the resignation of the Attorney General. Adjustment of the matter without great delay is believed possible by the president, it was said.

The chief executive continues to take counsel with Republican leaders in and out of the Senate. Last night he was in conference with Senator Borah of Idaho, who in the Senate last week openly urged the resignation of Mr. Daugherty as a personal sacrifice for the public interest. Senator Borah declined to discuss his conference any further than to declare that it dealt with the subject of Mr. Daugherty's resignation.

In other quarters it is said that the president is working out some resolution that would not make a sacrifice of Mr. Daugherty yet it would meet the situation.

It has been urged by some that the Attorney General hand in his resignation effective after a month or two and that in the meantime he can present his case to the committee. This will allow time for him to answer the charges before leaving the cabinet and relieve him of retiring "under fire."

SWEDISH FOREIGN OFFICE HAD RECORD YEAR OF ACTIVITIES

Stockholm, Feb.—The Swedish foreign office made a record for international activity during 1923, according to its report recently made public. It shows that Sweden took official part in 35 international congresses and conventions as well as in five sessions of the Council of the League of Nations.

Other activities of the foreign office included agreements with Denmark and Norway regarding aerial traffic; with Uruguay, regarding arbitration; with Finland, regarding navigation; and with Italy, Spain, Japan, Great Britain abolishing compulsory passport visas.

Growers Association Forsyth and Stokes To Meet Friday 29

Walnut Cove, Feb. 25.—The Tobacco Growers Association of Forsyth and Stokes counties will hold a meeting here on Friday, February 29. Following the business session of the members of the Association, leading organizers and officers of the association will address the members. A barbecue and a reception will be held in the evening. All the farmers of the two counties whether members of the association or not are urged to be present.

WILSON ESTATE LEFT TO WIDOW; MISS MARGARET WILSON TO RECEIVE $2,500 ANNUALLY

Washington, Feb. 25.—The will of Woodrow Wilson, filed for probate today, leaves his estate to his widow, Mrs. Edith Bolling Wilson, with the exception that his daughter, Miss Margaret Wilson shall receive $2,500 annually so long as she remains unmarried.

A request in the will called upon Mrs. Wilson to distribute among Mr. Wilson's daughters such articles of clothing, jewelry, and art work as may have belonged to their mother, the first wife of the former president. Under the will Mrs. Wilson will retain the estate during her life the unexpanded portion at her death to be distributed among Mr. Wilson's daughters. The will was opened on February 13, according to a notation on the envelope, in the presence of Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson, Mrs. Eleanor Wilson McAdoo, William G. McAdoo and E. W. White the attorney who filed it.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. JARVIS HELD SATURDAY

Conducted From Methodist Church Saturday, Largely Attended

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary W. Jarvis, who died in this city Friday were conducted from the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by the Rev. T. P. Scoville and the Rev. W. S. Harden. Interment took place in the Cherry Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Scoville, in a few appropriate words paid tribute to the deceased, while Mr. Harden read, in a most touching manner, Mrs. Jarvis' favorite poem.

Mrs. Jarvis was the widow of former Governor Thos. J. Jarvis who will always be remembered as the Educational Governor of the State. While deeply interested in educational advantages for the children, he received the loyal support of his wife who was equally as interested as he in the great work.

During her husband's public career, including that of United States Senator, she was one of the most popular members of the state, socially. She was beloved by people not only in this state, but by people throughout the country even in Brazil where Mr. Jarvis was Minister.

Mrs. Jarvis will always be remembered as the organizer of the Thos. J. Jarvis Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. Children who belonged to the chapter have since grown into women and are members of the George B. Singletary Chapter.

The deceased was not only active in social circles but also in religious affairs, being a most interested and loyal member to her church, always helping in those things which made for a better community, a better people and a better state.

During the past several years Mrs. Jarvis has been practically an invalid. Until the past year, however, she was able to go out and walk around, but wasn't able to take an active part in any kind of work. The funeral was largely attended and the floral offering large and beautiful.

Efforts Being Made To Have Sentence Of Young Changed

Salisbury, Feb. 25.—Efforts are being made by citizens of this city and surrounding community to have the sentence imposed upon H. H. Young changed from the five year penalty to a fine. Governor Cameron Morrison is to be requested to make the change, it was stated. Young was convicted of burning his own house. It is understood that there was only circumstantial evidence against him. It is claimed by those working in the interest of Young that all of the members of the jury, that convicted him have signed a petition requesting that sentence of servitude be changed to one a fine.

Three Men Charged With Holding Up Train Crew Are Being Held

Salisbury, Feb. 25.—Three men charged with holding the crew of a freight train at bay Saturday night while they robbed the train are held here today. One of the trio is in the hospital, with one foot cut off by the train, and the others are in jail.

The trio, Tom Bailey, Ed. Pickrel and Amos Fox, trainmen alleged boarded the southbound Southern Railway train at Thomasville and defied trainmen with threats of shooting. When about 10 miles north of Spencer the robbers began to unload freight from a merchandise car. When near Spencer, Fox, it is said, fell off the train and one foot was cut off. The robbers were arrested at Spencer.

We can't eliminate discontent until we eliminate the cause. And will be notified that the contract has been annulled.

GOV. DIXON MAY SUCCEED DENBY

Was One Time Leader of the Roosevelt Progressive Party

Washington, Feb. 25.—Joseph M. Dixon, governor of Montana, one time leader of the Roosevelt progressive movement, is being seriously considered for Secretary of Navy to succeed Edwin Denby.

Governor Dixon is known to have the strong backing of some of the administration officials. He was formerly a United States Senator from Montana and became governor in 1921. His term expires next year.

The resignation of Secretary is effective March 10.

Dockers Strike Is Called Off Today

London, Feb. 25.—The conference of dock workers today called off the dockers strike that has been in progress since February 16, seriously interfering with commerce and industry. Work will be resumed at all ports at 7:30 tomorrow morning.

Nine Years Old Youth Shoots Another Boy, 12

Tarboro, Feb. 25.—Orville Howell, 9 years old, shot and killed Jonas O'Neill, 12, here yesterday morning following a quarrel over a game of marbles. According to police Howell is alleged to have shot O'Neill with a 22 calibre rifle the bullet entering his lung causing death within less than 30 minutes.

Howell was taken into custody by police but was later paroled to the custody of his parents. He will be tried in juvenile court but a date for the hearing has not yet been fixed.

Cox Places Name In Ohio Primaries

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 25.—Former Governor James M. Cox, of Dayton, candidate for president in 1920, today filed with Secretary of State Brown official authority for candidates for delegates to the Democratic National convention to use his name as their first choice for president.

At the same time, former governor James E. Campbell, filed authority for candidates to name him as second choice for president which is to conform with the Ohio laws.

Work On Roads Leading To Fishing Creek Bridge Stopped

Reidsville, Feb. 25.—Action was taken rescinding the award for the building of the Fishing Creek Bridge by the County Commissioners in session at Wentworth. All work on the roads leading to either side of the proposed bridge was ordered stopped.

Three of the members of the Commission have expressed doubt over the legality of the contract and the construction company, it was said, will be notified that the contract has been annulled.

FEDERAL CENSORSHIP

The bill introduced in the house at Washington to provide a federal moving picture commission with censorship powers over all films entered in interstate commerce is not likely to have smooth sailing.

In the first place, there are censors enough in the states, and if they are not doing their duty there would be no more likelihood of federal officers doing better. In the second place, we must not ignore the fundamental principle of our dual government that in the regulation of the ordinary affairs in their lives the states are supreme. There is a direct challenging of this latter principle in a statement made by the author of the bill in question. "A censorship law that may be satisfactory in one state is not satisfactory in another," he says, "and hence it would be better if the pictures were under federal regulation."

Keeping in mind that the object of every state censorship of the movies is as lofty as that of the federal government could be, and that differences in judgment are just matters of opinion, it is the right of a state to have pictures its censors regard as fit irrespective of what the censors of any other state may say. The average individual and the great majority of the country must be recognized as having decency, and their right of judgment also must be recognized. The federal government has enough to look after as it is, enough trouble on its hands, without turning itself into a Cato the Censor on the amusements of the people in the states.

There are enough censors now.

ASTROLOGY AND ELECTIONS

No comet being headed earthward and no eclipses being near on the calendar, astrologers are now turning to the next election as subject of prophecy. Some are finding the conjunction of stars and zodiacal computations signaling Democratic victory and others are reading the signs as pointing to Republican triumph.

Just at this stage the astrologers are about the only class that claims to know just how the electorate will jump, and they know no more this year than they have known in advance or other election years, which was nothing. Nobody really knows or can know the event. It is not by astrology but by the sentiment of the voters that the next election will be determined, and that is something that can not generally be discounted so far in advance.

That is the genius of America, the independence of the electorate's judgment, its reservation of verdict until the prelection record of the parties is finished. Much water must yet run under the political mill before the majority of voters place their favor.

HARTMAN-DIXON.

Farmville, Feb. 25.—A wedding which was characterized by charming simplicity and elegant dignity was that of Miss Lula Lee Dixon and Mr. Walter F. G. Hartman, of Greenville, which took place at the home of bride on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock.

The ceremony which was witnessed only by the immediate families and intimate friends of the bride and groom, took place in the South parlor of the spacious Dixon home where a beautiful arch had been erected, a profusion of ferns forming the background, tall pedestals on either side being surmounted with lighted candles in silver candelabra and ivy and tulip being used with artistic effect. Mrs. J. W. Joyner rendered the wedding music, using the "Serenade" by Siding as a prelude. Mrs. Knott Proctor, of Greenville, sister of the bride, rendered two beautiful vocal selections "Until" and "At Dawning." Mrs. Joyner played Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" as a processional and MacDowell's "To A Wild Rose" during the ceremony, using Mendelssohn's march as recessional.

The ushers were Messrs. C. T. and John D. Dixon, brothers of the bride. Mrs. F. P. Bryan, of Greenville, was the becoming dame of honor and little Miss Elizabeth Dixon, sister of the bride was ring bearer.

The bride and groom entered together and the impressive vows of the Christian church were taken before Rev. O. E. Fox, the bride's pastor.

Miss Dixon, a lovely petite brunette, was never prettier than in her grey spring model traveling suit with hat and accessories to match. Her bouquet was of bride's roses and valley lilies. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Dixon and has charming, winsome manners which have made her popular among a host of young friends here.

Mr. Hartman is originally of Raleigh, but is now making his home in Greenville, where he represents the the Burroughs Adding Machine Co. He has made many friends there as well as in Farmville.

After an extended trip North, Mr. and Mrs. Hartman will be at home in Greenville.

A tempting salad course was served.

REV. JAMES E. W. COOK CONDUCTS Y. W. C. A. SERVICES

Before the Y. W. C. A. sermon on Sunday night, special music was rendered. Cleo Richardson and Mr. Austin sang solos; Misses Gorrell and Fallerson played a violin duet, and the choir, with chorus, sang "Lovely Appear."

Mr. James E. W. Cook, rector of the Episcopal church, preached on the subject, "The woman who wanted to know." His scripture lesson was the 16th chapter of First Kings, and his text was the first verse of that chapter.

His sermon was based on a comparison of the characteristics of the Queen of Sheba and those of the modern woman.

Curiosity, Mr. Cook said, had always been an accepted trait in the mind of woman. Curiosity was one of the first characteristics of the Queen of Sheba, and she went to Solomon because she wanted to know. The modern woman could learn much from her. Despite her wealth rank and influence, she still had a thirst for knowledge.

To be known to posterity as the woman who wanted to know things pertaining to christianity is a great honor, Mr. Cook stated. The queen of Sheba had that deep, tormenting hunger for knowledge, which no arguments could satisfy.

Hers was not a spasmodic thirst. She is the prototype of the women of today, who engage in medicine, law, science, and even theology. Shakespeare says, "There is no darkness but ignorance," and modern women seek out of the wisdom of the world for enlightenment they try to stifle their inner cravings in the mad pursuit of pleasure, until the voice of one greater than Solomon is heard.

The Queen of Sheba possessed a second trait which the modern woman might well emulate—humility. As queen, she represented a civilization more ancient in culture than that of the rude tribes of Palestine, but with all her power and prominence she was yet humble enough to learn. There is no type of ignorance worse than that of one who is too proud to learn. And, we today, who find it much easier to banish ignorance, cannot afford to wall in darkness. Life is too full of purpose and meaning.

The thirst trait was her lack of envy. They are rare souls who graciously and generously give full appreciation to another's talents and possessions. Though the Queen of Sheba might have begrudged Solomon his wealth, there was no room in her heart for such base envy.

Mr. Cook said that there were two questions he wanted to present to the audience. First, did the Queen of Sheba tell her own people of the mighty God of whom she had learned? The answer to this is speculation, but Mr. Cook answered an emphatic "yes." Anyone who receives knowledge of God finds it an absolute impossibility to conceal it. He expresses it in his life and character, because that is the way his soul's happiness is found.

Second, did she become a better ruler because of her knowledge of Him? Mr. Cook also answered this in the affirmative. If we have knowledge of Him, we manifest it in our lives, and we cannot help but be influenced for good by such knowledge.

The sermon was closed by an admonition to the audience to learn of Christ, to come closer to Him, and to let Him guide their lives, so that their characters will be as great factors for good as were the noble traits of the Queen of Sheba.

Afternoon Frocks For Coming Occasions

These are frocks of becoming smartness that you'll be delighted to choose and don for the events which the new season brings. Although the pencil silhouette still takes precedence, there is a lot of fullness about these new frocks which is but subtly evident. Clever little pocket, flared, fringed and draped treatments add a bit of novel expression which tends for striking individuality. Black satin, fulgurante, Canton crepe and Kasha cloth, printed and flowered, fashion many of these frocks. They are moderately priced, too.

The following quotations from a recent work on teeth and health are worth remembering:

"Dentists have found that the exercise of gum chewing brings about a better nutrition of the teeth."

"The cleansing action of the gum between the teeth helps to keep them free from the particles which lodge in the crevices and cause decay."

The busy man—or woman either—rarely has time to clean the teeth after eating. Yet they should be cleaned, and

Tuesday Marks Last Day's Drive for Local Chamber

Chairman W. H. Dail, Jr., of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce membership committee, stated this morning that each member of the special committee had been notified to meet in the Chamber of Commerce rooms promptly at 9 o'clock tomorrow, Tuesday morning, from which place they would go out to finish the drive.

Chairman Dail stated that so many telegrams have been received from neighboring towns and of such an encouraging nature that they should be a positive tonic to Greenville citizens to put the drive over creditably and at once.

"For the information of the public, the following messages of pep have been received by me during the last few days" said Mr. Dail:

"We bespeak success for your Chamber of Commerce membership campaign. No progressive citizen of Greenville can afford to fail to back your organization. We congratulate you in advance knowing that the goal desired will be attained."

Signed

"KINSTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE."

"Understand you are raising annual budget for Chamber of Commerce. Am sure you will reach goal desired. Gasoline Price War Now on in New Bern

New Bern, Feb. 25.—A gasoline price war is on in this city now but it is more among the dealers themselves than making cuts against each other's prices than it is the motorist against the dealers. Some time ago the price was 20 cents per gallon then the price began to rise without any apparent reason. It rose to 25 cents per gallon despite the protests of the purchasers. Recently it was reported that one dealer was selling gasoline to some of his customers for 23 cents per gallon and to others he was charging the regular price of 25 cents. Upon the confirmation of this news the other dealers immediately cut their prices to 22 cents per gallon. It was stated that the price was for purchasers.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE OF LAND.

By virtue of power vested in me by that deed of trust which was executed to me on the 9th day of January, 1922, by J. A. Mills, Jr., and wife, Rebecca L. Mills, and which is duly recorded in the register's office of Pitt county in book H-14 at page 498, default having been made in the payment of the notes therein secured, and the holders thereof having requested the trustee to execute the power in him contained, I shall offer for sale at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, at the court house door in the Town of Greenville, at 12 o'clock noon, on Friday, the 28th day of March, 1924, the following described tract of real estate, lying, being, and situated in Greenville township, in the county of Pitt, and State of North Carolina, to-wit: Adjoining the John Hardee lands, the lands of Ernest McGowan and M. D. McGowan, and containing 53 acres, more or less, and being known as the J. T. Edwards tract of land, and being the same tract that was conveyed to J. A. Mills, Jr., by J. T. Edwards by deed of record in the Pitt county registry in Book R-10, at page 77.

This February 25, 1924.
ALBION DUNN,
Trustee.

ENVY THE BIRD THAT HAS ONLY ONE BILL

It is alright to have bills—if you have the money to meet them.

Some people postpone opening a bank account until the "sign is right." The better way would be to open the account first; then the "SIGN WILL GET RIGHT!" Your yesterdays have all faded into the land of the setting sun. Hadn't you better make good use of today before IT becomes a "has-been" too?

Any dealings with you will be in line with that principle—SINCERITY IS THE BEST POLICY.
