

Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co. Is In Hands Receivers

Operations Will Continue in Order to Carry Out Sale Contracts of the Corporation

New York, March 3.—C. G. Wilson, president of Virginia Carolina Chemical Company, and Arthur Vanderbilt, were today named receivers of the company in a creditors suit filed in United States district court in New Jersey. The action was taken, Mr. Wilson said, when it became apparent that it was the only means of protecting the company's assets and the interests of the security holders.

In a statement the president stated that it had been hoped that further credit could be secured to carry on the operation could be secured despite the adverse situation at the present time. He stated that the company's bankers were formulating a plan for readjustment affairs. There will be interruption in the normal conduct of the company, he said as arrangements had been made to direct the court to carry out all sales contracts.

The receivership was foreshadowed in the collapse of the companies stocks and bond issues on the New York stock market last week at which time all declined to new low levels. There were heavy liquidations on all issues.

Mr. Deal Conducts Y. W. C. A. Services at Teachers College

Mr. Deal, a member of the faculty, conducted the Y. W. C. A. services Sunday night. He stated that God expresses his desires and carries out his plans through human beings. He gave as illustrations Moses, Joshua, and the 300 Israelites who faced and defeated an army of 100,000. Through divine guidance the weakest men can accomplish God's work but God never calls weak men. He selects strong, educated, and trained men. He not only selects able men, but men who are willing enthusiastic, and eager. Only once is there on record the fact that Jesus called an unwilling man to labor. This was when he called Jonah. As teachers, Mr. Deal said, you will be asked to do a certain amount of christian work. The big question is, are you going to work willingly and cheerfully? Often people refuse to do christian work because they say they are not adopted to it. If every one was adopted to the work, these would be no need for the work. It is not the number of workers, but the spirit they have. God wants earnest, enthusiastic helpers who are in a hurry to accomplish some things.

In conclusion, Mr. Deal said that if we give ourselves wholeheartedly, and work with enthusiasm, we shall surely receive our reward.

Washington, N. C., March 3.—The body of Ed Carrow, 19, of Chocowinity was found beside his car at Marsden Station with his throat cut shortly after 6 o'clock last night. It was apparent that he had been attacked while in the act of cranking his car. A negro named Jones was arrested charged with the killing and was carried to Greenville last night for safe keeping.

According to information Carrow had had supper in a cafeteria car and had gone out to crank his auto.

Jones was walking around the station and in his confession declared that he killed Carrow but that he was under a "spell" that something had him in its power. A negro boy found Carrow before he died and medical aid was sent from Washington. He died before he reached the Washington hospital.

Authorities here this afternoon denied that Jones had been brought to this city and placed in the Pitt County jail.

Negroes Charged With Murder Rushed To Norfolk For Safety

Elizabeth City, March 3.—This community is quiet today following an effort by a group of men last night to take Elweel Overton and Say White, negroes, from the county jail here, where they are held for murder. The negroes were hurriedly removed to Norfolk by Sheriff Charles Reid.

Overton is charged with throwing W. R. Balance, engineer on a tug, overboard during a fight. White is believed to be the highwayman who fatally wounded O. C. Bray, local insurance man, several months ago.

The mob gathered in front of the jail last night shortly after the recovery of Balance's body and demanded the negroes but dispersed after being addressed by Rev. Templeton, Sheriff Reid and the solicitor. The crowds continued to loiter in the vicinity of the jail, however, so the sheriff removed the prisoners from the jail to Norfolk for safe keeping. The drawbridge at Elizabeth City was kept open for two hours after the sheriff and his party had passed over it to avoid possibility of pursuit.

The couple were on their way to Asheville from Hendersonville.

Arrangement for the Prosecution Oil Suits Nearing Completion

Case Against Mrs. Candler and Keeling Dismissed

Atlanta, March 3.—The case against Mrs. Asa G. Candler and G. W. Keeling, was dismissed this morning and W. J. Stoddard was bound over for another trial under bond of $300 when the three were given hearing in police court on charges of having been in a place where intoxicants were being drunk.

The original charge against Stoddard was changed to that of violating the prohibition laws when he assumed responsibility for the partly filled bottle of whiskey on the table when officers made the raid and arrested Mrs. Candler and the two men.

Police chief James L. Beavers, testified this morning that he raided an apartment on Juniper street Saturday afternoon, Feb. 9, following a complaint by Asa G. Candler, aged millionaire husband of the young woman. He stated that in the apartment he found Mrs. Candler and the two men seated around a table upon which was a bottle partly filled with whiskey.

Arguments Over the Soldiers' Bonus Issue Takes Place Today

Washington, March 3.—Proposal to make a soldiers bonus payment in the form of a paid up insurance policy led to several arguments at the opening of public hearings by the House Ways and Means committee on adjusted compensation legislation today.

Representative Andrew, Republican Massachusetts, explained that he introduced the measure providing for the insurance with option of a cash payment to those veterans who are entitled to only $50. "The veterans' need for cash is not the same now as it was at the close of the war and the bonus now takes the form of an obligation. The insurance provision appears to me better for the veterans," he declared.

Children and Parents Enjoy Story Telling Hour At Library

The story telling hour Saturday afternoon at the library was enjoyed by a great number of children and many parents, who came up to see the children, and hear the stories with them.

In addition to the stories told the children were entertained by seeing a group from the third grade, under the supervision of Miss Hallie Seoville, of the Graded School, give a Swiss dance.

Every one enjoyed seeing this folk dance, as the children were in costume, and did exceedingly well.

There were about one hundred eighty children present Saturday afternoon and all were entertained. The following young ladies told stories:

Miss Bonnie Baswell, Black Creek, N. C., "Beauty and the Beast." Miss Lois Smith, Kinston, N. C., "Little Half Chick." Miss Ruth Mitchell, Brevard, N. C., "Epanulmadus." Miss Lucy Gray King, New Bern, N. C., "Hickamore and Haekamore." Miss Catharine Reed, Hertford, N. C., "Rumpel sticksens."

Committee to Continue Investigation; Will Resume Its Hearings Tomorrow

Cipher experts of the War Department, who have been translating the code messages found in the McLean telegrams, will be called first tomorrow when the Senate oil committee resumes its public hearings.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, chief prosecutor in the inquiry, said today that the translations of the telegrams by the government experts did not differ materially from the paraphrasing furnished the committee last week arrived at by the use of an old code of the Department of Justice.

W. J. Burns, chief of the Department of Justice Investigation Bureau, will be questioned by the committee tomorrow as to how employees of the Washington publisher came in to possession of the department's code and as to whether McLean is on the roll of the special agents of the bureau at a salary of $1 a month. Burns will also be asked about the "Mary" code message sent to one McLeans confidential men at Palm Beach in which reference was made to Burns and the McLean investigations.

Mrs. Mary Duckstein, former private secretary of Burns and now operating as one of the bureau's secret agents, who sent the message to her husband W. O. Duckstein, will probably follow Burns on the stand.

McLean may be called before the coming week. Unlike others who have returned from Florida to testify before the committee, he has not been required to put in his daily appearance at the committee rooms.

The special government counsel is nearing the completion of preparation for the first step in its suit of the oil cases as a result of the Senate committee disclosures. Announcement of some kind is expected tomorrow or Wednesday, meantime those preparing the suits will make no statement as to their precise intentions.

SPRINGTIME

Already there are many signs of approaching spring, although officially it is not due to arrive until March 21.

Spring is the season of reincarnation, rejuvenation and radiant life. It is only man that January 1 represents the birth of a new year and the calendar year is an artificial structure. With plant life and that of the lower animals the coming of spring is at once the birth of a new year and new life.

Humanity recognizes and speaks of a new year as from January 1 but nevertheless observes it from the first breath of spring. After the departure of the drear and stifling winter and with the coming of refreshing and magnetic spring there is new life and new hope created in the breasts of men and women. Spring brings great plans and high resolves which only winter can demolish or deter.

It is not sufficient to say that the homing instinct is convenient in the spring. It is natural and not to be gainsaid by man or beast. Spring urges the bird to build its nest, the animal to burrow into its mother earth and man to plan his home, but neither bird, beast nor man knows nor asks why. Spring is the one and only irresistible force.

Ask nothing more of spring than that it inspires men and women to plan for the future, to build houses and establish homes, to plant gardens, to trim hedges, to harbor the friendless, whether man or beast and to yearn for the great out-of-doors, the open road and the freedom of life.

Everyone in Washington is a hunter these days. The half that isn't hunting dirt is hunting four-leaf clovers.

In a little while now we can forget our lesser problems and worry about the neighbor's chickens in the garden.

A man who grows at everything leads a dog's life.

The trouble with talking at random is people listen that way.

Using a penny to replace a burned-out fuse is courting danger and heavy loss, as shown by a recent fire at Iola, Kansas, declares the Kansas Committee on Public Utility Information. When a penny is so used, the protection afforded by a fuse is lost, as a straight connection is established. 'Penny wise is pound foolish.'

Oriental Atmosphere in 'The Green Goddess'

Oriental atmosphere dominates "The Green Goddess," the spectacular photodrama at White's theatre today and Tuesday, with George Arliss starred and Alice Joyce in the leading feminine role. When Distinctive Pictures Corporation decided to make the screen version of this Broadway stage success, it employed Roshanara, interpreter of East Indian dances, as technical adviser for all of the Indian costumes, sets and customs which are essential to the piece.

Roshanara had done this work for the Winthrop Amco stage production in which Mr. Arliss played for two years on Broadway and then toured for another year.

Though the daughter of English parents, Roshanara was born in India, where she spent the most of her life, studying the exquisite poise and grace of Eastern women, and learning beautiful dances.

Throughout Kipling's land of Kim and within sound of the temple bells of Burma and Ceylon, she has danced, and she has the distinction of being the only European woman to perform the intricate dances of the country before Indian Rajahs.

From the East, Roshanara has danced her way through the Western World. She has appeared in Vienna, Rome, Berlin and Paris; and in London at the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden, she was the principal woman dancer in the Russian Ballet with Nijinsky.

In New York she has given many recitals, and has appeared with the New York Philharmonic, New York Symphony and Russian Orchestras.

Government Loses On Moving of the Foreign Mails

Washington.—The United States is preparing to send a delegation from its post office department to the quadrennial meeting of the Universal Postal Union Congress at Stockholm, Sweden, which begins June 4 and will continue its deliberations several weeks. Various important questions relating to the detailed conduct of international postal affairs for the ensuing four years will be determined by the congress.

One question will be the equitable adjustment for the payment of transfers of foreign mails across the United States, as well as across foreign countries. Postal officials here point out that England is able to collect as much from the United States for shipping a carload of American mail from Southampton to London, for export across the North Sea, as the American government can collect for taking a carload of English mail from New York to San Francisco for shipment to Australia.

Practically all of the countries of the world are members of the Universal Postal Union and will be represented at the congress.

Assistant Postmaster General Henderson, speaking of the matter of transit mail recently, declared if the United States could get approximately what it costs to transport the English and other foreign mails across the American continent when in transit to the Pacific countries, there would be a difference of about $1,000,000 a year in the American postal service's transportation expenses.

For Nomination in the Democratic Primary to Represent The First North Carolina District in Congress.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE FIRST DISTRICT

It is to the advantage of every one of us to nominate a man of the calibre of E. F. Aydlett in the coming Democratic primary to represent this District in Congress. Mr. Aydlett is a man who has the best welfare of this section at heart. He has devoted many years of his life to the interests of the Democratic party in Eastern North Carolina and has ever exerted himself in behalf of his city and his state, throwing every ounce of his energetic personality into the fight to uphold the highest principles of government by the people.

Mr. Aydlett was brought up on the farm where he remained until he had learned at first hand the problems which the farmer of Eastern North Carolina has to face, and he is still interested in farming. For this reason he is in a better position, perhaps, than any other man of this district in public life to judge the needs of the farmer and to advocate legislation that will be to the advantage of the farming sections.

His legal career and his years of service to the Democratic party have completed the training that fits him to represent this District in Congress. No more able man or no one more enthusiastic in working for the public good could be found.

A man of high moral character and strong convictions, he is known as a Christian gentleman among his townsmen and acquaintances everywhere. It is a man of this type needed to represent the First District in Congress. It gives us pleasure to be able to recommend him to you, the Democratic voters of the First North Carolina District.

CALIFORNIA LEADS IN PROPORTION OF AUTOS TO POPULACE

San Francisco.—California has more automobiles to each thousand of population than any other state in the Union, according to figures compiled by W. H. Marsh, director of the state vehicle department.

In the eleven months ended December 31, 1,003,969 automobiles and trucks had been registered by the department. During 1922 there were 747,877 motor cars registered.

Marsh said that an analysis of the records of this and other states indicated that during the coming year New York would be the only state having a greater actual number of cars than California. For 1923 and 1924 he expects a close contest for second place among California, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

He predicts that within less than five years California will pass New York, because of the climatic conditions that make California a year-around region for open cars, as well as the 6,948 miles of paved highways within the state.

During the year California registered 14,654 motorcycles and 5,871 trailers. In this period temporary permits were granted to more than 70,000 automobiles carrying tourists or settlers into California from other states. It is estimated that more than 200,000 persons visited that state in motor cars.

Statistics prepared by Californians, Inc., an organization for the dissemination of information about the state show that for every 100 farms in California there are 99 automobiles, said to be greater percentage of motoring farmers than has been reported by any other state.

Motor stages and truck lines are having an increasing part in the state's transportation facilities, the records of the State Railroad Commission indicate. The new year began with 677 automotive lines operating under jurisdiction of the commission. Of these carriers 164 transport freight exclusively, and 133 take passengers only.

The commission has licensed 68 motor carriers whose cargoes are limited to certain commodities, such as milk, eggs and poultry, lumber, flims, fresh fruits, vegetables and berries. These specialized lines are said to enable the farmer to get produce to profitable markets at low freight rates.

Motor transportation has left few inaccessible spots. Mountain and desert alike have been overcome. Companies operating this form of carrier own 3,300 cars and trucks. Their physical properties are valued at $12,500,000.

Farmville, N. C., Feb. 6th, 1924. MR. H. BENTLEY HARRISS, District Manager. The Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York, Greenville, N. C.

My Dear Sir—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your Company's Checks in settlement of Claim under the $10,000 Policy issued on the life of my husband, the late John H. Flanagan in 1921. As you know this Policy was for $10,000, and was written with the Disability Benefit, Waiver of Premium and Double Indemnity conditions. And I have found these features to be of great advantage. The Company had paid in monthly cash Disability income and Waiver of one Premium, the sum of $1,752.99 which added to the face of the Policy makes $11,752.99. All of this had cost on my two premiums of $291.00 each, making a total of $582.00.

I remember the great effort on your part in persuading my husband to take this Policy, but had no idea that it would prove such a blessing to me and the three little children, so early.

Please accept sincere thanks for the kindness shown on your part, and the promptness of your great Company in paying the claim. I want to tell you now that the Policy I took with you in the Mutual Life of N. Y. last summer was paid for out of the money paid to my husband as Disability monthly income.

Very gratefully, MRS. ANNIE T. FLANAGAN
