PITT COUNTY CLUB ENJOYS BANQUET AT CHAPEL HILL

Addresses Delivered by Dr. Collier Cobb and Prof. W. S. Bernard

Probably one of the most enjoyable occasions which the Pitt County boys at the University have witnessed in some time was on last Tuesday night when the Pitt County Club gave a banquet in Gooch's Banquet Hall in Chapel Hill.

Roy Corbett, president of the Club acted as toastmaster, and Dr. Collier Cobb and Professor W. S. Bernard were the speakers for the occasion.

The essence of Dr. Cobb's talk was a plea that the boys devote the best that was in them to the service of the state and county and to champion that which is progressive and constructive.

Professor Bernard showed how Pitt county had progressed within the last forty years and showed how it had evolved from one of the most backward to one of the most flourishing and leading counties of the state.

Following Professor Bernard, Dink James made one of the most inspiring talks of the evening. Casting aside all that was trivial and frivolous Dink in a straightforward and earnest way appealed to the boys to give to Pitt county a life of unselfish service as true citizens.

At the conclusion of James's talk a general round table discussion of various topics, in other words, a bull session ensued. Finally, the remembrance of a few quizzes the next day forced the session to a conclusion.

The boys in the Pitt County Club this year are as follows: From Greenville, Roy Corbett, president of the club; Robert Wright, vice-president; Dink James, Will Wheelbee, Bert Moyer, William Tyson, Billy Brown, Harry Brown, Nick Little, Zeno Brown, Reed Gaskins, Frank Patrick, W. M. Perkins, T. W. Skinner, W. J. Evans, From Farmville: R. L. Smith, C. E. Bynum and Martin Davis, secretary of

OIL COMMITTEE TO RESUME HEARINGS

Auditors' Reports of Stock Deals Will Be First Consideration

Washington, March 17.—With Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, chief prosecutor, in the oil investigation recovering from bronchial trouble which caused the sudden suspension of hearings Friday, the investigating committee expects on tomorrow to enter into the last phases of its work.

Senator Walsh plans to start tomorrow on the auditor's reports of oil stock dealings here, in New York and Cleveland by government officials.

The committee will then take up for investigation the statement of Leonard Wood, Jr., that his father was offered support for the presidential nomination in the Republican National Convention in 1920 on condition that he give the Interior Secretaryship, if elected, to Jake Hammon, Oklahoma oil man and politician who was later killed.

The committee also intends to examine Harry Sinclair again and to question James G. Darden with reference among other things to the Mutual Oil Company's effort to establish a claim on Teapot Dome that brought into use the Marines to clear the reserve of trespassers.

SAYS DAUGHERTY BEING RETAINED POLITICAL USES

Washington, March 17.—Attorney General Daugherty is being kept in office by President Coolidge solely because of Daugherty's support and political influence in the forthcoming campaign, Senator Cargaway, Democrat, Nebraska, charged in the Senate today. High Point, March 17.—L. C. Jenkins held in the Lexington jail charged with the murder of Mrs. Thomas S. Jones on Wednesday night, passed a restless night following a highly emotional meeting with the husband of the woman yesterday.

No announcement has been made as to the course of the legal action against Jenkins and it is not known whether or not a preliminary trial will precede the submitting of indictment by the Davidson county grand jury.

Startling Revelations Brought Out Today In Daugherty Probe

California Jurist Takes Former Justice Department Agent Declares Daugherty Was Head of Conspiracy to Display Dempsey-Carpentier Fight Films in the Various States

JUDGE CURTIS WILBUR Curtis D. Wilbur, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of California, has been appointed Secretary of the Navy and has accepted.

Washington, March 17. — The Daugherty investigating committee heard a story today that revealed lurid details as many as those that startled the country during the opening days of the inquiry.

Its salient features were based upon allegations that the Attorney General himself, was the head of the conspiracy to display the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films throughout the country and that Daugherty suggested to those who first formed the plan that the backers should receive a 50 per cent "cut in" of the profits.

The witness was Gerald O. Holdrige, former Department of Justice agent, and the story told was based upon information said to have been given him by Jap Muma, New York correspondent for the Cincinnati Enquirer. Muma, the witness said, had practically accused Daugherty of being the head of the conspiracy, and also added, that Muma had told him that there was an exhibition of the pictures at the home here of Edward B. McLean with President Harding and members of the cabinet present.

Holdrige asserted that Muma said that in the talk that followed the exhibition that Daugherty discussed the possibilities from exhibiting the pictures generally. Holdrige said that Muma quoted Daugherty as saying "If you put this big thing across you ought to get a cut in of not less than 50 per cent." The witness stated that Muma said Daugherty suggested that a plan be formed for exhibiting the films in the various states and let some person be the goat in the show of prosecution. It was first necessary however, the story goes on, to find out the attitude for the federal judges and avoid districts of those who might want to inflict jail sentences. Muma told him, the witness said, that Daugherty had suggested to him (Muma) to get into touch with Alfred Urien, Washington attorney who was to provide information as to districts into which to carry the pictures. "Urien was seen" the witness quoted Muma as saying, "and we went to it."

Muma said, according to the witness, that they had been successful in getting the pictures into 21 states and that the profits were very large. Holdrige read to the committee under oath a long statement reviewing his conversation with Muma and on the bottom of this statement was an endorsement by Thomas Spelacy, another former Department of Justice agent, saying that the assertions in the statement were absolutely true. Spelacy was present when the conversation took place said Holdrige.

After he had heard the story, said Holdrige, he came to Washington and related it to William J. Burns, head of the Department of Justice bureau of investigation. Instead of ordering prosecution, he said, Burns transferred him to a long pending bank case. Sometime afterward, he said, he quit the government service in "disgust."

The name of Attorney General Daugherty was directly linked with the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films deal in testimony today before the Senate Daugherty investigating committee. Gerald O. Holdrige, former Department of Justice agent, testified that he had been told by Jap Muma, correspondent for the Cincinnati Enquirer and one of those named in the investigation, that Attorney General Daugherty, himself, was at the head of the conspiracy to show the pictures, throughout the country without Department of Justice interference. The witness declared that Muma had also said that W. J. Burns, chief of the department's investigation bureau, was also standing in on the deal.

Dr. T. G. Basnight, of Stokes, spent today in Greenville.

TRACK MEET WILL BE HELD HERE ON MONDAY, MAR. 31

Preliminaries Now Being Held Throughout the County

The Pitt County Public School Track Meet sponsored by the Greenville Rotary Club, will be held at the Fair Grounds in Greenville on Monday, March 31, beginning at two o'clock. The schools of the county have been working on the proposition for many weeks now, and within a few days all the preliminaries will have been held and the five final teams picked. The county is divided up into five Group Centers as follows: Bethel, Grimesland, Grifton, Farmville and Greenville. The schools in these centers carry their teams to the preliminaries, and a composite team is picked for that Group Center. Then a team from each of these Group Centers will appear in the final Track Meet in Greenville on March 31. The preliminaries of the Bethel and Grifton groups were held on Friday of last week. The Greenville and Grimesland Groups will hold their preliminaries today, while the Farmville Group will hold theirs about Wednesday of this week. The preliminary at Farmville had to be postponed because of the death and funeral of one of the Farmville school children.

The Track Meet was initiated about three years ago by the Greenville Rotary Club. The two former Meets have been very successful. The first year saw the cup go to the Greenville High School, with Farmville a very close second. The next year found Bethel Graded Schools the winner of the cup, with Farmville again running a very close second. In addition to the cup being presented to the winning team, there are prizes that are given to the winners of all first places. These prizes are given by the various merchants of the city, and are always worth while. The list of the prizes will be published shortly.

The Track Meet this year will be run off in about a couple of hours. The committee has learned by experience, and so has evolved a scheme that will enable them to run the meet off in record time. The Pitt County Fair Grounds have been turned over to the children of the county for that meet. The judges for the meet will be men chosen from the various towns of Pitt county.

Many More Enter In Reflector's Big Contest

A careful perusal of the list of nominations and votes received in The Daily Reflector's big automobile and prize campaign as published last Saturday, shows that there are not so many on the list when you take into consideration the large percentage of these names have been sent to the campaign department through interested friends. Many of these nominations will not amount to very much and eventually will be taken from the list just as soon as we can get around and find out if the candidates who have been nominated by friends are interested in taking hold.

There is still room for many more nominees as this is the first real week of the campaign. Last week was devoted to the many details connected with an undertaking such as this, and now we are all located and ready to do some real business. Drop in to the campaign office between the hours of 2 and 8 p. m., located in The Reflector Building, upstairs over the paper, and get a receipt book and the proper voting blanks and start your campaign without further delay, or call 619 for full particulars.

The campaign has barely got started. Not one has gained anything like a leading position. In fact the most of the voting for the different candidates up this time has been done by the public with the exception of a few candidates who have started to push their own campaign in earnest.

Everyone who takes The Reflector would just as soon pay you for the paper as to pay at the office or the boy each week and the paper will be delivered in the same way. If the boy has been carrying it to the subscriber right along, it will still come that way. In case a subscriber owes anything on his subscription account you can collect that amount and it will count for you in votes according to the schedule for an old subscription.

The Mayor and Board of Aldermen are to be congratulated upon their action in disposing of the city gas mains and granting of a franchise for the erection of a gas plant in Greenville. This action, besides returning to the city approximately $30,000 that has been lying idle for the past seven years, makes possible the early fulfillment of a long felt need by the housekeepers of the city.

Don't forget that the registration books for the school bond election to be held Tuesday, April first, will close next Saturday. Remember that the vote is the means whereby a citizen may express his desire regarding the future of the community and it is your duty to register now in order that you may be accorded the privilege of doing your duty on election day.

THE IDES OF MARCH

Paying an income tax is seldom or never a joyous matter, but this year it has been unusually depressing. As if it were not enough to have to pay it all, the Government has been so tactless as to dangle a 25-per cent. reduction before the taxpayer's eyes, only to withdraw it suddenly at the last moment. The Treasury rushes to the rescue by announcing that a reduction of the tax later in the year can be taken care of quite simply by omitting the final quarterly payment, but that final payment falls next December, and next December is, fiscally speaking, a long way off. Nevertheless the public has been promised a reduction and will have it before the next election or know the reason why. In some matters the average taxpayer is inclined to be tolerant, but in money affairs he is deadly serious, even captious. He has been told that relief is feasible and he is not disposed to forget the assurance. Congress must act, and soon.

FRAUD AND CONSPIRACY

As special counsel for the Government, Mr. Pomerene and Mr. Roberts not only set forth that the leasing of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve to Harry F. Sinclair was wholly without warrant of law but in the suit filed at Cheyenne to annul the lease they explicitly charge fraud, conspiracy and illegality. They had little need to look beyond the evidence and the records produced before the Senate oil committee.

These are not vague charges that touch no one in particular. They are aimed directly at the Secretaries of the Interior and the Navy under the Harding administration and, at Harry F. Sinclair, to whom these officials turned over the Teapot Dome.

The language used by the Government's special counsel is not open to misinterpretation. They declare that President Harding, on "false representations from Fall," transferred control of the naval oil reserve lands to Fall, whose purpose was to put Sinclair in possession of them; that Fall knew that the transaction was illegal and "steadfastly refused" to consult law officers of the Government; that Denby "exercised no discretion" and was brought in merely "to evidence the compliance by him" with the terms of the Sinclair lease; that the lease was agreed upon in secret, by private negotiation "without advertisement of competitive bidding" and after the exclusion of other possible bidders, and that Fall and Sinclair "conspired to defraud" the United States in leasing Teapot Dome to Sinclair's company.

There is nothing strikingly new in these statements, but they gain new force by being repeated, after careful study of the facts, by the Government's special counsel in the United States District Court. It is to be hoped that Republican newspapers and politicians that have lately assumed the duty of defending the naval oil reserve leases as beneficial to the United States and the navy, as former Secretary Denby says, and assailing the Senate oil committee, will not denounce the action of Mr. Pomerene and Mr. Roberts in the Cheyenne court as disgraceful partisanship or hysteria.

APACHE DANCE PICKED AS FAD BY VIOLA DANA

Tiny Metro Star Sure Fresh Step Will Invade Ballrooms—White's Theatre Tuesday One Day Only.

The dance of the Paris Apaches, sinuous, seductive, startling sensation of Terpsichore, will become the next ballroom craze of America! Viola Dana says so, and since there is no one better familiar with the dance whimsies of the American public than the popular young Metro star, we are bound to believe it. "It's coming," said Miss Dana, and the time isn't far off. We've had every other variety of dance imported from the corners of the world, and they've all had their day. What is there left but to modify the famous Apache dance of the Parisian underworld, and introduce to the polite circles of American society? Surely the point of its origin has no bearing on the case. We ought to be thankful that there is a single bold, biazze branch of terpsichore left, that hasn't fallen victim to the American craze for something new and novel and different."

THEATRE PARTY.

Given in Honor of Graduating Class of Local Hospital.

A theatre party given Saturday evening in honor of the first graduating class of the nurses training school of the Pitt Community Hospital by Miss Virginia Ives, R. N., of the hospital staff was much enjoyed.

The class, Misses Emma Winfree, of Wadesboro, and Miss Maude Bryan of Wilson, with Drs. G. G. and Mark Dixon, of Ayden, and Miss Ives motored to a neighboring town for the evening show. Misses Winfree and Bryan have gone to their respective homes for a much needed rest after the past months of strenuous work. They graduating with honors.

Graded School Teachers to Have Charge Story Hour

Miss Evelyn Smith, of the Evans Street School, had charge of the story telling hour Saturday afternoon.

She told the stories so as to hold the undivided attention of all the children.

There were about one hundred and fifty present.

The first story told by Miss Smith was "Little Girl Blue and the Birds

Rabbits and the Squirrels." After she had finished the story she had a group of the children from her grade to dramatize the story.

The children showed real dramatic ability, and the birds flew, the rabbits hopped, and the squirrels frisked in quite a realistic manner.

The other stories told by Miss Smith were "The Rainbow Fairies, and "The Elf's Flowers."

Mr. W. M. Hinton came up to enjoy the stories with the children, he was asked to talk to them, which he did for a few minutes, then delighted them by showing them "Moving Picture Fables." Miss Smith then had the children play games. The games played were "How You do My Partner."

"Oh! Have you seen the Show?" These story telling hours are being held by the library committee of the Womens' Club every Saturday afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock, in the Pythian Club rooms.

They were started in January and met with instant success, as there were two hundred children present the first afternoon.

The Pythian Club offered their large club rooms for this work, and it is an ideal place, as all the children that come can be taken care of.

For the first eight weeks young ladies from the college told the stories. For the next few weeks the hour will be in charge of one of the public school teachers.

The two outstanding features of this story telling is first the excellent behavior, ready response, and keen enjoyment of the children, and second the very large per cent of boys that attend.

RESOLUTIONS.
On Tuesday morning March Eleventh, Mrs. Leroy M. Fleming, wife of Mr. J. S. Fleming, and daughter of the late Sheriff Mooring, died suddenly at her home near Stokes. The "Death Messenger" came at an unexpected hour, beckoning her from the scenes of a busy and useful life, calling her from the presence and companionship of family, husband and children.

In her tragic death we deeply feel the uncertainty of life, and keenly realize the personal loss of a cheerful presence. A loving wife, a devoted mother, a kind neighbor, a generous and sincere friend has gone from our Sunday school and our community. Our sense of compassion cannot be expressed in words, yet in a degree we wish to extend to her loved ones in their time of grief and sorrow our profound and heart felt sympathy.

A life as hers so rich in love and kindness and service should inspire us who are privileged to live longer to a more unselfish attitude toward the obligation of Christian living. Her absence from our midst should be a constant reminder of the solemn truth that, "In the midst of life we are in death."

We wish a copy of these resolutions to be presented to the bereaved family, another recorded in the Sunday school records, and a third used for publication.

Methodists Are Conducting Revival Services in Bethel

A series of revival services are being conducted in the Methodist church of Bethel. Rev. L. L. Smith, pastor of the church, is being ably assisted by the Rev. John A. Russell of Snow Hill, who is delivering the sermons and M. V. Lewis who has charge of the singing. Yesterday the opening day proved most successful and much interest was manifested.

Mr. Russell is a splendid preacher and will give to the people of the Bethel community some good gospel messages. Mr. Lewis is a good song leader as well as a soloist and the singing promises to be an attractive feature of the revival.

The public is invited to attend the service.

MEASLES.
Since the first of March there have been reported to this office 101 cases of measles. While the most of these cases have been reported from the Harville school district, there is every reason to expect it to spread into other parts of the county.

Measles is an acute contagious disease, symptoms of which are cold in head, inflamed eyes and temperature, along with the rash, which usually appears about the third or fourth day after onset of the symptoms.

Dangers of measles are inflamed eyes, middle ear infection, croup, which may be membranous or ordinary. The most dangerous complication is Bronchial pneumonia. You should always consider measles a dangerous disease and have the advice of your doctor.
