SINCLAIR REFUSES TO TESTIFY BEFORE SEN. OIL COMMITTEE

Lease of Teapot Dome Will Face Senate On Charge of Contempt; Will H. Hays Flatly Denies Sinclair Contributed Stock to Cover Deficit From Republican Campaign

Washington, March 22.—The Senate oil committee today certified Harry F. Sinclair to the Senate for contempt as a result of his refusal to testify further before the committee. Decision as to the exact procedure will be held in abeyance until the return to Washington of Alice Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, the government's special counsel prosecuting the oil lease suits. There are two courses open for the procedure, one before the Senate itself and the other to certify the case before the District Attorney of the District of Columbia for grand jury proceedings.

Washington, March 22.—After failing to induce Harry F. Sinclair to testify before the Senate oil committee today received from Will H. Hays a denial that Sinclair had contributed a large batch of oil stocks to wipe out the $1,600,000 deficit of the Republican National committee after its 1920 campaign.

Sinclair refused to testify after the committee had voted unanimously to overrule the objections of his attorneys. Despite the committee's position he said that he would reserve what evidence he possessed for the courts.

The committee's only recourse is to certify him to the Senate for contempt but members indicated that no such step would probably be taken.

In a statement before the committee Sinclair declared that he had refused to testify before the committee but not because he feared that his testimony might incriminate him for there was nothing in connection with his leasing of Teapot Dome that was incriminatory.

"I shall reserve any evidence that I might be able to give for the courts to which you and your colleagues have deliberately referred all questions over which you had any jurisdiction and I shall refuse to answer any question asked by your committee. There is nothing in any of the facts or circumstances around the leasing of Teapot Dome that does or can incriminate." The statement then referred to the fact that the operator had previously appeared before the Senate committee regarding the leases and added, "But it appears that I have been before your committee in five sessions and answered all questions, produced all books and papers asked for and finally excused from further attendance."

Sinclair called attention to the fact that authority for prosecuting the oil reserve cases had been passed by the Senate since his last appearance before the committee. "The resolution denounces the lease between the government and the Mammoth Oil Company on the grounds of fraud and corruption. This is an assertion that under the 'rights and equities' of the United States that the land covered by the lease of Teapot Dome belongs to the United States," the statement said.

Will H. Hays followed the oil operator and lease on the witness stand.

"Do you know the witness who just left the stand?" asked Senator Walsh.

"Yes sir. I have known him for eight or ten years," replied Hays.

"It has been testified before another committee," went on Senator Walsh, "that Mr. Sinclair gave certain stocks to wipe out the deficit of the Republican National committee. Tell us about it."

"I cannot tell you about it. It is not true" was the witness's reply.

"You saw in the New York Times that you would testify to such a donation?" asked Senator Walsh.

"Yes. That story is untrue, it is false," replied Hays.

Hays declared that he had not idea of the source of the Time's story.

"Would it surprise you to knowville.

LOCAL KIWANIS ENDORSE ISSUE

Members Pledge Earnest, Hearty Support to Make It Big Success

The Greenville Kiwanis Club last night unanimously endorsed the proposed bond issue of $200,000 for meeting the urgent needs of the public schools of Greenville and each man present pledged his earnest and hearty support to make this movement a success.

The Greenville Kiwanis Club is composed of forty nine of the leading citizens of Greenville—two men from each of the occupations and professions located in the town. Last night every man listened closely and thoughtfully to a recital of the conditions under which the public schools of Greenville are working today.

The inadequacy of the present buildings to house the children now going to school; the unsanitary conditions under which the children and teachers work because of crowding 700 children in a building designed to take care of but half that number; the waste of pupil and teacher time and energy from working in improperly ventilated and lighted rooms; the serious impairment of health and lowered vitality from the same cause, made every man present realize that the present conditions were resulting in serious waste, in placing in jeopardy the health and eyesight of teacher and children; that the children of Greenville are not getting a fair chance of a square deal.

"Our Greenville, yours if you come," is the slogan of Greenville. The schools of Greenville are the biggest thing Greenville has to offer. Yes, practically the only thing Greenville has to offer as an inducement to come to Greenville to live. Our schools are our greatest asset when it comes to attracting people to make Greenville their future home. Is it a good business proposition to let the schools struggle along inadequately cared for?

The financial side of the question was clearly and fully explained by Judge Wheelbee, J. L. Litte, and Supt. Rose. It was plain to every citizen present that every cent of the money asked for was absolutely needed; that on a valuation of $100 worth of property the increased tax would not be over 10 cents; that as a matter of fact it would not be over 5 cents as the tax payers were already paying interest on about $98,000 of indebtedness one half of the proposed bond issue.

Shall we continue to jeopardize the health of our boys and girls and continue to make inadequate provision for their future success as citizens for a matter of a few dollars? It was also clearly shown that the town was fully compensated by the county for children educated in the Greenville schools, who lived outside the corporate limits of the city; that Greenville was required by state law to educate these children; that if they were taken out of the Greenville schools, it would not alter the present situation.

It was also clearly seen that between one and two hundred more children would be seeking admission to the schools next year. This would result in some of the children going to school on part time—a part in the forenoon, another part in the afternoon. This would require a longer time to complete the work in the school, losing several years in getting ready for life's work.

Every Kiwanian realized the seriousness and the importance of the issue presented. Greenville must not be reactionary.

that the information came from your office?" asked Walsh.

"It could not have come from there as it is not a fact," was the reply.

Sinclair was said this morning to be in possession of information that a book relating to the oil deals at the Republican National convention in Chicago in 1920 was at one time put into print and then suppressed.

Sinclair Walsh said that he had been promised a copy of the volume. He said that he had not been informed as to the identity of the author of the book.

Dog With Human Ankle Bone Leads In Search, Finds Missing Man, 80

FAYETTEVILLE, March 22.—A dog carrying a human ankle bone late yesterday led to a search that resulted in the discovery of the body of John Brece, 80-year-old eccentric who disappeared from his home on the Fayetteville-Raleigh road near here last September. An inquest will probably be held today. David J. Brece, uncle of the missing man, noticed the dog carrying the bone and started the search. The dog led the way to a deep ravine some distance from the home of Miss Rosa McLean, niece of the dead man, with whom he lived. There he dug up a human skull. The body was then unearched and identified from the clothing and other articles as that of John Brece.

Brece was widely known in Eastern North Carolina for his eccentricities. When he disappeared posses that maintained a search for him for several days finally gave it up in the belief that he was still alive and had probably wandered away from the community.

Crowson was placed under a bond of $300 pending his hearing before Judge W. C. Harris.

High Point Man Commits Suicide

High Point, March 22.—Elmer Spencer, 31, well known business man of this city, committed suicide at his home here last night with a revolver. The bullet penetrated his brain and testimony of members of the family who were in the house at the time of the shooting satisfied the coroner that no need existed for an inquest. Spencer was in the hardware business here and the member of a family prominent in local affairs. He leaves a widow and small daughter, both of whom were in an adjoining room when he took his life.

As the small family gathered around the supper table he remarked that he was going to kill himself. "Come in and witness a suicide," he said.

He then walked into the next room and fired the shot. No theory explaining the cause of his act has been advanced.

AL JENNINGS SAYS $1,000,000 PAID FOR NOMINATION

Friend of Late Jake Hamon Will Tell Committee Name of Master Mind That Negotiated Deal at Republican Convention, 1920

Los Angeles, Cal., March 22.—Al Jennings, former train robber and lately active in the fields of religion, real estate and politics, was ready today to depart for Washington to testify before the Senate oil investigating committee.

Before leaving Jennings predicted that when the light of his testimony concerning the alleged million dollar price paid for the Republican presidential nomination comes into contact with the inflammable atmosphere of the Senate oil investigation an explosion will result which will rock the country.

As a close friend of the late Jake Hamon, Republican leader in Oklahoma, Jennings explained that he learned of Hamon's negotiations to swing the 1920 presidential nomination and that he knew what Hamon expected to get out of it.

He declared that the master mind who controlled the 1920 Republican convention and practically engineered the nomination of Warren G. Harding for president upon the payment of $1,000,000 is an easterner and an ex-Senator and prominent in National Republican circles. "I will tell his name to the Senate committee in Washington," the former bandit added.

A subpoena ordering him to appear before the investigating committee was handed Jennings at the United States Marshall's office here yesterday afternoon.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 22.—M. B. Partin, North Georgia farmer, was awarded $2 damages in circuit court here, against R. B. Alexander, solicitor for the Chattanooga Times for mental anguish, worry and loss of sleep because of failure to receive the newspaper.

Partin claimed that he paid six months subscription and that after he received the paper for a short time it was stopped by Alexander.

Alexander testified that he had not received payment for the newspaper and alleged that he paid it out of his own pocket, but Partin presented a receipt and was awarded judgment.

He sued for $100 and the lower court awarded him $30 and the cost of the suit.

PARTY RETURNS FROM CAPITAL

College Girls and Several Greenville People Enjoy Trip

The party of East Carolina Teachers College and Greenville High School students returned yesterday afternoon from their five day trip to Norfolk and Washington, reporting a most successful trip. Mr. McWilliams, passenger agent of the Norfolk Southern railroad had charge of the party. He had carefully made all arrangements for every detail of the tour so that as much as possible could be seen and done in the time with the least trouble to the tourists. Excellent guides were with the party at every stage, special auto-buses conveyed the party from one place to another with no unnecessary delay. The party left here on two special Pullman cars which were ready at nine o'clock. Automobiles were waiting for them in Norfolk. The party went straight to the Southland Hotel for breakfast, after which they spent the morning in seeing the sights around the city and in the Naval Base. After luncheon at the hotel, they spent the afternoon at the Navy Yard, going over the battleship, Texas, and left on the Norfolk-Washington boat, arriving at the Metropolitan Hotel in time for breakfast Tuesday morning. The party visited all the chief points of interest in and around Washington. It was the first touring party to visit as a party the tomb of Woodrow Wilson, and to drive slowly by his home on S. Street. They were also the first to see a copy of the original constitution which has just been placed on exhibit at the Library of Congress.

Congressman Ward and Congressman Aswell greeted the party at the hotel soon after their arrival. Tuesday afternoon was spent at the Capital. Congressmen Ward, McEnethy, Stedman and Bulwinkle and Senator Overman received the party and extended many courtesies to them, and introduced them to various congressmen. Senator Simmons while busy at committee meetings during the afternoon, sent messages and also extended courtesies.

President Coolidge received the party at noon Wednesday. Announcement had been made that no schools would be received this season, but such pressure was brought to bear that Secretary Slomp said he had to weaken.

Secretary of War Weeks and Assistant Secretary Davis gave the girls a most cordial reception at the War and State Building. Secretary Weeks asked each girl to shake hands with him and tell him her name and home town. He spoke of them as "57 varieties of North Carolina beauty and charm."

On Wednesday evening the young ladies were invited to a dance at the New Willard Hotel, given by the Southern Society. Many of them watched the dance from the side boxes, and met a great many North Carolinians and other southerners, among them Mr. Hartley, president of the North Carolina Society.

Mr. E. E. Britton, of the Washington Bureau of the News and Observer, was especially kind to the party.

Mr. C. T. Russell, agent of the Norfolk-Washington Steamboat Company with the party to most of the points of interest, and was actually a guide to the guides.

The times between sight-seeing were spent seeing the city, shopping, receiving friends, and going to shows.

The weather going up and for the three days in Washington was ideal. On the return trip the girls had the thrill of experiencing a storm at sea, and the few who did not get seasick feel they missed an experience. The party returned on a special car yesterday afternoon.

The many courtesies extended to the party and the many complimentary remarks made about the party proved that they reflected credit upon the state.

Misses Jenkins and Maupin and Mr. E. L. Henderson were in charge of the thirty-nine college girls, and Miss Weddel of the high school group of ten. Miss Gray, Librarian, and Miss Arley Moore, matron of the college, Mesdames Griffin, Walters and Ballard of Greenville were also with the party.

All in the party feel that nothing

ROXIE STINSON RESUMES STAND TODAY'S HEARING

Says She Was Offered $1,000 for Lead to Get Information On Teapot Dome; Gives Her Version of Daugherty's Charges Against Her

Washington, March 22.—Roxie Stinson, divorced wife of the late Jesse Smith, "bumper" and friend of Attorney General Daugherty, resumed the witness stand today before the Senate Daugherty investigating committee and brought with her letters in support of her stories told before the committee last week.

Roxie Stinson told the investigating committee her version of the affair in the Cleveland hotel in which the Attorney General charges she was registered with A. L. Fink, of Buffalo, N. Y., as man and wife and made an attempt to blackmail him (Daugherty) for $150,000. Miss Stinson's reply to Attorney General Daugherty's charges was that it was a frame up.

Her version of the affair was that she went to Cleveland to meet Fink to talk over a big deal and had him to dinner in her room. There, she said, Fink told her that he had registered them under a fictitious name. She was enraged when she learned of it, she said. Later Fink told her, she said, that they were both under arrest for registering under the fictitious names and were headed for the bars unless they would promise to say nothing damaging about Harry M. Daugherty.

Miss Stinson testified that one Lyle Johnson who represented himself as coming from the Columbus Citizen and Associated Press offered her a thousand dollars for a lead on how to get information about Teapot Dome. Lyle Johnson is not employed by the Associated Press and the Columbus Citizen for which he is court reporter is not a member of the Associated Press.

Pastors High Point Condemn Women Wrestling Matches

High Point, March 21.—Resolutions condemning the participation of women in wrestling matches were passed by the local association of pastors at a meeting here. It was the first time that such a performance had been produced here, and is said to have caused the action to be taken by the ministers.

Plenty Of Room For Active Candidates

Several of the candidates on the list in The Daily Reflector's big circulation drive have settled down to business and are busy as bees piling up big vote totals for the judges to give the "Once Over" on April 19th. But the majority of those on the list still remain inactive and eventually will leave the field to a select few to strive for the wonderful awards.

It's not so far away. It may seem so when you look four weeks ahead, but if you look back at some event that happened four weeks or more ago, it will seem like a very short time. It won't be long before the end of this campaign will be here and all who have worked their hardest will be glad for that and will be well rewarded for their efforts.

As each day of the contest wears on the race gets more intense. A small majority of the candidates now on the list are pushing their campaign in earnest and their friends are rallying to their support in grand style. A rough tabulation of votes at the close of each day will show first a candidate from Greenville with a slight lead, and the next day the lead will go back to Bethel, Grimesland or to some candidate in the outside territory. The work done by the active workers today, indicates a closely contested race with every prize on the list going to its rightful owner after a hard struggle.

Every candidate who has started pushing their own campaign is right in the running. The whole field is running in close order and the work done during the remaining days of the first period will have a lot to do with the ultimate prize winners.

One or two good candidates who have the ambition and personality to win one of the automobiles and living in the outside territory are planning on taking an active part in the contest. If they do all the workers now on the list will have to hustle some to keep their names up toward the top of the list.

The Reflector has put up some very wonderful prizes for a contest of this sort, prizes that are well worth the effort. Everybody in Greenville and in the rural districts, surrounding towns and cities are good prospects for a subscription. You will find a certain thrill in going around and meeting people and you will form in this way everlasting friendships.

If you but make the calls in your canvass for subscriptions you will find that the law of average will take care of you. That out of an average of ten people called on you will find that business has come your way in surprising numbers. If you but make a certain number of calls each day you will no doubt be on top when the contest closes. Don't jump around mile after mile wasting so much energy when the greenest fields are right under your very nose. Have some system about your campaign. Write down every promise made and call back on the dates told to go right down the line skipping nobody.

The first real active week of the campaign closes tonight. There has been no outstanding candidate among any of the active workers on the list. Of course there are some who have done better work than others, but there is not a candidate who has anything like a safe lead. Not a candidate on the list who can afford to sit back and take it easy if their object in the campaign is the winning of one of the automobiles. The majority of the names on the list have not as yet taken hold and started to push their own campaign. Voting for them has all been confined to their friends. They or any other candidate should start their campaign without further delay for with just a little effort they can work their way to the top of the list and win one of the automobiles on April 19th.

A BUSINESS REPARATION PLAN

Finding by the expert commission to investigate the financial condition of Germany is that Germany can easily pay the 132,000,000,000 gold marks assessed against it in 1921 for reparations. The expert commission proposes to put Germany in condition to realize these financial possibilities by making a loan secured by mortgage on the railroads and by the issue of gold-secured currency. This plan is plain business and is practicable if each nation concerned will waive all political objections. France must withdraw from the Ruhr and suppress fear of German economic recovery, and Germany must abandon the pretense that working to pay a debt is slavery. If that were true of Germany, it would be equally true of the United States and of every other nation that is in debt.

The plan depends for success on the will to pay of Germany and on the will for peace of all the nations concerned, for the loan can be raised only in the United States and it will be subscribed only if the minds of those nations are set on doing the things necessary to make the security goods, says the Portland Oregonian.

"W. W. SPAID NO. 4"

Doubtless Attorney General Daugherty shares the indignation of part of the Republican press over the failure of press and public to suspend judgment in his case until the Senate inquiry is concluded. But what does the man expect?

These queer people disclosed by the Wheeler committee, with their mysterious ways and resources, their boot-legging schemes, their plans for getting fight films across state lines, their complicated interrelations, not to mention one suicide yet unexplained, were socially and politically in Daugherty's circle, despite Old Dog Tray's warnings.

Then there is a stock-speculating matter. Not the slightest impropriety is chargeable against Senator Curtis, for instance, in buying certain oil shares as an investment. Mr. Daugherty's in-and-out transactions in Sinclair stocks would attract less attention now but for his placing his account in the name of "W. W. Spaid No. 4"—"Spaid No. 3" being Jess Smith—on the day when the Teapot Dome lease was made public. Less attention would be paid to his investment in Doheny's Mex. Pete in 1922 if he had not previously denied it.

There is a French proverb that he who excuses accuses. The task of explaining why it is all right for Harry Daugherty to remain Attorney General of the United States becomes to the valiant Old Guard of defense daily more difficult.—N. Y. World.

I seek the office not for the gratification of selfish ambitions, but opportunity to honorably and faithfully serve the best interest and welfare of the people of my native county.

In presiding over the County Court with this ideal in view it shall be my purpose:

1. To extend to all attorneys at law, and other officers of the court, proper respect and courtesy, with equal rights to all and special privileges to none;
2. To give all persons and parties a fair and impartial trial to the best of my ability and according to law.
3. And generally to conduct the court and administer the law in a fair, equal and impartial manner to the best of my ability and in accordance with what I conscientiously believe to be right and just under all the circumstances.

This March 13, 1924.
 JAMES L. EVANS.

Men are walking blocks out of their way to see these new ones!

Men, as a rule, don't enthuse much over articles of apparel.

Usually they take hats as a matter of course and when they take a stock by storm there must be some mighty big reason.

Ever since the first lid was lifted on this Spring display—the lid has been off.

We have been swept off our feet selling hats to men who have never had two feet in this store before—and in two weeks we have closed almost a season's business.

Why? Simply because we have the blocks that are worth walking blocks to buy—and if you haven't purchased your hat yet—there is no reason why you shouldn't cash in on the tip that others are capitalizing.

Spring Hats in the new shades.

MACCABEES TO HAVE DEBATE NEXT THURSDAY Under the leadership of Commanders Archie Bilbro and J. F. Sticks, Greenville Tent No. 10 of the Order of the Maccabees has assumed its rightful place as an institution of service and educational entertainment. Apart from the regular routine, a special program of sparkling entertainment is provided for each meeting. Sometimes it is initiations of elected candidates, sometimes it is spiky jokes; sometimes a quiz to bring out what the members know about the great work the order is doing in the United States; again, it is a certificate contest to ascertain who knows the most about his policy; some times it is a declaimer's contest with the young members, and, last, but not least, we do a little debating for the purpose of whetting the wits of the members. We always choose a live subject, resolve it into a query and appoint leaders for either side, the winner getting the prize. Next Thursday night, March 27, Sir Knights A. E. Chambers and Archie Bilbro will debate this question: Resolve that Labor Unions are preponderantly beneficial to the people's best interest. The leaders are always ably seconded by other Sir Knights who are ever anxious to get in the fray. Of interest to us all are the issues affecting our town and community. To these we give much thought and attention as good citizens.

Rev. L. E. Ballard Organizes Boys' Club A local club of "The Guards of Dixie," an organization for southern boys, with headquarters in Nashville, Tenn., was organized in this city Thursday night by Rev. L. E. Ballard, pastor of the Free Will Baptist church with a charter membership of ten. The organization is founded upon the principle of the "Big Brother" movement, each boy joining promising to try to be an example to younger boys. Among other things the club encourages faithfulness to home duties, devotion to church and Sunday school, loyalty to teachers, and faithfulness in school work, clean athletics and sports, and an unselfish regard for the rights of others. Each member takes the following pledge upon joining: "I faithfully promise upon my honor to obey the rules of this club; to strive to be an example to my younger brothers; to be a protector of the weak; and to keep, as best I can, the following precepts: To be helpful, to be healthful, to be cheerful, to be truthful, to be kind, and to guard my home, my country, and my own heart from everything that could bring evil or suffering of any kind."

The officers of the club, which is organized somewhat on the plan of a fraternal lodge, are: Rev. L. E. Ballard, director and acting chief; Herman Baker, scribe; Robert Dixon, Picket; Elmer Nelson, Keeper of Wampum; Kelly Wilson, Forest Scout; Lonnie Doughtie, Messenger Guard. Arrangements are being made for a meeting place for the club, and meetings are to be held every Tuesday night. Boys who are interested may learn more about the club from Mr. Ballard, or from any officer whose name appears above.

Pola Negri's Gowns Star Wears Fine Assortment in "The Spanish Dancer." The old Spanish gowns worn by Pola Negri in her latest Paramount star picture, "The Spanish Dancer," which will be on view at White's theatre next Monday, constitute a veritable fashion display, which will enthrall almost every woman screen fan. Some of the costumes worn by the famous star in the scenes taken in the gypsy camp show the strong influence which the Moorish invasion exercised over Spanish life, even after it had been repulsed. Later in the story, when Pola Negri as Maritana, the gypsy girl, becomes the wife of Don Cesar, she wears costumes which for sheer beauty have probably never been equaled in history.

Kathlyn Williams, who plays the role of Isabella, queen of Spain, displays gowns designed from those shown in the hundred odd pictures which Velasquez painted of that famous queen. A number of ladies in waiting also appear in the picture. Seven different gowns were designed for each. In "The Spanish Dancer," Antonio Moreno is featured. Heading a strong cast are Wallace Beery as King Phillip, Gareth Hughes (an armourer's assistant, Adolphie Menjou, a powerful minister in the Spanish court—Edward Kipling, Robert Brower and many others.

Attention is Being Directed to Poultry
There is an ever-increasing attention being directed towards some phase of poultry. W. H. Dail, Jr., proved last season that money can be made if one is willing to pay the price daily care.
From a 600 egg capacity incubator Mr. Dail hatched eggs and sold baby chicks to the value of $423.50. "I thought I would be able to have some of my own, but the demand was so great until I could not begin to supply the calls received."
This incubator was set several days ago and the first hatch is now expected next Tuesday.
Mr. Dail's principal occupation is selling automobiles, but he derives a great deal of pleasure from this phase of pastime and is in position to refute any argument detrimental to the industry. "You can't tell me that Pitt county farmers can't make money with poultry. I have tried and I know what can be done."

Old Folks' Ailments
"I began taking Black-Draught over fifty years ago and my experience with it stretches over a good long time," says Mr. Joe A. Blakemore, a Civil War veteran, now a prominent citizen of Floyd, Tex.
"It is the best laxative I know of for old people. . . A good many years ago, in Virginia, I used to get bilious and I found that was the best and quickest relief I could get. Since I came to Texas I have these bilious attacks every now and then—and I find a little Black-Draught soon straightens me out. After a few doses, in little or no time I'm all right again."
Thedford's Black-Draught acts on the stomach, liver and bowels in a gentle, natural way, assisting digestion and relieving constipation.
