Ham-Ramsay Revival Services Will Begin Here Tuesday Night

Two Members of the Evangelistic Party, Rev. G. C. Baumgartel and Mr. Earl S. Rogers Have Arrived to Make Final Arrangement for What is Expected to be Greenville's Greatest Revival Services

EARL S. ROGERS, Pianist of the Ham-Ramsay Evangelistic party who uses a Meahler Baby Grand piano, especially built for auditorium services.

Rev. G. C. Baumgartel, a member of the Ham-Ramsay Evangelistic party visited Greenville yesterday and preached two sermons while here. In the morning he occupied the pulpit of the Memorial Baptist church and in the evening, the Immanuel Baptist.

Mr. Baumgartel when not looking after the erection of the tabernacles for the meetings, conducts revival services in his home state, Texas. He is a splendid preacher and his two sermons on yesterday, were heard by appreciative audiences.

Mr. Earl S. Rogers, pianist, has arrived and on tonight at 7:30 o'clock will conduct the first preliminary rehearsal with the large chorus choir which is expected to furnish the music during the campaign. Singing is one of the outstanding features of any revival service and helps toward the success of the meeting.

Mr. Rogers has been with the Ham-Ramsay party two years and is a splendid pianist. When Mr. Ramsey is absent Mr. Rogers directs the choir.

Mr. Ham and Mr. Ramsey are expected tomorrow. In commenting on the Ham-Ramsay meeting which has just closed in Raleigh the News and Observer says: "By their fruits ye shall know them." That is the test and the Ham-Ramsay revival meets it fully.

Raleigh is a different place from what it was before the evangelist and his party did their work here. Great numbers of people have realized that life was given them for a purpose and that it is not a possession to be wasted in riotous conduct. Being brought to realize this vital fact, they are totally different people with a new outlook on life and a new hope and aspiration. Any man who can come into a city and lead hundreds and thousands to change their lives and change them for the better is a benefactor of mankind and deserves the respect and admiration of thinking people.

Mr. Ham's sole and only method is the holding up for acceptance and emulation of "the Crucified One." It is the one means of salvation for the individual and for the world.

Wars and most afflictions which have cursed the earth have resulted because the teachings of Christ were violated. If they are followed by nations as Woodrow Wilson proposed at Paris wars will be ended. They are so far above the average person's conception of the possible that many believe they can never be attained unto either by individuals or by governments. But no one can study the past and compare it with the present without realizing that there has been an influence which has steadily and surely lifted men upward. It has been the influence of the teaching of Christ. As time passes this saving and enlightening influence will reach further and further, blessing individuals and nations. A study of the past clearly teaches this.

Men like Ham who hold up Christ as the great exemplar are the real and true leaders. They may adopt tactics that do not command universal approval. But these are matters of opinion. The fact that they make Christ the central thought of their teaching is the main thing.

The meeting will begin in the Forbes and Morton's warehouse, Tuesday evening, with the song service beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend each and every service. A treat is in store for all who attend.

Army Planes Leave Seward for Chignik

Seward, Alaska, April 14.—With 2900 miles travelled out of 27000 in their globe-circling flight, four U. S. Army planes were expected to leave today for Chignik to the west on the Alaskan peninsula.

EVELYN NESBIT OPPOSES PLEA FOR FREEDOM

Believes Thaw Would Waste Son's Fortune

Philadelphia, April 14.—Russell William Thaw, claimed to be the 13 year old son of Harry K. Thaw, was allowed to intervene through his guardian, Evelyn Nesbit his divorced wife in the Thaw insanity proceedings which began today in the Court of Common Pleas.

The petition states that "Russell William Thaw has an expectant interest in the estate of Harry Kendall Thaw and an interest in the estate of the father of the said Harry Kendall Thaw, namely, one William Thaw, deceased, which he takes through the said Harry Kendall Thaw. Your petitioner is informed and believes, and therefore avers, that the said Harry Kendall Thaw has not fully recovered his normal mental condition and is still a lunatic, and that if he should be freed from restraint at the present time and his estate restored to him, would dissipate, and probably wholly destroy, the interest which the said Russell William Thaw has in the estate of Harry Kendall Thaw and the said William Thaw, deceased."

Thaw's application for his freedom from the asylum came before Common Pleas Court on his own petition to have his sanity determined by a jury. His mother, Mary C. Thaw, joined him in the petition. Trustees for Thaw's estate were given permission to have their own alienists examine Thaw. It was reported that they have not found him to be mentally fit to be released. On the other hand, five alienists appointed in behalf of Thaw, are said to have pronounced him sane after an examination.

MAY SOLVE K. K. K. MURDERS.

E. E. BUSEY

A nation-wide search has been instituted for Dr. Earl Edward Busey, alias E. E. Hall, who disappeared from the Federal Prison in Atlanta, Ga., where he had only a few months to serve on a sentence for using the mails to defraud. One time an oil millionaire, Busey confided to friends that he knew the story of the famous Mer Rouge, La., K. K. K. murders, which shocked a nation. He declared the body found there were not those of the missing Watt Daniel and Thomas Richards, asserting that though the K. K. K. members killed Daniel, Richards is still alive as their captive. While in prison many high Klan officials visited him.

MCDONALD WARNS DELEGATES OF PROPAGANDA

FIRST INDICATION HALT CONFERENCE

Would Insist On Similar Discretion From Any Political Mission—Bankers Submit Plan of Credit

London, Eng., April 14.—The Anglo-Russian conference was barely under-way when Premier McDonald took the opportunity to warn the Soviet delegates against engaging in any form of Bolshevik propaganda while in England during the present negotiations which are certain to extend over many weeks. The labor premier McDonald assumed his gravest manner after welcoming the Russians and bluntly told them that his government would not countenance propaganda of any sort. He softened the abruptness of his warning however by pointing out that he was not demanding anything from the Russian delegates that he would not demand of any political mission visiting the country.

Premier McDonald made it very plain to M. Rakovsky and the other delegates that at the first indication of bolshevik propaganda, of which he as a veteran socialist is very familiar, a halt in the Anglo-Russian negotiations would be called.

British Bankers have submitted a memorandum of a basis for the restoration of Russian credit. The terms of the plan as outlined by the bankers have not been disclosed.

Clinic for Crippled Children to Be Held Wilson, Thursday 17

The clinic for crippled children will be held in the basement of the High School at Wilson on Thursday, April 17. As has been announced in this paper several days ago, this clinic is open to all children of all races, of sound mind under 16 years of age. Dr. O. L. Miller, surgeon from the State Orthopaedic hospital at Gastonia is holding these clinics about over the state to give free examinations to these unfortunate children and advise with parents if anything can be done for them.

The Norfolk and Southern railroad is giving half fare to both the children and persons in charge of children attending this clinic. It is requested that those who have thus far failed to signify intention of taking or sending a child to the clinic will notify the Welfare office at once that arrangements can be made for reduced round trip rates. All children going on the train will leave Greenville on the 8:30 train and return on the 6:50.

Moore who is aided in management of the stands by members of the Parent-Teachers Association. A local bakery gives all the bread needed free of charge. Before the lunch stands began to be profitable donation from the Philanthropic class, Kiwanis Club, the Rotary Club, and the Woman's Club kept them in operation. The menu now consists of beef stew, butterbeans, rice, and jello with whipped cream. Soup with bread is served for five cents.

Warrant Issued For Reckless Aviator

Asheville, April 14.—A warrant was issued at the orders of the City Commissioners, for the arrest of the advertising aviator, who swooped down to only a few feet above the heads of the players at the ball park here the other day at McCormick Field. The city officials declare that such flying endangers the life of those in the vicinity and that should anything happen to the motor at the time, it would be impossible for the aviator to correct his machine before some one had been killed or seriously injured. The Commissioners passed an ordinance prohibiting the flying of a machine closer than 150 feet to the tops of buildings in the city limits.

Run Or Be Run Over This Final Contest Week

This is the last week of the Daily Reflector's $2,500 circulation, and for the winners immediately after prize contest—the week when the winners must be made. This will be the greatest week of the entire campaign for everyone in the contest has hundreds of promises and prospects who have insisted on putting them off until the last week of the campaign.

Tomorrow's paper will carry the names of those who are to act as judges at the close of the campaign. These men will be totally disinterested parties and will be selected from some of the most prominent business and professional men of Greenville.

The ballot box will be installed on Thursday and will be ready for what reserve votes you now have in your keeping. You will have until eight o'clock Saturday night to deposit these votes in the box, but they must be in that hour in order for you to get credit for the work you have been doing. It is a good idea to deposit these votes in the box early in the day and reserve the closing hours for last-minute subscriptions.

You have right up till eight o'clock Saturday night to work and turn in subscriptions, but please don't wait until the last minute to make your final turn-in. Turn in the bulk of your work during the early part of the day, make several turn-ins if convenient. Out-of-town candidates are cautioned to send their votes in ample time so that there may be no confusion when the judges start their count.

The votes that appear to your credit in the paper, plus total amount of reserves found in the ballot box will be your total vote. No matter how many votes you may have you will be given no credit for them unless they are found in the ballot box by the judges when the seal is broken.

SENATE IS BUSY ON IMMIGRATION QUOTAS

No Decision On Japan's Complaint

Washington, April 14.—On motion of Senator Lodge, republican leader, the Senate went into executive session to consider the Japanese exclusion provisions of the immigration bill.

Washington, April 14.—Senators spent so much time in controversy over the immigration quotas that they failed in conference to reach the Japanese features of the pending immigration legislation.

Senator Lodge announced that members of the conference were free to vote as they pleased on the exclusion amendments offered by Senator Shortridge, republican of California and which is similar to the provisions of the bill passed by the House Saturday.

While no formal announcement of the provisions of the amendment have been made it is understood that a quota of 1 percent has been recommended based on the 1910 census.

The existing law, which expires on next June 30, fixed the quota at 3 per cent, on the 1910 census and had no provision relating to Japanese immigration which for years has been regulated by the "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan. Secretary Hughes has urged that the American Government continue to recognize this agreement and the Japanese be placed on the same quota basis as the nationals of other countries.

While the Senate measure differs from the House bill in several particulars it also has the provision for overseas examination and there appears little prospect that the two Houses will be in disagreement on this feature of the legislation.

The chief difference between the House and the Senate bills is in the census basis for the quotas, the Senate measure proposing the 1910 census. There have been moves to substitute the date in the House bill and also the 1920 census with the quotas based on "origin of nationalities."

Land Fraud Evidence Stirs Texan Protest

Washington, April 14.—The investigation of charges of land frauds in the lower Rio Grande valley in Texas was resumed today by the special Senate committee with postoffice Inspector Williamson on the stand.

James R. Page, unofficial prosecutor read a letter from the Department of Agriculture in which it was said that the lands were not suitable for agricultural uses.

Page said the letter was in the files of Williamson but that Williamson had made no effort to check the statement made in the letter.

George A. Hill, attorney representing R. B. Greager, republican national committeeman said the letter brought a committee from Texas to protest that it did not represent true conditions in the valley.

PROVIDING A BALANCE WHEEL

On April 12th the Senate Agricultural Committee forwarded to the Senate with its approval the McNary-Haugen Bill which is of vital concern to every farmer and raiser of food products in the United States.

This bill creates two bodies—The Agriculture Export Commission and The Agricultural Corporation; with the Secretary of Agriculture as chairman and the Secretary of Commerce as Vice Chairman of both bodies while the Secretary of the Treasury is to be on the Commission.

The Commission, on figures secured from the Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of Labor is authorized to determine the relative pre-war value of the farmer's dollar on wheat, corn, cotton, wool, flour, cattle, sheep, hogs, and the products thereof as compared with the all-commodities dollar the latter, comprising 404 commodities of which the basic agricultural commodities are a part.

This ratio is established by averaging the ten-year period, 1905 to 1914, month by month, and the purpose of the act is to maintain this theoretical pre-war balance through purchases by the Corporation.

The Commission makes its finding and is authorized to report an emergency as existing to the President whenever the agricultural dollar is below the all-commodities dollar. On this finding the President declares an emergency to exist in respect to the specific commodity and the Corporation begins to function.

Whenever a commodity reaches or sells above the ratio price the Corporation is authorized, through the commission, to sell in the foreign or domestic market if it deems advisable, and thus dispose of the surplus it has absorbed in maintaining the unit price.

BILLS THAT SHOULD NOT PASS

The Howell-Barkley bills now before the national Congress, which would abolish the Railroad Labor Board and set up in its place national boards of adjustment, should not become laws.

The bills offer no promise of industrial peace except through arbitration, where both parties agree voluntarily and in advance to abide by the findings of the boards created by the proposed laws, and the findings of the boards or board are entered as a judgment of the United States District Court. To such conditions the railroads or their representatives are compelled to agree, while there is no such obligation placed upon labor unions or groups of employees.

Statutes such as those now proposed would undoubtedly cause discontent and would destroy the present status of railroad labor conditions now more stable and satisfactory than for a long time past. At present there is no question pending between employees and the railroads threatening widespread trouble. Such questions as may arise may readily be handled by the employees and railway managements.

The present inclination of railroad executives as has been shown is to increase the rates of pay, to employees. It may happen though that the public interest and the very life of the railroads would depend on a readjustment of pay downward. It is not conceivable that if such a time should arrive that railroad labor would agree to arbitrate the question.

The bills provide that the President shall appoint forty-five men in four national boards of adjustment. This will cost the taxpayers $340,000 annually, instead of $90,000, the cost of the present Railway Labor Board. At this time, when there is a universal demand for economy and tax reduction, it is certainly not good policy to set up an agency costing three times as much as the one now in existence.

It would be a very grave mistake to abandon the present board and set up a number of boards, constituted as the bills propose, of men employed in the operation and management of railroads and who in consequence can ill spare the time to be devoted to the determination of the questions to be presented to them.

And finally, and perhaps most important of all, the bills would be most effective in bringing about a closed shop on all of the railroads in the United States.

The bills should be defeated.

"BLOSSOM TIME"

In order to protect theatre patrons against extortionate prices or possible ticket fraud in connection with the forth-coming presentation of "Blossom Time" in this city, the Messrs. Shubert have issued from their New York office a warning to the effect that bands of unscrupulous ticket speculators, believed to have organized in New York and attracted by the tremendous success of "Blossom Time" wherever it is presented, are following the company into the various cities where the play is to be shown, for the purpose of purchasing large blocks of seats and reselling them to the public at greatly-increased prices.

"To prevent this nefarious traffic," the warning from the Shubert office reads, "theatre patrons are advised to purchase their tickets as far in advance as possible. Managers of theatres where 'Blossom Time' is to be presented have been instructed to limit the sale to six tickets to any one person. Do not under any circumstances purchase tickets from any person unknown to the purchaser."

In Atlanta, Ga., recently, where "Blossom Time" was presented for the third time, the speculators, baffled in their attempt to buy large blocks of seats, circulated a set of spurious tickets and many prospective patrons were swindled. Therefore, local theatregoers should observe extreme caution in making purchases of tickets for "Blossom Time" and under no consideration should they buy them other than from the box office.

Celebration Will Be Held at Teachers College May Day

The May Day celebration at East Carolina Teachers College, to be held under the direction of the Department of Physical Education, on May 12, will be the outstanding college event of the spring term. At the May Day festivities in the late afternoon there will be a demonstration of all the rhythmic activities in the class room during the year transferred to the out door setting of the front campus. The Queen of May to preside over these festivities will be the girl chosen by the vote of the students as the best all round girl in college. She will be crowned by a beautiful rhythmic pageant of the seasons will be presented, in President Wright, which representatives from all classes and children from the Model School will take part. The Queen will be elected some time this week. The events of the morning will be the culmination of college athletics for the year. A track meet will be held and the final games in the tournament is baseball, basket ball and tennis will be played. The awards for the championships will be made in the afternoon.

The first of the try out games in baseball on Saturday afternoon April 12 resulted in the First Year Normal class winning over the Freshmen with a score of 18 to 8. The second game on Tuesday afternoon, April 15, will be between the college and the normal school seniors.

The Y. W. C. A. which has in the past had charge of May Day, will give special assistance in carrying out the plans for the celebration. This is the first year of the Department of Physical Education in the college, hence it is the first time all physical activities and athletic events have been combined in one celebration.

"Let Me Say This to Mothers Who Force Castor Oil and Calomel on Their Children"

First of a Series of Three Interviews with W. L. Hand

"I live in Charlotte. I make Liv-o-Lax. It is used in nearly every home in Charlotte in place of calomel and castor oil. Charlotte women will tell you so, will tell you how glad they are to have Liv-o-Lax.

"In fact, the mothers of Charlotte were really responsible for the discovery of Liv-o-Lax.

"It happened this way — I was in the retail drug business for twenty-five years. Nearly every day, some woman would come into my store and say—'Haven't you some liquid remedy that I could give the children in place of calomel? I hate to give them calomel. I cannot get them to take castor oil and they cannot swallow a pill.'"

"A Real Discovery This set me to thinking and experimenting, but it was only after a long period of trying out number of prescriptions that looked good but always failed in some particular that I at last hit upon a mixture that does the work. I named it Liv-o-Lax because it serves a double purpose, relieving congested liver and constipation at the same time. It is easy to take and children like it. "For several years I made Liv-o-Lax just to fill the daily demands of my store and finally the reputation of Liv-o-Lax spread from Charlotte into surrounding towns and counties, I had to give up my drug store and go to manufacturing Liv-o-Lax in a large way.

What Every Mother Knows "That's the story of Liv-o-Lax, and I want you to try it, because I think you know that there is such a close and mysterious relation between biliousness, constipation, indigestion and colds that, like the hen and the egg, it is hard to tell sometimes which came first. You know a laxative is needed in all these conditions and yet the usual laxative fails, as a rule to

The Meaning of Pride in Appearance

New York, April 14.—American women are known the world over for their dress. Nowhere else have women been so quick to realize the importance of clothes, and, as a consequence, nowhere else have so many women been well-dressed.

With the American man, the case has been different. Franklin, in Revolutionary days, appeared before the courts of Europe clad in homespun. And until recent times the American generally has not usually given much attention to appearance. The same man who is proud of the appearance of his wife and daughter, who insists that they be well-dressed, has often himself been negligent. If his wife or daughter should make a public appearance badly dressed, he would regard it as casting discredit upon himself, but he has seldom given much thought to his own clothes, or considered that clothes might be taken as an index to his social standing.

This condition was perhaps natural in a new country. Life was hard and as a result men had little time to give to appearance. In the South men took pains to look their parts and to dress in accordance with their social standards, but this was a notable exception to the rest of the nation.

During recent years, however, there has been a decided change. As the nation has ceased to be a pioneering country, men have had more leisure and have realized the importance of proper dress. Not that clothes make the man, but they do give the first impression of a man. A well-dressed man gives an impression of care, of prosperity, and above all of a well-ordered existence. He has an air about him of being dependable, while a person badly dressed is justly suspected of being careless in other things also. To be sure, no man is admired for giving over-anxious attention to his clothes, but few today would argue that an ill-fitting suit was a help in business. For clothes are perhaps the most important single item in giving a good first impression.

This change may be summed up in a phrase: "Pride in Appearance." Men regard clothes today as something more than a necessity. They regard them as a source of constant pleasure and satisfaction and as a standard by which the world at large measures their social standing. Men have come to realize that they owe it to themselves, their families and their position to dress well.

This movement for better dress, the "Pride in Appearance" movement, is sweeping the country. It is evidenced by the attitude of men in buying clothes. In the past little attention was given to anything but whether a suit of clothes would wear. Today this is not enough. A man demands also that it be well-tailored, that it be well-cut. And he has discovered that correct, careful dress is not a matter of spending money, but of choosing clothes more carefully, and as a result he chooses his clothes with more care. In a word, he has come to know more about clothes and has become more discriminating.

The "Pride in Appearance" movement is also evidenced by the attitude taken by clothing manufacturers. Manufacturers who are quick to respond to public opinion, realize the importance of the movement and are paying more attention to the character of their product. As a result, better values are to be found in men's clothes today than have ever before been offered—values which make it possible for every man to be better dressed—to take "Pride in Appearance."

Yesterday's Services At St. Paul's Church

At St. Paul's church yesterday morning, a large congregation listened with interest to the Palm Sunday sermon preached by the rector, the Rev. James E. W. Cook, who took as his text, St. Matthew 21:10, "And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred, saying, Who is This?"

The preacher described the incidents of the last Sunday spent by our Lord among men as man with all the beautiful and dramatic setting of the Gospel narratives.

Applying the story to the present, Mr. Cook said in part: "And yet the question then is the question we hear on all sides today: 'Who is This?'"

"Well, first of all, He is 'the son of David,' a historical person. Our religion is not up in the air; it is founded upon a rock. You do not need to be afraid. This amazing thing has happened; God has spoken to our hearts in a real man, 'who wrought with human hands the creed of creeds in loveliness of perfect deeds.' This Jesus from Nazareth of Galilee is genuinely human, tenderest of friends, wisest of teachers, most glorious of martyrs, and the conqueror of sin and death.

But He is more. He is prophet and King. 'The offspring of David' is also 'the bright and morning star.' He is not only near us but far above us, too; not only human, but divine; not only brother, but Lord; 'the brightness of the Father's glory, and the express image of His Person.'

And He is the King of our souls. We bow before Him and worship Him because He gives us 'power to become the sons of God. The crowd of palm-bearers today shouting 'Hosanna!' will tomorrow cry 'Away with Him! Crucify Him!' but He does not lose faith in man. . . .

Surely we are saved—if saved at all—as much by His faith in us as by our faith in Him. He is the one royal and victorious spirit of all time, whose faith and vision are alone equal to our human need and aspiration. He has opened the Kingdom of heaven to all believers," and He has opened the kingdoms of earth to all His followers. On all sides today there is seen in Him the only solution of the tangled problem of life. He is the greatest certainty in this uncertain, changing world.

Let us open our hearts to His spiritual cleansing that we may become His holy temples. Then when the curious ask, "Who is this?" our reply will be in truth, "He is more than all the world to me. He is my teacher, my friend, my Redeemer, my life, my joy, my hope, my Lord and my God!"
