

Subject: Am I My Brother's Keeper?

HAM-RAMSAY ANNOUNCEMENTS TONIGHT.
7:30 p. m. "The Trial and Execution of Jesus Christ From A Legal Viewpoint"—One of the most unique, interesting, and helpful sermon-lectures the evangelist delivers. A special invitation is extended to the lawyers of the county to attend this service. The third week of the Ham-Ramsay

Evangelistic campaign here was inaugurated this morning with the largest morning attendance of the campaign, several stores being represented with 100 per cent attendance and with by far the majority of the business houses of the city represented by a majority of their employees. Mr. Ham spoke effectively this morning on the subject "Am I My Brother's Keeper and in setting forth the points of duty which the Christian owes to himself, his church, his community, and his God, Mr. Ham spoke without mincing his words and delivered himself of some plain-spoken facts regarding those who were derelict in their duty.

Reading his text, "Am I my brother's keeper," the evangelist said that was a question asked by a murderer; and whenever it is asked now it is prompted by a guilty conscience.

"Owing to the life and the teaching and the power of Jesus Christ, the world is answering this question in the affirmative all realms of human activity. If the railroad kills a man activity. If the railroad kills a man activity. If a merchant endangers the public health or the life of his fellow men by selling adulterated food or drugs, he is punished for it. You are not allowed to endanger your brother's health by spitting on the sidewalk, throwing garbage into the street or permitting disease breeding filth on your own premises. You are not permitted to endanger your brother's property by erecting a frame building within fire limits. If you leave an open ditch or obstruction in the street without a warning light, you must pay any damage resulting to your brother. For the same reason pest houses are maintained quarantine is established, the practice of medicine and the sale of drugs are regulated. And to protect your brother's morals and that of his children, picture shows and dance halls are regulated and censored. What a pity that the various types of moral leprosy are not absolutely prohibited instead of feebly regulated!

"Going back we find that even the stern, rigid old Mosaic law taught our duty to our brother very minutely. Deuteronomy declares we must not put a stumbling block in the way of the blind, and Paul gives this a spiritual blind. In other words you are held responsible for the right use of your influence. And the more influence you have, the more circumspect

Bureau of Mines Aiding in Hunt—No Hope of Any Living Still in the Mine

Wheeling, W. V., April 29.—The burnt and crushed bodies of 36 victims of the fire and explosion of yesterday in Benwood Mill mine of the Wheeling Steel corporation were recovered by rescue workers up to late this morning and search for the other miners continues under the direction of the government bureau of mines experts.

While the rescuers despair of reaching any of the imprisoned miners alive they lost no time last night in exploring the shafts and drifts as rapidly as entrance could be made through the fallen rock and earth that the explosion had brought down.

None of the bodies will be brought to the surface until the explorations have been completed.

Of the 36 bodies recovered, only three have been identified.

Another Columbus Discovers America

Wilmington, April 29.—"Columbus" Randolph Seymette, seasoned seaman of West Indies waters, and second cook on the Schooner Rosemary, discovered America for himself the first time, when the boat dropped anchor here to unload a cargo of salt. H. E. Taylor, friend of the captain, escorted the young sailor up town during the first evening of his arrival here. He reports that "Columbus" marveled much at the motion pictures, which he saw for the first time; but that he was mostly impressed with the revolving barber pole which was electrically lighted and operated.

The second cook was scrubbing the floor of the galley when he was asked how he liked America. He smiled broadly and intimated that he had "discovered" much.

Rocky Mount Provides Park for Its Negroes

Rocky Mount, April 29.—The purchase of seven acres of land, to be covered into a park for the negroes of this city, was authorized at the last of the board of aldermen. The purchase was authorized by the board at the request of a delegation of negro women club members that appeared before the board and explained the needs of the negroes of this city, of such a park, stating that the negroes of the city will erect a community house in the park and make other improvements.

A number of white women appeared with the delegation and requested that the board honor the request.

SHOALS LEASE KEY TO INDUSTRY OF WHOLE SOUTH

SHOULD BE VIEWED FROM SOCIAL VIEW
Gov. Pinchot Says Procedure More Important Than Individual Bid

Washington, April 29.—Gifford Pinchot, governor of Pennsylvania, today told the Senate Agriculture committee that Muscle Shoals is the key to the power situation in the southeastern part of the country and that it is the second largest power possibility in the United States.

"In my opinion Muscle Shoals should not be handled from a power standpoint but from a social viewpoint," the Governor said. "It seems to me the question is not so much the individual bid as the procedure we follow. We should know exactly what we want to accomplish. The Ford bid does not guarantee anything but that it will build up a great industrial center at this place."

"It will hamstring the south," he said, "as this water power composes the key to entire industrial and agricultural future of the entire coastal plain."

Stage Exciting Chase Thru Raleigh Streets

Raleigh, April 29.—Police of this city had fast chasing when they sought to capture what they thought was a whiskey car, said to have been driven by Freeman Brock of Durham.

The car was sighted on the east side of town and the chase led through the heavy traffic of the business district, where for the time it looked as though a wreck would be inevitable, and towards the fair grounds on the west side of the city.

When one of the officers fired at the tires of the fleeing car, the driver jumped from the car and made his escape. No whiskey was found in the car, but the police state that it was fitted for such transportation had had the odor of liquor about it.

Cecil-Vanderbilt Wedding Today

Jake Hamon's - Widow Ready to Testify.

MRS. GEORGIA H. ROHRER

Mrs. Georgia Hamon Rohrer, of Chicago, widow of the late Jake Hamon, former Republican leader in Oklahoma, is shown as she arrived in Washington to appear before the Wheeler-Brookhart Senate Committee investigating the naval oil leases.

"Who Called the Witness?"

QUARTER HOUR ON STAND BUT ASKED NO QUESTIONS

Washington, April 29.—While senators wrangled as to who was responsible for her being summoned before the committee inquiring into the origin of certain campaign funds in 1920, Mrs. Jake L. Hamon spent a fleeting quarter hour in the witness chair. She was not asked a single question and was excused while the senators continued their wrangle.

Mrs. Hamon is the widow of the well known Oklahoma oil man and politician whom it was said had contributed more than a million dollars to secure the nomination of Warren G. Harding.

Called from Chicago to testify, Mrs. Hamon was given time to go to Oklahoma to secure certain papers and data from the effects of her dead husband.

As she swept up to the stand today Mrs. Hamon created some excitement. She was dressed in flowing black and carried a lily in her hand. Another witness was testifying as to certain geological formations in the fields but was excused for a moment and Mrs. Hamon asked to take the stand.

Then began one of the bitterest controversies of the investigation.

Late Planting May Reduce Cotton Area

Raleigh, April 29.—The lateness of the planting may result in a much less increase in cotton acreage than most farmers had intended, according to Frank Parker, State Agricultural Statistician, in writing from western Piedmont counties where he is now on a tour of inspection.

"The farmers are realizing that small grains cannot be profitably grown in North Carolina. At the same time they are realizing that farm labor is difficult to get, and seldom pays for itself in growing the usual crops of this area. They are turning to farming that requires the least labor. This means hay and livestock. Soy beans are growing in favor both for the beans and for the hay."

Fruit Grower of Transylvania County Aided by Agricultural Extension Worker in Spraying his Apples

A fruit grower of Transylvania county aided by an agricultural extension worker in spraying his apples last season, sold his sprayed fruit for double the amount received for that which was unsprayed. It pays, he said.

In 1900 the value of manufactured products in North Carolina was 85 million dollars compared with 943 million in 1920.

John Francis Amherst Cecil, first secretary to the British Ambassador, resigned his connection with the British Diplomatic Service.

Asheville, April 29.—International interest was centered today on the marriage, at high noon of Miss Cornelia Vanderbilt to the Honorable John Francis Amherst Cecil, who, until his resignation just announced, was First Secretary to the British Ambassador at Washington.

Miss Vanderbilt was the youngest grandchild of William H. Vanderbilt and the only child of George W. Vanderbilt and a great grandchild of Commodore Vanderbilt.

On her mother's side she is descended from Peter Stuyvesant, the last Dutch governor of New York.

Her mother is one of the four daughters of the late D. Leroy Dresser, of Newport, R. I., one of the leading families of that state. Her sisters are the Viscountesses Roumieu d'Osnoy of Nice, France; Mrs. Geo. Greenville Merrill, wife of a prominent Episcopal minister; and Mrs. John Nicholas Brown.

While Mr. Cecil does not bring with him any title or great wealth, his family has been among the most prominent in England since the days of Queen Elizabeth. He is the third son of Lord William Cecil, Baroness Amherst of Hackney. Lord William Cecil is the third son of the Third Marquis of Exeter. The eldest brother of John Francis Cecil was William Cecil who was killed at the battle of the Marston in September 1541 and the second brother is Thomas Cecil who was wounded in the battle of the Somme with the Sixth Rifles. His youngest brother is Lieut-Commander Henry Cecil of the Royal British Navy.

The bridegroom was born June 30, 1890 and educated at Eton and New College, Oxford; in 1913 he joined the British diplomatic service and was first appointed as attaché at Cairo. He was transferred to Madrid in 1919 as second secretary under Sir Arthur Hardinge and later under Sir Esme Howard who was at one time British Ambassador to Spain. In 1921 he was promoted to first secretary at Prague and in 1923 became first secretary under Sir Auckland Geddes at Washington and he continues as first secretary under Sir Esme Howard who was recently transferred to Washington as head of the British Embassy. His family forms the Exeter branch of the famous English Cecils and he is distantly related to the Marquis of Salisbury and Lord Robert Cecil.

The ceremony was held in the picturesque church of All Souls, erected by her late father, the beautiful chancel of which was filled with lilies, dogwood blossoms and other white spring flowering shrubs gathered from the Biltmore estate.

Miss Vanderbilt made her way up the aisle alone preceded by her maid

SMOKESTACK AMONG OLD TOWERS ANGERS ROTHENBURG CITIZENS

Rothenburg, Bavaria.—Rothenburgers are up in arms because the town council has granted a factory the right to erect a smokestack 200 feet high in the center of this picture medieval city which is regarded as Germany's most perfectly preserved ancient town.

Hitherto there has not been a discordant note in this old walled city. It stands just as it was in the days when Tilly entered it during the Thirty Years' War, and is one of the most popular Bavarian centers for tourists.

Rothenburg stands on a high hill and the residents insist that the factory might much better be located in the valley beneath it, where the smokestack would not break the skyline of picturesque roofs and sombre towers.

WHY A MINORITY RULES

Whether it be city, county, state or federal—it's your Government, but—do YOU run it or do you, in company with from fifty to seventy per cent of the other citizens of North Carolina, sit back and let a minority run it for you?

And then kick at the way it's run and whine about your helplessness to correct matters? Government by blocs and groups are subjects of which publicists have been directing their attention in increasing numbers during the past year.

The result of this sort of government, as reflected in increased taxes and multiplications of public offices and employees, has been vividly portrayed. But, beyond quoting approximate and estimated figures, those engaged in the efforts to call public attention to the facts have not presented in detail the fundamental cause of the rise of minority power is governmental affairs.

As revealed by the census of 1920 there were in the forty-eight states of the Union a total of 51 million 128 thousand citizens, male and female, twenty-one and over. This is the maximum figure of the country's voting population. In 1920 only 26 million 657 thousand, or much less than half, participated in the presidential election.

The total of all the votes cast for senators and representatives in Congress in the election of November 1922 was only 20 million 579 thousand. In other words, in this last general election less than two out of five voters went to the polls.

North Carolina has a maximum voting population of one million 207 thousand, almost exactly divided between male and female voters. In 1920 538 thousand votes were cast for president (44.6 per cent) and in 1922 only 365 thousand (30.2 per cent) voted.

Thus, anything over 15 per cent of the total voting strength had the absolute say as to who was to represent the 100 per cent in the national legislative bodies. If the figures were carried down to the strictly local elections the percentage would be perhaps slightly higher but even then the government, whether Federal or township would be found to be in the hands of a woefully unrepresentative minority.

It is a legal requirement that all voters register to qualify as such. Registration books will be opened for this purpose Saturday, May 3 and kept open until sunset on Saturday, May 24.

If you haven't registered by that time you can't vote.

If any authority undertook to deprive you of the privilege of voting you would be "ready to fight and rarin' to go." Are you going to let indolence or indifference (or is it ignorance?) disenfranchise you this time and let the old "handful" select your rulers again?

How Thin People Obtain a Plump, Strong Robust Body

"Before I took Prunitone people used to call me 'skinny,' but now my name is changed. My whole body is stout. Have gained 15 pounds and am gaining yet. I look like a new man," declared F. P. Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa., who had just finished the Prunitone treatment.

Would you, too, like to quickly put from 10 to 20 lbs. of good solid, "stay-true" flesh, fat and muscular tissue between your skin and bones? Don't say it can't be done. Try Prunitone and prove what it can do for you. Greenville Drug Co. is selling a great deal of Prunitone, and it is giving universal satisfaction.

More than half a million thin men and women have gladly made this test and the Prunitone does succeed, does make thin folks, even where all else has failed, is best proved by the tremendous business we have done. No drastic diet, flesh creams, massage, oils or emulsions, but a simple, harmless remedy that is pleasant to take and effective in results.

Take Prunitone with your meals, and watch it work. This test will tell the story.

Where the worst looks like the best

It takes an expert to tell good oils from bad, but any layman can get the right oil if he asks for it by name and sees that he gets it. The name "Standard" Polarine is on every oil tank containing our products.

You can't tell much about lubricating oils by their appearance. They all look more or less alike. You can't judge viscosity and wearing quality by looks. The color is about as important as the cover of a book.

You can safeguard yourself by always asking for your oil by name. The good name of a good oil is your best guarantee of getting what you want. It insures uniform quality, too. A nameless oil may be anything. See the tank from which your oil is taken.

For your own sake and for the health of your hard-working engine—select a good oil and then always buy it by name.

If you had time to make exhaustive tests you would decide on "Standard" Polarine. It has been recognized as the standard among good oils for many years. It is better today than ever. "Standard" Polarine has a good name to live up to.

Junior-Senior Banquet.

The Country Club was a scene of loveliness on last Friday evening when the Junior class of Greenville High School entertained the Senior class and faculty at an elegant three-course dinner.

Tables, extending the length of the spacious club room, were made beautiful by large baskets of flowers and rabbits nests which formed the centerpieces. At each place were attractive Easter favors and a printed program for the evening.

On their arrival the guests were welcomed by members of the Junior class, and after a few moments of general conversation were asked to find their places at the table.

Luther Moore, on behalf of the Junior class welcomed the guests, after which all the Juniors joined in the welcoming with an appropriate song.

Much merriment was created by the "stunts" and songs between courses.

After the farewell songs Henry Fleming, president of the Senior class, expressed the appreciation of the guests in a few appropriate words.

The banquet indeed proved to be one of the most successful and enjoyable entertainments in the history of Greenville High School.

Horace L. Smith Is Presented Knife and Chain By S. S.

Mr. H. L. Smith who for the past three years has served most efficiently as Superintendent of the Memorial Baptist Church resigned Sunday morning.

Mr. Smith came to Greenville as secretary of the Pitt County Chamber of Commerce. Shortly after his arrival he affiliated himself with the Memorial Baptist Church and was elected superintendent of the Sunday school. He is a splendid teacher and served in the capacity of such when needed. He was always ready to be of service to his church and was deeply interested in those things which helped make a better church and Sunday school.

He will be greatly missed by every member of the Sunday school. In appreciation for his untiring services and his devotion to the church Dr. C. J. Ellen in behalf of the Sunday school presented him with a beautiful gold knife and chain.

Mr. Smith accepted the gift in a most appropriate manner expressing his pleasure of being superintendent of such a splendid Sunday School and assuring the members that his heart and thoughts would always be with them. He will leave Greenville in a few days to make his home in Ocala, Fla. The best wishes of the members of the Memorial Baptist Church will go with him.

TYPHOID FEVER.

It is time for each of us to begin thinking about the preventative treatment for typhoid fever. There is no need to recite the benefits to be derived from this protection. Already in this grand old county we, who can look back ten or more years, remember what a scourge it used to be. Can we afford to take a chance of its coming back as in the old days? Help to drive it entirely out by taking the serum, both old and young. See your doctor or get advice from the Health Department.

COLLEGE NEWS

A party of fifty from East Carolina Teachers College took a boat trip to Bath yesterday, under the management of the Senior class. They report a wonderful trip. A delightful surprise met them in Washington. A delegation composed of members of the woman's club, the Episcopal minister, the proprietor of the hotel, and others met them at the boat in Washington.

The brief stop they had planned there was prolonged to an hour or more of delightful sight-seeing and entertainment. On their return to the boat they found refreshments to prolong the entertainment during the remainder of the trip. In Bath they received the same hospitable treatment and they were treated royally.

Because of a delayed start and the stop in Washington they did not return until midnight just on the stroke of twelve. They had both dinner and supper on the boat.

of honor, Miss Rachel Strong, of Cleveland, and two small flower girls. Betrothal ceremony was performed by Rev. A. G. Bennett, rector of All Souls Episcopal church and the bride's uncle, Rev. George Greenville Morrill, of Stockbridge, Mass., solemnized the marriage with the full Episcopal service.

Right Reverend Junius M. Horney, of the Diocese of Western North Carolina pronounced the blessing.

Several of the younger diplomats from various embassies in Washington were among the ushers.

Nearly one thousand guests attended the reception at Biltmore House following the wedding.

Among other notables present were Lord William Cecil, father of the groom Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador to the United States, and Lady Howard; Count and Countess Shepyani, of the Hungarian Embassy; Mr. and Mrs. Naro of the Roumanian Embassy; Governor and Mrs. Cameron Morrison; and the Spanish Ambassador Riano and Senora Riano.

In keeping with the democratic spirit of Miss Vanderbilt and her mother, all of the children of the Biltmore public school, many of whom are those of families employed on the Vanderbilt estate and all the workmen on the estate, have been invited to the wedding at All Souls. As a tribute to Miss Vanderbilt it is stated that the Biltmore school will be given a half holiday Tuesday and all children there will form in two lines at the entrance of the church to shower flowers on the pathway of the bride as she enters the edifice.

The bridal couple will make an extensive tour abroad and will on their return make their home at Biltmore House.

 you should be in your conduct and the more careful you should be of your words; for you are your brother's keeper.

"I have seen one father weep over his idiot boy as he lamented that the child's idiocy was due to his own father's besotted drunkenness. I have seen another bathe with tears the little club feet of his boy, all distorted by into which the father had thrown him in a drunken rage. These fathers were guilty, of course; but the saloon keepers who debauched them and the people who licensed the saloons were partners in his guilt. They were their brother's keeper and had been false to that trust. And let me tell you the most awful hour of your existence will be when you face your own words and conduct in the day of judgment.

"You boast of your orphans homes, but it were better to go so just and careful as our brothers keepers that he should leave no orphans needing public charity. There is no guilt comparable to that of the government which licenses institutions to debauch and damn its own citizens."

The evangelist related many tragic incidents illustrating the dire consequences following the bad example of unfaithful church members, and others, showing the sad results of mere neglect of opportunities, and several of these drew tears to the eyes of most of the listeners. Then he thundered:

"The devil uses many of you professed church members as decoys to lead the young and inexperienced into his traps and snares.

"How many drunkards owe their downfall to the wine served by their own mothers? How many gamblers got their first fascination at the high social functions in their own mother's home, and often that mother a church member? I declare to you I have more patience with almost any social diversion than forty-two. It is an evidence of intellectual degeneracy.

"But you ask what shall we do for our recreations? Anything that doesn't injure your brother. You jerk up and fine negroes for shooting craps while the wife of the officer making the arrest is gambling in her parlor. Just as the dirty old blind tiger is not as alluring as the glittering saloon, neither is the gambling den so apt to lead the innocent astray as the gambling home.

"You would not be more shortsighted as well as coldhearted. Every person saved lessens the danger to your own children that much. The very person you might have saved and didn't may be the means of damning your boy.

"One of Moody's Sunday School teachers came to him one day and told him that physicians had ordered him to California for his health and said he probably would come back in a coffin. He was overwhelmed with the fact he had for four years taught a class of girls now in their teens, and had not led one of them to Christ because he had not tried. He feared to meet them at the judgment. Moody ordered a carriage, and for four days he and the teacher visited those girls one at a time and led every one of them to Christ, and those 113 girls soon grew to womanhood and became the mothers of the Moody church. This shows the potentiality in a single Christian life actively used, and the sin of neglecting to use it."

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, La., April 23.
 R. J. McCarley & Co.,
 Greenville, N. C.

The continuance of unsettled weather in the interior, especially in the western half of the belt, where showers were numerous, heavy rains in localities, particularly in Oklahoma, occasioned a steadier and somewhat higher market today.

 Additional May notices for about 15,000 bales were issued in New York this morning, but were without effect on values as it is reported that exporters accepted the tenders on which the cotton will be delivered. Rumor has it that a large exporting firm sold considerable cotton out of New York stock to Russia.
 Except for Oklaho and West Texas, where generally fair weather is predicted, the weather outlook in the interior remains unsatisfactory, with the probability of more rain for the central and eastern half of the belt, perhaps for the eastern portion of the western district.
 As yet the northern cotton goods markets remain quiet with no prospect for improvement in the demand in the immediate future. On the other hand, Manchester reports yarns firm and a good demand for cloth for India.
 Exports from New York today were 9,000 bales, with prospects of further shipments in the near future.
 Compared with last season exports from the United States today were 21,000 bales against 11,000 thus far this week 45,000 against 20,000; since August first 4,856,000 against 4,090,000.
 Indications are for the continuance of free exports from America, as the demand seems general from all cotton consuming countries of the world due, perhaps, to the scarcity of raw cotton abroad.
 There are unconfirmed rumors to effect that the Federal reserve board is considering the advisability of reducing the rediscount rate in the New York district.

 Some realizing was in evidence this afternoon, attributed to expectations for a favorable weekly weather and crop government report tomorrow morning, as private advices claim that the recent rains in the southwest especially in Texas were very beneficial. It is doubtful, however, if the review will be as favorable as general, looked for since there were numerous heavy to excessive rains west of the Mississippi, and more rain in other sections of the belt.

That periodic touch of biliousness.
 —W. L. Hand.
 Mothers, what would you give to feel easy when your little one begins to show signs of biliousness? It is customary to think that you ought to use calomel and castor oil, but you dread giving these doses as much as the child fears to take them. And still, you dread what may happen if you use just the ordinary children's laxative.
 It was to meet this very situation that I invented Liv-o-lax, and if you try it once, you won't think of using calomel again.
 Liv-o-lax cleanses liver and bowels too, and still it is a pleasant-tasting liquid, entirely vegetable, which causes no distress, serves equally well in colds, constipation and indigestion and is just as good for adults as it is for the children—who really love to take it.
