Impressive Service At the Tabernacle Here Last Night

The Ham-Bassy revival services which are in progress in the brick tabernacle, on Dickinson avenue were, in spite of the inclement weather on yesterday largely attended and much interest was manifested.

On Saturday night Mr. Ham preached a splendid sermon on the subject, "The Days of Noah." His subject last night was "The Tests of Faith." It was a deeply impressive service in which several testimonies were given.

The service tomorrow will be conducted as usual, afternoon and evening.

"Second Coming of Christ." This was the subject of the Sunday afternoon sermon, and the text was Hebrews 9:27-28. "And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment; so Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for Him shall He appear the second time without sin unto salvation."

At His first coming Christ was not recognized by the very people who were looking for Him and expecting Him. Yet He literally fulfilled every prophecy contained in their own scriptures as to the Messiah, even to the statement of Daniel that He should be crucified 483 years after the return from Babylonian captivity.

And though the prophecies as to His second coming are more definite than those as to His first coming, we today face the same danger of blindness.

When shall He come, I know not. The only safe rule is to be ready at all times. In a parable He said "After a long time the Lord of the house came to reckon with them." The most important event in all Israel's history was the first coming of Christ. All prophecy, all sacrifices, all Jewish ritual, all symbols, pointed to this supreme event. And what Christ's first coming was to Israel, His second coming is to us. One of every twenty-five verses in the New Testament is devoted to the second coming of Christ. It is mentioned 318 times in the New Testament alone, and but one other subject is mentioned oftener; blood redemption being mentioned 400 times.

It is a purifying hope. We are exhorted to be watchful, because our Lord is coming. For the same reason we are exhorted to sobriety, to repentance, to fidelity, to patience, to sincerity, to obedience, to purity to brotherly love, to holy conversation, to mortify the flesh and warned against worldliness. How would you like to have Him come and catch you dancing or playing bridge or at a picture show?

The devil's first attack was on the cross, and his second on the second coming of Christ. Israel recognized Him at His first coming because through their elders and teachers they were misled. We have today teachers and theologians who are misleading us as to His second coming.

One who questions the doctrine of baptism is considered a heretic; but anybody can question the second coming. Yet baptism is mentioned but 28 times in the New Testament, and the second coming 318 times! In the book of First Thessalonians every chapter ends with a statement of His second coming.

Errors Cleared Away. Some have confused the second coming with death; but Heb. 9:27-28 is the only place where death is mentioned in this connection.

Others have confused the second coming with the destruction of Jerusalem; but Jerusalem was destroyed before many of these prophecies as to the second coming were uttered.

Others still confuse it with the coming of His Holy Spirit; but nearly all of these prophecies of the second coming were uttered after the advent of the Holy Spirit. Besides, the angel at His ascension said He would come "in like manner as ye have seen Him go into the heavens." How was that? In the body, with the rent in His side and the nail prints in His hands and feet.

Another common error is that all the world is to be converted before He comes. There isn't a line in the Bible promising any such thing. God is now "visiting the Gentile nations to take out of them a people for His" (Continued on page 6)

The coroner was called and a verdict of suicide was given.

Something suddenly struck his radiator, he states and he stopped to discover that a man had been hit. H. W. Starkhoff, negro is being held as a witness.

ARMY FLIERS SAFE AFTER MISSING FOR NEARLY 2 WEEKS

Escape From Wrecked Plane and Reach Port After 11 Days in the Wilderness

Washington, May 12.—Major Frederick L. Martin and his mechanic Sergeant Alva L. Harvey will be ordered to Washington direct from Port Moller, Alaska, where they arrived safely after their airplane was wrecked and they were missing in the wilds of Alaska for eleven days.

Meanwhile the three other planes will continue their way around the world in command of Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, senior officer in the absence of Major Martin.

It is the plan of the air service also to permit Major Martin to keep his designation as commanding officer of the light and Lt. Smith's title will be acting officer in charge.

With the approval of Secretary Weeks Major General Patrick, Chief of Air Service, today sent Major Martin a message outlining the plan of the department and ordering him and Sergeant Harvey to return to Washington immediately to make ready for it.

"We rejoice" the telegram said, "and thank God you are both safe and well. Our confidence in you is unabated. You have proved yourself. Still want you to command flight. Cannot arrange for you to overtake others by going on west. You and Harvey report to me here without delay. Plan to send you east to rejoin flight at first convenient place and complete rest of journey in command."

False Pass, Alaska, May 12.—Major Frederick L. Martin world flight commander, whose plane was smashed against a mountain on the Alaskan peninsula, April 30, intends to leave Port Moller tomorrow for the United States.

Word came from Port Moller that Major Martin and Staff Sergeant Alva L. Harvey would be aboard the cannery tender Catherine D., of the Pacific American Fisheries, of Bellingham, Washington. The Catherine D. was to leave Port Moller tomorrow for Pudget Sound.

Cordova, Alaska, May 12.—Miraculously escaping death after crashing against a mountain peak in a fog and completely wrecking the former flag plane Seattle, one of four United States Army globe encircling air cruisers, Major Frederick L. Martin and his mechanic, Staff Sergeant Alva L. Harvey, were safe last night at Port Moller, 100 miles west of Chignik, Alaska, on the Alaska peninsula, according to a wireless message received here from that point via St. Paul Island.

The two American aviators who escaped unhurt from their splintered plane on the mountain-side, were forced down one hour and a half after leaving Chignik for Dutch Harbor, Nlaska Island, shortly before noon, April 30. They rescued a few of their records and food rations from the debris and started on a long tramp down the mountainside toward the North Pacific ocean shore line.

After many hardships, they reached a trapper's cabin, on the southern tip of Port Moller Bay, last Wednesday morning, and found food and a warm place to sleep. They were utterly exhausted after a seven-day tramp under severe weather conditions and rested two days in the cabin. Saturday the fliers walked to the beach and early yesterday flashed the first message of their safety to the world, after being reported missing ten days.

Only "nerve and concentrated food rations" saved their lives, said the brief message from Port Moller. The radio note stated they would remain at Port Moller until receipt of further orders from Washington.

UNUSUAL USE FOR HIDES

Cecilville, Cal., May 12.—Farmers in Siskiyou county, northern California, are making unusual use of cattle hides because of the low prices offered. The hides are cut into small pieces and planted as fertilizer in ground prepared for melons, squashes and other garden plants known as "rank feeders." Crops grown from hide-fertilized land are said to be of excellent quality.

ESCAPED CONVICTS ARE STILL AT LARGE

Reports of Additional Hold-Up By Desperadoes Who Escaped Saturday

Raleigh, May 12.—Otto Wood and J. H. Starnes, who made their sensational escape from the state penitentiary here Saturday after overpowering an overseer and forcing him at the point of a revolver to accompany them out of the grounds surrounding the institution, are still at large today according to announcement by Warden S. J. Bugbee.

The two desperadoes early Sunday morning held up Mark D. Cline near Durham and took possession of his automobile and forced him to accompany them to a spot near Greensboro where after robbing him of money and other valuables they tied him to a tree and fired several shots at him. Cline has a slight scalp wound which he said was caused by one of the bullets fired at him.

Craven Farmer, 83, Is Good Marksman

New Bern, May 12.—B. F. Cotter, 83 years old resident of Grantsboro, a town near this city, has set, what is thought to be a record in marksmanship for young men as well as old. He was attracted the other day by a disturbance in his chicken yard and found that a hawk was attempting to get his fowls. He ran into the house, so the story was related, and secured his gun and returned to the scene in time to shoot the hawk while it was flying at a distance of 75 yards. Mr. Cotter, it is said, is a very active man and still does his own farming as well as participating in the affairs of his community.

Claims Early Balloting Will Give Mcadoo Almost Required Two Third Vote

Nashville, Tenn., May 12.—David L. Rockwell, Chicago, manager of William G. Mcadoo's presidential campaign today issued a tabulated statement of 648 1-2 votes that Mcadoo would receive in the early balloting in the New York convention or within 85 votes of the two thirds required to win he pointed out.

Thirty-three states and territories with 920 convention votes have already expressed their preference, said Rockwell. In these the states Mcadoo has won or divided delegations in 27 losing six completely to his opponents as "native sons" in most cases. The states actually gave Mcadoo 436 1-2 delegates against the combined opposition headed by Gov. Al Smith of New York with slightly over 125 votes including New York's 90. 17 remaining states and territories are known to be favorable to Mcadoo. These states total 180 votes which added to the 436 1-2 already won increase the

Patomac River on Rampage; Inhabitants Flee From Homes

CUMBERLAND, Md., May 12.—For the second time in less than two months flood waters are lapping at and menacing the heart of the Cumberland district.

Wills creek has taken its course through the down town section and water in Mechanic street, the main business thoroughfare, has reached a depth of from 16 to 18 inches. Throughout the night merchants worked unceasingly to move their stocks to the second floors of the buildings.

The Potomac and its tributaries reached a flood state early today at Patza and Piedmont, West Virginia and the inhabitants are fleeing from their homes. In Piedmont about midnight a general fire alarm was sounded warning the residents of the impending danger.

In Cumberland early today the water was rising at the rate of about eight inches per hour. No loss of life has been reported.

STEAMER AGROUND OFF ENGLISH COAST

Deal, England, May 12.—A big steamship whose name and nationality could not be determined because of the heavy fog is aground on the famous Goodwin Sands, the most dangerous point on the coast.

Keen anxiety is felt and it is feared that the vessel is possibly a passenger liner numbers of which pass the Goodwin Sands daily. Other boats and tugs are running to the aid of the steamer from all ports in the vicinity. No wireless call has been received from the vessel.

London, May 12.—A message from Deal this afternoon says that the steamer ashore on Goodwin Sands is a large cargo and not a liner. The vessel is high and dry.

POINCARÉ REGIME LOSES ELECTION

Paris, May 12.—Nearly complete returns compiled today of the French elections held yesterday decided a considerable change in the domestic policies and the handling of foreign affairs.

The Poincaré Chamber of Deputies was almost swept away in the violent swing of the political pendulum toward the left and the Bloc National which formed the nucleus of that majority was reduced to second rank in the party groups.

At the Ministry of the Interior, well-informed observers were dumbfounded, first over the unanticipated swing to the Left; second by the large percentage of votes cast, and third, by the unwonted discipline the French voters displayed in voting straight tickets instead of splitting them and exercising their traditional independence.

Official figures showed the seats to be divided as follows opposition 341, Poincaré parties 227. Opposition majority 114. The government claims that 49 out of the 186 radicals elected will vote with the government in matters of its foreign policies but even with this correction, however, the government will still remain in the minority.

LANGLEY TRIAL MAY GO TO JURY THIS AFTERNOON

Convington, Ky., May 12.—On motion of the defense the case of Congressman John W. Langley accused of conspiracy to defraud in connection removal of certain liquors from warehouses, was temporarily re-opened when court convened this morning and Langley was recalled to the stand. District Attorney Smith then requested permission to call to the stand Federal Prohibition Director Collins in rebuttal of Langley's testimony Judge Cochran granted the request.

Langley read some telegrams sent to and received from Collins during the latter part of 1921. The evidence tended to show the friendly relations between Langley and Collins after the reported break over some liquor permits. Collins said that the telegrams might have been sent and received but that at this time he could not recall same.

The case was then closed and argument resumed.

Wilmington Boasts Tallest Hotel Clerk

Wilmington, May 12.—It is the proud boast of this city that within its gates resides and works the tallest hotel clerk known to be in existence. He is G. H. Jones at one of the local hotels frequented by traveling men. It is said that he is as long on good humor as he is long on height and that he is not at all sensitive when joked about his personal altitude but that he always has a broad smile for everyone. When asked how far it is from the floor to his head, he replies cheerfully that it is only 6 feet 10 inches.

Wills-Maddon Bout Is Postponed to Friday

New York, May 12.—The 15 round bout between Harry Wills, negro challenger for the heavy weight boxing championship now held by Jack Dempsey, and Bartley Maddon, veteran Irishman, scheduled for tonight at Queensboro Stadium has been postponed until Friday night on account of the heavy rains.

Big Snake Visits City of New Bern

New Bern, May 12.—A snake approximately four feet in length and four inches in diameter created much excitement here when it started to make its course down South Front. Women and children ran in different directions and not a few men were uneasy until the snake was killed by a sea captain and two citizens. It is believed that the snake had crawled up from the Neuse river in search of land food.

DEMOCRATIC TAX BILL ADOPTED BY SENATE SATURDAY

Simons' Income Rate Schedule Stands Up Against All Attacks

Washington, May 12.—Stripped almost of every vestige of the Mellon plan and clothed in the Democratic program, the tax reduction bill was passed late Saturday by the Senate, 69 to 15.

As a result it goes to conference for adjustment of differences with the House with its life at stake. Republican organization leaders in the Senate frankly admitted they would recommend veto of the measure by President Coolidge, if it was not transformed by the conference.

The President had asked Congress for the Mellon plan. Although his views were not made known on the bill passed by the House, which carried only the remnants of the Mellon scheme, he has voiced specific opposition to some of the provisions inserted in the Senate.

The Senate bill goes practically as far in general tax revision as that passed by the House.

It provides generally for: A 25 per cent reduction in income taxes payable this year.

Repeat or reduction of most of the special exercise and miscellaneous A 50 per cent permanent cut in the taxes on incomes below $8,000 and a general reduction in the taxes on higher incomes. The maximum surtax rate would be cut from 50 to 40 per cent.

A 25 per cent reduction on earned incomes up to $10,000.

Administration leaders opened their attack on the bill today just before passage, and 15 Republicans voted against it, while three others were paired against it.

Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee declared the Senate modeling the bill had cut taxes by $111,150,800 beyond the reductions recommended by the committee, and that as a result "instead of $50,000,000 Treasury deficit next year under its operation the government faces a $161,000,000 deficit which will be increased to $475,000,000 if the pending extra appropriation bills become effective."

Senator Moses, New Hampshire, and Brandegee, Connecticut, Republicans, served notice that "in view of the total destruction of the Mellon plan" they would not support the measure finally unless it was transferred in conference.

The measure probably will not be taken up by the Senate and House conferees for final adjustment of differences before Tuesday and Chairman Smoot expects it to take two weeks to reach a settlement.

State Students Celebrate Victory

Raleigh, May 12.—Students of North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering staged jubilee parade here and visited all the girls' colleges in the city when they won a baseball victory over Trinity College by a score of 6 to 2. After making the rounds of the schools and covering main streets of the city, they gathered on the Capitol Square where they burned a coffin supposed to contain the effigy of the remains of their opponent's baseball team. The students then "rushed" the doors of a local theater and it was estimated that there were more 400 free seats in the house that night.

60 CITY EMPLOYEES EMBARK ON CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE EARWIGS

Portland, Ore., May 12.—The European earwig, a destructive insect somewhat resembling a cockroach, which not only eats vegetation but causes much damage to carpets and textiles in the home, is being fought by the city of Portland.

A bureau of earwig control, in charge of a director and with about 60 employees, is planning a vigorous offensive against the pest. Poison is to be the principal weapon. Officials also are considering importation of a fly from England which is said to have been effective in destroying the insect.

MARKED IMPROVEMENT

If those, who a year ago visited Cherry Hill Cemetery, would pay a visit there now they would marvel at the great transformation of what was a wilderness of weeds and rubbish to a place of beauty.

There was a time when it became our duty to call attention to the terrible condition of our cemetery but late last year through the efforts of local civic organizations a movement was put through and on January 1 such employment was made.

The cemetery is at this time in a better state of upkeep than it has been for several years and the cemetery manager and those responsible for his being hired there are to be congratulated on this great improvement.

THE MIDDLE COURSE

It is unfortunate that the modern municipality cannot simultaneously lower its taxes and increase its public improvements. To wish for as much is no less futile than the search for the fountain of eternal youth.

Many communities try to evade the issue but all eventually must choose low taxes or public improvements, or compromise. It is notable that those towns and cities which boast of low tax rates cannot boast of their public improvements because they have none of the latter.

It therefore becomes evident that the communities which steer a middle course are rich in good common sense. With some forbearance there is no municipality which cannot eventually supply all its improvements requirements and at the same time enjoy favorable taxation.

infancy and now find their improvement needs limited to maintenance, renewal or extension. The problem of municipal improvement is not one for the citizens or the public officials but for both. The importance of the question deserves the co-operation of all interested and all departments of community life.

FAST

A popular subject of conversation today is the speed at which man is living. It is often said, and truthfully that human beings live more in 40 years now than in 80 years three decades ago.

There are many reasons to believe that the energetic men and women of today accomplish as much in a day as their grandparents did in a week. A score and 10 years ago men and women (few women) went out into the world earlier and attained financial or professional success later than the modern worker.

There was a time when the sailing craft, pony express and overland stage met all ordinary requirements for speed and haste. Then the steamboat and 15-miles-per-hour steam railroad came into being to expedite human intercourse.

But still modernity craves for speed and more speed. Captains of industry and the public cry for faster production, shippers demand more rapid transportation, messages are not delivered quickly enough, our automobiles are too slow.

There is no such thing as satisfying human wishes, especially the wish for faster living.

Next to money the hardest thing to keep is a secret.

The cost of living doesn't seem to have much effect on its popularity.

You don't have to be liberal to give yourself away.

It will soon be hot enough to forget congress and "cure" the weather.

The reason ideas get into some heads slowly is because they have to wedge themselves in between prejudices.

Soft collars are doomed, but don't throw them away. A little starch will make them just as uncomfortable as any.

Jazz is popular because they can play the same piece over and you don't recognize it.

BRITISH ATHLETES BEGIN THEIR TRYOUT FOR OLYMPIC GAMES

London, May.—Six training grounds for athletes ambitious to participate in the Olympic Games have been established in England. North of the Tweed, the Scots have put all their football fields at the disposal of Olympic aspirants. The British Olympic Association, with $150,000 in its purse, has provided trainers and coaches for promising youths anxious to make the trip to Paris.

Within a few weeks a long series of elimination matches will begin to weed out the mediocre and find out the real talent in the hundreds of ambitious lads who want to show their stuff at Colombes Stadium in July. First there will be county matches, then district meets, and finally, on June 20-21, the national championships at Stamford Bridge, near London. After this meeting the British team for sports under the control of the Amateur Athletic Association will be selected.

Meanwhile governing bodies in other fields of sport, swimming, boxing, fencing, rowing and so on, are eagerly watching the efforts of would-be heroes and heroines of the Olympics. Nothing startling in the nature of speed or strength has yet been reported among the British aspirants, but the weather has been so wet and wintry that no one has expected any record-breaking. The British are particularly hopeful of success in the long distance runs, some of the shorter track events, and in swimming, though, in the water sports, there is some doubt of equaling the experts from America.

MAINE PLANS MEMORIAL TO INTREPID LUMBERJACK

Bangor, Me.—The spirit of the old-time Maine lumberman who guided the great log junks down the rushing rivers is to be perpetuated in bronze. On the base of a fountain to be erected near the Bangor public library as a memorial to the late Colonel Luther H. Pierce of Chicago, a former Bangor resident, will be placed a great bronze relief depicting three river drivers engaged in the perilous task of breaking out the log jam of a jam to release the millions of logs behind. Colonel Pierce provided for the fountain in his will. The memorial commission has accepted a design submitted by Charles E. Tefft of New York, a native of Bangor. The sculptor obtained much of his information and inspiration for the design from Patrick Conners of this city, now 84 years of age, the last survivor of four brothers who for many years piloted log drives down the Penobscot.

JAPANESE FARMERS OBJECTED TO RECONSTRUCTION OF TOKIO

Tokio.—Rural voters in Japan are five times as numerous as those from the cities, according to figures published by the Home Office in anticipation of the general elections for the House of Representatives which were held May 10. These figures furnish the most convincing explanation of the legislature's opposition to large-scale plans for the reconstruction of Tokio after the earthquake. The extraordinary session of the Diet which sat last December made impossible any plans which exceeded the barest necessities of reconstruction. The fact that five-sixths of the representatives were returned by country voters, who do not want the capital rebuilt at the expense of the rural districts, explains the Diet's opposition to the ambitious plans presented to it by Viscount Goto then the Home Minister and president of the reconstruction board.

ENGLAND BLAMED FOR ILLICIT LIQUOR TRADE TO AMERICA NOW

Belfast.—Ister's acting premier, Hugh McDowell Pollock, speaking here recently advised his hearers when they heard adverse reports regarding American prohibition not to believe them. Although the law was, Mr. Pollock added thanks to Great Britain, notoriously broken along the Atlantic coast, little was being said of the hinterland, of that vast country where a great reformation had taken place and a great revolution, not only for that country but for the whole world, had occurred. He thought Britain had every reason to be ashamed of that illicit trade which was encouraging and American law breaking. It was a stain on her fair name and, he concluded, she would suffer for it.

Pistols Flash in Belgrade When Lawmakers Meet

Belgrade, Yugoslavia.—The good, old lively days of the Austrian reichsrath, when visitors in Vienna regarded the halls of parliament more as an arena for the staging of personal encounters than as a seat of lawmaking, were recalled by a recent free-for-all fight in the Yugoslavian chamber. Revolvers barked during the row, and four men were wounded before the speaker could clear the house.

Mr. Agatanovitch, a former instructor in a gymnasium, today a Democratic deputy, was the provocative agent. Large of frame and possessed of a stentorian voice, by his frequent interruptions he was making impossible the transaction of business.

Deputy Stretkovitch protested, and without saying a word Agatanovitch seized a chair and knocked Stretkovitch senseless.

The chamber immediately was in an uproar, and the session degenerated into a battle of fistieuffs. The fighting was stopped only by the intervention of a flying wedge of deputies composed of men who showed their readiness to fight for peace.

Waiters Go to Continent to Learn Art of Serving

London.—English waiters are beginning to imitate the pre-war custom of their continental colleagues in going abroad for a year or so to acquire the finesse of the profession. There they learn foreign languages, become attentive and, most of all, they acquire the "food sense."

In the old days waiters in high class continental establishments were required to put in a year each in England, France and Italy to learn not only the language, but the eating peculiarities of the different countries.

English waiters now go abroad in droves every year, says the secretary of the London Country Council School for Waiters. Every year the London hotel and restaurant proprietors are exacting more from their waiters which is all against the Englishman, for the foreigner knows far more about food and service than those who lack continental experience. In fact, a survey shows that the whole area of the restaurant in the British metropolis is in the hands of Frenchmen and Italians.

The chief cause of the discontent among English waiters, however, is the rank they are given when the pay and tips are in question. Foreign waiters in London earn from $10 to $20 a week exclusive of their tips, while the home-trained English waiter has to be content with about two-thirds of that amount.

The bore patriotically inclined of the proprietors are advancing money to their employes to allow them to obtain continental experience, which places them at least on a parity with their rivals.

Troubles in Irish Army May React in Politics

Dublin.—The trouble in the Free State army may yet have important political repercussions. The dissatisfaction caused by the demobilization of some 45,000 men was acute. There was already much unemployment, and these men and officers, nearly all of them young, and nearly all of them without record of any civil employment, embarrassed the labor market.

But the remaining army of 18,000 is fairly solid behind the Free State government, and neither soldiers nor civilians took seriously the charge of the recalcitrant officers that the government was constraining the treaty in a too English sense. Even among the Republican party the suggestion of an army revolt in defence of Republican principles awakened no sympathy. Instead of welcoming the revolting officers as converts Mary McSwiney and other Republican leaders repudiated them, and Sean MacEntee, the Republican candidate for Dublin county, said if these Free State army men wanted to mutiny they should have done it when Liam Mellows and his comrades were shot and not waited to do so till their jobs were in danger.

Germany Leads in New Books

Berne.—Germany produced more new books in 1922 than any other country, according to the international statistics of mental work prepared by Swiss statisticians. Germany brought out 35,850 new editions, Great Britain 10,642, France 9,432 and the United States 8,628.

Lifelines to Have Radio

Bremen.—Lifelines of the new German liner Columbus are to be equipped with radio. The power will come from motors carried on board, and the wave length will be from 300 to 600 meters. The Columbus will run between Bremen and New York.

BOOTLEGGERS' ESCAPE IN SMOKE SCREEN.

Congressman H. R. Rathbone, of Illinois, has introduced a bill to prevent the use of smoke screens on automobiles. A demonstration was held at the Capitol in Washington before members of the committee and police officials, at which Captain Sandford, of the Police Department, exhibited a car captured from bootleggers, who had equipped it with a smoke screen apparatus to cover their escape.

Seeks Second Divorce at Seventeen.

Helen Hamburg, a Detroit girl, is only 17 years old. She got a divorce from her first husband, Louis Van Hofman, some time ago, saying she realized both were too young to marry, and charging non-support. She was 16 then. Six months ago she married John Hamburg, 31, from whom she now asks a divorce, charging desertion and non-support.

'Td Make Best Ruler,' Says Hudson Maxim.

Hudson Maxim, famous inventor, of New York, naively admits he'd make the best President "that could be soared up in the country," but if there is a possibility that he won't be called he would have a committee of experts examine all candidates, the candidate passing with the highest average to be President and the second to be Vice-President, with members of the Cabinet selected in the same manner. Then he'd repeal the prohibition amendment.

Ireland to Name Envoy to U.S.

Dr. George K. Nielson, chiropractor, of Newark, N. J., was found in his home there with his head crushed in with a hammer. John Vulliamy, a boarder in his home, was arrested. Only the day before the assault Nielson had declared he was "the happiest man in the world" when his baby was photographed for the newspapers as "the perfect baby of a perfect union." No reason for the assault was known.

CARDINAL MUNDELEIN BACK IN AMERICA.

De Valera Will Soon Regain Freedom.

According to authoritative cables from Dublin, the Irish Free State Government is soon to release Eamon de Valera, Republican leader, who has been interned for about a year. Other interned Republicans will be set free at the same time.

Vauclain Will Assist Mexican Railroads.

Samuel M. Vauclain, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, is on his way to confer with President Oregon in Mexico City regarding the financing of equipment for the National Railways. It is said $5,000,000 will be required to restore the road and equipment to normal.

'Happiest Man' Victim of Hammer Assassin.

John Vulliamy, a boarder in his home, was arrested. Only the day before the assault Nielson had declared he was "the happiest man in the world" when his baby was photographed for the newspapers as "the perfect baby of a perfect union." No reason for the assault was known.

Speaker Gillett Is in Senate Race.

Following the refusal of Governor Cox, of Massachusetts, to enter the Senatorial race, Congressman Frederick H. Gillett, Speaker of the House of Representatives, has announced that he is a candidate against Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat. Mr. Gillett has represented the Second Massachusetts Congressional District since 1893, his 16 consecutive terms constituting a record of unbroken service not equaled by any other Congressman now in office.

"400" Takes To Veil

Such fashion leaders as Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte and her pretty daughter, Blanche Streibigh, and Mrs. de l'Albe Munds are devotees of this last touch to the habiliments of the smart gentleman.

The subtle and mysterious feminine lure which used to pervade Fifth Avenue before the days of blatant cosmetics and cloche hats has been observed again this spring.

Above are sketches by van Dinter for fashionable women have turned to that most alluring feminine accessory—the veil.

Simple Safety Precautions Aid In Reducing Heavy Death Toll Of Accidents in the Household

"Home is where the heart is," but incidentally it is where the head, arms, legs, fingers and eyes are too. And where there are heads, arms, eyes, legs and other bodily members there are bound to be accidents. The factory has its safety-first campaign. The street has its traffic policemen and its crusades against jay walking, but home takes accidents pretty much as they come. And they do come! Dr. Louis I. Dublin, statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, in a study of death claims for one year found that practically one fatal accident in every six annual deaths is classified as a domestic fatality. Home perils are falls, cuts, burns and accidental poisoning. Falls occur because something has been put where it has no business to be. If brooms, nails, coal scuttles and everything else are kept where they belong no one will fall over them. It is easier to be orderly than to pay doctor's bills. Rugs on slippery floors, loose carpets, grates or cukes of soap on the floor add to the danger. Insecure step-ladders and chairs or boxes used as step-ladder substitutes are also hazards. Tacks or broken glass should always be swept up. Care in opening bottles and cans will save many a cut. Sharp tools should be kept locked up, away from children. Button hooks, umbrellas, sharp sticks, tin swords, pencils, pens, pins and hair pins are dangerous playthings. Children should not play with matches or take pots or pans containing boiling water from the stove. Flannellette is dangerous for night dresses, as its soft fuzz catches fire very easily. Cleaning gloves with gasoline, hanging clothes before a fire to dry, putting a lighted lamp under a shelf, have caused many fires. Poisons should always be kept under lock and key, each bottle or box properly labelled, and the bottle corks so deeply identified that the poison may be detected even in the dark. Never give or take medicine without first reading the label. It is better to be safe than sorry. Knowledge of first aid principles is valuable to the housewife as well as to the industrial worker. It is likely to prove useless, however, unless the first aid cabinet is kept well supplied with the essential dressings, disinfectants and simple remedies. The slightest cut is likely to become infected and result disastrously unless properly cared for.

TULLY MARSHALL A CHINESE LORD

Tully Marshall, whose meritorious character work in "The Covered Wagon" won for him gratifying praise wherever that picture was shown, plays a prominent part in "Thundergate," a pretentious Chinese-American play, which is to be shown at White's theatre Tuesday.

Marshall enacts the role of a Chinese over-lord, a serio-comic part, in this absorbing First National picture.

Marshall, whose career as an actor dates back to 1883 when he made his first stage appearance in the Winter Garden Theater in San Francisco, comes of a family well known in theatrical and screen circles. His mother was Julia Tully, a famous actress; his wife is Marion Fairfax, noted scenario writer. Richard Walton Tully, the famous stage and screen producer, and May and Arlyle Tully, both stage favorites, are cousins.

Marshall has been acting for motion pictures since 1916, when he played his first screen part in Griffiths "Paid in Full." Since then he has had prominent parts in many of the screen's biggest productions.

"Thundergate," which was directed by Joseph De Grasse, is a picture-ization of "The Lord of Thundergate," a popular current novel, of which Sidney Herschel Small is author. It is interpreted for the screen by an all-star cast, including such well-known players as Owen Moore, Sylvia Breamer, Virginia Brown Faire, Robert McKim, Richard Cummings, Edwin Booth Tilton and Ynez Seabury.

JAPANESE SEEK HELIUM FROM VOLCANIC GASES

Tokio.—Helium from volcanic gases will be the result sought in experiments projected by the Japanese navy, which will shortly send a party of naval engineers to several of the volcanoes, in which Japan abounds, to try to collect gases for inflating light-than-air flying craft.

The disaster to the navy's dirigible No. 3, the S. S. type airship which burst into flames and fell north of Tokio last March, is the incentive to the projected experiments. Naval authorities, alive to the danger of hydrogen as inflating gas, are determined to find economical means of replacing that gas by helium.

Lieutenant Kano will lead the party which will visit several well-known volcanoes. The experiments, which will be made by means of captive balloons, are attended with considerable danger, but the Japanese press declares that if they are successful the aviation prospects of the empire may be revolutionized.

College Observes Memorial Day and Mother's Day

With the singing of some of the stirring airs of the South and a short talk by President Wright on Motherhood, the assembly period at Teachers College Saturday was a combined observance of Confederate Memorial Day and of Mother's Day.

Mr. Wright read a part of the last chapter of Proverbs, containing a remarkable tribute to gracious womanhood. That is as true today as it was when first written.

The world, he said, is called at intervals to go through periods of upheaval, of reconstruction, readjustment. Some can't make the readjustment and the march of civilization goes on and leaves them. But running through all these periods of change and upheaval like a golden thread is the saving grace of womanhood and Motherhood. Womanhood has saved civilization and will continue to save it.

The womanhood of today has the civilization of tomorrow in its keeping. The woman with right ideals and purposes is going to save the day for us. She builds in the lives of husband and children and in the lives of all whom she touches in her daily walk. The real essence of civilization is in her inner life and is projected outward into the lives of those about her.

He closed with a beautiful tribute to Mothers and reminded the young women before him that civilization is in their keeping.

HAM-RAMSAY

name." Then after the "fulness of the Gentiles be come in"—that is when the image of Daniel as seen in Nebuchadnezzar's dream, be completed, then the wheat is to be gathered up and the trees are to be burned. And the present great war is rapidly completing the image of Nebuchadnezzar's dream.

Probably most of the confusion comes of careless study or lack of study of the prophecies. These speak of His coming as a morning star and as a rising sun; also as a meek and lowly lamb, in poverty and sorrow, also as the Lion of the tribe of Judah, in power and majesty and glory. The real meaning of all this is that He was to come three times. Or rather, His second coming is to be in two stages. His first coming was as the evening star, the star seen by the shepherds at night. Then He was poor and a man of sorrow, suffering affliction, and before His accusers was as meek and dumb as a lamb in the hands of the shearer.

But the first stage of His second coming is to be His premillennial appearing in the air to catch up His church and take it away with Him that it may not suffer the afflictions of the seven years of tribulation. It is then that He is to come as the Morning Star, just before day, in the darkest hour of this old world's night. At the end of the seven years of tribulation He comes as a Lion with a scepter to reign on the renewed earth as a mighty King, the Rising Sun shining upon the new day.

Then we are to receive our crowns and our new, glorified bodies. He brings with Him the spirits of those who are asleep in Him and then raises up their new bodies and unites them in His new kingdom.

Therefore we are told to watch for to pray for and to earnestly desire His coming. To the faithful it is a blessed hope; to the unfaithful a painful dread.

After Jesus comes in the air and takes His church away, then the Anti-Christ will come and the strong delusion shall cause the damnation of the corrupt and unbelieving during the seven years of great tribulation, which none of Christ's children shall see, and then the Jews beholding Him in the air will recognize Him "as the one they had pierced," be converted ("the nation born in a day") and they shall evangelize the rest of the world and get it ready for Christ's coming.

False Ideas of Pleading God. Blood redemption and the second coming of Christ are the two events of greatest importance to mankind; and no other vital truths have been so bitterly fought by Satan as these. Blood redemption is mentioned 400 times in the New Testament and the second coming 318 times. Yet Satan has tied on to the second coming more abominable heresies than attach to any other truth of the Bible. Russellism and Eddyism attack Christianity around this doctrine. But you can better be mistaken about almost anything else.

Three Convincing Reasons. "Among my reasons for believing in the second coming of Christ are the following: "1. Jesus himself repeatedly said he would come again and taught his disciples to watch for his coming and to be ready for it. That of itself should be sufficient reason. (Many scriptures cited to support this reason.) "2. The angles, at the time of his ascension, told his disciples that he would come again. 'Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? This same Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.' How had they seen him go? In the same body he was crucified in, with the prints of the nails in his hands and feet, and the rent in his side made by the spear. Job says, 'In my flesh I shall see God.' Yet materialists say Christ's body was dissolved in gases, and the Bible says the Jews shall recognize him at his second coming as one whom they pierced." "3. The holy spirit throughout all the scriptures, which he inspired, promised his second coming. But some contend that these things are spiritual. How can a spirit have bones and pierced hands and feet and side? How may a spirit be the seed of the woman of the family of David? Every prediction as to his first coming is shown to have been literally fulfilled; then why not also the predictions as to his second coming?

The evangelist gave the following epitome of the song of Solomon, which is the post's story of the first and second coming of our Lord; the little boy representing Jesus and the little girl representing His bride, the church:

"Jesus called His disciples around Him and said: 'Yet a little while and you will not see me.' Are you going to leave us, Master?" "I am, going to get a kingdom ready and then I am coming after you.' Have you ever read the song of Solomon, the story of that beautiful maid and her lover?

"There were over the hill country of Judea two flocks grazing. Watching over these flocks were a little boy and girl who had never met each other. Through some little word they became acquainted. They came to the sheepfold early each morning and led their flocks out to the pastures together. They grew fond of each other and this fondness ripened into love, love into courtship and they were engaged to be married.

"One day the young shepherd boy received word that he had fallen heir to a kingdom, and he told his little sweetheart that he must leave her now; that he was going to get a kingdom, and then he would come again for her. He only asked that she be faithful and true and love no other but him.

"Immediately after he left a number of Kings of that country made love to her and begged that she become their queen, but all in vain. Then came Solomon, arrayed in all his splendor and glory, asking and entreating that she become his Queen, and telling her that her lover had forgotten her. But no, she told them all she would remain true to her lover.

"One day when out on the hill tending her flock she heard the sound of a trumpet; she saw a chariot with a great train of attendants, and sitting on that chariot was a King of glory. They came a little closer and she fell prostrate upon her face, for she recognized her lover for whom she had waited all these years. This mighty King leaped from his chariot, stooped down and picked up the prostrate form, put a royal robe upon her, a ring on her finger and a scepter in her hand and carried her away to be his Queen.

"Oh, friends, don't make friends with this old world, but let us remain true to our King and be ready when He comes to claim His bride."

Death Penalty Attacked by Women in Commons

London. For the abolition of capital punishment and to substitute other penalties, a private members bill has been framed and is backed by Mrs. Wintingham, Miss Jewson, George Lansbury and other members of the House of Commons.

In the case of murder or treason the penalty proposed in the bill will be penal servitude for life. The sentence is to be a fixed one subject to the qualification that if the jury has recommended the convicted person to mercy, the court of criminal appeal may reduce the term of servitude to any shorter term not less than ten years.

In cases other than murder or treason, the court may pass a sentence of penal servitude for life, or imprisonment with or without hard labor, for any term not exceeding two years.

The bill does not affect any liability under naval or military law. The liability of persons under 16 remains unaltered.

Crop Outlook Good In North Carolina

Raleigh, May 12. — The present hay crop in North Carolina is composed primarily of legumes and mixtures with small grains and its condition averages 84 per cent normal or 4 per cent less than last year, according to Frank Parker, State Agricultural Statistician in his May report on crops. Fifteen per cent of last crop remains on farms where grown and 17 per cent of the previous year's crop, the report says. The hay crop last year was large, it was said, but the dry weather resulted in poor pastures last fall and the cool weather delayed spring pastures, which meant increased demand for hay. The national condition of tame hay was given as 36 per cent normal with wild hay at 38. The stocks on farms were said to be 6 per cent less than they were on the same date last year.

"The per cent of plowing done for spring planting by May 1 was reported a 8 per cent or 3 per cent less than last year." Mr. Parker said. "The spring planting and sowing actually done by May 1 was reported at 60 per cent as compared with 62 per cent last year. From this it appears that the farm work in North Carolina was not nearly as much belated as was generally supposed. The favorable weather conditions during the latter part of April permitted an enormous amount of farm work. Pasture conditions show 82 per cent of normal conditions. The home gardens are reported at 77 per cent normal. The farm labor supply shows 83 per cent and the demand 96 per cent normal.

"The conditions in the United States show that 71.5 per cent of the plowing has been done for the early planting or almost 3 per cent more than a year ago. The planting done to date, reported at 58 per cent, was also almost 3 per cent more than a year ago. The pasture conditions showed 7 per cent lower than the 87 per cent a year ago. The farm supply of May 1 was reported a 83 per cent, with a demand of 89.4 per cent over the country as a whole.

"The livestock conditions over the country as a whole are generally good the mortality being about as usual"

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, La. May 12.—After opening lower this morning market derived strength from the continuance of low temperatures inland, because of crop being generally unfavorable and owing to rumor that the returns to the national ginners association point to consumption of lint cotton in the U. S. during April as having been 507,000 against 484,000 in March of this year and 577,000 for April of last year.

Winter lingering in the lap of spring for so long a period minimum temperature having ruled generally below normal in the interior thus far this month could not have anything but an unfavorable effect on young cotton which is reported sickly in many localities because of the cool weather, especially at nights.

Covering by old crop shorts was the feature of the session, the buying was influenced by the continuance of free exports, decreasing stocks and reported lateness of South Texas crop from whence early receipts of new crop cotton are obtained.

Not a little of the buying in May and July to cover shorts was influenced by expectations for an important reduction in the local certificated stock, which on May 9th, was reported as 8,001 bales.

The certificated stock in New Orleans is being checked so that exact totals may be ascertained. This check is expected to be completed by next Wednesday, at which time the correct totals will be given up.

There is supposed to be an extensive outstanding straddle interest in July, October as well as late the general disposition has been to sell July and buy Oct. Whereas, the reverse, it seems, would have been the better position since exports promise to remain liberal causing stocks to decrease and the continuance of low temperatures inland have tended to retard plant growth and germination of seed giving new crop prospects something of a setback.

Results of yesterday's election in France appear to have been unfavorable to the present administration which is reflected in a sharp decline in foreign exchange, and there were riots in Germany but these developments were without effect on the cotton market.
