STORMS IN SOUTH TAKE TOLL OF 43 LIVES

46 Divorces Granted In Wake County During Last Year

Raleigh, May 27.—A total of 46 divorces were granted in Wake county during 1923, according to data compiled by Clerk of the Superior Court, E. Lloyd Tilley and made public here. Of the cases were 28 women seeking divorces and 18 men. A number of causes for seeking divorce were given.

Eight of the cases involved the disposition of children. Nine children was the largest number in one family, four was next and one family had two children and five families one child.

One couple had been married 39 years before they applied for a divorce, it was stated, another had lived together 34 years and two couples had lived together for 23 years. Other couples had lived together from 2 to 20 years before seeking a divorce, the statement said.

The number of divorces granted each year for the past few years has annually shown an increase, according to the clerk's data.

SAYS WORLD COURT SHOULD BE ADOPTED

Committee in Formal Report Says Adoption Would be of Immediate Advantage

Washington, May 27.—Adoption by the Senate Foreign Relations committee's World Court plan would enable President Coolidge promptly to conclude with states now adhering to the court simple, direct and reasonable agreements, the committee majority declared today in its formal report.

"In reporting the resolution" the report said, "the committee takes affirmative and favorable action upon recommendation of President Harding and President Coolidge that we should adhere to the court but not to the League of Nations. The resolution accepts the court as an established institution and confirms the tenure of the present judges.

Under its terms the United States without reservations and the least interference with the business of the court will align itself with the 48 other states in maintaining and perpetuating this important international tribunal.

On the other hand the United States will remain, in that event, wholly free from any legal relations with the League of Nations. This will not only be true of the United States but existing legal relations the court and the League of Nations will be severed for all the states so the United States will occupy no anomalous or peculiar position but stand on the same footing as all the rest.

TWO MEN HANG FOR ATTACK AGED LADY

Macon, Ga., May 27.—Judge James B. Park this morning sentenced Wade Johnson and Jarrett Benford, Milledgeville men, to hang on June 27 for attacking an 82 years old woman in Jones county on the night of May 18.

They were tried and found guilty without recommendation by a special session of Jones county superior court held yesterday.

Washington, May 27.—Accepting the recommendations of the committee investigating charges of irregularities in connection with his election the House today adopted a resolution without debate declaring Royal H. Weller entitled to retain his seat as representative from the twenty-first district of New York.

ROBERT FRANKS, MR. & MRS. FRANKS & JACOB FRANKS, JR. RANSOM LETTER, WHERE BODY WAS FOUND & FRANKS HOME.

Spurred on by rewards offered by Jacob Franks, multi-millionaire Chicago manufacturer, police of Chicago are centering their activities on finding the kidnapers and assassins of Frank's fourteen-year-old son and heir, Robert. The boy disappeared on his way from a private school to his father's palatial home. Later, this letter, couched in perfect English, was received, demanding $10,000 ransom. Before the lad's father could comply, the boy's body was found in this culvert, far from his home. A strange turn was given to the case by the fact that a pair of spectacles was found on his face, though he had never worn spectacles in his life. Mr. and Mrs. Franks have one other son, Jacob, Jr. It has been proved that at the time the ransom letter was received the boy was already dead.

SIX MEN PERISH IN NEWARK HOTEL FIRE

Arrest Made In Chicago Murder Mystery Today

Chicago, May 27.—The arrest of a man known as George Johnson, the name signed to the ransom letter received by Jacob Franks demanding $10,000 for the return of his son Robert, 13-driving a Gray automobile—was the latest development today in the investigation into the kidnapping and death of the boy.

The prisoner was driving the same make of automobile as that seen near the private school, attended by young Franks, at the time that he started home from school. The prisoner lives in the Hyde Park district where the Franks family lives. Search for the typewriter on which the ransom letter was typed and for the clothing of the boy is still being continued today. A hearing will be held this afternoon upon applications for writ of habeas corpus in behalf of the two instructors of the school who have been held by police for questioning since Saturday.

The prisoner known as Johnson, although his name is Adolph Papritz, said that he was not surprised by his arrest.

"I expected it," he said. "Everybody who drives a Gray car is being taken in." He said that he knew nothing of the Franks case and that he was about to leave for Iowa on the afternoon that the kidnapping occurred. He said that at that time he was motoring with a young woman.

Health Department Arranges Tonsil Adenoid Clinic

During this present school year and for many years past the examination of school children in Greenville has shown a very large number of them who needed operation or treatment for tonsils and adenoids. There are a number who are not financially able to pay the full amount for this operation. The school authorities and the Health Department have arranged for a clinic to be held here in June. If your child needs treatment make arrangements with the Health Department so that he may get in on this if you are unable to pay the full amount. Watch for further announcements.

Ground for New Durham Co. Home Broken This Week

Durham, May 27.—Ground for the new Durham County Home will be broken this week, it has been announced by county officials here. The building will cost approximately $115,000 and will be of Georgian Colonial architecture. About six months will be required to complete the building, the contractors state. The home will accommodate 60 persons when completed, it was explained, and has been so designed that additions can be made without interfering with the lines of the architecture and with perfect convenience to the rest of the structure.

NEWARK, N. J., May 27.—Six men are known to have died in the fire that destroyed the Mills Hotel, on Halsey street, early today. Firemen said that in all probability there were other bodies in the debris. The hotel housed about 100 men last night. A policeman reported to have seen three men come to a fire escape on the second floor only to be enveloped in the flames.

The hotel was a four-story frame structure, the first floor of which was a tire shop. A dense black smoke rolled up from the start and greatly hampered the firemen. The building was located in the heart of Newark's automobile district.

Many of the roomers in the hotel are thought to have been connected with a circus that is showing here.

FORD BID TURNED DOWN SECOND TIME

Norris Bill for Government Operation Muscle Shoals Reported By Committee

Washington, May 27.—The Norris bill for government operation of Muscle Shoals was reported today by the Senate Agriculture committee by a vote of 11 to 4.

A motion to report the Ford bid was defeated by a vote of 11 to 5. Action on the Norris bill was taken when it was offered as a substitute for the Ford proposal.

Advocates of the Ford bid lost a vote on the amendment offered by Senator Capper to bring the bid under the Federal Water Power Act limiting the lease to 50 years.

Senator Capper said that both he and Senator Kendrick favored the Ford bid with these amendments but that they would not support it in its present form.

SENATE PASSES POSTAL SALARIES INCREASE BILL

Washington, May 27.—Carrying the Borah amendment for full publicity of political contributions during the progress of campaigns, the Postal Salaries Increase Bill was passed today by the Senate.

COOLIDGE LIKELY TO SIGN TAX BILL

Executive Indicates He Will Sign Measure If It Is Advantage Over Present Law

Washington, May 27.—Republican organization leaders were hopeful today that President Coolidge would make an early and favorable decision on the tax reduction bill sent to him by Congress yesterday. In addition to receiving an overwhelming majority in both branches of Congress, a total of only 15 votes being cast against it, the measure was declared by Treasury officials who have analyzed it to be an improvement over the present law.

President Coolidge has let it be known that he will consider the bill on its merits with relation to the present law and will act according to the advantage or disadvantage as he finds it after such comparison.

It was stated at the legion post here that while the Admiral has retired from the Navy, he has not retired from active life and now takes a great interest in things pertaining to the welfare and the building of the city and county.

President Signs Bill Reorganizing Diplomatic Service

Washington, May 27.—The signature of President Coolidge to the Rogers bill reorganizing the diplomatic and consular service was announced today at the White House.

HIGH SCHOOL FINALS TO TAKE PLACE HERE FRIDAY EVENING

Hon. Lewis W. Perrin to Deliver Address to Graduating Class

This week marks the closing of the Greenville City schools. The sermon to the graduating class of the High School was preached on Sunday evening just past. The final events will take place at the college auditorium on Friday evening of this week at 8 o'clock. The address to the graduates of this year will be delivered by the Hon. Lewis W. Perrin of Spartanburg South Carolina. The speaker is one of ability, an outstanding lawyer, and for a number of terms mayor of Spartanburg. However, he is best known in the Carolinas and Virginia for his work while governor of the 7th Rotary District, when that district was composed of North and South Carolina and Virginia. His record for that year was brilliant. He has visited Greenville before upon two occasions, and numbers as his friends here every person with whom he came in contact. He has always taken a very active part in every movement in his community and state that meant well for the youth. He is intensely interested in all boy and girl organization activities. The school administration realizes that in Rotary and Kiwanis the schools have very valuable allies. They have therefore invited an outstanding Rotarian to make the address this year. Next year it is their purpose to invite some distinguished Kiwanian to make the address. The exercises are going to be held in the college auditorium so that the people of the town may have the opportunity to see and hear. Heretofore, it has been impossible to take care of more than one-third of the people who wanted to be present. Seats will be reserved for the parents and close friends of the members of the graduating class.

The graduating class of this year is very much larger than it has ever been before. There are approximately fifty in the class, while formerly there have been from twenty to thirty. The class for next year will be equally as large. This proves beyond a doubt, that the Greenville Schools are doing what they are supposed to be doing mainly, and that is holding the boys and girls in school.

The other events for the week are as follows: Tonight in the High School auditorium at eight o'clock the final piano recital will be held. The pupils of Misses Howell and Burton will give this recital.

On Thursday afternoon of this week, at the High School building at four o'clock, there will be an exhibit of the work of the Home Economics Department. This will be worth seeing.

On Friday morning, in the High School auditorium at 10:30 will be held the graduating exercises of the seventh grade.

And then on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the College auditorium, the graduating exercises and the announcement of the winners of awards.

It was stated at the legion post here that while the Admiral has retired from the Navy, he has not retired from active life and now takes a great interest in things pertaining to the welfare and the building of the city and county.

A contemporary calls for leadership in congress. There are plenty willing to lead, but none who will follow.

The Southern Presbyterian Church sticks to the literal story of Adam and Eve. It's comforting to be sure about matter.

McAdoo's claims of delegates are characterized by the Underwood committee as "inaccurate and unwarranted." Well, what is expected of a claim?

The "leaps and bounds" by which automobiles are said to be increasing are nothing to the leaping and bounding done by pedestrians in getting out of the way.

Congressmen with colds are being treated with gas inhalations. Of course it would be a calamity were a mistake to be made and they were to get the wrong kind of gas.

Running an auto is no excuse for running amuck.

TOO FEW IN HIGH SCHOOL

One of the weak points in our educational system in North Carolina is that such a small per cent of school children graduate from high school or even reach the high school grades. Most rapid improvement is being made, but even with our present attainment we rank very low in the number of high school students and in high school graduates in comparison with other states. The lack of high schools is one answer, while another lies in the lack of a desire on the part of many children for a high school education.

For the United States about ten per cent of the children enrolled in school are in the high-school grades. In North Carolina the children enrolled in high schools are only five per cent of all children enrolled in school. In other words we ought to have 90 thousand children in high school instead of about 45 thousand.

As indicative of the tendency to drop out of school too early we are giving a few of the facts found in studying Guilford and Forsyth counties, both of which have excellent high schools, and rank far above the state average in high school attendance and graduates.

In 1923 Guilford had a total white school enrollment of 17,799 children. Her high school enrollment rate was about three times the state average, yet only 348 white students were enrolled in the eleventh grade against 3,442 in the first grade. Of the total white enrollment only 1.9 per cent were in the final grade.

In Forsyth county 12,809 white children were enrolled in school, yet only 194 were in the eleventh grade, or 1.5 per cent of all white children enrolled in school. The first grade had a white enrollment of 2,801, the second grade 1,868, third 1,675, fourth 1,520, fifth, 1,332 sixth 1,086, seventh 1,005, eighth 628, ninth 435 tenth 259, while only 194 were enrolled in the eleventh grade.

The mortality rates in the higher grades are large even in such prize high school counties as Forsyth and Guilford. The mortality rates in the less favored counties are even larger. The high school graduating class of 1923 was only one per cent of the white school enrollment in North Carolina. In other words out of every one hundred white children enrolled in school in 1923 only one became a high school graduate. Instead of 6,317 white high school graduates as in 1923, we should have had at least thirteen thousand.

Only six states have more children enrolled in school than North Carolina. Would that only six states ranked ahead of us in high school graduates.

FOR THE FULLER LIFE

Interest in physical education is growing. Everywhere physical culture college and so-called life extension institutes are springing up.

All will agree that this attention to hygiene and physical training is an excellent thing. But it seems off that so many should lay stress on physical culture merely as a means of prolonging life.

The value of physical education in extending life is, after all, only incidental. Its real merit is in making life worth living.

A general extension of the period of life is of interest mainly to the actuary. More appealing to the average man or woman is the new zest in life that comes from physical training and health culture. It is less the desire to live longer than to live more fully that is increasing the ranks of the physical culturists.

A hearty appetite, a perfect digestion, a 100 per cent efficient liver, a clear brain and a general physical exhilaration—given these as the reward of physical culture, no one worries much about the problem of life extension.

SANER ADDRESSES MEMBERS ARKANSAS B A R ASSOCIATION

Little Rock, Arkansas, May 26.—It was not until this present generation had learned to live in fattened and complacent ease upon the wealth and security bought for them by the blood of their forefathers, that the idealists, the doctrinaires and the demagogues became an established institution in our national life and evolved a new theory of government for the American people, the members of the Arkansas Bar Association in their annual meeting were told by R. E. L. Saner, president of the American Bar Association here today. The present period may well be called the age of "Constitutional Amendments and Federal Encroachments," the speaker said. There have been encroachments upon the rights of the states of the Republic and the individuals, he added.

"It is time to call a halt," the Association president declared. "It is time to get back to the beginning of things; back to the real sources of our strength; back to the Republic, that under the Constitution the fathers so wisely conceived and successfully instituted; back to a government of the whole people, by the whole people and for the whole people. Day by day and year by year, this form of government of ours is changed from that Republic into a political and hysterical chaos, whose final terms are expressed in the unspeakable Russia of today."

"What is the end and what is the answer? I conjure you back to the glorious days of our first professional brothers who made possible this country that is ours today. For with pride we can say that it was the lawyers of America who conceived and created the Constitution and the Republic. The torch they lit, they hand to us today. Be ours to bear it high. Remembering the opportunities of leadership and patriotism that are the rightful heritage of the American lawyer, refusing to buckle to the misanthropic political tendencies of the day for the Dead Sea apples of position and place and so called 'honors' and standing, fast by the challenge of our conscience, let the lawyers of this generation, following in the footsteps of their brothers of the past, blaze the way for their bewildered and demoralized fellow citizens, yesterday and seeking at this moment for real leadership."

"The men who made the Constitution wisely foresaw that with the diversity of the population of this country and with its possibilities of unparalleled extension geographically, that pure democracy would not make for either a safe or suitable form of government. They therefore ordained, under the Constitution that the only form of government, to safely swerve from tyranny and from monarchy, was a form of government wherein the people, through their representatives chosen for their wisdom and patriotism, had voice in the government. That was the conception of our fathers and that was the government under which this nation became both great and powerful. Today incipient blazes of Bolshevik

Seattle's ex-Mayor Held As a Horse Thief.

Ole Hansen, Seattle, Washington's picturesque war Mayor, now a resident of Los Angeles, Cal., where he is in the real estate business, is prepared to defend himself against a charge of horse stealing in a Pasadena, Cal., court. The charge was brought by Clarence W. Bastien, of Sierra Madre. "I am charged with stealing my own horse," said Hansen. "When I moved to Los Angeles I shipped five horses there. Some one stole one, and when I found it on a vacant lot at Sierra Madre, I took it back."

ism and radicalism, fed by disrespect of long established American institutions are lighting the fires of revolution. It is a challenge to us to pledge renewed allegiance to the faith of our fathers that we may, in extinguishing the fires that destroy, proclaim to the world that our government is the best government on earth, that our ideals of national life are the highest, and that we will as individuals strive in every way to maintain our Constitution inviolate, and perpetuate its traditions forever.

95,040,000 Pairs Hosiery Manufactured High Point Annually

High Point, May 24.—Seven million nine hundred and twenty dozen pairs of hosiery are manufactured annually by the 14 mills located in this city, according to a statistical report made public by the High Point Chamber of Commerce. This makes the total number of pairs of hose annually manufactured here 95,040,000.

The osiery mills located here, the report says, are among the largest in the state and perhaps the South. A large number of small mills have been started here within the last two years, it was said, and they have grown with the progress of the town. Several thousand pamphlets telling of the things in which this excels will be printed and distributed at the Road Show here in June, the Chamber officials stated.

"My Children Just Love Liv-o-lax"

"For some time, I have been giving the children Liv-o-lax for the condition which I used to think called for calomel and castor oil," said a Charlotte mother.

"I think there is nothing more terrible than to have to give children those awful doses, which I wouldn't think of taking myself."

"Dr. Hand told me, in his drug store, how he worked up the formula of Liv-o-lax, just to do away with this unpleasant necessity, how Liv-o-lax, though a pleasant-tasting liquid remedy, acts on the liver in just the way required. Since I gave it one trial, I have been happy to have it in house, because the children just love to take it."

"And Liv-o-lax is an all-round family laxative. It is just as good for the grown-ups as it is for the children. Get Liv-o-lax at your drug store—30c. Just one trial will convince."

The Art Of Beauty

By B. M. DOUGLAS

The Flower Woman

SOME one has said that flowers are beautiful things which God made and forgot to put a soul into. How much more beautiful then, is the delicate flower type of woman, who seems to carry with her the shy, fragrant and elusive charm of violets and pansies and lilies of the valley.

The beauty of the flower woman cannot be pinned down to the color of her hair, or her eyes, or the curve of her cheek. It is something fairylike and ethereal. The flower woman is most often delicately blonde, and slender, and graceful. She may have eyes like wood violets, set in faint, black shadows, her skin is pale ivory, her hair, as they used to say in the fairy tales, spungold, her lips are coral. Everything about her is fine and fair, and wistful. She is like a fairy tale princess who has somehow strayed away from her castle.

And so, if the flower woman, is to realize her type, she must hold herself somewhat aloof from the fetiches of the throng. Not for her is the rakish little hat, the clinging evening dress, the uncompromising salimade, the befringed summer dress. She must make her own fashion, for she is above fashion. Delicate trailing lengths of chiffon, pastel shades, powder blue, pale orchid, peachblow, blushrose, silver green, ivory white. Large drooping flower hats, transparent brims, organdie, cobwebby lace, soft velvets, all of these will bring out the faint elusive wistful fragrance of her charm. Negligees and tea gowns, scorned by the out door girl are dear to the flower woman. And jewels—necks the hard, bright stones, diamonds, or rubies, or emeralds, but always the purity of pearls, the mystery of moonstones, the luscious clearness of aquamarines. And faint perfume, lavender, violet, jasmine, lily of the valley.

Sports and their accompanying apparel are not for the flower woman. They will strike a harsh dissonance in the harmony of her type. While her more vivid ruddy sisters may disport themselves on the court, or the links, she will be far better sitting in the shade, under the striped marquee in her filmy gown, and shady hat, ready to welcome the conquering heroes.

Makeup must touch the flower woman gently, like the caress of a fairy godmother's wand. Blend with the warm ivory oval of her face the creamy tint of rachel powder. The flower woman is better off without the accentuation of color in her cheeks, but she may delicately outline the wistful curve of her lips with Mandarin lipstick. Her eyes are the keynote of her type. If her brows and lashes are not naturally long, she may delicately pencil them. A dark powder smoothed under the eyes and over the lids intensifying the natural shadow around the eyes will add to her mystery and charm. In the evening lavender powder will give a silken sheen to her delicately modelled shoulders.

The Betterment Association held a call meeting on last Friday night. The principal business was to discuss whether the community should organize a Daily Vacation Bible School for the summer. This was put to a vote and carried.

After the business meeting, a very unique spelling match was enjoyed. The spelling consisted of words of the primary grades, spelled backwards. This created quite a bit of fun for the ten minutes it occupied.

The next part of the program was music on the new Victrola, which the association purchased for the school. Several folk games and dramatizations were rendered by a group of children from the primary grades. Our thanks are due to Mrs. R. E. Davenport, Misses Beth Carol and Lucile Sermons for their part of the program. All who were present expressed themselves as having spent an hour of pleasure.

WHY A ROAD COMMISSIONER?

Dear Editor:

I have been a regular subscriber to The Daily Reflector since 1882 I am requesting space in the grand old Reflector to ask a few questions in regard to Road Commissioner.

Do we need a road commissioner or a working bee? I want to ask if it would not be better to have a working bee to go with the hands and see that they work and work himself, when not otherwise engaged in looking up what he should do next? This would do away with the so-called Road Commissioner who does nothing but ride the roads when he gets ready and receive a good salary with mileage. A working bee has to be paid just the same so why not cut out the office of road commissioner?

It is interesting to hear the sixth and seventh grade boys of Grimesland tell about their victory over Simpson in a baseball game which was played last Friday afternoon. The game, which was featured by the star fielding of "Little" M. Galloway and the heavy hitting of W. Proctor, ended with the score standing 16 for the home team and 1 for Simpson, this score having been made when E. Fox threw the ball wild. The little boys are very much enthused, and are willing to challenge any team their size and age. Their manager says, "If you are interested in a game let me hear from you."

Salem College Is Planning For Big Finals This Year

Winston-Salem, May 24. — The 152 annual commencement of Salem College, beginning with the exercises of Saturday, May 24, and closing with the conferring of degrees and diplomas on Tuesday morning, May 27, is expected this year to exceed all previous occasions in its variety of interest and large attendance. The commencement address will be by Dr. Plato Durham, who made the address of the occasion at the unveiling of the Confederate Memorial at Stone Mountain, Georgia. The Baccalaureate sermon by the Rev. Karl Morgan Block of Roanoke, Va., not for his sermons to students, will doubtless attract large crowds not only locally but throughout the state, many of the Salem alumnae groups having already completed plans to drive to Winston-Salem for the three day sojourn. Arrangements for the entertainment of visitors have been completed, and the dormitories and other facilities of the college will be used to the full to assure the comfort and pleasure of its guests.

Piedmont Log Rolling Asso. To Convene May 28

Salisbury, May 24. — Several hundred members are expected to attend the annual meeting of the Piedmont Log Rolling Association which convenes here on Wednesday, May 28, according to officials of the local camp of the Woodmen of the World, which is a part of the association. Several counties in the Piedmont section are covered by the association.

The meeting was due to be held at East Spencer, it was explained, but because of the lack of facilities to accommodate the large number of members expected, the Rosewood Camp Number 175 has joined with the East Spencer Camp Number 239 in acting as host to the visitors.

There will be large classes of candidates here to be initiated, it was said, several from each camp of the Piedmont section, but with Charlotte leading in number.

The program will consist of several social functions and business meetings as well as exhibition drills, besides the secret meetings and initiations. There will also be an open meeting to which the public is invited.

MEN AND WOMEN IN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Below: W. E. D. STOKES & VIOLA KRAUS

Lady Astor, only American woman ever to sit in the British Parliament, had lively experiences while campaigning in Glasgow, Scotland, for the Unionist candidate, Captain Elliot. Communists tried to break up the meeting, but she stopped the uproar by singing "Keep the Home Fires Burning." Harry K. Thaw, free at last for killing Stanford White, has announced that he will settle $10 a day upon Evelyn Nesbit, his divorced wife, who is said to be earning $500 weekly in an Atlantic City, N. J., cabaret. The trial of W. E. D. Stokes, New York millionaire sportsman, charged in Chicago with attempting to induce witnesses to swear falsely in his unsuccessful divorce suit against his wife, has been postponed because of his illness. The charming Viola Kraus, of New York City, friend of the international whist wizard, Joseph B. Elwell, will return to America from Europe in the Fall, when efforts will be renewed to find the man who mysteriously murdered Edwell four years ago in his New York City home. Miss Kraus's sister, Mrs. Walter Lewisohn, is said to have valuable information for the District Attorney.

TY COBB SMASHES RECORD IN EVERY GAME HE PLAYS

Detroit. — Ty Cobb is smashing major league records this year every time his name appears in a box score.

During 19 years Cobb has played more games than any other American League player. The figure stood at 2,449, when the season opened, and each appearance, this year, establishes a new high mark.

Cobb also sets a new record this season every time he has a time at bat, every time he singles, every time he triples, every time he hits safely, and every time he scores. Demolition of these records automatically results in the fracture of others. Each triple, for example, adds to his record of the most extra base hits and also to his record for the most extra bases on hits. Likewise, every safe hit increases his record total bases.

In addition to these marks that are daily targets of the Tiger manager, there are others that are likely to tumble if he plays in 100 or more games, among them his record of having batted .300 or better for 18 seasons.

SWEDISH MOTHER WATCHES PROGRESS OF FLYING SON

Stockholm. — Sweden's greatest booster for the success of the American round the world flight is a little white-haired old lady in Stockholm, who may be seen any day sitting in an avalanche of newspapers, with a pair of scissors in her hands, and a map of the projected route on the table. Late editions of the dailies come to her home as soon as they are off the press, and she scans the cable columns for every scrap of news of the airman and the progress of their undertaking. At times her eyes grow big with apprehension, but more often they sparkle with vivid satisfaction. It is because the high adventure is hers, too. She is the mother Lieut. Erik Nelson, the engineer officer of the American round the world flight.

"We expected Erik to become a sea captain" says the white-haired lady, "but we never dreamed that he would take to the air." Then she tells how Erik in his teens went to sea for a number of years in Swedish and British ships, and how once in a storm off Cape Horn he dived overboard to rescue the mate who had been swept into the sea.

"If he comes back next Christmas," said Mrs. Nelson with the light of mother love in her eyes, "he will see that I had my eye on him all the time he was flying around the world."

Lieut. Nelson went to the United States 15 years ago.

Finally found health in Kellogg's Bran after suffering long with constipation

Mr. Patch writes that Kellogg's Bran "solved his problem." It has solved the problem of constipation—mild and chronic—for thousands of others. It has brought relief when all else has failed because Kellogg's Bran is All-Bran. Nothing but All-Bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read Mr. Patch's letter:

Dear Sir:

I have been a constant sufferer from constipation and have wondered what was the cause of it. I have tried about all the cereals I could think of, and finally tried Kellogg's Bran. This solved my problem. I feel 100 per cent better and I owe it to your Bran.

Thanking you very kindly for this great cereal, I am
Very respectfully,
Chester C. Patch,
761 Main St., Greenwood, Mass.
For the permanent relief of constipation, eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestines. It rids them of the dangerous poisons that lead to other diseases. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is delicious with milk or cream. You will like its nut-like flavor—so different from ordinary, tasteless bran. Sprinkle it over the cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Eat it in Kellogg's Bran muffins, griddle cakes and many other wonderful recipes given on the package.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek and is served by the leading hotels and clubs everywhere. It is sold by all grocers.

Weather in Cotton Belt.
Maximum temperatures were below normal except near west Gulf coast, where seasonable or higher minimum were generally seasonable in the northeast normal in most other sections.

Rains have fallen in all cotton districts except in the Atlantic coast, most gulf coast localities and western Texas heavy rains of mostly one to two inches rain fell in numerous localities in northern Alabama, Mississippi, eastern and southern Arkansas locally in northern and central Louisiana and central Oklahoma. The Gies reported at 67.6. The National Ginners condition 67.2 acreage 5 1-2 increase 1. Government condition report Monday is likely to be bullish.

Liverpool Spot Cotton.
Middling 1796; good middling 1896; sales 5,000 of which 3,000 American sales. The market closed barely steady; July 1722; Oct. 1552; May 1782; Dec. 1509.

COTTON LETTER
New Orleans, La., May 27.—New crop cotton, October delivery having advanced to the 26 cents level, traders are disposed to realize, especially on bulges rather than enter into new commitments for the present as next Friday and Saturday will be holidays in the north, May 30th being Federal memorial day.

The weather over night however was considered unfavorable, much rain having fallen especially in the central portion of the belt, particularly in Mississippi and prospects are for more wet weather in all sections of the cotton region tonight and Wednesday.

Returns to the Gies bureau average the condition of the crop at 67.6 and the increase in acreage 5.76 percent stating that 14 percent remain planted with much replanting necessary and that stands are generally poor.

The latest are to effect crop, it attributes to rains and cold wet weather much like last year, while weevils are reported in Henry, Barbour and Houston counties, Alabama.

Liverpool cabled "very steady with considerable short covering on bullish crop estimates from your side and reports of unfavorable weather."

Advices from New York are to effect that the cloth markets has improvement both in volume and in prices with further large sales to outside investors, the continued strength of cotton accentuating the low basis of cotton goods which appear to have reached bottom and to be on an upward trend.

An important matter likely of realization in the near future is the probability that the resident will sign the income tax reduction bill, to which both houses have given approval and if it becomes a reality, it will tend to restore confidence in general business throughout the country.

Meanwhile raw cotton continues to leave the United States freely, exports since Friday 26,000 against 26,000 last year since Aug. first 5,165,000 bales against 4,245,000 last year, leaving stock at all United States ports today at 375,000 bales against 391,000 one year ago.

Indications are that shipments from America to Europe will continue free, as there is much more cotton on shipboard than last year and it is reported that a steamer has just arrived here to load for Russia and will probably lift 15,000 to 20,000 bales.

Tomorrow steamers are due next month to lead cotton for Russia.

"Ashes of Vengeance"

"A Screen Masterpiece"

It seems hardly sufficient to say that "Ashes of Vengeance," Norma Talmadge's latest First National starring production, which opened at White's theatre yesterday is a masterpiece. It is a most ambitious motion picture combining a marvelous spectacle of the 16th Century and a love story of delicate charm executed in a thoroughly entertaining manner. Naught but praise is due Joseph M. Schenck, the producer of this picture, for the magnificent settings of this film. Not only do they suggest the time and locale of the story, but endow the whole with a CHARGE PLOT TO "FRAME" SENATOR.

Above: GASTON B. MEANS & BURTON K. WHEELER.
Below: MRS. W. O. DUCKSTEIN & W. O. DUCKSTEIN.

W. O. Duckstein, confidential adviser to Edward B. McLean, owner of the Washington Post, and his wife, Mrs. Mary Duckstein, confidential stenographer in the Department of Justice, startled the Senate Committee investigating the Department by alleging there was a plot to "frame" U. S. Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, chief prosecutor. They further testified that the famous glories of Gaston B. Means, ex-investigator in the Department, had been stolen by agents who purport to be representing H. C. Todd, special assistant to former Attorney-General Harry M. Dougherty.

realism that transports the spectator to the days of chivalry.

But it is story itself which stands out from these massive settings, a story of hereditary hate and desire for vengeance which is dissipated by the valor of a man upon whom humiliation in every form is visited, and turns to an exalted love which wipes out a long existing feud of two noble families. It would require columns to describe the rush of incident, of physical and emotional conflict through which this transition is accomplished. Mob scenes, thrilling sword fights, romance and political intrigue figure in a succession of situations in natural and logical sequence—and dominating it all is Norma Talmadge. More beautiful than ever, she seemed to us, as the proud Yoeland de Breaux, more regal, more admirable in her emotional scenes.

And opposite her, Conway Tearle is superb as the brave and noble de Vrieac, despised by Yoeland when brought into her house by her brother, Comte de la Roche, his enemy, after sacrificing himself for his fiancée and becoming the slave of la Roche.

The action of the play, already moving rapidly, is given impetus with the entrance of Wallace Bery, as the Duc de Tours, cruel profligate whose pursuit of Yoeland brings the play to an effective climax. Never has Bery given a more finished portrayal. To the credit of the producer he said that he did not hesitate to select the finest artists obtainable in support of his star. The portrayals of Tearle, Bery, Courtenay Foote, Josephine Crowell—of the entire cast, in fact, are flawless. Miss Talmadge, however, keeps her role and her portrayal the commanding one.

Jefferson Davis' Home Becomes Memorial
Memphis, Tenn. — The old home of Jefferson Davis in this city is to be repaired and preserved as a two-fold memorial of the Civil War and the World War. The quaint old structure is to be maintained in its original plan and design in the midst of a small group of mansions of other days which still stand in the heart of the downtown district.

Veterans of the world war have sponsored the movement, which has as its object not only the preservation of the Davis home for the historical value of its civil war associations, but also to give Memphis Post No. 1, American Legion, a home that is to serve as a memorial to world war dead.

Jefferson Davis lived in Memphis two years during the reconstruction period. His home was located at what is now Court Avenue and Fourth Street, almost within a stone's throw of Main Street. The house was the center of the city's social activity during the brief period the ex-president of the confederacy and his family lived here. But when Mr. Davis moved away, the dwelling was permitted to fall into decay and as the business district pushed eastward from the river, it became enmeshed in a crowded district of business structures.

The Legion's appeal for funds has found ready response among the people of Memphis and in the surrounding territory. The Legion asked for $50,000 with which to buy the property and pay for its repair. The major portion of the sum has been paid in, and the first two payments have been made on the purchase price of the property.

Photographers of French Broad River To Be Made Soon
Asheville, May 27.—Photographers of the French Broad river will be made by Lieutenants H. K. Ramey and G. W. Goddard of the United States Air Service during the early part of this week, it has been made known here. These photographs will be used in making a survey of the river to ascertain its water power possibilities. The survey will be made by Major Fiske who is now stationed in Chattanooga Tennessee and the expenses will be borne by the funds received by the appropriation by Congress for the surveying of the Tennessee river and its tributaries.

The aviators arrived in Asheville several weeks to begin the work, but were called back to Washington for official purposes. Nothing more was heard concerning the survey until the other day when it was announced that they would arrive here to begin the work during the first part of this week.

Work Starts On Women's Ward In Raleigh Jail

Raleigh, May 27.—Work has been started on the women's ward of the jail of this city, it was made known at the jail today. The ward will be located on an extension of the stairs landing, between the first and second floors. The section for female prisoners will contain three cells and a corridor, it was explained, and will accommodate six prisoners.

The jail has been in need of a special section for the detention of women prisoners, being held for trial and for short terms sentence, for some time, it was stated, and it was not until the construction of the women's ward was begun that those in charge have felt satisfied with the situation. It is expected that the ward will be finished with a week or ten days.
