WEEK-END DISASTERS TAKE TOLL OF 33 HOUSE VOTES TO ADJOURN CONGRESS SAT.

Nine Killed When Trains Collide; 24 Perish In 2 Fires

Los Angeles, June 2.—A morgue and a hospital today housed all 38 of the subnormal girls who were in the care of Hope Development School at Plaza Del Rey, 18 miles from here, when that institution was razed by fire Saturday night.

Twenty charred crisp forms of what had been children under 10 years of age, girls in their teens and young women in their twenties, still children mentally, are being prepared for burial near the scene of the blaze.

The ashes of the razed structure yesterday yielded up the burned remains of the twenty-three persons who perished in the flames.

Eighteen others, inmates of the school, are in a serious condition at St. Catherine's hospital in Santa Monica, a few miles away. The dead ranged in age from 4 to 48.

Thirty-eight children were housed within the private institution when flames burst out. In addition there were in the building the matron, Mrs. J. C. Thomas, and Wilfred Ringer, 14-year-old adopted son of the proprietor, Mrs. Mary E. Jacobs. The matron and the boy perished.

Attica, Ind., June 2.—Nine persons are dead and 20 injured as a result of a collision last night between east-bound Wabash passenger train number 2 and a freight on a siding.

The passenger train was hurled against the freight engine and several were badly scalded by escaping steam from the wrecked locomotives.

CHIEF JUSTICESHIP TENDERED HOKE

Senior Associate Justice Appointed to Station Made Vacant By Death of Chief Justice Walter Clark

Raleigh, June 2.—Governor Cameron Morrison today officially tendered the Chief Justice of Supreme Court of North Carolina appointment to Associate Justice W. A. Hoke, senior member on the bench since the death of Chief Justice Walter Clark two weeks ago.

The Associate Justice promptly accepted the tender.

William A. Hoke was born in Lincoln, October 25 1851. After a private school education he studied law under Chief Justice Richmond Pearson, at Richmond Hill, N. C.

He was admitted to the bar in 1872. In 1889 he was sent to the legislature and in 1891 appointed judge of superior court. This position he held until 1904 when he was elected Associate Justice of Supreme Court. He was re-elected to this position in 1912 and 1920.

BOY KIDNAPPERS ARE PLACED IN JAIL

Chicago, June 2.—State Attorney Crowe announced today that attorneys began legal battle today in behalf of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, confessed kidnapers and slayers of 13-year-old Robert Franks, against whom the state will seek grand jury indictments tomorrow.

The announcement came when petitions for writs of habeas corpus were presented in criminal court here today by counsel employed by the millionaire fathers of Leopold and Loeb. The courts made the writs returnable forthwith and the prisoners were taken immediately into court.

Indictments charging kidnaping for ransom and for murder, both punishable by death, will be asked by the state, Mr. Crowe said.

The legal battle, in which millions, estimated as high as the $25,000,000 of Leopold and Loeb, will be thrown in an effort to save the boys from the gallows is intended merely to permit legal counsel to consult them. Attorneys say they do not expect to free them.

Chief Justice Caverly cancelled the hearing on the writ until June 6 and ordering the boys sent to jail without bond placed them in the custody of the sheriff.

Having won their first legal skirmish, counsel went immediately to confer with the prisoners.

It was intimated that the two youths would not be allowed to testify at the inquest.

Accompanied by detectives and newspapermen State Attorney Crowe yesterday took the boys over the route that they formerly traversed with the body of Franks in their rented auto.

Young Leopold, whose father is a big box manufacturer and lake shipping magnate, is sure, according to Crowe and newspapermen who heard the conversation, that money can do anything and through it he hopes to avoid the gallows.

"You know we have got lots of dough. I don't know how many millions," he said. "I may fix this thing up by getting a few jurors." Loeb is not sure but hopeful.

MILLIONAIRES' SONS CONFESS MURDER

RICHARD LOEB & NATHAN LEOPOLD, JR.
Nathan Leopold, 19, son of a millionaire steamship man, and Richard Loeb, 18, son of the millionaire vice-president of Sears-Robuck & Co., have confessed the brutal murder of Robert Franks, 14-year-old son of a millionaire manufacturer, from whom they demanded $10,000 ransom after slaying their victim.

Two Strong Sermons Delivered By The Rev. Costen J. Harrell At Teachers College Sunday

Rev. Costen J. Harrell, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Atlanta, brought two strong and vital messages to East Carolina Teachers College yesterday. At eleven o'clock he preached the commencement sermon on "Principles to Live By," using the story of the temptation of Jesus in the wilderness as a basis for his sermon, in which he undertook to set up some fundamental principles of life as a guide for the graduates who go out Tuesday with the seal of the college upon them.

At the evening hour he preached the sermon before the Y. W. C. A. using as his theme "Woman and Civilization." Both of these messages were worthy of a place in the succession of strong sermons which have featured the commencements of which this is the fifteenth. Mr. Harrell seemed to feel the responsibility of the occasion and preached with a dignity and seriousness that were impressive, and with a real eloquence that gripped the large audiences that heard him at both services.

The morning service began with the Processional Hymn—"God Ever Glorious" Prayer was offered by Rev. V. P. Scoville of the local Methodist church. The student body rendered the anthem "Inflammatus Et Accensus" from Strabat Mater, the solo parts being taken by Misses Helene Higgs and Cleo Richardson. Miss Helene Higgs gave a soprano solo "Repent Ye," by John Prindle Scott. Following the sermon the senior class sang Stainer's "Love Divine." The music was beautiful and inspiring. The service closed with benediction by Mr. Scoville.

Sketching rapidly and graphically some of the great decisive conflicts of the world's history. Mr. Harrell said that after all the most decisive struggles of the race were not fought on the carnal fields of the world, but in the souls of men. The most decisive of them all were the soul conflicts of Jesus Christ. In his life there were three supreme hours of victory, on the cross where by love he overcame and by which victorious love the gates of life are opened wide to all who will enter in; in the garden where he was entombed and where by divine power he arose from the dead, showing that in him is life forevermore; in the wilderness of temptation, where the principles by which he would live were tried out and set up, and where by holiness he overcame.

Out of the impressive story of the wilderness temptation the preacher got his message to the graduating class on "Principles to Live By."

The temptation came when Jesus was a young man, and when he had just been baptized by John and the voice from above had definitely designated him as the Son of God. Man's most severe testings are likely to come in the wake of a great experience or when he is about to launch out on a great undertaking. "You," he said to the graduates, "are today passing from the privileges of this place and the exaltation of this occasion to the duties of life. What course will you follow, what motives shall rule you, what principles shall guide you? Come with me into the wilderness where Jesus set up the principles of moral victory for himself and for every man who will follow him."

The speaker clearly brought out the difference between temptation and testing. The trial that came to Jesus was a testing of his sinlessness; but there was never any possibility that he would be overcome of evil. The struggle simple brought to plain view and set before the eyes of men for all time the principles of the inner life of Jesus. These principles were already in the soul of Jesus and were set up in the wilderness in order that we might perceive the moral heights of his being and believe, and in order that we might be guided by them in the way that immortals should go.

The first temptation was the suggestion that came out of the world of darkness that he lower his ideals to the level of the material and devote his powers to his own physical well being. Turning stones into bread is changing a material substance so that it satisfies a physical craving. It was the thought of abandoning spiritual motives and working for his own advantage. It was the persuasive suggestion that Jesus pursue his life from a materialistic and selfish point of view. Many a man has lost his ideals and his soul.

COLLEGE ALUMNAE HOLD ANNUAL MEET

Business Session Followed by Elaborate Luncheon Featured by Address of President R. H. Wright

The Alumnae Association and the Normal Class of 1924 held the center of the stage today at the commencement of East Carolina Teachers College. A business session of the Alumnae Association was held at 10 o'clock with Miss Pattie Simmons Dewell, president, presiding and Miss Nonie Johnston at the secretary's table. There was an unusually large number of the Alumnae present. A special effort had been made to get the graduates back, and there were more here than have ever attended this meeting before.

The morning was spent in hearing reports from the various county chapters, and in transacting routine business and discussing what the Alumnae could do for the good of the college. The reports from county chapters showed an unusual amount of activity for the year. The college has kept in closer touch with the Alumnae than ever before, and there has been a corresponding increase in their activities. Most of the counties have been organized and have had regular meetings. Most of these chapters have engaged in some definite work of the college during the year just passed.

At 1 o'clock in the college dining hall the annual Alumnae luncheon was held. Miss Augusta Woodward presided as toastmistress and gave a welcome to the old students. Miss Martha Hughes Bright responded to the toast "Alma Mater." Mrs. Alex Bynum spoke for the county chapters. Mrs. Leland T. Stancill spoke to the toast "To Those Who've Got 'Em and to Those Who're Going to Get 'Em," the reference being to the lucky ones who already have their diplomas, and to those who will receive them Tuesday. The new group was welcomed into the Alumnae Association by Mrs. Stancill. Mr. R. C. Deal of the faculty of the college responded to the toast "To the Babier." The association is now old enough to have quite a number of these youngsters in their midst, and the whole membership is very much interested in each of them.

The chief feature of the luncheon was the message of President Robert H. Wright. Printed after his name on the program was this sentence, "I'll rather be right than be President of the United States." Mr. Wright in his characteristic vein played with this sentence for a few minutes, and then brought to the Association a strong and stirring message about the work and the plans for the college, expressing appreciation for the intense loyalty of the Alumnae and asking for their continued co-operation.

The luncheon served was attractive as well as substantial. The dining room was beautifully decorated. Music was furnished by the Blount Orchestra.

At 8:30 in the college auditorium, the Pitt County Chapter of the Alumnae Association will present Dr. Hubert Poteat of Wake Forest College in a song recital. This is complimentary to the public.

RESOLUTION FOR ADJOURNMENT PASSED BY HOUSE

Proposal for Recess of Month to Six Weeks Will Probably Be Offered in the Senate As Substitute for Resolution

Washington, June 2.—The House today adopted a resolution calling for sine die adjournment of Congress at 7 p. m. next Saturday. The Senate's concurrence is required to make adjournment effective. The adjournment resolution was adopted by a vote 221 to 157.

FORD'S BID MUSCLE SHOALS DENOUNCED

Washington, June 2.—Henry Ford's bid for Muscle Shoals and the attitude of the administration towards it were denounced in vigorous terms by the majority report of the Senate Agriculture committee and at the same time recommended enactment of the amended Norris bill for government ownership and supervision.

The report drafted by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, chairman of the committee, makes repeated references to what it termed Ford's withdrawal as a presidential candidate and announcing his support and approval of the candidacy of President Coolidge and his plan for replacement of the property of the Gorgas steam plant sold to the Alabama Company for $5,472,487.

State Highways To Be Beautified

Greensboro, June 2.—North Carolina's attractions for the automotive tourist will continue to improve if plans of the State Highway Commission, made public in a recent announcement to the Carolina Motor Club, are carried out. Honeyuckle will be planted on all fills and Bermuda grasses on the road shoulders of the entire 6,100 miles comprising the state system. While the announcement states that the commission is considering rather the prevention of washing out than the improvement of scenic qualities of the routes, it is conceded that the planting will be an innovation in the endeavor of a state department. The work is to be started shortly.

POLICY REVERSALS

If the new government of France carries out what is generally believed it will do, to wit, reverse the Poincare Rhur stand, it will commit a grievous error.

Occupation of the Ruhr was undertaken by Premier Poincare for the sole purpose of bringing forcibly to Germany the fact that she must recognize her war debts. The premier's stand was taken even in the face of fierce opposition, which predicted that a new European war would be precipitated, that the advantages gained by France would be lost, and divers other things. None have materialized. Europe slowly but steadily is regaining its feet. The world at large admired French pluck at the Ruhr move, the while condemning the Teuton propensity to tears. The Ruhr occupation not only was justified, but time has proven that it was a wise and judicious move.

If the new government ends the policy inaugurated by Poincare it will automatically nullify the good results which the occupation already has attained. The French people will be the losers.

LIMITING TRUCKS

Every state in the Union is experimenting something of the trouble which New Jersey is endeavoring to combat in the form of overloading trucks that are said to be doing great damage to the roads throughout the state. New Jersey has limited the weight of carrier and load to fifteen tons and it is the failure of truck owners to observe this law that is causing most of the trouble of which New Jersey complains.

The auto truck has come to play an important part in modern civilization. It is doubtful if the transportation of the nation could be successfully carried by the railroads were the trucks to be eliminated at this stage of our commercial development. But the roads are paid for by taxpayers and are for the use of all not trucks alone. All car owners should be made to protect the roads and law enforcement looking to this end should be procured.

A RACE FOR KINGS

With three international efforts to span the globe by air underway, interest quickens at the reports of repeated reverses the aviators of the United States, France and England are overcoming in their mad dash for air supremacy.

It is veritably a race for kings, and it really is too bad that there are so few kings to enjoy it. No horse race ever contained a thousandth of the thrills contained in one mere lap of the round-the-world struggle. Today it is Calcutta, tomorrow a town in Burma. While on whirring wings the intrepid American aviators are leaping snow capped peaks, vast expanses of un navigated waters and lands of alien people. The old theory of the survival of the fittest, enacted in mechanical form with science and brain and brawn pitted against the relentless elements, surely is being borne out.

The fittest will win, and the bravest will win. Possibly the victor will crumble with the goal in sight. At any rate the world is being supplied with thrills aplenty in this race of the ages that makes the famous marathon pale into insignificance.

CITIZENS AND IMMIGRANTS

Immigrants who remain in this country but who do not take out their citizenship papers were roundly scored by a magistrate in a New York court recently. The magistrate denounced such a man and declared that others who pursue a similar course should be deported.

It is an ancient saying that the country good enough to harvest a man is good enough to become a citizen of and fight for in time of war, but it is a saying nevertheless true despite its age. America has a place for the foreign born, but it has no place for the slacker who wins his bread and butter here but who hesitates to become an American. Deportation, as the magistrate outlined, is the only one and sure cure for the evil.

WHAT'S IN THE BUTLER'S PANTRY?

By WICKES WAMBOLDT

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, has launched a violent attack against prohibition. Perhaps there is something to be said against prohibition — there is against everything else — but some of the arguments propounded by Dr. Butler are so foully and so inconsistent that it is hard to believe the good doctor believes them himself.

What is puzzling a large number of Americans today is just what is the real reason back of Dr. Butler's arraignment of the 18th amendment. One guess in that direction is as good as another.

That prohibition is not working very well yet is a truth. It is not working much better than did the airplane when it first was tried. But while prohibition is not prohibiting drinking, it is mighty discouraging to the drinkers, and that is about all that could be expected of it for some years to come. Here is the way it works!

A prominent man said, "I do like a glass of good whiskey. And after the prohibition law was enacted, when some friend would tap me on the shoulder, wink one eye and give his head a mysterious jerk, I would follow him with avid anticipation. But when he poured me out a dose of something that tasted like a mixture of hair oil and gasoline my enthusiasm waned. After a few such experiences and after noting how many people were disabled and dead from drinking bootleg I cut it out."

The trouble with alcohol is that once it gets hooks into a man he can't shake them out. There may be no harm in the occasional glass; but often that leads to the frequent glass; and the frequent glass to the habitual glass. And the habitual glass often leads to drunkenness. And further, unfortunately, there are men who cannot drink at all without becoming fiends incarnate.

A man could not make a success of the average small business in the length of time that the prohibition law has been in effect.

That whiskey is not as obtainable as before prohibition is attested to by the fact that the old toppers are having to fall back on bay rum and the like. They would not do that if they could get whiskey. And if they cannot get it, certainly the average youth cannot get it.

A man who is nationally known remarked, "Whiskey does not hurt me and I like it. But I am willing to forego my drink to remove temptation from the chap who should never touch it."

PUBLIC FORUM

WANTS CANDIDATES TO STATE PLATFORM

The Daily Reflector:
Mr. Editor, I am again asking space in the good old Daily to ask a few questions in regards to our candidates who are asking our support in the coming primary, the seventh of June.

Why don't they come out before the public and tell us what they are in favor of and what they propose to do if elected. The voters are getting tired of voting for men that do not come under any obligation at all and are left to do just what they like, regardless of the voters that put them in office. I for one think it is time for a change. I say let them do like Jim Evans—come out in public and tell the people just where they stand and what they are in favor of doing.
(Signed) A CHICOD VOTER.

FIRST VOTE TO BE FOR WARREN

Mr. Editor:
I am sixty years old and have never yet voted. But I am going to do so this time and cast my first vote for Lindsay C. Warren for Congress. He will get every vote in my family. I have always tried to inform myself on the questions of the day and follow the records of public men. Mr. Warren stands out among men. He is able, clean and strong, and is just the kind of a man I wish to cast my first vote for.

I hope my many friends in Pitt will rally strongly to his cause.
Sincerely,
(Mrs.) BETTIE Z. WHITLEY.

WALTER P. CHRYSLER'S TRAFFIC TALKS

ADAPT THE CITY TO MOTOR VEHICLES

Those who planned our great cities where traffic problems are most perplexing today, knew nothing about automobiles and trucks. They thought in terms of horse-drawn vehicles which are slow moving. Today street traffic is entirely changed and yet the same streets are being used. It follows then that one of the first things cities should plan to do is to widen streets, provide for motor vehicle arteries, confine certain streets to fast-moving motor cars—in a word, adapt the city to motor vehicles.

The small city which has not yet felt any need for traffic relief will wisely look into the future and prepare now for the day when cars will be used to a greater extent than they are today.

After all an automobile is simply an investment in transportation.

Mrs. Housewife!
Do You Favor Food Law Enforcement?

You appreciate the vital importance of pure and fresh drugs—drugs that are prepared and packed under fixed government regulations.

How about foods? Aren't they just as important? Take baking powder, for instance—it is useful only when it produces its maximum of leavening strength in the breadstuffs—bakings that are easily digested, which in turn aid towards perfect health. Lack of leavening strength means flat and soggy bakings which are surely indigestible.

The pure food laws of our country have standardized baking powder—they require that it contain 12% leavening gas at the time of sale to the consumer. Why is it that these laws have not been applied to baking powder mixed with flour, and sold in sacks as self rising flour? Thousands of barrels of self rising flour are annually sold in our southern states without any regulation by pure food measures, except in Texas.

Any grade of flour and any quality or strength of baking powder can be used in making self rising flour and sold to the unthinking public without official criticism.

Numerous baking and laboratory experiments have been conducted by state chemists and other investigators. They found a surprising amount of this mixed flour to be so deteriorated as to be productive only of heavy, soggy bakings.

Do you want to eat foods made from self rising flours that do not contain the necessary leavening strength—foods that are hard to digest and a detriment to health? Do you want the law to protect you in this instance as interested in public health to decide?

Remember Calumet Baking Powder meets every requirement of the law—that it retains its great leavening strength to the last spoonful.

Packed in tin—keeps the strength in.

(Furnished by James William Cobb)

New Orleans, La., June 2.—The first of government monthly crop condition reports was released today and more than confirmed the recent average of private returns by averaging the condition of the crop as of May 25th at 65.6 against 71 last year and the ten year average of 72.8. Owing to the lower condition of the official report than generally expected market worked into new high ground today for this upward movement but there was considerable realizing at the advance, causing values to ease off again however, market received good support on all recessions.

Prospects are for better weather in Oklahoma, Arkansas and North Texas but unsettled weather is likely in other portion of the belt perhaps showers although the official forecast is for generally fair for the Carolinas.

The feature of today's government crop figures is the low average for Texas 66 against 77 last year and 10 year average of 72. Crop developments in Texas will have much to do with the size of this year's crop, as of last year's acreage Texas had in cultivation 14,440,000 acres and the acreage in Texas this year is expected to be larger than last year's area.

June bureau reports expect to show as to the start of the crop are no criterion as to what the ultimate yield may be in 1924 the June bureau was the lowest on record for that date 62.4, but as these occurred a marked improvement during June and July final ginnings for the season totalled 13,271,080 bales exclusive of linters.

According to the government last year's acreage planted to cotton which was originally placed at 38,287,000 acres was revised today to read 38,309,000 acres of which 37,130,000 were picked, the yield per acre being 130.6 pounds against 141.6 pounds in 1922 and the previous lowest on record of 124 pounds in 1921. If the south is to make a big crop this year, the growing plant will have to make a wonderful improvement during the next two months, as it did in 1920, otherwise final results may be disappointing as was the case the past three years.

Although the government acreage estimate for this year will not be issued until July 2nd today's condition figures and acreage of private acreage estimates point to a yield of about 11,000,000 bales exclusive of linters.

Tomorrow is Confederate Memorial day in Louisiana, legal holiday the New Orleans cotton exchange will be closed. H. & B. BEER.

SUCCESSFUL OPENING AT PAMLICO BEACH

The formal opening of Pamlico Beach, which took place last Thursday night, was largely attended by many people from Greenville, Washington, Williamson, Robersonville, Belhaven and other nearby points. The opening dance, with music by The Carolinians of Washington, was an enjoyable feature of the occasion.

The bathing and fishing at this popular resort are sports that are being taken advantage of by the guests of the hotel. Several new fishing boats give ample facilities to those who wish to follow: Sir Isaac Walton's teachings.

The Greenville Girl Scouts left today for Pamlico Beach for a week's outing, and will be taken care of by Pamlico Beach Hotel. Last year's stay there was so delightful that all were eager to return this season.

Among the Greenville guests who registered at the hotel for the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. John McKeithan, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Hooker, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. White and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lee, and child; Gus Forbes, Snodgrass Mills, M. Mills, Sid Davis, Bruce Hooker, Guy Lanier, Erwin Williams, Tom Gorman, Jennings Ragsdale and Mrs. Maggie James.

Due to primary being next Saturday, this week's dance will be held on Thursday night, June 5th. Music by the Carolinians.

HAM-RANSAY SPECIAL

It has been suggested that those persons who intend going to Wilson Tuesday evening by special train to attend the Ham-Ransay revival meetings, meet at the courthouse square between five and six o'clock and march to the station in a body and upon detrainment in Wilson to march in a body to the tabernacle where the meetings are being held.

The matter, it is understood, will be discussed at tonight's and tomorrow's prayer meetings and if you are interested in it, avail yourself of this opportunity to give expression of your feelings in the matter.

But the allurements of material advantage could not turn Jesus from his course. He would not posit his powers. Not once did he perform a miracle for himself—it was always for others. He was quite content to touch the lowest deep of sacrifice if by so doing he could serve and save man. This was his great life principle which finally carried him to the cross.

The next suggestion that came the evil one was that Jesus might establish his kingdom by other means than hard labor and painful death. He might win men by spectacular display of power such as falling unharmed from the highest pinnacle of the temple while the gaping crowd looked on. Men respond quickly to the spectacular. Satan said "If you have divine power use it and the multitudes will rally to you. Use good psychology. Surprise them, startle them, entertain them, usher in your kingdom with flare of trumpets and great and you shall reign without labor and without pain."

But Jesus turned a deaf ear to these enticing allurements and chose the commonplace but divine path of labor. He went about doing good and preaching the Kingdom of God without cheap appeal to the passing fascias of men. He labored in the truth. He accepted it as a principle of living that there is no way of real achievement other than by toil of soul.

Satan marshaled his strength for the last assault, and the most subtle suggestion of all—that Jesus should conform himself in some degree to the moral standards of the world about him. He could strike a bargain with the established order and make it his ally, getting wealth and prestige and fashion and shrewdness and force on his side. Thus he might have a crown without a cross.

SALE OF REAL PROPERTY.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in that certain mortgage executed and delivered by Joseph Anderson to R. C. Cannon and Sons, dated the 5th day of January 1923, and recorded in Book U-13, page 585 in the Register's office of Pitt county, North Carolina, the undersigned mortgages will on Monday the 5th day of June 1924, at 12 o'clock noon expose to public sale before the court house door in Greenville to the highest bidder for cash the following described real property to wit:

A certain tract or parcel of land lying and being in Winterville Township, county of Pitt, and State of North Carolina, and described as follows: Adjoining the lands of Joshua Nobles, John Nobles, Daniel Blount and containing 57 acres, more or less and being the identical tract of land where the said Joseph Anderson has lived for the past twenty years.

Terms of the sale cash and the sale will be made for the purpose of satisfying the terms and stipulations contained in said mortgage deed.

This the 29th day of May 1924.

F. C. Harding, Atty. 3117wkdwp

The philosophy of the world is that the way to get on in it is to stand in with the powers that be, to give allegiance to them and not to a towering conviction that shapes one's course.

But not with Jesus. With him supreme allegiance and supreme obedience belong to God. He refused to substitute the easy way adjustment to an evil order for the divine way of loyalty to God and truth. "Him only shalt thou worship and Him only shalt thou serve."

After setting forth the life principles established by Jesus, Mr. Harrell, swung into a very vivid and practical application of these principles to present day life and urged the young women to carry them in their hearts through life.

The first of these great principles is that expending one's life power for mere personal advantage is immoral. Sin is "self-absorbed selfishness." The material allures us. We are tempted to make every thing in life subservient to salaries and incomes. But this would be a crime against man's higher nature.

He referred in strong terms to the materialistic selfishness of this age as a most serious element in our civilization. The question of trade is predominant in our national life. We open markets, high prices for our products—material prosperity.

Selfishness in material things is not the only form of selfishness. A nation or an individual that is self-centered in any sphere of life is going contrary to the moral order of God. A selfish culture or a selfish democracy is alike displeasing to God. To isolate ourselves from the rest of the world is unmoral. We cannot travel the highway of progress alone. The race of man is bound in a holy unity and we must travel the course of progress in company with all the races of men. The rights we claim for ourselves, we must claim for all men; the blessings we desire for ourselves we must desire for all. We must live and labor for the good of mankind.

That labor is essential to proper living was the second life principle stated by the preacher. There are no short cuts to real achievements. We have short cuts in education and in religion but they are a snare and a delusion. We must dig down to the bed rock of truth and be careful of every detail of life, sparing no toil or pain. Jesus was a worker. His days were full of toil. God himself is a ceaseless worker; then let every man say "My Father worketh hitherto, and I work."

The third principle is that God is man's one necessity. The tempter appealed to Jesus as if success is something one must have, even if it requires a slight sacrifice of conviction. But one does not have to succeed as the world counts success. If God be supreme in his life, if he has God in his heart, he hath attained highest success and hath all things. The most appalling thing in the world is how God is left out of our calculations. We say we believe in Him and then proceed to live as if He were not. We need to live in the consciousness of God and shape our destiny in the light of Him whose presence fills heaven and earth.

Life is unintelligible without God. In this universe where, in creation and human history and heart experience the most imminent and the most momentous fact is God—in this universe one is lost unless he lives in the consciousness of God. The one who has this God—consciousness—lives in the atmosphere of the eternal. His life has broad horizons.

and high incentives. By these principles Jesus lived and by them every man must live who would walk in his way. Live unselfishly, labor patiently, abide in the consciousness of God always.

In his Y. W. C. A. sermon in the evening, Mr. Harrell took his text from Proverbs 31:10, "Who can find a virtuous woman?" For her price is far above rubies." He developed the idea that woman is a distinct factor in civilization and has a distinct contribution to make to society.

Woman has an instinct for the beautiful. Beauty is necessary for the progress of man's spiritual nature. Beauty is strength, it is order, it is harmony. Since Christ set the spirit of woman free, a new kind of beauty has come to be born. It is beauty with a soul. She is a high priest at this altar of beauty and no man can take her place. Let her carry her intuition into every realm of life and make the world more pleasing and refined and lovely.

A woman's heart is made for sympathy. She has been the prophetic of compassion for the world. This is what the world needs today. We need in our civilization more of that kindness which is the peculiar possession of a woman's soul. If she can project her instincts into all the institutions of society future generations will bless the day when she entered into larger opportunities.

Woman has a gift for the ideal. When ideals have been lost in market and council and even in church, they have been preserved about the fire-side where woman was. If she loses this idealism in this new day, civilization is stabled to the heart.

The last distinct excellence of woman is her capacity for faith. She excels in the realm of religion. The speaker sketched beautifully the stories of the women who were drawn to Jesus when he was on earth. Christianity makes its strongest appeals to women. She is a mighty factor in its spread today. Beauty, compassion, idealism, faith. These are the soul of civilization and it is the gift and province of woman in large measure to give our civilization its soul. She has ministered to its heart. She has been

Tom Meighan Has Host Of Friends

Probably no screen star numbers among his acquaintances so many people in the public eye as Thomas Meighan. It is a tribute to the likeable personality of the handsome Paramount player that flappers and philosophers, governors and ball players, authors and concert singers are proud to number him among their friends.

John McCormack, the singer, is a close friend of Meighan's. Tom would as soon wear orange on St. Patrick's Day as miss one of the New York McCormack concerts, when he is with in commuting distance of it. At Pinchurst, N. C., recently during the governor's conference, attended by the chief executive of practically every State in the Union, Meighan, who was there for a rest, was sought out by the statesmen and treated them to a pre-release showing of his newest picture.

The friendship of Meighan and George Ade is well known. This started when Tom was playing the masculine lead in Ade's stage comedy, "The College Widow." Incidentally it was during the run of this play that Meighan met Frances Ring, also a member of the cast and now Mrs. Meighan. The Meighan-Ade acquaintance has resulted in such popular pictures as "Our Leading Citizen," "Back Home, and Broke," and "Woman-Proof."

"Pied Piper Malone," will be shown at White's theatre today and tomorrow.

W. A. New Says Tanlac Restored Strength Spell of Flu

"Well, sir, it's a fact, before I had finished one bottle of Tanlac, I began to straighten right up," recently declared W. A. New, 311 West Trade St., Charlotte, N. C., timber agent for the Piedmont and Northern Railroad Co. "About two years ago the flu put my stomach and nerves to the bad and I left me terribly shaky and run-down. A railroad friend of mine put me on to Tanlac and I bought six bottles. My wife was run-down, too, at the time, so we started on Tanlac and in a short time we were eating everything and not having a sign of stomach trouble. "The six bottles put us both in good shape. I soon regained all my lost weight and strength, and have been using Tanlac off and on ever since and it never fails to do the work. We are seldom without Tanlac now in our house." Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

I am a Candidate For Sheriff of Pitt County

In offering myself to the voters as a candidate for Sheriff, I realize the fact that I am a comparatively young man, and not so well known throughout the county as the other candidates. I have permission and am pleased to refer to the gentlemen whose names appear below as to my moral character and fitness for the office.

The office of Sheriff at this particular time is a highly important one. The law gives the Sheriff an exceptional power to enforce the law, and, if conscientiously and diligently employed, the Sheriff can put down much of lawlessness and prevent crime. If elected, I shall faithfully discharge the duties to the best of my ability with all the power vested in me.
