TRIAL CHICAGO YOUTHS SET FOR AUG. 4

Search For G. O. P. Vice-President Still Continues

STATE WINS IN FIRST SKIRMISH CHICAGO CASE

CHICAGO, June 11.—State Attorney Robert Crowe today won his first skirmish for the early trial of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessed kidnapers and slayers of Robert Franks, when the trial was set for August 4.

Both the boys plead "not guilty" when arraigned before Chief Justice Caverly.

Crowe demanded a speedy trial asking that July 15 be set as the date but attorneys for the defense objected.

Judge Caverly fixed July 21 as the date for disposing of all preliminary motions and set the trial for August 4.

LONG IS LEADING RACE FOR LIEUT. GOVERNORSHIP

Returns Still Indicate Second Primary for Several State Offices

While returns from ninety-four counties, sixty five of which are complete, failed to shake the sixty three thousand majority thus far recorded for Angus Wilton McLean over J. W. Bailey, his opponent for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Saturday's State-wide primary, additional returns advanced the lead of J. Elmer Long, of Durham, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, over his opposition, R. R. Reynolds, of Asheville, and T. C. Bowie, of Ashe.

While both Long and Reynolds have issued statements putting in claims for the nomination, on the strength of an agreement between themselves which would eliminate a second primary, the indications on the face of steadily mounting returns favor the nomination of Long who in 1,410 precincts out of the total of 1719 in the State, leads Reynolds by more than 90,000 and Bowie, the third man, by about 15,000. Sharp advance of Bowie was one of the noticeable features of the additional returns yesterday.

The Long vote, with only 309 precincts to report, less than one fourth of the State, is 64,928; Reynolds, 55,804; Bowie, 50,017.

Second Primaries. Returns yesterday merely bore out the early prediction that second primaries will be necessary to determine majorities in the races for Attorney General, Commissioner of Labor and Printing, and Commissioner of Agriculture, although there is a possibility that the widening margin by which W. A. Graham, Commissioner of Agriculture, is leading his field, may make the prospects of a race against him decidedly discouraging. Graham's vote on the basis of 1,335 precincts was 76,940, to 58,760 for Latham, and 31,565 for Park.

LINK MILLIONAIRE MURDERERS WITH OTHER CRIMES.

FREEMAN LOUIS TRACY & CHARLES REAM.

Charles Ream, Chicago taxicab driver, who was kidnaped by two armed men on November 20, 1923, taken to the outskirts of Chicago and mutilated by a gland operation, has positively identified Richard A. Loeb, one of the kidnapers of Robert Franks, as one of his slayers, and has partially identified Nathan E. Leopold, Jr., the other slayer, as the other. At the same time, the police sought to link the sons of millionaire families with the slaying of Freeman Louis Tracy, University of Chicago student, who accepted a lift from two men in the night of November 25, 1923, and was shot to death and drowned from the speeding car.

Convention Will Receive Platform Report Tonight

Organization of Convention Perfected Today; Frank Mondell, Permanent Chairman, Delivers Address; Coolidge Be Asked to Designate Vice-President

Convention Hall, Cleveland, Ohio, June 11.—The vice presidential nomination was still an unsolved problem today in the Republican National Convention. Conference after conference and talk upon talk served to eliminate some names and raise others to positions of more prominence but actual agreement seemed as far off as on last Sunday day when Frank O. Lowden former governor of Illinois, and choice of many delegates, made his initial announcement that he would not accept the nomination if it was tendered him.

Solution was sought through resumption of the series of conferences today almost as soon as party leaders were up but it was conceded that leaders might ask Coolidge to abandon his "hands off" policy and indicate his choice in order that a little group of bi-ocular eyed men might not have to gather together early tomorrow in a hotel room to thresh out the problem as in the selection of Warren Harding for presidential nomination in 1920.

Conferees among leaders in the forenoon developed little or no unanimity of opinion and as one of those high in the councils of the party expressed it, "We are ready to be hoaxed."

The convention came to order at 11 o'clock and went through more routine preliminaries today while the platform committee finally threshed out its difficulties and many leaders closeted in hotels conferred upon the unsettled vice presidential situation. Permanent organization was perfected and Frank W. Mondell, permanent chairman, was duly installed without a hitch, convention rules were adopted and the official roll of delegates perfected.

In a short address, Chairman Mondell repeated amid cheers the Coolidge rally cry sounded yesterday by Temporary Chairman Burton. As on yesterday the convention gave the best vocal approval to the plea for a majority in Congress who will remain within the party when the roll is called in the Senate and the House.

President Coolidge has justified the confidence that "Inspired" his nomination for Vice-President at Chicago, and the greater confidence reposed in him since taking up the duties of Chief Executive is the "outstanding fact" in the political situation. Frank W. Mondell, of Wyoming, declared today in his address as permanent chairman of the Republican National Convention.

Mr. Mondell added an appeal for Republican majorities in Congress "in name and in principle," saying that every serious fault of recent legislation would have been avoided had the President had that strength in House and Senate.

The Chairman assailed the Democrats for their "utter lack of fixed and definite principle of policy, save that of muckraking and obstruction" Referring to the situation in the last Congress, when insurgents joined with Democrats to control legislation, Mr. Mondell said that never before had the necessity for dependable party majority and definite party responsibility been so clearly demonstrated.

Nominations for president and vice-president will be made tomorrow. Who will have the second place is as much undetermined as ever despite the all night conferences but the Hoover, Harbord and Curtis booms seemed at least holding their own in the lead in a large field.

The resolutions committee was called to meet at 10 o'clock to receive the report of the sub-committee. It was not certain that the report would be ready at that time as the committee desired to communicate with President Coolidge on the World Court plank and perhaps several others. The committee wanted the president's views as to the power the World Court would have for the enforcement of its decisions.

The platform draft is of 5,000 words. Charles B. Warren, Detroit, chairman of the drafting committee said that there would be no minority report as the committee had unanimously approved the draft. Warren said that the full committee would be requested to act on the draft early enough to permit it to be presented to the convention tonight.

Prohibition was not mentioned but law enforcement formed the basis of one plank. The only plank in which there was reference to the Ku Klux Klan was a declaration reaffirming the party's support of the constitutions and guarantees of religious, civil and political liberties.

The oil inquiry was dealt with under the head of orderly government and mentioned both parties and assailed dishonesty and corruption the existence of which the party condemns and deplors.

The investigations, the draft declares, shows a willingness by both parties to traffic in official favors. Office holders have shown a willingness to sell and persons a willingness to buy with money and influence, says the orderly government plank, and this must be stopped by prosecution as the present administration is now trying to do.

On the agricultural question the committee pledged an effort to restore an equitable balance between agricultural prices and industrial commodity levels.

The immigration policy defining the new quota law was strongly recommended but no reference was made to Japanese exclusion.

One plank was devoted to praise of President Coolidge and in another further tax reduction and a tax revision commission to formulate a scientific policy were urged. There was no suggestion of rates or methods as to how it was to be brought about.

Declaration of Philippine Independence was set forth in the statement to the effect that relinquishment of American control over the islands would be against the welfare of both the territory and the nation.

There was no mention of the soldiers' bonus.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERT IN SPAIN URGES FILMS TO HELP FARMERS

Madrid.—An appropriation for educational farming films is sought by Jose Luis de la Roma, one of Spain's leading agricultural experts as an aid to the agricultural development of the country. He points out that much has been done in other countries in this direction, while here it has been neglected in spite of the fact that agriculture is the principal industry of Spain.

Senor de la Roma urges that the most modern methods of all branches of farming and breeding, butter and cheese making, irrigation and scientific fertilization, be shown by films throughout the land and argues that such a campaign would inculcate love of country in farm youth and check the immigration to industrial centers.

German Churches Need Pastors.

Bejin.—The tendency to withdraw from the churches of Germany for political reasons having disappeared, these organizations are gaining daily in strength and membership. As a result there is an increasing demand for pastors, and theological students have better prospects of finding employment, on graduation, than the young men who study medicine or the law. These two professions still are overcrowded.

LADY HAMILTON WATCHED NELSON DRAW HIS PLANS OF BATTLE

Poole, England.—A naval officer staying at the old inn, "Lord Nelson," situated on the quay here, recently discovered some curious scratches on the wainscot of his room. Investigation revealed these to be plans of naval battles drawn by Lord Nelson who stayed in that inn with Lady Hamilton. Other marks and scratches have been identified as dating back to the days of the sea-dogs of the Elizabethan age.

LOCAL BOY WINS FIGHT FOR DIPLOMA

Trustees Voted Last Night to Terminate Suspension of Reed Gaskins and Give Him Diploma

Chapel Hill, June 11.—Joseph Reed Gaskins, of Greenville received his diploma today with the rest of the other men of his class as a result of action of the Board of Trustees here last in terminating the suspension imposed upon the young man by the executive committee of the faculty for having taken two drinks of whiskey a few days ago.

Advocating the cause of Gaskins, Jack Allsbrook, president of the student body, William G. Gwyn, president of the senior class and Earl Hartsell, prominent member of the class, appeared. Dr. Howard Wagsstaff, chairman of the executive committee of the faculty, appeared for the faculty and opposed any action by the trustees.

The controversy was fought out along the lines of strict upholding of the faculty decision and the question of the interpretation of the laws of the trustees ordering expulsion in the case of the use of intoxicating beverages, but was settled upon a compromise offered by George Stevens, of Asheville, which approval the action of the executive committee of the faculty in suspending Gaskins, but terminated the suspension imposed upon him by that committee.

Gaskins was suspended a few days ago after information had been presented to the committee concerning J. D. Smith, a senior, who was found in a drunken condition by Jack Allsbrook. In the absence of a quorum of the Student Council on the Hill, the matter was left to the faculty committee.

Gaskins, the student council members stated, had only had two drinks and had gone quietly to bed. They declared that he caused no commotion, and was not intoxicated. They said further that his character was good, that he had been successful in class room work, and had worked his way through college.

CUBA EXPERIENCED MUCH LABOR UNREST DURING PAST WINTER

Havana.—The greatest number of strikes in its history have been recorded in Cuba during the past winter season, culminating in a general strike in Havana that practically paralyzed the city's business. On different occasions the island's three principal railroads have been tied up for days at a time and the walk-outs have extended to almost every industry. Bombings of street cars, wrecking of trains and shootings accompanied by loss of half a dozen lives have marked the clashes.

Only in 1920 was there anything like the 1924 situation and 1920 was the year of the "Dance of the Millions," as the Cubans termed the boom times right after the world war and it also was a presidential year. Prosperity, the fact that this also is a presidential year, better organization of labor and an influx of Spanish and Italian immigrants containing a large radical element, are blamed for the 1924 strikes by government officials who have studied conditions. When sugar sells around five cents a pound the island is rolling in prosperity and labor wants more, and with elections coming on labor expects more consideration by government officials and politicians in general, they say.

Carlos Loveira, chief of the immigration bureau of the department of agriculture, commerce and labor, who has investigated many of the strikes and successfully mediated in some of them, threw up his hands when asked how many there had been this year. But he rapidly ran through a list of industries and found hardly one missing and hardly a town of any size that had not been involved.

Railroad workers, port workers, cane cutters, sponge fishers, brewery workers, carpenters, bakers, street car men, taxicab drivers, delivery men, chocolate factory workers, employees in the building trades and the glass industry were among those he mentioned. Labor won some signal victories and lost disastrously in other cases. The employees of the United Railways of Havana tied up the road completely for three days and won their demand to affiliate with the general railroad brotherhood. In the other two railroad strikes the men got practically nothing. Street car men in Santiago stayed out for more than a week and gained nothing, but in Camaguey they compromised on a 15 percent wage increase. Union recognition was lost in both of these strikes. The general strike called in Havana to support the dock workers collapsed after four days without their gaining a point, but in the various smaller strikes labor won many victories in its demands for the eight-hour day and higher wages, and United Railway employees, by threatening a second strike recently, obtained a wage increase.

The Havana dock strike was marked by the government putting convicts to work on the wharves under scoldier guard and by city policemen in uniform driving trucks that hauled freight to and from the docks.

spite of the fact that the summer school runs for 12 full weeks without a break. The college is now on the basis where one term amounts to as much as any other, and the summer term is equivalent to a regular term of the year's work. A large number of students who were here during the past year have returned and are planning to work during the summer so as to save a year in securing their degrees. This is possible under the new arrangement, and a great many students are taking advantage of it.

Mr. L. R. Meadows is director of the summer session, and most of the members of the regular faculty are here. They are supplemented by several outstanding teachers who are here simply for the summer term. President Robert H. Wright leaves tomorrow for Elizabeth City where on Thursday he brings his commencement speaking to a close for the year by delivering the address at Weeksville High School in Parquotank county.

Berlin Mannequins Complain. Berlin.—The mannequins of Berlin, spurred by the splendid business done by the stores here this spring, are talking of organizing a union. The young women contend that something "must be done for art's sake," because it is "terribly difficult to strut about all day like the wife of a millionaire, and then have sauerkraut, cheese and sausage and may-be a small glass of beer and go to bed in a room in the attic somewhere which we call home."

Graduate Nurse Tells How Tanlac Helped Many of Her Patients

Seattle Nurse Is Firm Believer in Tanlac and Recommends It

"From my long experience as a professional nurse, I do not hesitate to say I consider Tanlac the most efficient and natural stomach medicine and tonic to be had. It is undoubtedly nature's most perfect remedy," is the far-reaching statement given out for publication, recently, by Mrs. I. A. Borden, 425 Pontius Ave., Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, Chicago.

"I have used Tanlac exclusively for seven years in the treatment of my charity patients," said Mrs. Borden, and my experience has been that for keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly, and for toning up the system in general, it has no equal.

"About a year ago I had a lady patient who could not keep a thing on her stomach fifteen minutes, not even water. I prevailed on her to try Tanlac and after the sixth bottle she could eat absolutely anything she wanted without the slightest bad after-effects.

"I had another patient who simply could not eat. I got him started on Tanlac and by the time he finished three bottles he was eating ravenously and able to work.

"These two instances that are typical of the wonderful merits of the medicine. My confidence in Tanlac is unlimited."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills, for constipation made and recommended by the manufacturers of Tanlac.

HUMANENESS A LOST ART

Humanity lost much during the great war, but that which should most deeply wound its pride was the loss of the belief in its own humaneness. Once upon a time, and that time was not long prior to 1914, men believed that real progress was being made toward abolition of war. They fondly flattered themselves that they were not as other men had been in previous ages. They were more humane, they thought. They devise the Hague conference, which with full and free representation of the nations, discussed pleasingly and with some show of conviction rules for the mitigation of the cruelty of war. To be sure, war had never been cruel, that is, comparatively, up to that time. War had proceeded by certain rules of honor and chivalry. There were prejudices against the use of chain-shot and agreements to grind to an edge not more than a few inches of the tips of sabres. And the Hague conference went at it systematically to modify all rules safeguarding humane principles of warfare. It made agreements about dropping explosives from balloons and airships; about ruthless destruction of property; about the rights of non-combatants; about caliber of guns and construction of missiles. There existed a peculiar horror against the use of poisonous or asphyxiating gases. In fact, this latter method of warfare was regarded as too barbarous to be contemplated by our refined civilization. To be sure, the Chinese in ancient time had employed it. They had dropped over the battlements of their walls kettles filled with burning tar and sulphur, a comparatively harmless form of chemical warfare but regarded by the highly civilized modern reader of fiction with peculiar horror. These Chinese of olden times had no claim to be called civilized.

Then came the war. Who cared for Hague agreements? What method previously held in abhorrence was not seized upon if it promised anything of effectiveness? What refinement of cruelty ever known in the past was not, by the exercise of modern skill and genius, raised to a degree of cruelty never dreamed of before? And the result is that in the discussions of preparedness there is now no mention of humane methods. The weight of the bombs to be dropped from the air is to be limited only by the sustaining power of the airship. The recent meeting of the American Chemical Society in New York City followed by the exhibition of chemical industry indicated that chemical experts are directing their researches toward the perfection of war materials as much as to the service of the arts of peace. All sorts of predictions are made as to the possibilities of suffocating entire armies, exterminating the crews of ships and even blotting out the inhabitants of vast areas of an enemy's territory.

In the matter of man's inhumanity to man, the world seems to be making rapid progress.

A NATURAL BORN THIEF

By WICKES WAMBOLDT

A respected citizen made the statement just recently that he had been born a natural thief. "When I was a boy," he said "I just loved to steal for stealing's sake. I used to wish my parents were the kind that would co-operate with me and accept the spoils.

"I have to be grateful today for the leniency the folks in our neighborhood showed me. They used to scold me whenever they could catch me, but out of consideration for my parents they let it stop at that.

"But one day an old woman jarred my teeth loose, so to speak. She caught me stealing a padlock from her chickenhouse door and she leveled a finger at me and said, 'You are going to land in the penitentiary yet.'

"I went away and sat down and had a long thing over those words. Maybe she was right. I suddenly realized that thieving was a pleasure to me. What would happen to me if I grew to be a man with that tendency to steal? Probably the old lady's prophecy would come true.

"I saw that I was harboring a criminal desire which had not got me into trouble solely because of the consideration of the neighbors. I determined that the time had come to break the spell.

"But it was easier said than done. Stealing had become an obsession. I found that I had a craving to take things—that a strange thrill came over me when I saw a chance to purloin anything.

"I made a vigorous fight. But the temptation remained with me even as I grew into manhood.

"At last I decided I should have to make a stupendous break away of some kind, that I must not, only try to be honest, but I must actually go out of my way to be honest.

"But one day a final straw broke the back of my incubus. I ran after a street car and gave the conductor my nickel which he had not collected. That simple act shattered the spell. I found that I had arrived at the place where I hated dishonesty and actually loved to be square."

Now that is an interesting case. If that boy had been the son of people who had not stood so well that the neighbors were reluctant to wound them, he would probably have been in jail before he was fifteen years old. From there he no doubt would have gone to the penitentiary, to have become one of our dangerous criminals, because he was clever and brainy.

The incident gives us food for thought with regard to being kind and tolerant and helpful toward the boys around us who are not growing up just as we think they should.

London to Open Its Doors To The Visiting Advertisers

London.—All delegates to the International Advertising Convention in London in July will be given passes for all the London Underground Railways and for the bus services. Lord Ashfield, chairman of the directors of the Underground railways, has also extended an invitation to entertain the overseas delegates at Hampton Court during the week of the convention.

Several other British companies have sent invitations to the convention for various trips and entertainments, but the committee has had to decline many of them as the time has already been filled by the extensive trips to be made to Belfast, Glasgow, Edinburgh, Leeds, York, Manchester and other large cities. These excursions will be made during the week following the convention, and the railroad companies are arranging special trains for them.

The convention delegates will be allowed to choose the trip they desire to make, and select the particular industries they wish to investigate. All the advertising clubs in the cities to be visited are arranging programs of entertainment for the delegates, in addition to tours of the cities and the surrounding country.

The Lord Mayor of York, with the aldermen, will receive the delegates on the arrival of the party at York and entertain them at dinner in the historic York Mansion House. At Edinburgh the party will be taken to the Robert Burns country, and a trip into the Highlands will be made from Glasgow.

"Jimminy Crickets, ol' pal, you just ought to taste it!"

—the fresh, unspoiled taste of youth finds a delicious difference in the genuine Ward's Orange-Crush—and passes along the word to his best friend.

DON'T buy a bottled drink that's just "something cold." Ask for Ward's Orange-Crush—or if you prefer Lemon or Lime flavor, ask for Lemon-Crush or Lime-Crush.

There's a delicious difference, born of Ward's secret process. Imitations don't compare.

Ward's Crushes are more than merely delicious—they are wholesome and have a real food value. Read our formula. Here it is: To the natural fruit oils of oranges, lemons and limes are added citrus fruit juices, carbonated water, fruit acid, U. S. Certified food color and pure cane sugar.

ANTI-GLARE LAW NEEDED

Glaring headlights are still a common cause of accidents on highways.

All motorists should be courteous enough to dim lights if necessary when approaching another car.

Anti-glare laws need to be enforced and made more effective.

What is needed is more cooperation between motorists and more courtesy. Just because a man obtains possession of a motor car is no reason why he should lose any of those finer sensibilities which mark the gentleman.

New York has a law on its statute books that the motorist is obliged to get out of his car and if necessary help lead a frightened horse pass the car. Sounds funny now that it is obsolete, but some of that spirit wouldn't do any harm today. Always be careful and courteous.

ing to $134.01.

The committee is very anxious to have all pledges paid promptly as it will eliminate correspondence on the part of Mrs. Williams, treasurer.

WILD DOGS ARE MENACE TO SHEEP OF AUSTRALIA

Melbourne, Australia.—The menace of the packs of wild dogs that roam the Omece plains and tear out the throats of sheep was described today to the Victorian minister for lands.

A deputation from the Gippsland Shires and Development Association asked the minister for an increased subsidy to facilitate the destruction of the dogs. The minister promised that the government would do all it could to help the settlers.

Councillor Braid of Omece Shire explained that sheep dogs had been lured from the homesteads by female dingoes (prairie wolves). These dogs had crossed with the dingoes, producing a strain that proved a greater menace to sheep than the pure dingoes, because of the mongrels' knowledge of the ways of men and sheep. One settler had lost 350 out of 700 sheep.

I wish to express to the voters of Greenville Township my thanks and appreciation for the support given me in Saturday's primary. To those who supported my opponents I have only the kindest feeling.

New Orleans spots steady 40 up, middling 2940.

Cotton Letter.
New Orleans, June 11.—The market was higher today owing to a bullish semi-monthly private crop report.

It is reported that returns to the National Ginners Association average the condition of the growing crop at 62.5 against 65.6 by the government as of May 25th, showing a deterioration of 3.1 points and indicating a yield of about 10,460,000 bales, exclusive of linters.

Reporting for week ending yesterday, Washington states "most favorable week of season for general cultivation and growth in the cotton belt."

The weather bureau reported for the past 24 hours "little change in temperatures occurred except cooler in the Carolinas, where temperatures were four to ten degrees below normal. Light to moderate showers with 1 to 2 inches at a few stations occurred from western Tennessee southeastward across eastern Alabama, Georgia and Florida, with a few widely scattered showers in the Carolinas.

Prospects are for the continuance of favorable weather over the greater portion of the western half of the belt, especially in Texas but scattered showers are likely for the eastern portion of the belt, where dry, arm weather is desired.

Inasmuch as the first week following May 25th was generally unfavorable for progress of the crop and second week the best since season started for cultivation and growth of the plant, the general impression is that the crop has held its own at least during the past two weeks.

As yet there is no improvement in the domestic textile trade situation, New York reporting the cotton market to be ruling quiet without any special change yesterday.

Because of the expected change in the administration, the political crisis in France apparently shows some improvement, which is reflected in some recovery in the franc and the great excitement in Japan seems to be subsiding, although there is talk of boycotting American goods.

A private bureau, Washington, estimates May consumption of lint cotton in the United States at only 478,000 bales against 621,000 last year.

The Weather.
Light to moderate rains Georgia, rain Alabama. Highest temperatures western belt 90 to 98; not quite so warm over eastern and central belts. Forecast eastern belt part cloudy western belt generally fair.

Weekly Weather and Crop Government Report.

Washington, D. C., June 11.—Most favorable week of season for general cultivation and growth in cotton belt. Soil moisture sufficient in nearly all sections and normal sunshine with absence of continued rains favored cultivation. Cotton made fair to very good progress in Texas, condition generally rather poor, wet soil delayed chipping, stand and size irregular. Favorable for growth in Oklahoma, condition fair, crop late but well cultivated. Stand irregular and mostly poor. Cotton improved in Arkansas and Louisiana, some weevil reported in northwestern Louisiana. Progress was mostly fairly good in Mississippi and Alabama, stands generally poor. Weevil becoming numerous in southern Alabama. Progress was generally good in Georgia, Tenn., the Carolinas and southern Virginia, though too much rain occurred on the coast of North Carolina and moderate rains in South Carolina prevented necessary cultivation. Progress was very good in Florida, condition fairly good except in west where heavy rains delayed cultivation. Condition of cotton mostly good in Southwest. Ranges pastures and truck made satisfactory progress.

Muscle Shoals Project Dates Back 100 Years

Sheffield, Ala.—While the development of Muscle Shoals is but a recent project in the minds of most people of the United States, the history of intent to develop this vast potential power dates back a century according to records under observation here.

The first act of Congress with reference to the Shoals was passed when Congress gave its consent to the operation of an act passed by the Alabama legislature on December 30, 1823, to improve navigation in the Coosa river, in the center of the state, and to aid in connecting with the Tennessee river in the north.

The company formed under these acts by Congress and the legislature was unable to sell its stock and on May 23, 1828, Congress passed another act ceding 200,000 acres of land in north Alabama to the state so the shoals could be improved.

An amendment to this latter act passed June 23, 1836, permitted the state to sell this land for less than $1.50 per acre, which was the minimum price then allowed by federal statutes. It is said some of the land sold for as low as 25 cents an acre.

The total cost of navigation facilities to 1890 was $2,101,726.50 and up to 1915 for operation and care was $1,406,372.30, making a total of $4,598,098.80 on Muscle Shoals for navigation alone.

In 1899 Congress gave its assent for the first time for the construction of a dam and power station.

Senator Pays Tribute to Miss Courtot

Miss Marguerite Courtot, who plays the leading feminine role in the Elmer Clifton production, "Down to the Sea in Ships," which comes to the theatre on Thursday, has a long and enviable record of achievement in the silent drama. Although she already has hordes of admirers, her exceptionally splendid work in this romance of old whaling days bids fair to place her on the topmost rung of the ladder of fame.

Miss Courtot is a native of New Jersey, and has been complimented by no less a personage than Governor Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey for her exceptional work in this picture. Senator-elect Edwards, who witnessed a pre-release showing of the production, was enthusiastic over the picture and the fact that a Jersey girl had played so important a role in it.

During a recent illness, when Miss Courtot was operated on for appendicitis, the Governor sent her a large box of orchids with the following message: "I have just witnessed your splendid performance in 'Down to the Sea in Ships' and am grieved to hear of your illness. I wish you a speedy recovery and a long and successful career."

In "Down to the Sea in Ships" Miss Courtot is seen as Patience Morgan, the daughter of a haughty and God-fearing old Quaker. She is in love with her childhood playmate who is not of the Quaker faith. Her father exacts from her a promise that she will marry no one but a whaler, a man who has launched his harpoon into a mighty "bull" whale.

The many trials and heartaches which this young couple undergo in order to comply with the stern decree of the father furnishes some amazingly dramatic scenes, in which Miss Courtot displays a histrionic ability that places her high in the rank of great artists.

The role of the quaint little Quaker miss is one well adapted to Miss Courtot's winsome and appealing type of beauty, and the costumes which she wears, which are the self-same gowns by the old-time Quakers of New Bedford, enhances her natural charm and appeal.

CROFTERS FROM HEBRIDES TO SETTLE PACIFIC ISLAND

Vancouver, B. C.—Settlement of Graham Island, of the Queen Charlotte group in the Pacific ocean near the province of British Columbia, with colonists from the Hebrides, off the coast of Scotland, is planned by the Canadian government.

Graham island has about the same area as the entire Hebrides group, 3,000 square miles. It is like Ireland in the absence of snakes, and like Scotland in being watered by lakes and indentations of the sea. The soil is fertile, but covered with heavy timber. This timber has been the chief resource, and during the world war the island was occupied by producers of airplane spruce. The climate, warmed by the Japan current, is equable and the snowfall is scant.

Fisheries are expected to be a bountiful support for the transplanted islanders. Duck and goose hunting is plentiful, Graham being a resting place for the flocks on their way north or south.

TO THE VOTERS OF PITT COUNTY

I take this opportunity of making my first statement to the public since the primary of June 7th. I want to say to all voters in Pitt county that I made a clean open and fair campaign for the nomination for the office of Register of Deeds, without malice or criticism of anyone, and I have no regrets or bad feeling toward any citizen of Pitt County. I further desire to express my very great appreciation for the very loyal and faithful support of my friends and constituents throughout the county.

I am not in the least sore over my defeat—on the contrary I feel very much gratified to know that I have so many loyal supporters in Pitt county and I trust that the number of my friends may grow larger and larger in the future. I call on every democrat in Pitt Co. who voted for me in the primary to give their loyal support to my friend, Mr. J. C. GASKINS in the election in November.
