Army Airman Is Racing With Sun Across Continent

Dawn-Dusk Flight Across Country Is Attempted Today

Cheyenne, Wyo., June 23.—Lt. Russell Maughan passed Ogallala, Neb., fifty one miles west of North Platte at 1:16 p. m., Mountain Time.

St. Joseph, Mo., June 23.—In fine spirit and with his plane in good condition after flying 1140 miles since three o'clock a. m., Eastern Standard Time, Lieutenant Russell Maughan landed at the flying field south of here at 10:52 a. m., Central Standard Time.

He hopped off again at 11:37 for Cheyenne, Wyo.

Mitfchell Field, N. Y., June 23.—A lone airman, Lieutenant Russell L. Maughan, this morning began his race with the sun in the hope of spanning a tenth of the earth's circumference before his path is darkened.

Two unsuccessful attempts to cross the American Continent between dawn and dusk have not dampened his ardor and following a light breakfast the trail blazer took the air in his 275 horse power single seater plane at half a minute to three o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

Some few clouds were in the sky but the Eastern star behind glowed as a guide and the moon lighted his way toward and over the Alleghenies which he crossed before full daylight.

150 spectators watched his departure.

Quincy, Ill., June 23.—Lt. Russell L. Maughan passed over this city at 9:38, Central Standard Time.

St. Joseph, Mo., June 23.—Lt. Russell L. Maughan landed here at 10:52, a. m. He came from the northwest flying low. Before landing he circled the field twice.

"Yes, We Will Have Music" Democratic Nat. Convention

New York, June 23.—If police search those who enter Madison Square Garden for the National Democratic convention, it will be for piccolos and bass drums, rather than for pistols and bombs. Directors of the convention have announced emphatically that one band, and one band only will be allowed within hearing distance of the Garden while the sessions are on.

Vocal eulogies with chorus will be permitted to native son sponsors of dark-horse presidential candidates. But there will be only one piece of band music at a time. Trumpet, drum or mechanical noise-making accompaniment will be taboo.

George T. White, chairman of personnel, and John T. Hughes, sergeant at arms, have been instructed to seize and impound, for the duration of the convention, all musical or noise making instruments that delegates may attempt to smuggle into the auditorium.

The official band, however, will undergo a grueling test. It will be on duty every time delegates are in session, will open and close each formal convocation and it will play before and after the nomination of each of the score or more of Democratic presidential aspirants.

PRAYER MEETING AT FIVE POINTS TONIGHT

There will be prayer meeting tonight at 7:30 at Five Points, Julian Joyner, leader. These meetings are growing in interest daily, and everybody is invited to attend. Bring your unsaved friends.

OLD TIMERS DO NOT FEAR CHANGE OF TWO-THIRDS RULE

Say Century Old Rule Has Been Unsuccessfully Attacked at Every Convention

New York, June 23.—Veterans among the Democratic hosts gathering for the national convention, refuse to get excited over the agitation for abrogation of the virtually century old two-thirds rule. Party history shows, they said, that the rule that Democratic nominations were made only on the two-thirds vote had continued to be the subject of discussion at almost every national convention since the original adoption and that repeated efforts to change it had been without success.

The two-thirds rule was adopted in 1832 but at that time it only applied to the vice presidency as Andrew Jackson was unopposed for presidential nomination.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN SENATOR PAT HARRISON. CORDELL HULL

Above is the interior view of Madison Square Garden decorated for the Democratic National Convention which will open its sessions there tomorrow. The insets show U. S. Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, the temporary chairman of the convention who will deliver the keynote address, and Cordell Hull, of Tennessee, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, who has been in charge of all convention arrangements.

HULL LEARNS DEBTS PAID; KEELS OVER

Chairman of National Committee Confined Today Suffering From Exhaustion Over Work On Convention Arrangements

New York, June 23.—Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is confined to his bed today recovering from heat prostration, exhaustion from overwork in handling final arrangements in connection with the convention, acute indigestion and shock sustained when he learned suddenly that the Democratic National Committee had been able to apply all its debts and would enter the campaign with a clean slate.

Strenuous hours began to tell on the chairman yesterday. As a grim incident he toppled out of his chair at his desk last evening just as the finance committee reported that all debts of the committee had been paid.

Mrs. Hull put her chairman to bed and guarded him today against visitors, sympathizers and those seeking tickets to the convention.

Physicians expect that Mr. Hull will be sufficiently recovered to take the gavel when the convention goes into session tomorrow.

Atlanta Men Shot In Skirmish With Prohibition Agents

Greenville, South Carolina, June 23.—E. L. Ivy and Herndon Thomas, Atlanta, business men are in a local hospital suffering from bullet wounds which they said were inflicted at 4 o'clock this morning in an exchange of shots between Federal prohibition agents and the party of tourists from Atlanta. The shooting occurred on the highway between this city and Hendersonville. Other members of the party were A. J. Martin and J. M. Foley, neither of whom were hurt.

They declared that the parties blocked the road in front of their car as they were coming down the mountain and one of them rushed to the car and seized a canteen of water which was on the seat.

Four Lives And Property Damage Heavy In Miss. Valley Storm Late Sunday

CHICAGO, June 23.—One of the worst summer storms in years swept the entire upper Mississippi Valley late yesterday taking at least four lives and doing hundreds of thousands of dollars damage to property. Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota and Illinois were all hit by high winds and hard rains.

Three were killed in Chicago and one in Minnesota. A fleet of sailing yachts were caught off shore and half dozen had to run before the gale with bare poles.

NEGRO FUNERAL IS FEATURED WITH BIG 'CUTTING UP'

Alex Bate, negro, suffered serious knife wounds while Robert Battle was stabbed in the back in a "cutting up" at a negro funeral at St. Peter's church yesterday afternoon. Alex Boyd and Mathias Boyd charged with assault with deadly weapons are being held in the Pitt county jail awaiting further investigations.

According to reports all the negroes were drinking and they had had an argument which resulted in a fight. Alex Battle was badly cut. His throat was lashed and he had other cuts about his body. He was brought to the Smith-Skinner Emergency hospital where he was given medical attention. His condition is considered critical and little hope is entertained for his recovery. Robert Battle's condition although painful is not considered serious.

Seven negroes were in the "mix up," but all succeeded in evading arrest with the exception of the Boyds. It was reported that some had guns, pistols and other "deadly paraphernalia."

M'ADOO SPEAKS TO DELEGATES FROM BALCONY OF HOTEL

Says Democrats Must Recover Government From Privilege and Debauchery

New York, June 23.—Progressive Democracy will recover the American government from privilege and debauchery and set it again on the high road of moral standards, William G. McAdoo declared today in an address of greetings to delegates from nine western states, Hawaii and the Philippines who came across the continent on two special trains. Addressing the delegates from the balcony of his uptown hotel, the candidate for president told them that his enemies had spread the word that after a few ballots his followers would turn against him.

Cries of "No, no" came from the crowd which choked Fourth Avenue for over a block.

"I know you didn't come here to betray me," McAdoo said.

"We are last ditchers" shouted the delegates.

"We are not only last ditchers but are for Democracy triumphant," McAdoo replied.

When the former Treasury Secretary referred to recovery of the government from the privileged interests, a voice from the crowd shouted, "Don't forget teapal dome."

"We will soak the Republicans' dirty scandals from now until election day" Mr. McAdoo replied.

Final Arrangements Convention Opening Are Finished Today

CONFERENCE YOUNG PEOPLE TO BE HELD HERE DURING WEEK

Over 250 Delegates of the Eastern Carolina Diocese to Be in Attendance

The Y. P. Conference of the Diocese of East Carolina will probably bring to Greenville the largest number of young people ever welcomed to a religious convention in this city. Over 250 delegates are expected, and practically every Episcopal clergyman in the Diocese. We know that Greenville will show its spirit of hospitality in the warmth of its welcome to these young people.

Several delegates have written to say that they will arrive today. These will be assigned to the homes of the local congregation. Those arriving Tuesday and later will be assigned to the friends of other denominations who have most generously opened their homes to entertain them.

The various committees will have representatives at the High School auditorium which has been kindly offered as headquarters for the conference by Professor Rose. Tuesday, 10:30 a. m., at St. Paul's church, the Rev. J. N. Bynum of Belhaven, will conduct a christian social service conference. At 1 o'clock luncheon will be served at the High School after which Mrs. Rena Walker, of Creswell, N. C., will preside over the Y. P. Conference. At night, 7:30 p. m. the Rev. Gordon M. Reese, will take charge. Dr. Reese is the senior Canon of the Cathedral in St. Louis, Mo., and will soon endear himself to his hearers.

On Wednesday at 7:30 a. m., the corporate communion for young people will be celebrated at St. Paul's church. At 9 o'clock and until 1 o'clock, Canon Reese will conduct the work at the High School. At 1 o'clock the delegates will be driven to the Country Club to enjoy a barbecue dinner, followed by games and recreation under Canon Reese's direction.

Canon Reese will also take charge of the Wednesday night meeting, after the confirmation service at St. Paul's church Thursday morning, 7:30 a. m. the Holy Communion, at St. Paul's church.

9 a. m., 1 p. m. Conferences at the High School conducted by Canon Gordon M. Reese.

1 p. m. Luncheon to the delegates at the High School.

We are unable at present to give fuller particulars of the various items to be discussed at the conferences until after Canon Reese's arrival.

Allied Conference To Meet In London

London, June 23.—Prime Minister MacDonald told the House of Commons this afternoon that his conference with Premier Herriot, of France, was a preliminary to an Inter-Allied Conference which will meet in London probably on July 16.

Eleventh Hour Arrivals Enter Into Pre-Convention Activities; Greatest Civic Parade in History of City Is One of Features; Smith and McAdoo Both Confident of Nomination

New York, June 23.—The great quadrennial jubilee of the Democratic Party is passing its final fever stage of pre-convention rivalries and enthusiasm. Fifth Avenue and the hotel district of Manhattan resounded today with the tramp of cheering delegates and the blare of marching bands while outrunners from the forces of the principal candidates scurried everywhere bringing the new arrivals to him to consolidate with the legions who had already taken a stand behind their favorite.

From the balcony of his hotel, William G. McAdoo, told a group of western delegates to stick to the last ditch and they shouted back that they would.

New York hoistly acclaimed its allegiance to its favorite, Al Smith, in the greatest civic parade in the history of the city. He was cheered by the crowds wherever he went.

Both McAdoo and Smith men continued to claim the victory as the last state delegates perfected their convention organizations but followers of a dozen other candidates only redoubled their activities and repeated the prediction that neither of the two candidates would be nominated.

Indiana friends of Samuel M. Ralston announced, after one look into the situation, that they were determined to disregard his request and would place his name formally before the convention.

Meanwhile convention officials were putting the finishing touches on the Madison Square arrangements setting everything ready for the fall of the gavel at noon tomorrow.

Eleventh hour arrivals to the Democratic National Convention today, turned into teeming hordes and seething campaign headquarters found themselves in the midst of a bewildering clamor of conflicting claims of various candidates and arguments over controversy questions of policies.

The currents of Sunday's maneuvering brought no clear trend indicating the course of events after the convention assemblies tomorrow except that its sessions will likely be prolonged by fights on the floor over platform planks and possibly some rules as well as the battle for the presidential nomination.

With three of the most prominent active candidates on hand, managers are putting still more pressure today behind their efforts to consolidate their supporters for the opening of the convention and squadrons from other camps are doing likewise.

Senator Oscar W. Underwood, Alabama, reached New York yesterday but did not join his workers until today preferring the seclusion of a friend's home on the outskirts of the city. McAdoo and Smith forces, meanwhile, continued their conferences.

A tentative platform is almost ready for consideration by the resolutions committee but the group of leaders which drafted it recognized that a number of its planks—especially those dealing with foreign relations—Continued on page 4

THE COST OF CARELESSNESS

Not since 1906—the year of the San Francisco catastrophe—has there been such a heavy fire loss in this country as in 1923, when losses totaled approximately $503,000,000. In spite of this, the average fire insurance rate has declined from $1.03 per $100 in 1914 to 90 cents per $100 in 1923.

President Smith of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, before the annual meeting of that organization, declared that 75 per cent of all fires could be prevented by exercise of ordinary care. He added: "No country, however rich in created wealth, can continue to support such an enormous drain on its resources. Our wealth of today will surely be affected if we do not, as a nation, dam this annual waste."

The people rely upon insurance as protection against financial losses and overlook their own individual responsibility to prevent fires which destroy thousands of lives annually in addition to physical property.

WHAT A LOT OUR FATHERS MISSED!

It is a source of constant wonderment to the present favored generation how our forefathers managed to get along without the thoughtful, all-embracing solicitude of a parental government.

They seemed to indulge a false pride in what they were pleased to look upon as self-reliance. Their outlook on social welfare did not extend much beyond their own line fence, although it is true that if a neighbor's horse fell into a pit they helped him to recover it. If a neighbor fell in, they "sat up" with him. If hard times threatened, our forefathers tackled them within their own households and applied the remedy of work and self-sacrifice. Most of them were great Bible readers, and instead of appealing to human "authorities" to help them in time of need, they applied to The Book. One text that seemed to impress them ran whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might. But they missed the beneficence of bureaucracy, to which they could turn in time of need.

How different it is with their children of today, who can always find a government department, a bureau, a board, a commission, a council, a committee, or whatnot to which they can consign all their troubles for solution. In times of financial stress and social distress we are prone to revert to "the good old days," but how much our forefathers and mothers missed by not living in this year of our Lord!

LITTLE LEISURE

Although we all, with Sancho Panza, pray that blessings may light on him who first invented sleep, it is a time-expensive invention! A London statistician has found that one-third of our lives, because we can not be said to enjoy sleep except in anticipation.

Sleep is then the largest consumer of "the days of our years," with work the second largest. We can accept the statistician's statement that we sleep and work two days out of every three of life's span. A third is left for education, eating, recreation, reading and the scores of other duties and demands of life.

With so little time unconsumed by work and sleep fortunate are those who find in their business in life their joy and the means of their spiritual, intellectual and even physical development; but millions have to find all this development, if they have it, outside of their vocations, since their work is of such a nature as to require only routine attention, and does not give the meven the satisfaction in the finished product. Yet, with the shortened hours of labor, they have been given a greater amount of spare time in which to devote themselves to the things that make for the cultivation of their real selves.

The one thing of greatest value that the machines have given us, besides relief from back-breaking labor, is spare time. They recover some of the time exacted by sleep. They give daily to millions a free time which is as long as the work time or as the sleep time. The working days of our years are less than a score, and if by reason of strength they be more, they still leave another score of years in which to "approach perfection" in the use of the time devoted to sundries, idling, walking, playing and reading. For the many who have to spend eight hours a day at labor merely to earn a living, the right use of leisure time thus becomes quite the most serious problem in personal as well as social progress.

Bryan is for McAdoo but hopes it will not do the latter any good.

Men who act serious all the time are considered funny.

We're enough of a pacifist to be strenuously opposed to the dominance of general humidity.

There are said to be 10,000 known varieties of fish, but there are more "poor fish" than any other kind.

San Francisco woman says her husband spanked her six times in one day. Experts say this is too often.

A New Yorker wants the job of posing in a monkey cage to show how closely man resembles a monkey. Hardly necessary to give such a demonstration.

Possibly Canadians would have endured the postal strike more equanimity had it come on the first of the month. Then the monthly bills would have been delayed.

Because a doctor made a slighting remark about the golf game of four senators, Senator Robinson knocked him down. Perhaps he remarked that their game was on a par with their senatorial service.

World's Educator And Preacher Will Address Negroes

Rev. C. F. Cheelzli, colored D. D., M. A., Ph. D., Dean of the International Department of Languages, Theology, History, Ethics and kindred sciences, delivered a splendid sermon in the First Baptist church, for negroes last evening. He will deliver another sermon in the same church this evening at 8:15 o'clock. The public is invited.

Rev. Cheelzli was born in Abyssinia, Eastern Africa. He was educated at the universities of Oxford, Paris and Berlin and a master of fifteen languages. He is a priest of the Ethiopian church and temporary dean of the International department of languages and kindred sciences at the University of Princeton.

In the course of his address and sermon last night he said "The part demonstrated to the negro by the white man in social and moral ethics is of such a vast good that we must be apprehensive of the ethic that the negro's best economical place is for his interest to stay in the southern states until his development, moral, religious and educational has become of a racial independence fitting him for Africa."

THEME IS UNIQUE AND FASCINATING

Rejuvenation, and a mental battle between a woman's duty to herself and her country and happiness with the man she loves, are among the many features of the modern society drama, Frank Lloyd's production of "Black Oxen," a First National Picture; to be the center of interest at White's theatre, starting June 30th.

Adapted from Gertrude Atherton's novel of the same title, a volume which made history as the most popular bit of fiction during 1923, the screen version of "Black Oxen" gives life to a theme unique and fascinating because of its directness and rare entertainment quality, and Mr. Lloyd has spared neither effort nor expense in making his visualization one of the big plays of the year.

Graine Griffith and Conway Tearle are featured in "Black Oxen," with a supporting cast numbering several thousands with ten well known screen players in the principal secondary roles. Miss Griffith plays the dual character of Madame Zatianny, an European bred American woman of 58 who has been rejuvenated and appears to be no more than thirty. Mr. Tearle is cast as Lec Clevering, a New York newspaper feature writer and budding playwright, who falls in love with the charming Zatianny.

NOTICE: North Carolina, Pitt County, In the Superior Court. R. D. Whitehurst, W. H. Woolard and M. O. Blount and others, vs.

J. J. Carson and others. To the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County: The Board of Drainage Commissioners of Pitt County Drainage District No. Two respectfully shows unto the court: (1) That on February 28, 1920, the engineer and board of viewers filed their final report in this proceeding (S. P. 2101); that by some inadvertence or mistake, the final report filed failed to specifically refer to a spring or branch which was to be constructed so as to drain the area Northwest of the Taylor Road and to avoid cutting the canal across the ridges or islands known as Long Buck, Rum, Battlesnake and other islands. (2) That the engineer and board of viewers intended to include the said spur or prong as a part of the drainage scheme; that the same is included and shown on the profiles prepared by the engineer of the district, and perhaps inferentially made a part of their final report; but the same is not specifically referred to in the report signed by the engineer and board of viewers. (3) That the construction of said branch, canal or prong or spur is necessary to adequately drain the territory intended to be drained, and unless the said prong or spur is constructed there will be a large body of land which was intended to be drained and which is classified on the assumption that this spur is to be constructed, which will receive no benefit whatsoever. (4) That the Board of Commissioners of the district have fully investigated the matter, that they have caused the superintendent of construction, Mr. H. A. Rivers, who was one of the engineers who designed the system of drainage, to make a further investigation and report to them, and that after such investigation and upon the report made by Mr. Rivers, they have adopted a resolution, copy of which is hereto attached and asked to be taken as a part hereof. Wherefore, the commissioners pray that an order be made correcting the final report of the engineer and board of viewers and authorizing the Board of Commissioners to proceed to construct said prong or spur in accordance with the intention of the Board of Viewers, and as is necessary to adequately carry out the drainage scheme r system. The foregoing petition having been filed with this court, notice is hereby given that the court will in the court here on Wednesday, July 9th at 10:00 o'clock a. m. hear such interested parties who desire to be heard in opposition to the order demanded in the foregoing petition. It is ordered that said petition and this notice be published in some newspaper published in Pitt county once a week for three weeks prior to date of hearings. Witness my hand, this June 17, 1924.

Allan Dwan Production of Rex Beach's

One of the biggest stories ever written by an author is Rex Beach's "BIG BROTHER." Read one paragraph of this story and you can't stop. You're simply held spell-bound by its breathless action, its great theme. For it has something you find in only one in a thousand stories—a soul. It is the story of a gangster's regeneration through the influence of a girl and the boy he's sworn to protect. It contains more action than Nick Carter, more heart-appeal than "Humoresque."

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, June 23.—The breaking of the hot wave in the Southwest by further right to moderate rains in Texas, excessive in extreme Southern portion of the state, resulting in cooler weather in the Southwest, depressed market today.

According to the weather bureau, moderate to heavy precipitation occurred Sunday in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi and North Carolina, and moderate precipitation Monday in scattered localities in all cotton-growing states except Alabama.

Liverpool and American markets were unfavorably influenced by the more favorable weather and crop reports from the South.

Liverpool cabled: Undertone poor in consequence of favorable crop reports and free offerings of the actual Manchester cabled: Cloth market healthier, with inquiries greatly increased, business expanding.

Bombay cabled: Indian monsoon unexcited and generally light.

The official forecast for tonight and tomorrow is: Oklahoma, unsettled cooler east portion tonight; East Texas, part cloudy, probably local showers west coast, continued warm; West Texas, generally fair, continued warm.

Compared with the high level of last week when the heat wave was on, market declined about 100 points and as there have been excessive rains in the coast district of Texas markets may be low enough for present pending future climatic developments. The heavy rains in South Texas will tend to delay maturity of early cotton in that section and may serve to stiffen the basis for early deliveries of new crop cotton.

Meanwhile some districts of the South Atlantic states have been receiving too much rains.

While it is possible for the crop to show some improvement for the month compared with last month's low condition of 65.6 the general condition of the plant is still below that of last year for June 25, which was 68.2, and probably much below the ten year average of June 25, which was 74.8.

You can get the most food value out of wheat by eating bakings that are made from good plain flour. A dependable baking powder must be employed or you do not get the full nutritious value of the wheat—nor will your bakings be as palatable and easily digested.

The same results cannot be had if you use Self Rising flours, which are improperly packed in porous cotton sacks or bags, thus allowing absorption of moisture from the air. Food authorities and physicians agree that bakings that do not raise properly are bad for health. Such foods are hard to digest and in time cause stomach trouble.

Mothers who are interested in the proper growth and health of their children (and all mothers are) should never use anything but a good brand of plain flour and a time-tested leavener such as Calumet—the economy Baking Powder

Calumet has more than the ordinary leavening strength. It raises every baking to its height of nutritious value. It is pure and dependable—don't look for a substitute—there is none.

Use Calumet and be positive of wholesome nutritious and economical foods.
