Convention Appears To Be Hopelessly Deadlocked

Supreme Efforts To Gain Vote Put Forth By Leaders

Hopeless Deadlock Between McAdoo and Smith Apparent After Thirty-Five Ballots Have Been Cast; Michigan Withdraws Vote From Leaders To Support Favorite Son; McAdoo Forces Trying to Swing Missouri Delegation; Bryan Presents Bouquets as Approval of Action Mississippi Delegation; After 38 Ballots Convention Adjourns Until 8 O'clock Tonight

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 2.—The first break in the big block of 90 votes of the New York delegation which forms the cornerstone of Governor Smith's strength in the Democratic National Convention came today on the thirty-seventh when two members of the delegation cast their votes for McAdoo and started a big demonstration for the former Secretary of the Treasury. Smith's supporters said that the votes were cast by men who were McAdoo's personal friends but the McAdoo forces got as much encouragement out of it apparently as if they had won over an entire state delegation.

At the conclusion of the thirty-eighth ballot the convention adjourned until 8 o'clock tonight.

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 2.—Driving ahead at full speed to make the greatest show of strength they could muster, Smith and McAdoo forces went out today to roll up their scores in the hope of reaching a point of decision in the Democratic National Convention.

The McAdoo forces, using all their powers of persuasion, won the Mississippi delegation with its 20 votes away from John W. Davis, of West Virginia, and brought them into the McAdoo columns where they agreed to stay for five ballots to give McAdoo a chance to show what he could do before the delegation looked for another place to light.

Missouri was hanging in the balance with the McAdoo forces working tooth and toenail upon the caucus when Mississippi went over and in the next moment Oklahoma, who had been giving Owen a "Breeze" as a favorite son, announced their return to McAdoo.

The challenge from Davis people on the floor was drowned in the demonstration which started and a decision was left to be made later. While all the McAdoo demonstration was at its height, the McAdoo people working on the Missouri delegation found that the most that they could get was 16 votes and it looked as if the McAdoo vote there was deferred for a time at any rate.

Michigan added a new element to the day's balloting by returning to Senator Ferris. Suddenly this morning Michigan snatched their votes back from the leaders among whom they had been dividing them and cast them again for Ferris. It was, of course, a maneuver which the delegation was taking to the logical place while developments were in progress and an opportunity to ride with a winner awaited.

In the McAdoo demonstration, which swept the convention floor the leaders and those preponderantly in the lead were women. William Jennings Bryan expressed his approval of Mississippi's return to the McAdoo fold by dividing among the women of the delegation an unofficial sun flower, a red rose bud and a faded carnation.

Madison Square, New York, July 2.—As contending forces wheeled their positions to renew the struggle at today's session of the Democratic National Convention there were strong indications that the Smith and McAdoo people were preparing for their utmost exertions.

Overnight McAdoo scouts were making heroic efforts to bring back the Mississippi and Missouri delegations to the McAdoo columns claiming that the psychological effect would win them new additions.

The Smith people frankly prepared to give their candidate a "ride" and make an effort to run up his total. Their plans were to make the utmost showing and capitalize the value as developments of the night indicate.

The object of the McAdoo people is to make a supreme effort to get back from the slump which struck their fortunes yesterday and carried them to a new low ebb.

John W. Davis people were planning to acquire all that they could while it was going on and other dark horse camps seemed disposed to let Smith and McAdoo breeze it out between them, as one leader put it, confident that neither could get the required two-thirds. The dark horse strategy was to sit back and let the two leaders convince the convention that there was no hope of breaking the deadlock.

Reports of an impending break from McAdoo in the Texas delegation were denied even by the little handful who would welcome it. One delegate from Texas who favored the break announced that he was sure that the delegation would stand by McAdoo until he gave the word releasing them.

All three leaders on the third ballots showed losses because Michigan took the 30 votes which it had been dividing among them and cast them once more for Ferris, her favorite son. On the thirty-third ballot the leaders stood McAdoo 404.5; Smith 318.5.

Warren Bell's "Arrival" Is Mystery To Sheriff Jackson

On November 4, 1921, Warren Bell, a negro, residing in this county was sentenced to serve five years in the state penitentiary for box car robbery. Since this time efforts have been made to have him pardoned but the petitions were all disapproved by the sheriff, officers and mayor.

The sheriff, knowing Bell personally, and knowing him to be a "bad negro," went himself to the Governor with a petition, asking that he be kept in the penitentiary, and be made to serve his full sentence.

Prior to the charge of box car robbery, Bell served a two-year sentence on the Pitt County roads for selling liquor. He isn't a desirable citizen and the officers refused to take any part in having him pardoned.

FISHERIES COMMISSION BOARD WILL MEET TUESDAY, JULY 8TH

The Fisheries Commission Board will meet Tuesday, July 8th, at 11 a. m., at Morehead City.

At the April meeting of the board the question of fishing seines near bridges over the Pamlico and Tar rivers was considered at some length and further consideration was deferred until the July meeting, and the Secretary was instructed to notify citizens at Washington, Grimesland and Greenville that the board would consider the passing of rules relating to fishing near these bridges in order that they may be heard if they desire to do so.

Any one desiring to have anything to say in the matter mentioned above will be given an opportunity to be heard at our July meeting.

Prior to the 38th Ballot William Jennings Bryan Addressed Convention Explaining His Stand for William G. McAdoo; Says This Must Be A Progressive Fight and McAdoo Best Fitted to Head Party Ticket; Others Mentioned As Being of Presidential Timber Madison Square Garden, New York, July 2.—At the beginning of the 38th ballot William Jennings Bryan asked unanimous consent of the convention to explain his vote for McAdoo.

He got up, mounted the platform and began "when I am through I hope you will feel that I have used my time for the benefit of the Democratic party. I have only one desire and that is that we shall win this next election; I only desire that because I see no other hope for the nation except victory of the Democratic party."

As I have listened to the pleadings of the friends of various candidates I have thought that if we could have a campaign long enough to let every voter get as well as acquainted with the candidates as those who are advancing them it would be easier to make a selection.

I am only one out of twelve delegates from the State of Florida, and only one out of 1098 in the Convention. I only ask that you consider the reasons that have led me to the conclusion that I have reached and give my conclusions such weight as you think they deserve.

I shall not mention any candidate whom I shall criticize—I only want to speak of some whom I am glad to commend. When I am done with that I want to speak of something more important.

In the first place we have candidates in abundance. In every state we could find Democrats who is worthy of being president.—In some states we will find more than one who could fill the White House with credit.

"In Florida" Bryan continued, "we have Dr. Murphee."

"We want Smith" shouted a delegate from New York.

"We never heard of him" shouted another.

"Those who have not informed themselves of the nation's great men ought to be silent till I have a chance" retorted Bryan. "He would fill the office with credit to himself and bring honor and credit to the nation. I travel North from Florida to North Carolina, and mention one of the best Democrats in North Carolina—Josephus Daniels. He made a magnificent Secretary of the Navy. He is sound on every question, and would grow every day of the campaign as the people knew him better."

Third, another southern man, Senator Robinson, of Arkansas. He measures up to every requirement of the Presidency. Here are three men of the South.

This will probably be the last convention of my party at which I may be a delegate."

At that there was applause.

Gospel Message Special Carrying Large Delegation Attends Ham-Ramsay Services in Wilson; One of Greatest Events Ever Recorded in This Section of the State

Despite the inclement weather, joy and happiness reigned supreme on the "Gospel Message Special," which left Greenville yesterday afternoon nearly seven hundred strong, to attend the Ham-Ramsay services which are being conducted in Wilson.

Enroute to Wilson.

Promptly at 5:30 o'clock the Greenville and Pitt county delegations arrived at the Norfolk Southern station where they found nine coaches awaiting them. Each coach was in charge of a group leader as follows: Group 1, L. L. Kittrell; Group 2, Jim Applewhite; Group 3, Henry Renfrew; Group 4, Johnnie Clark; Group 5, J. B. Kittrell; Group 6, R. T. Burnett; Group 7, R. C. Flanagan; Group 8, Dr. C. L. Outland; Group 9, K. W. Cobb. Each coach was quickly filled. Enroute to Wilson song and prayer services were conducted. It was by far one of the most inspirational events ever conducted in this section of the state, when nine coaches filled with people interested in the saving of souls, themselves filled with the love of God, journeyed thirty-eight miles on a through train singing the praises of God. It was a joyous and happy occasion and one which will never be forgotten by those present.

Arrival in Wilson.

Upon the arrival of the "Special" in Wilson, the Greenville delegation was given a cordial welcome by a Wilson delegation, Mr. Ramsay and Mr. Rogers. They were then arranged in "pairs" and forming a parade which caused wonder and at the same time admiration, they passed through the main streets of Wilson, passed the court house on to the tabernacle. A special section of the tabernacle had been reserved for the "visitors" and they were made to feel at home from the moment of arrival. Those who had assisted Mr. Ramsay so ably being held in Greenville was invited into the choir.

Mr. R. C. Flanagan had charge of the Greenville delegation at the tabernacle. After delivering a short

WHY NO LIGHTS?

Several times in the past few months we have called attention to the number of detours and bridges under construction in the country which are unlighted at night and which are a constant danger to those who find it necessary to travel the roads.

Our efforts to correct this evil, however, have met with no success and as a result another accident was added, to the already large number, on the Bethel highway on Monday night. The accident occurred at a bridge which is under construction and which at the time was unlighted. A traveling man, unfamiliar with the road, did not observe the detour until it was too late and the result was that he ran his car over the edge of an embankment. Fortunately he received only slight personal injuries, but if those in charge of the lighting of these detours and places under construction on our highways continue to be negligent sooner or later the accidents will prove more serious and it will be too late to explain why the lights were not in place.

To fail to light these places which endanger the life and property of travelers is nothing short of criminal negligence and those responsible for such action should be made to suffer the consequences.

A NATION-WIDE PROBLEM

The big metropolis has little in common with the crossroads villages. When the same problem is encountered by both large and small communities it is so greatly multiplied in the city that the city problem loses its relation with the rural.

The one possible exception is perhaps the traffic problem. The rapid increase in numbers of the automobile has created a nationwide traffic congestion which is hardly less serious, relatively, on rural highways than on the busiest city thoroughfares. The limited road facilities in the country and small towns are as heavily taxed by the rush of traffic as are the broader city streets. Toward the relieving of our national traffic congestion at least the large and small communities can work in union and mutual helpfulness.

Money study and cooperation are necessary to the solution of our new transportation problem. Money is required to build new roads more roads, better and wider roads. The widening of streets in the cities and towns involves the condemnation and purchase of private property before construction work can be undertaken. City planners and road builders with foresight and the necessary money a century or more ago would have solved our problem before it arose. It is doubtful whether we have the foresight and money to solve the traffic problem of the future. The scientific study of traffic will aid much in alleviating conditions. Parking restrictions, classification of traffic police supervision and routing are bringing results in some places. Scientific study is also building better roads for less money and taking better care of future demands.

Cooperation is most essential in the untangling of our transportation jam. Those who must cooperate are the motorists, the pedestrians and the street car companies. The motorists may have to surrender some of their parking privileges, the pedestrians must be reconciled to greater caution in crossing busy streets and the street car companies may eventually be compelled to abandon their tracks and bulky cars for the trackless gasoline bus.

If time is money most of us are millionaires every Sunday.

Only four more months until time to wish it was summer again.

A grouch is just an ordinary mortal with his self-pitying eyes fixed on his sore spots.

It may be that golf is less popular with bachelors because they haven't a home to get away from.

Another invention needed in this sweaty kind of weather is something that will keep a kiss from skidding.

It may be that some people lack backbone because too much of it has been concentrated in the knot at the top.

Even though one is opposed to tipping, it is worth the price to avoid having to speak out when the waiter isn't looking.

We shall not grow enthusiastic until some statesmen comes along with a scheme to make the world perfect without soaking the taxpayer.

At that, the man who is on speaking terms with the president probably feels no more important than one on speaking terms with the traffic cop.

NAMES PROMINENT DEMOCRATS FIT TO HOLD PRESIDENCY

"Don't applaud," interrupted Bryan, "I may change my mind. I don't want to pay back today a debt of gratitude I owe the south," Bryan continued when the laughter had died down.

"The south has helped the nation secure every economic reform which has been secured for the last sixty years. Some have said that you can't nominate a man from the south. We have had two wars since the civil war, and the sons of those who were the grey and those who wore the blue were ready to die together on the battle field. The south furnished as many soldiers in the late-world war as it furnished to the Confederacy. It furnished more money to do our part in the world war than it furnished to the Confederacy. It is time that we should have shut for ever the voice that says we should not recognize the south's full participation in the party triumphs. The man who says that the north will not vote for the south labels the north. What the nation wants is a man whose heart beats with sympathy for the common people, and it doesn't care where he was born.

The first northern man I want to mention is Samuel M. Ralston, of Indiana. He did a progressive Democrat with a noble record for work done for the state and nation through the Democratic party. My next man from the north is E. T. Meredith of Iowa. He was in President Wilson's cabinet and was an honor to that cabinet. He has long been identified with agriculture and knows the farmers needs. They comprise the largest group of our population, and are the ones in the most distress today. Their condition presents a pitiful appeal to the nation and the Democratic party has tried to answer that appeal. My next northern man has the misfortune to be my brother. You needn't take my word for his value; take his record and the fifty thousand he got in Nebraska. He protected the people against the gasoline monopoly, and those who controlled coal in Nebraska. I now go to the northwest and mention the name of a man from Montana, Thomas J. Walsh. As a lawyer he has no superior; as a statesman he has few equals, and as an investigator he is above them all.

The building rocked from a roar of approval.

"Under his leadership," continued Mr. Bryan, "More gigantic corruption had been disclosed than in any other investigation. He raised the lid and let the people see the Republican machinery lubricated with oil. Out of that investigation will come one priceless benefit to the nation. For years we have been trying to show the Republicans that these men who contribute large campaign funds are purchasing favors at public auction.

"Name the real one in mind," shouted a man from the gallery. "Don't rush me," returned Bryan, "I shall not disappoint you when I am through.

I now want to present a brief argument for one whom I think fits into this occasion. It is necessary that we shall make a progressive fight. We have been challenged and cannot decline. That is an issue that must be settled. It is necessary that our candidate's stand on the liquor question shall be such that every mother may know her home is protected. I have given the names of men whose position on law enforcement cannot be doubted. We must not doubt, however, our candidate's position on progressive issues. To fix our party's sentiment, record and platform and appealed to the only vote that we have any chance of securing our candidate must be progressive. If we should nominate a reactionary—I consider such impossible by this convention. He could not draw the reactionaries from their party or hold the reactionary Democrats away from the Republican ticket. We have tried it before. At Professor D. D. Wallace, Wofford deserted us on election day. This year they shall not take us to the mountain top and promise a land that they do not own.

Now, I mention one who would make possible a progressive platform, a man who would make possible the election of a progressive. The man to whom I refer is William Gibbs McAdoo.

MAGYARS SLOW TO HONOR POPE WHO LENT THEM AID

Budapest.—The memory of a 17th century Pope is to be honored by a monument in a public square in the capital of Hungary. This belated recognition is offered to the memory of Pope Innocent XI in return for the valuable help he rendered the Magyars over 200 years ago in their struggles against the Turks. The memorial will be erected in the square where once an old fortress stood. The inception of the scheme is due to Cardinal Cseroch, who desired to commemorate his golden mass in this way.

Typhoid Fever Is Still Being Reported

Two weeks ago we had a very strong article calling the attention to the typhoid fever situation as it then existed. We predicted that there would be many more cases. These have come and the same conditions which existed in the other cases exist now. Do not wait until the disease strikes your community to be prepared, but take the treatment now. Clean up and protect your family and loved ones.

"Singer Jim McKee" Unlike Any Earlier Hart Production

One of the most appealing of human relations is the friendship of man for man. There is something noble and inspiring about the attachment of those two classical heroes, Damon and Pythias, that has come down as one of the enduring episodes of history.

A similar situation is to be found in the story of "Singer Jim McKee." William S. Hart's latest production for Paramount, Singer Jim's friendship for his partner, Buck Holden, and Holden's love for Singer, is portrayed in an appealing manner. It was a great friendship, the sort that could survive moments of anger, and be the stronger and more tender for the storm.

It was the sort of friendship that one finds out in the mountains, where human relations are sincere and lasting, and bound with the strength of the mountains themselves.

It is an element of appeal that never fails to grip an audience, and certainly the theme has never been portrayed more beautifully in any photoplay than in "Singer Jim McKee," coming to White's theatre Thursday.

GOVERNMENT CONDITION REPORT

The government makes condition of crop as of June 25th as 71.2 against 65.6 a month ago. Acreage planted 40,403,000 acres against 38,709,000 last year with an indicated crop of 12,144,000 bales against final crop of last year 10,128,478.

DAILY COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, July 2.—The market declined sharply today as a result of returns to the Government as of June 25th indicating a larger crop than generally expected. For the first time in four years prospects are for an adequate supply of American raw cotton which the world will likely need for next season.

According to the Government report, the acreage planted to cotton this season is the largest on record, amounting to 40,403,000 acres vs. 38,709,000 last year of which Texas is credited with 15,505,000 acres, an increase over last year of 8 per cent. Washington reported the condition of the crop at 71.2 vs. 65.6 last month 89.9 last year and the 10 year average of 74.8, indicating a crop of 12,144,000 bales exclusive of linters, whereas general expectations were for a forecast of about 11,500,000 bales. For the first time since June 25th the crop has undoubtedly improved further as the substance of today's weekly Government review was favorable.

WEEKLY WEATHER AND CROP GOVERNMENT REPORT

Washington, July 2.—Summary of weather and crop conditions for the cotton region during the week ended Tuesday July first.

Progress and condition were very good in Oklahoma—though crop late; some weevil reported in Southeast. Cotton made very good to excellent advance in Arkansas, fields generally clean; improvement steady. Dry, hot weather favorable for cotton in Louisiana. Growth was fair to very good in Mississippi and Alabama, though local shedding occurred in Mississippi, stands irregular in Alabama with some weevil increase. High temperatures and ample sunshine promoted growth in Georgia where progress excellent, fields well cultivated, weevil held in check. Growth fair to very good in Carolina as a rule, though excessive rains unfavorable in some sections. Early plants beginning to bloom in North Carolina generally favorable for cotton in Florida, Tennessee and more western states.

W. W. Lee to Conduct Prayer Services At The Baptist Church

Great interest has been shown in the Wednesday night prayer meetings at the Memorial Baptist church during the past several weeks. The attendance has increased to such an extent that the meetings had to be moved to the main auditorium. These meetings are being conducted by the laymen and great evidence of the working of the Holy Spirit is witnessed at every meeting. Men who have never attended prayer meetings before are leading in this work and a great blessing is received by all those present. If you have not been attending these meetings you are certainly missing a wonderful blessing, and everyone is urged to be present tonight and every Wednesday from now on. The following leaders will have charge for the next three meetings. Tonight, July 3rd, W. W. Lee, Wednesday night July 10th, Swanson Graves, Wednesday night July 17th, D. J. Whitchard. All of these are young men who have recently come out and out for Jesus Christ and are helping in the effort to rid Pitt county of the devil.

Every church member is urged to attend these mid-week prayer services. If there is one who is not a member of a church a special invitation is extended to meet with us. We will make you feel at home, and assure you a great blessing will be received.

The meeting starts promptly at 8 o'clock and lasts for one hour. Come rain or shine. We don't stay home for other purposes when it rains, why should we stay home from our church services? We should pray now as never before and God will answer our prayers according to our earnestness and faithfulness.

Supreme Efforts To Gain Votes Put Forth by Leaders

Madison, Square Garden, New York, July 2.—After balloting through two more long sessions, the Democratic National Convention adjourned late last night with its fight over the Presidential nomination still a draw.

Despite material losses and threats of more, McAdoo still was in the lead in the thirtieth and last ballot taken before adjournment, with Smith climbing steadily, but still short of even a third of the total delegate strength.

John W. Davis, by picking off stray votes here and there and two or three solid state delegations, had gone into third place, and the friends of Ralston, of Indiana, were taking renewed hope from assurances given them of a swing to their candidate once the deciding break in the balloting comes.

The backers of the Indiana Senator declared he would be satisfactory to the McAdoo forces, should Mr. McAdoo release his delegates, and that William Jennings Bryan and other leaders were actively working toward the nomination of Ralston. Meantime, Mr. Bryan had come out openly against Davis and had declared he never could be nominated.

The McAdoo men denied a story that they had undertaken negotiations to swing any part of their votes to Ralston in case of a deciding swing away from McAdoo. Like the managers for Governor Smith, they insisted the time had not come to talk second choices, and predicted victory in today's balloting.

Thirty-First Ballot

The totals for the 31st ballot were: Underwood 39.5; McAdoo 415.5; Robinson 23; Smith 322.5; Davis 127.5; Ritchie 16.5; Cox 57; Governor Davis 6; Glass 24; Saulsbury 6; Ralston 33; Walsh 2.5; Owen 25.

Thirty-Second Ballot

Thirty-Third Ballot

Underwood 39.5; McAdoo 404.5; Robinson 23; Smith 318.5; Davis 121; Ritchie 16.5; Cox 49; Governor Davis 6; Glass 32; Saulsbury 6; Ralston 32; Walsh 20.5; Owen 35; Ferris 30; Gaston 1-2. Total 1098.

Thirty-Fourth Ballot

The figures of the thirty-fourth ballot were as follows: Underwood 39.5; McAdoo 445; Robinson 24; Smith 311; Davis 107.5; Ritchie 16.5; Cox 54; Governor Davis 3; Glass 24; Saulsbury 6; Ralston 31; Walsh 1.5; Owen 5; Ferris 30. Oklahoma and Mississippi voted full strength for McAdoo on this ballot.

Methodists Smooth Out Difficulties

INDIAN BOYS IN COLLEGE TRAINED FOR ARMY SERVICE

Lawrence, Kan.—Thirty-seven tribes of American Indians are represented in the two Kansas National Guard units, of 80 men each, at Haskell Institute here. These are said to be the only two Indian units in the United States.

Company D of the 137th Infantry was organized at Haskell three years ago. A few days later the Haskell to organize a troop of cavalry. The infantry company went out every competing outfit in field activities at the last Kansas National Guard encampment.

Three white men, instructors at Haskell, are officers in the cavalry troop. Only two white men, both officers, are connected with the infantry unit. Walter D. Owl, first lieutenant of the infantry outfit, is a full blooded Indian and the son of a chief.

LOCAL CITIZENS 700 STRONG GO ON GREAT TRIP

(Continued from page 1) address stating his delight at being in Wilson and telling of his intention of living his future life for God, he in a few appropriate words thanked Wilson for their cordial welcome. He appealed to them to co-operate with Mr. Ham and "go over the top" for Christ.

Several Greenville people testified, telling of the wonderful results of the Ham-Ramsay services in this city and telling of how changed Greenville was since the "Devil had vacated" and "God moved in." They like Mr. Flanagan, appealed to the Wilsonians to co-operate with Mr. Ham. Declaring that he is a prophet sent from God, they told of how he had helped them over the "troubled waters" to smooth sailing, for the future, to that city whose builder and maker is God.

Psychological Moment

For weeks Mr. Ham has labored for the Master in Wilson. His efforts have been untiring but feeling that he wasn't receiving the response and co-operation which he should receive he was almost to the breaking point. He has prayed and the Christian people of Wilson have labored with him but several who were so near the Kingdom had apparently turned a deaf ear, promising themselves that they would wait for a more convenient season. Last night with a heavy heart Mr. Ham went to the tabernacle to preach that wonderful sermon on "Sudden Death," taking for his text, "He that being often reproved hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed and that without remedy." When he saw the large delegation from Greenville, he rejoiced. Knowing that God moved in a mysterious way His wonders to perform, he felt that God had sent the Greenville people at the opportune moment. He preached as never before and at the conclusion of the services the flood gates were opened and nearly five hundred went into the inquiry room. Among the number confessing Christ and asking for prayer were several Pitt county people, for whom the Christians of Greenville have been praying. It was a great service and everybody felt better for having attended.

Service at Cherry Hotel

Immediately after the services in the Tabernacle the delegation accompanied by a large crowd of Wilson people went to the Cherry Hotel. On account of the rain services were held in the lobby of the hotel, with the lobby, reception rooms and mezzanine being filled to their capacity. Mr. Johnnie Clark, of Greenville had charge of the services assisted by other Greenville people. It was a great meeting. Song and prayer also featured this service, while those speaking told of the saving power of Jesus Christ. Men and women, crowded into what would under ordinary circumstances have been uncomfortable, seemed to forget self entirely and listened with "breathless silence" to the testimonies of strong men who have spent a great part of their lives serving the devil but who have determined, by the help of God, to wage an untiring fight against the devil and his forces. Mr. Will Brown of Wilson, in a most attractive manner, thanked the Greenville people for their interest and co-operation. He declared that there was nothing compared to living a Christian life and he appealed to those within sound of his voice to live the right life and to always remember that there are loved ones at home interested in their future.

Return Home

Promptly at 11:15 o'clock, nine coaches filled with happy people left Wilson enroute to Greenville. On the return trip group leaders again took charge and song and prayer services were conducted. Many unsaved people asked for prayer and on the train confessions were made.

It was one of the greatest events in the lives of the Christian people of this county and will never be forgotten. The result of the songs and prayers of the "on to Wilson delegation," will live for ever.

JAPANESE FLIES IMPORTED TO KILL JAPANESE BEETLES

Seattle.—Some time ago a number of Japanese beetles found their way to New Jersey in a shipment of irises. These beetles spread until they have become a menace to vast truck gardens in New Jersey. A special variety of Japanese fly, several billion of them, is being imported to exterminate the beetles, for which they have shown a ferocious and effective appetite in the old country. A. G. Webb was sent here by the United States bureau of entomology to supervise the shipment of flies, which arrived on a recent steamer and have been forwarded to New Jersey by the post office department. They were packed in 250 crates, the consignment weighing four tons

TO THE VOTERS OF GREENVILLE TOWNSHIP

I wish to express to the voters of Greenville Township my thanks and appreciation for the support given me in Saturday's primary. To those who supported my opponents I have only the kindest feeling.

In Saturday's primary I was the leading candidate for Constable and as the voters thereby expressed their preference for me over the other candidates, I feel that my opponent should be willing to abide by the result of the first primary. However, Mr. Williams has asked for the second primary and I wish to ask my friends who supported me in the first primary for their continued support of me in the second primary and to my friends who supported my opponents I solicit and ask your support in the second primary.

I feel that having been Constable for only two years after December of this year that I am entitled to the office of Constable for the usual two terms. If elected I pledge myself to the earnest enforcement of the law and the faithful discharge of the duties incident to the office of Constable.

Thanking you for your support of me in the second primary to be held on the first Saturday in July, I am,

Respectfully yours, HEBER T. SAVAGE, Constable,
