DEADLOCK CONTINUES ON 54TH BALLOT

Boom For Ralston Gets Under Way In 49th Ballot

McAdoo Forces Lose Strength In The Late Ballots

Convention Recesses After 54th Ballot With Selection of Nominee No Nearer; Boom for Ralston in Late Balloting Causes Loss Votes to McAdoo; Leaders Confident They Can Hold Lines of Californian Together; Smith Holds Own Throughout the Day; North Carolina and Iowa Split Up Then Return to McAdoo

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 3.—Twelve more ballots today apparently brought the Democratic National convention little nearer an agreement on a nominee for the presidency. About the only change in the situation when adjournment was taken until 8 o'clock tonight was a further loss to McAdoo and a movement toward Senator Ralston of Indiana, who had been brought forward as a compromise candidate but has made only slow progress toward the total necessary for the choice.

In spite of the loss of the Mississippi and Missouri delegations early in today's balloting McAdoo managers did not give up hope that the convention current would again turn back to their candidate.

They kept up a desperate struggle against the disruption of the large block of voting power which they still commanded and for the most part were successful.

Smith workers, meantime, appeared content with the showing made by the New York Governor who had about held his own throughout the day.

Madison Square Garden New York, July 3.—The Iowa delegation, whose 26 votes have been cast solidly for McAdoo since the start, agreed informally during the 51st ballot to discard the unit rule and scattered her votes as follows: McAdoo 9; Smith 8; Ralston 4; Davis of West Virginia 3.5; Walsh 1.5.

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 3.—In quick succession two states left the McAdoo standard in today's balloting for the Democratic presidential nominee, one of the Mississippi went over solidly to increase the swelling forces of Ralston, of Indiana. Picking up other scattered groups Ralston gained steady but is still a long way behind the leaders. The full force of the swing to Ralston cannot yet be determined.

Delegation of Many States Are Shifting Frequently As Wind

New York, July 3.—The narrow margins by which the delegations voting as a unit in the National Convention are being held together or swayed from one camp to another is illustrated by the Mississippi, Missouri and Oklahoma voting. Mississippi for instance went to John W. Davis column on the nineteenth ballot and stayed through the thirty-third, then switched to the McAdoo lines and was still there in the forty-second. Prior to the switching it held for Davis by 1-7 of a vote and terminated. An McAdoo let steadily his leaders kept working desperately to prevent a real break from their candidates. Besides Mississippi the Iowa delegation, who had been voting solidly from the start with the McAdoo forces agreed unanimously to abandon the unit rule and scatter the vote according to their personal preferences. McAdoo retained only 9 of the states 26 votes 7.5 went to Smith and 4 to Ralston.

After voting once their individual preferences, however, they returned to the unit rule on the fifty second ballot and cast the entire 26 for McAdoo.

Madison Square Garden New York, July 3.—Senator Ralston of Indiana was given the solid vote of the Mississippi delegation on the forty-ninth ballot today and he began to pick up scattered groups from other delegations as well. It is apparent that Thomas Taggart is starting to give his candidate a ride in the hope of breaking the deadlock.

Madison Square, New York, July 3.—Senator Carter Glass today released the twenty-four Virginia delegates from their pledge to him but the delegation decided to continue to vote for him until it could agree on where to go.

The first change came in the Florida delegation today when the single vote which has been cast for Underwood went to Ralston. Ralston people said that they were ready to start their drive today after the second ballot if things looked right. The first breaks for the Indiana Senator are expected from the middle west. Missouri, Iowa and Oklahoma where Thomas Taggart has been making friends are being counted upon by the Ralston forces to contribute something. Ralston people claim that they can have 100 votes ready at once. Nebraska took one vote from Smith and entered it for Governor Davis, of (Continued on page 5) afterwards it was disclosed that the change was through the seating of a woman alternate who favored McAdoo during the absence of a delegate who had been for Smith. The Oklahoma and Missouri delegations are also closely divided it is understood and returned to the McAdoo fold only tentatively in compliance with pleas to go back and stay for a few ballots to watch the trend of the Californian's drive for a few ballots from the inside.

ADVANCED RADICALS JAPAN FORM NON-VOTING LEAGUE

Tokio.—A new radical party, pledged to abstain from participation in elections or the present processes of government, and calling itself the Non-Voting League, has been formed in Tokio by a group of well-known advanced thinkers.

This group came into being shortly before the recent elections, and its members refused to take any part in the voting. The ultimate purpose of the league is to replace the present "capitalistic" system of government by proletarian rule, and its weapon is simple non-co-operation.

The group includes the brilliant Dr. Sazuko Yoshino, most famous of Japanese radical writers and thinkers; Prof. Ischi Abe, of Waseda University; Tatsuji Fuse, correspondent in Moscow for the Osaka Mainichi and the Tokio Nichi Nichi, and Keisaya Yamasaki, a prominent attorney.

OVERTON HOGSHEAD PLANT DESTROYED FIRE EARLY TODAY

Totally Destroyed By Fire of An Unknown Origin; Unable to Ascertain Total Loss

The Overton Hogshead Manufacturing Plant was totally destroyed by fire of an unknown origin, early this morning. It was impossible to get the total loss and amount of insurance today on account of Mr. Overton being in South Carolina. It was ascertained, however, that the loss with amount to a large sum, with the plant being only partially covered by insurance.

The arrival of the fire company was delayed on account of line trouble which caused the alarm to fail to register. Mr. Overton, a former chief had a fire bell in his plant. As the fire gained headway the wires were burned, causing an open circuit. As alarms were sent in from a number of boxes the line trouble blow would go in. Supt. Swartz rushed to the light plant to ascertain the trouble and just as soon as he could he had the alarm corrected.

The fire company in the meantime had responded and they put forth every effort possible to extinguish the flames, but without the desired results.

The hogshead plant was a large one and the fire was one of the largest in several months.

DANIELS DOES NOT FAVOR WITHDRAWAL LEADERS JUST YET

Hull Says Suggestion "Unreasonable" and Roosevelt Says "Pooh, Pooh"

Madison Square, New York, July 3.—Several members of the Democratic National Convention discussed on the floor of the convention today the suggestion that the committee end the deadlock by pressing for the simultaneous withdrawal of both Smith and McAdoo.

"There is still some question as to whether the time is ripe for such a move," said Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy, when asked about it.

Cordell Hull, chairman of the committee, thought the suggestion had merit. Some members of the committee received the suggestion favorably and leaders on the outside of the committee expressed willingness to confer on the question.

Apparently something developed to blast the idea after it got under discussion for after casting about on it Chairman Hull said it "seemed unreasonable" and Franklin D. Roosevelt said, "Pooh, Pooh."

LEADERS ADMIT SMITH FORCES HOLDING BACK

Notwithstanding Claims of New Yorkers, McAdoo Men Predict That Full Strength Smith Will Not Be 470 Votes; Possibility of Underwood Being Given a Trial With Smith's Supporters; Some Leaders Contended That Deadlock Will Continue Through July Fourth; Smith, Underwood and Davis Are Placed in Group of Wets and Reactionaries By McAdoo Leaders

New York, July 3.—That the Smith forces have not shown its full strength is admitted by McAdoo leaders who insisted that since the balloting has been in progress for three full days that the delegates could fairly ask the New Yorker to show his hand and if he does not make sufficient showing retire from the race.

Some of the McAdoo men predicted that the Smith drive is not over 470. While the Smith drive is on McAdoo forces said they would be satisfied to hold their lines and await developments. So far the Smith drive has been held in abeyance under orders.

The analysis of the first three days of balloting made today by McAdoo leaders emphasized that they see the convention making for a tight deadlock and it is thought by some that it will be solved only when both sides find the tangle hopeless and a conference of leaders necessary to point the way out of the tangle.

The situation can be shown by cold figures, they said. Add the vote of any ballot of the candidates favored by the so-called wets and reactionaries and then total the votes of the dries and progressives and it will be found that the totals are about even. In the group of wets and reactionaries the McAdoo leader placed Smith, Underwood and Davis, of West Virginia. In the other group were Glass McAdoo and Ralston, while divided between the two groups were the 69 votes which have been given Cox. It is an evenly balanced group the leader thinks and makes the deadlock which Norman E. Mack has said would not reach a solution until after July 4.

There are reports that Smith forces, if they should reach an impasse, might give Underwood a trial. Underwood adherents throughout have maintained a hopeful and almost confident attitude despite the fact that the long succession of balloting has added no support to the Underwood Standard.

ANNIVERSARY OF AN ALPHABET CELEBRATED BY THE BULGARIANS

Sofia.—The Bulgarian people celebrated a unique holiday on May 24 when throughout the country was observed the "name day" of the Slavic, or Cyrillic, alphabet and of its creators, the monks Cyril and his brother Methodius. It was in the ninth century and from the city of Salonica that these holy men promulgated their alphabet which was designed to propagate the Christian faith among Slavic peoples.

One of the notable observances took place at the Monastery of St. Ivan of Rila, in the mountains above Samokov, where the Bulgarian letters created by the apostles from Latin, Greek and Hebrew material, were preserved from extinction during the Turkish domination of five centuries.

The celebration of the day is also marked by the Orthodox Church to recall the introduction of Christianity among the Bulgarian people, and its spread to the other Slavic peoples by the followers of Sts. Cyril and Methodius.

PEOPLE OF HABAROSK DECRY BEING MADE A CAPITAL CITY

Harbin.—Citizens of Habarovsk, in eastern Siberia on the Amur, are unhappy over the removal of the Soviet seat of government from Chita in Transbaikalia to their city. The change decided upon some months ago is being carried into effect.

The first step toward removal was the publication of an order forbidding private citizens entering the city, the exceptions being made only in special cases where citizens are able to show documents proving necessity. Viola-

North Carolina Board Agriculture To Meet Raleigh

Raleigh, July 3.—The North Carolina State board of Agriculture will meet in the agriculture building on Wednesday and Thursday, July 9 and 10, according to announcements sent out by Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham, calling the board to meet at that time. The finance committee of the board will meet on Tuesday, July 8, one day before the board meeting in order to have its report ready to present to the members.

The board is composed of the Commissioner and the following men from various sections of the state:

- Fred P. Latham, Belhaven; J. J. Harris, Macon; W. A. Brown, Rocky Point; Clarence Poe, Raleigh; R. W. Scott, Haw River; J. Vance McGoughan, Fayetteville; C. C. Wright, Hunting Creek; W. B. McClelland, Stony Point; and O. Max Gardner, Shelby.

Among the subjects that it is reported will be discussed by the board are placing of the Extension Service under the complete control of State College of Agriculture thereby relieving the Department of Agriculture of any direct connection with that division; and the program for next year as well placing of the Department of Agriculture and the State College of Agriculture under entirely separate operations.

Violations are punishable by a fine of 300 rubles or three months at hard labor. The explanation given by the authorities is that it is necessary to provide living quarters for officials of the various government departments. There is much bitterness among residents in space allotted to them. The committee in charge of allotments has a right to deport such citizens as prove refractory.

STEEL SHAFT CLUBS BANNED BY BRITISH GOLF AUTHORITIES

London.—The acceptance of the use of steel-shafted golf clubs by the governing body of the game in America meets with no approval in Great Britain. For this there are many explanations. In the first place, there is the inherent British disinclination to accept anything new but beyond this reason for repelling novelties that seek to cross the Atlantic, there is, in this case, a general feeling that the Americans are always trying to make the game of golf easier and more mechanical. Consequently the British feel that it is up to them, who nurtured the game in its infancy, to see that it keeps the character of its youth.

It was this feeling which led the royal and ancient law-making body to forbid use of the punched and cut-faced irons which the American entrants in last year's Open Championship brought over. If anyone brings steel-shafted clubs from America to this year's championships it will be a waste of cargo-space, because the governing body is certain to bar them.

Just before the amateur championship began at St. Andrews last month, the rules of golf committee posted a notice in the club-house "deploring" the use in the game of golf of "implements which have never been associated with it." The notice was polite, but intended, no doubt, to make those who failed to heed its moral lesson just a little bit ashamed of themselves. It read as follows:

"The Rules of Golf committee hope that golfers, before making use of abnormal methods, of play or of abnormal implements, will earnestly consider whether they are acting in conformity with the spirit of the rules of golf, and in particular with the regulations governing the form and make of golf clubs.

"The committee considers it is to be deplored that players, instead of trying to master the use of golf clubs, should endeavor to overcome the difficulties of the game by using implements which have never been associated with it."

At the time of its appearance, the people at St. Andrews interpreted the notice as a hint to H. D. Gillies, a well known British amateur, to give up the "Eiffel Tower" tees, come six to ten inches high, which have excited much comment ever since he began using them last winter. Mr. Gillies took the hint and fell back upon the ordinary little clots of wet sand for his tees the next morning. Anyone who has followed the discussion by British golfers and sport writers upon every American change in the game, knows that the notice is meant for them also.

Baptist Minister Gives Tanlac Full Credit

No greater praise can be accorded a medicine than the voluntary testimony of a minister of the gospel. The preacher's high calling puts a grave responsibility on his every word, and he will not jeopardize his reputation by commending a thing without first assuring himself it is all right.

Tanlac has been endorsed by numbers of prominent ministers. They have put Tanlac to the test of personal service and their words carry conviction because they say what they know to be the truth.

One of the latest to speak out in behalf of Tanlac is Rev. B. E. Bell, a retired Baptist minister, 207 Elm St., San Antonio, Texas, who says:

"Before taking Tanlac I had suffered from stomach and nerve troubles for over 30 years and there were times when my condition was such that it required almost superhuman effort for me to prepare my sermons and go through with my Sunday services. Indeed, my work seemed like some great obstacle across my pathway—a burden too big to carry in my weak physical condition.

"But in six weeks' time Tanlac transformed my entire outlook, giving me what seemed like a new set of nerves and a brand new digestive system. My appetite became ravenous, my nerves steady, my liver action regular and I could sleep sound for the first time in years. Whenever I have the slightest symptoms of trouble now I always resort to Tanlac, am taking some at present, and it never fails to smooth things out for me. I certainly have the best of reasons for feeling grateful to Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

The remarkable herb "HOB" as analyzed by "Schwartz" was found to contain besides other principles a variety of acid which he named Galbannic Acid. He also found it to contain a peculiar acid discovered by Schwartz and Rochleder and named Ribchloric acid. This has been used in Dropsy, congestion of the spleen, Scrofula and Leprosy with good results. In recent years this herb has been discovered growing in East Texas and Louisiana and further experiment has shown that its wonderfully purifying properties were due to its action on the kidneys.

The Hobo Medicine Company, of Beaumont, Texas, make an effective balm from this herb and call it: Hobo Kidney and Bladder Remedy. This balm being said to be a Diuretic, Aperient and Anti-Scorbutic.

MAYOR CLARK ISSUES 4TH JULY PROCLAMATION

State of North Carolina, County of Pitt, Town of Greenville: Whereas, tomorrow the 4th day of July, 1924 is the anniversary of our

Declaration of Independence, being the 148th year thereof, and, Whereas, it is our custom, as a great and grateful people to reverence and respect this honored occasion, so valiantly immortalized by the blood of our forefathers, and, Whereas, the 4th day of July has been declared a National Holiday so that our people may enter into a full and complete enjoyment and celebration of our Declaration of Independence as a nation;

Now, therefore, I, D. M. Clark, Mayor of the Town of Greenville, by virtue of the power vested in me as mayor, and acting in my official capacity, do hereby proclaim and declare the 4th day of July, 1924, a legal holiday for the Town of Greenville, and call upon the citizenship of said town to suspend operation for and during said day, to-wit: Friday, July 4th, 1924. Proclaimed and issued this the 3rd day of July 1924.

D. M. CLARK,
Mayor Town of Greenville.

P. S.—It is requested that the drug stores and cold drink stands remain open for at least part of the day for the benefit of the public.

Dublin.—The commission of inquiry into Irish agriculture, in its final report, finds a serious depression in farming. The farmer, the report declares, receives for his produce 40 percent higher than before the war, but his cost of living risen by 80 percent and his trade expenses in some cases by over 100 percent.

Education and organization are the two chief remedies suggested by the commission, and the state is urged to devote considerable sums to these purposes. The commission is opposed to subsidies or bounties, which in an agricultural country would, they say, simply mean transferring the money from one pocket of the farmer to the other. Reduction of railway freights and development of water transport are recommended.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

Tomorrow is the Fourth, holiday of holidays. It will be a day of shout and play, of the pell-mell rush of restless energy, a day dedicated to joy and celebration.

It is well. We have a right to make merry on Independence Day. We have a right to cheer and to bombard the clouds with bomb and rocket. For it is the birth of a great nation we acclaim, its lengthening, honorable life and the rosy prospects for its future.

It is not a day for soberness, though it will be well, indeed, if we bear in mind why it is we shout and what it is we herald. It is fitting, too, that we keep in thought the honor that is due the brave whose blood and courage made possible this day of days, this national natal day.

Independence day gave us liberty, a chance to live our national life in our own way, freed from the dictates of any distant power. It did not give us license, and as we celebrate with consideration for the rights of our neighbors we are reminded that while we may have liberty in our joy there can be no license. License encroaches upon liberty, nullifies it.

Independence day gave us a charter of individual manhood. The founding fathers might have set up a government that was administered from the top down. They chose to establish a government that was administered from the bottom up. They chose to agree that every man should have a voice, and that one man's voice should be equal with that of every other.

Independence day gave us opportunity, opportunity to live our individual lives as we would live them, opportunity to enter any field of endeavor, opportunity to develop, to grow better as well as stronger, and—above all—opportunity to serve, cheerfully and willingly, our fellowmen in the up-building of a great democracy.

The priceless heritage of our freedom is still inviolate. Our people have met every challenge from without and have repeatedly demonstrated their capacity to withstand every insidious assault from within. So great has been our security, so conscious our realization of power, that the only apparent menace on the horizon of today is that we may rest too easily, remain too much self-assured in the face of those influences which would honeycomb our institutions. Even as we celebrate our liberty, our individual responsibility and our opportunity, we must remember that vigilance is the price of their security.

GOTHAM AND GOPHER PRAIRIE

Whatever else the convention in New York did, it demonstrated to the delegates and delegates-at-large that New York is still a part of the U. S. A. and after all is not so much better, worse or different from those innumerable cities, towns, villages and hamlets aspiring to its position as America's greatest metropolis.

Delegates like all folks are more or less wrapped-up in clothing and could not have helped noticing that the New Yorkers dressed their shop windows and themselves in the same Finebilt clothes they themselves wear back in Walla Walla and Hannibal, that the New York consumption of summer furs was no larger than that of all the other New This and New Thats in the country, and that women wore just as little clothing on Broadway as they do on Main street.

Other things which the visiting delegates must have found existent in New York as well as at home were traffic congestion, a court house, a post office, overcrowded street cars, auto-dodging pedestrians, churches, playgrounds, radio stores and concerts, Greek restaurants and confectionary stores, a progressive younger generation and a reactionary older generation, favorite sons, policemen, reformers, press agents, street parades, bill boards, newspapers and high priced hotel facilities.

Yes, the rest of the United States learned from the Democratic convention that it has much in common with the nation's city of skyscrapers.

The chance of being a June bride may be gone but other months may be the next best thing.

All candidates get some votes, but for one candidate to get enough is what prolongs a convention.

The final measure of a man is taken by posterity. But his own times judge him by his prosperity.

There are probably large parts of Europe that wonder even yet if America is really a country or just manna from heaven.

Third party propagandists ought to postpone their pow-wow for a month in order to give the public a chance to recover from last week's blowouts by man and nature.

If in order to qualify as a delegate to the next Democratic convention applicants must pass an examination in decimal fractions, the labors of the tellers will be less onerous.

Secretary Mellon in Rum Quiz

ANDREW W. MELLON

Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon is shown as he appeared in New York City at the trial of Gaston B. Means, former detective, who was charged with conspiracy to violate the Volstead act. Mr. Mellon admitted he owned an interest in the Overholt distillery in Pittsburgh, but denied that he knew the distillery had been under investigation since 1922.

Over Ninety Percent. of Childish Ailments Come From Indigestion

—W. L. Hand.

Indigestion, in children, should be but a very temporary condition. Yet, while it lasts, it congests the liver and bowels, breeds germs and fills the blood with poisons that are the cause of many troubles.

Children's ailments develop suddenly, without much warning, but yield just as quickly to proper treatment. By simultaneous cleansing action of stomach, liver and bowels, my Liv-o-lax, a pleasant-tasting liquid remedy, gives the quick relief that mothers seek, and it saves the use of calomel and castor oil. Just one trial will convince. Get a 30c bottle. Children love Liv-o-lax and mothers will be delighted with its quick action.

WALTER P. CHRYSLER'S TRAFFIC TALKS

PATROL HIGHWAYS

Patrolling streets and highways is a much better plan than establishing speed traps. Patrolling is better than having officers hide behind trees, signs and poles so as to dart out after the offending motorist. Often when a traffic officer goes after a single offender a dozen other cars will speed behind him.

In case you get into an accident don't hurry away. To do so is a criminal offense in most states. Instead co-operate with the police, get information from witnesses if you think about it and make pencil sketches of what happened, too.

The man who drives away from an accident has little chance in court later, as scores have learned.

To The Voters of Greenville Township

I feel most grateful for the loyal support given me in the primary on Saturday. Believing that those who know of the efficient and faithful service which I have rendered in the enforcement of the law in the past desire my election, I shall be a candidate for the office of Constable of Greenville Township at the second primary to be held on the First Saturday in July.

I ask the support of every voter who wants the law enforced and the duties of the office faithfully executed, and assure you that if I am the choice of the next primary, I shall worthily perform my trust.

Yours for service,

 London.—The British Empire Leprosy Relief Association has embarked upon a campaign to save the child lepers of India, according to Frank Oldreive, the secretary of the association.

"India has thousands of these blighted children," Mr. Oldreive said recently. "In the asylums of the Mission to Lepers alone are between 400 and 500 of them, and they may be seen by the score wherever lepers aggregate."

Markets

Liverpool Spot Cotton. Middling 1698; good middling 1775. Receipts 6,000 all American, sale $5,000, of which 3,000 were American. The market closed steady Dec. 1889, Jan. 1890, March 1899, July 1899, Oct. 1924.

The Weather. Temperatures continue unseasonably low with minimum 57 to 66, except slightly higher in a few coast localities. Light to moderate showers have fallen in eastern, North Carolina and in scattered northwestern localities and light to heavy rains in Northeastern Florida. Heavy rains were reported as follows: Jacksonville 1.92; Gainesville, Fla., 2.38. Forecast eastern belt part cloudy probably showers except Alabama and Mississippi fair. Western belt Louisiana and Arkansas generally fair, balance part cloudy.

DAILY COTTON LETTER. New Orleans, July 3.—Yesterday government cotton crop forecast, 12,144,000 bales, exclusive of linters, afforded much relief to the trade from the prospective supply point of view, as noted by lower cables than due today and the easier tendency of market, and while the market may rule lower, still later in the month, if fairly good weather prevails inland, the prospective adequate supply will probably serve to stabilize values eventually.

The world is in need of a large crop of American cotton this year to provide for next seasons requirements, probably 12,500,000 to 13,000,000 bales without considering the necessity to replenish empty bins, but there is no telling what the final outcome of the crop may, it may be much larger, perhaps smaller than present indications, much depending upon future weather conditions and numbers and activity of insects, especially the weevil.

As a new departure the government will make report on the condition of the growing crop as of July 15th, which bulletin will be released on July 21st. Therefore, the trade will not have to wait until early August to ascertain from an official source, as in former years, the progress of the crop and prospective yield. Since June 25th, or since returns were made to Washington from which yesterday's report was compiled, the weather has been generally favorable, and if another week of good weather is had, the July 15th condition is likely to be higher than the recent figures of 71.2 and the indicated yield would probably be larger than yesterday's forecast for 12,144,000 bales. Even if the crop only holds its own, a larger month production is not at all unlikely.

According to report circulated today, the National Boll Weevil Control Association is quoted as stating that infestation this season is much lighter than at this time last year. In addition, ShriPrn... 41 emfy In addition many farmers are poisoning or prepared to poison or prepared to poison. Infestation is declared to be heavy over only 15 per cent of the area infested last year, is light over 48 per cent and negligible elsewhere and that points poisoning or prepared to poison, constitute 87 per cent of the whole area. The New Orleans and New York Cotton Exchanges will be closed tomorrow and Saturday, Fourth of July holidays. H. & B. BEER.

M'ADOO FORCES LOSE STRENGTH IN LATE BALLOTS

(Continued from page 1) Kansas, McAdoo people claim they are ready to give Ralston a run. Taggart's men more tactful than ever were hurrying noiselessly over the floor saying a word here and there and old Indiana, Illinois and New York coalition seemed to be working in harmony again. In New Hampshire McAdoo lost half a vote which was picked by Smith. North Carolina took the half vote from Carter Glass and gave it to McAdoo. McAdoo's lieutenants were noticeably late coming in today. They had been at a late conference. McAdoo men predicted that the convention would end tomorrow. At any rate they have had a long record in their favor. Most of the Democratic conventions in the recent decades have been in session on July 4. The drop in the McAdoo totals caused by the switch of Oklahoma to Robinson threatens to have the effect of costing him some votes as Mississippi threatens to go back to John W. Davis if McAdoo does not make substantial gains at once. As there was again no nomination the roll call was resumed for the forty-fourth ballot. That is the ballot on which Cox was nominated in San Francisco four years ago. Illinois, still scattering her vote among the field, took a vote from Davis, of Kansas, and gave it to Edwards, former governor of New Jersey. In the forty-fifth ballot the Illinois delegation took the vote that was cast on the previous ballot for governor Edwards and gave it back to Davis of Kansas. There was no other change in the scattered state's vote. In Maine there was a change. Two votes were taken from Underwood and given to John W. Davis. Taggart, still working about the floor shaping up the Ralston forces said, "I want all to have their run." The convention then went into the forty-sixth ballot and tied the ballot on which Woodrow Wilson was nominated in Baltimore in 1912. At the rate of the balloting it seemed that it was headed for the 57th ballot record of the convention of 1860 when the convention was removed to Baltimore from Charleston and Douglas nominated on the second ballot.

Madison Square Garden, New York, July 3.—William Gibbs McAdoo ran to an even high mark in last night's balloting in the Democratic National Convention. He passed the much sought goal of 500 votes by dint of much frantic work and persuasion and maneuvering on the part of his floor managers, who declared they hadn't finished their work yet. Running close to the 46 and 44 ballot record of the Baltimore and San Francisco conventions, respectively, the Madison Square Garden exhibition gave promise of setting a new mark. McAdoo hit his high mark so far in the fortieth ballot, when he polled 505 1-2 votes. Smith at that time had dropped a little below his high level, 323 1-2, made on previous ballots. At the close of the thirtieth ballot Tuesday night McAdoo had stood at 415 1-2 votes. Thus he gained nearly a hundred in yesterday's balloting and the votes he got were taken principally from John W. Davis, who fell to 70 on the last ballot tonight.

Interrupted by a near riot, 3,000 Italians in New York City unanimously adopted a resolution asking President Coolidge to dismiss Prince Gasio Caetani, Italian Ambassador, because of the "kidnaping, mutilation and brutal murder by the Fascist of Deputy Giacomo Matteotti in Italy." Harry Greb, of Pittsburgh, retained his title as middleweight champion of the world in a 15-round fight to a decision in New York City against Ted Moore, of England. The Hon. John Hugo Russell, heir to Lord Appahill, formerly Viceroy to India, has withdrawn his London divorce suit and thereby recognized the legitimacy of the famous "dream baby," which now becomes heir to the title. Opening a package mailed to her from Lakeland, Ky., where her married daughter lives, Mrs. E. Leitsch, of Chicago, was horrified to find a dead baby. Her daughter and son-in-law were arrested.

Inflated Currency Freed Germany of Mortgages

Berlin.—There is probably no country in the world with real estate less burdened with mortgages than Germany today, says Manfred Wronker-Platz, legal adviser of the American Chamber of Commerce in Germany, writing in a trade publication of that organization. He estimates that more than 90 percent of all German mortgages were cleared off and release given for payment in paper marks in the inflation days. "All this has been achieved," asserts the writer, "at the expense of those persons and institutions, who formerly looked upon a mortgage as the most secure form of investment, and whose faith has been rewarded by utter impoverishment." Considerable real estate was bought in Germany by foreigners, especially Americans, after the November, 1918, revolution when owners of house property in many instances were compelled to sell at great sacrifices in order to avoid being ruined because of legislation designed to protect the tenants.

ELECTION IRREGULARITIES COST CANDIDATE A FORTUNE

Oxford, England.—Frank Gray, who lost his seat as member of Parliament for Oxford City through election irregularities of his agent, said he had been called upon to find $40,000 to pay his costs at the trial, and admitted that he had not the money. "My party and my friends are standing by me," Mr. Gray said, "and are finding the money. My wife and I," he added, "are not too proud to appreciate this help, but the money must be found at the earliest possible moment, and to do this we have been compelled to dismiss all our servants with the exception of one old retainer, and have had to wash up and do domestic work between us."

CONFERENCE WILL DISCUSS THE RURAL SOCIAL PROBLEMS

Madison, Wis.—Lightening the burdens of persons whose lives are spent in the isolated sections of the nation is one of the paramount issues to come before the General Conference on Rural Church and Social Work, beginning here June 30 at the University of Wisconsin. The conference will be conducted by the college of agriculture and is designed to bring together all elements striving to solve the problems of the rural districts. The general program provides for the consideration of economic, sociological and recreational problems of rural community life; boys' work, organization, health, auto-mechanics and general agricultural subjects.

Red Cross secretaries, librarians, home economics for the wives of clergymen, clergymen on parish enterprises and the various denominational programs. Evening programs embracing joint demonstrations of community music, plays and games, together with motion picture work and joint social affairs, also have been arranged. "This sum spent annually to counteract the ravages of corrosion and rust will give a fair idea of the total bill the world is paying for the slow decay of metals used in industrial work, which are not protected against them," he declared. "It is a vital matter because the yearly waste is making the iron ore resources of the world exhaustible within a measurable distance of time."

NORMA TALMADGE OUTSHEIKS THE SHEIKS AS AN IMPASSIONED MOHAMMEDAN DANCING GIRL, A STIRRING ROMANCE OF THE SAHARA

"THE SONG OF LOVE" — JULY 4TH

THURSDAY'S PICTURE, Wm. S. HART

Norma Wears Jewels Only In Her Pictures

Norma Talmadge and Joseph Schildkraut in "The Song of Love"

What do the stars wear off the screen? One hears much and sees enough photographs of the clothes they wear in pictures, but most of the "stills" showing the stars "at ease" look as if some department store had taken its latest Montmartre fashions to Hollywood and asked the stars to pose in them for one afternoon only.

However, the clothes worn by such stars as Norma Talmadge, Mary Pickford, Constance Talmadge, Gloria Swanson and Pola Negri are distinguished more for their simplicity than their eccentricity.

As the first of a series of interviews with the stars on their "off screen" clothes, Clara West, Norma Talmadge's costumer, was visited.

According to Miss West, who designs both Norma's photoplay and home costumes, Norma prefers the utmost simplicity in her clothing.

All of Norma's day and evening gowns are of the most elegant materials, but of the simplest possible design. Quiet in tone and cut, and with nothing blazare in their ensemble, Norma's gowns are ideally suited to her personality.

Norma seldom wears jewelry. She abhors tinselly effects, embroidery and the other gee-gaws which appeal to some very young girls and "girls" who because of the inroads of time are not so sure of their charms.

For day-time wear Norma prefers very heavy crepes, charmine and alone velvet. She uses very little trimming, but when she does she shows a preference for sable and other expensive furs.

However, Miss Talmadge is very particular as to the cut and lines of her gowns and will spend hours in seeing that they are draped perfectly.

For evening Norma likes chiffons, chiffon velvet and very thin sheer lace dresses.

Low shoes with strappings high on the ankle and medium heels for both day and evening wear appeal most to her. For sports she nearly always wears white with jade jewelry.

NIGHT WATCHMEN OBJECT WHEN ROBBERS DISTURB THEIR SLEEP

Dansig. — Night watchmen have complained that because of the progressive methods of thieves they cannot sleep properly at night.

Recently robbers endeavoring to gain entrance to a food store managed to get into the basement and began boring through the wooden floor for the purpose of cutting a panel that would admit their bodies. It happened that the night watchman was asleep on the floor at that particular spot and when his body was pricked by the sharp instrument he set up a cry that aroused all the night watchmen and policemen in the neighborhood.

The building was quickly surrounded and the robbers were captured.

"Singer Jim" Hart's Best Picture to Date

"Singer Jim McKee." William S. Hart's newest production for Paramount, opened at White's Theatre this afternoon Clifford Smith directed, and Phyllis Haver, an ex-Mark Sennettite, has the leading woman's role.

The story differs greatly from anything the two-gun star has ever attempted before. He wrote the story himself, with an eye to his own capabilities, and J. G. Hawes adapted it to the screen. Hart's is the role of a mining prospector of Spanish parentage. With his partner Buck Holden, Singer for three years has driven a tunnel into a mountain only to find that there is everything but gold there.

Buck's motherless daughter, Mary, just about old enough to sit up and take notice, can't be ticed all over the country with these two rough westerners. Something must be done for her proper upbringing. There is but one way out of the difficulty, and Singer Jim and Holden choose it.

The next day, the sheriff and his posse are locking for two masked bandits who held up a stage. Singer's voice, raised in song, betrays their mountain retreat. He and the baby escape while Buck, unarmed, is shot down in cold blood by the cowardly sheriff, Hamlin Glass.

MANY A RUSSIAN WORKS TODAY

Berlin.—Equipped with a finished WHO NEVER WORKED BEFORE knowledge of eight languages, Frau Biliskow has found employment as cashier in an all night restaurant in the Russian district of Berlin. Her husband is a night watchman, seven nights a week, with hours from 7 to 6 a. m. The results of their labors give them two small rooms and enough to eat and wear.

"Real work is not so disagreeable as I used to think it might be," said this former general in the army of Emperor Nicholas, "and we do not complain."

SAFEGUAR CHILDREN ON FOURTH OF JULY IS PLEA OF COMMITTEE

New York.—Don't celebrate Independence Day by sacrificing your eyesight forever, or that of someone else.

This is the warning issued here today by the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness. Although great progress has been made in the movement for safe and sane celebrations of Independence Day, the committee says the Fourth of July is followed each year by a flood of reports of accidents to little boys and girls which, in many cases, blind them and in most others so seriously impair their vision that they are handicapped for life.

Injuries to the eyes from the use of fireworks and firearms are not, however, confined to Independence Day celebrations. The committee has within recent months received reports of serious injuries to the eyes of 224 children through the use of fireworks and firearms since the Fourth of July of last year. In 79 of these cases the child had been shot in the eye with a air rifle; the eyes of 70 children were seriously injured by other firearms; in 41 cases the eyes of a child were seriously injured by the explosion of so-called "dynamite caps," commonly used as ammunition for "dynamite canes;" the eyes of 21 children were injured by premature blasts of explosives, and 13 by display fireworks.

The committee found that while eye accidents of this type are recurring throughout the year, there is a sharp and sudden rise in their frequency during the first week of July and immediately following Christmas, due to the use of fireworks in Christmas celebrations, particularly in the south, and to the popularity of the air rifle as a rule a Christmas gift for boys.

The committee believes that fireworks have a proper and desirable place in the life of the American boy; that they focus attention on historical events in a way beyond the power of ordinary history instruction; and that they do stimulate patriotism. But the committee feels that the eyesight of several hundred children each year is too high a price to pay for the good that is accomplished by the free use of fireworks and firearms, particularly during the Fourth of July and the days immediately preceding it. The committee urges every parent and other adult responsible for the care of children to take steps immediately to avert this year a repetition of the customary Fourth of July casualties. Specifically, the committee recommends that firearms of all sorts be put out of reach of children; and that all fireworks be kept out of the hands of little children; that all fireworks be kept out of the hands of little children and that the use of so-called dynamite caps, giant cannon crackers, skyrocket, roman candles and other powerful fireworks be restricted to grown children under the supervision of adults.

TO THE VOTERS OF GREENVILLE TOWNSHIP

I wish to express to the voters of Greenville Township my thanks and appreciation for the support given me in Saturday's primary. To those who supported my opponents I have only the kindest feeling.

In Saturday's primary I was the leading candidate for Constable and as the voters thereby expressed their preference for me over the other candidates, I feel that my opponent should be willing to abide by the result of the first primary. However, Mr. Williams has asked for the second primary and I wish to ask my friends who supported me in the first primary for their continued support of me in the second primary and to my friends who supported my opponents I solicit and ask your support in the second primary.

I feel that having been Constable for only two years after December of this year that I am entitled to the office of Constable for the usual two terms.

If elected I pledge myself to the earnest enforcement of the law and the faithful discharge of the duties incident to the office of Constable.

Thanking you for your support of me in the second primary to be held on the first Saturday in July, I am,
