DAVIS AND BRYAN STANDARD BEARERS

President's Son Buried Today Beside Ancestors

Convention Ends After Nominating Bryan and Davis

John W. Davis, of West Virginia, and Governor Charles W. Bryan, of Nebraska, Were Chosen by the Democratic National Convention to Carry the Democratic Standard in the Coming Election; Davis and Smith Address Convention at Closing Session Last Night; Vice-Presidential Nominee is Brother of William Jennings Bryan

New York, July 10. — John W. Davis, of West Virginia, and Governor Charles W. Bryan, of Nebraska are the Democratic party's candidates for president and vice president.

Emerging from the 103rd ballot as the Democratic National Convention's choice the presidential nominee, West Virginia lawyer and diplomat, swept away the great waves of bitterness that had been churned up during the past 15 days of stormy conflict.

When the convention adjourned at 2:24 a. m. today it had filled many new pages of political history, rising with dramatic force from the violent struggle of 12 days ago over the naming of the Ku Klux Klan in the party platform through a record breaking deadlock between supporters of William Gibbs McAdoo and Governor Alfred E. Smith that held through 100 ballots before a presidential nomination was in sight.

Formal adjournment marking the end of the convention came just two minutes after Bryan was declared the vice presidential nominee. A single ballot with the change of many votes eliminated most of the nearly thirty names first mentioned but the selection was not made unanimous.

The weary delegates had finished their work. Not all the scars suffered during the long struggle had been healed despite the fact that the votes that lifted Davis to victory came from groups that had fought each other to a standstill for more than a week. A handful of "die hards" in both the Smith and McAdoo camps, took no part in the colorful and harmonious conclusion. When the balloting for a presidential nominee turned definitely from their idols many of the leaders in the long fight for McAdoo and some of those who had struggled with equal zeal for Smith, were absent for the first time in days but others were on hand to express their happiness at this decision.

Governor Smith, himself, after sending Davis a message of "best promise of heartiest support" accepted an invitation to address the convention last night and reiterated his pledge. "I'll take off my coat and vest, and so will everybody who follows me in the state, to do what I can to improve conditions in the United States by electing the ticket."

A similar invitation extended to McAdoo was not accepted and he made no comment except his message to Davis—"Please accept my congratulations on your nomination." It was said at the almost deserted campaign headquarters of the California candidate that he and his family would sail in a few days for

HUGHES NEW HEAD BAR ASSOCIATION

American Bar Association in Annual Session Elects Officers Today

Philadelphia, July 10.—Charles E. Hughes, Secretary of State, was today elected president of the American Bar Association at its annual meeting here.

Fred E. Wadhams, Albany, N. Y., was re-elected treasurer of the associations, and Edward T. Tell, of Baltimore, assistant secretary, William C. Coleman, of Baltimore, acting secretary, was elected secretary.

William Hargest, presiding judge of Dauphin county court, was elected to the executive committee with Jesse A. Miller, Des Moines, Iowa; William C. Kinkead, Cheyenne, Wyoming, and A. C. Paul, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Mrs. J. N. Gorman's Mother Died Today in Durham, N. C.

The many friends of Mrs. J. N. Gorman will regret to learn that her mother, Mrs. Matthews, died at her home in Durham this morning. Mrs. Gorman who has been spending the summer at Beaufort, was advised a few days ago of her mother's critical illness and she, accompanied by Mr. Gorman, left immediately for Durham to be at her bedside.

Mrs. Matthews was one of Durham's most beloved citizens and was popular with a host of friends. Funeral arrangements had not been announced at noon today.

ORGANIZATION OF NAT'L. COMMITTEE MAY BE DELAYED

Proposal for Postponing Organization for 30 Days Submitted Today

New York, July 10.—Leaders of the Democratic National Committee approved the suggestion of John W. Davis and Gov. Charles W. Bryan, nominees from the Democratic Convention, that the national committee agree to postpone re-organization of the committee until after formal notification of candidates which date has not yet been agreed upon.

New York, July 10.—A proposal for postponement of the organization of the New Democratic National Committee for 30 days to permit information discussion of campaign plans by state leaders has been prepared for submission today to the first meeting of the committee.

MRS. JULIA GRAY IN SONG RECITAL

Costume Song Recital Given at College Was Greatly Enjoyed

Both college and town enjoyed greatly costume song recital given at East Carolina Teachers College last evening by Julia Culbreth Gray, of Washington City, an artist who has made a distinctive reputation as a singer of folk-songs. Her program, except the first two numbers, was devoted to folk songs and sketches, the second part entirely Afro-American.

The effective costumes and the dramatic rendering added charm to the artist's interpretation.

The beauty and richness of her voice in the first two songs, "Voice Saepete" and aria from Mozart's opera, "Figaro" an "Se Saren rosa," an Italian Waltz song, by Ardit, made her audience wish she would give a full program of such songs.

The Russian folk-songs "Little Duckling" and "Jealousy" she sang with passion and fervor. Her striking costume was made by a Russian refugee and was that of Middle Russia. She next appeared as an old fashioned girl in hoop skirt and scoop hat and with a coquettish air gave "Tit-for-Tat," "Loyalty to Men" and "Katy-Did." She promised to sing another song "if there be much clapping" and there was much clapping, so she gave a Carolina folk song composed by Eugene Putnam, of South Carolina, "I'd Rather Have a Young Man," and then gave another encore "Her Dream."

Her costume for the second part was the quaint ante-bellum dress of the Southern lady. The group of southern dialect songs was varied and representative of the best composers of negro songs, such as Harvey B. Gaul and Burleigh. The songs were "Ma Little Banjo," "De Water Melyun," "Inch Song," "Were You There," "What a Trying Time" and "Mistah Sun Am a Blazin'."

She then gave "When Malindy Sings" by Dunbar. The program closed with a group of sketches, dramatic readings, with musical accompaniment, among them two by North Carolina's poet, John Charles McNeill. These were: "A Few Days Off," "Diseases" "Dese Days," "Sassy-Faced Sophia."

She announced her program and gave bits of apt and witty explanations that gave a personal touch to the program and established a bond of sympathy between herself and her personality charming.

MEN AND WOMEN IN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Clarence O. Baring, New York representative of a Minneapolis manufacturing concern, on trial in White Plains, N. Y., on charges of attempting to murder his wealthy wife by giving her poison germs, has been found insane and sent to Matteawan Asylum for the Criminal Insane. Peter Augustus Jay, American Minister to Rumania, has been recalled for a conference with Secretary Hughes on the Rumanian oil situation. As the United States has protested against the confiscation of American oil properties, the action is regarded as an additional form of protest. Morris Hillquit, of New York, famous Socialist leader, led the movement in the Cleveland convention of the Socialist party to support U. S. Senator Robert M. La Follette for the Presidency. A cable message from Paris declares that Ina Claire, American comedienne, has filed suit for divorce there from James R. Whitaker, of New York City.

BABY GIRL LEFT ON PORCH HOME MR. J. H. BLALOCK

Family Awakened By Cries Find Little Girl in Basket; Child Being Given Every Attention

On the night of July 3rd, at midnight, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blalock, who reside near Reedy Branch Church, were awakened by the cries of a baby. Upon investigation it was found that the cries were coming from a little baby girl, apparently three or four hours old, wrapped in a blanket and concealed in a basket, which had been left on the front porch of the Blalock home.

Just as soon as Mrs. Blalock discovered that the basket contained a baby she carried it in and gave it every necessary attention. There was nothing in the basket by which the baby could be identified. She is a beautiful little girl and under the care of Mrs. Blalock is growing and getting along nicely.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Blalock and their children have become attached to the little stranger and are doing everything possible to make her feel at home.

DAVIS TO DELIVER SERIES ADDRESSES OVER THE COUNTRY

Tells Newspaper Men He Will Carry Fight to People; He and Running Mate Meet Today for First Time

New York, July 10. — John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for president, intends to carry his fight direct to the country in a series of addresses a number of which will be delivered in the west. That part of the campaign plan was disclosed today in his first formal conference with newspaper correspondents since his nomination yesterday by the Democratic National Convention. Other details of the campaign remain to be worked out in conferences with party leaders he said. Davis declined to discuss the campaign issues at this time explaining that such discussion in advance of his formal notification would be premature.

The time and place of his notification are still to be determined. For the present at least the nominee will make his headquarters in the home of Franklin L. Polk, under Secretary of State, in the Wilson administration. (Continued on page 4)

Calvin Coolidge Is Laid To Rest This Afternoon

Surrounded by Friends of His Early Boyhood and Familiar Scenes Calvin Coolidge Jr., is Laid to Rest Beside the Mother of the President in the Little Cemetery on a Vermont Hillside Where for Four Generations the Coolidges Have Found Their Final Resting Place

North Hampton, Mass., July 10.—Former playmates and neighbors, of the town where he was reared to the approach of manhood, tendered their services and respects this morning to Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

President and Mrs. Coolidge, who came from Washington with their dead were consoled by the townsfolk of North Hampton and the simple rites which the family had wished. These were held in Edward's Congregational Church where Calvin, as a boy, had been taken into membership.

This afternoon, to Plymouth, Vermont, over a road travelled on summer vacations to his grandfather's farm, the presidential party was carrying the body of the 16-year-old boy to his burial place in the hillside country where lies the mother of the president.

The service yesterday in Washington was the government's tribute. That today in North Hampton was the family service in which old friends and neighbors participated.

Rev. Kenneth D. Wells, pastor of Edward's Congregational Church, said that in the memory of the life of Calvin Coolidge he found that which was best in the American boy and drew from his life a message of hope. After an organ prelude, Dr. Jason Noble Pierce, of the First Congregational Church of Washington, read Psalms 21 and 23. The quartette, which sang at the service in Washington yesterday, sang again today. The scripture reading was by the Rev. Dr. Pierce who read John 14; Corinthians 15 and Revelations 21.

Among those who took their places in the auto funeral procession were eight cabinet members, Secretaries Hughes, Work, Wallace, Weeks, Wilbur and Davis, Postmaster General New and Attorney General Stone, all in deep mourning.

Governor Cox, of Massachusetts, and Speaker Gillette, of the National House of Representatives, also attended.

DR. JAMES SPRUNT IS BURIED TODAY

Funeral Services of Prominent Wilmington Man Held at 4:30 O'clock

Wilmington, July 10.—Funeral services for Dr. James Sprunt, of this city, who died at the home of his nephew, Walter Sprunt, at Greenville Sound yesterday, will be held this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from the First Presbyterian Church. Dr. Alex Sprunt, of Charleston, brother of the deceased, will conduct the services. He will be assisted by Dr. J. O. Mann, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, of this city; Dr. W. W. Morton, pastor of First Presbyterian Church; and Dr. John Fairley, of Andrews' Presbyterian Church. The body will lie in state at the late residence of Dr. Sprunt on Front street until 4 o'clock. His nephews and nieces will act as pall bearers and floral bearers.

tended. The same six marines who stood guard around the bier through the night as the train moved north, bore the casket to the waiting hearse and marched in single file three on each side as the funeral procession moved through the town. Silent townsfolk, who stood uncovered as the procession approached, lined the street from the station to the ivy covered church.

Just as the procession reached the church the clock from a nearby tower told that the hour was ten.

The president and his family went from the home to the church and were met by the funeral procession at the church door. The building was already filled with homefolks.

Mrs. Coolidge slightly more drawn than yesterday but perfectly composed, went into the church with the President. Behind were John with his grandfather immediately followed by Mrs. Goodhue and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stearns. Then followed the cabinet members with their wives.

President and Mrs. Coolidge sat in the front row of center seats immediately in front of the coffin. To the president's left was his father and beside him John.

Children, many of them Calvin's playmates, were massed on the high school lawn across the corner from the church. The entire route from the station to the church on Main street was lined with the home folk and on the other side of the church the hill was crowded.

The funeral train left here for Ludlow, Vermont, at 10 a. m. Standard Time. From Ludlow, the party will travel by auto to Plymouth where simple burial services will be held at the little cemetery on the hillside where the Coolidges have been buried for four generations.

Plymouth, Vt., July 10.—The hamlet in the Vermont hills where Calvin Coolidge was born, sadly prepared today to greet the mourning president at the little hillside cemetery where members of the Coolidge family have found an eternal resting place since the name first came to Plymouth in 1780.

A grave has been made ready to receive the president's younger son and namesake and neighbors gathered to pay their last honors to Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

Governor Proctor, of Vermont, came yesterday to aid state and local officials and neighbors in making final arrangements. Today all was ready for the arrival of the presidential party from Washington which accompanied the body of the younger Coolidge. The president's train was expected to arrive at Ludlow, 11 miles from here and the nearest railroad point to Plymouth, at 2 o'clock. A hearse and automobiles furnished by the town await the train at Ludlow to convey the remains and the party over the road to the cemetery here. Troop B of the Third Cavalry, from Camp Devens, reached Ludlow yesterday. With Company B of the National Guards under the personal command of Adjutant General Herbert T. Johnston, of Montpelier, the cavalrymen will act as escort for the funeral procession and patrol the mountain road leading to Plymouth.

While the simple service of prayer

SPIRIT OF MAN GROWS

Sir Francis Younghusband believes that Mt. Everest will yet be climbed. He predicts his view on the proposition that man grows in wisdom and stature while the mountain remains the same. Two years ago man climbed to 27,000 feet on the shoulder of Everest. A month ago a height of 28,000 feet was gained. Though the expedition failed to attain the summit, but a thousand feet remained. Some one will climb that last thousand feet. The top will continue to challenge because "it is there."

The argument which Sir Francis presents is logical. He cites how 21,000 feet was the record of man's ascent in mountain climbing 40 years ago. A score of years ago he had reached 23,000 feet and has been gaining ever since. The progress has been slow, but it has been steady. Man has adjusted himself to the conditions presented. He has changed as he found change necessary. That many have failed and some have been killed does not discourage others. There are men ever ready to attempt what has never been done.

It is this ambition to do something that has never been done that has lifted mankind from savagery to the present state of the race. Climbing Mt. Everest is but one manifestation of the desire for achievement. The mass of the effort has been directed in more practical channels and with a more direct bearing on everyday life but all of it has been prompted by a desire to further man's power over physical forces. The physical forces remain constant. It is man who changes. As man is altered in the direction in which his ambition reaches the impossible becomes possible. It is the spirit of man which grows with the age of the race.

MONEY WELL SPENT

England, in view of its indebtedness, unemployment and burdensome taxes, has been criticized in this country for the expenditure of twenty millions of dollars on the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley. Why wasn't that sum devoted to erection of homes, the reduction of taxes and the relief of the unemployment situation, it is often asked.

The only reply the English can make is that the Wembley exposition is necessary for the preservation of the British Empire. Something had to be done quickly to cement closer the bond between the British Isles, India, South Africa, Australia, Canada, Ireland and the other British possessions. The exposition at Wembley is of, by and for the British Empire and all of its peoples. England expects to regain economic stability with the aid of the spirit of co-operation and sympathy being created at Wembley.

We in America have implicit faith in the virtues of the exposition. We know educational and economic values of the country fair, the agricultural exhibition and the World's Fair. Co-operation is achieved and the barriers of ignorance are lowered by them. The fair and exposition have proven themselves exceptional stimuli of trade. It is for this latter reason that the city of Philadelphia proposes to expand millions in 1926 for a sesqui-centennial exposition with full confidence of obtaining a rich return on the investment.

Wembley, after all, is but a great promotion and peacemaking enterprise in behalf of the British Empire as a whole.

A Progressive appears to be one who hasn't been able to have his way in either of the bid parties.

The delegates must have imagined that they were United States senators and therefore bound to disagree.

A Russian prince is one who does not have to work at the job, and there are other princes in the same fix.

Castor Oil? Never Again!

That's what numbers of mothers are saying since they have tried Liv-o-lax for the bilious attacks, indigestion and similar disorders of their children.

Mother dreads giving castor oil just as much as the baby fears taking it, and the same applies to calomel.

It was because the common family laxative fails to act on the liver that W. L. Hand began experimenting to devise a remedy that would act on both liver and bowels and take the place of calomel and castor oil, and the Liv-o-lax formula, as has been proven in thousands of households, meets this need.

Liv-o-lax is purely vegetable and is a liquid remedy, so pleasant to taste that the children love to take it.

It is just as good for bilious conditions and disorders of digestion in adults. You can get Liv-o-lax now at your favorite drug store.

CONSTANTLY IMPROVED BUT NO YEARLY MODELS

There are obvious benefits to the purchaser in Dodge Brothers policy of making constant, gradual improvements in their product instead of changing from one design to another year after year.

Chief among these is the fact that the car may be operated throughout the full limit of its usefulness without the extra depreciation loss which results from a rapid succession of radically different models.

"Ponjola" Filmed In Sincere Fashion

Fiction lovers are often disappointed when they see their favorite stories on the screen. Perhaps they cannot understand the technic of the movies which makes it necessary in many cases, to change parts of a story, which for one reason or another, cannot be screened.

But those who read and enjoyed "Ponjola" and all who did read it, enjoyed it—are not going to be disappointed in the film version of the famous Cynthia Stockley story, which is to be shown next Thursday at White's Theatre.

"Ponjola" has been described as "fool proof film material," and such it is. In adapting the story to the screen First National kept to the story in its entirety. The film is the popular novel brought to life. Telling a story of intrigue, adventure and love, it centers about a young nobleman who masquerades as a man and lives among the hardened characters of the South African veldt, fighting the curse of ponjola, the soul destroying drink of that country and fighting those who seek to destroy the man she loves.

It is a powerful picture of viril men and romantic women, of lust, hate and love—a highly dramatic picture that contains every essential of a perfect photodrama.

Its interpretation is in the hands of a most brilliant cast, including Anna Q. Nilsson, James Kirkwood, Tully Marshall, Ruth Clifford, Joseph Kilgour, Edwin Sturgis, Claire McDowell, Claire Du Bry and Bernard Randall.

Ham-Ramsay Closed Successful Meeting In Wilson Tuesday

Misses Lill Wilson and Ada Jones have returned from Wilson where they have been attending the Ham-Ramsay meeting and helping organize the Young Ladies Federation. They report a splendid meeting and state that Mr. Ham's services in Wilson had wonderful results.

The Wilson people are loud in their praise of the Greenville people who attended the Ham-Ramsay meeting. They will never forget the "Gospel Message Special," and will never cease marching over the greatness of the undertaking.

The organization of the Young Ladies Federation with fifty active members was secured through the efforts of Miss Lill Wilson, who took an active interest in the meetings.

The Federation has visited the jail the county home, the stockade, the Cotton Mill, and private homes where there are invalids and where they can be of service. Miss Wilson has put the young girls of Wilson to work telling the people of Jesus Christ.

Besides organizing the young women, Miss Wilson also organized the teen age girls and the married ladies. All three organizations are doing a wonderful work.

Mr. Ham's meeting closed in Wilson Sunday, but the people of the city, were so interested they persuaded him to remain until Tuesday evening at which time his campaign in our neighboring city was brought to a successful conclusion. It is estimated that at least eight hundred people were converted and reclaimed.

Solving the Problem of Decorating Walls and Ceilings

Where a finish for walls and ceilings is desired that will withstand rough usage, and yet will not surrender that soft, delicate tone that is so distinctively beautiful in modern homes—use Pee Gee Velkoatt.

It is a finish in itself when used on wood. It dries with a satin or eggshell effect. It has the appearance of hand-rubbed enamel, by reason of its hard, non-porous surface.

While you are giving thought to refinishing walls and ceilings, or perchance woodwork, Velkoatt offers a solution to your problems. It is sanitary, washable, and has a semi-gloss finish.

DAILY COTTON LETTER
Strong Liverpool with July 32 and October 28 up as against 20 up due; spot prices 47 higher, sales 4,000 bales.

The change in the crop situation shown by the Washington Summary had its effect. Temperatures were mostly near the seasonal but maximum of 98 to low degrees occurred in Northern Louisiana and Northern Texas and minima around 64 degrees in central and western Oklahoma. Most light to moderate showers have fallen in Arkansas and the Atlantic states and in widely scattered localities elsewhere. Heavy rains of 1 to 2 inches fell locally in South Georgia and Northern Florida. Heavy rains were reported as follows: Apalachicola, Fla., 1.62; Gainesville, Fla., 2.09; Hialeahurst, Ga., 1.02; Americus 2.70.

American markets opened unchanged to 18 up, but heavy selling coupled depressed values.

With better weather in the Atlantic New Orleans' advices that another steamship has arrived to carry more cotton to Russia. On shipboard for export at New Orleans today 10,058 bales against 7,512 last year; at Galveston 10,122 against 7,350 last year.

New York advices: Worth street cloth prices stronger, but business only moderate.

Frequent rallels on short covering are to be expected and caution should be used, but unless the weather turns definitely bad we expect a gradually sagging market pending the issuance of the Government condition report of July 21st which will show condition of crop as of July 15th.

Certificated stock at New Orleans reduced by 981 bales, leaving only 22,775 bales. It would appear that this certificated stock is being exported to Russia as 1,250 bales were loaded on boat yesterday.

Liverpool Spot Cotton.
Middling 1666; good middling 1797. Receipts 2,000 of which 1,000 were American; sales 4,000 of which 3,300 were American. The market closed easy. Jan. 1406; Mar. 1396; July 1648; Oct. 1448; Dec. 1415.

MR. J. R. TURNAGE HOST AT BANQUET

Entertains at Proctor Hotel in Honor Richmond Bankers; Fifty Guests Present

Mr. J. Raymond Turnage, Ayden was host on Wednesday evening at the Proctor Hotel, at a delightful banquet, having as honor guests Messrs. Patton and Hotchkiss, Richmond, vice presidents of the Planters National Bank, and Mr. Parker, vice president of the First National Bank, of Richmond. Fifty citizens of Pitt county, most of whom were bankers, were also guests of Mr. Turnage.

Mr. H. A. White, of this city, in his usual attractive manner acted as master of ceremonies. After he had extended a most cordial welcome to the distinguished visitors and honorees he called upon the following for short addresses, each responding in a most pleasing manner. Dr. W. W. Dawson, Grifton, Messrs. Colin Stokes, Thomas W. Prescott, Clarence Cannon, Ayden; J. R. Davis, Carl Turnage, Farmville; H. V. and John Staton, Bethel; F. C. Harding, E. G. Flanagan, W. H. Dail, Dr. C. O'H. Laughinghouse and E. B. Ficklen, Greenville. The addresses were short and along business lines.

It was a great gathering of business men and their ideas and thoughts were exchanged and each guest present gained something really worth while to carry back into his business.

Messrs. Patton, Hotchkiss and Parker are guests of Mr. Turnage and are in Pitt county looking over business conditions. It was indeed a pleasure for so many representative citizens of our county to meet and confer with them.

A most tempting banquet was served and taking the evening in its entirety, it proved most enjoyable. It is indeed well for business men to "get together" and formulate plans whereby our towns, cities and counties can make greater progress. Mr. Turnage's hospitality will long be remembered by the large number of friends present.

Calvin Coolidge Is Laid to Rest This Afternoon

and song is in progress at the graveside all activity will be suspended in Ludlow and the surrounding country and all mills and business will be closed.

One of the tasks that fell to the lot of the local road commissioner was to make access to the little secluded burying ground easy for the unprecedented throngs that were expected to flock that way for the interment of the president's son. In a single day a strip of sandy road one third of a mile long leading to the cemetery was built yesterday.

While those who planned the arrangements kept in mind that dignity hedges a president and its entourage, the wishes of the homefolk, who knew the Coolidges, father and son, as friends and neighbors, to pay their respects at the graveside was not overlooked. Across the road from the cemetery hay was cut from a meadow so the public could gather there to witness the last ceremony for Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

Davis to Deliver Series of Addresses Over the Country

tion, but determination has not yet been reached whether he will establish permanent headquarters in New York or West Virginia. He expects to return to his home in Clarksburg, West Virginia, to greet his neighbors and friends in advance of the formal notification. He had accepted an invitation to attend a dinner of the American Bar Association tonight in Philadelphia but he cancelled the engagement immediately after his nomination.

Replying to inquiries Davis declared that he would sever his connections with the law business. He is a member of the same firm of which Grover Cleveland was a member when he was nominated for the third time.

Although he did not retire until late last night Mr. Davis was up early this morning and accompanied Polk to the Waldorf Hotel where he met the correspondents. He later conferred with Chairman Hull of the national committee and party leaders.

It was not until today that the presidential nominee met Governor Bryan, of Nebraska, his running mate. They were introduced as Davis entered the room where the Democratic National Committee met. Bryan was standing at the entrance talking to a group of friends when Davis arrived with Hull, Walsh and other party leaders.

After the meeting Davis returned to the home of Polk where he spent much of the day. Tomorrow he plans to return to his home at Locust Valley, Long Island.

The presidential nominee has made no plans for the immediate future other than to obtain a needed rest. He said, that like all who had anything to do with the convention, he was well worn out.

Europe.

William Jennings Bryan, although asserting that he would support the ticket, was clearly disappointed at first but his spirit rose as developments progressed toward the nomination of his brother for vice president and at the end he was smiling broadly, convinced, he told friends, that the decision to put the western governor on the ticket assured a campaign for progressive principles.

"Ponjola" Vivid Picturization of Great Book

A refined girl, a victim of circumstances, decides that the world is not for women but for men only. Masquerading as a man she seeks to hide herself in Africa where she is thrown into a maelstrom of excitement, adventure and romance.

This briefly is the theme of "Ponjola," a Sam E. Rork-First National picture, which comes to White's theatre today.

"Ponjola" is a vivid picturization of Cynthia Stockley's famous masterpiece of South African gold field life, which proved a sensation in book form and promises to be no less of a sensation as a screen drama.

It tells the story of an English noblewoman who is disguised as a man, fights the curse of "Ponjola," the soul destroying drink of the gold miners; fights for the man she loves and willingly offers to sacrifice herself for a murder which the man commits.

In the role of "Desmond," the girl Anna Q. Nilsson, will be seen in a part which critics declare is the greatest role of her whole stage or screen career. James Kirkwood enacts the part of the man.

Other popular screen favorites in the picture are Tully Marshall, Ruth Clifford, Joseph Kilgour, Claire Du Brey, Claire McDowell and Bernard Randall.
