WHEELER 3RD PARTY CHOICE FOR V-PRES.

American Vice Consul Is Beaten To Death By Mob

Senator Wheeler Is Running Mate Sen. LaFollette

Urged by Advisors Montana Senator Accepts Endorsement as Vice-President by Independents

Washington, July 19.—Senator Wheeler, of Montana, who won national distinction by his conduct of the Senate Dugherty investigation, today accepted the vice-presidential nomination of the La Follette Independent ticket and immediately began his campaign with a broadside against the political affiliations of Calvin Coolidge and John W. Davis the Republican and Democratic nominees.

Senator O.K. Wheeler.

"I am a Democrat but not a Wall Street Democrat," he said in a letter formally accepting the tender to him by a group of La Follette leaders in conference here.

The Democratic party had "wantonly abandoned an opportunity for greater public service" it continued and both it and the Republican party had ignored the call of the unorganized millions who are victims of the present economic disorders.

Senator Wheeler's acceptance of the nomination and his denunciation of the two old line parties were embodied in a letter to William H. Johnston, of the Machinists Union, heading a committee sent to him by the conference of LaFollette leaders to receive his reply to the formal tender of vice presidential nomination voted by the conference yesterday.

Although he had previously declared he would not accept such a designation, Senator Wheeler yielded and reversed his decision after he was urged to do so by La Follette and several of his principal advisers.

Senator Wheeler promised to reply today and he did so soon after reaching his office this morning.

Negroes Arrested For Attempting Give Baby Away

Will Fleming, negro, is in Pitt county jail charged with separating a child under six months of age from its mother, while Bessie Harris, mother of the child, is also in jail charged with being an accomplice in the crime.

Several days ago Will Fleming, with a week-old baby stopped at the home of a negro near New Bern. He gave his name as Will Flem Moore and asked if he could leave the baby until he could go to New Bern and make arrangements to get the baby into a hospital. Not suspecting anything wrong the negroes appeared to, promised to keep the child.

Upon Fleming's failure to return efforts were at once made to locate the mother of the child. Link by link the bits of information were put together and it was ascertained that Bessie Harris, negro, living near Shelmerdine was the mother.

Sheriff Jackson was much interested in the affair and has been working untiringly on the case. He, after the baby was returned to its mother, found out that Will Fleming, an uncle of the baby, was the man wanted.

He was arrested yesterday and he with the woman will be sent to New Bern for trial.

When questioned concerning the affair the mother told the sheriff that she wasn't able to take care of the baby and that she allowed her brother-in-law, Will Fleming, to take it away.

The baby is with its mother and is getting along nicely after its many travels.

OFFICERS STILL SEEK MURDERER MAJOR M'LEARY

Suspect Held in Greenville Not Man Wanted; Another Suspect Being Held in Hartsville; Whether King is Federal or Civil Prisoner is Undetermined

Columbia, S. C., July 19.—A man giving his name as Frank Harrell was arrested last night at Hartsville, S. C. and is being held as a suspect in the McLeary murder case according to a dispatch today to the Columbia Record.

Greenville, S. C., July 19.—Two men, who said they are acquainted with Frank Harrell, alleged accomplice of Mortimer H. King in the killing of Major Samuel H. McLeary, near Cheraw July 2, today declared that the suspect arrested here yesterday was not Harrell.

Columbia, S. C., July 19.—Though Mortimer H. King, who officers say confessed in Canton to the slaying of Major Samuel H. McLeary, 12 miles from Cheraw, S. C., on July 2, is held in the Richland county jail here for federal authorities, Sheriff James T. Grant, of Chesterfield county, is expected to arrive here today with a warrant to arrest him on the charge of murder.

The Department of Justice, whose agents made the arrest, will be requested to rule on the case to determine whether King will remain in the custody of federal authorities or be turned over to state officers.

Warrants for King and Frank Harrell, alleged accomplice, sought by officers in several counties, were sworn out yesterday in Chesterfield county by Magistrate J. S. Hartzell, acting coroner who held the inquest, according to a message from the sheriff of that county received here by telephone.

The identity of the man arrested at Greenville suspected of being Frank Harrell remained a mystery last night but it is expected that his identity will be established today by

WILSON COUNTY MAN SHOT DEATH

WILSON, July 19.—J. T. Moore was shot and instantly killed this morning between 10 and 11 a. m., on the farm of G. C. Thigpen near Saratoga, Wilson County. A. T. Galloway shortly afterward gave himself up to the sheriff and declared he had killed Moore in self defense.

REACH AGREEMENT ON DAWES SCHEME

Committee of Inter-Aligned Conference Agrees on Preservation of Rights of Signatory Powers

London, July 19.—The committee of the Inter-Allied Conference changed its sanctions in event of Germany's default of the Dawes scheme today under an agreement to insure investors in the German loan priority on all German resources in event of Germany's default.

The committee also agreed unambiguously to reserve the rights enjoyed by all nations signing the Versailles Treaty.

These two issues stood in the way of negotiations in the conference yesterday and an agreement on them it is believed will expedite the work on a general agreement on the Dawes plan.

Agreement to preserve the rights of the signatory powers of the Versailles Treaty was a concession to Premier Herriot, of France, and in effect preserved the right of separate action on the part of France.

London, July 19.—"Our work must be and will be approved by the peoples of the world because always personal considerations were unknown in our efforts to point out the practical economic and common sense basis for future co-operation between the allies and Germany Charles G. Dawes declared in a message to his fellowmembers on the first expert committee, made public in part today by Owen D. Young.

The message was in reply to one sent the vice presidential nominee of the Republican party by fellowmembers of the committee which drew up the Dawes report.

TWO MEN DIE IN AUTO COLLISION RICHMOND

Richmond, Va., July 19.—Thomas Cavan, 28, and William Wolfseifer, 26, were killed and M. L. Harris was injured early today in a collision of two automobiles here.

The three men were in one auto. The occupants of the other, a high priced car, had not been located several hours afterward.

Accounts of the location vary, police stated. Residents near the scene of the crash were awakened just before dawn by the noise of the colliding machines.

citizens of Rock Hill and Union who will arrive today. The man gave his name as Robert Walker and later as Luther C. Jones, of Alco, Tenn.

Solicitor J. Monroe Spears, of Darlington, announced that indictment of King and Harrell would be sought upon opening of court in Chesterfield county September 22.

It is the expressed opinion the jurisdiction of the case will not be affected by the allegation that the men charged with the crime are deserters from the army.

RITZ-CARLTON HOTEL

Because of alleged liquor violations, Federal Prohibition Enforcement Agents will seek to place a padlock for one year, under the terms of the Volstead Act, on the $10,000,000 Hotel Ritz-Carlton, in New York City, one of the most expensive and exclusive hotels in the world.

Pitt County Financial Institutions Show Great Gains In Past Six Years

An increase of three million dollars in the resources of Pitt County Banks from December 30, 1917 to December 30, 1923, was shown in the report of W. R. Willis, secretary of the Pitt County Bankers' Association at a meeting last night at which time the association entertained about fifty directors of various banks in the county.

The meeting was held in the local Rotary home and was presided over by Mr. G. W. Prescott, of Ayden; president of the association. Following the delightful dinner the president extended words of welcome to the guests and called upon Mr. J. E. Turnage, of Ayden, for an address.

Mr. Turnage briefly outlined the history of the banking business and spoke on the banks' relationship to its customers. Mr. Turnage's address was followed by one of Hon. F. C. Harding, of this city, whose subject was the reverse of that of the first speaker, it being "The community's responsibility to its banks."

Confidence was the keynote of both the addresses the former urging the confidence of the banks in its customers and the latter urging the confidence of all citizens in their financial institutions.

W. H. Woolard, of Greenville, the next speaker, reviewed in brief the State Bankers Convention recently held in Asheville, and followed his remarks by offering a resolution similar to that placed before the state association relative to modification of the state tax on bank deposits.

W. R. Willis, secretary of the county association, submitted a report showing an increase of approximately three million dollars in the resources of Pitt county banks in the past six years.

His report showed that on the close of business December 30, 1917 the combined capital stock of all banks in Pitt county was $686,000 as compared with $1,100,000 on similar date in 1923. For the same period banking houses and real estate owned was $77,000.00 as compared to $232,000.00; cash available was $1,345,000 against $1,915,000. Deposits for the period climbed from $4,730,000 to $7,085,000 with the total resources of $5,440,000 in 1917 and $8,300,000 at the close of his head.

Following came short addresses by J. C. Galloway, of Grimesland; G. T. Gardner, of Grifton; D. E. Oglesby, of Farmville; C. V. Cannon, of Ayden; E. G. Flanagan, Greenville; K. A. Pittman, Ayden; J. A. Staton, Bethel; J. L. Starkey, J. L. Little, C. S. Forbes, N. O. Warren and F. J. Forbes, of Greenville.

Each of these talks stressed the responsibility of a director to his and his community and urged all to take more interest in their institutions and their communities for a bigger and better Pitt county.

PROGRESSIVE PITT PEOPLE BEHIND MORRISON'S PLAN

Albion Dunn in Interview With Wilmington Star Gives Interesting Facts

(Wilmington Star, July 17th) "The people of Pitt county stand as one man behind Governor Morrison's progress program, including state port development as well as his state highway achievement." That was emphatically asserted at Wrightsville Beach today by Albion Dunn, a prominent lawyer of Greenville, N. C.

"Personally, I was opposed to the port and terminal development project at first, but I now give my hearty support to the whole program. The governor carried out his state highway program on such a big and magnificent scale that it convinced me that the people of North Carolina ought to stand behind him and give port development their unanimous support," Mr. Dunn very frankly emphasized. He added:

"Every citizen of the state has learned that whatever Morrison attempts goes over big. The people stand behind him unanimously on his state highway program, and in my section of the state they have great confidence in whatever he proposes. The great majority of people have implicit faith in anything originated by the progressive governor of this progressive state. They have seen his great highway program put over on such a tremendous and eminent scale that they are confident that the Governor will completely accomplish his aim to build and equip a state port that will solve the state's freight rate problem. I now give my earnest endorsement to it, and the state will realize that its opportunity is in the port of Wilmington."

The State's Seashore Asset. Mr. Dunn is a guest of the Seashore hotel and so is his fellow townsman Roy Batchelor, a prominent Greenville merchant. They believe in a summer vacation for everybody and if a picture of enjoyment could be taken all the cameramen would have to do would be to snap the faces of the two Greenville men. Mr. Dunn has been a regular summer visitor at Wrightsville Beach for the last 20 years and he was convinced by his first vacation at the beach that no recreation one can seek can compare at all with a week's recreation at the seashore. "I have been coming to Wrightsville Beach for 20 years," he said, "and it is by far the best summer resort in the south. The people of Wilmington would stand in their own light if they do not advertise the resort and develop it on a scale warranted by its great advantages and possibilities. There is no reason for anybody in North Carolina to go to resorts outside the state when they have the finest vacation ground right at our very door. The Seashore hotel management under Edgar L. Hinton is exceedingly pleasing to his guests and the fine service they get increases the popularity of the resort."

Great Section of the State Messrs. Dunn and Batchelor are men.

Major Robert Imbrie Dies As Result of Beating; Melin Seymour Suffers Serious Injuries

London, July 19.—British officials today confirmed the death of Major Robert Imbrie, American Vice-Consul in charge at Teheran, Persia, who it was stated was attacked by a fanatical mob yesterday morning while photographing a public fountain. He was in company with another American named Seymour.

Washington, July 19.—A message has been received by the State Department from American Minister Joseph S. Kornfeld, at Teheran, Persia, stating that American Vice-Consul Robert Imbrie died of shock at 3 o'clock yesterday after having been brutally beaten by a mob.

The vice consul and Melin Seymour, also an American, had stopped their carriage to watch a religious demonstration in the city, the message said, and were rushed by a mob which mistook them for members of a sect known as Behais, against which the demonstration was directed.

Seymour's condition was said to be so serious as a result of the beating he received that he has been unable to make any statement.

London, July 19.—A dispatch to the Evening News from Teheran, Persia, states that Major Robert Imbrie, American Consul there, had died as a result of a severe beating administered by a mob. Another American, who is said to have been with Major Imbrie, was taken to a hospital severely wounded.

Other advices from Teheran had it that the American Consul with his Oriental secretary were taking pictures of a public fountain when the mob attacked them. It said that the American official was killed and his secretary and several police were injured.

Trinity Coaching School Will Close On Tomorrow

Durham, July 19. — Sunday will mark the close of the Trinity Coaching School which has been in session here since the middle of June, according to an announcement issued today from the office of the college. Coach J. S. Burbage has been directing the school and has specialized on the theoretical training as well as the practical.

The school this summer was only an experiment, Mr. Burbage stated, but it has been so successful that it is likely that the coaching school will become a regular part of the summer school work at Trinity College.

Those who attended the coaching school will teach in various parts of the country and the possessions of the United States while even one will teach in Japan, it was said. Two of the students will coach in schools on the Pacific Coast, one will go to Honolulu, and several throughout the South and West. The student going to Japan is Richard Shikawa, native of Japan, who came to this country to be educated and to specialize in American sports so that he could teach them to his countrymen.

OUR SWEET TOOTH

Judging from the case of sugar, it is a reasonable conclusion that Americans will have what they want when they want it without much consideration of price. Facts About Sugar, a trade journal of the sugar industry, is authority for the statement that in the first six months of this year this country consumed 6,247,000,000 pounds of the sweet. It makes an average of about 56 pounds for every man, woman and child in the United States, a little more than two pounds a week per person.

In 1922 the average for the first six months was about 2 pounds less than in the similar period of 1924, but the latter was about two pounds more than each person, on the average, consumed in the first half of last year. High water mark in sugar consumption by Americans was reached in 1922. Then price was higher than now, but considerably lower than in the few next preceding years when there was scarcity and restriction of use of sugar. This year's price is lower than that of last year, but the difference in consumption indicates that price is not an important factor.

A great many readers likely will disclaim using sugar in any such quantity as the statistics indicate may be attributed to each individual. But sugar goes into a great variety of things besides coffee and tea cups, candy, ice cream, cakes, pies and similar edibles familiar in all households. The soft drink industry, which has had a gigantic growth in the last few years, consumes enormous quantities of sugar. In the curing of meats thousands of tons are used annually. Numerous industries whose products never enter the mouths of any persons cannot get along without sugar.

But sugar is eaten many times without the consumer suspecting its presence in particular foods that would be unpalatable without it. A large part of the average of more than two pounds a week consumed by every American is taken unwittingly, though it contributes to satisfying the demand of the nation's sweet tooth.

CRITICISM

Fashion for men move in cycles but the present cycle is revolving more rapidly than usual. Those of today (subject to change tomorrow) would have afforded the sophisticated city a hearty laugh a year ago, yet now they are approved without qualification or reservation. In fact, it has been pointed out that the urban fashion plate for 1924 could excusably be mistaken for a tintype from the little page of the family album or for a snapshot taken of a country cousin a year ago.

Those obedient observers of fashion's dictates, are now seen in wide-legged trousers, loose-fitting high-buttoned jackets, garish light-tan shoes, brilliant hose and blue shirts are probably the same fellows who a few months ago made great sport of the rustic youth who came into the city in very much the same sort of make-up. As often happens in fashionable affairs, the out-of-date today sets the style for tomorrow. It is embarrassing business to criticize clothing because fashion may decree the wearing of the ostracized garment tomorrow.

This moral in clothes may be applied to other lines of human conduct. When fighting with a neighbor because of something he has done one should be sure he is not going to be guilty of the same offense a month from now. Conditions change. Unlike woman, the right to change his mind is not a prerogative of the critic. Criticisms generally come home to their maker.

Expecting nothing is an excellent way to get ditto.

No town is big enough for a reckless drivers' convention.

Turkish judge who rules that poker is not a game of chance evidently has been "sitting in."

The nice thing about a bad start is it gives you more to brag about after you get ahead.

Secretary Davis says patronage of the lunch counter is the test of genuine Americanism. Then there are some queer-looking Americans.

Senator Robinson had his hopes for a presidential nomination bumped and to add to his troubles the Chevy Chase Club throws him out.

The man who last March paid his income taxes in full now has something coming to him, and according to treasury promises he may receive the refund in September in time to buy the kid a new school outfit.

NEW HOSPITALS SOON WILL CARE FOR MANY OF WORLD WAR SICK

Washington—Steps taken by the Veterans Bureau to hospitalize the sick of the World War will be considerably advanced when the seven new tuberculosis and neuropsychiatric hospitals or additions, just completed at a cost of many thousands of dollars are ready for opening. Four more hospitals and many new additions are in the course of construction.

The hospitals and supplementary units just completed were built by the construction division of the army quartermaster corps, the navy bureau of yards and docks, treasury supervising architects and the Veterans Bureau, and will provide approximately 2,600 beds for tubercular and neuropsychiatric patients. Under the newly enacted Reed-Johnson veterans' relief act, extending the tubercular presumptive period to Jan. 1, 1925, many former service men are expected to be treated in the new institutions.

The hospitals just completed are: Chillicothe, I., 452-bed neuropsychiatric, built by the war department. Knoxville, Iowa, 454-bed neuropsychiatric addition, constructed by the war department.

Northampton, Mass., 402-bed neuropsychiatric, built by the navy.

Tupper Lake, N. Y., 358-bed tuberculosis, built by the navy.

Northampton, Mass., 42-bed neuropsychiatric, built by the war department.

Chelsea, N. Y., 400-bed tuberculosis, built under the first Langley bill by the supervising architect of the treasury.

Little Rock, Ark., 243-bed addition for neuropsychiatric patients, built by the Veterans Bureau.

More than 1,300 additional beds will be made available for sick veterans with the completion of the following institutions:

Camp Custer, Mich., 527-bed neuropsychiatric, completion estimated around August 15.

St. Cloud, Minn., 202-bed neuropsychiatric, August 15.

Livermore, Cal., 268-bed tuberculosis, 10 per cent ahead on contract which calls for completion March 15, 1925.

Contract recently was let for a 250-bed tuberculosis hospital at Aspen, Pa., and work is expected to begin soon. All of the hospitals and additions recently built or building are of modern, fireproof construction.

Florida Women Ask Law Against Child Marriage

Tallahassee, Fla.—The clubwomen of Florida plan to make a strong fight at the forthcoming biennial legislative session, in April and May, 1925, to have the marriage laws of the state amended, setting a limit upon the marriageable age of girls.

The matter was a subject of great interest at Tampa recently when a girl bride was brought before the county probation officer. It was discovered that the child's parents were dead and that she had been left in the care of her aged grandmother. The grandmother had given her consent, the only legal requirement, to the child's marriage to a man of 34 years of age. The union resulted in grief to the young wife. Now the club women, backed by judges, probation officers, and others, plan a fight to bring about enactment of laws designed to prevent a recurrence of such tragedies.

"As it is at present, the county judges are helpless," declared Mrs. Anos Norris, Tampa clubwoman, in making it known that her organization would carry the fight before the legislature. "If the parents or guardians of a child consent, there is no law to prevent children of 11 or even younger marrying. In the recent case of the 11-year-old bride which has brought this matter again before the public, Judge Hazard at first refused to issue the license, but upon further examination of the law, he realized that he had no legal right to deny it when the grandmother's consent was given and so he issued it. He could do nothing else."

"We hope to alter this condition by bringing about a state law that will define the minimum age limit for marriage with guardian's consent." Sixteen years has been suggested as the limit.

Classic Hebrew Theatre Introduced In Berlin, Germany

Berlin.—A Hebrew, not Yiddish, theatre has just been opened in Berlin, coming from Moscow and planning ultimately to move to Palestine to remain there as a monument to the Zionist movement. The moving role of statist, or "super," and spirit in the enterprise is the Russian Jewish actor Gnessin, a pupil of Stanislavsky.

Gnessin is striving for a type of play that may be termed 'Hebrew-herotic'. He is opposed to the Yiddish "jargon theatre," as he calls it, which reflects the milieu of the Ghetto and which in his opinion shows little originality. Just as Zionism seeks to supplant the Yiddish dialect by the classical Hebrew, so Gnessin seeks to replace the electric drama of the Yiddish theatre by the Hebrew-herotic.

Gnessin himself has written the first play with which his company is introducing itself to the Berlin public. It is called "Belshazzar," and adaptation of the Old Testament story of King Belshazzar, the prophet Daniel, and the writing on the wall. Acting, music, the dance, mimicry, painting, and acrobatics combine in about equal shares in the production.

A characteristic feature of the play is the fact that the various actors become stars for the moment, only the next moment to subside to

Cougar Attacks Man.

Olympic, Wash.—An attack by a cougar, one of very few on record, has been reported from the Olympic National Forest, Western Washington, by Glenn Merchant, a former forest guard.

Mr. Merchant said the cougar sprang from some brush and tore off a trousers leg and severely scratched him. He hit the cougar on the nose with a fishing rod, and ran. The beast did not follow.

"PAINTED PEOPLE" DELICIOUS COMEDY

One of the most delicious comedies which it has ever been our pleasure to see is on view next week at White's Theatre. It is "Painted People" a First National picture featuring Colleen Moore, the little star who created a sensation throughout the country through her impersonation of the thrill-seeking flapper in "Flaming Youth."

"Painted People," which is based on Richard Connell's Collier's Weekly story, "The Swamp Angel," deals with the adventures of a boy and a girl who are entranced by the visions of "high life" afforded them by the residents living on the "other side of the tracks" in their town, and who deliberately set out to gain admission to the sacred precincts.

One of the many laughable episodes in the production centers about the efforts of the two to break into society. One day they received the coveted invitations—but the stunning realization comes to them that they do not possess the proper clothing for the affair—or the knowledge as to the exact way in which to deport themselves.

They conceive the brilliant idea of purchasing a book on etiquette, but they fail to notice that the book had been published half a century before, and that its contents were hopelessly out-of-date. As a result they create quite a sensation at the party.

To reveal the outcome of this faux pas or the plot of the story would do you an injustice, for it must be seen to be appreciated. Ben Lyon plays opposite Miss Moore the remainder of the particularly effective cast includes Bill Montana, Anna Q. Nilsson, June Elvidge, Sam De Grasse, Mary Carr, Mary Alden, Russell Simpson, Charles Murray, Joseph Striker and Charlotte Merriam.

"Painted People," in our estimation is a masterpiece of American humor and one that will delight every age and every class.

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, July 19.—Market showed some weakness on the opening this morning and was somewhat lower, evidently evening up over the bureau, and more bearish bureau news. The bureau Monday is expected to show a slight gain in condition and a larger crop estimate on account of cotton pars, however, the cotton crop deteriorated the past five days in the belief of some, while others take a more optimistic view and claim it has improved some.

The news from the London reparations conference was not so reassuring this morning, which also had its depressing effect on the market.

Light showers are reported by several places in the Western Belt this morning. New York says the demand for contracts in that market yesterday was mainly supplied by an international straddler who feels the crop reports are being exaggerated.

Manchester cables some improvement in yarn trade in that market. Colonel Hester's week-end figures vis-a-vis of all kinds, 2,377,739 this year against 2,130,098 last year and 3,700,711 the year before, of which American 192,789 against 882,823 last year and 2,087,711 the year before. The world's visible decreased during the week as follows: American 51,041 vs. 56,535 last year. Other kinds 17,000 against 22,000 last year. Total 68,041 against 78,535 last year.

Trading was on a small scale today and the market eased some after the opening decline, evidently on the private reports of scattered showers in some places in west Texas and the usual Saturday reaction and had a ten point recovery from the low of the day by the close.

STICK LETTER

New York, July 19.—The market has enjoyed a good reaction and if our expectations that the advance has again been resumed is correct, it should be from here, and without further set backs or delay. With the technical position strengthened by Wednesday and Thursday weakness, and with both Dunn and Bradstreet cheerful for the first time in months, conditions are favorable to immediately higher prices. Any failure further to respond to the better news after the adjustment, the list has had, would in our opinion plainly indicate that the rally had run its course for the time being.

THE WEATHER

Temperatures averaged 92 to 98 light rains reported in Memphis, Montgomery and New Orleans districts. Forecast: North Carolina, East Texas and Oklahoma, generally fair; all balance entire belt mostly partly cloudy.

COTTON

The on shipboard New Orleans 3,287 against 3,330 last year; Galveston 9,800 vs. 9,500.
Weekly review of country's general trade says that a better is apparent in wholesale lines with textiles being bought more freely.
Shipboard New York today, 33,000 vs. 21,000 last year.
Market opens a little off the weekend reaction idea and bearish bureau expectation.

Some scattered showers in West Texas and usual week-end selling especially on account of bureau caused weakness.

Lubbock, Texas—Good showers here Comanche, Texas—Cloudy, look like rain.

Fall River—Market more active, especially for narrow goods. Yarn buyers are showing more interest and playing more orders both for nearby deliveries and for delivery up to Oct

Progressive Pitt People Are Behind Morrison's Plan

powerful boosters of eastern North Carolina, and they said something for Greenville when they pointed out a Star representative that within two years the vast sum of $10,000,000 had been spent in Pitt county and Greenville because of the state's highway and educational program. Colonel Cotton, of Cottontale, said a few days ago that "Pitt is the greatest county in the state," and he carried it by Messrs. Dunn and Batchelor.

The Home of Bright Tobacco.

Having been mayor of the progressive young city of Greenville, Mr. Dunn is qualified to speak about his city, which, he states is the third tobacco county in North Carolina, having handled 38,000,000 pounds of bright leaf last season. "Pitt county is the finest hard surfaced roads in the state," Mr. Dunn said to The Star yesterday, and he states that the county highway program includes 100 miles of fine highway besides improved county roads which run out in miles from Greenville in every direction. Highways in Pitt represent an investment of $5,000,000 all told, the expenditure for the new system having been $2,500,000 state and federal, and $1,600,000 by the county. The entire highway program will be completed by fall. Ninety miles have already been finished.

All Progressives Approve.

According to Mr. Dunn, the progressive citizens approve the whole progress program of Governor Morrison's administration, and the reason is that it has meant wonderful progress for Pitt county and Greenville. The county highway system connects Greenville with Farmville, Bethel, Washington, Kingston and Wilson and the county highways connect with the state's entire county-to-county-to-capital system. Notwithstanding the millions spent for good roads, the rate in Pitt county is only $1 in the $100 valuation of property. After all, progress does not come high, and the cost is really nothing considering the development and prosperity so manifest throughout the county. There are 13 banks in Pitt county, says Mr. Dunn with aggregate deposits of $5,000,000.

Great Development at Greenville.

When The Star inquired about Greenville, Mr. Dunn opened up. His face took on a glow when he declared that Greenville, now a city of 1,500, is the third tobacco market in the state. The city has great leaf tobacco warehouses and stemmeries, and the three groups of buyers there very season assure the growers the top of the market for the weed. Last season the Greenville warehouses handled 38,000,000 pounds of bright tobacco, in addition to 8,000 pounds more sold on the Farmville market, also in Pitt county. The two markets paid $10,000,000 to growers last season. Besides that, Pitt is one of the best cotton growing counties in the state. Cotton and tobacco have made her farmers prosperous, and is two miles out on a hard surfaced prosperity is doing its magic work in highway.

Greenville and all over the county.

Millions for Education.

Mr. Dunn exhibited unrestrained enthusiasm when he stated that the state is now spending $2,000,000 on its state college building program at the East Carolina Teachers' Training college in Greenville. The buildings include expansion of the college building and dormitories, and five of the buildings have been completed this year. The entire building program will be completed by fall, when the college will have a student capacity of 1,500, compared with its former capacity of 800 students. The college was founded by the state in 1907 and its president then and now is Prof. R. H. Wright.

"By the way," remarked Mr. Dunn, "President Wright is a brother of Isaac C. Wright of the Wilmington bar and the state college president has built up for the state an educational institution of tremendous importance to eastern North Carolina. The college now represents a state investment of $5,000,000, and it is doing a great work for eastern North Carolina and the state. Greenville is proud of her college and Mr. Dunn says it is a distinct factor in the development and prestige of Greenville.

Greenville's Light Shines.

"The citizens of Greenville are public spirited and all are progressive declared her former mayor. "The city owns its own water and lighting system. The city's power plant also furnishes current for lighting neighboring towns of Bethel and Winterville. Greenville has eight miles of street paving, and I am glad these improvements were made when I was mayor from 1915 to 1920."

Recently the citizens of Greenville organized a country club with 135 members. The club bought 150 acres of land for $150,000, and it now has the best 9-hole golf links in the state. Greenville's country club is two miles out on a hard surfaced
