MORRISON PAROLE S FIVE PRISONERS, GRANTS RESPITE T O LENOIR CO. MAN

Raleigh, July 22.—Governor Morrison on Monday made six prisoners happy when he issued a respite of the date of electrocution for one and paroles for five others.

The respite was issued for Albert Byrd who was convicted in the Superior Court of Lenoir County of criminal assault and sentenced to be electrocuted on August 5, next. He was tried last May. The Executive stayed the execution until October 3, he explained, in order that he might consider thoroughly the recommendation for the commutation of the death sentence.

The paroles were issued to the following:

Fred Bowers, who was convicted of assault with deadly weapon at the September term of 1923 of the Anson County Superior Court and sentenced to two years on the roads. He had previously been issued a 30 day parole and the Governor stated that he prolonged the parole for an additional 30 days in order that he might decide definitely about permanent action in the case.

BREVITY TO MARK CEREMONIES OF NOTIFICATION

Speeches of Davis and Walsh to Be Much Shorter Than Similar Addresses Heretofore

Dark Harbor, Islesboro, Maine, July 22.—A precedent in brevity is the goal of John W. Davis, in preparation of his address of acceptance of the presidential nomination. His idea now is to cover the field generally emphasizing the more important issues such as honesty in government, foreign affairs, taxes, tariff and farm relief.

The occasion requires the discussion of so many different subjects that Mr. Davis cannot make his speech as brief as he would like to have it. He has not determined finally how he will even trim his work but it is his present intention that the whole discourse will be of about 4,000 words which will take about 40 minutes to deliver.

The notification address to be made by Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, permanent chairman of the New York Democratic Convention, will probably be equally as brief as that of Mr. Davis so that the ceremony at Clarksburg on the night of August 11 will be much shorter than similar affairs of recent years.

In preparing his address Mr. Davis is studying the platforms of several parties.

Mystery Surrounds Death of Farmer

Asheville, July 22.—Mystery surrounds the finding of the dead body of James Galyan, 55, well known farmer, of the Fletcher section, in the bull lot on the farm of Henry Lance early this morning.

Persons finding the body are inclined to the belief that Galyan was murdered and his body thrown into the bull lot. His body was stripped to the waist but revealed no injuries other than bruises about the face and head.

A pistol which had not been discharged was found near the body and identified as the property of the dead man. It is the opinion of those who found the body that it had not been attacked by the bull which was kept in the lot.

The coroner was notified and is expected to hold an investigation this afternoon.

WITS AND BRAKES ONLY RULES FOR MOTOR TRAFFIC IN PARIS

Paris.—The Perfect of Police of Paris is now issuing permits to drive motor cars at the rate of 44,000 a month.

The police department is considering a new regulation of traffic that will relegate all cars driven into Paris for mere pleasure to the less congested parts of the town. At present all regulations are disregarded. The chauffeurs say that otherwise there would be no possibility of moving about in Paris. The drivers depend entirely on their wits and their brakes. Speed regulations were forgotten long ago, but it is said they will come into use again when the new code of rules has been completed.

MORRISON WILL NOT INSIST UPON VOTE BY PEOPLE

Makes Statement That He Does Not Object to Straight Out Adoption of Ship Proposal

Charlotte, July 22.—Governor Cameron Morrison will not insist upon the report of the State Ship and Water Transportation Commission being put to a vote of the people.

The governor made this assertion here last night while enroute to the mountains for an outing. He was accompanied by Mrs. Morrison and his daughter, Miss Angela. They will go to Blowing Rock, Linville and Asheville.

Governor Morrison paused here long enough to make his statement regarding the report and announce that he would appoint James E. Parham, managing editor of the Charlotte Observer, a member of the board of directors of the state prison. The governor stated he had confidence that if the people of the state wanted the adoption of the report the legislature would act accordingly and he would not object to the straight out adoption by the legislature without a referendum vote.

Tanker Swift Arrow Rams Passenger Liner Boston Off Judith Point; Passengers Take to Life Boats and Are Picked Up By Other Liners

Newport, R. I., July 22.—The bodies of two men and one woman are aboard the steamer Boston which was beached in the harbor here after being towed in. The victims were caught in the wreckage of two staterooms and it has been impossible to get them out. It is believed that no others were killed.

The bodies of the dead cannot be identified. The purser of the Boston carried the passenger list with him aboard the Priscilla which is due to arrive in New York this afternoon.

New York, July 22.—The Eastern Steamship Company announced that the Boston carried 696 passengers. These were transferred to the following ships of the Fall River line—the Providence is carrying 46 to New York; Priscilla carrying 48 to New York; Plymouth carrying 130 to Fall River, Mass.; Commonwealth carrying 40 to Newport, R. I.

Newport, R. I., July 22.—Struggling back after a collision in fog with the oil tanker Swift Arrow, the coastwise passenger liner Boston was being towed here today a stricken ship while some of its 600 to 900 passengers were lost in the murk in lifeboats. It was reported, but not confirmed, that four passengers were killed in the crash. Most of the passengers are reported to be aboard the Fall River liner Priscilla bound for New York.

A radio call to have ambulances at the Fall River wharf was received here this morning. Afterward the whistle of an approaching steamer was heard through the fog. The identity of the vessel which might be held up in the bay for several hours is not known nor has the origin of the message been given.

The first injured passenger brought ashore from the Boston was C. Copeland, of Brockland, Mass., who was landed by the coast guard cutter Acushnet and taken to a local hospital suffering from a fractured left leg, fractured shoulder blade and internal injuries. Officials of the Acushnet said they had seen the bodies of two passengers but that it had been impossible to extricate them from the wreckage. They had heard that one man had jumped overboard and was drowned after his wife had been killed by the collision with the Swift Arrow.

New York, July 22.—Three persons were killed and one injured when the Eastern Steamship Company's liner Boston was rammed by the oil tanker, Swift Arrow off Point Judith, R. I., early today according to J. A. Coates, vice president of the company. All the passengers have been picked up by other steamers, said Mr. Coates. The City of Lowell is putting in to New Bedford, Mass., with a number of the passengers he said.

GUESSING AT THE MARKET

Financial writers, brokers and "dopesters" generally are at present endeavoring to measure the future trend of the stock market. Lately it has been gathering some momentum. A few days ago an eastern statistician, whose prognostications have not always been borne out, is reported as having advised his clients to buy the coppers and other issues, believing the position of the market for the securities warranted an enactment in value in the near future.

In the meantime the public does not exhibit any great interest in stocks from the buying standpoint. As a result some of Wall street's sharpshooters are contending that recent advances in certain issues have followed because of a "short" interest in them and pool manipulation of bankers and that professional interests now are more or less in control of the situation. As far as quotations are concerned there is some interest in stock market. It is possible that the strength in some issues presages improved trade conditions in the near future, but the public never comes into the stock market until there has been a decided rise. The average purchasers of securities, those who buy solely with a view of making a turn regardless of the value of the security bought, do not "nibble" until there is decidedly good action upward. The wise investor does not buy securities that way.

There are plenty of good stocks and bonds to choose from. Aside from considering a concern's financial standing and its ability to earn money, as proved by past performance, purchase of good stocks and bonds can be made with reasonable safety by buying them when they are around the low average price over a period of years. There is always risk in speculating in the average run of stocks and bonds, but the risk is lessened in buying standard securities of unquestioned worth when they are down to a point to justify investment. If the average investor will follow common sense rules in making investigations, the risk of purchase will be minimized.

GERMAN PROTESTANT CHURCHES FORM THE FEDERATION ORGANIZATION

Bielefeld, Germany.—The evangelical churches of Germany have linked themselves together in a national federated body that may be roughly compared with the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ of America. The first congress of the federation was held here recently, and many questions of policy and practice settled.

Formerly each of the 28 German states and provinces had maintained evangelical churches independent of the organization in the next adjacent state or province. More and more the desirability became apparent of linking the various state organizations together in one national federation. Accordingly conferences were held in 1921 and 1922, as a result of which it was agreed to form a national federation of state and provincial evangelical churches.

In matters of administration the state and provincial bodies are left supreme, while in matters of presenting the evangelical point of view to the non-Protestant world, and inculcating a Christian spirit in the community, the federal body is expected to do considerable work.

"Standard" Gasoline suits the demonstrator

Many well known cars tune up best on "Standard" Gasoline. Many distributors use it exclusively for demonstrating. What more practical proof could you want of its exceptional quality?

"MADE IN THE CAROLINAS"

Ever notice how many automobile agencies have "Standard" pumps? They are not always out to sell "gas". More often the pumps are there for their own convenience in demonstrating cars.

Here are men who certainly are on the inside, men who can judge gasoline performance from A to Z. They want to show up their cars to best advantage and they know "Standard" Gasoline will do the trick.

It's been no easy matter to bring "Standard" to its position of leadership. It has cost, and is still costing, everlasting expenditure of energy and money to make it better and still better. Only in that way have we been able to get and to hold the confidence of car manufacturer, demonstrator and general public.

"THE RIVALS" COMEDY TO BE PRESENTED AT TEACHERS COLLEGE

"The Rivals," the 18th century comedy by Sheridan to be presented at East Carolina Teachers College on Thursday evening at 8:30 by the Coffer-Miller Players, has a way of coming back in popular favor every few years, and always Mrs. Moloprop in her misuses of by words is as funny as ever. Lydia Languish, with her romantic notions, as delightfully foolish as ever, and all of the well known characters as human as ever. The richness of the 18th century costumes and the formal setting make the spectacular effect of the play attractive.

Last year a group of stars in New York with the famous comedian Frances Wilson as the leader, at the end of the season in New York determined to give together the play they wanted to give most of all and in the way they wanted to give it. "The Rivals" was the play chosen. They planned to give it for one week only, but the public liked it so well and clamored so for tickets that they gave it for three weeks, playing to standing room only every night.

When the Coffer-Miller players began presenting in classical comedies, this was the very first one to be given by them. The papers in the towns wherever they have been have praised highly their productions of the play. One from British Columbia says it was one of the finest presentations ever seen in Vancouver.

The Coffer-Miller Players themselves say they give it because "it holds its place in the hearts of the American theatregoing public through the deliciousness of pure comic situations," "the mode of time and the changing of the drama form have failed to affect it." The New York Times says: "There is a spontaneity and freshness about this play as a whole that fairly dances."

Tickets To Go On Sale Coffer-Miller Players Wednesday

Theodore Roberts is A Piano Maker Now

Theodore Roberts, in the role of John Kincaid, millionaire piano manufacturer in the Paramount picture, "To the Ladies," which will be shown at White's Theatre next Thursday has quite a tussle with an automatic lifting cabinet, installed by one of his valued employees.

He begins by trying to open the cabinet. He presses a button but the thing doesn't work. He presses other buttons with the same result. He begins to lose patience. He slams it back and forth and gives it a kick. Then presses more buttons. Suddenly a bottom drawer flies open, hitting the shins and sending up a shower of papers. It immediately closes again. As he bends over to nurse his shins a top drawer flies out and banks him on the head—more papers go flying and the drawer closes. He straightens up with an oath and another drawer flies out and hits him in the stomach—more papers are scattered. The inventor of the weird contraption comes to his rescue only to be ordered out of the way roughly when the boss roars that the files be thrown out. It is an amusing scene, that is, at least, for everyone but Mr. Kincaid.

Edward Horton, Helen Jerome Eddy and Louise Dresser are featured players with Mr. Roberts. "To the Ladies" is a James Cruze production adapted by Walter Woods from the Marc Connelly and George S. Kaufman stage success of the same title. It is an appealing domestic comedy.

HELD LEGAL TO MAKE WIFE LIVE WITH PARENTS-IN-LAWS

Honolulu.—A woman is not justified in deserting her husband because he compels her to live with his parents, according to a recent decision by the territorial supreme court.

In an opinion reversing the decision of a lower court, the supreme court justices held that Kui Yim-fong, Chinese, was not entitled to a divorce from William Peng on the ground that he failed to support her.

Evidence adduced at the trial indicated that William's wife had deserted him because he could not provide her with a home other than the one he occupied with his parents. She charged him with non-support because he refused to support her while she was living with friends.

"While the taking of a wife to the home of his parents," the court held, "is perhaps not the best and ideal method of supplying her with a home it cannot be said, as a matter of law, that fact alone justified the wife in deserting her husband."

Summer Hints for Young Mothers

THE MODERN PRACTICE IN "SUMMER COMPLAINT"

"Looseness" is frequent in summer because children will eat unripe or overripe fruit, raw vegetables and other indigestible food. Fermentation follows quickly. Sometimes, there is fever, pain or vomiting, and nearly always a diarrhoea, which simply means that nature is trying to clear out the poison and gas. The old idea—a serious mistake—was to check it with blackberry or some other astringent. What is needed is a cathartic. Hurry up with the cleansing-out process. Then give a lighter diet for a while. Castor oil is good, but better still is Liv-o-lax, which does the work thoroughly, and the children like to take it. You can get a good-sized bottle at the drug store for 30c.

TEETHING AND HOT WEATHER are very hard on the little ones. Summer disorders of stomach and bowels, weakening diarrhoea, cholera infantum, quickly controlled by CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY. Helps children and older persons too.

COTTON LETTER.

New Orleans, July 22—Yesterday's bullish government cotton crop report made a deep impression on the trade, causing it to realize that unless Texas was favored with ample moisture during the ensuing month, another short crop would likely result, which would be the fourth consecutive short production. Anything less than 12,000,000 bales would likely be considered a short crop for world requirements next season even though it be nearly 2,000,000 bales larger than last year's yield, as this year's world's carry-over of American cotton will probably be reduced to less than 2,000,000 bales against 2,573,000 last year, 4,879,000 year before last and 9,324,000 in 1921.

Yesterday's government crop forecast was for a production of only 11,934,000 bales, based on returns as of July 16th, since which date there has been no rain of consequence in Texas except in the northwest portion of the state.

The growing crop in Texas has reached the point of endurance so far as the drought is concerned, and unless a generally heavy rain visits the state in the near future, further deterioration is likely. In fact, rain is wanted in nearly all sections west of the Mississippi river, especially in Mississippi, and dry weather is desired in Alabama and the South Atlantic states.

Consumption in the United States this season will be about 1,000,000 bales smaller than last season's domestic consumption. This heavy curtailment has undoubtedly reduced stocks of the manufactured product to a considerable extent, making it likely for home consumption to be larger next season.

Meanwhile, the textile industry in Europe is improving as noted by the large exports of raw cotton from the U. S. thus far this season 5,579,000 bales against only 4,556,000 to even date last season.

Today's late decline from the high levels of early morning was due to reports of some rain in northwest Texas and Oklahoma, also to less favorable reparations news from London.

Unless Texas and other sections of the western belt are favored with moisture market will likely improve again. H. & B. BEER.

UPPER CLASSES SHUN THE CLOTH DECLARES BISHOP OF BIRMINGHAM

Birmingham—The Bishop of Birmingham has expressed himself as dismayed because there is a decided dropping off in the number of candidates for ordination from the upper classes. Writing to his flock in the Diocesan Magazine, he says "We are not getting the sons of our well-to-do people to come forward for ordination as we expect.

"It is true that the clergy are poorly paid, the bishop adds, "and have not great prospects of worldly advancement. But it will be said indeed if the sense of vocation does not run through England as a whole. In olden days it was counted a glory by our best families to give at least one boy to the ministry.

"Our young men only need to be shown, the bishop concludes, "what a splendid life of adventure for Christ the clergyman may lead in order to be stirred to the sacrifice of their lives to the evangelizing and edifying of Gods people.

GERMAN FLEET IN FALKLANDS REPORTED GIRL ON HORSEBACK

London. — When Admiral Doveton Studee's naval squadron defeated the German squadron off the Falkland Islands in the late war, it was a woman who first of all gave the information of the presence of the German fleet in those waters, according to Admiral Sir Percy Grant.

A fisherman told the woman that he had seen ships approaching the islands from the south. She sent her maid on horseback to investigate and the maid verified the statement. The information was at once telephoned to the governor and he transmitted it to Sturdee.
