Jacob Franks Tells Story Of Son's Disappearance

Harrell Admits He Was Accomplice Of King In Murder Of Maj. McLeary

Victim's Father Takes Stand In Trial of Youths

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 22.—Frank Harrell, sought as an accomplice in the murder of Major Samuel McLeary, at Cheraw, S. C., July 2, is a prisoner in the Nashville police station and has made a confession to Chief Robert Sidebottom, of the local detective department, the latter says, admitting that he was with King, who has already been arrested on a charge of murder, when the killing took place. Harrell is quoted as saying that King did the actual killing.

Harrell, for whom officers all over the country have been searching since the murder of the army officer on July 2, was picked up by patrolmen in South Nashville Tuesday afternoon. With him was his brother Gerald. The men were arrested on the charge of vagrancy.

At the police station Harrell was suspected when his description tallied with that of the notices received shortly after search was started, for the McLeary slayers.

Brought to the detectives office this morning the men were questioned by Chief Sidebottom and Frank Harrell soon admitted that he was the man sought as King's accomplice in the murder. Officers have not yet checked the wanderings of Harrell's flight which brought him to Nashville a few days ago. He had followed the newspaper reports of the search for him and had used them as a means to keep away from the law. He left South Carolina after the capture of King.

Harrell will be held here pending action of by the South Carolina officials.

MOBS THREATEN TO TAKE LIVES OF SLAYERS OF GIRL

Negro Slayers of White Girl Rushed to Illinois Penitentiary for Safe Keeping; Troops Ordered to Scene

Mound City, Illinois, July 23.—Following a series of narrow escapes from mobs which twice threatened their lives, three negroes rested today safe within the walls of the Illinois state prison at Menard, Illinois.

The three negroes, two of whom claim residence in Memphis, Tenn., and the other Cairo, Ill., were arrested yesterday as suspects in connection with the slaying of Daisy Wilson, pretty 18 years old Villa Ridge girl, were taken to Menard as a last resort measure by Sheriff Hudson, of Pulaski county, after the jails at Mounds and Mound City, where the negroes were held, had been surrounded by threatening mobs.

As a result of these demonstrations Governor Lynn Small, has ordered out Company K, 130th Illinois Infantry, to proceed here to aid county authorities in restoring order.

The crime for which the negroes are being held occurred early Tuesday morning at Villa Ridge. Two negroes called at the home of I. C. Wilson and stated that they wished to make some small purchases from his grocery store. When he arrived at the door Wilson was attacked by the negroes. The daughter rushed to her father's assistance and was shot by one of the negroes. The negroes made their escape with a few pennies.

Durham Gives Police Officers New Uniforms

Durham, July 23.—The city authorities of here are considerate of the policemen, if the aiding of them to keep cool is to be taken as grounds for such. Recently light weight uniform were ordered to be worn for the comfort of the men and yesterday a new order came that the members of the force should wear a straw cap during the hot months. The cap is of the same color and design as the regular caps but are made of a light woven straw, which is said, are much cooler. Most of the policemen have expressed their delight at the new styles.

State Attorney Describes Crime as Most Cowardly in History; Says People of State Demand Death Penalty for Youthful Slayers

Chicago, July 23.—Calm but with eyes moist with tears, Jacob Franks, wealthy father of the victim of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, recited on the witness stand today the story of his boy's disappearance. He was called to the stand as the second witness after State Attorney Robert E. Crowe, in his opening statement, had demanded again a death penalty for the two brilliant 19 year old college youths.

Franks answered in a firm voice the query of the prosecutor and identified small remnants of clothing and other personal belongings of his son found near the body. The testimony of the father was unbroken when the court recessed at the lunch hour.

The morning session was principally taken up with the opening statement of Robert E. Crowe whose denunciation of the kidnapers and murderers of young Franks drew sharp objections from Clarence Darrow chief defense counsel.

"It was the most cruel, cowardly, dastardly murder ever committed in the history of American jurisprudence," exclaimed Crowe.

"That is ridiculously exaggerated," rejoined Darrow.

The defendants sat apparently unmoved through the state attorney's oration and left the room almost jauntily when court adjourned for luncheon. They laughed audibly as they started into their cells.

BEGIN INQUIRY SHIP DISASTER

Chicago, July 23.—The sons of two of Chicago's oldest and wealthiest families, Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, went "on the mercy of the court" today in a case scarcely paralleled in any jurisprudence. The main question was, whether their cards were laid upon the table of whether Clarence S. Darrow, famous in notable criminal cases, held something back when on Monday he stumped even the prosecution by having his clients plead guilty to the kidnapping and murder of 14 year old Robert Franks, a lad of their own circle but a few years younger than the slayers.

That Darrow held back something whereby he hoped to save his clients from hanging was evidenced by his request for permission to present evidence on their mental responsibilities.

Darrow's action took the case out of the possibility of a jury trial and put the responsibility on one man, Chief Justice Caverly, of Cook County criminal court.

The kidnapping of 14 year old Robert Franks, by Nathan Leopold Jr., and Richard Loeb was a strictly commercial proposition the abductors wrote in their first letter to the father of the victim. The letter was read at the opening of the hearing before Chief Justice Caverly, today, to determine the penalty the two youths shall pay for the death of young Franks for the second time they heard their lawyer's plea of guilty.

At one point the state's attorney alluded to evidence he would ask to "present to the court in private." The nature of the evidence, he said, as will doubtless be seen when presented to the court, is such that it would be improper to reveal it in public. (Continued on page 6.)

DAVIS NOT AFRAID LA FOLLETTE MOVE

Nominee Confident Independent Movement Will Not Hurt His Candidacy

Dark Harbor, Islesboro, Maine, July 23.—Under call to complete, before his return to New York, his address accepting the Democratic presidential nomination John W. Davis began speeding up today his task of laying out his general subject matter in his mind.

Determined to make the address comparatively brief the nominee emphasized that he would not attempt to cover all the issues of the campaign in this one document.

The nominee and advisers are undertaking careful assessment of the general situation in the light of the entry of Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, into the political arena. They anticipate that all the Republican insurgents in both houses will lend their support to LaFollette and from the Democratic side of the Senate it will not be a surprise if Senator Dill, of Washington, threw his political lot in with Senator Wheeler, of Montana, who has accepted second place on the LaFollette ticket.

While he has withheld any formal announcement on the subject, Mr. Davis has made it clear that in his judgment the movement to support the independent presidential candidacy will not hurt his candidacy in the least.

The LaFollette movement was one of the subjects that came up for discussion yesterday at the conference which the Democratic nominee held with Homer S. Cummings, Demo-

Labor Situation Remains Unchanged From Last Week

Raleigh, July 23.—One the whole the labor situation throughout the state is about the same as it was last week with the demand and the supply of the two important classes, skilled and unskilled about equal, according to the reports made to the director of the State Federal Employment Service by its branch offices within the state for the week ended Saturday, July 19.

There was the usual surplus of clerical and professional workers and Wilmington reported a surplus of carpenters. The shortage of farm labor still predominates throughout the state, especially at Charlotte, says the compiled report, where many workers have gone West to harvest the wheat.

The department had 807 registrants of which 622 were men and 185 were women and there were requests for 483 men and 151 women or a total 634. Director M. L. Shipman, stated. The department referred 717 applicants of which 539 were men and 178 were women and succeeded in placing 465 men and 145 women or 610 all told.

CONFEREES TRY BREAK DEADLOCK

Inter - Allied Conference Spends Day Trying to Reach Agreement Upon Guarantees of Loan to Germany

London, July 23.—In an effort to break what was apparently a serious deadlock, arising out of the Inter-Allied conference over the final guarantees of the $40,000,000 loan necessary to put the Dawes plan into operation, today occupied the entire time of the delegates. A plenary session of the conference has been called for this evening for presentation by committee number one of a report on defaults and penalties made public two days ago.

In as much as the report has met objection from the bankers it is expected that the conference will refer it back to the committee for alterations along some such lines as American Ambassador Kellogg proposed yesterday.

Premier Herriot, of France, conferred this morning with American Ambassador Kellogg and Secretary of State Hughes, after which Ambassador Kellogg and the French premier joined leaders of other conference delegates in Downing Street.

MANY SPANISH TEACHERS DESERT JOBS FOR THE BETTER PAYING WORK

Madrid.—A movement for higher salaries for professors in the universities and technical high schools has been inaugurated in Spain. The professors, it is pointed out by The Liberal, receive an average of 4,000 pesetas annually, or about the same as an ordinary clerk in an office.

When the salaries were fixed the value of 4,000 pesetas was between four and five times as much as today. As a result many professors have been obliged to seek other means of earning sufficient on which to live and now are found in all sorts of employment.

TOURISTS LEARN

According to European hotel men, or rather their major generals, the head waiters, as reported by the Associated Press American tourists have learned a lesson in practical economy. They seem at last to have mastered the difficult art of tipping. Time was when American was almost a synonym in Europe for the handing out of tips without end and without calculation. Where natives gave pennies or at the most sixpences to servants, our countrymen gave shillings. They entirely disregarded the existence of an established system of percentage with which waiters and other servants were perfectly satisfied. The result of the extravagance of a few was to raise the cost of foreign travel for the majority and to give the impression abroad that every American tourist was a millionaire.

Now comes the welcome word of a change of policy. A London dispatch says "this season's visitors from America are trimming their tips to a scant ten per cent of their bills; in fact, they are less liberal than British and continental patrons in the matter of tips. Instead of buying trunkfuls of apparel here, the 1924 tourist is bringing plenty of clothing along, and he is doing his sightseeing from a 'rubberneck' vehicle instead of from one of the privately hired motor cars of former years. He is also purchasing fewer alleged curios." All of which simply shows that the American tourist is growing more sensible and refusing any longer to be an easy mark. The free spending of the old days arose from a desire to avoid seeming "cheap."

The average Englishman doesn't care what the head waiter thinks of him. He knows, however, that waiters the world over have more respect for the persons who tip with discrimination. It is the inexperienced traveler who plays the part of the Prince Bouniful.

An elastic conscience is likely to be more elastic than conscientious.

PREVENTABLE FIRE LOSSES

In some of the western states, fire losses from preventable causes or causes partly preventable, far exceed losses per capita in eastern states.

This is probably due to a smaller percentage of fire proof construction and also less efficient water supply and fire fighting apparatus.

For instance, in Oregon the losses from fire laid to carelessness and those originating from partly preventable causes totaled $19,275,000 in 7 years past.

These figures of the State Insurance Commissioner, on basis of 750,000 population, would indicate over $16 per capita annual fire loss.

In some of the western states the annual per capita fire loss is shown to be rapidly increasing, Oregon losses aggregating $8,213,532 during 1923 with insurance paid of $5,357,487 during 1923.

On the basis of per capita losses in Oregon over a period of 7 years, fire losses from all causes in the United States would total $1,670,000,000.

This total far exceeds actual losses in the United States and proves that per capita losses in Oregon far exceed average per capita in loss in the 48 states.

Complaint is often heard that insurance rates in one section of the country are lower than in another section. The reason for this is shown by the per capita loss average in Oregon compared with per capita loss in other states. The rates should be highest where the risk is greatest. Otherwise the careful citizen in one state or city pays for the carelessness of the reckless citizen in another state or city. A continued high loss ratio means eventually higher insurance rates, and vice versa.

HEAVY BURDEN ON PEOPLE

In past nine years, more than 100,000 permanent federal officials have been added to the rolls—increasing cost $195,591,000.

State official payrolls have been increased in numbers and cost so that altogether one out of every twelve workers in a government employ.

Additional laws enacted by Congress and state legislatures all increase taxes and take money away from the producing citizen.

Pennsylvania, Illinois, Washington and Idaho have consolidated boards and commissions and materially cut their overhead.

Every state in the Union and every department of the federal government could probably trim at least 25 per cent of its overhead.

Why not do it?

MODERN CRAFTSMEN COPY OLD BUILDINGS ON COLLEGE CAMPUS

Ann Harbor, Mich., July 21.—Buildings of the type of a thousand years ago, and more, are rising on the University of Michigan campus here as the first structures to house the Michigan Law Club become an actuality.

Walls of Gothic type copied from ancient structures in Picardy and Champagne, or certain famous cathedrals in England, are being reared here by new wood workmen who, instead of following the hand chisel work of early craftsmen, are making dexterous use of the numberless facilities of the age of electricity and trip-hammer.

The Michigan Law Club is an attempt by a donor whose identity is kept secret, to environ the graduate and the advanced law student here with such surroundings that he will not hurry on to the ranks of practicing attorneys until he has delved widely and profoundly into the legal understanding and traditions of the profession.

Within the partially completed building is a hall destined to be, for a time at least, the show place of the club. It is more than 100 feet long, 30 feet to the beginning of the oak beamed roof and about that distance in width. It will be the dining room of the club.

Light will enter through a series of stone tracery windows, the glass for these being brought from England. The roof viewed from the inside will be a succession of Gothic oak arches, supporting oak cross beams, these in turn supporting roofboards of solid oak. Above these will be a false roof of pine, covered with a two-inch "quilt" of seaweed upon which will be laid the final roof of hard lead. This roof, declare the workmen, with the possible exception of bolts and seaweed, is an exact reproduction of many thousand-year-old roofs through Picardy, Champagne and England.

In general the rest of the building will be of a Gothic type of about 100 years later than the period of the dining hall. The whole structure is a gathering of materials principally from Wales and England.

The carving of the medallions above the entrances and in niches of the wall, done by artists, nevertheless will get their finishing touches by men of the old school, led by a foreman who gave ten years of his life to study in a school in Rome.

Urges the Purchase of the N. Carolina Education Magazine

Raleigh, July 21.—The purchase of the North Carolina Education, which has been the unofficial teacher's magazine of the state until the North Carolina Education Association decided to publish an official organ, has been recommended by the executive board of the association, according to Judge B. Warren, secretary.

The board outlined the conditions under which the purchase is to be made and authorized the secretary and president to begin negotiations with W. F. Marshall, owner and editor of the magazine. Mr. Warren stated Saturday morning that all details of the conditions had been agreed upon by both sides and that the deal would be completed in a very short time, the deal being held up only by the usual necessary legal steps of such a transfer.

The purchase price was stated as $2,500 which includes all equipment, mailing list, and subscriptions. Under the terms of the contract the North Carolina Education Association agrees to fill out the present advertising contracts by incorporating the purchased magazine with the newly founded organ, the North Carolina Teacher but the unpaid contracts up to July 1 are to go to Mr. Marshall.

Mr. Marshall also agrees not to enter the same field of publication in the same territory for a period of two years dating from August 1, 1924.

The title of the North Carolina Education, by the terms of the contract, goes to the purchasers, however Mr. Warren stated that the association would maintain the original name of their official publication. The North Carolina Teacher, he said, was well under way for its first issue which will appear on September 1 next.

The price agreed upon, it was stated, is the average price placed on similar publications throughout the United States.

TELL 'EM & SELL 'EM

About This Time O'Year

INDIANS CONSECRATE TWO LADS TO KEEP TRIBAL TRADITIONS

Washington, July 21.—The controversy arising out of the question of withdrawing two Indian children from school in the Taos Pueblo, New Mexico, for the purpose of teaching them the pagan rites and traditional customs of the Pueblo ancients has been branded a "tempest in a teapot," by Commissioner Burke of the Indian Bureau.

Declaring the position of the Indian Bureau had been misrepresented, Commissioner Burke expressed a belief that the question would be amicably settled before the new fall school term at the Taos Pueblo begins. According to new information Mr. Burke has received, two Indian children between the ages of seven and ten are usually withdrawn for an 18-month period from modern educational instruction, to be taught the ancient rites and traditions of the tribe. As there is no written history of the Pueblo the purpose is to develop the children to become priests and medicine men, and enable them to pass on to succeeding generations by word of mouth the story of Pueblo life.

The instruction given the children, Mr. Burke said, deal not only with religious matters but also the history and materia medica of the Pueblos from the beginning of time, including the uses of herbs and their medicinal qualities. The boys are supposed to be consecrated, are not permitted to play with other children and sleep under guard of an elder Indian in the "estufa" or "kiva," a chamber built in or beneath the pueblo where secret religious ceremonies and tribal councils are held, and which is entered by a hole in the roof.

During their year and a half training, Mr. Burke continued, the boys are fed upon corn and corn products, squashes and other traditional vegetables. Meat from domestic animals is forbidden, such diet being confined to the flesh of wild animals, fish and wild birds.

Commissioner Burke denied that the Bureau of Indian Affairs has issued orders placing a ban on the holding by the Pueblos of their ancient religious ceremonies, and stated the government would interfere in any way with them.

The Taos Pueblo is located 75 miles north of Santa Fe, on a small stream, and has a population of 618 Indians, the number increasing about 25 per cent in the last twenty years.

MOTION PICTURES BLAMED FOR CRIME WAVE IN TAHITI

Papeete, Tahiti—Motion picture films depicting valiant deeds of handsome bandits, arousing great excitement among native audiences, are blamed for the mild outbreak of banditry that took place during May. Early in the month four natives, imprisoned for various offenses, took to the hills back of Papeete. They descended from time to time on raiding expeditions, chiefly against Chinese provision shops, unguarded clothes lines, pig pens and chicken runs. In the course of their plundering they obtained firearms and ammunition, and after that their armed forays caused something of a panic among the house holders of the island. After many unavailing efforts to capture the bandits, the government organized parties of natives to search the mountains systematically. One of the parties found the four in a remote valley, but they were not subdued until one of the fugitives had been killed and another wounded.

OWNERS OF SPANISH FARMS DEMAND AN EXORBITANT RENTS

Murcia, Spain.—A landlord-tenant controversy has appeared in the province of Murcia and involves many farms, whose tenants have for generations, leased them from the land proprietors. The tenants have appealed to the king to use his influence to prevent their ejection until the new rural code has been drafted, which will make it impossible for the landlords to eject tenants except they do not pay their rent.

Giving only a month's notice before the annual leases were to expire on June 24, the land owners demanded increased rents, in numerous cases the amount being double that heretofore paid. The tenants also were notified that in case they refused to accept the new rates they would be ejected without remuneration for improvements they had made on the property.

Most of the tenant-farmers have erected their own homes on the farms and fear that these will fall into the hands of the land owners if they do not sign the new leases at the increased rent.

IRELAND PLANS TO CELEBRATE SAINT PATRICK'S 15 CENTURY

Dublin.—Professor John MacNeill, minister of education, reminds Irishmen that in a little more than seven years 15 centuries will have passed since the mission of St. Patrick to Ireland. He urges that the nation at once consider how the centenary ought to be commemorated.

Religious celebrations will be a matter of course, and visitors from many countries are expected to take part in them. Dr. MacNeill pleads for a commemoration which will leave permanent memorial, and suggests the institution of a library of Irish history in uniform volumes to be published under the direction of a corporate body of competent scholars, with a suitable endowment.

EXODUS OF ALIEN STUDENTS CLOSES SCHOOLS OF MUSIC

Leipsic, Germany.—Conservatories of music are declining alarmingly in Germany. Recently an institution with a normal enrollment of 300 pupils went bankrupt, and a great many smaller undertakings have been forced to liquidate.

During the inflation period these institutions were kept above water only by the fact that the foreign music students paid five times the tuition of the natives. Since stabilization has taken place, however, thousands of foreigners have left Germany, finding it too expensive, and the music lovers who remain behind can for the most part afford to pay only about one-half the pre-war tuition fee.

How desperate the situation may be judged from the fact that the conservatory students are permitted to play in movie houses and in cafes, a thing that was anathema before the war. There is also no objection to their earning money on the side by playing at dances.

The chief reason for the plight in which the musical art finds itself is the fact that the inflation period and the war have wiped out the middle class, which before the war was the principal supporter of the finer arts.

GREATER EFFICIENCY IN FERTILIZER LOOKED FOR BY GERMAN FARMERS

Memmingen, Germany.—Captain Krantz, retired German cavalry officer, claims to have invented a process for treating manure by which its effectiveness as a fertilizer is doubled. He has demonstrated scientifically that the nitrogen contained in manure is used only up to 25 per cent of its entire contents, while 75 is lost. His process at its present stage of development makes possible the utilization of 50 per cent.

It is estimated that the amount of manure produced annually in Germany aggregates 150,000,000 tons, and that this manure contains 600,000 to 700,000 tons of nitrogen, only 25 per cent of which becomes available.

TO OUR LAUNDRY PATRONS

Beginning with the week of July 28th, laundry must be paid for when delivered. Our driver is kept busy each week and when he has to make several calls to collect his tickets it not only throws him back in his work, but it works a hardship on the driver, as all tickets are charged against him personally. Some have been allowed the privilege of letting their tickets run from one week to another. This was done as an accommodation to the customers, but because some have abused this privilege to the extent that they dispute tickets and allow them to accumulate, we must insist that the driver be paid when the package is delivered. We stand ready to correct or allow any errors that might be made, and pay for any article proven lost by use.

It is far more convenient for the customer to pay upon delivery than it is for the driver to call several times to make collections.

Hoping that the public may see and appreciate our position, we are ble under existing treatment. German farmers are much interested in the Krantz process, because they see in it a possibility of making Germany more independent of foreign artificial fertilizers.

Krantz' method is a combination of first loosening up the manure and afterward compressing it.

GROWING GRASS IN MAN'S EYE REVEALED BY DOCTOR'S KNIFE

Gloucester, England.—Instead of allowing the grass to grow under his feet, a farm laborer here allowed it to grow in one of his eyes.

While working in the fields the laborer got something in his eye which he was unable to remove and as the result of increasing pain, visited a hospital. After examination of the eye the surgeons decided to make an incision and discovered a green blade of grass an inch and a half long lying between the tissues.

The grass had grown from a seed which was also removed from the eye. The operation was declared successful in every particular.

COTTON LETTER.

New Orleans, La., July 23.—The tendency of market remains upward owing to the stimulating influences of the continuance of the drought in the southwest, especially in Texas.

Last Monday's government forecast indicated a yield of only 11,934,000 bales, which was considered insufficient for world requirements next season.

Like last year, Texas this year had ample moisture in the spring, the total average rainfall for the state during March, April and May amounting to 9.05 inches against 9.27 inches for same period last year.

$22,000 to Be Given In Prizes At State Fair This Year

Raleigh, July 22.—"It shows the State" is the slogan of the state fair and it is living up to the slogan, according to General Manager E. V. Walborn, who states that 73 counties participated in the premium money last year.

When Mrs. Edith Vanderbilt took over the reins as president four years ago, she determined to make it a state fair in deed as well as in name.

Under the plans of the directors of the fair, $22,000 will be offered in prizes this year. The officials have expressed the belief that this will tend to bring out a wide variety of exhibits as well as the best and more numerous ones.

ELKS PROPOSE CAMPAIGN TO TEACH AMERICANISM

Boston.—The extent and scope of the social and community welfare work, being done by the Order of Elks throughout the United States by the 1,500 subordinate lodges, is set forth in the report made today to the national convention of Elks, in session in this city by the Grand Lodge Committee on Social and Community Welfare.

The activities engaged in by the local lodges, according to the report are: Americanization, education, flag day observance in conjunction with prize essay contests in public schools; support and encouragement of the Boy Scout, Girl and Big Brother movements; war veterans relief hospital work, medical aid to the poor, summer recreation camps, parks playgrounds and swimming pools, outings, for poor mothers and children and athletics.

The report stresses the need of an intensive campaign in Americanization and devotes special sections to education and the conservation of mother life and baby life. The report calls upon the national Order of Elks to make an "intensive, constant and militant campaign on Americanism to awaken the people to the real dangers that confront the country."

This source of information added: "The queen is very proud of her collection of souvenirs, and she treasures every one of them. I do not think there is another woman in the world who takes such a keen delight in preserving her mementoes of happy and interesting occasions." The Wembley Exhibition has swelled the queen's collection considerably, and recent additions include damask and linen, canaries, musical instruments. The queen makes practical use of her gifts when ever possible. The damask linen presented by the Ulster Linen Trade is in constant use at Buckingham Palace.
