NOMINEE RECEIVES ENCOURAGING NEWS

Reports from New England States very optimistic. Work on Acceptance Speech Continues

Dark Harbor, Isleboro, Maine, July 24.—Optimistic reports of the political outlook in Maine were brought today by William R. Pattengall, Democratic candidate for governor of this state, who has an engagement to confer during the day with John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for president.

Mr. Pattengall was accompanied by Fulton J. Redmond who is contesting the seat in the United States Senate of Ben Fernald.

The political conference today was the second which the Democratic nominee has held since his arrival here last Saturday. The first was with Homer S. Cummings, national committeeman from Connecticut, who gave gratifying reports to Mr. Davis on prospects in Connecticut, New Hampshire and other sections of the New England states. Mr. Cummings expressed a belief that the appearance of Governor Alfred E. Smith as a campaigner in behalf of the national ticket would be decidedly helpful.

Before greeting his visitors today, Mr. Davis spent several hours in the picturesque studio, of his host Chas. Dana Gibson, continuing work on his acceptance speech and clearing up correspondence which arrived on a boat yesterday. His acceptance speech is taking rough draft form and while the candidate himself is withholding intimation of its contents it is understood that the major portion of it will be devoted to indictment of the records of the Republican Administration over the past three and a half years.

Much material for the address has been in process of selection for some time and the immediate task of President Coolidge is the drafting of the outline of his speech.

The method of work determined upon is similar to that followed by him in writing his first message to Congress and the formal address to be delivered here on August 14 is expected to be somewhat like that to Congress.

Government economics and tax reduction will be the foremost subjects and a large portion of the address will be taken up with exposition of the party's accomplishments.

Finding Skeleton Causes Arrest Of Rome Georgia Couple

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 24.—W. H. Bennett, district freight agent of the Southern Railway, at Rome, Ga., and his wife were arrested in the Georgia city today and brought to Chattanooga in connection with the finding here a week ago of a skeleton of a woman buried in a shallow grave under a house which is undergoing repairs.

The arrest of Bennett and his wife followed the investigation by local police which revealed that Miss August Hoffman, aged aunt of the Bennetts, had occupied the house in 1915 about the time of her mysterious disappearance. The finding of a pair of gold rimmed spectacles bearing the trade mark of a Knoxville optician led the officers to Knoxville where they obtained a letter written by Mrs. Claud Parker, of State College, Pa., sister of Miss Hoffman, which stated that it was feared by relatives that her sister had been foully dealt with. According to detectives, it was also stated, that Miss Hoffman left Chattanooga with intentions to go to Knoxville but that later she met a man named Brown, was married to him and went to California with him.

Bennett and his wife had occupied the house, under which the body was found, from 1913 to 1915.

KING'S NAME OMITTED FROM THE IRISH LEAGUE PROCEEDINGS

Dublin.—At the recent ceremony of the inauguration of the new Free State judiciary, one of the most striking features was the speech in the Irish language delivered by Chief Justice Kennedy, said to be the first official utterance by a judge in that tongue since the time of the Brehon Laws many centuries ago.

Under the new judicial regime legal procedure is to be greatly simplified, and the old cumbersome forms of indictment are to be abolished. A significant change is the disappearance of the name of the King. In the past, offenses were described in the indictment as "against the peace of our Sovereign Lord the King, His Crown and dignity," and jurors were sworn to "true deliverance between our Sovereign Lord the King and the prisoner at the bar." These forms are now abolished. Prosecutions were laid as "The King v. So and So." They are now to be laid in the name of the Attorney General. The new Free State court of ap-

Special rewards are offered for exceptional results.

Aliens Rejected in England

Appeal is an ultimate tribunal. Appeals to the House of Lords have been abolished and appeals to the Privy Council can only be had by petition to the King for permission likely to be granted only in very exceptional cases. "The Courts will" said the chief justice, "stand between the people and any and every encroachment upon their constitutional rights and liberties by whosoever attempted."

Chicago Youths Hear Testimony Unflinchingly

Young College Students Sit Unmoved as State Introduces Weapons with which they Murdered their Victim and Witnesses Testify in Effort to Send them to Gallows.

Chicago, July 24.—Continuing the ransom money demanded, from a piling up of evidence designed to moving train. "After the train passed a certain brick factory, and Loeb) to the gallows for the kid-county five and throw the money east napping and murder of Robert as far as you can." The letter never Franks, State Attorney Robert E. reached Franks as Russo turned it in Crowe today introduced into court the Pullman Company who sent it to exhibits of evidence held by the state, the police.

These included a taped chisel used in beating the boy to death; the charred remains of a bloodstained automobile robe secured from the ashes of a bonfire on the lake front; a portable typewriter similar to that upon which was written the ransom letters to Frank's father and paper and envelopes identified as of the same texture as that sold to Leopold shortly before the disappearance of the victim. The state introduced also a pint bottle, identified by a drug clerk as the one in which he sold hydro-chloric acid to Leopold on the date of the murder.

Throughout the morning session during which 15 witnesses took the stand, the two young college students sat composedly behind their attorneys listening intently to the testimony and occasionally whispering to their attorney.

Chicago, July 24.—The heavily taped chisel which the life of young Robert Franks was beaten out, was introduced into evidence today at the advisory hearing before Chief Justice John R. Caverly who is to fix the penalties for Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb. Bernard Hunt, a neighborhood night watchman, told of seeing the chisel tossed out of a passing automobile about 1:30 a. m. May 22, a few hours after the slaying. "There was fresh blood on the chisel when I picked it up," declared Hunt.

The chisel was also inspected by Albert Hubbing, hardware clerk, who said that the exhibit resembled a chisel he sold to Loeb and Leopold. Hubbing also told of having sold the young men some rope. The rope said to be that with which the victim was tied was introduced into evidence. Aaron Adler told that he sold a pint of chemically pure hydro-chloric acid to Leopold. He said that he had sold no acid of such a strength to anybody else in three years. It was the strongest grade obtainable, he said. The state offered as evidence the bottle in which the acid was sold.

Judge Caverly delayed his appearance this morning and it was 19 minutes after the scheduled hour before the clerk's gavel fell. A conference of attorneys with the judge caused his delay.

Leopold and Loeb smiled greetings to their relatives as they entered the court. Andrew Russo of 231 east 51st street, New York, was called as the first witness. State Attorney Crowe explained that it was the wish of the witness to complete his testimony and return east.

Russo, an electrician formerly employed in the railroad yards here, told of the finding in a telegraph blank rack on a pullman on May 31 a letter addressed to Jacob Franks, father of the victim of Leopold and Loeb. The envelope directed that the find-er "leave this alone, very important." The letter contained instructions as to how the father was to throw the

Health Scholarship Winners Urge Tooth Brush Drill For Pupils

When Alice went down the rabbit hole on her way to Wonderland you will recall that she tasted of the little bottle labeled "Drink Me" and then to her dismay she began to shrink and shrink and shrink. Perhaps these two young ladies shown above are two adventuring Alices, for the toothbrushes are evidently too large for them. What do you suppose really happened?
 A toothbrush can't grow. Even if the Duchess commanded it, the most obliging toothbrush would be at a loss what to do. Even if the Duchess lost her well-known temper and cried "Off with their heads" the toothbrushes would have to submit helplessly. But wait! Perhaps there is a chance for them! A report!

These are two such unusual brushes, grown large at the command of the Duchess of Health. They made their appearance on the Pacific coast where apples and trees and things often grow very large. People out there are often inclined to look at things in a large way and this is the result.
 As a matter of fact these two Alices are pupils of Miss Dora Savage, a teacher at San Francisco, who won a $500 health teaching scholarship in the contest conducted this year by the American Child Health Association. The $25,000, needed for fifty such scholarships awarded to elementary school teachers in fifty cities, was furnished by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in order to promote good health teaching and thus improve the health of the children of to-day and the grown-ups of to-morrow.
 During the year the toothbrush has grown larger and larger in the minds of children everywhere in America as a result of this contest and clean teeth is but one of the Rules of the Game of Health which Miss Savage and the other teachers have emphasized.

Persians Must Atone for Imbrie Death.

MAJOR & MRS. ROBERT IMBRIE

The United States will demand apology and indemnity from Persia for the death of Major Robert W. Imbrie, of Washington, American Vice-Consul to Teheran, who was beaten to death when he photographed a holy fountain. Major Imbrie was recently married to Miss Katherine Gillespie, of New Rochelle, N. Y., who was a director of the Near East Relief Orphanage in Constantinople.

ties in the shape of trimming sewn on the bodice, instead of jingling necklaces and buttons of gold coin as of old. The new fashion results from the governmental ban on the possession of gold coins, which are no longer legal even as a medium of purchase.

Adapting themselves to the new order, the girls now sew bank notes of as large denominations as they can afford in decorative lines on either side of the bodice as a token their rating in the matrimonial market. The man who marries a girl displaying half a million dinars, for instance, knows that she brings him a dowry of about $10,000 and not a few young women display that much on feast days.
 The remarkable thing about this display of such amounts of money is that here, as all through the Balkans, the young women are perfectly safe from robbery, as even professional thieves regard the stealing of a girl's dowry as unethical.

MACDONALD HOLDS RECID FOR SPEECH IN COMMONS

London, July—Premier Mac Donald has talked more in the House of Commons than anyone else, and in 31 columns of the official report of the Parliamentary Gazette ahead of his nearest competitor. According to the record from January to the Easter recess, the Premier's speeches covered 126 columns, William Graham, financial secretary to the treasury, being next with 95 columns and Sir Kingsley Wood third with 76 columns. Lloyd George only fills 47 columns, and Henry Asquith 36, while Stanley Baldwin takes fifteenth place with 45 columns.

It is noted that the Clydeside members are comparatively reticent. Tom Johnstone and Nell MacLean filling only 30 columns each. James Kirkwood is not mentioned, because only those who can fill 20 columns are recorded.

In the matter of asking questions, Commander Kenworthy easily holds first with 239 questions, or 108 more than Sir Kingsley Wood, who is second on the list.

With power and office comes criticism, and this is indicated by the number of oral questions answered, the premier having 561 answers to his credit. Minister of Health John Wheatley, 288, and Minister of Labor Tom Shaw 282.

"WIRED WIRELESS" EXPERIMENTS SUCCESSFUL IN THE COAL MINES

Springfield, Ill.—Possibility of the establishment of communication between underground mine workers and the surface through the development of the line radio, or "wired wireless" is given further impetus as the result of tests conducted in several Illinois mines.

The "wired wireless" utilizes trolley wires, mine tracks, compressed air and water piping, and similar conductors for voice transmission. It is reasonably sure to withstand severe disturbances occasioned by mine explosions or cave-ins, according to J. J. Jakorsky, engineer of the department of the interior, who is making a special study of the matter.

In tests conducted in a coal mine 400 feet deep, no difficulty was experienced on the surface in receiving radio messages from a set mounted upon a mine locomotive, as long as the apparatus was in the vicinity of the metallic carriers. Experiments show that the range in the average coal mine is only a few hundred feet when no conductors are present, but may be several thousand feet when operating in the proximity to metallic carriers.

STENDEL CONVINCED WILL INFLUENCE DRY THAT BASEBALL AND WORLD, SAYS LEADER COMEDY DO NOT MIX

New York—Casey Stengel, veteran outfielder of the Boston Braves, has come to the conclusion that it does not pay to attempt to mix comedy with baseball. Because he has done that very thing in the major leagues for many years the fans now refuse to take him seriously no matter how hard he tries or how sensationally he performs, and he is one of the most conscientious and reliable players in the game.
 "Comedy pays well on the stage," said Casey recently, "but it doesn't get you anything in baseball. It's nice to make the fans laugh once in a while but the player who does so finds he can't do anything else with them, no matter how hard he's trying. They don't take him seriously and the consequence is they never give him as much credit as he deserves—or thinks he does."
 Fans are indulgent of the baseball comedian's pranks only to a limited extent, according to Stengel. In proof of this statement the Braves' veteran outfielder related a personal experience of his Philadelphia days. The Phillies were playing the Giants, and the relative standing of the two teams was about the same as it is at present.

In the particular game to which Stengel referred the Giants were leading by an overwhelming margin and Casey decided he would inject a little humor into the uninteresting contest. When in the eighth inning a New York batter drove a liner straight at Stengel in right field Casey pretended not to see the ball and did not make a move to catch it until it was almost upon him. Just as it reached him he stuck out his gloved hand and snared it.

"I thought that would make the boys laugh," Casey commented, "but all I heard was a bird in the right field stand yelling, 'You big ham! Cut out that comedy and play ball! That's what's the matter with this ball club. It's so full of comedians there ain't any room on it for ball players.'"

Winona Lake, Ind.—By thorough enforcement of prohibition, the United States will influence Great Britain and other nations to disperse the liquor traffic, according to Dr. P. Scott McBride, of Westerville, O., general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, who will open a three-day conference of the World League Against Alcoholism here tomorrow.

Dr. McBride said that the Anti-Saloon League eight years ago at its convention in Indianapolis went on record as favoring world prohibition and pledged its support to that cause. He is expected to voice an appeal for strict law enforcement and the election of local, state and national officials who will uphold the dry law.

"Thirty-five Thousand Miles of Prohibition" will be the subject of an address by the Rev. Gifford Gordon of Melbourne, Australia, field secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, during the first day's session and other speakers will include Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel and legislative superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League; Bishop Thomas Nicholson, of the Methodist Episcopal church and president of the League, and Mrs. Elizabeth T. Stanley, president of the Indiana W. C. T. C., which will celebrate its Golden Jubilee during the conference.

William E. ("Pussyfoot") Johnson of Westerville; Miss Cora Frances Stoddard of Boston, secretary of the Scientific Temperance Federation; Judge Richard J. Hopkins of the Kansas Supreme Court, and the Rev. Sam W. Small of Washington, are leaders in the discussions to be held on the second day.

Sunday will be devoted to temperance services with Bishop William F. Anderson of the Methodist Episcopal Church delivering the principal sermon. Other speakers will include Major Roy A. Haynes, prohibition enforcement commissioner; Mrs. Ella A. Baul of New York, vice-president of the National W. C. T. U. and an official of the World W. C. T. U. organization, and Dr. Ernest H. Cherington of Westerville, general secretary of the World League.

4,000 PET RATS SUPPORTED BY THRIFTY WOMAN'S NEEDLE

Graz, Austria.—Rats in the garret, rats in the cellar and everywhere else in the house was what the health authorities found here when they searched the home of Fraulein Aurelia Mayer, who had been supporting some 4,000 rodents and considering them as her pets. Investigation of the Mayer house was begun because of complaints of the neighbors.

Fraulein Mayer, who took in sewing to make a living for herself and rats, told the authorities she often had scarcely enough to eat for herself, but that her rats were always amply provided with food. She gave them bread and cheese, sausage and other morsels regularly, she said, because otherwise the rats might go astray in search of things to eat and inconvenience the neighbors.

The town's rat catcher was engaged for the best part of a week in clearing the Mayer house of its rodent inhabitants, the owner meanwhile staying at an hotel. There were white rats and grey rats and dapple rats when the rat catcher began his task. All were killed, and then the house was fumigated.

Hegeman Laboratory is Dedicated To Conduct War On Tuberculosis

The dedication of the Hegeman Memorial Laboratory at Mt. McGregor near Saratoga Springs, N. Y., marks a step forward in the fight on tuberculosis, according to the medical authorities who participated in the ceremonies recently.

The new stone structure is a harmonious architectural feature of the sanatorium group of twenty-two buildings which the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company maintains for the benefit of the sick among the 30,000 of its field and home office staff.

It was provided for by a fund of $300,000 in the will of the late John Rogers Hegeman, president of the company from 1891 to 1919, to whom the building is a memorial.

"We hope we even expect," declared Halsey Fiske, now president of the company, "that some discovery will be made here that will be connected with the name of the donor and will be of lasting benefit to future generations."

Dr. Edward R. Baldwin, head of Trudeau Sanatorium at Saranac Lake and one of the foremost authorities on tuberculosis, welcomed the new laboratory into the field of scientific research. "The sanatorium represents what we know about tuberculosis," he declared. "The laboratory represents what we do not know, but must find out."

An interesting figure at the ceremony was the Rev. Father P. N. Waggett, famous British scientist and theologian who studied with the great Pasteur, foremost scientist of the nineteenth century. "Only today we are beginning to understand the greatness of Pasteur," he said. "The world knows nothing of its greatest men, the unseen workers, secret, cloistered, hidden, world-forgetting, they pursue their studies tirelessly until one day the world learns that they have discovered a cure for some disease."

The Metropolitan sanatorium has been the chief means, directly through its treatments, and indirectly, through the instruction passed on to fellow workers by former patients, in reducing by 50 per cent the death rate from tuberculosis among the company's employees, within a period of ten years.

AMERICAN LAWYERS TO SEE PARIS AFTER MEETING AT LONDON

Dallas, Tex.—In response to invitations from Ambassador Jules Jusserand on behalf of the French government, M. Tourcau, as president of the Order of Advocates of Paris, and the American Chamber of Commerce of France, a large number of American barristers will attend a special reception in their honor in Paris, July 29-31, it was announced here by Robert E. L. Sager, president of the American association.

The Paris meeting, where the Americans will be the guests of the French lawyers, will follow immediately the adjourned session of the American Bar Association, to be held in London, July 20-26. A tentative program arranged includes a reception by the Paris bar at the Palais de Justice and by the municipality of Paris at L'Hotel de Ville on July 29; a reception at Versailles and Rambouillet by the president and premier, July 30, and a reception by the France-America committee in Paris, July 31.

The suggestion that the American Bar fix the program was made by Ambassador Jusserand. The program committee included William D. Guthrie, New York, chairman; Fred R. Conder, New York; George Denegre, New Orleans; George B. Rose Little Rock; James Brown Scott, Washington; Silas H. Strawn, Chicago, and George W. Wickersham, New York. The entertainment of the visitors will be in charge of a committee of American lawyers practicing in Paris, with Hugh A. Bayne, chairman, and the following members: Watson C. Emmitt, Donald Harper, Benjamin F. Conner, Getherling C. Miller and Lovering Hill.

Headquarters for the American visitors will be maintained at 82 Avenue des Champs Elysees. About 2,000 American lawyers are expected to visit London and a large proportion will attend the Paris meeting.

American Widow Fails in Lebaudy Suit.

MRS. FRANCES MENDHAM

This is an exclusive photograph of Mrs. Frances Mendham, an American widow, whose suit for $100,000 for alleged breach of promise against Robert Lebaudy, a Franco-American millionaire, was thrown out of a London court. Lebaudy is a brother of the eccentric millionaire, Jacques Lebaudy, self-styled "Emperor of the Sahara," who was killed by his wife in their Long Island home a few years ago.

ing, Mr. Sager said. Others will visit with the Bar of Scotland at Edinburgh, and the Irish bar at Dublin.

DEATH FROM DISEASE PLAYED HAVOC WITH TOWNSEND'S ARMY

London.—A vivid description of the hardships suffered by General Townsend's army at the siege of Kut-el-Amara during the World War is given in the British Medical History of the war, 11 volumes of which have just been completed and published. Scoury, dysentery and malaria were prevalent, and many men actually died of starvation.

The army's rations early in March of 1916 consisted of 10 ounces of bread, one pound four ounces of meat, one ounce of jam, half an ounce of salt, half an ounce of ginger, two ounces of oatmeal and one and a half ounces of dates to the man. For the Indian troops the ration consisted of 10 ounces of barley flour, four ounces of unhusked barley, one ounce of Ghl, half an ounce of ginger, half an ounce of turmeric, eight ounces of meat and one and a half ounces of dates. This was just over the subsistence diet for the British troops, and just under it for the Indians, and epidemic of scurvy resulted.

During the latter part of March and early in April the rations were further decreased, and many of the men began to suffer acutely from hunger. Two pounds of opium were obtained by airplane and one grain pill was given by the surgeons in selected cases to ameliorate the intensity of the pain. Sugar was not obtainable, and as the supply of saccharine was small, it was used only for hospital cases. Tobacco was at a premium, and every variety of substitute, including tea leaves, dried ginger and dried orange leaves were used. The Mohammedan troops could not for some time be induced to eat horsemeat, and therefore suffered more from hunger than their British comrades, who ate it from the first issue.

During the siege, from December 4, 1915, to April 29, 1916, there were 1,050 admissions to the hospital from scurvy, 684 from dysentery, 551 from malaria, 487 from pneumonia and 155 from beri-beri and bronchitis, jaundice and gastroenteritis, due to debility, and starvation caused 165 deaths during the last few weeks. During the siege there were 721 deaths from disease, 488 deaths from wounds and 537 were killed in battle.

Strange Designs Used In Branding Cattle

Pierre, S. D.—Days when great herds of range cattle roamed over a 100 square miles of wild prairie west of the Missouri River in South Dakota, are still reflected in a list of more than 7,400 horse and cattle brands in custody of the state commission on brands and marks. The list continues to grow at the rate of ten to 15 a month.

The roll-call of range trade marks was much longer prior to 1921, when by legislative acts all brands and marks were abolished and a new series started. The earlier roster, dating back to 1896, contained 12,081 distinct brands.

The purpose of the cattle and horse brand has been modified with passing years, according to Noah Newbanks, who for 21 years was a member of the commission. During the open range days, it was relied upon to provide evidence in case of rustling, and to furnish identification during the twice-a-year roundup events. The latter object passed, he points out, with the end of open ranges, and the marks now have chief value in detecting thefts and in guarding the identity of stock in transit to market.

The list of brands on the state record books makes up a non-descript collection. They are listed under letters, figures, box designs, crosses, triangles, diamonds, circles, arcs and characters. The last group has almost every imaginable variation including fish designs, bells, stars, acorns and many others that defy description by other than the original design.

GITE OF TINY CORAL SNAKE MORE DEADLY THAN RATTLESNAKE

Tucson, Ariz.—The coral snake, so small it is not considered dangerous, has the deadliest poison of any snake found in this part of the Southwest, Dr. Charles T. Vorhies, head of the department of biology at the University of Arizona, said in a recent lecture here.

The coral, the annulated snake and the rattlesnake are the only types of poisonous snakes in this region, Dr. Vorhies explained. The annulated snake is rarely found, he added, so that people are in little danger of being bitten by any variety except the rattlesnake.

In his opinion, the gila monster has poison less dangerous than that of the rattlesnake. Despite popular opinion to the contrary, the campomocha, an insect, the vinegaron and the Child of the Desert are harmless creatures, the scientist stated.

Hotel Organize Dry Force.

Los Angeles.—Hotels and restaurants of Los Angeles have organized their own prohibition law enforcement bureau. Charles F. Galling, former agent in charge of federal prohibition enforcement for Southern California, has been retained by a group of the leading hotels and cafes of the city and nearby points to direct the work. The plan, endorsed by State Prohibition Director S. F. Rutter, is to prevent employees of hotels and cafes from bootlegging.

ONCE IS ENOUGH

Liet. Arnold, one of the American globe flyers, remarked while in Paris that he would not part with the experience of the flight for a million nor would he undertake it again for a million.

Since the aviators had endured the storm and cold of Alaska, the heat of South China and India, the sandstorms of the Persian Gulf region and, having come safely through it all, it is comprehensible that there should be a relation that all this had been endured and survived in a record-breaking feat, but at the same time there would be no desire to repeat the experience. Once is enough. If every obstacle could be foreseen when men set out to do something which has never been done before, if there were not a glamor over that which lies in the future, perhaps many notable feats would not be performed under the conditions which surround the doing.

The day may come when flying over the route taken by our aviators will not impose the hardships encountered by the pioneers, but the change will be due to improved craft and the presence of human habitations where storm-tossed airmen may find a haven when needed. The trail breakers in any difficult enterprise make the way easier for those who follow. If the around-the-world flight is successfully completed we may expect next an effort to better the time made. There will be others willing to try without a million being offered.

Because man has this spirit of seeking to excel, the world moves forward. Were mankind of the dead level sought by the social dreamer, were none permitted to rise above the herd, there would be no globe flights. Such strenuous effort would not be worth while, for it would get one nothing.

GREAT MEN

In his still well-known calendar of the world's great men, from the dawn of history down to about 1820, Auguste Comte included only 559 names.

And to get this number he included such tiny stars as the American novelist, Fenimore Cooper, the English dramatist, Thomas Otway, and the Italian composer, Donizette.

That many men who might be called great are not recognized is one conclusion that may be drawn from this. Doubtless this is true today. The man who invented the typewriter has effected the lives of millions. Judged by the benefits he has conferred this inventor might be called great. But how many know that the typewriter was devised by Christopher Lathan Sholes, a collector of customs at Milwaukee, in 1867?

That recognition of greatness is another conclusion to be drawn from the old list of the world's great men. Men are much alike, however greatly their achievements may vary. Greatness, one may conclude, is merely a label attached to a few who are little different from their fellows whom none calls great.

WHERE ABORIGINES LINGER

A popular writer who has been visiting certain of the islands of the South Seas and other parts of the world favored novelists as scenes for stories of romance and adventure assures us that he found civilization well advanced in all of these places. His disillusionment apparently is complete, and the effect that it has on us is to convey the idea that there are really no wild places left in the earth where the aborigines reign supreme and thrilling happenings are of common occurrence. It is interesting to learn that this is a mistake—that there still exists one region on which the white man's civilization has yet made little impression.

The existence of the place is directed to our attention in a cable dispatch from Melbourne, Australia. It has just come to light that the crew and passengers of a steamer which sank near an island off the north coast of Australia about a year ago did not go down with her, as had been supposed, but were spared to death by the natives—that is, all were killed but two women, who were carried off into captivity by the aborigines. A relief expedition is now being organized in Australia to go to the rescue of the women.

In its details the story, as yet incomplete, is as striking as the most exciting narratives of Beatrice Grimshaw and the other writers of South Sea fiction. The loss of the steamer, the gaining of the island by the survivors of the shipwreck, the fight with the natives, the carrying off of the women, the suspense of awaiting word of what has happened to them during their year in captivity in the jungle, the organization of the relief expedition, whose part in the history is yet to be enacted—all of the incidents combine to establish that truth still is stranger than fiction.

- The human race is won by a smile.
- Sleeping porches will soon be sleeping alone.
- Some men suffer in silence; some for lack of silence.
- Some folks should be more forgiving and less forgetting.
- The pen is mightier than the sword and not as expensive.

Fifty Teachers Win Scholarships Offered In National Competition For Promotion of Health Education

Fifty progressive elementary school teachers from as many cities will spend the summer or the next school year in studying health instruction for school children, each aided by a scholarship of $500 won in the health teaching contest conducted by the American Child Health Association.

These teachers were awarded the scholarships in competition with more than sixteen hundred elementary teachers who were judged on the health instruction and recreational work they accomplished with their classes from December 1, 1923 to May 15, 1924.

The $25,000 for the scholarships was provided by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Dr. Lee K. Frankel, head of the company's welfare work, pointed out that it was of vital importance to teach proper health habits to children. He said the best methods for doing this were being developed by individual teachers but still remained virtually hidden away from the great mass of teachers. The purpose of the contest is to reveal those who are doing the best work on an opportunity for special study at accredited universities to make them even more effective.

Educational authorities, who have reviewed the reports of the work of the winning teachers and of those who received honorable mention, expressed great enthusiasm for their high quality. Many of the reports, they declared, were equal in value to a thesis earning a Ph. D. degree.

The effectiveness of the competing teachers work was measured by the following standards:

1. Healthier children as judged by improvement in growth attested by height-weight records; and by removal of physical handicaps.
2. Healthier children, as judged by right attitudes, and sound knowledge, as evidenced in good health habits and practices.
3. Sound teaching methods as evidenced in teacher's plans, illustrated by children's work.

THEODORE ROBERTS FINELY CAST

Theodore Roberts with his ever-present cigar is a featured player in the cast of the James Cruze Paramount production, "To the Ladies," which will be shown at White's Theatre on tonight only. His role is that of John Kincard, millionaire piano manufacturer. Edward Horton, Helen Jerome Eddy and Louise Dresser are also featured in prominent roles. The story, an adaptation of the stage play of the same title, is an absorbing comedy of the bright side of small-town factory and social life. Walter Woods wrote the scenario and Karl Brown did the photography.

COBB MAY SMASH STRING RECORD OF 200 HITS YEAR

Detroit.—Ty Cobb, the Detroit manager, has accumulated more individual records than any player who has performed in the major leagues and is still at it. During 19 years in the American League Cobb carved his name as one of the immortals of baseball and when he surpassed Hans Wagner's record of having batted .300 or better for 17 consecutive seasons (Cobb's mark now is 18) little more was expected of the Georgia Peach.

The wear and tear of 19 campaigns in the major leagues is supposed to slow up a player beyond the point of record-breaking ability; in fact, the majority of players disappear from the big leagues long before that time. With all the laurels he has won and making new statistical records in every game this season, Cobb is on his way to another mark that has been on the books for several years—the consecutive years in which a player has made 200 or more hits in a season.

Willie Keeler, one of the most expert batsmen of his day, turned the trick for eight consecutive seasons. Cobb tied that mark last year, and this season has a fair chance of running his string to nine. He was well above the century mark when the 1924 campaign reached the half-way post.

ASSOCIATION FOR OARSMEN PLANNED WESTERN COLLEGE

Madison, Wis.—Rowing bids fair to become one of the major sports of western schools, in the opinion of T. E. Jones, athletic director at the University of Wisconsin, and other Wisconsin officials. The first step in placing the sports on a par with other athletic activities is consideration of plans for the formation of a western Rowing Association.

Preliminary plans for its formation were discussed here by Director Jones and Darwin Meistnest of Washington University. It is proposed to establish an annual regatta which in time may rank with the intercollegiate classic at Poughkeepsie. The regatta would be held alternately at various seats of the member schools.

A dozen universities, probably will be included in the list invited to join the association but the following are outstanding possibilities: Washington, winner of the Poughkeepsie regatta during the last two years; Wisconsin, California, Leland Stanford, Chicago, Michigan and Minnesota.

Another proposal is the establishment of a separate building at Poughkeepsie, should the member schools decide to continue to complete in the eastern race. The Western association members also would cooperate in planning competition with eastern schools.

INDIANS TO HAVE PRIMER

Sitka, Alaska, July 18.—Miss Zoe Porter, primary instructor here, is preparing a special primary text book for Indian children.

"The present accepted method of teaching," she said, "does not appeal to Indian children, who have never heard its topics before and do not understand; so I am compiling a book telling of their daily life, which they will understand and enjoy."

BRITISH TRAWLERS FINED FOR FISHING IN IRISH WATERS

Dublin.—A question at issue between the Sacratat, or Irish Free State, and the British government, seriously affecting the fishing industry, was raised in a case before the District Court at Tralee, County Kerry. British steam trawlers were fined $500 and costs for illegally fishing within the defined limits in Ballinskelligs and Dingle Bays.

J. H. Thomas, the British colonial secretary, had said in the House of Commons that trawlers from Britain were entitled to fish in any part of Irish waters provided they kept outside the three mile limit, and British fishermen have been freely acting on that declaration. But during British rule in Ireland the fisheries department had the power to make bylaws effective outside the three mile limit. These powers have been transferred to the sacratat which claims the right to continue the bylaws and punish offences against them. The defendants did not appear at Tralee or send any explanation and were fined the full penalties.

Police to Carry Radio Sets.

Cleveland.—Radio-casting for the prevention of crime and detection of criminals is soon to be employed extensively here. Chief of Police Geaul has announced.

Small sets with headphones are to be installed on every squad car and motorcycle. Radio sets will have only one wave length, but will enable motorcycle officers in outlying districts to listen in on bulletins from the central station.

NEW GRAIN KING OF AMERICA.

This is the first photograph of Arthur W. Cutten, of the Chicago Board of Trade, a Canadian by birth, who has been hailed as the new "Grain King of America," by virtue of his foresight in buying, months ago, huge quantities of corn and wheat. He has already profited nearly $2,000,000 by the recent large advances in prices on these two commodities. He bought corn at less than 50 cents a bushel and began unloading around $1.10. His profits on wheat were as great.

AUSTRIAN WOMEN IN PRISON NEVER TRY TO ESCAPE

Vienna.—Conducting a penitentiary without guards when no prisoner has ever escaped, is the record claimed for the Wiener-Neudorf prison near Vienna where more than 300 women are serving terms of from one year to life. The honor system is employed, the penitentiary being in charge of about 40 sisters of charity under leadership of a supervising director who does not even live on the grounds.

The women do all their own work, attending the heating apparatus, laundry, gardens, bakery, kitchen, and look after the live stock and poultry which keeps the penitentiary supplied with milk, fresh meat and other produce. All this work is so systematically done that the prison has become almost self-supporting and is known as the model penitentiary of all Europe.

Scarcely a day passes that some representative of a foreign government does not visit the Wiener-Neudorf penitentiary to inspect the institution, and consult with the sisters as to their way of conducting it.

BUDGET BUREAU EVOLVES MODEL FEDERAL CONTRACT

Washington.—Officials working under the direction of the Budget Bureau have practically completed the draft of a new federal contract for submission to congress at the next session to supplant 224 contract laws now on the books and make the whole system uniform.

The new contract has grown up from efforts of the Budget Bureau to standardize and coordinate federal activities such as leasing, purchasing or selling and for construction work.

In line with this campaign, the budget's specifications board has issued more than 210 masters' specifications and has nearly covered the

Theodore Roberts with his ever-present cigar is a featured player in the cast of the James Cruze Paramount production, "To the Ladies," which will be shown at White's Theatre on tonight only. His role is that of John Kincard, millionaire piano manufacturer. Edward Horton, Helen Jerome Eddy and Louise Dresser are also featured in prominent roles. The story, an adaptation of the stage play of the same title, is an absorbing comedy of the bright side of small-town factory and social life. Walter Woods wrote the scenario and Karl Brown did the photography.

At 8:30 this evening the Coffe-Miller Players will present "The Rivals" at East Carolina Teachers College.

COBB MAY SMASH STRING RECORD OF 200 HITS YEAR

Detroit.—Ty Cobb, the Detroit manager, has accumulated more individual records than any player who has performed in the major leagues and is still at it. During 19 years in the American League Cobb carved his name as one of the immortals of baseball and when he surpassed Hans Wagner's record of having batted .300 or better for 17 consecutive seasons (Cobb's mark now is 18) little more was expected of the Georgia Peach.

The wear and tear of 19 campaigns in the major leagues is supposed to slow up a player beyond the point of record-breaking ability; in fact, the majority of players disappear from the big leagues long before that time. With all the laurels he has won and making new statistical records in every game this season, Cobb is on his way to another mark that has been on the books for several years—the consecutive years in which a player has made 200 or more hits in a season.

Willie Keeler, one of the most expert batsmen of his day, turned the trick for eight consecutive seasons. Cobb tied that mark last year, and this season has a fair chance of running his string to nine. He was well above the century mark when the 1924 campaign reached the half-way post.

Markets

(Furnished by James William Cobb)

COTTON LETTER.

New Orleans, July 24. — After working into new high ground for this upward movement market declined sharply result of prospects for more favorable weather in the western half of the belt. The weather Bureau says there will be showers in the northern and western portions of West Texas and thundershowers in Oklahoma and northern Arkansas tonight and Friday, while generally fair weather will continue over other portions of the district and that it will be cooler over the northern portion of the district.

Crop advices of late from the eastern half of the belt denote improvement as result of less rain in that section but reports from the central and western portions of the belt conflict, some claiming crop to be holding its own, while others state the drought is damaging, especially to young cotton.

In event of rains developing in the southwest, particularly in Texas, over night market is likely to work lower temporarily, but if no rain materializes, values are apt to work higher again. However, prospects are more favorable for lower temperatures and the possibility of some moisture, especially in the northern portion of the western half of the belt. Inasmuch as the Texas condition declined 1 point between June 25th and July 16th, it is probable that the continuance of the drought over most of the state has occasioned further deterioration since 16th inst.

A point of interest is that the Texas condition on July 16th was 69, whereas as late as July 25th last year it was 71. Unless the needed rains are provided in the immediate future, chances are that the Texas condition will be several points lower than last year for July 25th, than last year 71 and the ten year average for Texas of 70, which is significant since Texas has nearly forty percent of the belts entire acreage.

Let us forget, the period of propagation of the weevil is at hand, they usually multiply and become more active with the approach of August and the near approach of the hurricane season is not to be overlooked which warnings are made possible any time in view of the prevailing drought in the southwest.

"SHEIK" HERO OF THE SCREEN GIVES WAY TO AMERICAN TYPE

Los Angeles. — The day of the "sheik" in motion pictures is gone, killed by the "American type," according to leading stars and directors of Hollywood.

The foreign-looking heroes have lost their vogue, and fall styles in leading men for the films demand plain Americans.

The women who have to play opposite the male stars of the screen are said to have had a great deal to do with the passing of the sheik.

Said one, "See America first, is my slogan, and that goes for leading men as well as for the Grand Canyon."

"Patent leather hair and passionate black eyes—worn half closed—are all right in their places, but they are not part of the make-up of a real American," declared another star.

INVENTIVE GENIUS OF WAITER CREATED WIDE TRADE IN BEER

London.—The memory of Benjamin Kenton, the first man who bottled beer successfully for export, was honored at a banquet given by the Vintners' Company here. In solemn silence the company drank to "the immortal memory of our late brother and benefactor, Benjamin Kenton."

When 15 years of age Kenton was apprenticed to an hotel keeper, and later became a waiter and beer-drawer at one of London's old-fashioned public houses called the "Crown and Maggie." He married the daughter of the tavern keeper and prospered, and his fortune was increased when he discovered the secret of bottling a'e so that it could pass through the changes of climate on the voyage to hot countries without the cork flying out of the bottle.

VIENNA CLUB CARD SCANDAL CAUSES COUNT'S EXPULSION

Vienna.—Aristocratic Vienna has been split into two camps as the outcome of the expulsion of Count Adalbert Sternberg from Austria by the police, at the request of Count Herbert Herberstein, controller of the household of the former Archduke Friedrich.

Accusations growing out of a game of cards at the Jockey Club led to Herberstein, as president of the club ordering Sternberg's expulsion. Sternberg subsequently slapped Herberstein's face in a crowded street.

Herberstein, declaring that it was beneath his dignity to cross swords with a man like Sternberg, or to appeal to the law against him, moved the police to expel him from the country and Sternberg was in Czechoslovakia within 12 hours. The affair has aroused intense excitement in Vienna, and opinion on the propriety of Herberstein's action is divided. The Neue Freie Presse, in a leading article, reminds its readers that Sternberg is a scion of the oldest noble house in Austria, which

Many Berliners Turn Dry

Berlin.—Temperance restaurants are on the increase in Berlin. Whether this is due to the high price of beer and other alcoholic drinks or to an increase of the population which desires meals without drinks, the authorities do not agree.

Proprietors of the alcoholless restaurants say the majority of their customers are total abstainers and are very much interested in the United States and other parts of the world. Fijians Love British Rule.

Musical Be Given Christian Church This Evening

This evening at 8 o'clock in the Eighth Street Christian Church there will be given a musical to which the public is cordially invited.

An interesting program has been arranged and will consist of "Ye Old Tyme Songs," violin, guitar, vocal and ukulele solos. A male trio will also be a feature of the evening.

The following well-known musicians will take part: Mrs. Robert Jones, Mrs. T. E. Hooker, Mrs. H. A. Settle, Miss Mary Moye Savage, Misses Rosa Grey and Gladys Chesson, of Kinston, and Mr. Bill Bradshaw.

The musical promises to be most interesting and everybody is extended a cordial invitation to attend.

ALIEN POPULATION IN CITIES BLAMED ON LABOR BUREAUS

Cleveland, Ohio. — Ancestral prejudice does not influence the immigrant coming to make his home in American cities, if a survey of foreign consulates here is conclusive. Statistics show that natives of European countries, despite most of them having agricultural heritage, locate in cities' end engage in industrial pursuits.

There are many reasons for this according to the consuls. The Czechoslovak consul blames foreign employment bureaus to a certain degree. These bureaus, he says, bring natives of his country to direct employment in industrial centers, principally for steel mill with people of his own kind, the native remains. Many who are unable to speak the English language, choose to live in foreign settlements in cities where their native social life can be maintained. Consuls were unanimous in their opinions that immigrants would better themselves by settling in agricultural centers. There, they say, the foreigners would more quickly learn the language and customs of America and find greater domestic peace.

Herring Plentiful in Baltic.

Warnemunde, Germany.—Colossal schools of herring are in evidence in the Baltic Sea off the coast of Holstein and Mecklenburg. In the Bay of Fischland, east of Warnemunde, several fishermen the other day hauled in 20,000 pounds of herring in a single night's catch. Not knowing what to do with such a big quantity, they simply loaded their catch in wagons and drove around to the neighboring towns and villages, offering the fish for a song. Many farmers bought them to feed to the pigs.

BERLIN FIREMEN HIVE BEES THAT SWARM IN BUSY STREET

Berlin, July 24.—"Maid for everything" is what the Berliners call their fire department, and the firemen justified it when they recently caught two swarms of bees right in the city.

As a matter of fact, the department is equipped for this unusual duty with proper masks and a balloon shaped net. One swarm settled in a tree in Potsdamer Platz, which is the Fifth Avenue and 42nd Street of Berlin, and being somewhat angry annoyed pedestrians. The other swarm selected a residential district and in both cases the firemen gathered them in dutifully while the crowds applauded.
