TROOPS ARE ORDERED TO NASH COUNTY

Trial Of Chicago Youths To Continue For Ten Days

Mob Threatens Life Of Negro Near Nashville

Raleigh, July 28.—At 2:30 this afternoon, Taylor's store 10 miles north of Nashville, where officers held in custody a negro Cheatham Evans, arrested in connection with the disappearance of A. J. Joyner, white, taxi driver, was surrounded by a threatening mob according to Sheriff Johnson who was at the store.

The negro, according to Sheriff Johnson, told the officers where Joyner's body could be found. He denied that he killed Joyner and claims that the killing was done by another negro. In his statement he has implicated Ernest Lee and George Brown, two other negroes.

Sheriff Johnson announced that about 100 members of the mob had left the store to go to the spot where Evans said the body could be found. The sheriff stated that he was hopeful of keeping the negro from the mob until the arrival of troops that were hastening by automobile from Wilson.

When the sheriff was asked how many made up the mob he paused, looked out of the window, and replied that there were at present no more than 200 men there, many having left in search of the spot where the negro declared the body could be found.

The negro told the sheriff that the body was in a creek about five miles from Hollister, in Halifax county.

The negro was arrested in Halifax county this morning and was being brought to Nashville for safe keeping by the Halifax county sheriff when he and his party were overtaken by several cars filled with men. He carried the negro into Taylor's store and telephoned to Sheriff Johnson at Nashville for aid. Nash county officers immediately went to the scene. The mob was made up of men from Halifax and Nash counties, Sheriff Johnson said.

Sheriff Johnson said the negro had Joyner's watch in his possession when he was arrested. The prisoner at first refused to talk except to declare that he knew nothing about the disappearance of the auto driver. Members of the mob sent word to the officers that they would not molest the negro if he would tell where the body could be found. The negro then told that Joyner's body was in a creek several miles from Hollister. The negro declared he had no hand in the killing and that another negro had killed Joyner.

As soon as troops arrive the prisoner will be taken immediately to the state penitentiary or to the Halifax county jail under military guard.

Wilson, July 28—More than a thousand persons have surrounded Taylor's store, nine miles north of Nashville, threatening to lynch a negro who is held there by officers in connection with the disappearance of A. J. Joyner, white taxi driver, according to a telephone message received here.

The Wilson military company left here in automobiles shortly before two o'clock to protect the negro. The militia was ordered to the scene by Governor Morrison.

Hollister, July 27.—Hollister and a few hours drive last night community were thrown into a feverish state of excitement this morning when it was learned that A. L. Joyner, a popular jitney driver of this town, had not returned from a

DEMOCRATS MUST STICK BY PARTY DECLARES BYRD

Says Democrats who vote for Coolidge or LaFollette will be Barred from Primaries.

Winchester, Va., July 28.—Democrats cannot vote for LaFollette or Coolidge and remain Democrats with a vote in the Virginia primaries. Harry F. Byrd, chairman of the State Central Committee, declared in a statement issued here today.

Circulars advertising several LaFollette meetings in Fairfax and other counties recording the gatherings as being held under the "First Democratic LaFollette Club of Virginia," have been placed in the hands of the chairman he said.

The chairman of the meetings, it was announced, had worked out a "labeling" which would preserve the party standing of both Democrats and Republicans who voted for LaFollette, and still give them the right to vote in their respective party primaries, said Byrd.

"This is such an obvious council of disloyalty that it should not go unrebuked," declared Chairman Byrd. "The democratic party is no label that can be slipped off and on according to the whims of the voter."

and Littleton began a search for him or his car as soon as it was learned that he had not returned from his trip this morning. The only evidence of any kind discovered up to a late hour this afternoon is a rubber mat found in Fishing Creek at a bridge about one mile below. Ida Drivers found the mat in the creek and same filled the description given by Mrs. Joyner of the one used by Mr. Joyner, identification being made by a peculiar hole in it.

WANT DAVIS TO OPEN CAMPAIGN IN NEW ENGLAND

Party Leaders Believe there is Good Chance of Swinging States into Democratic Column.

Dark Harbor, Islesboro, Maine, July 28.—Democratic leaders in Maine desire John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, to open his campaign in this section of the country. They believe there are great prospects of swinging some of the New England states into the Democratic column and that Mr. Davis' early appearance in the field would have a very good effect especially in Maine where the state elections will be held in September. Presentation of this phase of the political situation was one of the purposes of a visit to Davis today by Daniel J. N. McGillicuddy, national committee man of Maine.

Mr. Davis has deferred decision on the precise plans of his campaign until after he has returned to New York and had opportunity to confer with Clem L. Shaver, his campaign manager, and other party leaders.

Denver H. Graham is Justice Dept. Agent For North Carolina

Charlotte, July 28.—The affairs of the Special Agent in charge of the United States Department of Justice district of North and South Carolina have been assumed by Denver H. Graham, who for the past three years has been confidential agent of the Department of Justice. Headquarters will be in this city.

During the past three weeks Mr. Graham has directed the search for the slayers of Major Samuel H. McLeary of Norfolk and Fort Moultrie. While the World war was on, the Department of Justice agent caught the German agent, Anna Zeltman, who had been posing as an opera singer while in this city.

CONDITION OF SENATOR LODGE VERY CRITICAL

Senator Rushed to Hospital for Operation following Recurrence of Old Ailment.

Cambridge, Mass., July 28.—Henry Cabot Lodge, senior Senator from Massachusetts, lay in a hospital here today utilizing all the strength of his 74 years to recover from the effects of an operation performed yesterday afternoon after a critical recurrence of a former ailment.

Early reports from the hospital today said that the Senator was doing as well as could be expected following so severe a test of his vitality. The attending physicians said the operation would have to be followed by another when the patient's condition permitted.

The Senator who had been under a physician's care since he returned home a month ago, suddenly became seriously ill yesterday morning and was hurried to a hospital here, where after consultation physicians decided to operate.

Mr. Lodge, in good spirit and remarkable condition for his years, rallied quickly regaining consciousness last night. His continued recuperation depends entirely upon his own strength, his physician said.

A statement last night by the operating physician said: "It is a serious situation. I believe Senator Lodge will be all right. However, nothing can be told for another 24 or 48 hours."

PERSIAN GOV'T MUST VINDICATE ITSELF SAY AMERICAN NOTE

State Department Note Declares Continuance of Diplomatic Representation depend upon Persian Action.

Washington, July 28.—Acting Secretary Grew, of the State Department, announced today the dispatch of a vigorous representation to Minister Kornfield, at Teheran, Persia, as a result of the assault upon Mrs. Katharine Imbrie, widow of Vice Consul Robert Imbrie, killed recently by a mob.

A flat statement was made that a continuance of American diplomatic and consular representation in Persia "will be dependent upon the action which the Persian government may take in this case to vindicate the principles of international law."

FUNERAL SERVICES BISHOP LEO HAID NOW IN PROGRESS

Burial to Take Place in Cemetery of Belmont Abbey Tomorrow.

Charlotte, July 28.—With solemn requiem mass sung at 6 o'clock today in the abbey cathedral, the funeral services of the Right Reverend Leo Haid, Bishop of North Carolina and Dean of Catholic Hierarchy of America, were begun at Belmont Abbey near here. The public services and burial in the cemetery of the abbey, of which he was abbot for 39 years will take place tomorrow.

At 7:30 tonight there will be the Divine Office and chanting of Matins and Lauds for the dead prelate by members of the order of St. Benedict at the abbey. Today's services will be private.

Chicago, July 28.—The United States Railroad Labor Board has postponed until September 8, further hearing in the controversy between engine operatives and western carriers.

Defense Counsel Say they may Consume ten Days in Testimony and Fight for Lives of the Two College Students. Defendants may Take Stand.

Chicago, July 28.—State Attorney Robert E. Crowe, today presented the last of the evidence by which he expected to gain the extreme penalty for Nathan Leopold Jr., and Richard Loeb, confessed kidnapers and slayers of John Robert Franks.

When the state rests its case the defense will put on the stand the alienists, who for the past several weeks have been examining the wealthy college students.

In that manner, Clarence Darrow, chief of the defense counsel, is expected to open the battle to prove, mitigating circumstances, a battle which, according to one of the psychiatrists engaged by the defense, will be the most distinguished in the medical history and which Mr. Crowe said would be the most hotly contested defenses in legal history.

The defense, according to Mr. Darrow, will consume about 10 days in presenting its side and fighting the state's avowed plan to send the boys to the gallows. Relatives of the boys may take the stand in their behalf and it is intimated that Leopold and Loeb themselves may testify.

Will Ask Assembly To Establish Fish And Game District

Asheville, July 28.—The 1925 General Assembly will be presented with a bill for the establishment of a fish and game district which it will be requested to pass, under plans outlined at a meeting of representatives from a number of western North Carolina counties held here recently. The plans call for the establishment of a game district in a number of counties in which the fish and wild animals and birds will be protected under similar rules as now operated in Virginia. The Western North Carolina Incorporated, a new development company headed by Colonel Joseph Hyde Pratt, will cooperate with the counties in getting the district established. Colonel Pratt was detailed to appoint a committee to draw up the bill to be presented to the General Assembly.

The counties included in the proposed district will be: Buncombe, Swain, Cherokee, Graham, Burke, Watauga, Mitchell, Harford, Transylvania, Polk, Caldwell, Avery, Surry, Alleghany, Catawba, Clay, Macon, Jackson, McDowell, Ashe, Madison, Henderson, and Rutherford.

ADVERTISING RAISES STANDARD OF LIVING EXPERTS ARE TOLD

London.—James D. Mooney, vice-president and director of General Motors Corporation in charge of Export Companies, told the convention of Associated Advertising Clubs of the World today that rebuilding of industrial and commercial structures awaited leaders who would provide for workers sound economic programs that would hasten the day all had expected with peace.

"The tools are available and the laborer is ready to work," he said. "The need is for leaders, organizers with mental and moral courage who will place the tools in the hands of the laborer, finance the laborer to the extent of providing him with tools and materials, and finance the exchange of the laborer's products. This leadership must come out of the ranks of such men as are represented here at this convention. The present day is the day of the industrial and commercial leader."

Mr. Mooney asserted advertising cannot be counted on to play a great part in reconstruction and rehabilitation, because it could be made so important a factor in distribution.

"The world today is standing in great need of having its distribution system re-created and re-vivified," he said. "The production facilities, al-

Below: SMITH W. BROOKHART & THEO. E. BURTON

U. S. Senator Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa, although classed as a progressive, has announced himself neutral as between Calvin Coolidge and Robert M. La Follette in the Presidential campaign. Congressman Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, member of the U. S. Debt Funding Commission, declares American participation in the rehabilitation of Europe through large loans to Germany would be an excellent economic move for the United States. Prince Gelasto Caetani, noted engineer, Italian Ambassador to the United States, who is now in Rome on a vacation, is not expected to return to Washington. Miss Alice Astor, daughter of the late John Jacob Astor and of his divorced wife, now Lady Ribblesdale, has been married in London to Prince Obolesky, of Russia.

though somewhat impaired by the great stresses imposed upon them during the war stand generally ready; men are eager to work. However, markets are ebbing for the products; means of facilitating their exchange are needed. The old channels of distribution through which goods flowed prior to the war are gradually being re-established, and new channels, made necessary by new political conditions, are being constructed. Advertising can very effectively increase the rate of growth of these national and international distributive systems.

Mr. Mooney characterized the convention as a symbol of co-operation, an expression of the eagerness of the peoples of the world to work together.

"Out of understanding and co-operation between nations, between political and commercial leaders and between capital and labor, will evolve the program of rehabilitation for which people are hungering," he declared.

Economic forces must be allowed free play, he said, natural economic laws must be respected and no impositions should be placed in the way of their working out freely.

"The nation prospers best," he added "that takes advantage of these laws rather than resists them. Prejudices very often obscure economic imagination and prevent accurate economic appraisal."

Alluding to the development of the motor car in the last 25 years as an important factor in economic and cultural progress, he said it had proved that what it added annually to the wealth of a nation was greater than its annual cost.

"Advertising has played a corresponding part in raising standards of living," he said. "It makes people want things. When they want things they go to work to get the money to pay for them."

Mr. Mooney urged the delegates to go forth with the ideal of helping to increase the comfort and happiness of millions of families.

"Let us dramatize the worker," he added. "Let us create an atmosphere about him and about the leader-worker that will insure them social advantage. Let us take such interest and such part in governmental and affairs as will insure economic stability and progress."

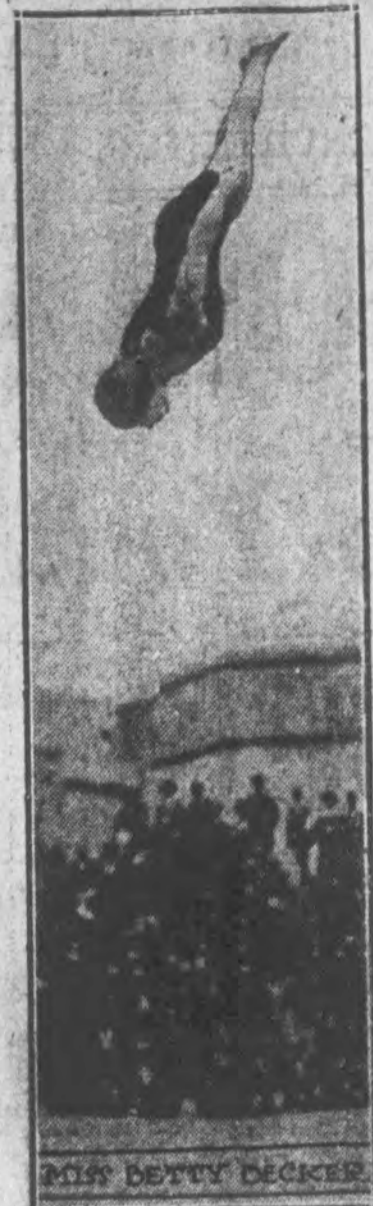

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT ERECTING WIRELESS STATION

Ottawa, July.—Erection of the farthest north wireless station in the world, to be on Herschel Island, has been got under way this summer by the Canadian Government.

The island, which is only 20 miles long and 5 miles wide, stands 500 feet high in the Arctic Ocean at the mouth of the Mackenzie River, five miles east of the international boundary line.

Messages from Herschel Island are to be received in Dawson, Y. T., or Mayo, 170 miles east of Dawson, whence they are to be transmitted to Fort Smith or Fort Simpson, which are in the southern part of the Northwest Territories. Thence the messages would be relayed to Edmonton, which is connected by chains of Canadian government wireless stations with Vancouver, B. C. and Halifax.

VAST ARMY MOVES NORTH AS SUMMER CALLS FOR REAPERS

VAST ARMY MOVES

Topeka, Kan.—The harvester army that is now employed gathering the crops of the great central wheat belt states outnumbers the entire peace adding recruits by the thousands as time strength of the United States army. The advance guard started the season moved into the pivotal wheat state of Kansas in mid-June, and swelling in numbers to more than 100,000 as it reached its peak activity in the Sunflower state about July 1, according to statistics available at the state court of industrial relations here.

"It requires 105,000 men to handle this harvest and provide for replacements," remarked J. H. Crawford, presiding judge. "To visualize this great army taxes the imagination. Witness 102 trains, made up of ten passenger coaches and each coach carrying 65 men, rushing from south, east and west to the points of distribution. Then stand for 39 hours until these men march single file past a given point and stretch along the highway a distance of 73 miles. Do this and you will see the army harvesters distributed through the wheat belt annually."

"In addition, the public employment service recruited 53,000 men and distributed them where needed as cotton laborers, potato pickers, corn huskers and for apple, berry and sugar beet labor, making 156,388 seasonal laborers, supplied in 1923.

"Kansas, which grows more wheat than any other state in the nation, is harvesting approximately 9,000,000 acres and the crop is estimated to exceed 100,000,000 bushels. Kansas wheat fields occupying 15,000 square miles have an area as great as the total land surface of Massachusetts, Connecticut and Delaware combined. It is estimated the total wheat area of the wheat belt states, from Texas to North Dakota and Minnesota, is approximately 33,000 square miles of winter wheat, while in the northern states the spring wheat aggregate 15,000 square miles a total area of 48,000 square miles."

SCIENCE RECHRISTENS IN VAIN WELL KNOWN FAMILY PEST

Iowa City, Ia.—The bed bug, variously and many times profanely named, has only within the past year, after a 166-year search, received a monicker that will satisfy sticklers for scientific exactness, according to Dr. C. W. Stiles, assistant surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service, who is a summer session lecturer at the University of Iowa. Hereafter on the roster of existence the bed bug will be known as "Cimex lectularius."

As secretary of the International Commission on Zoological Nomenclature, Dr. Stiles took a prominent part in the baptismal rites.

FLIRTATION PROVES COSTLY TO FEMALE IMPERSONATOR

Manila, P. I., July.—Flirting with a policeman's wife in Cebu caused the downfall of Felix Flores aged forty-three, and he is serving a sentence of 125 days in jail on a charge of vagrancy and failure to pay the government an annual cedula tax of two pesos for the last twenty-five years.

Flores had been masquerading as a woman for a quarter of a century and was known as "Felisa the lavender" (laundress) among the people of his neighborhood where he took in washing. "I would have gone well with Flores had he not become involved in a flirtation with a policeman's wife. This aroused the suspicion in the mind of the police officer who started an investigation which resulted in the discovery that "Felisa's" long and beautiful hair was a skillfully constructed wig and that the wearer was a man.

Women are not required to pay the annual cedula tax which Flores had escaped for twenty-five years. The magistrate in sentencing Flores enjoined him from wearing skirts after his release from prison.

BANK ADVERTISING PUBLIC EDUCATOR SAYS N. Y. FINANCIER

London.—Every dollar spent for advertising space adds to the necessity for exactness of statement and integrity of product. Francis H. Sisson, vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, said in an address before the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. His topic was "Advertising as a Creator of Public Standard in Business."

"The standards fixed by the merchant or manufacturer in public statement and printed word must become the standards of distribution and production," he added, "or the inevitable loss of public confidence and good will spells bankruptcy, moral as well as financial. Good will is the joint product of good goods, good service and good advertising. Protected, it is an invaluable asset, but violated in either of its essential elements, a fatal liability. It is business insurance. It protects the public and provides the buyer of an advertised trade-marked article with a triple guarantee of quality—from the merchant, the manufacturer and the publisher. It fixes the standard which maker and distributor must meet and provides a definite goal for business achievement."

Mr. Sisson said the conclusion having been reached that it was "just as proper to merchandise forms of service as to sell commodities," the next step would be that the use of advertising in "merchandising ideas" quite as proper as its use in the sale of goods and services. He asserted the development of a new relation to the public through advertising has led in the banking business to higher ideals and to far broader conception of its opportunity for useful service to the community.

"Thus today, the great American banks in their advertising are doing much to combat economic fallacies and to instruct the public in the field of sound finance, and there can be no doubt of the usefulness and effectiveness of this propaganda for higher economic and financial standards. This positive reflex action of good advertising upon the advertiser himself which has taken place in banking, is also evident in many other industries and activities."

The day has long passed, Mr. Sisson declared, when advertising could be considered a mere experiment or a speculation.

"It has long since become a demonstrated economic factor as a business builder and stabilizer," he added, "as well as a clearly proved educational force. Today particularly invites the advertiser to lay up stores of good will and prestige for future markets. Now is the time for advertising to be informative and educational, to help create new standards of living, to stabilize markets, to make life more comfortable and attractive, as well as more just and sound."

NOTRE DAME RETAIN ROCKNE COACH FOR TEN YEARS TO COME

Chicago.—When Knute K. Rockne entered the University Notre Dame 15 years ago as a poor working student, doing all kinds of odd jobs to pay for his tuition and board, he little dreamed that he would step into a position that was to pay him $100,000 in ten years as coach of that famous eleven. Rockne is to do just that, when his new contract becomes effective in 1925.

Rockne, by signing a contract to remain at Notre Dame for the next ten years at an annual salary reported to be $10,000 a year, becomes one of the highest paid teachers of football in America. Of the terms of his salary, Rockne himself has nothing to say, but those close to him declare he was offered $10,000 a year last fall to become head football coach at the University of Iowa, succeeding Howard Jones, and that Notre Dame would not part with him.

From a "handy boy," determined to obtain an education, Rockne's career is a vivid story of a plucky fight against odds. The man who today is acknowledged as one of the foremost coaches in the country did not even know the principles of football when he entered Notre Dame in 1909. But under the direction of Jesse Harper, the Notre Dame coach, he began to learn quickly. He did what he was told. He practiced and trained hard and within three years was hailed throughout the country as one of the greatest exponents of the forward pass ever developed.

When Rockne enrolled at Notre Dame he was without funds and to work was too menial for him to earn a few dollars. Gradually he became so proficient in chemistry that during his last year in school he acted as an assistant professor. It was in this same year that his name became famous in football, when Notre Dame met the Army for the first time and triumphed, 35 to 13. It was Rockne, on these evenings, and forward passes hurled by Gus Dorais, that swept the cadets off their feet.

After graduation, Coach Harper asked to retain Rockne as a football assistant. The dean of the chemistry department made a similar request. Rockne was wanted in two places. The officials arranged his work so he could work both jobs. A year later Harper retired to his western ranch and Rockne stepped into his shoes, holding the position as director of athletics, head football coach and track coach ever since.

Notre Dame's rise to athletic power under Rockne's direction has been a matter of national honors. Rockne, a national figure in American athletics, is of the "new school" in football. His system has brought about many innovations, such as the shift plays. Three are designed to conceal the point of attack and to add force to the thrust. Weight is invariably sacrificed for speed and close up interference has marred Notre Dame teams famous.

Rockne refers to Notre Dame as "my school" and declares he will never leave as long as they wish to retain him.

LUMBERMEN LAY PLANS AND LAUGH AT IMENS

Minneapolis, July.—The black cat with its superstitions nine lives will come into its own here September 8, 9, and 10, when the international annual meeting of the Concatenated Order of Hoo Hoo, fraternal organization of lumbermen, gets under way.

For the said cat with its alleged nine tails and like number of lives, is the accredited mascot of the concatenation, and will play a part in the sessions which will be attended by more than 1,000 lumbermen from all parts of the United States, and some from Canada, Panama and Mexico and the Philippines, those arranging the event declare.

To further show their disregard of old time superstition, the order has adopted the figure "9." Dues are $9.99 and life membership is $99.99. The lumbermen plan an unannounced feature at their "zero hour," the ninth minute, the ninth hour, of the ninth day of the ninth month.

The members of the order call themselves the "Friends of the Forest," and their aim is forest conservation and reforestation.

Organized in Gordon, Ark., in 1892 by a group of lumbermen who were stranded in that town, the order has grown in membership to more than 35,000, with local clubs in virtually every large city of the country. From the beginning, its endeavor was to promote good fellowship among all lumbermen, foresters, manufacturers, retailers and wholesalers, emphasize the virtue of home ownership, finding if ways and means of increasing the uses of lumber, and partaking of interest in civic enterprises.

Cut in Opera Salaries Urged
Dresden.—A movement has been started in Germany to limit the salaries of opera stars and stage celebrities generally. Vigorous protests here and elsewhere have been filed against the high price of theatre seats which, the managers contend, have been made necessary because of the large salaries demanded by artists before they will appear.

An old tobacco secret re-discovered—

1921—
revived for Granger

1924—
a popular seller in 31 states—a quarter-million smokers

A new richness from an old-time process

Made for pipes—cut for pipes—packed sensibly to save money

NOW it can be told. Three years ago we decided to revive a famous old secret method of mellowing tobacco—"Wellman's Method", it was called.

For three years we have been quietly trying it out—we, and about a quarter-million shrewd pipe-smokers who discovered it for themselves.

No whirlwind campaigns, no "special offers", no extravagant claims; Granger Rough Cut has made good on its taste alone. There could be no better proof of its quality.

Now we are ready to "tell the world". An extraordinary pipe tobacco, "Wellman's Method"—now ours exclusively—not only mellows tobacco, but "rounds it out"—gives it a new taste, richer and milder.

There's no other method like it, nor any other tobacco like Granger.

And not only differently mellowed, but cut differently—cut for pipes. The Rough Cut burns more slowly, hence smokes cooler—and a pipe-load lasts nearly twice as long.

And finally—notice the package. If Granger Rough Cut were packed in fancy lithographed tins, it would cost 15 cents.

But wrapped in smart heavy foil, you get this fuller, longer, cooler smoke at a third less cost. Foil instead of costly tin—hence the price.

Too good to be true? Ask any man who has tried it. Better yet—get out your pipe!

10¢

Granger Rough Cut

A Pointer on Tobacco—

The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow burning is due to the "cut". Granger is "rough cut" to smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.

Gloria Swanson Has A Studio 'Housewarming'

To celebrate the completion of her new movable dressing room, the last word in studio comfort, Gloria Swanson during the filming of her new Paramount picture, "A Society Scandal," entertained about one hundred of her friends at a "house warming" in the Paramount studios in Long Island City.

One corner of the great studio floor was converted into a reproduction of a garden with paths leading into the new "house" and here among real trees and flowers the star received her guests. One part of the garden was used as a dancing floor and the other was given over to refreshment tables.

Miss Swanson's new dressing room, the gift of the studio, is the most elaborate of its kind so far to be built for a popular star. Mounted on wheels so that it can be moved to any corner of the studio where she may be working, it is as complete as a de-luxe cabin on an ocean liner.

"A Society Scandal," an Allan Dwan production with Rod La Roche and Richardo Cortez playing in support of the star, will be shown at White's theatre today and Tuesday. It is a screen version of the stage success, "The Laughing Lady," by Alfred Sills.

AS A "PRIVATE CITIZEN"

The position which the United States should take in foreign affairs is always a matter of the greatest public importance.

President Wilson went abroad and negotiated a treaty at the close of the World War which after a two-year discussion our country did not see fit to ratify.

After rejecting the League and adopting a policy of isolation, we have witnessed the development of a feeling of depression and hopelessness in European affairs.

Our country has become unsatisfied with its decision morally. There has been a great unrecurrent of doubt and questioning as to whether we have done our duty in world affairs.

The economic breakdown of Europe has exerted a bad influence in our country politically, socially and financially. Destroying a free market for gold in the world left prices without an automatic regulator in America.

We have participated in the reparations settlements and adjustment of foreign loans in a kind of hap-hazard, half-hearted boot-legging manner, trying to get results but avoiding responsibility.

The moral duty of going to the relief of such injured, wounded and prostrated nations of Europe should not be confused with any question as to the kind of a vehicle we employ to send relief.

Whether our country shall join a League of Nations or a World Court is of minor importance compared to our obligation "TO AID IN THE RESTORATION OF THE WORLD POLITICALLY, ECONOMICALLY AND MORALLY."

The foregoing is a fair summary of an address by Owen D. Young before Harvard on the occasion of receiving an honorary degree from that institution. Mr. Young made his remarks as a "private citizen" and not as a member of the recent Experts Committee on settlement of the Reparations question.

He said in part "I object to having the great moral question of what America should do confused by a discussion of the merits of faults of the machinery through which she should make that decision effective. Whether I should go to the relief of my friend and comrade in a hospital and render what aid I could is one question. Whether I should go in a Buick or a Cadillac or a Ford is another question. I object to delaying my decision or to be diverted from my main purpose by the sales talk of promoters of different vehicles. The first thing that I want to do is to send word to my friend in the hospital that I am coming and then I will go by the best conveyance which expediency puts at my disposal, and if there be no other way, I will walk to his relief. That is what I should like to have America declare to Europe.

"I am not interested in going to the American people on a question of whether we shall join the League or whether we shall join the World Court or whether we shall make foreign loans, officially or unofficially, but I am interested in going to the American people for the answer as to whether or not we intend by every reasonable means within our power, to aid in the restoration of the world, politically, economically, and morally. You ask how this can be done? I say it can be done by frank and definite declaration of policy on the part of the United States. We need make no treaties at the moment. We need make no entangling alliances. We only need a definite and authoritative declaration of where America stands in order that isolationists may be rendered mute at home, monarchists and communists may be crippled abroad, and movements for democracy and peace in every country of the world may be given the encouragement which they ought to have from the United States of America. Europe is confused. She does not know what the spirit of America is. In fact, I think we have confused ourselves."

He suggests that if we will all lay aside for the time being our talk regarding various forms of political methods of action, our country may yet fulfill her glorious duty to the world.

SEASON OF FLOWERS

Looking about for the reason why summer is so satisfying to the soul one cannot fail to fall upon the flower garden as the most logical explanation. It is the one phase of summer that captivates every bundle of humanity possessed of at least one good eye and a capable nose.

Unfortunately the best gardens are not for the masses. Planned and loved by the wealthy they are too often shut-off from a beauty-starved world by high hedges and forbidding walls. Less opulent persons must gratify their summer hunger for the color and aroma of flowers in public parks, covert glimpses through iron fences or brief and infrequent excursions into the country—the natural home of the flower.

In New York city there has been evolved a plan for the throwing open of all private gardens to the public on certain afternoons during the flower season. The hospitable gardens are satisfying the craving of the masses for flowers, green lawns, bobbed hedges and shade trees and are breaking down class consciousness. Communities large and small throughout the nation should emulate the garden hostess. The honor system must prevail on one side if courtesy does on the other. A vandal visiting a garden is unthinkable. If one in disguise slips in, he should at once be outlawed, the mark of Cain put upon him and the gardens should know him no more. Robin Hood has no place in a garden. The forests have repudiated him, too, because of the flowers he decapitates and leaves by the wayside to perish.

The obligation is not all on the side of the garden hostess. The honor system must prevail on one side if courtesy does on the other. A vandal visiting a garden is unthinkable. BRITISH 'ROUND THE WORLD FLIER IN JAPAN

MACLAREN REACHES JAPAN

This is the first picture to reach the United States of the arrival of Major J. Stuart MacLaren, the British 'round-the-world flier, as he was welcomed at the Kasumigaura Aviation Field, north of Tokio, by Japanese officials upon his arrival in Japan from China. After leaving Japan Major MacLaren was missing for three days, but was found, alive and well, having been temporarily forced down in a desolate Pacific island.

any special promise that history will not repeat itself. If it ceases to watch and pray and search. "The world stakes its hopes and the safety of society and state upon education. Personal pride and jealousy are the greatest foes to leadership. All the dissensions and divisions in the church are traceable to pride, and many of the troubles between layman and layman, clergy and clergy, and laity and clergy, have their origin in jealousy. Therefore, too much emphasis can be laid on Christian education and growth in peace. They and alone will keep men humble, and humility is the best antidote to pride and jealousy."

Plan Increase Interest Of Farmers in Forestry

Cloquet, Minn., July 27.—To make forestry—the planting and care of young trees and elimination of the fire hazard—a major farm activity, is the object of a "Farmers' Day," termed the first of its kind in the country, at the Federal Lakes States Forest Station here Tuesday, July 29.

Agricultural and forestry leaders both national and state, refer to this occasion as the first definite step to have forestry installed as a permanent fixture in the working program of farmers.

Dr. Raphael Zon of St. Paul, supervisor of the station, said that other sections of the country have expressed great interest, and that if the plan is successful, it may be adopted elsewhere.

The value of a timber crop to the farmer will be explained, the farmer will be shown the ready market for "any and all sizes of most all kinds of trees."

To encourage this plan the federal station here will offer to furnish the farmers free of charge supplies of young trees. Dr. Zon said that where possible transportation will be provided and the planting of the trees men.

"Only idolent, inert, untrained, informed, lukewarm members do not long for such leadership. Therefore they unwittingly work into the hands of the church's enemies, who well know that without lay leaders the church will soon lose its priceless treasure, the open, unadulterated Bible, and be steeper either in superstition or infidelity."

Mrs. Hettie Brown at College

Mrs. Hettie Brown, an expert in Primary Education and one of the authors of the Child's World series of readers, one of the State adopted texts, spent several days in East Carolina Teachers College last week. Mrs. Brown, during the summer, is working with the publishers of the texts B. F. Johnson Publishing Co., and Miss Aleene Critcher, of Greensboro, N. C., with the sanction of the Department of Education in North Carolina is spending some time in the various summer schools holding conferences and advising the public school teachers as to the best way to handle reading.

She made two excellent chapel talks to the students on the subject of reading. Her talks were made interesting by apt stories and jokes, while she reiterated the sound principle that the student got in the classroom.

Mrs. Brown was formerly of Winthrop College, South Carolina. She is now primary supervisor in a Maryland county. She spent last year doing graduate work at Columbia University.

Students Enjoy Watermelon Feast

The Campus of the College presented a festive scene at twilight Saturday evening. The five hundred students, members of the faculty, and the officers gathered on the west lawn for the annual watermelon feast. The long benches covered with the sliced melons made a pretty sight, but the young ladies scattered over the lawn with the slices of melon a little later made still a prettier sight.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE FOR PRAYER SERVICES

Instead of holding street prayer services each evening of the week it has been decided to conduct these services only on Mondays, Fridays and Saturdays. Every other night of the week the Federation has every group engaged in work at different stations in the county, and this change is made in order that the evening services for the city can have the support of the entire Federation.

The Ladies Federation has already begun to function with the Mens Federation in their work in the rural districts as well as in the towns throughout the county and a great good is being accomplished.

This evening's service will be held at the courthouse with every group present, but will be in charge of No. Two. It is to be hoped that the ladies federation will attend and take an active part in the program.

The morning service on tomorrow in the Pythian Hall at 8:15 will be conducted by Mr. J. L. Starkey.

Hebrew Books of Value Come to Union College

Cincinnati, July—A rare collection of old European Jewish books has been bought for the library of the Hebrew Union college of Cincinnati. Eight hundred book-plates heraldic, allegorical and emblematic, some dating as far back as 1730, collected during a long period of travel and search over Europe by Israel Solomon, collector of Angelica-Judata, were among the collection.

They were purchased by A. S. Oko, librarian of the college. Isaac Mendes, Jewish scholar of the eighteenth century, owned one of the plates, which is dated 1736. The collection also includes the book-plates of the late Chief Rabbi Herman Adler, Elkan Nathan Adler, Jacob Franco, Moses Isaac Levy, Emanuel Mendes, Da Costa, the D'Israeli and the Rothschilds, the Montifiores, and other scholars and philanthropists.

As was customary in the early days of the eighteenth century many of the book-plates bear a coat-of-arms or other data of significance to the student of heraldry and genealogy, and clearly indicates the interests of the original owners. The plate of Elkan Nathan Adler bears the picture of a traveler reading a scroll, and shows two hands extended in religious blessing.

DR. MILLER OPENS YEARLY CONVENTION OF LUTHERN CHURCH

St. Paul.—There should be no leadership not only in "serving tables" but also in "judging as to correct doctrine, correct practice, correct discipline, and correct church government. Dr. Charles A. J. Miller of Baltimore, told member of the Walter League, Evangelical Lutheran church, assembled here in annual convention.

Admonishing his church workers "to strengthen your battle lines," he said: "In these days of wild assertions of the advocates of the common people's rights, your league promotes balance, poise, and clear thinking when social questions of the day are discussed. It helps in conservative reforms wherever they are needed and it aids us to hold fast to the good things which fathers and forefathers fought for and understood for."

"Only idolent, inert, untrained, informed, lukewarm members do not long for such leadership. Therefore they unwittingly work into the hands of the church's enemies, who well know that without lay leaders the church will soon lose its priceless treasure, the open, unadulterated Bible, and be steeper either in superstition or infidelity."

doubtedly heavily long, consequently technically weaker and in event of good rains in the southwest general liquidation and extensive hedge selling would probably follow. For these reasons we advise against following the advance further for the present.

The weather map indicates the probability of better crop weather for the Western cotton region in the near future, perhaps rain in Western Oklahoma and West Texas, also in Southeast Louisiana.

BIG PEACH SHOW TO BE HELD AT HAMET

Large Attendance Expected at Annual Fruit Exhibition.

Hamlet, July 28.—Approximately 10,000 persons are expected to visit the fourth annual Carolina Peach Show to be held here Wednesday and Thursday, July 30-31, according to officials of the arrangements committee. Last year the attendance was a little over 5,000 and to meet the expected doubled attendance it has been decided to hold the show for a period of two days instead of one as has been the custom in previous years. The officials say that the interest in the peach industry has grown so rapidly lately in North Carolina that their prophecies are not too great.

An Educational program has been arranged by a committee composed of C. B. Mathews, chairman, A. E. Schilleter and Harry Holcombe.

The program is an extensive one and will cover all the phases of the peach industry. It was stated by officials that the interest in the proper and scientific care and raising of peaches had become so great that it was found not only advisable but necessary to have a complete educational program in connection with the show. According to Mr. Mathews, the program has been arranged so that all the vital factors in the peach industry would be covered.

The program as prepared by the committee follows:

Wednesday, July 30.—Control of insects in the Commercial Peach Orchard, R. W. Leiby, Division of Entomology, North Carolina Department of Agriculture.

Peach Diseases and Winter Injury—W. B. Waite, Office of Fruit Disease Investigations, United States Department of Agriculture.

The damage from the drought, if any, in the Western half of the belt, is no irreparable, as the coming of rains would make a marked improvement in the outlook for the crop in the western half of the belt.

Meanwhile private returns from and weather conditions of late in the eastern half of the belt, indicate improvement in the growing crop to the east of the Mississippi river, especially in the Carolinas.

Because very high prices prevailing for this time of the year, trade buying of new crop cotton in South Texas may not be so urgent, in which case heavy hedge selling might follow.

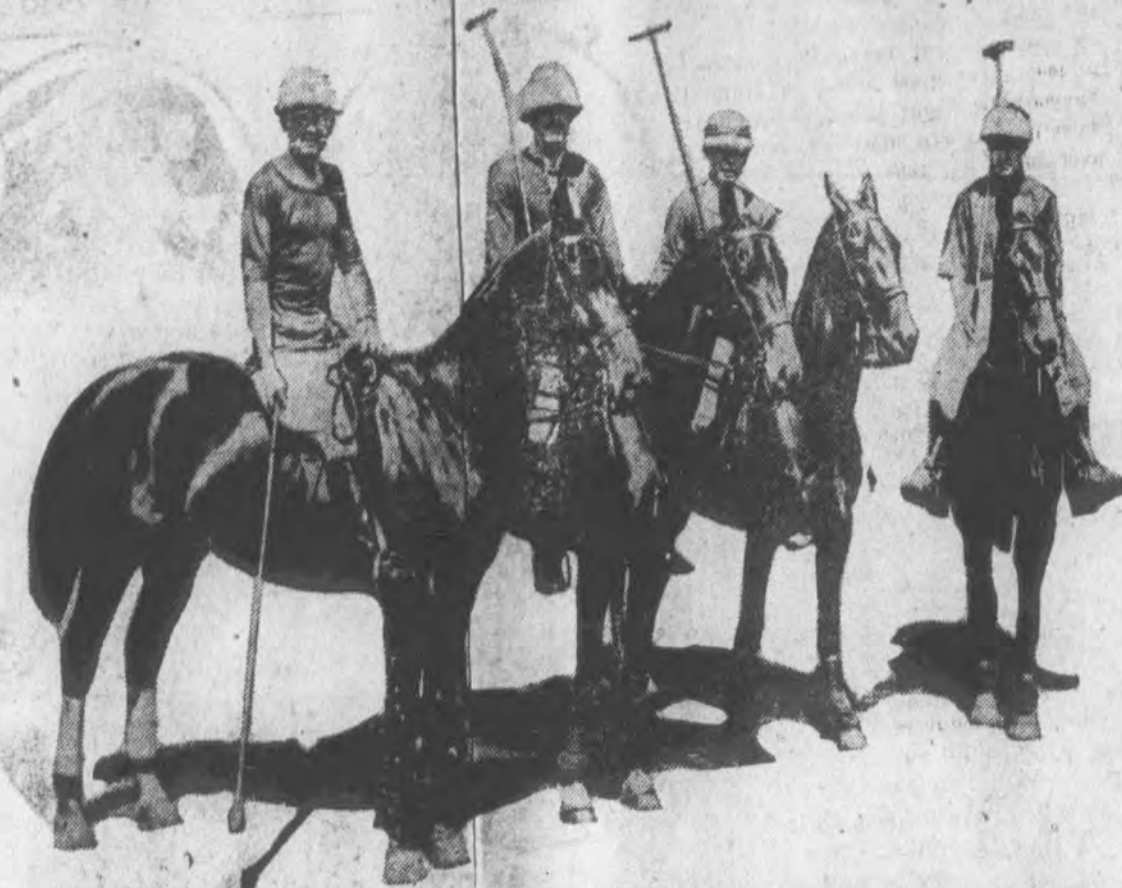

The late buying has been purely speculative, and the market is un-buyers, another Englishman secured a first edition copy of Grays Elegy printed in 1751, for $7,500. The copy contains six pages and was considered by the original collector to be incomparable.

The new $3,500,000 plant to be used exclusively for the feeding of steam to several hundred buildings, recalls the days when steam was regarded as a wasted by-product. It has now become so valuable as to be the principal product.

The plant, near the business center, will have four brick smokestacks, each 300 feet high, the loftiest structures in the downtown district. They will be nearly 16 feet in diameter at their tops. The heating unit is expected to develop 50,000 horsepower.

PRINCE OF WALES WILL SEE THEM PLAY IN U. S.

BRITISH INTERNATIONAL POLO TEAM.

Above is pictured the British International Polo Team, which is to sail shortly for the United States to play for the International Polo Trophy, now held in America. The Prince of Wales is coming to New York to witness the matches. The British team was photographed at the Rosehampton Club, where they engaged in practice matches with the Rosehampton Four. Left to right, they are Lieutenant-Colonel T. P. Melville, Major Phipps Hornby, Major F. B. Hurndall and Lewis Lacey, of the Argentine.

AUTOMOBILES SEEM CHEAP WHEN BOUGHT THIS BASIS

Winston-Salem, N. C., July 28.—Automobiles are being sold here by the pound. An enterprising dealer who handles a low-priced car, now advertises his wares at 33 1-3 cents a pound. His advertisements set forth the weight of the cars, together with the total price at so much a pound and compares the price with that per pound of every-day necessities of life.

It is said the unique method of advertising has proven unusually successful.

CHINESE GIRL GIVES LIFE IN CAUSE OF MARITAL FREEDOM

Anking, China, July.—A Chinese girl student at the government normal school committed suicide recently by jumping into the school well rather than go through with a marriage her parents had arranged for her.

It appears that the girl had done all in her power to dissuade her parents from forcing the distasteful marriage upon her, and finally decided to take her own life in the hope of helping in the fight which is being waged by many modern young Chinese women against this ancient custom.

Dickens Brings Good Price

London, July 28.—The record price of $7,000 was paid at an auction recently for the first issue of the first edition of "Pickwick," in the original numbers and wrappers, brought out in 1836-7. There was keen competition from American collectors, but the copy was secured by a Londoner.

After keen bidding against American fueling systems.

BRAZILIAN REBELS GIVE UP SAO PAULO

Unconfirmed Reports State that Federal Troops have Occupied City.

Santos, Brazil, July 28.—Whistles were howling in Santos this morning in celebration of rumors that the revolutionists had abandoned Sao Paulo during the night the government forces taking over the city. As yet there has been no official confirmation of the report.

Washington, July 28.—Withdrawal of the revolutionary forces from Sao Paulo and the occupation of that city by the Brazilian government forces was announced today in advices received by the State Department.

Gastonia Young Man Drowned Yesterday

Gastonia, July 28.—The body of Alfred Biggers, of this city, who was drowned in Catawba river above Mountain Island dam yesterday was recovered today. Funeral services will be held here at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. Burial will take place at Monroe at 1 p. m., Rev. W. C. Barrett, pastor of the First Baptist Church will officiate.

It is reported that the young man attempted to swim from the Gaston county side to the Mecklenburg county bank and while in 30 feet of water went under the surface. He came up twice, yelling for help but was out of reach of other bathers who were forced to witness the tragedy, unable to offer aid.

LION SUBMITS TO OPERATION AND GREET VISITING DOCTOR

Hamburg, Germany, July.—A veterinary recently lanced and treated a big lion that had developed between the eyes of one of the lions in the Zoo here. The attendants feared trouble but the lion submitted quietly to a 15-inch incision, suffered the veterinary to clean the wound and when released quietly resumed its cage life.

MEN AND WOMEN IN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Olga Petrova's Ex-Husband

Before sailing for a vacation in Europe, J. P. Morgan denied that American bankers are attempting to dictate to the Allies regarding the application of the Dawes plan for securing reparations from Germany. Mayor John F. Hylan, of New York City, has announced his candidacy for Governor of New York, if the people "demand" that he run. Asa G. Candler, multi-millionaire coca cola king of Atlanta, Ga., who is suing his second wife for divorce, is said to have settled $60,000 on her in lieu of alimony, and she is reported to have agreed not to fight his divorce suit, in which he charges cruelty. In deference to the wishes of her husband, Dr. John D. Stewart, of New York, Olga Petrova, motion picture actress, who has just returned from a tour of Europe, has refused to have her hair bobbed.

Investigation of Paul Rubber Co. Sought by Creditors

Raleigh, July 28.—The State Auditor's office has received a letter from John J. George, of Cherryville, requesting that the books of the Paul Rubber Company of Salisbury be again investigated under State supervision and if irregularities are found that the guilty party be prosecuted. The letter states that the request is the desire of the stockholders and creditors of the company whose license were recently revoked by the State Insurance Department after the books had been examined. The matter was referred to the insurance department where it was said that an investigation was now being carried on of the sale of stock which had amounted to approximately $500,000 in North Carolina. It was also stated that at the insurance department that a supervision of the auditing of the books would be undertaken if requested by all the creditors and stockholders, but there the actual work would necessarily be done by someone else.
