POSSE 500 HUNT SLAYERS DRY OFFICERS

Crowe Tries Prevent Insanity Plea In Franks Case

Two Dry Officers Are Shot To Death Near Wilmington

Deputy Marshall and City of Wilmington Prohibition Officer Murdered When They Went to Serve Papers Dealing With Liquor Traffic. Posse of 500 Scouring Vicinity For Slayers. Reward Offered For Capture and Conviction.

Wilmington, July 30.—Posses were organized here today under direction of city and county officials and W. W. Utley, of Raleigh, Chief Deputy United States Marshall, to work with Brunswick county officers in a wide search for the slayers of Deputy United States Marshall Sam Lilly and City Prohibition Officer, Leon George.

Lilly and George were slain yesterday by unidentified men while out serving papers in a prohibition case.

Although they declined to state the basis of their statement Wilmington officers today declared that white men killed the officers. They said they had a strong clue to the identity of the persons but declined to give out any names. It had been thought that possibly the men had been slain as revenge for the killing recently, near the scene of yesterday's shooting, of a negro by Marshall Lilly. Lilly was exonerated by the coroner's jury in this case on the plea of self defense.

Local officers said they expected arrests to be made during the day.

The city of Wilmington today offered a reward of $500, for the arrest and conviction of the slayers. To this reward the county has added $100 and Sheriff Jackson $500.

Wilmington, July 30.—The bodies of Deputy United States Marshall Sam W. Lilly and City Prohibition Officer Leon George who were shot to death in Brunswick county early last night were brought to Wilmington shortly after three o'clock after being viewed by Coroner Harrellson who will hold an inquest at 10 o'clock this morning.

The bodies of the officers were filled with buckshot and bullets, Lilly's head being shot almost completely off. When found the body of George was crumpled beneath the steering wheel and that of Lilly was found on the ground just back of the auto in which they were traveling. The windshield of the car was shot completely away.

600 armed men left Wilmington and points in Brunswick early today to search for the slayers of the two prohibition officers.

Three months ago Lilly killed a negro in the vicinity of where the bodies were found last night. On that occasion the coroner's jury exonerated Lilly on the ground that he killed in self defense. Officers think that the former case may have furnished a motive for last night's killing of Lilly and George.

BRYAN WILL REPLY WAR DEPARTMENT

Will Make Effort to Settle Differences Over "Defense Day" Criticism Through Letter to Coolidge

Lincoln, Nebraska, July 30.—Governor Charles W. Bryan will make an effort to settle his differences with the Federal War Department regarding the exact proposals and by writing to President Coolidge regarding the exact proposals and the latter's opinion on the subject tomorrow, he said here today.

Washington, July 29.—Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, has drawn rather extraordinary inferences from what seems to be a perfectly clear document" the War Department declared in a statement answering the governor's criticism of the "Defense Day" program for September 12.

Governor Bryan's statement that he does not favor any plan contemplating mobilization of the civil or any otheraointaointaointaioai or anything else that savors of a national holiday devoted to preparation for war drew the reply that such "inferences are a source of surprise to the War Department."

The statement asserted that the commanding officer of the seventh Corps Area on May 31 reported that Governor Bryan had expressed his desire "to co-operate with the departments to the fullest extent."

President Coolidge earlier in the day made known that he probably would not reply to Governor Bryan. It was declared at the White House that the President considered his recent criticism of those condemning the government's plans for defense day as "unfair" as sufficiently outlining his views. These were stated comprehensively in a letter to Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War, last Saturday.

The War Department statement declared that such plans as Governor Bryan has authorized for observance of Defense Day—ordering assembly of national guard organizations under his control and appointing local committees—"will enable the department to carry out its plan in the state of Nebraska completely.

Referring to Governor Bryan's previous promise of co-operation, the department statement offered the explanation that the governor's more recent stand is "presumably due" to the wording of a document issued since then by the Corps Area Commander giving instructions to the reserve officers.

In this document the statement continued, "no reference can be found to mobilization of civilians." "The nearest approach to this," it added "is a statement in the document that civilians who volunteer their services for the day will be permitted to parade with National Guard and organized reserve organizations in order that the processes

ANTI KLAN FORCES IN PITCH BATTLE WITH KLAN FORCES

More Than 800 Persons Participate in Fighting Which Continued Throughout the Night

Lancaster, Mass., July 30.—After a night of disorders and clashes in which scores of persons were injured, crowds engaged in night hostilities with members and speculators of a Ku Klux Klan meeting in a field near here, were disbursed by arrival of additional state troopers today. Between 500 and 800 persons had participated in the fighting during the night.

Worcester, Mass., July 30.—The smoldering feeling between members of the Ku Klux Klan and the anti-Klan followers flamed into bitter and unexpected hostilities late last night in Lancaster and Spencer, leaving in its wake injury and destruction of property.

While scores of police officers were rushing to the scene of two pitched battles between the opposing forces at the two towns, more than fifty persons were injured and property damage, which police and town officials estimate will run into thousands of dollars, had been caused.

Early this morning the fighting had not entirely ceased, and police officials of Spencer and Lancaster, bewildered by the sudden outbreak, the seriousness of which will not be known until there is a complete tally of casualties today, were appealing for aid to surrounding towns and cities. Every available trooper of the state police patrol in Worcester county, and vicinity had been sent to the scene of the hostilities.

But their efforts alone were not sufficient and police departments in the surrounding towns and cities were hastening what reinforcements they could spare to the scene.

The Lancaster battle was the more serious, for there the fight was waged between 200 members of the Ku Klux Klan and more than 500 anti-Klan followers.

Edward F. Bird, of Lancaster, said by police to be a spectator while the force were fighting with sticks, stones and other missiles, was shot. A charge of buckshot entered the upper part of his chest and arms. He was taken to Leominster hospital, where his condition was termed critical. Thirteen others were reported suffering from injuries.

MRS. W. J. PARKER ILL. The friends of Mrs. W. J. Parker will regret to learn that she is ill at her home on Columbia Ave., and wish for her a speedy recovery.

Chicago, July 30.—The state closed and the defense started its testimony today in the hearing which is to determine the punishment of Nath an Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, for the kidnaping and murder of Robert Franks.

Frank A. Asher was the last witness for the state. He testified merely that he took Loeb's confession on the night of May 30.

The defense called as its first witness Dr. William Alonzo White, superintendent of St Elizabeth's hospital, Washington, D. C.

Judge Caverly overruled an objection by State Attorney Robert E. Crowe, that testimony by any of the defense's alienists.

"If your honor gave the defendants a term of years satisfactory to them and their attorneys," argued Mr. Crowe, "I could not appeal and they would not. I insist that if this question of insanity is raised it is your honor's duty to impanel a jury to determine the fact."

Judge Caverly shook his head and said: "Overruled," but Mr. Crowe continued his argument on the legal point he had raised.

The engagement opened when Robert E. Crowe, state attorney, after resting his case sought to shut off all testimony by defense alienists relating to the mental responsibilities of the youthful defendants. When the court recessed for lunch at 12:30 the argument was unfinished.

Crowe maintained that the plea of guilty prevented the defense from showing any state of mind as mitigating punishment and with his assistants continued his argument throughout the morning session even though Judge Caverly said he would overrule the objection.

The defense told the judge that it had a right to show that mentality had figured in the circumstances of the crime and the court indicated that it agreed with them. The judge said, however, that no opportunity remained for an offer of insanity as a legal defense and he would not permit such testimony to be introduced.

When the dispute reached the squabble stage State Attorney Crowe said to the court, "If you hear evidence of insanity and then sentence these men to life imprisonment and they then appeal to the Supreme Court I will confess error." "I don't care what you gentlemen do with the case when I get through with it," retorted the judge.

The disturbance started in the dining hall and spread throughout the open section of the reformatory. Superintendent Frank More has called for 10 state troopers to be sent to the reformatory tomorrow until the trouble is quelled.

JOHN W. DAVIS ENDS VACATION IN MAINE

Will Arrive New York to Complete Campaign Organization and Acceptance Speech

Dark Harbor, Islesboro, Maine, July 30.—After two weeks of peace and quietness of the Penobscott Bay Island, John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, started back to New York late today to begin his drive to carry his political fortunes in the November election.

On his arrival in New York tomorrow he will give his first attention to organization plans as worked out by Clem L. Shaver, his campaign manager. After this conference Mr. Davis will turn to the final drafting of his speech, which the expectation of having it completed by Sunday. As it is in the platform the Ku Klux Klan issue will be dealt with in generalities under religious liberty. So far as the Democratic ranks themselves are concerned this is regarded by many party leaders as one of the most delicate of the many subjects to be treated.

Taxation and tariff will be the major subjects of the address. Other subjects of the platform are likely to be dealt with in a rather general way with their development left until the time when Mr. Davis will plead his cause face to face with the voters in many states.

ONE DEAD AS RESULT WRECK YESTERDAY NEAR CHARLOTTE

L. B. Freeman, Conductor Electric Car Died Early Today as Result Head On Collision — Two Others Perhaps Fatally Injured

Charlotte, July 30.—L. B. Freeman, Gastonia, motorman of the Piedmont and Northern railway electric passenger car which yesterday collided head-on with a freight train near the outskirts of Charlotte, died early today in a local hospital. His death brings the total of the accident, which officials of the line said apparently resulted from a misunderstanding of orders, one dead, two perhaps fatally injured and twelve less seriously hurt.

The condition of T. S. Trotter, of Gastonia, conductor of the passenger car, and J. T. Davis, of Kings Mountain, passenger, the two most seriously injured was said to be unchanged today. Both are suffering from fractured skulls.

Officials of the railway said today they had not made an official investigation of the accident. They are waiting, they said, in the hope that Conductor Trotter would recover and be able to tell the passenger crew's side of the story. At first it was believed that Motorman Freeman would recover but death has removed that source of information.

The freight train had orders to pass Irvin's Creek and cross over between Savona Mills and Lakewood according to officials of the road. The passenger crew, it was said, apparently misunderstood the orders and overran the passing place.

Most of those remaining in the hospital today are suffering from fractured arms or legs and one woman has a fractured jaw. The less seriously injured left the hospital last night.

Property owners must improve the appearance of all buildings, under threat of fine for non-compliance according to a recent Municipal ordinance of Matamoros, Mexico.

PERSIA EXPRESSES REGRET OF TRAGEDY

Teheran, Persia, July 30.—The newspaper, Iran, today published a letter from the Persian Foreign Minister to the American Minister saying that the government and nation were horrified and sorrowful over the killing of American Vice Consul Robert Embrie and that every endeavor was being made to find the culprits who will be severely punished.

Malnutrition Found Among Children Who Seem To Be Healthy

New York, July 30.—The malnutrition of children in the United States constitutes a serious health problem, according to the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, which for the last four and a half years has been testing various methods of combating this evil. Some of the facts ascertained from the society's study are included in a statement given out here recently.

It is set forth that among 2,181 apparently well children examined in the medical clinics of the society, 636, or 30 per cent, were diagnosed as malnourished. The society is seeking the most effective methods of correcting habits of eating or living which cause malnutrition, and has issued a monograph entitled "Food for the Family," containing suggestions for proper feeding as a means of insuring proper nutrition.

This condition of malnutrition is not due to insufficient food, but to the constant use of improperly chosen food or the inability of the body to make use of the food eaten because of insufficient air, rest, sunshine or physical defects. If these children were in danger from fire or industrial accidents, the report of the society says, every safety device and preventive measure known would be urged to protect them. Although the effects of malnutrition are much slower, often much more indirect and much less dramatic than those from fire or accidents, they are even more deplorable because of the larger number affected and the lingering misery resulting.

"Many a wage earner is unable to increase his income to the safety level because of health conditions due to poor nutrition. Too many children who apparently show no signs of disease or malnutrition are allowed to drift into the wage-earning period with only a part of their rightful earning capacity developed.

"Malnutrition thus concerns more than the individual or the home in which it occurs. It affects the whole country by reducing the economic production of the individual and thereby increasing the cost of living. Since much of the sickness and lowered vitality in later life is the result of poor nutrition, as physicians have frequently stated, the importance of providing educational guidance in nutrition as well as providing attention for the correction of physical defects is very great."

To ascertain what are the principal causes of malnutrition, the society analyzed the condition of 275 families among those which its nutrition bureau is now assisting. Of that number, 227 families required instruction in the preparation of the proper food; 198 needed assistance in the planning of meals; 46 families had to be helped in marketing, because simple foods, entirely strange to them, were recommended; while special diets had to be planned for 88 families. Only 27 families needed financial assistance to provide adequate food. Greater economy was found to be necessary in 44 families, while in 60 families assistance took the form of helping them to readjust expenditures.

Indifference, women working and no one at home to look after the children, living conditions too congested, resulting in inadequate rest and improper ventilation; and mother ill, were other problems found to be responsible for malnutrition. A guide to proper nutrition which the A. I. C. P. will use in its efforts to reduce malnutrition among the tenement districts of this city includes, in addition to suggested diet and menus, a "dozen good health rules for children," which reads as follows:

- Emphatically DO—
- 1. Use milk—fresh, clean, whole milk for children. Every growing child should have a quart a day, in some form.
- 2. Eat plenty of vegetables.
- 3. Be sure that a school child has a good luncheon, not candy, pickles and ice cream cones.
- 4. Eat coarse food, such as oatmeal, bran muffins and vegetables, so that the bowels will not be constipated.
- 5. Eat slowly and chew food well.
- 6. Have the meals at the same hours each day.
- 7. Eat only bread, or crackers and milk, or bread and butter between meals, and only in the middle of the morning or afternoon.
- 8. Wash hands and face before eating.

The weather had its effect upon the labor condition too. Wilmington reported that the labor situation would have been good, had it not rained so much and stopped the road project operation until dry weather.

Placements by cities were given as follows:

Banking Made Easy
Coatsville, Pa.—Twenty-four hour service for depositors has been inaugurated by a bank in PPhoenixville, near here. After banking hours patrons of the institution are permitted to deposit their money in a chute which runs direct to the vault, where the money rests safely. The service resulted from the request of merchants who desired to make deposits at night rather than place large sums of money in small safes until the next day.

WALTER P. CHRYSLER'S TRAFFIC TALKS

TRAFFIC LAWS NEED CO-ORDINATION

State laws should be co-ordinated to provide careful examination of all drivers, enforcements of laws affecting use of public highways and streets and finally there should be adequate marking of crossings and curves.

Eventually all railroad crossings must be either overhead or underneath motor vehicle highways.

Traffic officers should be so dressed at night that they can be seen easily. The use of white gloves helps. Better still a spotlight should be focused upon them. In some cities all white uniforms have been used together with lights.

Streets and highways should be patrolled by traffic officers and that fact should be made known as it is in some states with signs which read: "This road is patrolled. Please observe the law."

WHEN IT'S 90 IN THE SHADE

IN the good old summer time, when you wear this chic large-brimmed bangkok hat to keep the sun away, you will doubtless also want a printed crepe scarf to keep you from catching cold, at least so we gather from this interesting and prophetic sketch from Cheney's Paris ateliers. Be that as it may, this brightly printed crepe scarf is adorned with a trimming of plain green crepe worked in pleats in a manner reminiscent of our kindergarten days, and is quite irresistible. Naturally, the lady has used the same trimming idea on her hat.

The bangkok hat is almost de rigueur for warm weather wear. It is more often found in the small modified cloche shapes, but occasionally one sees a wide-brimmed one like that sketched. All colors are worn, but white is perhaps the most fashionable, and the smart but simple trimming is usually a printed silk band to match the scarf.

FEDERAL RESERVE REPORTS SLOWING DOWN IN BUSINESS

Decrease in Fifth District in June Was Moderate and Seasonable.

Richmond, Va., July 30.—A further slowing down in business took place in the Fifth District during June, in keeping with the general tendency throughout the United States, according to the monthly review of the Monthly Business and Agricultural Review issued here recently by the Fifth District Federal Bank. The decrease in the District, the review adds, was moderate and was little more than seasonal. No additional weak spots developed during the month in the District's industries, it was said, and conditions in the coal and textile fields grew no worse, if they didn't slightly improve. The leading causes of the retardation of business in the nation was said to appear to be a falling off in demand for steel and iron as a result of lessened automobile output, a decline in railroad purchases, and the passing of the crest in building, but none of these influences affected the Fifth District materially.

The steel and iron business of the District is comparatively unimportant, automobile manufacturing is normal and building as yet has not fallen off to any appreciable extent, it was stated. The unfavorable weather for cotton and tobacco is the key to whatever unseasonable slackness of business the District has experienced during the past two or three months, the review explains. The review follows:

"An examination of the chief indicators of business prosperity or adversity in the Fifth District shows both strength and weakness. Among the outstanding favorable factors to be noted, perhaps the most striking is the abundance of credit available. Member banks regularly reporting to the Reserve Bank show a larger volume of outstanding loans to customers than a year ago, but their deposits have advanced greatly during the year and the volume of rediscounted paper held by the Reserve Bank is very much less than a year ago. Member bank reserves at the Reserve Bank are higher than last year, and the Reserve Bank has materially increased its cash reserves while its outstanding note circulation has decreased, with a resulting rise in the ratio of cash reserves to combined note and deposit liabilities. Debits to individual accounts at clearing house banks, a good indication of actual volume of business being transacted, are running under debits reported last year, but the difference is just about accounted for by the average reduction in commodity prices. Business failures in the District, while more numerous in June 1924, than in June 1923, were lower in the total of liabilities involved.

"Labor continues sufficiently well employed to keep the purchasing power of the public at a high point and retail trade has consequently held up extremely well in view of the unfavorable weather that prevailed during the Spring and early Summer.

"Farmers dependent upon fruit and truck have better prospects than for several years, and throughout the entire district there is an extremely good hay crop assuring a supply of feed for farm animals.

"The volume of building continues to be unusually large, both in number and total valuation, which apparently assures plenty of work for all men employed in construction for the balance of the year at least.

"Among the outstanding factors in the depression in the Fifth District are the depression in the textile industry, the small demand for the output of bituminous coal, and the uncertainty of the cotton and tobacco crop.

"Theoretically the condition of cotton in South Carolina this year is only 5 per cent below that of last year, but in North Carolina the condition is 22 per cent lower than last year and Virginia is 34 per cent lower. Favorable weather during the balance of the season might overcome some of the handicap but the final outcome for the year appears highly problematical."

Ice Cream and Cold Bottled Drinks Are Adopted By Chinese

Teehow Shantung, July 30.—Having imitated the foreigner in many other respects, the Chinese are now taking to the summer custom of ice cream and iced drinks and especially iced tea. A short time ago ice cream was obtainable only in Peking in the Legation Quarter hotels and in foreign communities in the port cities; now the Chinese shops that sell it are legion and the urchin in the street has the ice cream cone habit. Bottled soda water, pop and lemonade can be bought anywhere. Iced tea stands, with dirty glasses and swarming flies, are frequent along the streets, even in inland Chinese cities away from the tourist routes. The widespread imitation of the foreigner's custom of indulging in cold drinks, without a corresponding imitation of the sanitary methods employed by the foreigner in their preparation, promises serious consequences. Drinking water in most Chinese cities comes from polluted wells or filthy rivers, and the ancient custom of drinking only boiling water or boiling tea has been the salvation of the Chinese. In taking to cold drinks they are abandoning this old time protective custom.

The iced tea stands are the most dangerous of the innovations. The vendor gets his iced supply from some stagnant pond perhaps in the middle of the village. This ice is put into the tea and not around the container. Thus the native unthinkingly takes with his new drink water that in former days he would not have dreamed of drinking without it first having been boiled. Doctors predict that if the custom continues to increase certain epidemics are bound to occur.

CHINESE MAGISTRATE RESELLS SEIZED OPIUM AS HABIT 'CURE,' SAID

Anking, China.—The magistrate of Chinyanghsien recently confiscated large stores of opium in his bailiwick and his praises were sung far and wide by the people of the province. They had been compelled by force to cultivate the poppy and subjected to heavy fines and taxations, and they believed the magistrate was seeking their welfare.

Subsequently the magistrate put on the market some pills which he advertised as a sure cure for the opium habit. For this he received renewed plaudits and his pill business prospered.

Then it was discovered that all the fines collected for trafficking in the opium went into the magistrate's pocket and that he used the confiscated drug to make his "anti-opium" pills. As punishment when the authorities learned of his double dealing, he was warned to take his pills off the market.

Do You Remember the Days When Cars Like This Were to be Seen Everywhere?

A product of the factories of the Maxwell Motor Corporation of twenty years ago.

By WALTER P. CHRYSLER, President and Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Maxwell and Chrysler Motor Corporations.

IMAGINE stepping into a "snappy" model like the one pictured above and sailing down Fifth Avenue, New York. Immediately all records for traffic congestion would be broken. And yet there was a time and not so many years ago either when this car represented the best in motor car construction and design. It does a manufacturer good to look at a picture like this now and then because it recalls rather vividly the progress that the automotive industry has made.

Back in November, 1895, the New York Times offered prizes totaling $5,000 to the winning automobiles in a 100-mile road race. Thirty cars entered, but only six actually started. One car failed to make provision for six changes of batteries and had to drop out. Another wound a chain around its stanchion and had to quit. Still another disabled its port engine and withdrew.

Finally but one car was left. And that car began to melt away. The engine was packed with ice and after much difficulty the 100 miles were covered. But so much time was consumed that the judges decided there was no contest and went home. So when the winning car finished there was no one present to witness it.

Today there are more than 15,000,000 motor vehicles in use. Few industries can point to such rapid progress.

THE ONE WHO HOLDS ON.

The greatest men in the world have not been without reverses. But they have come up again, strengthened by the struggle.

Take General Grant, for one striking instance. He was a dismal failure for half his life. But he never gave up his high ideals or his efforts to attain them. When the crucial time came he was ready for it. His opportunity had been created within him.

At the close of the first day of the battle of Shiloh, a day of severe Union reverses, General Grant received from his much-discouraged chief of staff, McPherson, the report: "Things look bad, General. We have lost half our artillery and a third of the infantry. Our line is broken and we are pushed back almost to the river. What can we do?"

"Reform the lines," said Grant, "and attack at daybreak. And won't they be surprised!" Surprised indeed they were, and routed before 9 o'clock.

Even the strongest-hearted must fail, not only once, but again and again. But what of that? Life is a campaign, not a single day's battle.

Everyone who succeeds must meet such crises, and must avert disaster by prompt reforming of lines and a surprising early attack.

There is no real defeat for the one who holds on courageously in a right cause.

The only permanent and hopeless failure comes through a soul-surrender.

SAY, CLEAN UP THAT CAMP.

Moses taught the Children of Israel the art of camping out. If he hadn't they would never have reached the Promised Land.

Modern campers need to know all that ancient campers practiced, and more. They must learn to do for themselves what civilization and organized society has been doing for them.

The matter of bathing should be considered. It is pretty safe to bath in a modern bath room with a porcelain tub and hot and cold sterilized water. But the National Safety Council is issuing warning against the perils of the "Ol Swimming' Hole." Don't swim just after eating; don't swim until exhausted; don't swim if over heated; don't swim if you have heart trouble; don't dive unless you know how deep the water and what is on the bottom, and many other such precautions.

And in addition to watching out for themselves, modern campers and autoing parties ought to take thought for the protection of those who come after. More and more the people of the cities are taking to the woods for their vacations. The state and many local communities are providing camp sites and accommodations. These will be used in turn by many visitors. There is need to build up a complete system of courtesy and code of good manners.

People who are out for a good time are not unkind or malicious; they may be careless. Anation that is about to forsake its established, civilized customs and return to a difficult and unaccustomed way of living, need a second Moses to lead it in its wilderness wanderings.

A SECRET OF HAPPINESS.

"If you don't care for things you can't obtain you will be fairly happy."

On the surface it is not an inspiring message. Not to care for the things we can't obtain is to resign, give up, be supine. And when we quit in life's struggle we pay a dear price, instead, for our meagre mete of happiness. Most of us perhaps, would rather keep on fighting. There is joy in the fight; joy at least to know there is fight in us.

Let us reverse the formula.

"If you care enough for the things you have obtained, you will be supremely happy."

The humble farmer, on his little farm—if he loves that farm—may be happy beyond compare. If he loves it well, he will till it well, intelligently, thoroughly, and it will yield him rich store. The widowed mother, in the little cottage, has her children, and if she loves them well they will be her life. The clerk at the desk, if he loves his work, will be happy in it. Or the motorman, in his cab of steel, may find in the easy response of the throbbing motors and his rolling palace a sense of responsibility for the passing multitude that will bring him pride and joy.

To be truly happy in our lot we need not be contented. Indeed, happiness and contentment, while we keep moving on life's high way, are not to be reconciled. If we love the work we do we shall be thrilled not alone to do it well, but to do it better.

Far away fields are always green to many of us. Only after many fruitless pilgrimages is the simple truth borne home that if the field at our door is not attractive and verdant it is because we do not water its shrubs and grasses. If we love our field we will tend it. And more important, if we tend it we will come to love it.

And this to them in whom ambition burns. Only by the degree to which you prove yourself true to the modest task of today can you fit yourself for, or inspire others to intrust you with, greater duties tomorrow.

Said Carlyle: "Here in this poor, miserable hampered, dispicable Actual, wherein thou even now standest, here or nowhere is thy Ideal; work it out therefrom and working, believe, live, be free."

And be happy.

This may be an awful country; but in Paris men wear earrings.

This world is too small for golf to take the place of baseball.

MRS. CANTWELL PROPOSES A NEW SALUTE TO THE FLAG

"North Carolina Legionaires: Partially if not entirely through the efforts of a North Carolina member of the American Legion auxiliary, Mrs. Robert C. Cantwell, Jr., of Wilmington, a change has been made in the correct position for a woman to assume as the flag of her country passes by. Instead of the military salute which has been the rule from now on a woman will place her right hand over her heart and stand at attention.

"Mrs. Cantwell brought the matter before the auxiliary convention at Greensboro last September, and brought it up again at the national convention at New Orleans. The new attitude has been promulgated in the new auxiliary manual of ceremonies.

"It is awkward at times for a woman to put her hand to her head," Mrs. Cantwell comments, "particularly with her hat on. And surely her flag is near her heart. It makes my heart beat faster when I see the flag go by."

First Aid To Neglected Husbands

ERNEST TRUEX, by virtue of the gross neglect which has been accorded him by his sundry dozen wives since the start of his famous career as the neglected husband of the footlights, has found ample time to specialize in the art of cuisine. He recommends to one and all a dainty dish called Eggs a la Truex. In hitting upon this combination the star of "New Toys" has taken due thought of the difficulty confronting housewives in arranging eggs in new modes. His dish is compiled by the following simple formula:
Take six or eight sardines, mash up with yolk of a hard-cooked egg, pepper and salt to taste, a little lemon juice and one teaspoon melted crisco. Serve on buttered toast, garnished round the edges with some finely chopped parsley and white of one egg rubbed through sieve.

OPEN FORUM

Dear Old Daily:
A most welcome visitor to our home since 1882.

Mr. Editor, I want to ask space to speak of the difference in schools, school houses and furniture, now and when I was a kid. I remember well the first day I went to school, it was in August 1857. I was six years old, never had been in a school room before, and was very bashful. I had to walk 2-1/2 miles. I entered the door, the first thing that attracted my attention was the teacher, an old man, sitting in an old rickety chair and a long switch near by his side. Of course I didn't like the looks of that much. My next attention was given to the house and furniture. The house was about 16 feet square, built of logs, covered with shingles. It had one door, two very small windows, a dirt chimney, with a fire place about 8 feet wide. The cracks between the logs were stopped with boards with about half of them torn off, which gave a plenty of ventilation, especially in cold weather. The furniture consisted of four benches about 14 feet long, being the slabs, sawed off of popular logs, with legs put in with an average of about two feet high, so the children could swing their feet to their own heart's content. Also there was a writing desk sitting across the middle of the room in proportion in height to the benches. Our water supply was from a hole dug near the side of a branch. The hole was about four feet deep, and three feet wide and five or six feet long at the top. Dug with a slant from the top so that the children could walk down and dip and drink all they wanted. Our school year was about three school months divided in two parts, first beginning about the middle of July and continuing for about six weeks, then stop and help house the crop and do what else there was to be done. School started again about the fifteenth of October and continued for about six weeks more, then came the end with no commencement and no picnic.

The so-called free schools went on in this way to the beginning of the war in the last part of 1860. Now comes the difference and improvement I want to speak of.

Last May I went to the commencement at Hollywood. When I went in the teachers gave me a chair in a convenient place as I was somewhat old. My first thought was the difference now and when I first started to school. When I had to walk two and a half miles along a muddy road. Hollywood is situated on the paved road and the ticks all gone. I first looked the school room over. It is a large two-room school house, ceiled and painted inside and out. I next looked at the furniture that consisted of two large up-to-date heaters, one organ, tables, writing desks with the Silver Loving Cup won by this school last year, and again sitting on it by the side of a bouquet of flowers, also chairs and patent seats to fill the rooms, and a folding door partition.

Next came several good talks by prominent speakers and the school children at intervals would sing, speak and every now and then give a good play and their performance was beyond expressions. About half past twelve in the afternoon dinner was served and there was a table about 140 yards long, well filled with all the good things that tempt a fellow's stomach. After the blessing had been asked by the Rev. Mr. Laughinghouse, all were invited to the table and all seemed to enjoy dinner. There was enough left to have fed many more. I being the oldest one there I sat and looked at the school children and it carried me back to my childhood days when I went to that little log school house and how I thought I loved some of

British Clergymen Defend Alcohol On Christian Grounds

London, July 30.—America is being used as the horrible example by the English anti-prohibitionists in their increasingly frequent meetings over England.

The Rev. Wyndham Heathcote, of Maidstone recently addressed a meeting at the Corn Exchange, during which he described the working of the illicit drink traffic in the United States as he observed it on a recent trip. He produced canes, dummy books and even a cigar capable of carrying small quantities of liquor which he stated were used, with many other novelties, in a continual if unlawful service. America under prohibition, he declared, had become a more corrupt, more criminal and drunken nation.

The speaker said he opposed prohibition because it was subversive to democracy and was opposed to Christianity. The democracy in him, he said, was too strong to allow him to compel his neighbor to do what he did not want to do in the conduct of his private affairs. There were some matters with which neither governments nor majorities had anything to do whatever. They had no right, he maintained, to interfere with the way in which the individual worshipped; no right to dictate the choice of the woman a man should marry, and no right to order what should be eaten or drunk. In regard to religion he challenged any Christian to tell his that wine was wrong when Christ drank and blessed it.

Dr. H. H. Henson, the Bishop of Durham, is another opponent of prohibition and is of the opinion that "coercion is not a legitimate method of advancing morality." Speaking at a recent Rotary Club meeting here he said:

"We are told we ought to identify the drinking of alcoholic beverages with an immoral act. As a moderate drinker from my youth up, and intending to continue until the end, I passionately repudiate that. It is a perversion of the truth to identify the temperate use of liquors with an immoral excess."

"Prohibition pushes positive law beyond the proper limitations of personal rights. Total abstinence from alcoholic beverages is no part of morality, and the moderate use of alcohol is the tradition of Christendom from the example of the Divine founder and His apostles through all the centuries to this moment."

GORKY INCITING PEASANTS AGAINST BOLSHEVIK RULE

Moscow, July 30.—Maxim Gorky was violently attacked by Leon Trotsky in a speech before the union of Russian writers. Trotsky declared that Gorky, although undoubtedly one of the most important men of letters of Russia, does not comprehend the Russian revolution or its leaders.

"He is stirring up the Russian peasants," said Trotsky, "and inciting them to a revolution against the bolshevik government. This is an activity that cannot be condoned severely enough."

WEATHER FORECAST USED TO REGULATE CHURCH GOERS

Washington, July 29.—A minister using weather forecasts to fit the attendance to the capacity of his church and the services to the mood of the congregation as affected by the weather is the latest innovation in utilizing the government's prognostications that has come to the attention of Weather Bureau officials here.

The pastor of a large church in one of the country's large cities, whose edifice is unable to hold all that come in "god church weather," but which is not filled in inclement weather or fine outdoor weather, telephones the forecaster at the local weather bureau office every week for Sunday's weather prospects.

If the forecast indicates weather good enough for church, but not for golf or motoring, publicity through the newspapers is curtailed and no attempt is made to increase the attendance, as the church will be crowded to capacity without such efforts. But if stormy or very fine weather is in prospect, special announcements of sermon and attractive musical program are made in the newspapers and every means is used to arouse interest. A similar course is followed for Wednesday evening prayer meeting.

TULLY MARSHALL CAN'T STAND RED HAIR

Tully Marshall, noted screen character man, has an aversion to red-headed women.

In fact, he declares he will never sign up to play in any picture if the cast contains a titian haired beauty. Before he signed up to play in First National's "Her Temporary Husband," which is showing tomorrow at White's theatre, he first asked if there was a red-head in the cast. Assured that there was none, he put his signature on the dotted line.

Tully's aversion is the result of his first love affair, he explains. He fell in love with his red-headed teacher, who threw him down most forcibly. Since then he has shunned every red-top that has crossed his path—so he says.

SUMMARY OF THE WEEKLY WEATHER AND CROP GOVERNMENT REPORT

Washington, July 30.—Conditions varied greatly in the cotton belt. Less rainfall, ample warmth and abundant sunshine were very favorable in the central Northern and Northwestern portions of the belt but the drought was intensified in the west Gulf area. Progress and condition of early cotton fairly good in Texas except in South; but late crop made poor advance, with plants stunted and the dry weather is causing shedding. Deterioration occurring in Northwest Louisiana, elsewhere progress was poor in that state with some shedding. General advance was poor in Mississippi, though fruiting and blooming well. Progress was fairly good in parts of Alabama, though poor in the drier sections. Growth and condition were fairly good to excellent in Oklahoma crop late but fruiting freely. Cotton did well in Central and Northern portions of Arkansas, but only fairly well in the Southern portion where weather dry. Satisfactory advance is noted in Tennessee. Good cotton growing weather prevailed in Georgia, where advance is satisfactory and cotton is fruiting well, with poisoning and much sunshine holding weevil in check. Cotton showed distinct improvement in South Carolina blooming and fruiting rather freely, and growth was very good in Central and Western North Carolina, though conditions mostly rather poor to very poor in that portion. Cotton was favorably affected by weather in Florida and Virginia and reports are favorable from more western states.

COTTON LETTER
New Orleans July 30.—The tendency of market remained downward today, values declining owing to the depressing influences of prospects for more favorable crop weather in the Southwest, a favorable construction of the weekly Government report and because of large crop ideas. As yet there has been no rain of consequence to the west of the Mississippi river, especially in Texas, which is unfavorable for the growing crop in the Western half of the belt, but generally fair weather prevails in the Eastern half of the cotton region which is favorable for the growing crop in that section. Summarizing developments of the past week Washington reports varied greatly in the cotton belt. The report was about a stand off. Returns to the New York Journal of Commerce as of July 26 average the condition of the crop at 66.5 vs. their report of 63.9 last month indicating a crop of 11,499,037 bales. On the other hand returns to a prominent New Orleans commission house from conservative spot firms through out the cotton belt indicate a crop of 12,525,000 bales.

The New Orleans weather bureau predicts thundershowers in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Northwest Texas and in Southeast Louisiana, otherwise generally fair weather over this district tonight and Thursday and it will be cooler over the Northwestern portion of the district.

Contributing to the weakness of the market it is expectation of a free movement of new crop cotton, perhaps increasing offerings from South Texas and the lower Mississippi Valley states where the crop is opening unusually early, due to the forcing hot dry weather. Estimated receipts for Galveston tomorrow 3500 to 4500 bales vs. 571 bales last year.

LIQUOR TESTED ON RATS
LANDS COUPLE IN JAIL
Omaha, Neb., July 30.—Thirteen sleek rats, penned in a cage in a chemist's laboratory, were instrumental in government agents obtaining conviction of an Omaha man and his wife on a liquor selling charge, with subsequent sentence of a year in jail and a heavy fine foreach in federal court.

The question of sampling the liquor which the pair sold was brought up in court, and to determine whether it was fit for human consumption, the agents submitted it to a chemist. He fed it to the rats and then watched their action.

The rodents displayed many of the characteristics of an intoxicated human, the chemist reported. Not one died, rather they all thrived, he declared on the witness stand. Although defense counsel questioned the admissibility of the experiment as evidence, it was allowed to stand as indicating the potency and possibilities of the liquor for beverage purposes.

Norwegian Lutherans Plan Drive in Missionary Field
 Fargo, N. D., July 30.—Efforts to create a more extensive interest in the establishment of missions in China and Madagascar, and the subsequent intensive religious and moral training of 10,000,000 heathen, will constitute the main work and aim of the General Mission Conference of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America at its fall national convention here.

Fifteen internationally prominent missionaries and religious workers will speak. The convention is expected to launch a drive throughout the nation for more and better equipped Lutheran missions.

All meetings will be held under the auspices of the Foreign Mission board of which the Rev. Giffixson of Minot, North Dakota is chairman.

The Lutherans, according to the Rev. J. D. Runsvold of Fargo, secretary of the Mission Board, expend $325,000 each year alone for its missions. One hundred and fifty missionaries are already in the field, he states and are accomplishing exceptional results.

FAMOUS JUDGE STILL MAY ENJOY HARD LIQUOR
The Hague, Holland, July 30.—Andrew Carnegie's Peace Palace is to be equipped with a refreshment bar where "hard" drinks may be obtained. This was not accomplished, however without a struggle in the municipal council of The Hague, which prohibition is strongly represented.

The object of the bar was said to be to provide refreshments for students of the Academy of International Law connected with the Palace, but the temperance advocates argued that judges of the Court of Arbitration also would have access to the bar, and that potent liquor is notoriously bad for sound judgment. The objectors were defeated by a majority of two.

LOIS WILSON

Lois Wilson, screen star, and Bernard Baruch, Jr., son of the New York financier, are soon to wed, according to Paris reports, which declare they spent much of their time in company with the quors. The other half of the cost is to be provided by the insured and by those employing them.

The measure is meeting with general favor, except from the Socialists, who find $80 a year insufficient. They also urge that the pension be paid also to invalids of any age.

COUNT OF HEADS SHOWS BOBBED UNPOPULAR WITH

THE BERLIN WOMEN
Berlin, July 30.—To determine the popularity of the "bubi" head, which is the German equivalent for bobbed, a Berlin editor selected three distinctive sections of the city and counted the bobs that passed in 500 women.

U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge is seriously ill in the Charles Gates Hospital in Boston, following an emergency operation for bladder trouble. John R. Voorhis, veteran chairman of the Board of Elections of New York City and sachen of Tammany Hall, has just celebrated his 95th birthday. Dr. James Rowland Angell, president of Yale University, who has been seriously ill in Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, will soon be able to return to New Haven. Threatened with the defeat of his faction of the Republican Party in Indiana, Senator James E. Watson is reported to have seized upon the Ku Klux Klan issue to oust his ancient foe, Postmaster-General Harry S. New, from his present dominant position in party affairs.

Where Recipes Are Born

MOST of us probably think that recipes are just made. But the aristocratic recipe comes into the world with a great deal of pomp and circumstance and is given careful home training before it reaches the housewife's cook book or her kitchen stove. Here is a small corner of the big, white kitchen in the home economics department of the Procter and Gamble Company where recipes are conceived, pedigreed, tabulated, tried and tested before they are given to the housewives of the nation. The nut doughnuts on the table are just as digestible as they are delicious, so we have persuaded the charming and efficient young home economist in the photograph to give us the recipe. Here it is: "Cream 1 1/4 cupsfuls of sugar together with four tablespoonsfuls of crisco. Add two eggs well beaten, 1 1/2 cupsfuls of milk, 1/2 teaspoonful of salt, 1 teaspoonful each of vanilla extract and lemon extract, 4 teaspoonfuls baking powder, 1 cupful chopped English walnut meats, and sufficient flour to make soft dough. Roll out, cut with cutter and fry in hot crisco to a golden color. Drain and sift with sugar." This is sufficient for seventy-five doughnuts, or seventy-five reasons why men don't leave home.
