Mail Clerk Shoots Bandits In Attempted Hold-Up

Attempted Mail Robbery Ends In Death Of Bandit

East Orange, N. J. July 31—One bandit was killed and one escaped and one mail clerk wounded twice when he frustrated and attempted mail robbery at the Lackawana Railway station at 5 o'clock this morning.

Eugene Stack, 23 years old, mail clerk, employed at the local post office, is in a hospital with bullet wounds in his thumb and right leg as a result of his repulse of the bandits whom he believed tried to steal a mail pouch carrying registered packages.

The escaped bandit got away in a taxi which is believed to have been driven by a confederate. Stack went to meet the 4:58 train and had taken six pouches from the train when two men got off the train and started toward him. They opened fire without warning and shots were returned by Stack.

One of the bandits fell dead at the top of the stairway and rolled to the bottom while the other rushed to the sidewalk and entered a waiting taxi.

DAVIS SIDES WITH GOV. BRYAN IN VIEW AS TO DEFENSE DAY

Upon arrival in New York Presidential Nominee Says Bryans View That Mobilization Was Unnecessary and With out Benefit, are Sound.

New York, July 31.—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, announced today after his return from Maine, that he was in entire accord with his running mate, Governor Charles W. Bryan, of Nebraska, regarding "Mobilization Day."

Having practically opened his campaign on his return trip from Maine, ten days in advance of his formal notification of his nomination as Democratic presidential candidate, John W. Davis, upon his arrival here today immediately began to acquaint himself with various details of campaign plans as worked out while he was on his vacation in the Penobscott islands.

Reaching his personal headquarters after an all-night journey from Rockland, Me., Mr. Davis went into conference with his field marshal Clem L. Shaver. The question of organization was discussed chiefly but several developments in the world's politics since Mr. Davis left for Maine were taken up.

When greeted by friends as he stepped from his private car, Mr. Davis told them he felt 100 per cent fit. Before starting for home Mr. Davis completed and sent to the printer all of his acceptance address with the exception of one paragraph, the nature of which he has not disclosed.

From Rockland to Dover, New Hampshire, crowds gathered to meet Davis as his train passed last night. He spoke briefly at Rockland and Bath.

Allege Whiskey Gang Murdered Two Dry Officers

Three White Men Jailed as Suspects in Murder of Officers Near Phoenix. Bullets Taken From Bodies of Slain Officers Fit Shells Found In Suspects Auto. Belief That Officers Were Lured to Swamp by False Tip and Ambushed. Arrest of Two More Suspects Expected.

Loeb's Sweetheart to Aid Defense.

Miss Germaine K. ("Patches") Reinhard, sweetheart of "Angel Faced Dickie" Loeb, one of the youthful slayers of little Bobby Franks in Chicago, to whom Loeb is the "same lovable Dickie he always was," will be a witness for the defense in the slayer's hearing.

Wilmington, July 31.—The bullets found in the bodies of Deputy United States Marshal Sam Lilly and City Prohibition Officer Leon George who were shot to death near Phoenix Tuesday night, fit empty shells found in the automobile of Elmer Stuart at his home in Brunswick county, officers announced here today, after the autopsy on the bodies.

Stuart and Jack Ramsay under arrest as suspects are in the Southport jail. Linwood Tyndall, also held in connection with the case, is in jail here.

Officers said that not only did the bullets taken from the bodies of the slain men fit empty shells found in Stuart's car, but that they corresponded with unfired shells found in the car. Officers said they expected the immediate arrest of two other suspects.

Rewards for the arrest and conviction of the slayers now totals $900 with the state is expected add $400 to this sum.

The body of George will be buried here late today with the services under the auspices of the local police department. The body of Lilly will be taken to New Bern today for burial.

Solicitor Woodus Kellum, today said he believed that authorities were on the right trail and predicted conclusive developments soon.

Officers were unanimous in expressing the belief that the two officers, who had been active in prohibition cases, had been lured to the Brunswick county swamp, by a false tip regarding a still, and slain from ambush.

Wilmington, July 31.—Linwood Tyndall, Elmer Stuart and Jack Ramsay, being held in jail without bond in connection with the murder of Prohibition Officer Leon George and Deputy United States Marshal Sam Lilly, in Brunswick county Tuesday night, are believed by police to be the leaders of a bootleggers' ring which they blame for the killing of the officers.

Police express the theory and claim that substantiating evidence is now in their hands and that the time of their departure was made known to waiting assassins by accomplices here. Tyndall is said by police to have been the shooter and Stuart and Ramsay the actual leaders of the bootleggers' gang who conspired to get the two officers out of their way.

George had been particularly active against bootleggers in this territory.

Stuart and Ramsay, when arrested, admitted they had been engaged in making liquor all night but protested innocence in connection with the murder. Both are held without bond at Southport while Tyndall, who is in jail here, will be transferred to the Brunswick county jail at Southport today.

FOUR MEN INJURED IN KU KLUX CLASH

Crowds Clash With Members of Klan as Meeting Near Groveland, Mass. Breaks up

Haverhill, Mass., July 31.—Four men were shot here early today when hostile crowds clashed with between 8,000 and 5,000 members of the Ku Klux Klan who held a meeting lasting into the early morning on a hillside at the neighboring town of Groveland.

State and local police at length quelled the disorders taking into custody 23 men, including three wounded men, and confiscated six shot guns, several revolvers and a quantity of ammunition.

The disorders broke out at the conclusion of a Klan initiation ceremony on Perry Hill, Groveland and continued as nearly a thousand automobiles bearing Klansmen from Worcester, Boston, Springfield and other cities, traveled from the meeting place homeward toward Haverhill.

Shots were fired and many stones thrown at the passing cars. So far as is known only four were injured. None of the injured men, all of whom are shot in the legs, were deemed dangerously hurt.

Declares Starvation Cause of Death of Sheep in State

Raleigh, July 31.—Starvation is the cause of the death of many of the sheep of the state, especially in Western Carolina, according to C. P. Williams, Sheep Extension Specialist of the State College and Department of Agriculture. The most successful sheep raisers in the state, says Mr. Williams, turn their flocks off part of the grazing lands late in the summer in order to permit it to grow up for winter feed. A large number of mountain farmers he pointed out lost heavily on their last sheep crop due to bad wintering.

It is advised by the department and experienced sheep raisers to keep the flock down to a fair size. Dock Carpenter, who the Extension Division reports made a 100 per cent sheep crop last season is quoted as saying that over-stocking is very dangerous to the profitable outcome of the crop.

Mr. Pete Gross, of Chicago, is visiting at the home of Mrs. Ella Jafferson.

The Farmville people are especially interested in the work of the Federations and are anxious to have them conduct services in their city.

The boat is made of steel, with 8 water-tight chambers which the builder claims makes it unsinkable. Oldham proposes to propel the boat by his feet, and is fixing pedals for that purpose, but the pedals can also be used with the hands, which will give Williams an occasional rest.

THE EXODUS OF LABOR

In months past there have been numbers of laborers especially negroes to leave this and other southern states for the north expecting to better themselves by better living conditions and the promise of higher wages.

The experiences of may, who have listened to these honey tongued agents, and left their homes to take up their abode in the new "Land of Promise" have been anything but pleasant and each one who returns to his native state brings with him a new tale of the hardships and a word of advice to his fellow workers to remain in the south where they are understood and can live.

For the information of those who anticipate moving north in the hope of reaping some of the harvest of luxury pictured by the agents, we print the following paragraphs from a recent report of the United States Employment Service of the Department of Labor.

"East St. Louis is as much affected by the menace of unemployment as any other downstate city in Illinois, according to the government report, which remarks that there are now about 2,000 unemployed people in the city.

Curtailment of activity in the coal mines of the East St. Louis district has tended to keep other day laborers out of jobs, says the U. S. Employment Service, as the miners have turned farm hands and road workers in order to keep the wolf from the door.

There will be no demand for farm hands or road labor as long as this condition prevails in the mining industry as the miners will fill all vacancies available, says the report."

As a result of conditions in East St. Louis which are similar to those of other centers in the north the City Council has passed a resolution and placed it in the hands of officials throughout the southern states in an effort to check the rush of labor to those centers where there is no demand for them.

 The resolution adopted by the council is as follows:

WHEREAS, It is reported that in the Southern States, especially in the large negro settlements, that statements have been made and circulated to the effect that there is a demand for labor in the North, at high wages, and in some cases, inducements of different kinds have been presented to the negro population, which has caused a large immigration of negroes from the South to the North; and

WHEREAS, The City of East St. Louis has and is receiving many of these negroes, and a large number of laborers are now out of employment and appealing for work, with no demand for labor of any kind in this vicinity; and,

WHEREAS, If the exodus of the negro population of the South continues it will cause great suffering and want during the remainder of this year especially during the winter months; therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST ST. LOUIS:

THAT, efforts be made to advise the people of the South the true conditions exist in reference to labor demands, and use consistent efforts to offset and prevent any further misrepresentations that induce the negroes to seek the North for employment.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be printed and distributed throughout the Southern States to advise and offset the former misrepresentations that have been made to its people that has caused the large exodus of negroes.

A physician says that most of the world's work is done by morons. We did not realize before that they were such useful members of society.

S "Wear gaudy clothes, be aggressive and watch your man" is advice given workin girls by a woman. The effectiveness of the plan has been proved by observation doubtless.

After a wedding in New York we are told that "a resolution followed at the home of the bride's parents." Doubtless a resolution on the part of the bride to be the boss.

"Ruralist" is eyeing a place beside "Realtor" says the Boston Herald. "Mortician" has already got it. The poor old English language like Cardinal Wolsey, has been left naked to its enemies.

The ether, we are told, is 689,321,600,000 times more elastic than air in proportion to its density. It is well to be accurate. Suppose the scientists in their haste had dropped the last three zeros.

Argument Ends In Knife Battle Two in Hospital

Asheville, July 30.—Clarence Coleman and Reuben Whitson are in a local hospital suffering from wounds they received from each other when they got into a argument which ended in a knife battle. Both of the men, physicians said, had numerous cuts about them and had lost a great deal of blood, which made them very weak. While their condition was said to be not serious now, it was pointed out that complications were likely to set in. The cause of the argument is still undetermined by the police, they said. Both the men are under arrest with charges docketed against them of assault with deadly weapon and intent to kill.

"My Children just Love Liv-o-lax"

"For some time, I have been giving the children Liv-o-lax for the condition which I used to think called for calomel and castor oil," said a Charlotte mother.

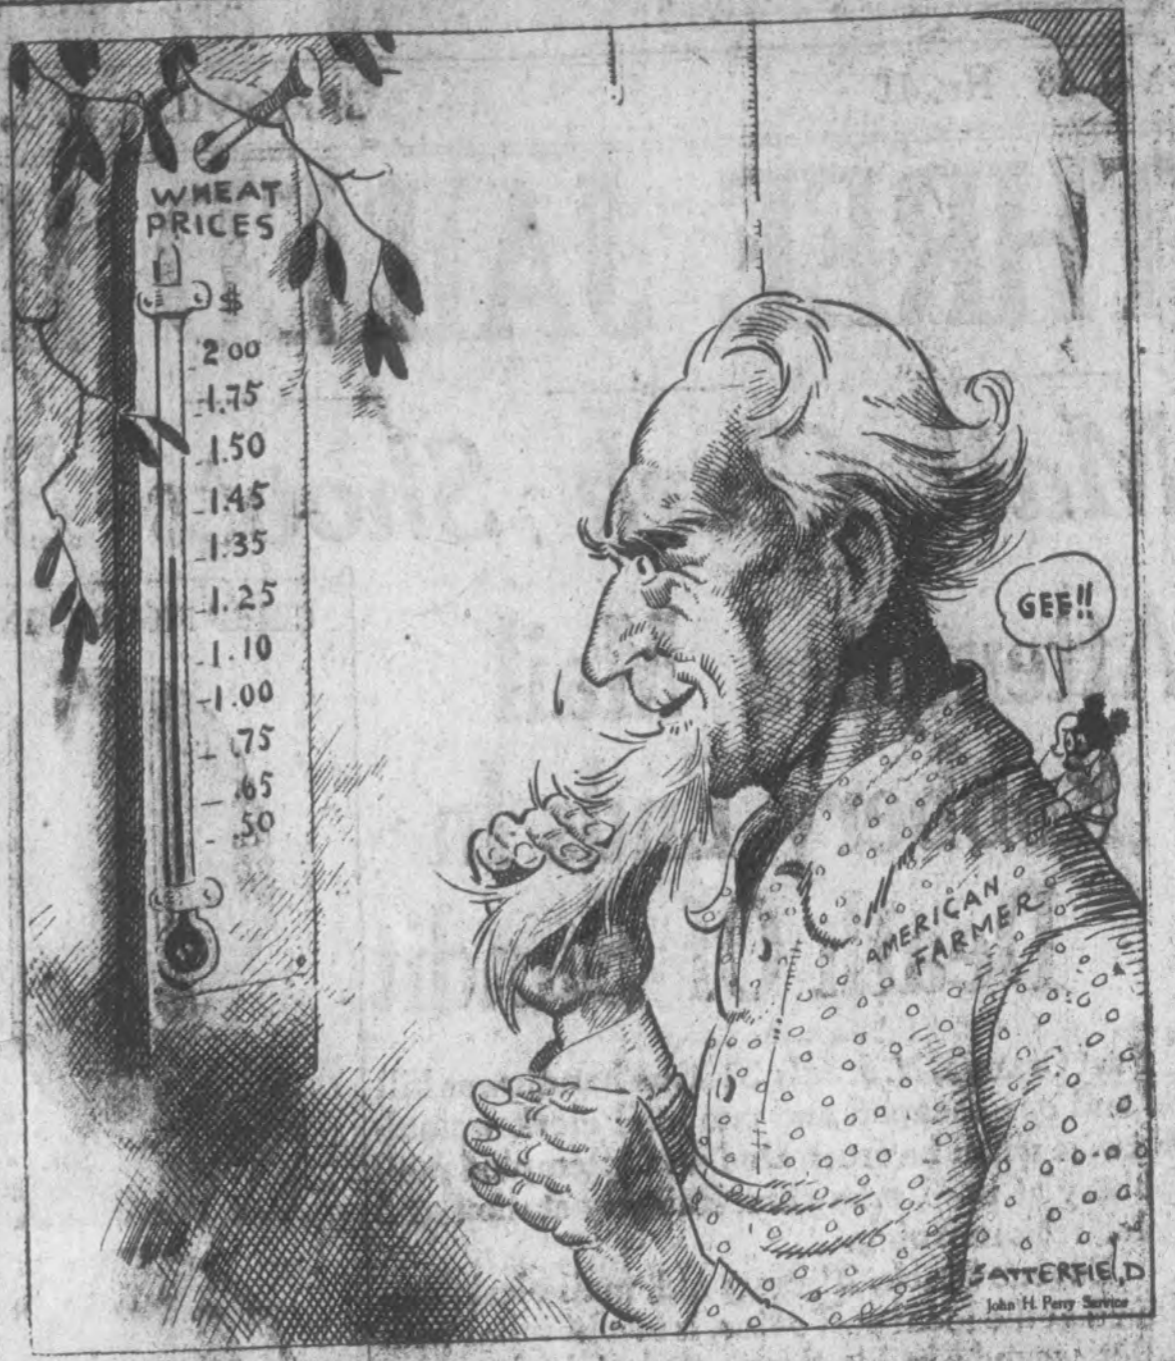

"I think there is nothing more terrible than to have to give children those awful doses, which I wouldn't think of taking myself.

"Dr. Hand told me, in his drug store, how he worked up the formula of Liv-o-lax, just to do away with this unpleasant necessity, how Liv-o-lax, though a pleasant-tasting liquid remedy, acts on the liver in just the way required. Since I gave it one trial, I have been happy to have it in house, because the children just love to take it."

"And Liv-o-lax is an all-round family laxative. It is just as good for the grown-ups as it is for the children. Get Liv-o-lax at your drug store—30c. Just one trial will convince."

DIRECTS INDICTMENT OF COMMISSIONERS

Winston-Salem, July 30.—After receiving the report of the Superior court grand jury here yesterday Judge McElroy, presiding over the term, created quite a stir when he took judicial notice of that section referring to the inadequacy of the county courthouses, and suggested that steps be taken by the commissioners to secure a new building. He inquired if the attention of the commissioners had been previously called to the condition in the county as to courthouse facilities. Upon being informed that the request for a new building had been repeatedly made by the grand juries for years past Judge McElroy took the matter in hand.

Addressing Solicitor Graves, he directed the solicitor to draw a bill of indictment against the board of county commissioners of Forsyth, for failure to comply with this repeated request on the part of the county's highest official body for an adequate courthouse, the matter to be heard at the next term of Forsyth criminal court.

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, July 31.—Further liquidation carried market to a lower level this morning, but as insufficient rain occurred in the Western half of the belt over night, especially in Texas, values recovered later in the session. Cooler weather prevails in the Southwest and private reports were received of scattered rains, mostly light in Oklahoma and portions of Northwest and North Texas.

The New Orleans weather bureau predicts scattered thundershowers over the greater portion of this district (the western half of the belt) tonight and Friday, and cooler over the Northern portion of the district tonight. Three private crop condition reports were issued in New York this morning, one placing the average condition of the crop at 67.3 the other made condition 69, indicating a yield of 12,250,000 bales while the third averaged the condition at 69.1, pointing to a crop of 12,051,000 bales.

With expiration of today, the crop season of 1923-24 will come to a close and the new season 1924-25 will begin tomorrow.

TOBACCO CONCERN
REVIEWS OLD PROCESS FOR SMOKING TOBACCO

Although present day pipe smokers do not realize it, they owe an everlasting debt of gratitude to an old-time tobacco man—John Wellman by name—for giving them one of the sweetest coolest tobaccos that ever packed a pipe.

The story of Wellman and his famous tobacco secret is being told to the public for the first time in a series of nique advertisements now being published by the Liggett & Meyers Tobacco Co., to acquaint the smokers with their ever-popular Granger Rough Cut. The story of Granger is this:

It seems that several generations ago (about 1870, to be exact) John Wellman led the field with a secret method of preparing pipe tobacco—to the envy and despair of all rivals. They wondered for years how he did it, but never seemed able to solve the riddle. In spite of all their efforts, imitators never even approximated Wellman's perfection, so closely was the process guarded. Smokers, however, never stopped to envy but just smoked and liked and kept on liking the tobacco.

John Wellman, of course, long since passed on—and his famous secret would have passed on with him, had it not been Liggett & Meyers' good fortune to acquire exclusive rights to his prize method and make possible its being handed on to a new generation.

And so it is that through Granger Rough Cut this old-time tobacco secret has virtually been "re-discovered"—revived by Liggett & Meyers and offered more widely to the public after a three-year period of quiet "try-out" among the shrewd judge's of tobacco in which a quarter million smokers in 32 states have rendered their verdict of approval.

Smokers have quickly discovered that Granger is a truly "different" tobacco. It differs from most tobaccos in that it is a special "cut" for pipes. Instead of being granulated, or cut fine so it can serve two purposes—both pipe-smoking and cigarette-rolling—Granger is cut more coarsely for pipes only—hence its name, Rough Cut.

This results in a marked improvement in its burning qualities—for the Rough Cut burns more slowly than the granulated. Naturally, this means that it smokes cooler, and also that each pipe-load lasts longer. Pipe experts insist that the Rough Cut is highly important; no "two-purpose" tobacco, they say, can make as good a pipe-smoke as a tobacco cut for pipes alone.

Smokers all say it's too good to be true—but the first pipe-load invariably wins them every one.

FEW IRISH JUDGES ABLE TO UNDERSTAND GAELIC

Dublin, July 31.—A recent attempt to compel railway companies in the Free State to print their announcements and tickets in the Irish languages only, or in both Irish and English, was vigorously opposed by Senator W. B. Yeats, the poet, who in the course of his address revealed that he had tried to learn Irish and failed, as he had always failed to learn any other language than English.

A strong feeling has manifested itself in favor of making this country bilingual. Irish is compulsory in the schools, and in the Law Courts it ranks equally with English. It is but rarely employed, however, and when it is causes some embarrassment to judges and counsel, most of whom are ignorant of it. Occasionally an attorney puts in an affidavit in Irish only, and the Court permits an adjournment until counsel have succeeded in obtaining a translation.
