DEFENSE WINS FIRST VICTORY CHICAGO TRIAL

Efforts by State Attorney to Keep Out Testimony as to Mental Condition of Youths Overruled by Judge Caverly

Chicago, Aug. 1.—The kidnapping and murder of Robert Franks was planned as an intellectual feat on the part of Richard Loeb, according to testimony given today in the hearing which is to decide the punishment of him and Nathan Leopold, Jr., for that crime.

This revelation of Loeb's motives came at the end of the morning session from Dr. William A. White, first witness for the defense, whose testimony was started after Judge Caverly had definitely overruled objections by the state directed against all evidence as to the mentality of the defendants. This ruling disposed of a question which has been argued for two days and which attorneys agree constitutes a precedent in Illinois for receiving evidence in mitigation of punishment.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Judge John R. Caverly today overruled the objection by the state to alienists' testimony offered in mitigation as to punishment by attorneys for Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb. "I was in doubt as I listened to Mr. Darrow, whether he realized he was in a court room and not arguing before a legislature," said State Attorney Crowe.

"And Mr. Bachrach" continued the prosecutor, "would bar the state attorneys from the court room and make this not a trial but an experiment."

"The defense would have us say these boys who had entered day after day at representatives of the law, have not blood on their hands, but jam."

The result which came after more than two court days of argument was a decided victory for the defense as it established the right to give testimony on mental disease short of legal insanity, not as a defense but in mitigation as to punishment.

The decision was momentous in legal analysis of this state as no exactly similar situation could be found, by attorneys on either side, in the Illinois records.

The field opened in today's findings was more extensive than ever which bordered upon it. "It is the court's duty to hear this evidence," said Judge Caverly. "It is not its duty to reject it before it has had an opportunity to hear it. The objection by the state is overruled."

Immediately Dr. William White, alienist, of Washington, D. C., took the stand and stated his professional connections, the state at which his testimony was interrupted Wednesday morning.

Mr. Crowe said the defense had pictured Leopold and Loeb not as intellectuals, while in their self imposed superiority had rejected God, but as innocent babes who still believed in Santa Claus.

"Mr. Darrow chided me because I sentenced a confessed criminal to death when I was on the bench," said Crowe, "but I was following the law."

Early in Dr. White's testimony, Crowe blocked efforts to bring in speculative opinions as to the influence of home environments. Judge Caverly ruled that the witness should answer only what he had learned of the defendants, but he allowed him statements of relative importance to such conditions.

"They are highly important," Dr. White said.

Negroes Make An Attempt To Break Jail During Week

James Merritt James Tucker, and Theodore Greene, negroes, who are confined in the Pitt County jail were terribly disappointed one night this week when after working untiringly with hack saws in an attempt to be "free negroes," they were stopped in their "onward march" by Deputy Sheriff Whitehurst.

According to statements made by the negroes, they were doing the work which had been planned by Ernest Allen, white man, who is being held in jail, charged with being a member of the gang which robbed Cotten's store several weeks ago. Mr. Whitehurst was informed by the negroes that Allen in some mysterious way had received ten hack saws and had passed them to the negroes with the instructions that they cut a hole in the back wall. They further declared that he told them to go slowly and not make much noise.

When discovered one place about 14 inches and another 8 inches had been sawed. The hole when completed would have been large enough for a man to crawl through. Officer Whitehurst hearing a strange noise and seeing a light began investigating affairs and arrived in time to prevent a wholesale jail delivery.

SEARCHING SLAYERS CONTINUES TODAY

Sheriff and Possee Still Hunt Alleged Slayers Of Wilmington Officers.

Wilmington, July 31.—Sheriff George C. Jackson, of New Hanover county, announced tonight that he had located a witness who saw C. W. Stuart, sought in connection with the killing of Officer Leon George and Deputy United States Marshall Sam Lilly, and Elmer Etauar, his son, now held for the killing, emerge from the woods near the scene of the crime within a short time after the officers had been ambushed and killed Tuesday night.

Other witnesses have already informed the Sheriff and police authorities of seeing the two Stuarts enter the woods shortly before dusk on the day of the murder.

Search for the older Stuart continued throughout today and tonight in Brunswick county and in Wilmington. A posse of 75 men, headed by Sheriff Jackson and Chief of Police Lane scoured the woods and swamps of Brunswick until a late hour tonight, but without finding a trace of the fugitive. They did discover, however, the distilling outfit, at which the younger Stuart told officers at time of his arrest he had spent the night of the murder.

Tonight city police raided the home of Mrs. Rufus Squires, daughter of Stuart, in this city, acting on information that the quarry was in hiding there. The raid, however, proved futile.

Linwood Tyndall arrested here last night as an accessory to the murder, was removed from the city jail today and transferred to the county stockade.

Announcement of a reward of $400 by the State for the apprehension of the slayers today increased the total rewards to $1,800.

CONFERENCE MAY REACH AGREEMENT DURING TOMORROW

French Spokesmen Say Only Danger Now is German Attitude Toward Conference Plan

London, Aug. 1.—Experts of the Inter-Allied reparations conference indicated early this afternoon that they expected to settle all outstanding problems that the conference left for their solution before the afternoon is over.

The problem of transfer allotted to the transfer committee under the Dawes plan is still causing some trouble. If the experts are unable to overcome the difficulties on this point this afternoon the issue will be referred to the delegates.

Owen D. Young of the Dawes committee, who has maintained an attitude of restrained hopefulness ever since Premier Herriot's plan was introduced, was enthusiastic when he left the foreign office.

"We will finish this afternoon," he said.

Paris, Aug. 1.—An Inter-Allied agreement at the London conference will be reached not later than tomorrow from England. They consider the only dangerous point in the question of Germany's attitude when finally brought into the conference. It would be to Germany's interest to show herself as conciliatory. Therefore they are hoping for the best.

The defendant, several years ago, served twelve months on the County roads for selling whiskey.

He will be given a hearing in next Monday's session of court.

Rev. V. P. Scoville Conducting Splendid Services in Clayton

Many Greenville people have expressed interest in the revival services which are being held in Clayton by the Rev. V. P. Scoville and Mr. John Clark of this city. The following item from the Clayton News, tells of the wonderful success of the meeting and will be read with interest:

"The revival meeting which began at the Methodist Church last Sunday gives promise of being a most successful meeting. Rev. V. P. Scoville, of Greenville, who is doing the preaching, opened the meeting Sunday night with an unusually strong and appropriate sermon for the beginning of the series, and for the first service there was a large attendance. Mr. Scoville is a speaker, a good preacher, and he is putting all the power of a strong personality into his sermons.

At the Sunday night's service, Dr. Scoville, introduced to the congregation two young men who have recently given their lives to Christ and who will work in the interest of the meeting here for a while. The first was Mr. James Eason, who two years ago was converted in a meeting at Greenville under the preaching of Mr. Scoville, and who has since been fitting himself for the ministry. The other, Mr. John Clark, of Greenville, who was converted in the Ham-Ramsay meeting there about two months ago, and who has since been doing evangelistic work during the time he could spare from his business. Mr. Clark is one of the leading figures in the men's federated prayer meetings work at Greenville, and through his efforts scores of men have been brought into the kingdom. These two young men are here to attend the meeting on their own initiative and they will work for its success while here.

How long the meeting will last, has not been announced, but it will probably continue through this week and next. Services are being held at 8 o'clock in the morning, 4 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock in the evening. Everybody is invited to attend and it is hoped that all will avail themselves of this wonderful opportunity to obtain spiritual uplift and inspiration."

DAVIS WILL WAGE A VIGOROUS BUT SHORT CAMPAIGN

Nominee Reaffirms His Position Regarding Useless Civilian Mobilization Program.

New York, Aug. 1.—A comparative short but vigorous campaign is the plan now of John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, as disclosed today by his manager, Clem L. Shaver.

In line with the program Davis will return to his home at Locust Valley, Long Island, after the formal notification ceremony, for a stay of some time before actively taking the stump.

Mr. Davis today accepted an invitation to attend the annual Dutchess County Democratic Picnic near Hyde Park, N. Y., next Thursday.

Thomas J. Spellacy, newly elected manager for the eastern district, arrived today and immediately went into conference with Shaver.

New York, Aug. 1.—His calendar clear of engagements, John W. Davis was unable to devote much of his time today to perfection of his address accepting the Democratic presidential nomination and to plan for his campaign. The program called for further discussions with his managers, Clem L. Shaver, who is to have complete charge of carrying out the campaign details while Mr. Davis is presenting himself and his cause to the country.

One of the principle problems of the organization, the selection of a national treasurer and finance committee remained to be disposed of but the nominee's field general hoped to have this and other important items of organization out of the way before the official notification ceremony at Clarksburg ten days hence.

Amplifying his formal statement issued after his return to New York yesterday in which he endorsed the position of his running mate, Governor Charles W. Bryan, of Nebraska, regarding the administration's plan for "National Defense Day" on September 12, Mr. Davis said informally last night that he believed in military preparation. Between this and the civilian mobilization to which Governor Bryan has voiced objection, Mr. Davis drew a sharp distinction. He declared opposition to an encouragement of a demonstration at a time when he said every effort should be made to get the world back to peace and to work.

Following immediately upon the close of the annual meeting of the Friends of North Carolina, the annual conference of the Young Friends of North Carolina will start its session to be continued through August 14. A special program has been arranged, it was announced, and Will Raegan, principal of Oakwood Seminary of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., will be director of the recreational activities. This will be Mr. Raegan's second connection with the annual conference of the Young Friends of North Carolina, he having been here two years ago in the same capacity as that which he will occupy this year.

ENJOY THE OUTING

Life becomes more rosy for everybody as column after column in the newspapers announces a camp for this group, an outing for that group, a picnic for store employes, an excursion for plant workmen, all in the name of healthful outdoor relaxation.

This hiking to the open has become a great national custom. And it is not all sentiment. Foreman and employes have learned the psychology of turning their workers loose on the picnic grounds for even half a day's outing. Clerks are enspirited by the very announcement of such pleasure and anticipation of the event keep them on their toes while at work. Even after the great day ends and the prospect of the work day dawns, there is a new kind of enthusiasm for the job at hand.

The misfortune in America is that this highly desirable break-away from the job occurs only during the summer. Other seasons of the year make such interruptions in the work just as desirable. The Saturday half-holiday runs through the year in many establishments. If Americans could spend more time in the open, they would be the better for it. They are spending much more than they once did, but they can spend still more without indulging in excesses.

WHAT'S WHAT COUNTS.

In the list of what may be called the chief characteristics of our present era may be found the assertion that this is an age when "nobody has any time." On this point practically all the observers and critics of our social order are agreed.

They draw their proof for this assertion from the ever-increasing speed of our means of transportation. A half hour reduction in the time it takes to go from Chicago to New York; a mile added to the record of the number per hour in airplane travel; a half hour gained in a trans-Atlantic trip—these are events that our hurrying age greets with joy. We have no time to delay.

Thus runs the lament of the critics. But is it indeed a matter of such grave concern? True, there was a time when men had more leisure than they take to themselves today, but we have yet to learn that in those days men had a greater abundance either in social progress or human happiness than we have today.

We can't deny that we are in a hurry, but as compared to more leisurely periods in history it isn't to be denied that we get things done. And after all that's what counts.

THE OLDEST INHABITANT

It might be worth while if those persons who are always looking for the "oldest man or woman living" were to give a little thought as to what it means when they find such an individual.

Nearly an object of interest the oldest inhabitant deserves no more comment than the tallest man, the stingiest woman or the most mischievous boy. These are traits or characteristics which bring little credit to him or to the community.

It is fullness of life we want; not mere length. Fortunate in deed is he whose years cover a long span of life; but more fortunate still is he who can make these years count for something in service to his fellowmen. We do not begrudge the oldest inhabitant the years he has accumulated. But the individuals who seek to inlist our interest in him could more easily get it, if we could feel that they were not unmindful of the words of the poet: "We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths; In feelings, not in figures on a dial"

A conservative is one who has his.

The greatest problem-man has is man.

When a man sits down to wait for his ship to come in, it usually turns out to be a receivership.

When one of the old boys gets the flapper craze, it seems peculiarly fitting to call him a sexagenarian.

Still, it won't help much if beer comes back fifty years or so after everybody has lost the taste for it.

Fortunes to win beauty

By Edna Wallace Hopper
My mother was rich and ambitious. From my earliest years she urged me to enhance my beauty. She gave me her methods and formulas. Then she took me in a world-search for the newest beauty helps.

Most people know the results. I became a famous beauty, and for many years I remained the rare. And now after 40 years in the limelight, I still play a beauty's part. I still look a girl of 19.

Since then I have made many trips to France. I have consulted noted experts and famous beauties everywhere. I have spent fortunes to find all the latest discoveries. So I believe that I now have the greatest beauty helps in existence. And certainly my results seem to prove that.

I have been induced to place these helps at every woman's call. Drug-gists and toilet counters everywhere supply the—the very helps I used. Thus every woman may obtain for a trifle the helps that cost me fortunes.

One is a liquid cleanser which I call my Facial Youth. Lucie Lanteime, the famous Parisian beauty, first told me what it did. Now leading beauty experts the world over are advising this great formula.

It contains no animal nor vegetable fat. It cannot accumulate in any way with the skin. So it cleans to the depths, then departs. All the grime, dead skin and clogging matter come out with it. A woman never knows what a clean skin means until she tries this Facial Youth.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Facial Youth sells everywhere for 75 cents. Beauty experts charge up to $5. for the same effects.

I shall be glad to send you a small bottle free if you mail this coupon. It will bring you new conceptions of what a clean skin means. My Beauty Book comes with it. Cut out the coupon now.

"GRIT" IS A STRONG STORY OF CANGLAND

F. Scott Fitzgerald who writes so cleverly about flappers and philosophers has tried his hand at a movie story with the very best of results. In "Grit," the Hodgkinson picture now playing at White's theatre, he has blended a corking good crook-story and an appealing romance of young love. It is reported that Mr. Fitzgerald wrote "Grit" especially for Glenn Hunter and it surely seems that this must be so for the part is ideally suited to Mr. Hunter's aptitude for faithfully portraying youth. The story is about "Kid Hart," son of a gangster, who is brought up by the gang to be "the lockpicker of the East Side." The "Kid" has inherited a fear of guns, and Smith, leader of the gang, takes advantage of this to force the "Kid" to do his bidding. In his love for Orchid McGonigle, who is not afraid to leave the gang and "go straight," that finally makes the "K" find his better self.

Department Heads State Fair Chosen

Raleigh, July 31.—Organizations of the Departments for the State Fair to be held October 13 to 17 has been completed, and it is expected that the premium lists will be ready for distribution within a few days. The department head for the most part are experts from the State College staff, and the majority of them have served in their present position in previous years, so that the management starts out this year with a trained staff in every respect, it was announced.

The school was founded by Amos Kendall, a distinguished statesman of his time, who in 1856 donated a house and three acres of land from his estate in northeast Washington, and employed Edward Miner Gallie, of Hartford, Conn., principal. A year later an act of incorporation of the school was obtained from Congress through the efforts of Mr. Kendall and his friends, and from the beginning it was provided that the government give financial assistance to the school.

President Lincoln on April 3, 1864 signed an act giving the school the power to grant collegiate degrees. Since then some 1,400 students have been enrolled, and more than 400 have received bachelor's degrees. The college department first was open only to young men, but since 1887 young women also have been admitted. The course is fixed at five years, the first a preparatory year required to finish the preparation of students entering from the schools for the deaf throughout the country. Admission to the college is by examination and, as a rule, some 30 states are annually represented in the student body.

The young men maintain baseball, football and basketball teams, using hard signals, and are conspicuous figures in athletics throughout the middle Atlantic section. The college also has wrestling, tennis and track aggregations.

Many of Galluley's graduates have become teachers of the deaf throughout the country, some even establishing schools in the southern and western states.

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, Aug. 1.—The market was higher this morning owing to the continuance of the drought in Texas, but the advance was followed by a sharp decline, due to bearish construction placed on Secretary Hester's consumption and carry-over figures and because of larger crop ideas, the drought in Texas notwithstanding, Secretary Hester's figures commercial crop, bales, American cotton 11,290,397 vs. 11,282,906, world's consumption of American cotton 11,242,000 vs. 12,631,000; world's carry over, American cotton July 31, 2,319,000 vs. 2,573,000.

Returns to a prominent local commission house averaged the condition of cotton at +9.3, indicating a yield of 12,700,000 bales exclusive of linters, and returns of Clement, Curtis and Co., Chicago, averaged the condition of the plant at 66, pointing to a crop of 12,094,000 bales exclusive of linters.

The Commercial crop of last season was larger than generally expected, the world's consumption was smaller than looked for and the world's carry over was larger than generally looked for.

In event of the Government report, due August 8, indicating a production of 12,000,000 bales exclusive of linters, which would mean about 12,750,000 bales including linters, the trade is beginning to realize that present prices may be too high, especially for this time of the year. At any rate it is thought that further advance of importance may be hard to sustain since ginnings of the new crop will increase from day to day in the future.

Washington reports some evidence of a tropical disturbance over the Northwest portion of the Caribbean sea. If the disturbance is not of much intensity, and if it works into the gulf of Mexico, it would likely bring rain to the cotton region perhaps to Texas if it made its way inland via the West Gulf coast.

Efforts Being Made For The Raising Of Purebred Live Stock

Asheville, Aug. 1.—The Farmers' Federation of North Carolina and the Farm Extensive Service of Buncombe county are making efforts to have counties of Western Carolina take particular interest in the raising of purebred livestock instead of the common run of livestock. This action of the Federation, it was explained, is no new step but only a step taken to emphasize the plans and to keep them before the farmers of this section until real success had been accomplished. For the past three years the Farmers' Federation has encouraged the raising of livestock of the purebred grade. It was explained that the first sale of purebred stock was conducted at the Fairview by the Federation in 1921 and that since that time fair progress has been made in the production of such stock as was indicated last year by the greatly increased sale of purebred stock in this section. The officials expressed the opinion that the sale this year would show that good results of the plan that is being fostered by their organization.

James K. McClure, Jr., president of the organization stated that the success of the South in the near future depended greatly upon its achievements in the production of livestock.

Public Urged to Give True Value to Real News of Today

Madison, Wis., July 31.—Development and cultivation of a newspaper reading public which will recognize news as more important than the society column, the sporting page and the funny strip, is one of the main duties of the future newspaper, in the opinion of Prof. W. G. Bleyer, director of journalism at the University of Wisconsin.

Newspapers should be read and taught in the public schools of the nation, and the youth instructed in reading news and determining what is best to read, Prof. Bleyer said.

"Democratic government depends upon public opinion and public opinion, as we know it today, is mainly taken from the newspapers," Mr. Bleyer stated. "If the purpose of education is to train the youth of the nation in citizenship, the studies of the newspaper should have a prominent part in our public schools. "Newspaper reading today is not taken as a serious part of the individual's daily life. On the whole, the individual devotes at least thirty minutes a day to the newspaper.

This is the weakness of our modern democracy. We do not digest the facts, we swallow them too hurriedly.

"The aim of the newspapers and journalism schools should be to train a new generation of newspaper readers to whom news, real news, is of more importance than the society column, the sporting page, or the funny strip. The news should be read first, leaving these other features as desert. The news is the solid food. We need to cultivate news taste and discrimination in the public.

"The public should be taught to think of the news as a part of history, of current events that are making history. The newspapers can influence public opinion and through that influence, even the economic forces of the nation can be moulded.

They can be the organs of an enlightenment and make for more idealism and community betterment.

"Less emphasis should be put on the sporting page. An interest in sports is healthful and normal, but we overstress it these days. Professional sports are not a good stimulant for the mind."

Malaria Ravages Siberia.

Krasnoyarsk, Siberia, July 31.—More than 8000 persons have been stricken with malaria which has been spreading alarmingly throughout Siberia especially in the Yenish district. Emergency medical stations have been established in the worst affected areas, but the presence of large bodies of stagnant water and marshes has made the relief work difficult.

Greater Capacity, Easier Starting and Longer Life at a Lower Price

Buying a Ford Battery is just as sound business judgment as the purchase of the car for which this battery was designed and built. It is standard equipment on all new Ford cars.

The Ford Battery has 13 plates instead of the usual 11. This gives greater capacity. And as starting ability is entirely dependent on capacity, naturally it will turn your car over faster and for a longer time. The life of a battery is measured by both its capacity and starting ability, deterioration being most rapid in batteries of low capacity which are in discharged state a greater part of the time.

You can buy the Ford Battery with confidence. It is backed by the reputation of the Ford Motor Company and service facilities of over 9000 dealers.

Over 5,000,000 Ford Batteries in Use

We have established in connection with our Ford Business, an up-to-date Battery Service Station.
