Legislature Is Rushing Session Toward A Close

Child Labor Amendment May Be Deferred Until Regular Session; Speaker Urges All Committees to Report Bills by Tomorrow

Raleigh, Aug. 21.—A joint resolution providing for deferment to the next regular session of the North Carolina General Assembly, consideration on the proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution regarding child labor, was introduced in the upper branch of the legislature today by Senator Harris, of Wake county. It was sent to a committee and will be reported tonight. The resolution states that the limited time of the special session will not permit proper consideration to be given to the proposed amendment. A ten minutes recess was taken to permit Assistant Attorney General Frank Nash to examine the journal. Upon motion of Senator Heath, of Union county, the proposed amendment regarding the regulation of child labor will be placed before the Senate by the Judiciary committee tonight.

The House of Representatives today unanimously tabled an administration resolution providing for the sale of the State Prison Farm on the outskirts of Raleigh. The resolution introduced at the request of Governor Morrison and directors of the prison provides for a price of not less than $400,000.

The Senate today concurred in the House amendment to the port commission bill fixing the salaries of members of the commission at $10 per day. A bill fixing the salary of the State Insurance Commissioner at $5,500 was tabled this morning on motion of Senator Lattimore of Cleveland county.

The House today killed a bill that would have made it a misdemeanor to fail to use dimmers on the highways and in cities throughout the state. Representatives Vaughan, of Warren county, and Person, of Charlotte, led the discussion against the measure the former asserting that it was often dangerous to use lights that were too dim. He stated that it was difficult to see wagons or parked cars ahead with the lights dimmed and that drivers were liable to run into ditches. He said that he was informed that in two states it was illegal to use dimmers.

Speaker Dawson today warned all committees to report all bills in their possession not later than tomorrow morning if they hoped to have them passed. It had been hoped that the night session tonight could be dispensed within order to aid the enrolling department to catch up but the highway department office building bill could not be brought up at the morning session and adjournment was taken until 8:30 tonight.

HERRIOT DELIVERS ALLIED CONFERENCE REPORT TO CHAMBER

Premier is Cheered By Supporters and Boomed By Opposition as He Faced Body to Deliver Report

Paris, Aug. 21.—Premier Herriot put the Dawes reparations plan and the London agreement for making it effective before the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon and told the members: "I for my part have chosen but nothing final has been done and parliament in its turn can choose." Evacuation of the Ruhr, the premier said, had dominated everything at the international conference and he had had to choose between restoration of the interrelated entente or the continuance of isolated action. Herriot emphasized that arbitration was the great principle established at the London conference and asserted that France would gain by it if it would need a great deal of optimism to believe that France in the future could again get the majority vote which enabled her to enter the Ruhr.

The premier was enthusiastically acclaimed by his supporters and booed by Communists and deputies of the Extreme Right for five minutes when he faced the Chamber of Deputies shortly after five o'clock to begin the reading of his hour long declaration of the result of the achievements of the conference.

Wouldn't Cut Hair, So Friends 'Perform Operation' for Him

Whiteville, Aug. 21.—Andrew Carteret, 55, a resident of the eastern part of this town, who has for years worn his grey hair in locks hanging down his back, came to town Saturday and expressed his disgust at the action of the three men, who, he claims, castrated him at night carried him into the woods and cut his much admired locks from his head.

Mr. Carteret has steadfastly refused to have his hair cut, giving as his reason that, like Sampson, there is lay the secret of his strength.

When he appeared on the streets of Whiteville Saturday, few people recognized him, it was said, as he had previously been such a distinct character. He asserted that it took the three men to do the job, of giving him a hair cut against his will.

COLUMBIA TO HONOR BRYAN HURT WHEN MEMORY OLD NEGRO AUTO OVERTURNS

Entire City Suspends Operations During the Funeral Services of Negro Missionary to Poor

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 21.—For a thirty minutes period Columbia, the capital city of South Carolina, will pause this afternoon to honor the memory of a negro. "Uncle Jagers" 93 years old negro missionary to the poor is to be buried and there will be suspension of all business during the ceremony by proclamation of Major W. A. Coleman.

"Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus" will be the text of addresses which will be delivered this afternoon by the two officiating ministers, one a negro the other white.

"Uncle Jagers" died Monday night aged 93 years. He was born a slave on the plantation of Lemuel Estes in Chester county, South Carolina, on March 15, 1831, and at the age of 14 began to preach the gospel "from the fence corners," as he termed it. He was ordained when 18 and preached steadily up to a few weeks ago, when shortly after the death of his wife his health failed and he was taken to a hospital.

The old negro had established a mission for his folk and it was his routine to visit the chain-gangs and preach in the open air to the prisoners. A charity to which he devoted the latter years of his life was an "Old Folks Home" for negroes. From donations by his white friends, "Uncle Jagers" had bought and equipped a home which houses over a score of old negroes, and at his death it was free from debt. His services, he said, were donated "to God" and at the end of each year he took for himself as salary one cent.

"Uncle Jagers" has been the recipient of gifts and letters from some of the most prominent men of this country. He was recently interviewed and written up in a magazine of national circulation.

Italian Aviator is Accompanying American Around-the-World Fliers Across the Atlantic

Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 21.—The American Army around the world fliers and Lieutenant Locatelli, Italian aviator, hopped off from here at 8:15 this morning.

The fliers passed the cruiser Richmond, on patrol 70 miles off the coast of Iceland at 9:35 o'clock. Lieutenant Locatelli was leading his American companions, Lieutenants Lowell H. Smith and Erik Nelson, by five miles. The weather conditions were beautiful and flying conditions excellent when the aviators set out for Greenland.

Lieutenant Smith's plane lifted from the water a few minutes after 8 o'clock and Lieutenant Nelson rose two minutes later. Lieutenant Locatelli who caught up with the Americans here in order to accompany them across the Atlantic after his lone flight from Pisa, Italy, got off eleven minutes after Lieutenant Nelson. All the take offs were made easily none of the fliers having the slightest difficulty in getting from the water.

Lieutenant Smith, commander of the flight, had been up all night recording weather conditions and working out plans for coping with the weather and mechanical conditions which he and Lieutenant Nelson might encounter during the long and hazardous jump to the shores of Greenland—the fliers are heading for Frederiksdaal, near Cape Farewell, the southern tip of Greenland, a hop of approximately 825 miles.

AGED MAN SHOOTS PRISONER THROUGH WINDOW OF JAIL

Grandfather of Victim of Alleged Attack Shoots Man on Day Set for Hearing of Case in Court

Elizabeth City, Aug. 21.—Joe Swindell, held in Pasquotank county jail charged with improper conduct toward a girl, was shot and perhaps fatally injured at the jail this morning by the grandfather of the girl. Swindell was removed to a local hospital.

The aged man surrendered to the sheriff and was identified as J. D. Farrior, of Wilson.

Farrior is said to have approached the prison and called Swindell to the cellar window. When the prisoner appeared Farrior drew his pistol and fired point blank at him the bullet piercing his right lung.

"You can shoot me now," Farrior is said to have told the sheriff. "I have been almost crazy since it happened. I have been planning to snoot Swindell for days."

Farrior talked freely about the case, stating that since no one else had shot Swindell he had decided to do it himself. He said the girl alleged to have been attacked by Swindell was the 13 years' old daughter of his only child.

Swindell was arraigned in June, charged with attacking the girl. The grand jury, however, indicted him for a lesser offense. His trial had been set for today. At the hospital where Swindell was carried immediately following the shooting it was stated that his recovery was very doubtful.

Farrior, who is said to be a wealthy retired manufacturer, was released under $15,000 bond, signed by a number of Elizabeth City business men. He is charged with felonious shooting with intent to kill.

PEACE FOUND WORLD BROTHERHOOD DECLARES W W HEAD

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 20.—The Father and Son Movement, developed in America where it has become a recognized institution, is spreading over the whole world. This was indicated today in a speech by Walter W. Head of Omaha, chairman of the National Father and Son Committee of the United States and also president of the American Bankers' Association, before the World's Committee of the Y. M. C. A. "More than 20 nations," he said, "observe Father and on Week. In the United States alone upwards of 3,000,000 of fathers and sons joined in events during the past year."

The Father and Son Movement originated at a Y. M. C. A. banquet of fathers and sons at Providence, R. I., in 1907, Mr. Head stated. He said further:

"In the fundamental principles of world brotherhood are recognized and accepted by the peoples of the world, can we ever hope for world peace. The men who are to direct the destiny of the nations of the world during the next generation are now the young lads who are in our homes today. What greater privilege has a man than to give of himself as a companion, teacher, advisor, and as an inspiration to his son, who tomorrow steps into responsibilities the significance of which we cannot conceive."

"Every man, whether or not he bears the physical relation of father and son, should give serious consideration to his own life, the ideals for which he stands, that his example will always prove to be an inspiration to the boy life of today in encouraging the spirit of world brotherhood."

"In the United States we believe most appropriate to observe National Father and Son Week at that period of the year when Armistice Day comes. This has proven to be an opportune time not only to pay honor and respect to the millions of fathers and sons who gave their lives for the ideal of world brotherhood, but a time for the fathers and sons who survive to re-consecrate themselves to life for that same great objective, world brotherhood, world peace. We are, therefore, planning for the observance this year to come during the week of November 9-16."

The World's Committee of the Y. M. C. A. is planning to cooperate in making the Father and Son Movement universal. Details are to be worked out by the Boys' Work Division staff, of which E. M. Robinson, former senior secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Boys' Work in America, is now secretary.

Winter Training Urged For Baseball Players

Chicago—Indifferent physical condition and lack of proper spring training causes the mid-season collapse of clubs, which, at the start of the season seemed certain pennant contenders, in the belief of Ban Johnson, president of the American League.

President Johnson said the present day conditioning process is all wrong and that a return to the old-time system, when players started to thoroughly harden themselves physically as early as the first of the year, would result in better baseball.

"In the old days players did not think of starting to play baseball in the spring, until they were capable of standing it," he said.

"Cy Young and many others, in the old days, went to Hot Springs and other winter resorts, and by climbing walking and running, developed their strength gradually. Then they started to play baseball and did not fall victims to 'charley horse' and other ailments. They were down to weight and as hard as nails when it came time to start the actual practice."

"Today it seems to be the general practice of every player to start right in and practice baseball—pitching, throwing, running, and batting with soft muscles and no wind."

"That is all wrong. If they started to condition themselves slowly soon after the first of the year, they would be ready for practice when the training season started, and it would result in a better game."

MEN AND WOMEN IN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Here: FRANCES A. MILNER & JULIA WARNOCK Below: ANDRE CITROEN & JOHN W. WEEKS.

Secretary of War John W. Weeks has suggested that citizens' committees in charge of local work in connection with "Defense Day," September 11, should give "the position of honor" to organizations of war mothers. Much mystery surrounds the death of Julia Warnock, Follies beauty, who was found dead in her bathtub in New York City, physicians asserting that she did not die a natural death. Frances Alleen Milner, 18-year-old New York City dancer, eloped with Harry Parker Lessard, of Portland, Me., repented of it half an hour later, and now seeks an annulment, charging the groom with fraud, because, she says, he told her he had an income of $1,000 a week. Andre Citroen, the Henry Ford of France, is credited with winning 10,000,000 francs in one night playing baccarat at Deauville, France.

office box in use, there is nothing on file to disprove the claim made for him by his great granddaughter, Miss Mary D. Lewis, of Tallahassee, Fla. Postmaster General New, therefore, has replied to a letter from Miss Lewis presenting the claim by stating he is ready to give Brown the benefit of the doubt and acknowledge him as the inventor.

Brown's memoirs, published some time after his death, fully set forth the circumstances leading to the invention. He wrote:

"I was the inventor or planner of post office boxes. These were times of embargo, non-intercourse, etc., and of course speculation was rife. The first news was important and therefore there was always a great rush to the post office, as soon as the mail came in for letters. The universal plan was to hand out letters from a round pane of glass from the front window. I have seen the whole street blocked by people waiting their turn to get to the window to ask for letters."

Brown was asked to devise a plan to remedy the situation. He did so by fitting a partition across the large room, filling it with pigeon holes covered at one end with glass with each hole numbered in front and bearing the name of the box holder at the open end. About 400 boxes were quickly engaged at 50 cents for each three months. Brown's plan is still utilized in post offices throughout the smaller cities and towns of the country.

WHITE HOUSE COFFEE OPENS SOUTHERN PLANT

New Factory at Portsmouth, Virginia, Solely to Render a Better Service and to Meet Southern Demand

Appreciation merits appreciation. The welcome response that White House Coffee and Tea have had in the South for many years has prompted the Dwinell-Wright Company, importers and roaster of this popular brand, to establish a new and complete factory at Portsmouth, Virginia, for the sole purpose of better serving the Southern territory. The facilities at this point will be fully the equal so far as efficiency is concerned of the other plants in Boston and Chicago. The same care in blending and roasting, the same scrupulous precision in selection and importation of the coffee beans will be maintained to assure the same quality and quality that has made White House a guide name to satisfaction. LEAGUE ASSEMBLY TO HEAR SPEECHES BY THREE PREMIERS

Geneva, Aug. 18.—For the first time in the history of the League of Nations the heads of the three great European powers will attend the assembly which opens September 1. Not only have Premiers MacDonald, Herriot and Mussolini announced their intention of coming, but it is expected all three will make important addresses. The lesser powers are expected to send their foreign ministers.

In view of the increased collaboration of the United States, more particularly with reference to opinion and matters affecting the problem of reduction of armaments, the question is being asked at Geneva whether there is any likelihood of Washington sending observers, either official or unofficial.

It is believed in Geneva that disarmament will constitute the great subject of this year's assembly debate. As one Swiss newspaper put it, England's recent repudiation of the League of Nations' provision draft treaty of mutual assistance has resulted in the effectual burial of that treaty. It will be examined, undoubtedly, but only to serve as the basis of a general inquiry dedicated to the finding of some more suitable arrangement for the reduction of armaments.

Can security for France and Belgium be made possible through the mechanism of the League? Can definite zones of territory between particular countries be demilitarized? Can special international frontiers, as for instance the borderland between France and Germany, be subjected to international control through the League of Nations, as a means of preventing future war? Can the World Court of Justice at the Hague be utilized more largely as a means of preventing hostilities when danger of war arises in the future? What system can be devised to secure a limitation of armaments which will have the collaboration of the United States?

These are some of the questions which men are turning over in their minds as the assembly approaches.

It is felt here that the great difficulty to the attainment of anything practical in disarmament through the machinery of the League of Nations is the absence of the United States from the League. This difficulty was clearly pointed out by Premier MacDonald in his recent communication rejecting the provisional draft treaty of mutual assistance.

Another subject of preliminary assembly discussion is England's rejection of any plan, such as is contained in the pact of mutual assistance, to make the League Council an executive body with very large powers in the control of military forces sent to operate against aggressive states. England wants the council's prerogatives to be kept merely advisory, pointing out that under article 10 of the covenant, the council can only recommend action, while under article 10 it can only advise.

The trend of thought here is that the League must not seek to thrust its authority upon nations, but through careful examination and careful examination and carefully weighed opinions and by resultant publicity, indicate to the world where responsibility for aggression lies and suggest conciliatory means of settlement.

The preliminary agenda of the assembly indicates that a great variety of legal, financial, political, administrative, technical and humanitarian questions will come before the assembly. The assembly will be told all about the arrangements for the International Opium Conference which will be held at Geneva in November, and will hear something of the difficulties which prevented any agreement by the experts for a preliminary draft convention. The problem of Russian and Greek refugees, the position of the mandated world territories, which include some 60,000,000 people the progress of the reconstruction of Austria and Hungary and the happy solution of the Menel problem through the assistance of an impartial American, Norman H. Davis, all will come before the delegates.

As for disarmament, the delegates will have before them the text of the treaty of disarmament and security which was drawn up by a group of American citizens and which contains features which have attracted the attention of experts in Europe. This brings the American project on the agenda of the assembly.

THREE OF SIX WOMEN WHO MARRIED KID M'COY.

An affair of the heart finally was responsible for the arrest of Norman Sabry, the well known Kid McCoy of the prize ring, when he was held by police following discovery of the body of Mrs. Theresa Mora, his latest love, in her Los Angeles apartment. McCoy had been married nine times. Three of his former wives are shown here. He married Mrs. George Wheelock in 1897, divorced her, married and divorced her the second time, and then married her the third time, only to divorce her again. He married Estelle Ellis in 1905 and was divorced from her in 1910. The eighth wife of the former boxer was Dagmar Dahlgren, well known dancer, whom he wed in 1920. He left her three weeks later and she obtained a divorce.

AMERICAN SCHOOLS DESCRIBED AS SAFE FROM DISLOYALTY

Washington.—There is no necessity for the general public to become excited about unpatriotic propaganda seeping into the schools of the United States, Milton Fairchild, chairman of the Character Education Institution said recently in a reply to a letter sent out by Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Cook warned state regents of her organization against the "activities of those who are knowingly and deliberately disloyal to our government and our political institutions," but Mr. Fairchild asserted that the school authorities were competent to handle the situation, and that it was impossible for disloyal activities or propaganda to get a start in the schools.

"The boards of education" he said "are made up of trustworthy citizens, superintendents and supervisors over the body of teachers."

In her letter Mrs. Cook said the "Youth Movement" aimed at the heart of "our most sacred and moral foundations, and will, if promulgated in our secondary schools and colleges, aim to destroy the moral fibre of our girls and boys." Pacifist groups, she declared, "have even invaded our schools with their doctrines. Indeed, one group has a widely advertised set of illustrated 'school literature,' especially devised for its purpose, and comments in its circular upon its success and popularity. The Daughters of the American Revolution 'mean to oppose with all the vigor and strength of their beings any individual or groups of individuals who would substitute for our great institutions of government untried theories and dangerous communist doctrines.'"

Mr. Fairchild, in his answer, sets forth that he personally interviewed Mrs. Cook and others, asking for the sources of their information. These had been given, but upon investigation they were found to "have no reliable detailed information." He said he proposed to Mrs. Cook's organization and others that if they would furnish positive information, it would be put in the hands of school authorities.

The Character Education Institution, made up of educators and state superintendents, of education, Mr. Fairchild explained, had expended $300,000 in research and planning work during the past ten years and in perfecting the children's morality code and the "Five Point Plan," under which clubs of patriotic citizens are supported.

Astronomer to Complete Sky Map of Double Stars

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 19.—Mapping the heavens that look down upon "the Land of the Southern Cross," to complete the list of double stars that swing out to the south of this continent, is a task Dr. W. J. Hussey of the University of Michigan expects to begin within a year.

With other astronomers he has listed the double stars of the north. In the times he has been in the Southern hemisphere he has found a small number. His quarter century search for a location probably ended, he expects to devote seven or eight years in completing the work.

He will take a 27-inch telescope. His probable location will be Naval Hill, looking down upon Bloemfontain, in the Orange Free State, although the top of some other kopje in that locality may be chosen. He found points near Bloemfontain had the advantage of great clarity of atmosphere, visibility to the horizon edge and almost 300 cloudless nights a year.

From his experience searching among the northern stars Dr. Hussey believes that the third of the sky not mapped will add 1,800 double stars above the ninth magnitude to those already known.

GREENVILLE PARTY HAS ENJOYABLE TIME AT LAKE JUNALUSKA

The park opposite the cottage of Mrs. Judson Blount at Lake Junaluska was the scene of much merriment last Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock when Messrs N. I. Winslow, John Hassell, Walter Patton and Judson Blount entertained the Greenville party consisting of Mrs. Hortense F. Moyo, James and Clara Louise Moyo, Mrs. C. J. Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Best and little Miss Mabel Glen Best.

The party was an ideal Junaluska affair. A big bon fire and all kinds of camp "fare" made it most attractive.

The Greenville party is having a most enjoyable time at Junaluska. They made the trip by automobile and had a pleasant time enroute to the mountains.

Buenos Aires Building Boom Bring Modernity

Buenos Aires.—Buenos Aires is in the midst of the greatest building boom in its history. More than 27,000 building permits were issued in 1923, which was a record, but during the first quarter of this year the figures are 50 percent greater than for the same period last year. The growing congestion of population, the long prevailing high rents and some reduction in the cost of building materials are responsible.

Altitude and modernity are the keynotes of the new construction. The architectural traditions, dating back from Spanish colonial times, which have kept much of the residential part of the city from rising above one story, have been abandoned entirely. The romantic old patio with its fountain around which so many of these rectangular one story structures are built, has been doomed. In their stead two story chalets and cottages of English and American design are being built, especially in the roomier spaces and suburbs, or else three story city homes of French type. The homes are being equipped with the most modern sanitation and household conveniences.

The new office buildings are going up to ten stories which will overtop most of the buildings in the business district. The city itself has contracted with an American firm for the opening of a new broad diagonal thoroughfare from the Plaza Mayo to Calle Lavalle, and the construction thereon of several blocks of ten story buildings.

Baby Found in Floating Box
Munich, Germany.—Clad in costly garments and with a silver chain around its little neck, a healthy girl baby was found floating in a box on the River Inn near here. Beside the infant was a note quaintly rhymed saying the child's name was Josephine, she knew no father and the mother must remain unknown. The baby was immediately adopted by a water works employe.

THE LOGICAL CENTER

The announcement of the coming to Greenville of the National Biscuit Company brings the realization that the eyes of the outside world are upon Greenville as the logical distributing center of Eastern North Carolina.

Situated in the exact center of the territory east of Raleigh and with hard surfaced roads connecting it with the surrounding towns and counties, Greenville furnishes many advantages for those who wish to locate where they will have easy access to the territory of the eastern part of the state.

Greenville also has civic and commercial bodies second to none and at all times these bodies are causing their influence and efforts to set before the world the many advantages which Greenville has to offer parties who are seeking a place to locate.

Local business men have purchased suitable sites and placed railroad facilities alongside and will make attractive propositions to concerns interested in coming to Greenville.

As a business center Greenville is the county seat of the largest bright leaf tobacco raising county in the world; the Greenville Tobacco Market is the third largest and one of the best from the standpoint of average price in the state; the combined resources of the banks of Pitt County are around $8,000,000. Greenville owns and operates an electric power plant with the remarkable record of only two minutes' shut down during the past year. This plant furnishes current to three adjoining towns in addition to Greenville and there is still enough surplus current to take care of the entire needs of any one of the adjoining counties. The local water supply is unsurpassed and there is never a shortage. Daily tests are made in the municipal laboratory to insure the purity of the water supply.

There is at present under construction a gas plant and officials in charge state that it will be completed within a few weeks.

As an ideal place to live Greenville is unsurpassed. From an educational standpoint this city is second to none in the state. There are four public schools, including one for the colored race, and another is soon to be added as the result of a recent $200,000 bond issue. Greenville is also the home of The Eastern Carolina Teachers College, a state institution, which is now being enlarged and the coming fall will be able to care for over 800 students.

From a religious standpoint no better community in which to locate can be found. Greenville enjoys churches of every denomination and the people of the city not only take an active part in their churches, but carry the Christian spirit in their daily walks of life.

Greenville also has a new and up-to-date hospital for white people, managed by the best of physicians and there is at present under construction a hospital to take care of the negro race.

From an amusement standpoint Greenville enjoys its theatres, fairs and races and a country club with its golf links, tennis courts and a forty-acre lake for bathing boating and fishing. Construction work on a municipal play grounds for the children of the city is now under way.

The slogan of Greenville is, "Our Greenville, Yours If You Come," and those who are seeking a desirable place, from the standpoint of health, business and Christianity, to locate will do well to take into consideration the many advantages offered by this city. The latch string is always out and a hearty welcome awaits the newcomer.

The golden rod looks attractive to anyone except a hayfever sufferer.

German waist lines are said to have been reduced materially. Possibly due to the weakened quality of the beer.

A PRINCE OF GOOD FELLOWS

Almost everything that is published about Prince of Wales reveals him as a most likable chap—democratic, good-natured, fond of Americans. A London cable of a few days ago, for example, told of his inviting an American banjo player to visit one of the royal residences and play for him. The Prince, the story goes, took part in the entertainment by beating a drum. Another cable of the same day mentioned that the Prince chose an American vaudeville performer, Nora Bayes, as his dancing partner in opening a ball.

His Royal Highness is coming to the United States late this month on a holiday. He wants no fuss and ceremony. There is no question that he will be immensely popular.

One might get the impression that all that the Prince is concerned with is "having a good time." He seems forever to be merely playing and going on junkets. The fact is, however, that what seems to be play is really his work. He promotes good feeling. His visit to the United States is not just a pleasure trip. It will help to strengthen the friendly relations existing between our Nation and his.

MAN AND ANIMALS

Man has been acquainted with his fellow-animals so long that he takes them as a matter of course. Yet everybody tacitly admits their great influence upon human character. To wit the sayings:

- He's as sly as a fox.
- He works like a horse.
- He eats like a pig.
- Look out for that snake in the grass.
- I'm as hungry as a bear.
- She's a cat.

Alienists say that the majority of insane persons have a strong "animal complex." Many of them imagine themselves turned into animals. What they believe, insane, is just a distortion of their sane thoughts.

It is a good plan to analyze one's mental makeup once in a while. And an interesting way of going it is to compare yourself with the animals. Walt Whitman began a famous poem with the statement: "I think I could go and live with the animals."

They are closer to us than we think. Are you indeed as faithful as a dog, or as brave as a lion? Sort out your good and bad qualities. Animals can teach you much.

COMMON SENSE CALLED FOR

To eliminate all of the more than 250,000 grade crossings on Class 1 railroads would cost, it is estimated $19,000,000,000. That is not far from the valuation of the existing railroads.

Admittedly it is desirable to get rid of grade crossings. Doing so would save thousands of lives. But we will make no progress in that direction by misrepresenting either responsibility for the grave situation or the respective rights of railroads and users of the highways. There is not here any conflict between privilege and public rights. The railroads are agencies of public service. Not a train is run, either to transport goods or to carry passengers, except to serve the public.

There is slight inconvenience to automobilists in stopping at the relatively few railroad crossings they encounter in a day's journey. There would be enormous loss and inconvenience to patrons of the railroads were trains required to stop at every highway crossing their lines. The grade crossing problem is a grave one. It will not be solved without respect for common sense.

He will render several special musical programs and a real treat is in store for patrons of the theater. Mr. Jackson purchased the organ last spring and announced at the time that it would be installed in the near future. He is very anxious to give to the public the very best possible and as music in a theatre is absolutely essential he bought the organ for the purpose of adding an attractive feature to his splendid selection of pictures. In addition to the music Monday evening a good picture will also be shown.

Board of Health Says Children Must Be Vaccinated

The County Board of Health has passed a regulation to the effect that all children must be vaccinated against smallpox before entering school this fall. This regulation applies to the school children of the Greenville schools as well as to the children of the county schools. The Greenville City schools in co-operation with the County Board of Health put on an intensive campaign in the schools last year. This resulted in nearly all of the Greenville school children being vaccinated. However there were a few who were not vaccinated, and then there are a number of children entering school for the first time either as beginners or who have just moved to the city. The regulation requires that the children be vaccinated. School will begin in about two weeks. In order that the child may not be sick from the effects of the vaccination after entering school, the school authorities urge all parents to attend to this matter at once. If the matter is attended to now, the child will be in good physical shape by the time school opens.

COTTON LETTER.

New Orleans, Aug. 21.—Following the recent recovery in values, market assumed a reactionary tendency this morning, due to liquidation, influenced by more favorable weather prospect for the western belt, the continuance of good weather to the east of the Mississippi river and because of the storm apparently moving up the Atlantic coast, northwestward but far off east coast of Florida, which may bring needed rains to the south Atlantic states. Prospects are for more favorable weather for more favorable weather for the south west, probably showers and cooler north portion.

Liverpool and Manchester trade cables are more encouraging, reporting some trade calling, and more demand for goods from India, China and Egypt with the possibility of working time increasing in the division of mills using American cotton.

But the textile trade on this side of the Atlantic is unfavorable. According to the census bureau, the average number of spindles operated in the United States during July was only 22,697,459 or only 60 percent of capacity on a single shift basis. During July of last year 32,684,740 spindles were operated in the United States. It looks as though about two months will have elapsed before consumption of raw cotton in America becomes normal, if then, in which case, even with favorable trade conditions thereafter there would be only about 10 months of normal consumption in the United States this season against the usual 12 months in a normal season.

There was some evidence of further hedge selling this a. m. as ginning increased and the movement of the new crop assumed larger proportions. Hedge selling is likely to be more in evidence, which is something traders have to reckon with.

Nervous and erratic markets, perhaps at lower levels, if liquidation continues, are likely in advance of next Saturday's government crop forecast report, private estimates on which range from 12,450,000 to 13,340,000 bales exclusive of linters average of private estimates being 12,973,000 bales vs. the government's previous forecast for a production of 12,351,000 bales.

GRAIN
Barring any decided change in weather, crop and other conditions that may come over night, grain traders are expecting a lowering of values before there is a change for the better. A few of the large traders however, said at the close that the trade is getting a little too bearish and they do not look for a big break in wheat, while corn should sell off several cents.

PREDICTS AMERICA WILL NEED FOREIGN MEATS IN 15 YEARS

Edinburgh. — At the concluding session here of the Scottish cattle breeding conference, when a review of the cattle situation in the chief countries of the world was under discussion, Major E. N. Wentworth, of Armour's Bureau, Chicago, said that the United States had already passed in consumption the rate of production in sheep and mutton, and was at the balancing point in beef. He believed as the industrial population increased and while wage levels remained high, it would be very possible within the next 15 years for the British colonies to export produce to the United States. Major Wentworth said also he did not think the United States would ever become a market for imported pork and bacon, but that America was certain to become a lamb and mutton market for beef, sheep and lamb, and dairy products.

Finland gave notice of her ratification of the protocol which arranges for arbitration in disputes arising out of the operation of commercial contracts. Holland, in behalf of the Dutch East Indies, ratified the international convention for the simplification of customs formalities.

Kitlow Cafeteria The Best Place in Town TO EAT FOOD, SERVICE AND PRICES ARE RIGHT

Summer Hints for Young Mothers

"Looseness" is frequent in summer because children will eat unripe or overripe fruit, raw vegetables and other indigestible food. Fermentation follows quickly. Sometimes, there is fever, pain or vomiting, and nearly always a diarrhoea, which simply means that nature is trying to clear out the poison and gas. The old idea—a serious mistake—was to check it with blackberry or some other astringent. What is needed is a cathartic. Hurry up with the cleaning-out process. Then give a lighter diet for a while. Castor oil is good, but better still is Liv-o-lax, which does the work thoroughly, and the children like to take it. You can get a good-sized bottle at the drug store for 30c.

The Improved COACH on the HUDSON Super-Six

For the First Time in History Closed Car Comforts at EXACTLY Open Car Cost

This Hudson Coach makes history. It is the first closed car ever to sell at exactly open car cost. And Hudson, alone, can build it. As the largest producer of 6-cylinder closed cars in the world, Hudson exclusively holds the advantages to create this car and this price.

Greatest of All Hudson Achievements

And now full size balloon tires are standard steering, most comfortable and steadiest equipment. Do not confuse with "semi-balloon" types. Hudson's are genuine, full size balloon tires—33"x6.20". Compare the difference.

Hudson has not simply "added balloon tires." Both running and steering gear have been especially designed to compensate for the radical differences balloon tires bring.

The result is the easiest

Full Size, Genuine Balloon Tires

The Easiest Steering and Riding Ever Built

$1500
Freight and Tax Extra

More than ever, "Closed Car Comforts at Open Car Cost" is the uppermost buying issue. Note how fast the Coach is displacing open cars.

As the wanted type the Coach maintains the highest resale value against the waning desirability of the open car.
