Italian Aviator Fails To Arrive In Greenland

American Fliers Reach Greenland Italian Missing

Lieutenant Smith Makes Iceland to Greenland Hop of 825 Miles in Less Than 10 Hours; No Report Has Been Received as to Arrival of Lieutenant Locatelli, Italian Aviator, Who Was Accompanying Americans

Washington, Aug. 22.—The first word received by the Navy Department from any of its ships along the route of the world fliers in the North Atlantic was a brief message that came this afternoon from the cruiser Richmond reporting that no word had been received from the Italian aviator, Lieutenant Locatelli, who was accompanying the American fliers on the hop from Iceland to Greenland.

Aboard the U. S. Cruiser Richmond, Aug. 22.—Rear Admiral Thomas P. Mcgruder has ordered the cruisers Raleigh and Richmond and the destroyer Barry to make a thorough search east of Cape Farewell, Greenland, for Lt. Locatelli, Italian aviator, who accompanied the American around the world fliers. The search will be made by means of the planes carried aboard the cruiser for scouting purposes. The search will be continued indefinitely.

Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 22.—The American around the world fliers winding their way yesterday afternoon and evening from Reykjavik, Iceland to Frederiksdaal, Greenland, where they arrived last night, passed the cruiser Richmond and the destroyers Reid, Billingsley and Barry on scheduled time according to messages from the destroyer Barry. Weather conditions in the early stages of the flight were favorable with good visibility and a helping wind but as the airmen neared Cape Farewell the southern point of Greenland they had to cut their way through a mist and drizzling rain. In the mist they were apparently missed by the cruiser Raleigh, stationed off the cape which reported that she had not sighted the fliers.

Previously the Richmond, Reid, Billingsley and Barry had sighted them passing each ship on scheduled time and flying low so as to receive the cushioning effect of the water. A later dispatch from the destroyer Barry declared the reporting of the arrival of Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith and Lieutenant Erik Nelson at Frederiksdaal but did not mention the arrival of Lieutenant Locatelli, Italian aviator who was accompanying them. Locatelli, who had flown to Reykjavik from Pisa, Italy, in order to accompany Lieutenants Smith and Nelson across the Atlantic, was using a faster plane than the Americans and in the earlier stages of yesterday's flight had outdistanced his companions. The message sent from the Barry at 5:30 and 6:30 yesterday evening referred to the fliers without specifically mentioning Lieutenant Locatelli, Italian aviator who left Reykjavik with the American fliers and who was presumably accompanying them when they arrived in Greenland.

Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith added to his reputation as a skilful aviator by landing at Frederiksdaal at 6:30 Greenwich time, nine hours and 55 minutes after taking off from Reykjavik. Lieutenant Nelson landed at 7:15 requiring 11 hours for the trip. While the hop from Reykjavik of 825 miles was probably not the greatest hours,

CONDITION OF JOE SWINDELL STILL SERIOUS

Elizabeth City, Aug. 22.—The condition of Joe Swindell, who was shot down in his cell in the Pasquotank county jail, early yesterday by J. D. Farrow, of Wilson, remained serious this morning it was stated at the hospital where he is being treated. Physicians who removed the bullet from Swindell's side last night stated that he has a good chance of recovery unless there are complications. Swindell was to have gone on trial yesterday on the charge of improper conduct toward the conduct of the granddaughter of Farrow.

Negroes of Rocky Mount Planning Have Play Ground

Rocky Mount, Aug. 22.—The negroes of Rocky Mount are to have a playground, the city having purchased the grounds several weeks ago and turned it over to them. The negroes are to equip the grounds with the necessary paraphernalia. They held a "tag day" this week and collected more than $100 for this purpose.

feat performed by the world fliers it is considered a real feat because of conditions encountered. Last night the aviators were resting at the little fishing village of Frederiksdaal within measuring distance of their immediate goal, continental America.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Lack of official confirmation of the safety of the American Army around the world fliers in Greenland after their 824-mile hop from Iceland gave little concern today to army and navy officials.

Communication officers of both branches of the services watched all night for direct messages from the aviators but none were received. With the exception of a press dispatch from Halifax last night to the effect that a radio report stated the fliers had arrived safely in Greenland no word was received but it was pointed out that in almost every case direct communication from the aviators since they entered the Arctic Circle had been considerably delayed.

Army and naval officers were some what puzzled at the different times of arrival as reported in news dispatches but it is estimated that the hop was made in about 13 hours against the expectations of the airman to cover the 825 miles in 12

BRITISH INTERNATIONAL POLO TEAM IN UNITED STATES.

BRITISH INTERNATIONAL POLO TEAM.

The players and substitutes of the British International Polo Team, which the Prince of Wales will watch in its matches against the American defenders on Long Island, have reached New York for practice. Left to right they are Major E. G. Atkinson, Major T. W. Kirkwood, Major G. P. Hornby, Major F. Hurndall, captain of the team; Major Vivian Lockett and Louis Lacey, the latter a British subject living in the Argentine. Lacey is ranked by some experts second only to Devereaux Milburn, of the American team, greatest player in the world.

JAPAN TO OBSERVE NAT'L DRILL DAY

Tokio, Japan, Aug. 22.—The Militarist Reservist organization today formerly launched an agitation for observance of national drill day on October 23, officially proclaimed annually as festival day of the National Military Shrine of Yasukuni, of Tokio.

The vernacular account of the agitation mentioned the similarity of the event to the American National Defense Day of September 12. Officials paid no attention to the reservist organization proposal and saw no connection between the American and Japanese activities.

The American community here has engaged in a controversy over the advisability of holding the defense day in America as scheduled. Missions have sent messages of protest to President Coolidge against the plan while other American have vigorously defended the course of the Washington government.

American, British Subjects Killed In Honduras Yesterday

Washington, Aug. 22.—George Gatewood Hamilton, American citizen, and Charles Edward Rimmer, a British subject, were killed in the district of Puerto Castilla, Honduras, on the morning of August 21 the State Department was informed today by the American Vice Consul.

GERMAN RADIO INDUSTRY HARD HIT BY FINANCE AND LATE PATENTS

Berlin.—Another burst bubble of high hopes is the story of Germany's radio industry. When government restrictions on the sale of receiving sets were lifted last fall, a hundred or more factories sprung up. Of these, only two or three are still working, largely for exportation. The manufacturers blame the introduction of the rentenmark and the sudden end of the inflation period for the situation.

The fact that most of the 900 patents in the field are controlled by the "Telefunken" concern proved to be another snag for the young industry.

Germany Taxed Horses. Berlin.—A horse tax is the latest in Germany and is imposed upon all except animals belonging to peasants. The tax varies according to the character and weight of the horses, the highest being about $40 a year assessed against fancy coach horses and racing animals.

Butte, Montana, Aug. 22.—Rev. Colon Z. O'Farrell will share his pulpit here with a monkey when he delivers a sermon on Evolution next Sunday night, he has announced. He stated that his theme would be if man evolved from the animal it must have been from the Jackals rather than from the monkey family. The subject of the sermon will be "The Soul That's In It" he added.

DAVIS DECLARES COOLIDGE EVADED CORRUPTION ISSUE

Seagirt, N. J., Aug. 22.—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate made it clear in an address today that in his judgment Coolidge failed in his acceptance address to meet the issue of corruption in public office.

Democratic Nominee Asserts Republican Party Entirely Responsible for Acts of High Officials

Referring specifically to the oil, Veterans Bureau and prohibition scandals, Mr. Davis declared the Republican party could not escape the responsibility for the acts of its high officers elevated by it to their high places of power.

Mr. Davis added, "If the fact is that public resources have been squandered is it any answer to say a hudget system has been installed? If unfit corrupt men have been put into and kept in office and left to their own devices is it sufficient defense that the administration was not actually desirous of dishonesty? If the wounded veteran has been defrauded out of his money is there any comfort to him in the fact that congress made lavish appropriations?"

Mr. Davis declared that those who asked the country to pretend that the acts of those public officials involved in the scandals were "ripple indiscretions" which should be overlooked when there is a sign of repentance and assume the degree of indifference and lack of interest on the part of the people, would be in itself a reflection on the popular form of government.

"If it be true that public interests in these things has waned" he asked, "is it not our public duty to see that it is revived before the day of judgment comes? In view of the record of the past three years," Davis said, "they (the Republicans) pray not without reason for a government of common sense. We stand for one of common honesty. What is honesty in government? Honesty in handling public funds and public property, of course. It is something more. It is candor and fair dealing and impartiality and the transaction of public business in open broad daylight without disguise, pretense or evasion, it is playing no favoritism in making public control or writing public laws. It is the treating of all classes of all sections of the country on an equal basis. It is the avoidance of secret whispering and sharp practice in public affairs. Men love darkness rather than light only when secret ends,

Assembly Shows Speedy Action In Last Hours

Many Local and State-Wide Measures Receive Attention of Legislaure and Solons Rush Work to Completion; Extraordinary Session Called by Governor Will Probably End Shortly after Midnight

Raleigh, Aug. 22.—The Senate today took speedy action toward the special session of the North Carolina General Assembly called by Governor Morrison for the purpose of passing upon the report of the port commission, authorized by it in the last regular session, and for correction of an error in the proposed amendment to the constitution relative to the sinking fund, when it cleared its calendar and passed a resolution ordering all bills now before committees to be reported at 4 o'clock this afternoon until which hour the chamber adjourned.

Today's session was the shortest held by the Senate since the extra session started. There are a few roll calls now pending which must be read tomorrow. To avoid staying in Raleigh later than tonight the Senate plans to clear its calendar this afternoon or early tonight and then adjourn until five minutes after midnight at which time it will vote upon the third roll call of the bills and adjourn.

Action was fast this morning and the Senate passed a number of local and a few statewide bills.

The pension of blind Confederate Veterans will be increased to $300 annually by a bill passed and ratified by the Senate today.

A bill providing for free treatment to indigent tubercular persons received similar action.

The appropriation of the state to the Moore Battle Ground Association was increased from $500 to $1,000 by provisions of a bill passed by the Senate.

The Senate tabled a bill providing for the appointment by the Governor of a committee to investigate the judicial districts of the state and report their redistricting to the 1925 General Assembly.

The auditor of Wilmington and New Hanover county will be required to publish semi-annual statements of the books of the respective offices under a bill passed by the Senate.

The Senate passed and ordered enrolled for ratification a bill providing for the return of funds illegally collected by the state from the International Shoe Company.

Mr. W. E. Tucker's Left Leg Badly Cut By Mowing Machine

Mr. W. E. Tucker is suffering from painful injuries received yesterday when the blade of a mowing machine struck his left leg cutting a deep gash just above his ankle.

Mr. Tucker was looking after some work on his farm near Simpson at the time of the accident. Seeing that the mules were going too fast with the mowing machine he made an effort to help stop them. Before he could get out of the way the blade struck him.

He was brought to Greenville and given medical attention. Unless complications develop he will be out in a few days.

Whether in Washington or out of it we will have no invisible advisers or party counsel and no alliances with those who work in secret for their deeds are evil.

Following the example set by the Senate the House recessed at 1:30 this afternoon until 3:30 when it expects to get its calendar in such condition to make possible adjournment of the extra session tonight.

The resolution rejecting the Child Labor amendment to the United States Constitution was made a special order of business in the House for tonight.

A bill shortening the fox hunting season in Halifax county was passed by the House.

The Senate bill allowing sheriffs to give food and money to prisoners released from chain gangs was tabled by the House.

The secretary of state was authorized to award contracts for printing an index to the Consolidated Statutes of the state in another bill passed.

The resolution making the second Thursday in October 1925 "Homecoming Day" was passed and sent to the Senate.

Representative Carr's resolution for a commission of five to investigate farming conditions in the state brought forth a debate on the question of commissions. Representative Burlington, of Iredell county, declared that he was "sick and tired of all these commissions." He declared that they could do no good. Representative Carr retorted that it was pretty late to refuse appointment of a commission to aid the farmers. "You've appointed every commission asked for at this session," he said, "and now when we are trying to do something for the farmers you object to it."

Representative Ross offered an amendment striking out the commission section and providing for the president of the College of Agriculture and the Commissioner of Agriculture to make a special report to the regular session of 1925 with recommendations for needed legislation.

Representative Townsend introduced a bill providing pensions for widows of Confederate Veterans who married as late as 1898.

The reception room was attractively decorated with summer flowers and a large crowd enjoyed the hospitality of this club on this occasion.

After an enjoyable evening light refreshments were served.

STEADY RING WORK HELPS GIBBONS IN AMAZING FORTUNE

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 22.—Fugillistic prestige and big purses are at last coming to Tommy Gibbons, at a time when the St. Paul heavyweight is long past the age when most fighters are in their prime.

Fighting gamey up the long, hard hill to ring fame, Gibbons achieved a formidable summit when he stayed 15 gruelling rounds with Jack Dempsey in Montana a year ago. That "moral victory," after nearly 17 years of ring experience, opened the way to the largest purses the St. Paul fighter has ever received.

There was no direct remuneration for Gibbons in his fight with Dempsey, but now at the age of 33 he is "cashing in" on the showing he made, and apparently is at the zenith of his ring career.

For his fight with Georges Carpentier at Michigan City, last May, he received his largest purse, $62,000. Previously, his top had been $12,500 for a match with Harry Greb. He received $50,000 for his fight with Jack Bloomfield, the English heavyweight, in London.

It has been no cushioned road for Tommy, however, for under the expert eye of his older brother Mike Gibbons, he has followed a rigorous rule of living, full of self-denial.

There is none of the "bar room" fighter in Tommy's makeup. He has carried the gentlemanly bearing of his private life into the ring, and finds in his home life his greatest delight. Most of his time, aside from fight engagements, is devoted to his wife and five children, all boys. The youngest are twins, born only a few weeks ago. His oldest boy is eight.

By nature Tommy is modest and very little in the limelight, that would gladly welcome him, even in his home town. Back in the days when Brother Mike's ring prowess gained him the name of "Phantom," Tommy saw the opportunities for a much more remunerative occupation than as an employe in the railroad shops here. Then began the long, slow climb to ring prominence.

"Clean living and and right thinking," Tommy once said, "can do more to keep a fellow in condition than the hardest training interrupted by occasional lapses into dissipation."

In recent years Tommy has established an enviable ring record, including a long list of knockouts. Even after his 15-round contest with Champion Dempsey there still stood his record of never having been knocked down in a ring engagement. At one time, starting in 1921, he ran his string of consecutive knockouts to 20.

There has been no talk from Tommy of retiring from the ring. He wants another match with Dempsey, and expects to keep after it until he lands it. But when retirement comes, unless he suffers unforeseen business reverses before then, Tommy probably will be able to retire to a life of comparative ease, for he has made income-yielding investments with his winnings.

His brother Mike also has investments in city and other property which have "fixed him for life." Tommy, however, has turned to stocks and bonds, so that coupon clipping is his principal occupation outside of principal business occupation outside ring activities.

Famed Malamute of Alaska Passes With Era Of Progress

Anchorage, Alaska, Aug. 19.—The malamute dog, for many years the famed steed of the north, apparently is destined to go.

With the coming of railroads, dog teams were driven farther into the interior. And now the prevalence of reindeer herds and the growth of the market garden and the town-of-garden have caused restrictions to be drawn around the malamute until he is coming to be a nuisance in the more settled parts of southern Alaska. The malamute had his genesis in the wolves and wild dogs of the north. All fowls and quadrupeds were his common prey. But when, in more modern days, a malamute began pulling down reindeer and the livestock of farmers, he was treated as a wolf and hunted down.

Owing to the light demand for dogs, it is difficult to procure pure-bred specimens south of the Yukon, and the one-time aristocrat of the Arctic is becoming mixed with the blood of so many mongrels that he has almost lost his identity.

Germany Still Opposes Foreign Automobiles

Berlin, Aug. 18.—American automobile interests have taken keen account of a fight which developed here recently between the German Association of Automobile Dealers, which favors removal of government restrictions against cars of all kinds, and the German manufacturers who desire to keep the prohibitions effective because of the protection the regulations provide their industries. The import restrictions are of particular importance to manufacturers in the United States, as they curtail the sale of American cars in Germany to a considerable extent.

According to a report to the United States Department of Commerce made by Fayette W. Allport, trade commissioner in charge of the commercial attaché's bureau of the American embassy in Berlin, two major problems must be solved before the German market can possibly open its doors to the cars from the other side of the Atlantic, the first being the import prohibition and the second the problem of finance. Arrangements have already been made in the United States, the report says, through three different channels to finance transactions whereby about 1,000 cars per month would be shipped to Germany, this number being considered sufficient to meet normal requirements for the time being.

It has been estimated that with the import restrictions lifted, and by paying a reasonable duty, American cars could be sold here for from 20 to 30 per cent cheaper than the price charged for automobiles manufactured in Germany today under the prevailing conditions and high prices.

But the prospects for the removal of the present restrictions are not encouraging.

Sharks Deter Manila Diver.
Manila.—Sharks have become so numerous in Manila Bay that professional divers have refused to go into the water on several occasions recently. During the last two weeks two native fishermen have disappeared and the authorities believe they were devoured by sharks.

Girl Found Slain Like Bobby Franks.

Bernice Chalmus

The body of Bernice Chalmus, daughter of a wealthy farmer of Ottawa, Ill., was found in a stream after she had disappeared from the home of her uncle, Sheriff E. J. Welter, August 10. Circumstances indicate the child was kidnaped and slain in much the same manner as Robert Franks, Chicago school boy.

WIFE COMFORTS FAMOUS JOCKEY IN HOSPITAL

Earle Sande in Hospital

Racked with pain as he waits for broken bones to knit in a hospital at Saratoga, N. Y., Earl Sande, premier jockey of the American turf, is comforted by daily visits from Mrs. Sande. The rider nearly lost his life when his mount, Spurt, fell with him and was the center of a general spill during a race at the Saratoga track. One of his legs was broken in two places, his collar bone broken, a rib smashed, and he was injured internally. His condition was serious for a time.

KILLS GIRL WHO ASKED HIM TO WED HER.

Emil Zupke and Florence McKinney

Emil Zupke, 21, confessed, according to police, that he slew Core May Raber, who accused him of being the father of her expected child, by choking her while they rode in an automobile along a road near Benton Harbor, Mich. Florence McKinney, 19-year-old sweetheart of Zupke, told authorities after Zupke's confession that she sat in the seat with Miss Raber and Zupke when the girl was slain, and afterward helped him carry the body into a clump of bushes. Both are in jail at Benton Harbor. Zupke told police he had enticed Miss Raber into the automobile on a pretense of taking her to Benton Harbor for their marriage, which she had insisted upon.

Conscientious Objectors Disciplined By Japanese

Tokyo, Aug. 18.—The Japanese army has a special disciplinary corps for dealing with conscripts who fight their compulsory service too bitterly or who show leanings toward socialistic or radical ideas, according to Lieutenant General Isset Ugaki, Minister of War, speaking to the House of Representatives recently. General Ugaki did not indicate the methods used, but said the results had been satisfactory.

"The esprit of the army is not likely to suffer from such elements, although it is true that conscripts of such refractory turn of mind are increasing in number," said the general. "The army at first attempted to avoid the conscription of such men, but we have found it better to enlist them and then try to make them see the error of their ways. It is also true that the number of men who try to evade military service is increasing, but the army authorities are doing their best to remedy this tendency."

MIRAGE PICTURING WATER POOL DECEIVES THE THOROUGHFARE IN COLORADO

Loveland, Colo.—A remarkable mirage appeared here recently on Fourth street, one of the principal thoroughfares. It took the shape of a deep pool of water in the middle of the street. When the story gained circulation, a crowd gathered at the scene. Motorists, swerved to avoid the "pool" only to find on closer examination that the street was dry. Persons approaching the place from certain angles could see in the "water" the reflection of passing cars. The actual pool photographed in the mirage has not been located.

ROME BUILDING HOUSES NOW FOR JUBILEE PILGRIMS

Rome, Aug. 19.—The Eternal City has generally taken eternally long to make those alterations which her increasing size and growing population render necessary. Now, however, she has drawn up program of improvements which, if half of it is carried out, will transform Rome from an old-fashioned, somewhat disorganized city, into a modern capital. These changes will be made between now and next January, the beginning of the Jubilee Year.

During 1925 Rome expects between 3,000,000 and 3,000,000 pilgrims.

The greatest needs of these visitors will be for housing accommodation, food, and means of transport. Both the Vatican and the municipality are ceding ground on favorable terms on which are being erected buildings suitable for future use as hotels. The Vatican especially is considering the needs of the poorer pilgrims for whom large larch-like houses will be provided, where all, however small their means, may have shelter and a reasonable amount of comfort.

The population of Rome has grown from the 250,000 in 1870 to about 1,000,000 today. When Rome became the capital and excellent system of drainage was installed, but the increase of population has necessitated its enlargement, and this year alterations and improvements on a huge scale are being carried out. Half the roads of Rome have been relaid this winter and the other half are awaiting their turn to be dug up.

In preparation for Jubilee Holy Year a large number of new lines of trams and autobusses will link together those already existing, in order that pilgrims may easily visit the distant Basilicas and do much sight-seeing as is possible in the intervals of their exercises.

Forget-Me-Not Day Again Observed to Aid Disabled Vets

Cincinnati. — Wounded, and disabled veterans of the World War, patients in hospitals and institutions in various parts of the United States, will devote much of their time to making little paper and cloth forget-me-not-flowers to be sold throughout the country November 8, "National Forget-Me-Not-Day."

Raymond A. Lasance, national adjutant of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, said that preparations for the observance of this day already have been made by national and state officers. The flowers, as in former years, will be distributed by young women, the proceeds of the sale going to relief legislative aid, hospitalization welfare and rehabilitation assistance of disabled veterans. The want of the veterans will be administered through the national organization, which now has a membership of 100,000.

Numerous women's organizations, veteran's societies and fraternal orders throughout the United States have signified their intention of again lending their support and cooperation to the activities of the "Forget-Me-Not-Day" workers.

SAILOR ON EMDEN THOUGHT DEAD, RETURNS HOME

Hamburg, Germany.—After an absence of 11 years from home, Herman Look of Vollen in Eastern Prussia who was a member of the crew of the famous German sea raider Emden, has reached home. His return caused no little surprise in his native village, for everybody, including his family, had believed him to be dead.

When the Emden was shelled and sunk, Look was taken captive by the British, who brought him to the internment camp at Singapore. Look and several companions made their escape. After a difficult journey through the jungle and through regions they finally reached the ocean. They espied a row boat and started out, reaching the island of Sumatra after 12 hours. Here Look was again interned, and kept prisoner until the end of the war.

Not until recently could he accumulate enough money to take him back home.

RIGHT ABOUT FACE! SAYS THIS COAT

THERE are two sides to every question, and certainly to every fashion for the back of a costume is usually quite different in design from its front and a really comprehensive view may only be obtained by walking all around the subject—or the costume.

While there has been a tendency in the past season to concentrate all the drapery or ornamentation at the front, leaving the back absolutely plain, this new coat from Paris reverses the process.

The deep insets or godets at the back of this coat give it a most graceful flare, and at the same time preserve the main theme of the straight silhouette to which the couturiers still cling. But perhaps the most original note in this model is the chic double-breasted effect which has a most pleasing effect when used on a semi dress model. The actual buttoning of the coat in front would seem to hold out hope of releasing for active service the hand which has been occupied in holding closely to us the chic but buttonless garment which has been the favored coat for the past six months.

Silk coats are much worn in Paris, we hear from Henri Creange. Later on in the season they will be lined with thin fur, but at present the silk itself has sufficient warmth. The coat illustrated is of Cote d'Azur, one of the new and fashionable ribbed silks, in a caramel shade. It is trimmed with badger. The collar, by the way, can also be worn high and tightly fastened.

Mother Finds Lost Son Labor Miners Charged With Donning Fine Clothes

Manila.—A letter from a mother in Danville, Ky., to the Manila police department has been the means of locating a long lost son. Twenty-five years ago Frank Sapp enlisted in the army and came to the Philippines where he served during the insurrection. At the end of his enlistment he remained here, engaging in various occupations.

In her letter to the police department Mrs. Sapp wrote that her son had never written home since he enlisted in a volunteer regiment, but that she heard indirectly that he was in the Philippines in the lumber business.

The coast guard steamer, Pathfinder, which recently returned from an inspection trip to the Babuyan Islands, brought news that Frank Sapp, an American, operated a saw mill on the Island of Camiguin in the Babuyan group and that he had constructed a number of rafts on which he transported the 77 natives from Babuyan Island who were panic-stricken by the active volcano there, to Camiguin Island for safety. Sapp gave employment to the native in his sawmill.

On the next trip of the Pathfinder to the Babayans mail from Sapp's mother will be sent to him. Meanwhile a letter from the police department is on its way to Mrs. Sapp, telling her that her son has been located.

Country Schools to Give Vacation Winter Time Political Life Arouses

Winchester, Ky.—A new plan whereby students in country schools are to be given a mid-winter vacation, with correspondingly shorter summer vacations, is to be inaugurated in Clark county schools this winter.

Prof. Paris Akin, superintendent of county schools, in announcing this departure from the usual period of instruction, declares that in his opinion it will materially increase attendance and insure the country student a good education.

"The greatest trouble in rural districts is that in winter, when snow and ice are upon the ground, the student often finds it impossible to get to school," Prof. Akin said. "Under the new plan, schools will be closed during the worst winter months."

Another feature pointed out was that the teachers, who ordinarily spend their vacations attending summer schools, may now take advantage of the mid-summer vacation and attend normal school then.

The Clark county schools under the new plan opened Aug. 4 and will continue in session five months, closing Dec. 19. On March 16 another school term will start and will run until June 5.

simony, has been brought out again for the use of Labor ministers and their friends.

"And there has been no nonsense about dress. The wives and daughters of ministers have not only taken the trouble to go to court on two consecutive nights, but have worn, entirely different and quite suitable clothes, on each occasion. The prime minister has been so obliging as to allow himself to be seen in the city in blue velvet and gold braid.

"All the same, it has been an immense triumph for the Labor party. No one can ever again accuse them of unreasonable hospitality to that lavish social display which gives so much pleasure to poor people who have to watch it from the pavement. If they had done as well in parliament as they have done in society—but, after all, it is not fair to ask too much.

New Search For Gold Under Way in Montana

Helena, Mont.—Quartz prospectors are roaming the Montana hills, gulches and abandoned mining camps this summer in such numbers as to arouse speculation among the early settlers as to whether the cry of "gold" again may lure hundreds into the areas where few men have ventured since the early sixties.

Free milling ore veins have long since been exploited, and in most cases abandoned by the individual prospector, to be taken over by the larger companies or operated on a small scale by miners. Gold laden sands in the creek beds where old placer camps were located have been panned and repanned, yielding millions in the early sixties until bed rock strata turned the fortune seekers to other fields. Forced to discontinue the placer mining on a large scale, the pioneer prospectors are now enlisting younger blood in the search for quartz, hoping to discover veins of sufficient size to warrant construction of stamp mills and reduction works.

Reports from the early-day camps indicate renewed activity at Virginia City and Alder Gulch, one of the richest of early-day sites, while from Confederate Gulch, 30 miles east of here, come stories of occasional nuggets in sluice boxes.

LONDON MADE TO FUNCTION WHILE CITY FATHERS PLAY

London.—The thousands of London's municipal organizations will, in a week or two, be "working automatically." This is quite the usual thing during the August vacation season, when big concerns like the London County Council, the Metropolitan Water Board and all Borough Councils go into recess so that their administrators and thousands of subordinates may recoup at the seaside.

The wheels of progress will not halt, however, because the various governing bodies happen to be away from their desks. They took precautions weeks ago to issue the most elaborate instructions in order to keep the tramways working, to see that 5,000 tons of garbage was cleared away daily, and that the water supply for London's millions was not likely to fail. Tons of necessary stores were purchased and checks signed for wages bills which run into millions each week.

FUGITIVE BANKER EARNED LIVING AS CONDUCTOR OF THE GIPSY BAND

Budapest.—The Hungarian bankers in prison for losing their clients' money by speculating in French francs were joined recently by Bela Kelemen, who was extradited from Italy.

Kelemen fled to Sicily before his crash became known, disguised himself by darkening his face with powder and earned his living as a gipsy band conductor, being an excellent violinist. His whereabouts were learned when his correspondence with friends in Hungary was opened for censorship, which still exists in Hungary.

A MATTER OF GUESSING

Lieutenant Osborne Wood accompanies his denial of having "cleaned up" $300,000 more in Wall Street with a bit of philosophy worthy to be reflected on by persons contemplating going after fortune in the "market." He is reported as recalling at Biarritz that after his reputed winning of $800,000, he said, "Wall Street will get a man in the end if he keeps at it long enough. If you clean up get out while the getting is good. No one can clean up indefinitely and successfully I have followed my own advice."

It is demonstrable that for a person with money nothing is simpler than making more money in stocks. According to the story told of Lieut. Wood that he says isn't so he bought a certain stock at 65 and sold at 105. By a simple arithmetical calculation it is seen that one doing this would make a profit of 40 a share. The rule of success in Wall Street, as elsewhere, is buy cheap and sell dear. The first part of the trick is to know when things are cheap; the next part is to perceive when they are dear and to sell on the conviction. How great are the diversities of a dollar.

"The market is always there, buying and selling going on incessantly. It follows that at least half of the traders are making bad guesses. In any game of guessing what is a fair percentage of accuracy? Buy cheap and sell dear is an absolutely sound rule. But if it were easy to determine as between cheapness and dearness there would be no market. This is worthy of profound consideration by those who cannot afford to lose.

RECOGNITION OF THE CLOWN

Three clowns have been awarded academic palms by the French government in recognition of their services to the public in spreading good cheer. It looks like a "throw-back" to the days of the paid court jester and still the award has a tremendous appeal to the present generation.

It may seem odd at first thought, to regard a buffoon as worthy of rank with savants and yet if the services of both to the good of the world are measured, the oddity is not so perceptible after all.

Life is not easy to appraise. If the accumulation of material possession were the sole test of a successful life, the classification would be easy. Conventionally that is the way success is oft determined, but it is an unreliable, unsatisfactory method and it begins to appear as though more and more persons are recognizing the futility of measuring a man's services to his fellowman in terms of dollars.

There are so many angles to life that deliberate judgment of a life's value is made cautiously and hesitatingly. Here are three French clowns, recognized by their government, for making the public smile, keeping it good humored. Will any person deny that such is not a useful service? Many persons complain about the "funnies" in the newspaper. They do not appeal to all folks, but will anyone dispute that they do not bring sunshine to many a weary soul?

It would be an impossible world if every inhabitant followed the same trade, liked the same colors, ate the identical food, possessed the same viewpoint. There must be variety, to make earthly existence tolerable.

One's job is to make people think; another to give them relief from thinking, at least thinking along one line. The clown does this. He provides levity for seriousness, light for gloom, merriment for melancholy. And if he does it well, why shouldn't he have the academic palms?

North Carolina Weavers Send Material For Suit For Davis

Tryon, N. C., Aug. 18.—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, is to be Democratically clothed if a group of weavers of homespun cloth in western North Carolina have their way. An eight-yard hof of homespun, woven by hand by North Carolina hand weavers, has been sent to him along with a letter signed by F. H. Bacon, which says in part: "This cloth is made of Democratic wool, from Democratic sheep, spun and woven by Democratic men in the altogether Democratic Old North State. "The industry which produces these woollens is endeavoring to return to the handicraft of our Democratic fathers when man fed and clothed himself. "We can assure you that the cloth will stand the storms and stress of your whole term in the White House."

Mr. Bennett Allbrook, a most highly esteemed, and one of the older and more prominent citizens of Scotland Neck, passed away Tuesday afternoon about 6 o'clock. of joy and fun and the ice cream made its departure all too soon. After dinner the baseball team of the Kennedy Home crossed bats with the Immanuel "Boys." The score was 13 to 3 in favor of the Orphanage team. It has been hard for friends of the Immanuel team to decide why they suffered such a terrible defeat. They were either "too full" or "too young" as their ages ran from around 35 to 70. But as youth must have its fling, there are several members of the team suffering with stiff joints today! The game was attended by a large number of enthusiastic fans who thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the game.

Immanuel Sunday School Enjoys Picnic At Kennedy Home

The members of the Immanuel Baptist Sunday school and church, 175 strong, enjoyed the most delightful annual picnic of several years at the Kennedy Home yesterday.

The members of the Sunday school and their guests left the church promptly at 9 o'clock and had an enjoyable trip to the Home. Upon their arrival they were given a welcome by Supt. Huff. His welcome was so warm and cordial that everyone was made to feel perfectly at home from the moment of arrival.

The swimming pool which belongs to the home and which is one of the best in the state had been prepared for the visitors and the younger people enjoyed bathing and swimming before and after dinner.

While the children played on the wide and spacious lawn the older people enjoyed the shade and conversation. They also commented on the beauty of the Home expressing their appreciation for the generosity of Mr. William Kennedy and the late Mrs. Kennedy in their wonderful gift to the orphan children of the state. The Home will live long after this generation has passed away and will always be a monument to their memory.

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, Aug. 22.—The presence of a tropical storm in the Atlantic ocean, apparently off the east Florida coast, far out at sea, remained the sustaining feature of the market today. While it is likely for strong winds to be experienced along the South Atlantic coast since storm warnings have been ordered up from Jacksonville, Fla., to Cape Hatteras it is also likely for the disturbance to bring the needed rains for the eastern half of the belt. Meanwhile prospects are for cooler weather in the western half of the belt probably beneficial showers over north portion.

Tending to confirm with the average of private estimates as to the condition of the growing crop which averages 65.8 the average guess of 68 members of the New York Cotton Exchange is 65.9, based on the government formula for August 16, the foregoing deductions show about what the indicated yield would be on the conditions affixed, linters not included: If 63, probable crop 12,900,000 bales if 64, probable crop 12,800,000 bales if 65, probable crop 13,000,000 bales if 66, probable crop 13,200,000 bales. Since the trade has been educated in the belief that present prospects indicate a larger crop than was indicated two weeks ago, or more than 12,351,000 bales and since market has declined meanwhile, it is possible that an official estimate of about 12,700,000 bales has been about discounted for the present.

Assuming this to be the case, it is likely that market would probably advance on a forecast for 12,900,000 bales or less, probably decline if 13,000,000 bales or more are indicated, whereas a prediction for 12,800,000 would not have much effect on market, at least for the present. The government report will also furnish findings to August 16 of this year and probably comparison for corresponding date last year but comparative for last year is not available as yet. Tomorrow the New Orleans futures market will close at 9:45 a. m., instead of 10 a. m., as usual on Saturdays and the government report will be released at 10 a. m., or after the local market is closed.

BLUE BIRD FILLING STATION WILL OPEN SATURDAY, AUG. 23.

The Blue Bird Filling Station, Greenville's newest and one of its most modern service stations will open Saturday, Aug. 23.

The new filling station is located on the corner of Fourth and Washington streets opposite the Express office. It is beautiful in design being painted blue with a blue fence to its rear. On the approach to the station the attention of the public is at once attracted by its beauty. The station has three driveways and plenty of space. On the opening day each customer will be given free of charge their brand of cylinder oil.

In addition to its many features the filling station has a complete and attractively furnished rest room for ladies. This will prove very convenient to the traveling public.

The Golden Age of Baking Is Here

There is a certain type of person who is always sighing for the good old days. (They are always old, of course, or they can't be good.) But we hardly think you will find a baker among this brotherhood, for the modern automatic baking plants are as nearly perfect as anything can be in this mundane world of ours. Take, for instance, the interesting scene pictured in the drawing. This looks like the operation of stoking the fires of the infernal regions, but is nothing more than the daily routine in a medieval bakery.

The calm, cool, and collected gentleman in the large picture has no such troubles, however. All he does is to watch the golden, perfectly baked loaves, as they are discharged, 5,000 every hour, from the huge automatic travelling ovens in the Ward bakeries of 1924 America.

Or consider the busy Assyrian slave mixing dough in the lower right hand corner. His efforts are truly a "drop in the bucket" compared with the output of the huge automatic dough mixers in a Ward plant, which automatically and perfectly knead and mix 1,500 pounds of dough at a time.

Kiwanis Clubs of Chicago Relieve Hungry Children

Chicago, Aug. 22.—How to help under-privileged children along the path toward good citizenship is one of the problems the Kiwanis clubs of Chicago have studied for a number of years. Various movements with this end in view have been carried out with gratifying results, officers say, and now an effort toward a happier state of mind is to be made through the child's stomach.

"Scientists are generally agreed that the chances are decidedly against the undernourished boy or girl," they assert. "Hunger breeds unhappiness and unhappiness breeds bitterness against those more fortunately situated. Kiwanians believe that building up the bodies of these underfed little folk will tend to produce a cheerier outlook on life, in other words, that more good citizens will develop from a group of well fed children than will come from the same number of undernourished children."

"The Kiwanis clubs therefore perfected arrangements to distribute during the summer 1,000,000 free bottles of milk. Mothers in the poorer sections of the city were given coupon books entitling them to a given number of quarts of milk over a certain period, new books to be issued as needed."
