ALLEN SENTENCED SEVEN YEARS FOR LARCENY, ARSON

James Merritt and Robert Rawls, Negroes, Found Guilty of Same Charges and Sentenced to Four Years in Penitentiary

Ernest Allen, white, was found guilty of the charges of larceny and arson in last night's session of Superior court and sentenced three years in the penitentiary on the first charge and four years on the second charge. James Merritt and Robert Rawls, negroes, were found guilty of the same charges and sentenced to penitentiary for terms of one year and three years each.

The case against the three men consumed the Thursday afternoon session, and Friday session of court with an extra session last night. The jury deliberated about twenty minutes, returning with the verdict about 10:30 o'clock.

The charges against the defendants were the out growth of the attempted burning of Jason Joyner's store and the hold-up and robbery of the Cotten store at Bruce during the latter part of June.

At the time of the attempted burning of the store the crime was a mystery and remained one until one of the negroes who was believed to be connected with the robbing of the store confessed that he was guilty not only of the robbery but also of the attempted firing of the store. In his confession he implicated Allen and Rawls and two other negroes who made their escape.

Allen and the four negroes, after the robbery of the store, gave the officers one of the most interesting chases ever recorded in this and adjoining counties. After a chase of nearly a day Allen and one negro were arrested somewhere near Grifton while the other negro was arrested in Snow Hill. While in jail in Snow Hill through the diplomacy of the Greene county Sheriff the prisoner confessed the double crime. All three men were brought to Greenville and placed in the local jail to await trial.

Mr. Cotten's store was robbed early one morning. Shortly after opening of the store three negroes entered and called for coca colas. After complying with their request Mr. Peel, the clerk, was ordered to give to the negroes all the money in the store. While one negro held Mr. Peel at the point of a pistol the other, robbed the store and before departing cut the telephone wires. After the robbery they went down the road a short distance, joined Allen who was awaiting them and all left for parts unknown.

Just as soon as possible Mr. Peel notified officers who began searching for the guilty parties with absolutely no clue as to the identity of the guilty men except Mr. Peel's description of them. On the Farmville road they met the car containing Allen and the negroes and would have passed if one negro had not fired at their car. After a long chase through Pitt, Greene and Lenoir counties Allen and one negro were arrested.

The trial was largely attended the court room being packed at each session.

GRAND JURY MAKES SPLENDID REPORT

Report Jail Badly Crowded and Not in Sanitary Condition; Commends Judge Midgette for Impartial Manner Dealing Out Justice

State of North Carolina, County of Pitt, In Superior Court, August Term, 1924.

We, the Grand Jury for the August term of Pitt county Superior court, beg to submit the following report:

First: We have passed on all bills presented to us, except those in which we were unable to secure witnesses and have submitted said bills to the court.

Second: We have visited the offices of the Sheriff, the Clerk of the Court, Treasurer, the County Auditor, and the Register of Deeds. We would recommend that the Register of Deeds use an index book for the purpose of indexing the vital statistics Records, instead of the card index system, for which he is now using; we recommend this change, that it will not be long before the entire index system will be changed whereby this recommendation we feel will save the county the cost of further card indexing.

Third: We visited the county jail and find same badly crowded and not in as sanitary condition as we should like to see. We would advise that the County Welfare Officer and the Board of Health advise with the Sheriff after these conditions and to keep the county jail in as good condition as possible, especially crowded, we would advise the moving the garbage can often in hot weather.

Fourth: We visited the County Home and Convict Camps and found them in splendid condition, with the exception of the roof of one convict camp, for which we find material bought for the purpose of making the proper repairs.

We wish to thank the presiding judge, the solicitor and all court officers for the courtesy extended to us in our work as Grand Jurors, at this term. We wish to especially commend Judge Midgette for the expeditious manner of handling the business of this court and for the fair and impartial manner in which he deals out justice.

Respectfully submitted, A. W. ANGE, Foreman.

490 STUDENTS WERE ENROLLED DURING SUMMER SCHOOL

Director Meadows gives Board of Trustees an Interesting Summary of Work.

In the report of Director Meadows to the Board of Trustees of the Eastern Carolina Teachers College is an interesting summary of the various phases of the summer term and many interesting facts and figures. 490 students have been enrolled. One significant fact is that nearly one fifth of these registered in one of the four year college courses, and most of these are graduates of the two year normal course returning for advanced work. The Junior class numbered 37. Another significant fact is the number of students who have been enrolled preceding summers. There were 88 in the second year normal school course. There were very few who did not remain throughout the entire twelve weeks. The six day schedule, each day's schedule beginning at 8:00 o'clock made the work continue seventy-two days without a holiday except Sundays. The fine spirit showing great interest in work continued until the very close.

The practice work in the training school continued for eight weeks. 82 were enrolled. 19 student teachers did their practice teaching.

A number of interesting speakers have appeared before the students, some delivering special addresses and some presenting special causes, and there have been a number of special entertainments, some free and some for which a small admission was charged. Among these was an operetta presented by the students and coached by Messrs Potter and Deal of the faculty.

Special programs and demonstrations have been given at the assembly period. Among those especially good have been the musical programs the weekly demonstrations by the Physical Education Department, and those by the Model School, and the department of Primary Education.

The Director of Physical Education Department, Miss Mary Field, has conducted plays and games on the campus at the twilight hour. The various classes and organizations have had a great many social affairs. Special excursions by boat or truck went to Bath, to Riverside Park, on the Pamlico river below Washington, to the Greenville Country Club, and to a point down Tar river. Hiking parties for camp survivors have been popular. One hiking party ended at the Rotary Club, another at the Country Club.

Saturday and Monday evenings have been social evenings. Moving pictures have been shown on Saturday evenings.

The religious side of student life has been in the hands of the Y. W. C. A. and of the various churches in the town. Special Y. W. C. A. services have been held on every Friday evening, and on the Sunday evening except when the students attended union services in the town.

The Librarian, Miss Helen Gray has made a special report as follows:

The college library has increased materially this past year, both in its use to the students, and in the addition of books and periodicals. About 800 books, including an encyclopaedia, and seven periodicals have been added to the library. The library also receives the free government bulletins. The library has been organized and by the end of the summer quarter, the most of will be fully catalogued by the Dewey Decimal System. During the summer quarter, the use of the library by the students has increased greatly, and especially has it been used during the evening hours, much more than in the winter term.

BEDOUINS OF JEWISH ORIGIN ASK RETURN TO ANCIENT FAITH

Jerusalem, Aug. 30.—Part of a Bedouin tribe in Palestine numbering about 1,000 persons, claiming to be descendants of Jews who remained in Palestine following the destruction of the Temple have applied to the government for help in their efforts to return to Judaism.

The tribe known as "Arab el Simalmi" is scattered over Upper Galilee. Some of the tribesmen are at present encamped at Tabha, on the northern shore of Lake Tiberias, whence they addressed their request to the Rabis of Safed.

After walking in vain for action on the part of the Rabis of Safed who apparently were none too anxious to precipitate a proselytizing activity of such importance, 25 chiefs of the tribe submitted a written application to the government.

A British official sent to investigate the request and examine the claims, reported that while there may be some doubts as to the authenticity of the documents, the earnestness of the Bedouins' desire to embrace, or to re-embrace, Judaism, was unquestionable.

The authorities are understood to be proceeding very cautiously, fearing the effect upon the Moslem and Christian population of a wholesale conversion of the tribe.

A stage with a seating capacity of 4,000 persons has been placed in the municipal auditorium, where the main sessions of the convention will be held.

The Legion Auxiliary sessions will be held in the Central Presbyterian church and the Forty and Eight will meet at the Junior Pioneer Hall.

Judge Kenesaw M. Landis will address the Legion Auxiliary. The outstanding feature will be the states dinner on Tuesday evening at the Masonic Temple.

Memorial services will be conducted by Mrs. Dora Platner of Ellis, Kansas, national chairman of the Gold Star committee.

American Legion Convention Be Held Asheville Sept. 1-2. Raleigh, Aug. 29.—Approximately 5,000 members of the American Legion and its auxiliary are expected to attend the state convention of that organization in Asheville on September 1 and 2.

ANALYTICAL SURVEY RUMANIA'S CONTROL CONDITIONS IN SOUTH OF MINORITY SECTS CAR. TOBACCO BELT IS UNDER INQUIRY

(By R. W. McFarland).
Fairmont, N. C., Aug. 29, 1924.
This the fourth week of tobacco selling this year in this section of the so-called "South Carolina Tobacco Belt," has been a very heavy one in poundage—the largest of the season.

The million pound record was broken, but everything moved along in apple-pie order on this the tobacco market of all star artists.

Total Sales and Averages.

Total sales for the week ending Thursday night, 1,085,720 pounds, which sold for $211,404.08; an average of $19.47. Sales for the season to date 3,463,600 pounds which sold for $631,571.93, making the average for the season $18.56. These figures are taken from the Record Book of the Secretary of the Board of Trade and represents the entire sales, scrap and trash tobacco included. It is the practice of some markets, to we are informed and believe, to cut of their reports to the press the scrap and trash, thereby making a better showing as to an average, but the Fairmont Tobacco Board of Trade includes the scrap and trash in their report. This is as it should be, for the farmer and the general public are entitled to facts and should know the truth and the whole truth.

Comparison With Last Season.

Last season the entire crop in the South Carolina belt averaged $20.94. It's not going to average that much this season, for lots of the best tobacco has been sold and from now on tips will come in big quantities. Lots of them have showed up this week. They are selling from $6 to $25, with a few fancy grades bringing from $25 to $41, but these are like angels visits, "few and far between." We predict that the crop in the South Carolina belt this season will average around $19.

Leading the Life of a Dog.

While the average above predicted of $19, may appear to be a small average in this day of high living, yet if the quality is considered, it is indeed a fair price, for every grade is fully thirty per cent off in quality. The big companies, both foreign, domestic and independents in their efforts to strain prices are putting in grades of tobacco that in ordinary years they would grade several grades below.

Every basket of tobacco offered seems to look the best the first time. In other words, it will not bear "re-handling." The result is, that the small speculator who has made his living heretofore by buying grades of tobacco and improving them, is this year, as one of them tersely expressed it, "leading the life of a dog."

Percentage Sold.

In this belt fully sixty per cent of the crop has been sold. Some estimate sixty-five percent. The opening of the eastern North Carolina markets next Tuesday will in no wise "cripple" any of the old established markets of this belt, as all the large buying companies in this belt will remain in the South Carolina tobacco belt until the markets of western North Carolina and Virginia open, which will be October 1st this year.

A Delightful Barbecue.

The annual barbecue of the Fairmont Tobacco Board of Trade was held last night at the plantation of Mr. Wright Liggett, about 3 miles from Fairmont. Every man connected with the tobacco industry of Fairmont was present, fully three hundred in number. And Mr. Liggett certainly knows how to cook barbecue. We never attended a more sumptuous repast. The spirit of genuine Roberson county hospitality was in the air and everything that it took to make barbecue what it should be, Mr. Liggett had it. Just before adjourning, Mr. A. S. Thompson, prominent Fairmont business man and farmer, mounted an im-

Bucharest, Aug. 29.—Considerable interest is being displayed in the present visit to Rumania of the Anglo-American delegation for the study of the condition of the minority churches of Transylvania. The delegation is composed of four members, and includes Dr. L. C. Cornish, of Boston, secretary of the American United and Association; Dr. Charles Schaefer, of Philadelphia, of the Returned Churches of the United States; Dr. Sylvester Beach, of Princeton, of the Association of Presbyterian Churches; and the Rev. Dr. A. S. Horn, of Leicester, England, of the British and Foreign Unitarian Association.

The members of the delegation after such preparatory study as was possible in Bucharest, have traveled more than 1,000 miles in Transylvania, and held conferences in different parts of the province, going freely and unaccompanied from place to place in pursuit of their investigation, and sparing no effort to arrive at the true condition of affairs in respect to the attitude of the Rumanian government towards the so-called minority churches.

In an address a few days ago, returning thanks to the officials of the Rumanian government for their readiness in answering questions and in supplying such data as the delegates asked for in order to give them an insight into the government's attitude and policies towards the religious minorities, Dr. Horn said:

"We are of the opinion that conditions have improved during the past two years. We understand the enormous difficulties of this problem, a problem complex of religion and race. I cannot say that we are fully satisfied with the conditions—as we found them—of the minority churches, but it seems to us that the Rumanian government wants to satisfy all reasonable and just demands."

The commission has announced that it will prepare a joint and complete preliminary report of its investigations, in which will be set forth in detail all cases of alleged abuses that were brought to its attention. The government will then be given ample opportunity to refute or explain any charges that may be brought and, following this the final report of the commission will be published in Great Britain and the United States.

This report should be extremely valuable from two angles. It will probably lead, or at least help in leading, to the redress of such abuses of power as may at present exist and at the same time, provide the outside world with a complete and unbiased report on the condition of the minority races and religions in the province of Transylvania.

NEW YORK SUBWAYS EFFICIENCY IMPRESSES THIS GERMAN MAGNATE

Berlin, Aug. 28.—The speed and snap of the New York subway service impressed me more than the much heralded skyline," declared Herr Pawel, general manager of the Berlin underground railway, after his return from a trip through the United States. The close sequence of the trains and the rapidity with which they were operated during the rush hours, the calm and the discipline of the crowds, jamming the stations, surprised him too.

Even the turnstiles made a hit with Herr Pawel, who, in a newspaper article, contends that attempts of New Yorkers to cheat the administration by inserting fake nickles were tried but seldom. Nevertheless he does not recommend the turnstile system for Berlin.

provised platform and expressed his appreciation of the occasion. He was followed with short talks by Mr. R. J. Davis, Mr. E. J. Chambers, Mr. Henry Wood the president of the Fairmont Tobacco Board of Trade and R. W. McFarland. It was indeed a happy occasion.

Knowing that the eyes of the world are upon him, and that he, and he alone, must fix the fate of "Dickie" Loeb and "Babe" Leopold, slayers of little Robert Franks, of Chicago, in a decision that will be flashed around the world, it is small wonder that Judge John R. Caverly showed the terrible strain of the long drawn-out hearing. When he retired into seclusion to make his momentous decision Mrs. Caverly accompanied him to cheer him up.

NEXT TOTAL ECLIPSE OF SUN TO OCCUR JANUARY 24, 1925

Washington.—While no total eclipse of the sun is listed for this year, one of the best opportunities for observing a total shadow of Old Sol's face will be afforded the eastern part of the country early in the coming year, officials at the United States Naval Observatory here say. On Jan. 24, 1925, the sun will be in total eclipse. This will start in the sunrise just beyond Lake Superior, Dutch East Indies, and the lower part of the path will be on into New York lands of the Philippines.

Valuable Roman Armor Uncovered By Ploughman

Karagath, Bulgaria.—A peasant plowing near this village turned up one of the most interesting archeological finds made in recent years. When the plow struck an obstruction the peasant found it was a slab of marble. Lifting this, a marble tomb was disclosed and within lay a suit of bronze armor (a Roman knight, together with shield, sword, spear and several utensils, including an exquisite vase.

Director Vukob, of the National Museum, and Mr. Popoff, an expert on Greek antiquities, estimate that the find dates back to the pre-Alexandrine period. They surmise that he may have been a dweller of a Hellenic colony on the Black Sea coast.

On the helmet, well preserved and of a high order of workmanship, were the figures of Apollo, Pallas Athene, Poseidon, Minerva and Mars. One carpiece found bore the figure of Zeus with the trident. The other car-piece was lacking.

The helmet was silvered, and some of the white metal still adhered. The human figure that once bore the helmet and carried the weapons was entirely absent, except in the form of ashes in small amount.

"The knight who wore the armor was evidently a high personage," said Director Vukob. "Therefore, after his body had been deposited in the grave it was burned, an early instance of cremation."

Southeastern District N. C. Ed. Asso. Will Meet in Wilmington

Wilmington, Aug. 28.—The Southeastern district of the North Carolina Education Association will hold its annual meeting in this city on November 21 and 22, according to an announcement made here by Mrs. Harvey Boney of Rose Hill, chairman of the district association.

Mrs. Boney had a conference last week with the various heads of the departments of the district and laid initial plans for the November meeting. It was decided that the head of each department should assume the responsibility of arranging the special features for the visiting teachers who will be interested in the phase of education which each head supervises. These heads and their departments include Miss Claire Lathrop, Wilmington, Primary; Miss Douglas Hand, Burgaw, Grammar; Malecom G. Little, Wilmington, High Schools; C. D. Garrett, Warsaw, city school superintendents.

The district meeting was held in this city last year and it was said that it proved such a success that it is planned to have district meetings regularly every year so that the teachers may familiarize themselves with the work in which they are interested by getting the views and experiences of others.

MONDAY IS LABOR DAY

Labor, freed of the restricted classification it sometimes employs, expresses the greatest common factor in human life. The being who, having health, does not labor is not and cannot be happy, for life inactive numbs the imagination and stunts the soul. That halted growth which in a child-minded adult excites in these days profound sympathy and helpfulness, becomes tragic when the contraction of development is moral.

Labor Day is born, it is true, of that Labor which takes on a specific grouping of society. None will desire to minimize the high dignity of the very meaneast of tasks, nor can it be other than a gratifying conclusion that Labor today embraces a wide range of splendid citizens, high in intelligence, energetic in effort, and in the supreme sense contributors to civilization.

But neither is there anything in the day or in the significance it enjoys to prevent every citizen from reflecting on that larger labor which is all of life and which circumscribes all of worthy humanity. Perhaps by recognizing this broader phase it is possible to reinstate that mutual understanding and encouragement which marked the distant days when specialized society did not exist, when every man was his own servant. It may be that in acknowledging the common inheritance of toil labor may find it useful to study labor, and so discover that the problems which stretch themselves through the daily news from year's end to year's end are everybody's problems.

It seems to be true that the ultimate peace and goodwill of society depends on this classification. There is no available argument to lessen the vital importance to every member of society of solving the troubled condition in which Labor struggles so often for rights that seem obviously just and yet so difficult to achieve without peril to the economic structure.

This economic structure itself, with all its hated terms and phrases, is, when all is said, the machinery of existence not for Labor alone nor for Capital alone, but for everybody.

Labor Day, glorious monument that it is to the sturdy effort on which great nations of home-folks are erected, may serve also for a day of rededication of every citizen to the study of the life around him, and the great problem of existence which today is phrased in terms of economic mysteries.

It is everybody's business, and when every man and woman attends to this business, the problems of society may hope to be dissolved in understanding.

AN ECONOMIC WASTE

An investigation into the seasonal operations of the building trades arrived at the conclusion that custom, not climate, is mainly responsible for seasonal idleness in the construction industries. This was more true before the world war than now but there is still much room for improvement.

Formerly, and even now in many quarters, all building ceased when rainy or cold weather set in. The result was that all building was crowded into the summer months and the carpenters, bricklayers, painters, steelworkers and other members of the building trades were out of employment two-thirds of the time. High rents and much suffering through unemployment were natural consequences.

War emergency taught the builders that wooden structures can be erected and painted, that concrete can be poured and that steel can be fabricated in cold weather as was an economic mistake to regulate building operations according to the seasons.

The fact that every spring precipitates a building boom is indicative that custom still controls the building trades and that having conquered climate man has the subjugation of custom still before him.

Chief malefactors in this respect are the small builders. Construction work on skyscrapers and industrial plants continues unabated through the seasons of rain and snow, but the individual home-builders engage in heated competition on the coming of the first blue bird for the always limited number of carpenters, stonemasons and painters and rents go up in order to give landlords a fair return on their investment in peak wages and building material prices.

Noting that the construction industries involve five billions of dollars annually and employ millions of men, one must acknowledge the economic need of divorcing the seasons from the building trades. There is no more reason for building houses, barns and chicken coops only in summer than there is for everybody observing a single moving day.

THE HOAX FOR THE DULLARD

An energetic young man lost his job on a New York newspaper the other day after his editors had convinced themselves that he had hoaxed them into printing a fake, a wild, and imaginative yarn about the operations of a "rum palace" just outside the 12-mile limit. While the story lasted it had millions of tongues a-wagging. When it exploded it blew up with a bang.

The sophisticate will err who supposes that the grief of the newspaper was that its hoax was exposed. The newspaper, be it recorded, did the exposing on its own account. The day has long since passed when a self-respecting newspaper finds it necessary or profitable to impose upon its readers. Persons who lightly speak of the need of a newspaper for "something to fill up" merely reveal their unfamiliarity with the great quantity of copy that is thrown into the wastebaskets because of overcrowded columns. Nor, in this busy day of intricate systems of communication, is there any dearth of interesting important news developments every hour.

So it happens that the newspaper that knowingly prints a hoax, or a reporter who devises one, is convicted forthwith of stupidity and dullness. There is so much news to be written, there are so many interesting things to tell about, that the news men who can't fill their waking hours with the finding of them are too dull for words. The truly inventive mind will find a real story where the unseeing, stupid fellow "invents" one. Because newspaper people recognize this truth, there are few fakes and hoaxes in this high-pressure age.

WILL REMAIN CONSERVATIVE

The weather bureau at Washington does not attempt to make long range predictions. It deprecates those forecasts put out by weather prophets such as are found in many almanacs. At the same time the bureau considers it not inherently impossible, it is stated in effect in a bulletin just issued, that in time enough will be learned of the influences governing the weather to enable meteorologists to cast eyes ahead and cover a greater range of time than at present, but that era is not yet. Until forecasting over a considerable period can be done with assurance that accuracy will be demostarted, the bureau will adhere to its present conservative course.

Without casting any reflections on the exactness with which the official forecasters now operate the conservative course seems the wise one. It is admitted that it is impossible in any one locality, subject to sudden changes, to predict for even a few hours with any assurance that the weather will be as stated. While the majority of forecasts are accurate, there are enough failures to cause the bureau to refuse to take chances on covering a week or a month.

Possibly the weather bureau often is censured unjustly, but it is certain that forecasting is not yet an exact science. When observers are able to foretell without error the state of the weather for the ensuing 24 hours, it will be time enough to resort to longer range predictions.

Living cost going higher, says a Harvard professor. It will not be a novelty.

In opposing the reparations plan the German Nationalist party appears not to care if a bad situation becomes worse.

With eight presidential candidates in the field many will run but only one will be chosen.

With a woman governor the executive offices in Texas are sure to get a thorough scrubbing.

The Modern Sword Of Damocles

Chinese Woman Bandit is Put to Horrible Death

Shanghai. — "Old Mother" Djao, said to be the most notorious and bloodthirsty bandit the province of Shantung ever produced, has been executed at Ichowfu in Shantung, according to reports received in Shanghai by mission organizations. These advices add that the dreaded feminine bandit underwent that most fearsome of Chinese death penalties, the ling-che or in English, the scolding process.

Forty-seven years old and an expert horsewoman, "Old Mother" Djao led a band of several hundred outlaws who terrorized a broad area. It is related of her that last summer she planned an attack against Ichowfu after calling to her aid two added groups of bandits. They had assembled at a place near the village of Balihsiang when a homeguard of villagers, known as the "Big Knife Society," apprised of their purpose, attacked them and suffered utter defeat.

The villagers were driven back into Balihsiang and the bandits followed them. Then the gates of the village were closed and every man was shot down. Sixty women and children then were lined up, and "Old Mother" Djao was asked what to do with them. Her orders to kill them all were carried out with the result that every man, woman and child who was within the walls after the gates had been closed was slain. Even the cattle and dogs of the village suffered the same fate.

Ling-che is simply vivisection done by experts in such a manner that the victim survives in a conscious state through hours of a terrible ordeal.

"The Covered Wagon" Biggest Film Produced

One of the greatest photoplays ever made, will be the popular verdict when the motion picture public sees James Cruze's colossal Paramount production, "The Covered Wagon" which will be the feature at White's Theatre next Monday. That is the prediction made not only by Mr. Cruze himself, but by those who have seen the picture and who hail it for its bigness, impressiveness and extraordinary realism.

Perfect realism, a strong love theme, tremendous dramatic action, thrills that are utterly unlike the ordinary sort; a background of real newness to the screen, where the camera has never been before ground; all these facts, coupled with the splendid cast of virtually 3,000 men and women, certainly indicate a picture that is worthy of any director's enthusiasm. And James Cruze is enthusiastic. He has believed in the picture from the start and with each day of shooting, sometimes under conditions almost unbelievable difficult, his enthusiasm has grown. Nor is he alone in his belief, for every person in the drama of the old time western days shares his convictions.

The story with the vast sweep of the western plains for background, across which wind the "covered wagons" with their human freight, is dramatic with the interest well sustained, and the story unfolds like a stirring panorama of an earlier day.

The theme deals with the adventures of a gallant young officer of the American army forced by a rival's enmity to clear his name of an undeserved stain, that of being a cattle-thief and to win his bride under heavy difficulties. J. Warren Kerrigan is the man, Lois Wilson, the girl, and Alan Hale, the scheming villain. This trio does the major part of the acting, and to them along with the director goes the credit for this superb production. Others in the cast are Charles Ogle, Ernest Torrence, Tully Warshaw, Guy Olliver and John Fox.

The action is exceptionally thrilling, the incidents being dramatic and impressive. These include the fording of the Kaw River by the wagon train, the Indian attack and massacre, the prairie fire, the buffalo hunt, the fierce battle between Banion and Woodhull, the parting of the trains and tragic death of Woodhull. The action is speedy and thrilling.

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, Aug. 30.—With the passing of August during which only about normal deterioration has taken place as a whole, there is every assurance of the making of a good crop this year with anything like fairly good weather during the harvest season, as the critical period has vanished, with the plant continuing to make satisfactory progress in nearly all sections of the cotton region. With the coming of September, cooler weather and needed rains are likely to develop, at any rate lower temperatures and morning dews are probable next month, which would be of benefit to late cotton. Aside of possible damage by storms in the near future and frost scares later in the season, the one thing to be guarded against is the possibility of too much rain in the interior next month, which, while making possible a larger crop, would lower the grade. The latest bulletin regarding the tropical disturbance indicates that the storm was centered last night northwest of Porto Rico moving northwestward, at approximately 10 miles an hour. The future movement of the disturbance is uncertain and since it is reported moving slowly, and as slow moving storms generally increase in intensity, there is still danger of it moving into the Gulf by way of the Florida Straits, although it is now most likely that it will move up the Atlantic in the path of the previous hurricane, owing to it having changed from west, northwest, as was first reported, to northwestward. Returns to the New York commercial average the condition of the crop at 50.9 indicating a yield, according to their calculations, of only 12,100,000 bales exclusive of linters, but on the government acreage and "pars" for September 8, a condition of 50.9 would point to a production of about 12,900,000 bales without linters, or about the same government forecast yield of 12,956,000 bales exclusive linters as of August 10. Barring possible damage by the tropical storm, the market looks lower, and will likely be sold, particularly on bulges, until trade buying becomes more urgent.

Holiday Liverpool.

The weather—Temperatures continue very warm over entire belt, light rainfall reported in Vicksburg district, scattered showers reported in Atlanta district.

Forecast—West Texas and Oklahoma part cloudy all balance entire belt generally fair.

Storm still threatening cotton region. Last night tropical storm was centered 135 miles northwest of St. Thomas moving northwest, approximately 10 miles an hour.

Germany ratified Dawes plan. Holiday on all American markets Monday, Sept. 1st account labor day.

COTTON.

Movement for week at 30 counted interior towns. Receipts 134,000 vs. 166,000 shipments 107,000 vs. 136,000. Stock increased 27,000 vs. 30,000. Total stock 191,00 vs. 295,000.

GRAIN LETTER.

We are having wide fluctuations in all grain markets every day. This is the time of the year when wheat and oat, are being marketed. I believe trade should buy the market on the good breaks and take profits when in shape. There is a big movement of winter wheat which I look to let up from now on but there is an enormous export business going on at all times which offsets the large receipts. The world's wheat shortage in time will make high prices.

Request Be Made For Return $50,000 To Wake County

Raleigh, Aug. 30.—A request for the return of $50,000 has been made by Sheriff D. Bryant Harrison of Wake county to the county treasurer, Miss Lottie Lewis, on the grounds that the schools and roads were given a larger share of the tax collections than that to which they were entitled. The amount requested he says, was incorrectly distributed.

While the statement of the sheriff is not questioned by the treasurer, she has declined to make the refund until authorized to do so by the county commissioners.

Percy J. Olive, county attorney, stated that he had no information regarding the subject. The matter will be taken up on Monday when the county commissioners meet.
