TOBACCO OPENS AT 20 CENTS AVERAGE

Tobacco Market Breaks Record For Opening Day

More Than Three Quarters of a Million Pounds Offered at Today's Sales; Prices Are Good, Considering Grades and Average Will Surpass Opening of Last Year; Farmers Satisfied

Witnessed by more than ten thousand visitors the Greenville Auction Market opened its 1924-1925 season this morning with the largest sales ever before held here on the opening day.

The total number of pounds on the floors of the six big warehouses today will pass the three quarters of a million mark and considering the grades of the tobacco the prices were good and growers were apparently well satisfied and business men very optimistic over the outcome of this year's market.

The grades of today's offerings were as a whole very poor and much of the tobacco was in very high order and subject to immediate damage if not properly handled but all manufacturers were represented by three full sets of buyers who went to their task from the very start and estimates based on the earlier sales indicate that the average today will be over twenty cents per pound, which is about 3 cents above last year's opening. Prices ranged from 8 to 55 cents per pound.

Owing to the hard surfaced roads leading into Greenville from every direction the offerings today were from a widely scattered section many counties being represented while the visitors here to witness the opening sales were from all sections of this and adjoining states.

With a record breaking sale for the opening day indications are that the Greenville Market this year will draw from a greater territory than ever before and the best season in the history of the market is forecast.

WILSON MARKET SELLS OVER MILLION POUNDS

Wilson, Sept. 2.—The Eastern North Carolina auction tobacco markets opened today. More than a million pounds of tobacco was on the floors of the warehouses here. At noon warehousemen said that the average would be about 22 1-2 cents per pound. The lower grades are said to be bringing good prices.

GOLDSBORO HAS GOOD OPENING

Goldensboro, Sept. 2.—The local tobacco markets opened today with 225,000 pounds offered on the floors of the auction houses and 20,000 pounds delivered at the co-operative receiving station. The average is estimated at 21 cents.

ROCKY MOUNT REPORTS THREE QUARTERS MILLION

Rocky Mount, Sept. 2.—The local tobacco market opened today with approximately 750,000 pounds of tobacco. Although no accurate figures could be obtained at noon today observers estimated that the average price paid on today's market would range between 20 and 25 cents per pound.

Greensboro Youth Killed By Auto

Greensboro, Sept. 2.—James Osborne, 12 years old delivery boy for a local pressing establishment, was killed shortly before 11 o'clock when he rode his bicycle into the automobile of S. F. Huffine, finger print expert of the local police department. The accident occurred at the intersection of Elmer and St. Belmeere streets. No blame is attached to the officer by eye witnesses who declared that the boy was riding his bicycle in one direction and looking in another

GERMANY MAKES FIRST REPARATIONS PAYMENT TODAY UNDER DAWES PLAN

Berlin, Sept. 2.—Germany today made her initial reparations payment of 20,000,000 gold marks under the Dawes Reparations plan. The payment was received here by Leon Frazier, assistant to Owen D. Young, agent general for Reparations payments.

DAVIS BEGINS HIS CAMPAIGN IN WEST

Nominee Will Spend Sunday in Lincoln, Neb., With His Running Mate, Governor Bryan

Aboard the Davis Special Train Enroute to Chicago, Mt. Vernon, Ohio, Sept. 2.—Having declared in his Labor Day address in favor of a new deal in the handling of industrial disputes and for ratification of the Child Labor Amendment, John W. Davis came into the west today to state more fully his position with respect to farm relief, tariff, conservation and other issues.

SPEED KING GOES TO DEATH A HERO

Speeding at Rate of 125 Miles Boyer Drives Machine Over Top of Bowl Rather Than Into Crowds Below

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 2.—Joe Boyer, speed king of the automobile world, went to his death on the Altoona speedway yesterday a hero, it became known here today when the last words of the pilot were disclosed by the doctors who amputated his crushed legs.

Examination of the wrecked machine showed that a blow out caused the accident which according to the verdict of racing men was little short of miraculous that the car speeding at 125 miles per hour did not run down the slope and crash into the hundreds of spectators massed in the field below.

The circulation of the opinion of the racing experts brought out the real story, the fact that Boyer had deliberately sacrificed himself to save others.

"I'm glad I saved them," the driver told those who carried him to the hospital. Fully conscious he nodded his head as friends told how Joe was pinned in the wreckage of his machine as it hung from the upper guard rail of the track.

The body of the driver will be sent to his home in Detroit late today. Mrs. Boyer, who was on an automobile tour, was informed of the accident yesterday at London, Ontario.

GREATER PITT INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT EDITION WINS APPROVAL ROBERT H. WRIGHT

President of East Carolina Teachers College, Greenville Rotary Club, State Director of National Educational Association, Expresses Belief That Booster Edition Will Greatly Benefit Community

Dr. Robert H. Wright, is enthusiastic over the value to this community of the approaching "Greater Pitt Industrial Development" Edition to be issued by The Daily Reflector.

He is convinced that the nation-wide distribution of carefully presented facts about Greenville and the surrounding section will result in large gains for the whole section.

Dr. Wright said this morning: "I am in thorough sympathy with the move of The Reflector in preparing an edition that will contain a complete survey of our resources, and the advantages that Greenville has to offer the homeseeker, the investor, and to those that would desire factory sites.

"I believe that if the outside world knew the facts and figures as they are that it would certainly react in favor of our city.

"Publicity has been the means of building many cities in America.

"The fact that our great national organizations are continually spending millions for publicity and that they get results convinces me of the possibility of good form from a comprehensive and detailed edition of our resources, properly placed before the industrial leaders of the nation. I understand that copies of this edition will be sent to every section of the United States, and with the various feature stories of Greenville and Pitt County, properly illustrated there is no doubt in my mind but that we should feel very good results in a short time.

"A community's development and progress is a matter of selling, and the newspaper is a most potent factor in such a campaign. It must be recognized that a community advertising campaign is different from the ordinary campaign which advertising agencies are called upon to conduct. There are no two cities or communities just alike. There is every reason why Greenville should grow and prosper, and no reason why it should not. Let us picture Greenville as a big, prosperous, progressive, throbbing city as our goal, then let us achieve that goal.

"That your forth coming edition will show enterprise and progress on the part of our people is a foregone conclusion and I sincerely trust that the success of the edition will be far greater than anything heretofore put forth in Eastern Carolina." Sept. 2, 1924.

PHILLIPS ELECTED STATE COMMANDER OF LEGION TODAY

American Legion Convention Which Has Been in Session in Asheville Closes Today

Asheville, Sept. 2.—Fayetteville was unanimously chosen as next meeting place, and Major Wade H. Phillips, of Lexington was elected commander of the North Carolina Division of the American Legion at its closing session here this afternoon.

Asheville, Sept. 2.—Aid of the American Legion in enforcement of the law in North Carolina, if he is elected governor, was solicited by Angus W. McLean, Democratic candidate for governor, in an address here today. Mr. McLean's address was in the nature of an appeal for law enforcement and a review of the work of North Carolina in the world war rather than a political effort.

The ugliest blot upon the record of America is the increase of crime and lawlessness, the former chairman of the War Finance Corporation told the veterans. He said if he was elected governor he would do all in his power to find and employ a remedy for this situation and added:

"I would not say my self very fortunate if I knew that I would have the active co-operation of your organization in this important undertaking." Mr. McLean said it seemed to be a growing tendency on the part of a large number of citizens to disobey certain classes of the laws relating to public welfare. He cited the "Stop Law" as an instance. "Unless this tendency is eradicated," he said, it will gradually break down the law abiding morale of the people (Continued on page 5)

MORE CHICAGO BOY MURDERERS.

ANTHONY VALANIS & WILLIAM LYDEN

Anthony Valanis, 19, and William Lyden, 16, have confessed to the Chicago police that they strangled Mrs. Bessie Gaenssen to death last April in her home in an effort to obtain money they thought she possessed. The boys alleged they had been aided by two young girls who recently escaped from a girls' home and have not been recaptured.

W. H. DAIL RETIRES FROM AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS IN STATE

Sells Dail - Overland Interests to Willys Overland Automobile Company

Mr. W. H. Dail, of this city has sold his interests in the Dail-Overland Company, North Carolina Distributor, for the Willys-Knight and Overland cars to the Willys Overland automobile company, the transfer being effective yesterday, according to an announcement appearing in the Charlotte Observer at which place was located the headquarters of the Dail-Overland company.

The article as appearing in the Charlotte paper follows:

The Willys-Overland automobile company will take over the Dail-Overland company after September 1, making Charlotte a distributing branch of the organization for both North and South Carolina, through a deal now being consummated, details of which were announced last night by W. T. Hoppe, the president and general manager of the Dail-Overland company.

W. H. Dail, Jr., president of the Dail-Overland company, will retire from the automobile business, other interests at his home in Greenville, N. C., claiming his attention.

Through the transfer, the Willys-Overland company becomes the owner of all cars, parts, furniture and equipment of the Dail-Overland company, the consideration totalling more than $400,000.

The Dail-Overland company now is controlling the distribution of Willys-Overland products in 75 counties of this state, the total number of machines last year approximating 3,600, the value of cars and parts handled through Charlotte reaching in the neighborhood of $4,500,000.

Double Distribution.

The transfer, taking South Carolina from the Atlanta branch of the Willys-Overland company and adding it to the territory governed by the Charlotte branch, is expected to double both the number of cars and the value of the products handled through the local organization. This according to the market last year, would raise the value of Willys-Overland products handled through Charlotte to between $9,000,000 and $10,000,000.

Only one other automobile firm in the city will have the same territory after the transfer is completed, it is stated.

The Greenville, N. C., and Raleigh branches of the Dail-Overland company will be discontinued, Mr. Hoppe announced, the Charlotte office handling the distribution of cars in that territory through dealers who will be named within the next few days.

The transfer will increase the number of dealers receiving machines and parts from the local branch from 86 to between 140 and 160, Mr. Hoppe said, it being purposed to keep the present dealer members of the organization intact.

Organization Unaffected.

The organization, itself, will not be affected through the transfer, Mr. Hoppe, instead of being vice-president and general manager of the Dail-Overland company, becoming branch manager of the Charlotte organization of the Willys-Overland company.

Ralph Warren, of the sales department of the Willys-Overland headquarters in Toledo, O., F. A. Ford, of the comptroller department, and C. A. Niefer, of the parts department of the same organization, have been in Charlotte since Sunday working out the details of the transfer. This, they expected last night to complete before noon today.

The Charlotte deal follows close on the heels of the opening by the Willys-Overland company or similar branches within the past few months in Detroit, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Louisville, Des Moines, and Denver. (Continued on page 6)

TROOPS WITHDRAW FROM HERRIN, ILL.

Herrin, Ill., Sept. 2.—State troops which have been on duty here since Saturday's clash between the Ku Klux Klan and the sheriff and deputies, in which six persons were killed, prepared early today to return to Springfield. Seventeen troopers under command of Captain H. M. Bigelow were ordered to remain in Herrin until relieved by Sheriff George Galligan.

The order for the withdrawal of the troops came yesterday after State Attorney Duty, had expressed his disapproval of the action to Adjutant General Carlos Black.

Dr. J. D. Black, superintendent of the Herrin Hospital and John Craig, held under $10,000 bond in connection with the slayings Saturday were arraigned in city court today for murder before Judge Bowen against whom a murder warrant has also been issued.

Including yesterday's developments was a statement issued by the ministerial association of Williamson county in which the state attorney and sheriff were classed as incompetents and their removal from office suggested. At the time the ministers association sought to draw up its opinion into a resolution State Attorney Duty, in Marion, denounced the association terming them friendly to the klan and charging Adjutant General Black with being a member of the hooded order.

MODESTY OF HUGHES TRIBUTE UNKNOWN POILU EVOKES PRAISE

Paris, Sept. 2.—Secretary Hughes earned the good will of the photographers while in Paris by the gracious way in which he allowed himself to be photographed. Movies as well as "still" operators took him on his arrival, at his departure and on all the occasions when he appeared in public, excepting one, and that one exception, of which they earned only when the Secretary of State was leaving, they held against him as an indirect blow at his business.

Mr. Hughes made the usual pilgrimage to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier under the Arc de Triomphe without letting them know anything about it, and was the first visiting statesman to pay his tribute without previous announcement and without more or less form and show.

"If that example takes," said the photographer for a French illustrated paper, "the Unknown Soldier will have to be marked off our list."

The people of Paris generally rather expected that one of the first things the Secretary of State would do in Paris would be to decorate the Unknown Soldier's tomb. This tribute has now become a sort of official rite that every visiting statesman is expected to perform. It is generally announced beforehand, and photographers are present always, and the movie operators are also on hand whenever the persons involved are of interstitial importance. There was some surprise, even in official circles, that Mr. Hughes seemed to overlook this delicate attention to the French dead, and when it became known that someone had placed an anonymous wreath on the tomb bearing simply this inscription, "From a Friend," it didn't occur to anyone that Secretary Hughes was the anonymous "friend."

That a public man would pay his tribute without any advertising for himself, and without seeing that a record of it was preserved for posterity through the photograph was not plausible. When it was confirmed beyond doubt that the wreath was indeed placed there by the Secretary of State everyone agreed that the act was admirable in its simplicity and well worth following—that is everyone but the photographers.

League Plans to Care Well for Journalists

Geneva.—The League of Nations is assuming that some day virtually all the nations of the world will be affiliated with it, and it is planning a building program to meet all possible ultimate demands.

The new conference hall will seat 65 national delegations, allowing five persons to represent each country and have in addition ample space for secretaries, galleries, lobbies, smoking rooms, cloak rooms, vestibules, committee rooms and general offices.

The press is to be well cared for according to present plans. Reports will have a special gallery in the assembly hall, a room where delegates may come at any time to talk with them, a large writing room and special facilities for the installation of radio, telephone and telegraph instruments.

The controlling idea of the League is that the organization belongs to the people, even if its assemblies are confined to representatives of governments. Hence, it is held, all possible steps should be taken to reach the public through the press so that the people may know what the League is doing. This explains the purpose to provide extensive accommodations for journalists.

New Hampshire Voters Go to Polls in Primaries

Concord, Sept. 2.—Two newspaper publishers are among the candidates for nomination for the major office in the state primary today. Major Frank Knox, publisher of the Manchester Union and Leader, is contesting the Republican nomination for governor with Captain John G. Winant, who has served in both branches of the legislature. can nominee for congress in the first district, with Fletcher Hale, state commissioner, as an opponent.
Governor Fred H. Brown, Democrat, is unopposed for re-nomination. The first district Republican Congressional winner will try to capture the seat of Congressman William N. Rogers, unopposed for re-nomination by the Democrats.

Senator Henry W. Hayes, Republican, has no opposition for re-nomination, and George E. Farrand, state treasurer, is the only candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination. Congressman Edward H. Wason, Republican, in the second district, is opposed for re-nomination by Oscar P. Cole, a member of the executive council. The only Democratic candidate in this district is William H. Barry, former mayor of Nashua, once a major league baseball player and the party nominee for congress two years ago.

New Mexico Would Save Vanishing Art Of Indian, Report

Santa Fe, N. M.—Danger of losing to the world the priceless heritage of distinctive Indian art and handicraft gave the impulse for the Southwest Indian Fair and Industrial Arts and Crafts Exhibition, to be held here in connection with the annual Santa Fe Fiesta Sept. 1, 2 and 3. This will be the 212th anniversary of the fiesta and the second annual Southwest Indian Fair.

Here in the cradle of Indian lore, in the oldest territorial capital of the United States, an effort is being made to keep alive the ancient artistic and poetic culture of the peoples from whom the continent was wrested.

Encouragement of native arts and crafts among the Indians; revival of old arts and retention of the distinctive features of the art of each tribe and pueblo; the establishment of markets for all Indian products and the securing of reasonable prices; authentication of all handicraft offered for sale and protection to the Indian in his business dealings, are objects of the movement.

That there is actual danger of losing this art of the Red man unless something is done to keep it alive is evidenced by the fact that for a good many years there has been a steady drift on the part of the Indians toward agriculture and mechanical arts, on account of better and quicker financial returns.
Besides their art work the Indians many of whom live as did their forefathers in pueblos near Santa Fe, will contribute their ceremonial dances to the entertainment at the fiesta.

POSSIBLE USE BY SPIES BARS RADIO FROM RUSSIA

Moscow, Sept. 2.—Russia is one of the few countries of the world where "radio" sets in the home are scarcely known. In all the 8,000,000 square miles of Russian territory, with a population of 130,000,000, it would be difficult to find more than a dozen amateur receiving outfits.

This is due to the non-manufacture of home wireless apparatus in Russia, to the prohibitive duty on imported sets; to the Russian peasant's ignorance of what wireless means, and to the reluctance of the Soviet government to permit the indiscriminate use of radio apparatus which might be used for espionage purposes.

Danish Military Chiefs Give Lie to Minister

Copenhagen.—A warm controversy is being waged in the Danish newspapers between, Louis Rasmussen, minister of defense in the present labor cabinet, and all the generals and admirals of the Danish army and navy.

A week or so ago the minister was on the stump in the provinces. In the course of one of his speeches he said that all the generals and admirals agreed with him that the present act of defense was no good whatever. "On this evidence," said the minister, "I think it only fair that we should scrap the whole army and navy and substitute for it a national police corps that will cost but a fraction of the upkeep of the present army and navy."

To this statement Ellis Wolf, the Danish general-in-chief, has given the lie direct. No Danish general has said words to that effect, he declared. First of all, the minister has spoken to no more than four generals and not one of these officers has described the act as without value. The other six generals, and the Danish admirals, deny having spoken with the minister on the subject.

VIEWING ALASKA FROM CLOUDS BECOMES POPULAR TOURISTS

Anchorage, Alaska, Sept. 2.—Viewing Alaska from the clouds has become popular since the introduction of passenger planes, the first of which often Alaska is operating from 15 to 20 hours a day to accommodate the large number of tourists waiting to see "mount McKinley" from altitudes of from 5,000 to 10,000 feet.

The peak, about 20,000 feet high often is obscured to surface-gazers by haze or clouds, but usually stands out magnificently a few thousand feet up.

SEVENTEEN BRITISH LOCOMOTIVES REACH BUENOS AIRES ON SHIP

Buenos Aires.—Seventeen full-sized locomotives, completely assembled, have arrived here from England on one ship, said to be the largest shipment of its kind ever made for so long a distance.

The motor ship Beldis which brought them was especially designed by the builders for transporting locomotives so that they can be put on the rails immediately on their arrival all ready for service. The locomotives, weighing 134 tons each, were delivered to the Argentine Southern Railway.

Russia Has Many Universities

Riga, Sept. 2.—According to Russian educational authorities, there are 235 universities in Soviet Russia, besides 94 workmen's high schools, otherwise called "people's universities." Nearly 50 per cent of the 4,655 professors listed resided in Leningrad and Moscow.

tion that they were held up as ideal examples of that relationship. It was his desire to erect a memorial worthy of the youth of whom he said:

"The truly great character must unite unusual strength and determination with gentleness. My boy was imperious. He recognized no superior on earth, and yet was the tender and intimate friend of the weak and humble."

Thus the Rufus F. Dawes Hotel came into being, financed by the general and operating under a code framed by him.

Soon after the Chicago hotel opened a similar institution was begun in Boston and it has proved as valuable to the community as the forerunner.

Then General Dawes paid a profound tribute to his mother. He determined that there should be a similar hotel for women in Chicago, and when it had been erected he named it for her—the Mary Dawes Hotel. Here also charity operates without its label and the struggling working woman may find a haven of home and motherhood.

SOFIA TOWN CRIER CALLS CITIZENS TO WORK ROADS

Sofia, Sept. 2.—Conscript labor, though only three years old, is becoming as definite a part of the life of the Bulgarian people as conscript soldiering used to be.

The highways leading out of Sofia are badly in need of repair, so recently the town crier went successively to the principal points of the city, beating a drum. The first roll was the signal for the collecting of a crowd, consisting mostly of little boys and girls. Then the crier cried:

"All male citizens between the ages of 20 and 40 are requested by the city government to report at their respective district city halls at the hour of nine Monday morning. The work to be done is the repairs of roads."

Of course, it was expected that the boys and girls would notify their fathers and the authorities were evidently correct in their estimate for on the following Monday morning at the five district city halls the labor conscripts appeared with shovels, spades, wheelbarrows and carts, ready to work on the roads.

FOUR BILLION MATCHES USED DAILY IN AMERICA

Peterboro, N. H., Sept. 2.—The United States uses more than 1,500,000,000 matches made out of wood every year. (This is about 37 matches a day for every man, woman and child in the country, based on a population of 10,000,000. Recent statistics from Europe have placed the per capita consumption there at 14 matches a day.) The world output costs $260,000,000 and reaches a total of 4,675,650,000,000 matches a year. Eight million tons of paper are being used in the United States every year. There are some of the interesting statements made by Charles Lathrop Paik, president of the American Tree Association of Washington in a speech before the New England Forestry Conference which continues through today and Wednesday.

Mr. Paik pointed out that this is the time to "sell forestry" to the people of the United States. He urged the conference to get down to facts the public could readily understand, saying that the way to get the American people interested in this vital economic problem of where wood was to come from was to talk to them in terms that they could quickly grasp.

PURSE SNATCHERS PREY IN FOREIGNERS IN MOSCOW

Moscow, Sept. 2.—Russia pickpockets are particularly active and audacious at the present time, in spite of efforts of the police to suppress them. Scores of these petty thieves have been arrested in crowded trolley cars, trains, theatres and churches, but the number of them still at large is so great that citizens themselves are asked to make arrests whenever they detect a pickpocket.

American visitors, some of whom have been robbed, have adopted the expedient of carrying their money and valuables in waistbands under their clothing, while others, to foil the pickpockets, have avoided riding on trolleys and trains. One American was recently relieved of $700 in a church.

Capital Cost $25,000,000
Washington.—The Capitol building of the United States, which houses both branches of Congress and the Supreme Court, has been valued at $25,500,000. This figure represents actual cost. Were current local real estate values taken, it would be much higher.

RUSSIAN CHILDREN PERMITTED CHOOSE THEIR OWN NAMES

MOSCOW.—Persons seeking to change their names in Russia find much less difficulty in doing so than in other European countries. The only procedure necessary is to file a written request with the Soviet registrar of vital statistics. In the old days one had to secure permission of the Emperor if he wanted to change his name.

Under a recent amendment to existing Soviet law even children are permitted to adopt other names. Consent of their parents is the only requirement. It is a common thing for several children of the same parents to bear different names.

On account of the gigantic political and social upheaval in Russia, the ostracism of those identified with the old Czarist regime, and the desire of former political prisoners to disguise their past, applications for change of name are much more frequent in Russia than in any other country.

CIGARETTE MORE POPULAR THAN CIGAR JUGOSLAVIA

Belgrade, Sept. 2.—Figures issued by the tobacco regie of the Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes show a marked increase in the use of tobacco in the country in the last year. The figures for the first three months of the present year show that 25 per cent more cigarettes were smoked than during the corresponding period last year.

The consumption of cigars shows a diminution which tends to raise the question as to whether cigars lend themselves to the Jugoslavian taste.

In 1923 there was a consumption of 39,642,940 cigars in the first three months of 1923, while in the first three months of the present year the total was reduced to 10,290,747.

That seems to answer the question whether the cigar will ever supplant the cigarette as the favorite smoke of the Serbians, Croats and Slovenes. But it is worthy of note that the further west the traveler in Jugoslavia goes, the more he finds the cigar in evidence as the popular smoke.

THE CHEMISIER RETAINS ITS PLACE IN THE MODE

THE success of the chemisier type of frock this summer has given rise to a delightful adaptation of the chemisier idea for the more sedate months of autumn, as evidenced in this afternoon frock, which strikes a happy compromise between sportiveness and dignity.

The dress is made of black Frost-crepe, a substantial crepe with the slight rib which is so much in evidence in Fall fashions, and is combined with wide Scotch plaid ribbon. The skirt is made in three tiers of the plaid, bordered with the Frost-crepe. The plaid appears again in the chic chemisier front which gives the dress its pliancy, and in the bands on the long "skin-tight" sleeves which also mark the new mode.

And, by the way, this dress, deceptively unsophisticated as it seems, reflects many of the newest ideas in the late Paris openings, for instance, the insertion of trimming motives into the sleeves. Presumably, according to a cable received by Henri Creange, Director of the Cheney Style Service, sponsors "all sleeves straight, narrow, and long, with decorative motives at the wrist matching trimmings of dress."

Jenny plays with the idea of bright colored yokes, and repeats this theme in sleeves. Says this cable, direct from her opening, "often square chiffon yokes, new either in front or at back and prolonged in a scarf turning round neck and knotted at side. These effects are nearly always in some vivid color such as pink, orange, green, or black, navy blue or brown dress. Little knots, bands or cuffs of same chiffon posed rather high on sleeves, which are long and tight."

The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow burning is due to the "cut". Granger is "rough cut" to smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.

PEACE DAY

The appeal of the commission of international justice and good will of the Federal Council of Churches for special activities by religious bodies to give Armistice Day a force against war is simply in keeping with the meaning that Armistice Day is supposed to have had from the first. November 11, 1918, when hostilities in the most terrible war in history were brought to a close, was marked by a peace celebration throughout the world. Prayers were offered that it would mean the end of armed strife. Every Armistice Day since has brought forth similar expressions.

But in some quarters there continues talk of "the next war," and a section of science is devoted to seeking means by which still greater wholesale slaughter of human beings can be affected than in any shambles of the past. It is plain that there still is much to be done to create the atmosphere needed to assure settlement of international differences by peaceable means. If the Christian church in particular means anything it means advocacy of peace. Any organization bearing the name of the Prince of Peace naturally is to be expected to do its part for war prevention.

The request of the church commission commends itself.

NUMEROUS EXCEPTIONS

The head of an Eastern surety company estimates that through fraud, embezzlement and other forms of dishonesty the public and business institutions of the United States lost $3,000,000,000 last year. This sum was above anything recoverable through insurance or other sources. Insurance and stock frauds are credited with $1,000,000,000 each; credit frauds with $400,000,000; burglary, larceny and theft with $250,000,000,000; embezzlement with $100,000,000; forgery $100,000,000; piracies and custom frauds $100,000; railroad freight thefts $25,000,000 and home building frauds $25,000,000.

These figures are estimates, but may be reasonably accurate, since one engaged in the business of providing surety bonds naturally would observe carefully and trend which would be inimical to the success of the business. The total is so stupendous that it constitutes a heavy tax for which there is no return.

It may seem astonishing that the opportunities for so great speculation are afforded. The surety head suggests that much of the loss is due to increased chances for dishonesty made possible by the augmented complexity of business. There is lack of moral and ethical principle to restrain when the opportunity is offered for quick gain through devious methods. Probably leniency is dealing with offenders of the classes included in the crimes involved has much to do with encouraging others to take a chance. If detected there is hope that the punishment will be made light and be soon ended.

If the situation is as grave as portrayed one may be justified in reflecting whether many are honest because they want to be or because they have not had a good opportunity to be otherwise. We like to think of the masses as possessing correct principles, but such an enormous loss in one year tends to prove that there are numerous exceptions.

HUNTING ALIBI FOR JAZZ

In defense of jazz, one of its most prominent exponents cites his own efforts at synopation of some classic favorites. His efforts, he believes, has popularized some of these classics and introduced them to a larger audience. Anything which thus gives the classics a wider hearing, he argues, should not be condemned by musicians.

The defense has its flaws. Consider some of the so-called classics which have been arranged for jazz orchestras. Their appeal to the popular taste lies in their original melody, beautiful whether it is played on the violin or the saxophone, whether sung or whistled. Rinsky-Korsakov's "Song of India" as Fritz Kreisler played it was applauded long before it was arranged for a combination of trombone players and trick drummers. Massenet's beautiful Meditation from "Thais," has been a request number on programs for a generation, and requires no help from a noisy band to "popularize" it. Greig's "Peer Gynt" suite was encored before it was re-written for saxophones and re-named "Peter Ging."

Jazz may serve a purpose in public entertainment, but "popularizing the classics" is a rather weak sort of alibi.

It frequently happens that a highly-advertised picture turns out to be a film-flam

As the world grows more and more civilized we keep right on improving padlocks.

A writer says headlines cause crime. Especially that old stand-by, "Police Baffled."

Let's see what was it they did with the beef scraps before the invention of pure pork sausage?

With the admission that the chestnut tree blight is ineluctable and that the trees are doomed, soon there will be no more chestnuts—of that kind.

HERE THEY COME

The unknown hours

POETS have praised the wonders of the dawn, Artists have caught the lights and shadows of high noon, a sentimental public has raved of setting suns, but few and far between are the happy people who know the unknown hours between sunrise and breakfast.

Wonderful hours for the motorist, whether he be bent on business or pleasure. To the one they offer freedom from traffic, a quick trip to the city, an early start in the day's work. To the other, the strange charm of slipping swiftly through villages still sleeping in the pale sunshine. It's fun to watch the waking world stretch and yawn, to note the first wisps of smoke rising from cottage fires, to speed through a land without men.

Explore the unknown hours. Whoever you are you'll find something worthwhile there, health, thrills, beauty, mystery. But don't forget one thing. Better slip around this evening to the nearest "Standard" pump and fill up on gas, oil, air and water. "Standard" is just the gas for starting sleepy motors on chilly mornings.

ATTEMPT IS MADE TO ENTER CAROLINA MOTOR CLUB BY UNKNOWN PARTIES

Unknown parties attempted to enter the Carolina Motor Club last night but on account of the iron bars across the windows they were thwarted in their purpose.

Mr. Frank Patrick, manager of the local branch stated this morning that the robbers were evidently looking for state licenses as he never left any money in the office over night.

The glass from the windows had been removed in a most careful manner and the bars showed where an effort had been made to remove them.

DR. J. B. SCOVILLE CRITICALLY ILL AT HOME IN GEORGIA

Rev. V. P. Scoville was called to Elberton, Ga., this morning on account of the serious illness of his brother, Dr. J. B. Scoville. Dr. Scoville has been in declining health for several months past, but his condition at present appears quite critical, and his great desire to see his brother, induced Mr. Scoville to leave at once. He is taking the trip in his car and is accompanied by his wife's mother, Mrs. L. S. Winn, who has been visiting her daughter here for the past two months.

The many friends of our Methodist pastor will not forget to pray for the recovery of his brother and for Mr. Scoville's safe return to Greenville. He will probably be gone for ten days, but expects to have the Methodist pulpit filled as usual in his absence over next Sunday.

BLAIR-WILSON

Tarboro, Sept. 2.—St. James Methodist Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding on last evening when Miss Marion Charles Wilson the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wilson, Sr., and Mr. Gordon Armstrong Blair, of High Point, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The Rev. Hermon Brown pastor of the Episcopal church performed the impressive ring ceremony.

The church was attractively decorated with a profusion of Southern mistle, ferns and asters and presented a scene of loveliness which will long be remembered by those in attendance.

Miss Emily Hart at the organ, prior to the entrance of the bridal party, rendered a beautiful musical program. For the processional she played Lohengrin's wedding march using Mendelssohn's wedding march for the recessional.

Messrs. Robert Lindsay and J. P.

Bunn, ushers, were the first members of the bridal party to enter. They were followed by the bridesmaid, Misses Senora and Aldyth Wilson, sisters of the bride.

Miss Senora Wilson wore a beautiful gown of pink chiffon, in bouffant style, with silver lace while Miss Aldyth Wilson was gowned in blue chiffon and silver lace. They carried bouquets of pink field flowers with a shower of sweet heart roses.

Messrs. Allard Battle and Curtis Norfleet, groomsmen, were followed by Miss Willie Wilson, sister of the bride, as maid of honor. She was lovely in a gown of yellow beaded chiffon. She carried a bouquet of pink field flowers with a shower of sweetheart roses.

The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a wedding gown of Daches satin entree, trimmed with real lace which is a family heirloom having adorned the wedding costumes of several antecedents. Her veil was arranged in a fashion being held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Claude Wilson, Jr., of Chicago, a brother of the bride.

Mrs. Blair is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wilson. She was educated at the North Carolina College for women, Greensboro, and during the past two years, has been a member of the faculty of the High Point school. She is a member of one of the state's oldest and most prominent families and is one of Tarboro's most beautiful and attractive young ladies. She is a popular member of the younger social set.

Mr. Blair is a native of Texas but has made his home in this state for the past several years during which time he has won a host of friends. He is Scout Executive of the Uwharrie District with headquarters in High Point. He is popular in the social and business circles of that city and is held in high esteem by friends here.

Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Blair motored to Raleigh from which point they left for a bridal tour of Atlanta, Denver, the Yellow Stone National Park and other places of interest in the west. They will return to High Point their future home by the sunset route stopping in New Orleans for a few days visit with Mr. Blair's mother who resides in that city.

They were the recipients of one of the largest and most beautiful array of bridal presents ever received in Tarboro.

Buffet Luncheon

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wilson entertained last evening at a buffet luncheon at their attractive home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Blair, having as guests the members of the Blair-Wilson bridal party, the out of town guests and a few intimate friends.

The following out of town guests attended the wedding:
Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bradley Whitakers; Mr. and Mrs. William McDonald, Misses Ernestine Forbes and Helen Brown, and Messrs. John Short and D. J. Whichard, Jr., Greenville, Miss. Annie Griffin, Norfolk; Miss Inez Edgerton, Kenly; Mr. R. L. Beall, Greensboro and Mr. Ernest Lashley, Goldsboro.

"THE COVERED WAGON" IS A PICTURE LIFE ON PRAIRIES

The old days so famous for adventure and down in history as the days of the birth of the American nation, have been turned back and are with us again in the "Covered Wagon," the James Cruze production for Paramount picture, which is now showing at White's theatre. The great stretch of the western plains forms a most magnificent background, and five hundred or more covered wagons of "prairie schooners" add greatness to this colossal picture. True, it is a love story of the desert wastes, and enduring with its thrilling climax, leading to the reunion of the young couple, played by Lois Wilson and J. Warren Kerrigan in a frontier homestead in Oregon. "The Covered Wagon" eclipses anything in pictures.

enough to injure our entire governmental structure."

He called attention to the unmistakable increase in major crimes in the last few years and said that Turkey and China seem to be on the verge of losing their primacy, as the chief abodes of robbers and murderers and that law-making America seems to be contesting for the unholy prize of being the most lawless country of the civilized world.

After referring to the bobbed haired brand of New York, and the Franks case in Chicago, Mr. McLean recalled the slaying of Major McLeary, in South Carolina, that of a taxi-driver, at Lexington, as examples of brutal crimes.

Asheville, Sept. 2.—Election of officers and the selection of the next meeting place will bring to a close this afternoon the Sixth Annual Convention of the American Legion and the Fourth Annual Meeting of the Legion Auxiliary for the Department of North Carolina.

Business sessions featured the meetings of both organizations this morning with several prominent speakers scheduled to address the legion and auxiliary members during the day. Among these speakers were Watson B. Miller, chairman of the National Rehabilitation Committee of the American Legion, Washington, D. C.; A. W. McLean, Washington nominee for Governor of North Carolina, and Joseph Daniels, of Raleigh. Mr. Miller was on the program for yesterday but he did not reach the city in time for his address so he was placed upon today's program.

At the business session many matters came up for discussion among them being the plan for the location of a permanent state headquarters and a discussion of a resolution calling for endorsement of the State Ship and Water Transportation plan. Election of officers by the legion will be the final business to be passed upon today.

The business session of the auxiliary this morning was confined to routine business the program calling for reports from the rehabilitation committee, historian and prison committees and Child Welfare and legislative committees as well as reports by district committee women. Among those reporting today were Mrs. L. T. Mann, High Point; Mrs. Charles Young, Lexington; Mrs. A. B. Justice, Charlotte; Mrs. Gabe H. Crown, of Black Mountain. The election of officers will bring the session of the auxiliary to an end also.

Asheville, Sept. 2.—Election of officers and the selection of the next meeting place will bring to a close this afternoon the Sixth Annual Convention of the American Legion and the Fourth Annual Meeting of the Legion Auxiliary for the Department of North Carolina.

Business sessions featured the meetings of both organizations this morning with several prominent speakers scheduled to address the legion and auxiliary members during the day. Among these speakers were Watson B. Miller, chairman of the National Rehabilitation Committee of the American Legion, Washington, D. C.; A. W. McLean, Washington nominee for Governor of North Carolina, and Joseph Daniels, of Raleigh. Mr. Miller was on the program for yesterday but he did not reach the city in time for his address so he was placed upon today's program.

At the business session many matters came up for discussion among them being the plan for the location of a permanent state headquarters and a discussion of a resolution calling for endorsement of the State Ship and Water Transportation plan. Election of officers by the legion will be the final business to be passed upon today.

If you love color—you'll be captivated by the new Fall frocks!

Colors for Fall are ravishing enough to fairly make one's mouth water—rich, spicy shades—dark tones of brown just the shade of caramel! Deep reddish chestnut brown and plum—warm tints of rose tan—and that lovely golden brown shade! Soft tints of olive and bottle green. Rich sparkling shades of clear—the new expression of the scarlet which was so popular this Spring and Summer. And, of course, for afternoons you'll miss much use made of the ever popular black and white! Pale flower tints of Spring to the riotous garden colors of Summer—soft lemon yellow, delicate green, soft shades of mauve, Olympian, girly, coral, powder blue, nautic, Fuchsia, Versene green, Orient blue, Fire, Bordeaux and mordant—the most exquisite color imaginable!

Can you imagine those rich dark shades in the lovely new silks—bangles, stonema, crepe marocain and satin crepe, with touches of bright color found in fancy buttons, gay embroidery or touches of lace and ribbon? All in those slender, straight silhouettes which give such delightful play to the depth of color and richness of texture of the fabric!

And those evening shades—imagine them in lovely brocade and metallic silks mixed with chiffon and georgette—all lighter with beads or slitter with crepe!

If you love color—you'll be captivated by the new Fall frocks!

COTTON LETTER
New Orleans, Sept. 2.—Climatic conditions in the cotton region were more favorable over the holiday, lower temperatures and considerable rain having occurred in nearly all sections of the belt except that there only scattered showers in different districts of Texas. Additional private crop estimates were released today, the condition ranging from 61.6 to 62.3, and the indicated yield from 12,407,000 bales to 13,327,000 exclusive of linters. If the most of reliable reports, calculated on the Government acreage and "pars" for Sept. 1, Clement Curtis and Co., Chicago, returns average the condition of the plant at 61.6, pointing to a yield of 13,246,000 bales, and returns to the Watkins Bureau average the condition of cotton at 61.8, in dictating a crop of 13,327,000 bales.

The previous Government crop forecast was 12,956,000 bales, issued Aug. 23, and based on condition of Aug. 16.

A private estimate as to cotton ginned to Sept. 1, was released today predicting only 440,000 bales vs. 1,136,000 to corresponding date last year, due probably to lateness of crop maturing in Texas.

Ginnings, whether large or small at this time of the season, are of no significance and exert only a passing influence. The real factor in markets being the indicated crop, which will provide for the season's supply.

Last season ginnings to Sept. 1 were very large, but the indicated crop was small, market advancing accordingly. This year ginnings are apt to be small, but as indications are that the crop will be large, values are likely to decline.

Tomorrow weekly weather and crop government report will probably be favorable as a whole. The next government crop condition and crop forecast report is set for Monday, Sept. 8, at 10 a. m., New Orleans Time.

W. H. DAIL RETIRES FROM AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS

Mr. Dail entered the automobile business in Greenville with Pitt county as his territory and a fine contract for the year of 1912. In 1913, he increased his territory to 12 counties, and, in 1914, roped in about half of the state of North Carolina. The Charlotte branch was formed in 1915 when the territory was enlarged to include the portion of the state now covered by the organization. At that time, the firm was known as the Overland Carolina company, and it handled the distribution of Willys-Overland products for the state in 1916-17.

Mr. Hoppe was wholesale traveler for the Willys-Overland company in North Carolina in 1915. The following year the company made him southern representative, his territory reaching to New Orleans. He joined the Dail Overland company in 1918 as general manager, replacing Mr. Dail in that capacity, the latter desiring to locate at Greenville to superintend other interests there.

The past few months of the company's business are reported to have been the biggest in the history of the organization, June being said to have been the biggest retail month the company has experienced since its start in business. More than 25,000 cars are reported to have been sold by the retail dealers of the firm during that month. The Willys-Overland company is the third largest automobile manufacturing company in the country.

Officials of the Dail-Overland company are: W. H. Dail, Jr., president; W. H. Hoppe, vice president and general manager; John M. Miller, Jr., of Richmond, Va., vice president; George A. Holderness, of Tarboro, secretary and treasurer.

Organized in 1915. The Charlotte branch of the Dail-Overland company was organized in 1915, headquarters of the firm being on North Tryon street in the building now occupied by the Pyramid Motor company.

is still undetermined. The matter will be considered further today at Chicago between the nominee and his advisers. It is probable, however, that before Mr. Davis' return to the east he will speak in several places in Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky. The program for his outward trip to Denver calls Illinois, ILLINOIS, DENVER calls for two speeches at Omaha, Nebraska September 6 the first at a luncheon of business men and farmers and the second that night in the city auditorium. From Omaha the candidate will proceed to Lincoln to spend Sunday with Governor Charles W. Bryan, his running mate. He will arrive in Denver Monday and will make a tour of the surrounding country during the two or three days he is there before speaking in the auditorium on September 11. On his return trip he will speak in several places in Missouri not yet decided upon.

Used Kellogg's Bran 2 months— constipation gone after suffering 3 years

Three years of suffering with constipation. What happiness was mine when Kellogg's Bran, cooked and crumbled, restored his health. But read his letter.

"Dear Sirs: This is what I think of your bran. I would not be without it for anything in the world. For three years I used all kinds of medicines for constipation, and only got temporary relief. I was advised by a doctor to use Kellogg's Bran, and since I began using it I don't have to take pills or anything else. I have used it two months, and my constipation has left me. I feel better now than I have for three years."

(The original of this letter is on file at the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich.)

Kellogg's Bran brings results because it is ALL bran. You can't fight constipation with halfway measures—with brans which are only part bran. It takes ALL bran to be 100 per cent effective.

Because Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran it sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It acts naturally—just as nature's acts. It stimulates the intestine and makes it function regularly. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will refund your money.

Kellogg's Bran has a delicious nut-like flavor. Quite different from ordinary, unpalatable brans. You will like it as a cereal, sprinkled on other cereals, cooked with hot cereals, or in the recipes given on every package.

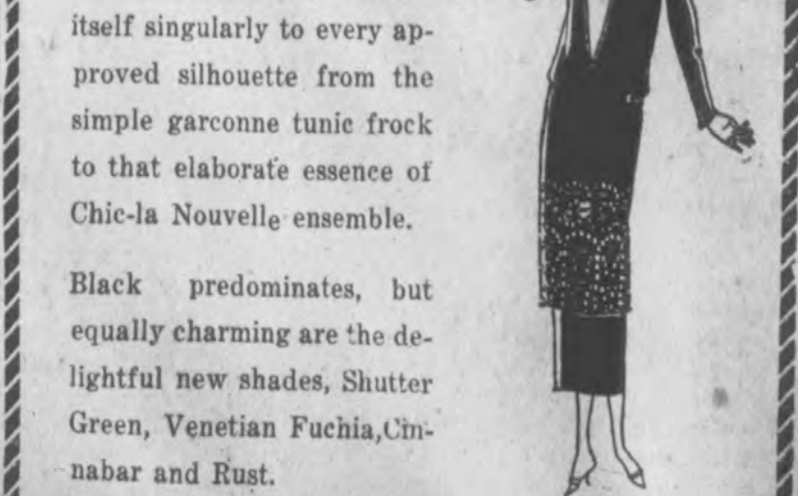

Eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's Bran every day—in chronic cases, with every meal. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

PIPE SMOKERS CONSIDER THEIR ACTIVITIES SLIGHTED

Berlin. — A love for statistics, spare time, white paper and the use of arithmetic have led a certain German investigator to announce as a fact that the per capita consumption of matches is 14 a day. He deals with every man, woman and child in England, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland. Before the war every German used 1 a day; now the number has been reduced to eight.

An Englishman named Congrew invented the match, but John Walker, an English druggist, made the first practical friction matches in 1827. The safety match, usable only on a specially prepared surface, was invented in 1848.

A Swedish firm turns out 50,000,000 matches a day, and some German firms have an output of 60,000,000.

Kellogg's Bran has a delicious nut-like flavor. Quite different from ordinary, unpalatable brans. You will like it as a cereal, sprinkled on other cereals, cooked with hot cereals, or in the recipes given on every package.

Eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's Bran every day—in chronic cases, with every meal. Made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.
