AGED "JACK THE GRAPPLER" FINDS LIFE IN RELIEF HOME MONOTONOUS

San Francisco, Sept. 5.—Fred Link, known on the San Francisco waterfront for nearly half a century as "Jack the Grappler," is back on the job at the age of 75. Three months ago he applied for admission to the city relief home and retired from his labors.

Life in retirement became too monotonous for the active old fellow, however, and now he is back on the bay, plying back and forth in his ancient skiff, making a living by grappling near the piers for goods and articles lost overboard.

Mystery Woman Is Arrested In Wilmington

Wilmington, Sept. 5.—A woman who gave her name as Miss Jonnell, but carrying a passport issued in 1919 bearing the name of Rosalie Cecelie Kelly, was held for investigation when arraigned in recorder's court here today.

She was arrested yesterday by detectives as a suspicious character. She had in her baggage jewelry estimated by police to be worth $10,000 and $122 in cash. She carried several bags of documents, letters and papers. A note book full of entries written in code were also found.

The passport found in her possession which police believe bears her real name was issued to Rosalie Cecelie Kelly, born in Garrison, Md., August 13, 1894.

Police said that when they sought to arrest her at the union station here she destroyed several articles. She told police she left Washington, D. C., Wednesday for Wilmington.

Battleship Iwama Sunk off Yokosuka

Tokio, Sept. 5.—Stirring events of 19 years ago were recalled recently by the sinking off Yokosuka of the old battleship Iwama, doomed under the Washington Naval treaty. The old sea fighter was used as a target for practice by the naval air forces. Six bombing planes took part, sending the Iwami to the bottom in less time than was anticipated.

It was expected that the Iwami would provide two day's practice for the bombers and naval attaches of foreign countries were invited to witness the record day's operations. The invitations, however, were recalled because the Iwami was sent to the bottom the first day.

The Iwami formerly the Russian battleship Orel, was a unit of the Baltic fleet. She survived the battle of the Sea of Japan, May 27, 1905, only to be captured by Admiral Togo's fleet. As a unit of the Japanese fleet, the Iwami took part in 1914 in the operations which cleared the Pacific of German raiders.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Greensboro and was very active in its many phases of work. He will be greatly missed by a host of friends in Greensboro.

The remains were accompanied to Greenville by Mr. C. H. Forbes, only brother of the deceased and who was with him at the time of his death, his widow Mrs. Edward Forbes, and their two children Miss Lida May Forbes and Mr. Lyman Forbes.

SWITZERLAND BARS GERMAN CARS UNLESS ELECTRICALLY EQUIPPED

Berne, Sept. 5.—The Federal railway administration has announced that in the future only electrically equipped German railway coaches and sleepers will be permitted to cross the Swiss frontier in transit to Italy. The order was issued as a result of the railroad disaster last April at the Swiss exit of the Simplon tunnel, in which Dr. Helfferich, former German finance minister, was among those killed.

Gas lighted coaches were said to be responsible for the fire that started immediately after the wreck.

PRINCE SPENDS FOURTH NIGHT OUT

Heir to British Throne Apparently Enjoying Night Life in America

Syosset, N. Y., Sept. 5.—The Prince of Wales spent his fourth night out last night and as noon approached he had not left his bedroom in the Barden home, his Long Island headquarters.

The last official communication regarding the Prince's movements last evening told of his boarding a motor launch at the estate of J. S. Casden and whizzing off to somewhere in Long Island Sound after one of his attendants had notified the Burden home that His Highness would not be home for dinner. Nothing more is known of the prince's movements except that he returned to the Burden estate some time between one o'clock and dawn.

Membership Drive E. C. Chamber to Be Launched Oct. 6

The first real section-wide membership campaign for the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, Inc., since its organization, nearly three years ago—will be put on the week of October 6th. Plans are being laid for a sure enough, thorough campaign. For the past three years no special effort has been made to get members, because the organization was in its experimental stage. But now that it is recognized as a permanent institution for Eastern Carolina it is the purpose of those closest to it, to give every town in the forty-six counties an opportunity to come in and form a part of this big organization.

C. F. Harvey, Jr., General Chairman.

C. F. Harvey, Jr., prominent business man of Kinston, has been selected to pilot the big campaign. Mr. Harvey is a man thoroughly familiar with organization work and is well known all over Eastern Carolina. He is Lieutenant-Governor of the Kiwanis organization of this district. "We want to give every town a chance to become a part of this big organization," Harvey stated when discussing the program of the campaign.

County Organizations to Be Formed

A complete county organization will be formed in each of the 46 counties, so that there will be no town, however small, that will not be given a chance to get in. The full list of county chairmen will be announced later.

W. B. Harvey, Chairman Publicity.

W. B. Harvey, Cashier First National Bank, Kinston, will be the Publicity Chairman for the campaign. Mr. Harvey is President of the Kinston Chamber of Commerce and is well known for his progressive ideas along community work. A chairman for the speaker's bureau will be announced soon and the machine will be completed for the big drive, October 6.

Strauss Successor Not Yet Appointed

Cheyenne, Wyoming, Sept. 5.—The appointment of a receiver for the Teapot Dome naval oil reserves to succeed Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss, resigned, will probably not be made until October if at all, Federal Judge Kennedy declared this morning.

Shanghai, Sept. 5.—5:30 p. m.—Kiangsu forces in Lihue sector 30 miles northwest of Shanghai continued their assault all last night and late this afternoon were preparing for another night of continuous fighting. Information brought to the city by competent eyes witnesses who visited the battlefield this afternoon stated that the firing was more intense and both sides were using artillery, mainly three inch guns. Explosive shells were used for the first time today. A large number of machine guns are in evidence. There is no evidence yet that co-operation is being accorded Kiangsu forces by the naval contingent reported assembling at Nanking for action down the Yangtze river.

Shanghai, Sept. 5.—Fierce fighting in three sectors between the armies of rival military governors continued unabated today but with added fury given the battles by the movement of airplanes in the war zone and the reported concentration of Chinese battleships for action along the Yangtze river.

The major engagement today appears to center about 30 miles northwest of Shanghai. The outcome of this engagement is still in doubt and both sides are employing artillery according to military headquarters of the Chekiang military governor.

Troops are proceeding from Lungwha headquarters of General Lu Yung Hsiang to reinforce the governor's troops at Swangatu, 15 miles west of where the fighting continues. There is considerable jockeying for position in this quarter today according to observers returning from that sector. Lungwha headquarters explained this with an announcement that Chekiang troops were taking position to check an unexpected enemy swing southeastward.

Peking, China, Sept. 5.—Denial that Chang Tso Lin military governor of Manchuria had threatened to mediate by force in the Chinese civil warfare around Shanghai unless the fighting was stopped, was made today by the Chinese foreign office.

The foreign office admitted it had received a communication from General Chang but asserted that instead of a threatening nature its tone was the friendliest. In the letter Chang was said to have expressed regret over the fact that civil war should be added to the sufferings of the Chinese people already harassed by a series of devastating floods.

Foreign observers including an American just returned from a trip to Mukden, principal city of Manchuria, asserted that they had seen no evidence of war activities on the part of the forces of General Chang.

Bread Price Soars in Austria.

Vienna, Sept. 5.—Despite financial supervision by the League of Nations and the stable currency, the price of bread is alarmingly on the increase. The price of 7,900 kronen for a loaf, fixed by the authorities for August, is said to be higher than ever, even compared with the worst time of the inflation period.

Quartz Used for Watch Levers.

Berlin, Sept. 4.—Successful experiments have been made in using quartz for the lever of high grade clocks and watches. Advantage is claimed for the quartz levers because the mineral is said to have the lowest co-efficient of expansion and levers made of it need no lubrication.

Negro Asso. Plans More Honors Lincoln

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Observance of another "Lincoln Day," September 22, has been proposed by the National Association of Colored Women, as a day upon which "colored people may pay homage" to the Emancipator's memory.

On September 22, 1862, President Abraham Lincoln issued his preliminary proclamation of emancipation directing that on January 1, 1863, "all slaves—shall be free."

"Lovers of liberty throughout the world," the association memorial says, "deservedly honor the memory in Lincoln, but he is especially dear to colored people. Lincoln's birthday, February 12, and January 1, "Emancipation day," are both holidays, hence on these days it is hard for colored people to pay sufficient homage.

"Therefore this association recommends that September 22 be annually utilized by colored people, as a date well suited to honor Lincoln's memory. The National Association further urges all colored men's and women's organizations to co-operate to make this Lincoln day a success. White people are cordially invited to do likewise, both north and south. Schools are requested to participate. "Lincoln statues and memorials in various cities should be made shrines to which all citizens can make their pilgrimages."

SAXONY WANTS CRIMINALS AND LUNATICS STERILIZED

Dresden, Sept. 3.—The government of Saxony has filed a motion with the Reich's authorities to provide an amendment to the criminal law compelling degenerate criminals, feeble-minded persons and certain classes of lunatics to undergo a sterilizing operation.

The amendment would provide that the compulsory operation be performed after the patients refused to submit voluntarily and then only upon a court order after a hearing before a committee of medical authorities.

LESSONS OF GLOBE FLIGHT

Everyone is delighted with the success of the army airmen who have been flying around the world and who are now back on the American continent after having crossed the Pacific, Asia, Europe, and the Atlantic. They have a fine performance to their credit. But nothing is to be gained by closing one's eyes to the weak points of airplane travel, as disclosed by the flyers' experience, and it is to be feared that Major General Mason M. Patrick is doing this very thing in his rhapsodical statement, concerning the achievement.

He declares the flight has demonstrated that there are now no parts of the world which cannot be reached by air. The North and South Poles are accessible, he says, as well as the world's highest mountains and remotest seas and deserts. But it is not to be overlooked that only two of the four United States airplanes that set out to circumnavigate the globe have got through and that all of the flyers of other countries who embarked on the undertaking have been forced by one mishap or another to desist. It is not to be overlooked that America's two surviving planes encountered difficulties of the most formidable sort in Greenland and for a time it was thought they might have to abandon the trip. It has been demonstrated, in short, that circumnavigation of the globe by airplane is a slow, doubtful and hazardous undertaking.

Long delays are inevitable. Comparatively short flights must be made from island to island. Even though airplanes travel at terrific speed, it is possible because of the inevitable delays of air travel to go around the world more quickly by steamship and railroad train than by plane.

Whether improvements will be made and obstacles overcome as rapidly as General Patrick foresees is problematical. He expects that within a decade we will have airplanes with wing spread of 250 feet and carrying 100 passengers in ship-like cabins fitted to the wings. He sees the average school child, once without hope of getting a trip around the world, soon making such a trip by air at a reasonable cost, flying at the rate of 200 miles an hour, and learning the sciences in air schools.

Those things probably will come, but not so quickly, perhaps, as General Patrick expects.

Moreover, there seems to be greater likelihood of their being accomplished by dirigible airships like the Zeppelin which is soon to fly to the United States from Germany than by heavier-than-air machines. The dirigible has greater carrying capacity and greater cruising radius than the airplane. It is not so speedy; yet the British dirigible R-34 flew from New York to England several years ago in 75 hours.

It would be gratifying if a test could be made of dirigibles comparable to that which has been made of the airplanes of several countries in the attempted trips which has been made of the airplanes of several countries in the attempted trips around the world this summer. It may be that we shall have to rely on the navigable gas bags for the developments in air travel that General Patrick so confidently predicts.

Some people go about a thing while others talk about it.

Woman's place today is in the home. So is man's tonight.

No man reaches the end of his rope until it burns his nose.

Some husbands are happy; others' wives won't stay home alone.

Two things are sure to make a girl laugh—dimples and good teeth.

Comfortable, two-passenger sofas have made many a match, while onions have spoiled just as many.

Only way to keep the hatchet buried is to put the hammer with it.

There may be merchants who don't advertise, but you never hear of them.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The following poem was written by Miss Ora Taylor, a young lady who has been spending several weeks in this section of the state selling Bibles. The poem is dedicated to the friendship made during her stay here.

When the golden sun is setting
In the North Carolina hills;
Then my mind begins to wander,
And with golden fancy flies.

I can hear the night hawk calling,
Gently calling, to its mate;
I can hear the waters splashing
On the margin of the lake.

Then my fancy gently wanders
To the places I have been;
To the sights I have been seeing
And I long to see again.

Let us slowly stroll together,
Through the wood of sighing pines,
Listen! hear the red bird calling?
"Sweet! sweet! Dear old summer-time!"

There on Pamlico's shining waters,
Glistening reeds, all sunbeam kissed,
Sparkling waters of dear Pamlico,
How your fragrance will be missed!

When I think of those dear friend-ships;
Of the friends that I have met;
How my heart goes out toward them,
Those dear friends I can't forget.

Oh, the bright and sunny Southland,
Where we find the best that grows;
Corn and cotton, sweet potatoes,
Peanuts, growing in straight rows.

Just to see the happy faces
Of those people in the South;
Just to hear the kindest greetings
That proceed from any mouth.

Of mortal man, in any country,
North or South—East or West;
You can't pass Old North Carolina,
For they surely have the best.

Then I think of dear old Greenville;
That good place I love so well;
Where we met the dearest people—
Let our gladdest praises swell!

Where there ever is a greeting,
On the tongue of every man;
Coming from his heart, to youward,
Helping you just all he can.

I'll forget dear Greenville never!
Nor the other places there.
In that dear state, North Carolina,
Where there, joys and sorrows share.

Group 2 Conducted Services in Grifton Thursday Evening
Group Two of the Laymen's Christian Federation conducted a most enjoyable and inspirational service in Grifton last evening.

The Methodist church in which the services were conducted was almost filled with visitors and the citizens of Grifton. It was one of the most largely attended services conducted by the Federation in Grifton and proved one of the most successful.

Miss Emma Mallison rendered special music and for the invitation song sang, "Tell Mother I'll be There." It is estimated that at least fifty responded to the invitation dedicating their services in helping promote the work of the Federation in Grifton and the surrounding community.

Services will be conducted on next Thursday evening in the Christian church at which time Miss Mallison will render several vocal selections. A special musical program will also be enjoyed with Mr. F. R. Elmore at the piano.

A fat man actor. There is one fat man in dramatic work, and he does comedy, but it's not slapstick. He puts the comedy in comedy-drama. He has furnished the comedy relief in many dramatic productions—who is he?

Walter Hiers, the man whose motto is, "Laugh, and the world laughs with you; weep, and you weep alone."

Walter Hiers, star of the Paramount pictures, "Mr. Billings Spends His Dime" and "Sixty Cents an Hour" and featured in George Melford's "Flaming Barriers," is the man of whom we speak—Walter of the generous girth, who comes to White's Theatre today in his latest starring picture for Paramount "Fair Week."

Hiers is practically the only fat man in dramatic work—not that he plays dramatic roles—not by a long shot. His part is to put the laughs into a picture. "Fair Week" is a comedy-drama, with the accent on the comedy. It's the funniest thing Hiers has ever done, but there's drama, too, don't fool yourself about that—if rescuing a little girl, while hanging by your knees from the trapdoor of a swaying balloon over a thousand feet in the air, means anything.

Constance Wilson, sister of Lois, and who also played in "The Covered Wagon," is Mr. Hiers' leading woman. Others in the cast are J. Farrell MacDonald, Carmen Phillips and Mary Jane Irving.

Rob Wagner directed the production.

Don't Pay
For beauty you fail to get
By Edna Wallace Hopper

I am not a cosmetic maker, not a beauty expert. My work is on the stage and screen. But I have had advantages which most girls and women lack. I had a rich, ambitious mother who took me in a world-search for the utmost in beauty helps. Then when I became a famous beauty, every great scientist who made a discovery sent it at once to me.

Now I wish all girls and women to share that good fortune with me. I found helps which multiplied my beauty, and which have kept my youthful beauty to my grand old age, and great experts tell me that every woman can in like ways secure like results.

So I am placing these helps, which I spent a lifetime in finding, at every woman's call. All druggists and toilet counters now supply them. But with each comes a guarantee. I instruct every dealer to return the money to anyone disappointed, and charge the amount to me.

My marvelous complexion is largely due to a super-cream. It combines the products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that modern science knows to foster, feed and protect the skin. I use it as a night cream.

Edna Wallace Hopper also daytimes as a Hopper, photo powder base. Never 1923 is my skin without it. And my baby skin, at my age, shows how much it means to women. No woman I have ever met has ever found a cream to compare.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream is now supplied by all druggists and toilet counters at 60c per jar and 25c per tube. But I shall be glad to send a free sample, if you wish. Just mail the coupon for it, and my Beauty Book will come with it.

Two Kinds of Interior Decoration Indulged In by This Young Woman

A young woman is engaged in the profession of interior decoration. But she is unusual among her conferees, or perhaps we should say consours, in that she realizes that the vands destined for the inside of the human being require just as artistic a touch as the furniture destined for the inside of the said human being's house.

Miss Freedman has developed quite a pretty taste in culinary matters, as evidenced by this delicious recipe for Steamed Nut Bread which she has given us.

The Rotary Skein Wagon That Pulls With One Finger

A New Type of Wagon

Eliminate Broken Skeins and Axles
With a Thornhill Rotary Skein Wagon you can haul bigger loads and have no delays with broken skeins and axles.

The picture above shows the two features that enable your team to haul bigger loads in less time. The axle is made of special solid steel that is warranted not to bend or break—eliminates delays and breakdowns. The Rotary Skein makes Thornhills pull with one finger—so your team can haul heavier loads.

Gears and wheels are made of tough highland oak and hickory. Bolsters, tongue, gears, reaches are heavily ironed. We guarantee the Thornhill Rotary Skein wagon to run lighter, last longer and carry heavier loads than any other wagon. Come to see it—it's worth a trip to our store.

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, Sept. 5.—There were no developments of importance today, market in consequence rising comparatively steady, at the average of private returns indicate no material change in the indicated crop compared with two weeks ago, when a yield of 12,956,000 bales was predicted. Private estimates on ginnings to September 1, range from 480,900 to 857,000 against 1,143,000 last year but ginnings at this early period of the season are no criterion as to the size of the crops ginnings are likely to be running ahead of last year in the near future.

The average of private reports as to condition is 61; highest 64 lowest.

Members of the New York Cotton Exchange to the number of 74 average the condition at 60.6. The government will be published at 10 a. m., New Orleans, Monday, will report ginnings to first instant and the condition of crop and indicated yield as of Sept. 1.

Experts Adopt Unified Screw and Bolt Threads

New York, Sept. 5.—The American Engineering Standards Committee has approved as American Standard a 32-page document, constituting the finished work of the Sectional committee on Standardization and Unification of Screw Threads, in the field of threads for bolts, machine screws, nuts and commercially tapped holes. The committee has done this work under the joint sponsorship of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the Society of Automotive Engineers, and includes in its membership many of the most distinguished experts on this important and difficult subject.

By the adoption of the report of this committee, screw threads are narrowed down to, and standardized upon, two series, an "American Coarse Series" for general work, and an "American Fine Series" for work in which a finer thread is desirable. The same form of thread is used in both.

The adoption of standard screw threads, the committee says, is perhaps the most important single advance in American industrial standardization, certainly in the mechanical industries, since screw threads are fundamental to design and manufacture in every field, and enter into almost every kind of manufactured product and machine.

Different classes of fit ("loose," "free," "medium" and "close") are established with corresponding numerical tolerances to provide for unavoidable inaccuracies of workmanship under practical conditions.

ROME LOSES OLD DISPUTE

Rome, Sept. 5.—The imposing but age-worn square in front of St. Peter's is at last to be newly paved and overhauled as part of the dressing up process in anticipation of Holy Year, 1925, but only after more than 50 years of disagreement as borne by the Vatican or the municipality, whether the expense should be paid of Rome. The city has finally made the necessary appropriations, and work already has begun.

The square, one of the show places of Rome, has been in need of repair almost ever since the temporal power of the papacy was overthrown in 1870, but until now the city has refused to supply the funds because it was argued that, since it formed an integral part of the cathedral

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PCT. AIR

BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, S. G. Johnson, 642 N. Broad St., Philadelphia is offering to send a lamp on 10 day's free trial, or even to give one free to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.
