WOMAN CONFESSES SHE POISONED HER HUSBAND TO MARRY CLERGYMAN

Following Confession of Plot By Ina Minister, Wife of Slain Man Admits She Had Hand in Killing

Mount Vernon, Ill., Sept. 23.—After an all night vigil Mrs. Elsie Sweetin confessed an agreement between herself and Rev. Lawrence Hight to poison her husband and Hight's wife in order that she and Hight might be left free to marry each other. She was arrested yesterday at her home and denied any part in the crime and only after grueling questioning while confined in the cell with the minister and state attorney last night did she confess her part in the plot.

In her confession Mrs. Sweetin admitted that Hight had showed his affection for her and that she had returned same. A few months later Hight had suggested the poisoning of her husband and his wife, she declared, in order that they might be left free to marry. At first she was horrified at the suggestion, said the confession, but he was so earnest that she finally decided it was the proper thing to do, so it was agreed that her husband and his wife should be done away with.

According to the confession Hight gave Mrs. Sweetin a package of poison with instructions to give it to her husband in anything which he ate or drank. On July 16, Wilford Sweetin was hurt in a mine and it was the next day, according to Mrs. Sweetin's story, that she gave him the first of the poison. She had accompanied him to Benton and on their return home she gave him some chocolate candy containing some of the poison. Although the first poison made him desperately ill it did not have a fatal effect so on the following Thursday she administered another dose of poison in oatmeal. Her husband began to improve again under medical attention so on July 28 she again administered poison, this time in tomato soup, this dose proving fatal.

In her confession Mrs. Sweetin stated that on each occasion, during her husband's illness, that Rev. Lawrence Hight came to her house he gave her a word of encouragement and more poison to administer to her husband.

The woman declared that she did not know, at that time, when Hight was to poison his wife but that when his wife became ill and died she took for granted that he had poisoned her.

Mrs. Sweetin declared that prior to her affection for the minister she had always lived a straight clean life and had tried to make a good wife and mother.

Mrs. Sweetin waived preliminary hearing and the case was given to the grand jury. Mrs. Sweetin appeared worn out and haggard due to the 12 hours of grilling during which she was confronted by the clergyman after her hearing before a Justice of Peace before she was taken to her cell adjoining that occupied by Hight.

In an interview Hight gave a brief sketch of his life and told how a premonition that something would happen had warned him to stay away from Ina and how he had protested after being assigned to the Ina church. One day in church, he said, he met Mrs. Sweetin. They met in the aisle and from then on he entertained for her a feeling of more than friendship. His affection for his wife began to wane from that time, he said.

Irish People Told They Had Better Stay At Home

Dublin, Sept. 23.—There are urgent appeals in the Dublin press against the renewal of emigration to "We were frequently assured in the past that had Ireland control of her own affairs emigration would cease. But though the British have departed the country is still being drained of its young men and women."

In the past two months the American consul has received 8,000 applications for emigration visas, and the Free State quota soon will be exhausted. The applicants are mostly from the country districts.

Judge Cohalan of New York who has lately been in Ireland, has advised young Irish men and women to seek a career in their own country rather than go to the United States or Canada.

It is pointed out that large numbers of skilled British artisans, failing to get employment in America, are returning to Great Britain in a steady stream, and that the prospects for Irish unskilled laborers are extremely unfavorable.

ROTARIANS AND KIWANIS PLAN TO MEET "SPECIAL"

Will Give Raleigh Fair Special Cordial Welcome Upon its Arrival in Greenville Wednesday

A committee composed of W. H. Woolard, J. L. Starkey, Geo. B. W. Hadley and K. T. Futrell from Kiwanis Club, and Mayor Clark, J. C. Gaskins, John Phelps and K. W. Cobb from Rotary Club, met at the Greenville Banking and Trust Co., last night and effected plans for entertaining the State Fair Special which will arrive in Greenville tomorrow, Wednesday at 2:57 p. m. on A. C. L. railroad. Mayor D. M. Clark is chairman of reception committee.

As is generally known this Special train is composed of about one hundred and twenty-five business and professional men from Raleigh making a two days' visit to Eastern North Carolina in the interest and development of the State Fair. Since Greenville has been selected by the party half hour stop, the committee is urging every consideration be given this party while they are with us. They will bring with them the State College band and many notable and distinguished business men.

The consensus of the committee was that every business in town should close from 2:30 until 3:30 while the party is here and give these men the spirit of Greenville in turning out at the station. The local Boy Scouts band will meet at the court house at 2:00 and leave the court house promptly at 2:30 to arrive at station at 2:45. All persons who can are requested to bring cars in order that all may ride.

The committee feels this is one of the best ways in which the leading business and professional men of Greenville should take special interest in that it is a wonderful way to advertise Greenville and Pitt county citizenship.

It is understood only 5 or 10 minutes stop will be made at most of the other towns in Eastern North Carolina and Greenville should respond to this consideration of more than a half an hour by a reception.

Failure to Properly Handle Check $1.40 May Cost $5,000

Asheville, Sept. 23.—The failure to properly handle a check for $1.40 may cost one of the stores of this city $5,000 under a suit that was entered against it here in the Superior Court.

Alfred Smith and Estelle Smith have entered suit for $5,000 personal damages against Gilmer's Incorporated and the Carolina Bonding Company. They claim that they gave the store a check for $1.40 on a local bank, in which they have ample funds, for goods bought and that instead of presenting the check to the bank, it was turned over to the Carolina Bonding Company, which protects the store from fraud.

The plaintiffs assert that their good name and reputation was damaged to the extent of the amount sued for, by the action of both the store and the bonding company. The defendants, however, have not yet had time to file their answer.

GET AT THE CAUSE

Many Greenville Folks Are Showing How to Avoid Needless Suffering

There is nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day alike, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys—have brought peace and comfort to many Greenville people. Profit by this Greenville resident's experience.

J. K. Menefee, 1120 Chestnut St., says: "I had a spell of kidney weakness, and for a time I was greatly annoyed. I didn't have good control over these organs and this trouble had me somewhat worried. My kidneys acted too frequently and the secretions contained sediment. I used Doan's Pills and was completely cured."

England Formally Adheres to League's Economic Blockade

Geneva, Sept. 23.—Ratification of the amendments made to Article 16 of the League covenant has been deposited at the League of Nations Secretariat by the British government, which took the official action for the British Empire as a whole, including Canada, Australia, the Union of South Africa, New Zealand and India.

Article 16 of the League, as amended, declares that should any member of the league resort to war in disregard of its agreements under previous articles, it shall be deemed to have committed an act of war against all other members of the league, which hereby undertake immediately to subject it to the severance of all trade or financial relations, the prohibition of all intercourse between persons residing in their territory and persons residing in the territory of the covenant-breaking state, and the prevention of all financial, commercial, or personal intercourse between persons residing in the territory of any other state, whether a member of the league or not.

The second paragraph of this article which is usually called the economic blockade article, declares that it is for the council to give an opinion as to whether or not a breach of the covenant has taken place, and that in deliberations on this question in the council the votes of members of the league alleged to have resorted to war, and of members against whom such action was directed, shall not be counted.

Another amendment provides that the Council may postpone the operation of any blockade measures for a specified period when it is satisfied that such a postponement will facilitate the attainment of peace.

Some 18 states have ratified the various amendments to the blockade article. Amendments to the covenant, however, only take effect when ratified by a majority of the members of the league, and by all the members of the league who have representatives on the council.

"ASK THE MAN WHO SELLS WITH US"

GRAIN DEALERS HEAR EX EMPEROR HIGHLY INSULTED AT HOPES ATTACK MINORITIES RECALCITRANT SON

Cincinnati, Sept. 23.—Strongly organized minorities are practicing virtual blackmail on members of congress. Secretary Charles Quinn of the Grain Dealers National Association declared in his annual report to the convention yesterday.

"It is said on good authority there are no fewer than 500 of these organized minorities," the speaker said, "with offices and lobbyists in Washington. This situation must be remedied if we are not to go the way of other countries that have changed parliamentary government to dictatorships."

Proponents of the McNary-Haugen bill were classed by the speaker as one of these minorities. "The weapon they used to compel congressmen to support the measure was the threat of defeat at the polls next election. It was blackmail. There was no attempt to convince the lawmakers the proposed act was sound. Indeed, proponents frankly admitted the bill's economic weakness."

"The farm bloc," Mr. Quinn asserted, "raised the cry of orderly marketing, which appealed to the masses unfamiliar with the slow and natural evolution of grain distribution in this country. With this demand for so-called orderly marketing through co-operation, there grew like mushrooms various schemes to pool grain and hold it for higher prices."

"And then there were added to the farm bloc minority in congress representatives from some of the wheat pools. They had been holding grain at a loss to their members, and to recoup these losses they promoted the economically unsound export corporation bill. For a time it appeared that they would force congress to embark on this socialistic scheme. It was a most striking example of the work of organized minorities."

Such methods, the speaker added, were contrary to sound principles of government. They are as unfair, he said, as demands for investigations which merely create press sensations and cause the public to suspect various industries.

"There were 64 investigations going on in the United States senate in 1922," Mr. Quinn declared, but not more than six resulted in reports that reached the public. Great mischief was done to business, nevertheless. Suspicion was created and the seeds of envy, malice and mistrust were sown. These are the things that are undermining democracy. The work of energetic minorities is gradually subverting the American form of government into a government of classes."

MANILA MAY BUILD HOUSES TO WITHSTAND EARTHQUAKES SOON

Manila, Sept. 22.—Manila is studying what steps it would be advisable to take to guard against devastating effects from an earthquake such as visited Tokio a year ago. Speaking of the importance of this geological work, Dr. E. E. Dickerson, a member of the local earthquake board said recently:

"The recognition of recent earthquake lines of the Philippines is of particular importance in the construction of dwelling houses, business buildings, water supply, cables and power transmission schemes. It is of particularly great importance to recognize these lines in advance of destructive earthquakes along them, in order that certain precautions be taken in engineering structures."

"Manila is built upon the delta of the pasig river and its soil is very unconsolidate. That such loosely filled areas suffer far more severely than bed-rock localities is evidenced by all large earthquakes. On this account Manila's higher buildings should be built upon a pile constructed foundation and preferably of reinforced concrete or steel frame construction, very strongly tied."

George in Scotland Enjoys Quiet Days Guarded By Police

Aberdeen, Sept. 23.—Looking after the welfare of the British monarch when he makes his annual visit to Balmoral, his Scottish Highland seat, is the annual efficiency test of the constabulary of the country. The officers are proud of a record which shows that not once during the present reign has the king been annoyed in the royal grounds.

The constabulary are preparing for the visit of the king at the end of the month. A large force has been despatched to the castle and are keeping an eye out for any signs of coming disturbances or demonstrations which might interfere with the rest of the royal family allow them selves at Balmoral. During the reigns of Victoria and Edward VII, a few disturbances were created on the castle grounds by cranks, but since then the constabulary have had the upper hand. American visitors are also a source of annoyance to the guard about the castle, and it requires much diligence to keep these uninvited guests from intruding on the grounds in hopes of getting a peep at the king and queen in their Highland retreat.

The country police check the identity of every stranger in Braemar, Ballater, and Aboyne, the nearest places to Balmoral where visitors are Here are six reasons why Orange-Crush is so utterly delicious: (1) The natural fruit oil of oranges—which gives that delicate and distinctive flavor; (2) The natural acid of citrus fruits (oranges, lemons and limes)—which gives the tang; (3) Orange juice; (4) Carbonated water—which gives "zip," sparkle, purity; (5) U. It was an easy matter to guard Queen Victoria. She was much more inclined to keep herself to the vicinity of the Castle, with an occasional drive to Braemar with her faithful servant, John Brown. But the present king and queen like to move about among their subjects, and the police have to ensure that they are not molested in any way.

UPPER REACHES OF AMAZON DRAW AMERICAN EXPLORER

St. Petersburg, Fla., Sept. 22.—Dr. M. W. Stirling, it has been learned here, is soon to start on a trip to South America, where he will spend several months in the unexplored regions of the upper Amazon, taking photographs of the life and customs of the local Indian tribes.

Dr. Stirling, who was formerly attached to the Smithsonian Institution excavated a number of Indian mounds near St. Petersburg early this year. As a result of these labors he was able to report the discovery of new methods of Indian burial, and various interesting finds of pottery.

Can You Borrow Money?

Keeping up appearances is not dependent upon what you spend, but upon what you get for what you spend!

A man's appearance is an infallible index of his ability, for anyone can dress carelessly, but tidiness takes talent!

Variety is the spice of life in looks as well as books, and wearing two suits on and off is better than wearing one suit out!

Dressing well costs very little, but dressing poorly may cost the opportunity of your lifetime.

Every man can afford to dress well. No man can afford not to.

Remember, it's always hardest to borrow when you look as though you have to!

SOLVING THE UNEMPLOYMENT ISSUE

Chairman Butler, of the Republican National Committee, says that among the Nations of the earth, "the Republican administration in the United States alone has solved the issue" of post-war unemployment.

President Coolidge said in his acceptance speech that a "great revival of industry" took place during the Republican administration; that "complaint of unemployment has ceased, wages have increased."

President Coolidge and Chairman Butler are at odds with their Republican Secretary of Labor.

The Department of Labor made an employment survey in August. It made employment in 1923, the best year since 1920, the measuring-rule with 100 as the index figure. It shows 1917 the year of greatest employment, with the index at 115. In 1919, the first post-war year, it was 108.4 and in 1920, the last Democratic year, the employment index stood at 109.8. In 1921, the first Republican year, it topped to 85.3; in 1922, it was 88.6, and for the first five months of 1924, covered by the survey, at 94.8. A subsequent report covering June showed a further increase.

Best authorities agree that there are about 20,000,000 workers, skilled and unskilled, in the United States, exclusive of farm laborers. If they were all employed in 1917, the banner year of the last decade for workers, thirty per cent, or six million of them, were idle in 1921, according to Mr. Coolidge's own Department of Labor; 26 per cent, or three million, were out of jobs in 1923, and about twenty per cent, or four million, were idle in the first half of 1924, and the number steadily increasing.

The Department's survey shows that pay rolls decreased 19.3 per cent from July, 1923, to July, 1924, and that the per capita earnings of workers fell off 50.9 per cent during the same period.

For the same period, the New York State Industrial Commissioner reports "pay rolls have been cut more than 50 per cent in the iron and steel mills and the cotton factories. Knitting, woolen and silk workers have found pay rolls lower by more than 25 per cent. Among the metals, similar reductions have taken place."

At the very time President Coolidge and Mr. Butler were telling the country how the "Republican administration alone has solved the issue," the American Woolen Company, a tariff pet of the administration, was passing its common stock quarterly dividend, and was operating only forty per cent capacity, while trade papers were carrying dozens of news items of strikes, wage cuts, and fewer work days in the textile, shoe and other mills in the East.

Another interesting commentary on the claim that the Republican administration alone solved the issue, is the statement of the British Ministry of Labor that the "long period of post-war step-by-step reduction" in wages and employment in England came to an end in 1923, and during the first five months of 1924, wage increases in British factories amounted to more than 450,000 pounds sterling, or about $2,250,000, while during the same period, living costs were reduced in England by ten per cent.

To investors and stockholders in industrial corporations, this Republican solution will be interesting in view of the fact that more than fifty concerns whose stocks are listed on the New York Stock Exchange, which have been on a dividend paying basis, have passed one or more dividends this year, or have failed to pay a dividend since 1921.

Another such Republican solution, and the industrial army will be totally dissolved.

BENEFITS OF DOMESTIC TAX REDUCTION

Millions of income taxpayers have profited by the present Democratic tax reduction law, which was forced through the Republican Congress and grudgingly signed by President Coolidge after his Secretary of the Treasury and the leaders of his party had opposed the measure for many months. These income taxpayers had a new proof on September 15 of the benefit the new Democratic law gives them. They will derive even larger advantage from it next year when the normal rate on taxable incomes of $5,000 and less is reduced from 4 to 2 per cent.

The new Democratic law makes a flat reduction of 25 per cent in the amount of income taxes payable this year on incomes earned in 1923. The first deduction authorized by the new law was that on tax bills paid last June. On September 15 an additional deduction was made by income taxpayers and on December 15, another saving will be in order. Next year the tax rate on incomes of $5,000 and less will be only two per cent, thus giving further considerable relief.

The deduction allowed on income taxes payable this year will save small taxpayers all the way from a few cents to $100 in 1924, while the lower rate effective in 1925 will still further decrease their burdens.

ENGLISH EXPERT DISCREDITS GOLD AS MONETARY STANDARD

London, Sept. 22.—Great Britain digs gold in South Africa to pay her war debt to America, and America buries the precious metal again so that it will not interfere with the economic life of the United States, Pethick Lawrence, Labor member of Parliament, told an audience recently at the Independent Labor Party Summer School at Cloughton, near Scarborough.

"It is almost comic," said Mr. Lawrence, "that we employ people to dig gold from under the earth and send it to those who bury it under the earth."

The speaker, who is one of the intellectuals of the British Labor movement, referred to the annual payment Great Britain makes to the United States in settlement of the enormous debt left over from the war. He said that events of the last decade had destroyed confidence in the gold basis, and that a paper basis or currency must be established.

What Difference a Few Weeks Makes

Century Old Iron Firm Finally Closes Doors

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 23. — One year less than a century ago an iron mill built on the outskirts of Pittsburgh. It was a small affair, constructed on the banks of the Allegheny River by the firm of Miltenberger and Brown. For 99 years it grew and played an important part in the city's industrial life but now, instead of being on the outskirts of Pittsburgh, it stands within a few blocks of the very heart of the city's shopping and office center.

And this is the chief reason the oldest independent iron and steel mill in Pittsburgh is being torn down. The firm of Brown and Co., Inc., the present owners, is going out of business because there is too much business. The site of the mill occupies about three acres and if it continued operation it would be necessary to expand. And there is no room for expansion. On three sides are tall buildings and on the other is the river. J. Stuart Brown, grandson of the founder, said he did not wish to assume the responsibility of erecting a new plant elsewhere, and he felt he deserved a rest. Consequently the business will be discontinued.

Decision to stop work in the mill was reached last June, and not a wheel of its machinery has turned since. When running at full capacity the plant employed between 400 and 500 men. Most of the old employees have found work elsewhere.

All is not oil that oozes

SO many people think that any oil will lubricate any bearing. As a matter of fact the choice of the best oil for any given piece of machinery is a difficult technical problem.

Speed, pressure, temperature, clearances and the kind of metal are some of the things that have to be taken into account in selecting the correct lubricant. Fortunately there is a wide range of oils to choose from. Some oils are so penetrating that they will work their way through the tightest joints. Others are so heavy as to seriously retard the motion of moving parts.

Between these extremes there is a correct lubricant for every part of every car. "Standard" Polarine Motor Oils and Greases, for instance, come in a complete range of consistencies suitable for every part of your car. The secret of a perfect-running engine is to use the correct "Standard" lubricant for each part and to renew it as frequently as needed.

Next time you are at a "Standard" dealer's garage or service station study the "Standard" Polarine Chart of Recommendations. It tells exactly which consistency to use in each place, Summer and Winter. Take time to be exact—it pays.

See the STANDARD OIL COMPANY, (New Jersey) Exhibit at the Carolinas' Exposition, Charlotte, N. C., September 22 to October 4.

WALSTONBURG HIGH SCHOOL REPORTS A SPLENDID OPENING

Prospects Good for the Best Session in History of School

Walstonburg, Sept. 23.—As preliminary to the opening of the local high school, which occurred this morning, exercises, in the nature of an educational rally were held in the school auditorium at 3:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, September 22. All of the patrons of the school had been invited to attend this meeting, and in spite of inclement weather an appreciative and attentive audience gathered for the occasion.

Mr. J. H. Craft, superintendent of the Christian Sunday-school, acted as chairman. After songs by the members of the audience, talks concerning education and the school were made by Rev. Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Craft, county superintendent, J. H. Workman, and Mr. Winfield Carter, principal of the school. Misses Minnie Dilda and Ruby Burch treated those present to two excellent duets while Mrs. Ivey Smith performed at the piano. After the exercises were concluded an opportunity was given for those who had attended to meet the members of the faculty.

The formal opening of the Walstonburg High School took place Monday morning, September 22. The attendance was good, and the five motor-trucks which serve the school were loaded to their utmost capacity. It is very probable that additional trucks must be provided to accommodate the many who will have enrolled by the end of the week.

As usual, the first day was spent in classifying pupils, specifying textbooks, and the assignment of lessons. It is hoped that work may begin in earnest Tuesday morning.

Walstonburg is one of the best schools in Greene county, and the people of the community have just cause to be proud of the splendid building which they have dedicated to the better preparation of their children for citizenship. At present it is the only consolidated school in Greene county, and bids fair to be on a par with the very best consolidated schools in the state in the near future.

The prospects are good for having by far the best session of the school which it has ever experienced. The members of the faculty have had excellent preparation for the teaching profession and come highly recommended. There are eleven teachers in the school this year.

Their names and addresses are: Mr. Winfield Carter, superintendent, Bryson City, N. C.; Miss Jeddie Mae Bristol, Middleburg, N. C.; Miss Ruth Tyler, Roxobel, N. C.; Miss Sara Farnet, Newnan, Ga.; Mrs. Ethel Smith, Greenville, N. C.; Miss Myrtle Tucker, Greenville, N. A Shoe Store is the Logical Place to Buy Style Right Hosiery

A properly conducted hosiery department in a shoe store is bound to succeed because it is basically right. That shoes and hose belong together, that hosiery is best matched to shoes at the time and place of purchase, that a shoe store's advance knowledge of shoe styles enables it to buy harmonizing hosiery very intelligently, that hosiery shopping may be leisurely done in a shoe store, are all points that deserve emphasis in advertising and selling hosiery.

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, Sept. 23.—Responding to a somewhat smaller government crop forecast than generally expected market, after ruling lower in early morning scored an important advance inviting realizing resulting a slight reaction.

Government report—Condition of crop 55.4 vs. 49.5. Indicated yield, 12,596,000 vs. 11,015,000.

Indicated yield per acre 149.2 vs. 137.7. Ginned 2,963 vs. 2,490 estimated.

Acres 40,403,000 vs. 38,700,000. Final crop question vs. 10,140,000.

A private cable from Alexandria, Egypt, reported the Egyptian crop is now estimated 400,000 cantars under last year's yield. At one time the crop was evidently a half million over last year's yield.

Advices to Washington, however, are to expect that weather conditions in Egypt have been favorable for the crop the monsoon was favorable to the cotton crop in India during the last part of August and the first part of September but a shortage of water for irrigation develop about the middle of August in Mexico (lower Calif.) and has proven to be very serious for the cotton crop.

In its summary, Washington reported, in part, as follows: "The boll weevil is becoming more apparent in North Carolina, South Carolina and in Central and Southern Georgia. It is found that some bolls that were considered safe are either punctured by weevil or shedding because of the drought or rains. In North Carolina weevil has done considerable damage in all the coastal area and also the lower Piedmont districts.

Notwithstanding discoveries of the weevil damage previously unsuspected the fact remains that throughout most of the cotton belt the weevil damage is very much less than that of recent years."

There were rumors during the day of a moderate disturbance in the west Indies but nothing official has been received so far.

WALTER P. CHRYSLER'S TRAFFIC TALKS

RESPECT TRAFFIC OFFICER

Be attentive to the traffic officer. He will then be more considerate of you. Then too he is a human being and entitled to respect.

Traffic regulations include the right of the police to vary regular rules where necessary or desirable under unusual conditions, or at congested points and in case of emergency, and they are to be obeyed accordingly.

Remember that the traffic officer is at work to help move motor and pedestrian traffic as rapidly, safely and smoothly as possible. In your relations with him be courteous, thoughtful and reasonable. It pays. The traffic officer hasn't the easiest job in the world. That's worth keeping in mind.

"WATCH OUT FOR THE CHILD"

In Washington during the summer months one will see signs which read: "Vacation days. Watch out for the child."

A very good sign but the warning is of just as much importance during the 12 months of the year. To be sure, drivers should be especially alert during vacation months when children are at home and often playing in the street. But then one can never be too alert.

Cities must provide adequate playgrounds for children and then must see to it that the children play there. It is a curious fact that so many boys prefer to play where motor cars and trucks are speeding by. Boys like to take chances and parents must assume the obligation of teaching their boys and girls never to take a chance.

Always be careful.

KEEP TO THE RIGHT

Keep to the right. That is a motor car axiom in America.

Keep to the right in passing another car and in rounding a corner.

Keep to the right when approaching hilltop, cross roads or street.

Keep to the right of the center of the road even if you think you have the highway to yourself.

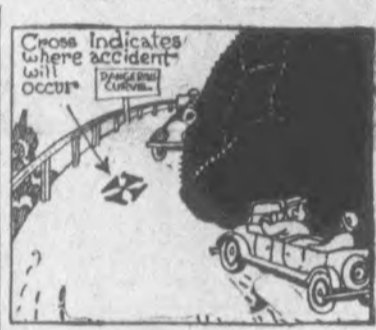

Keep to the right of street cars.

Keep to the right on a street divided either by a parkway, walk, street car reservation, isle of safety, etc.

Accidents by the score would be prevented if this simple rule was observed carefully day and night.

Keep to the right.

ALWAYS BE CAREFUL

Look where you are going. Drive where you are looking. Strange as it may seem the picture above describes a common cause of accidents.

RELATIONSHIP COMPLICATED FATHER AND SON WEDDINGS

Munich, Sept. 23.—The recent weddings of Karl Braun, 25 years old, and his father have started an endless chain of relationships which has got beyond the reach of genealogists and culminated in Braun becoming his father's father-in-law.

Young Braun married a widow of 45 with grown-up children. Shortly after his father, 50 years of age, married the 24-year-old daughter of his son's wife. Genealogists figure that as a result of the two weddingsetion, young Braun became his father's father-in-law and that his wife's daughter became her mother's mother-in-law and the step-mother of her own stepfather.
