NEGRESS CHARGED WITH ARSON HELD IN COUNTY JAIL

Hattie Shine Charged With Setting Fire to Store at Which Time 6 Dwellings Were Totally Destroyed

Hattie Shine, negress, charged with arson, was given a preliminary hearing before Magistrate John I. Smith, this afternoon, and remanded to jail without bond, for trial in the criminal term of Superior Court, which convenes in this city October 27.

The arrest of the negress, was the outgrowth of a fire which occurred in Greenville one night last week at which time a store and six dwellings occupied by negroes was destroyed by fire of an unknown origin.

The next day after the fire the defendant left Greenville and the report was circulated that she had set fire to the store building in an effort to burn her husband, W. S. Shine, one of the best known negro plasterers in this section of this state. Local officers immediately became interested and began making efforts to locate the missing woman. A short while later she was arrested by the chief of police of Scotland Neck and returned to this city.

In the evidence produced at the hearing today it was stated by a woman who lives near the Shines that Hattie had threatened to kill her husband if she had to burn the roof over his head. Others testified that at the time of the fire that Shine had to be assisted from the burning building as the fire had gained such headway at the time of its discovery.

Medals Be Given To Six Men for Bravery During World War

Elizabeth City, Sept. 25.—Gold medals will be presented to six men at the Albermarle District Fair to be held in this city on October 9 as a recognition by the United States government of their bravery during the World War in rescuing the crew of the British tanker Mirlo from the midst of flaming oil, after it had been torpedoed by a German submarine off the American coast. These men, members of Coast Guard Station 179 at Chincoteague, are: Captain John Midgett and surfmen Zion, LeRoy, Arthur and Clarence Midgett and P. L. O'Neal.

The owners of the tanker present these men with a trophy in appreciation of their deeds but the United States, it was said, had failed to take notice of the rescue until Secretary Job of the local chamber of Commerce asked Congressman Ward to seek recognition for the men which he did and the department is to make the award.

SPIRIT AWAY GIRL HELD FOR HOMICIDE

Unknown Parties Abduct Haywood County School Teacher Who Was Under the Guard of Deputy

Waynesville, Sept. 25.—Spirited away from the home near here where she was being held under guard in connection with the strangling to death of her new born infant, Molly Teague, 26 years old school teacher, was sought today by Haywood county officials who confessed themselves baffled after a five day's search.

The abduction of the attractive young woman by a party of unidentified men early last Saturday morning was disclosed today. Friends of the young woman, who is in a critical condition and faces a charge of homicide, are thought to have been the abductors. Members of the party covered the guard with guns, calmly removed the young woman to a waiting motor car and drove off in the direction of the Tennessee line. Miss Teague was under guard at the home of W. G. Messer, near Little Catta-loochee, while her recovery was being awaited before transferring her to the county jail.

About one o'clock Saturday morning five men with blackened faces knocked at the door of the Messer home. When Deputy Sheriff Bennett went to the door, he was covered with rifles and pistols and ordered to put up his hands. He was then disarmed. The men then aided Miss Teague to the door, placed her on a horse and led the horse to an automobile some distance away. The auto then drove off in the direction of the Tennessee state line.

Several days ago Miss Teague, member of a prominent Haywood county family, was placed under arrest after a newborn babe strangled with a cord about its neck had been found in a cornfield near the Messer home. Messer said he had seen Miss Teague enter the cornfield prior to that time. The girl was found at her school where she was endeavoring to continue her classes. She was taken into custody and after being carried to the Messer home she was said by police to have confessed that she gave birth to the child and then strangled it. A guard was then placed over the house and was changed daily. It was planned to place the young woman in jail as soon as her strength permitted.

ELMER MURPHEY DIED THIS MORNING

Young Man, 15 Years of Age, Fatally Injured When Horses Run Away Throwing Him From Wagon; Interment This Afternoon

Elmer Murphey, 15, died this morning at 1:25 o'clock in the Pitt Community hospital from internal injuries received yesterday when the horses which he was driving to a wagon ran away throwing the young man from the wagon. The accident happened about two miles from Greenville on the Farmville road. Immediately after his death the remains were carried to his late home Services were conducted from the home this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by the Rev. Mr. Lough, of Grifton, with interment following in the Holloway family burying ground six miles east of Ayden.

Elmer Murphy was born on Aug. 9th, 1909, a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Murphey, who reside about two miles from Greenville on the Tucker farm now owned by Mr. J. E. Winslow. He had been in Greenville and was returning home with a mowing machine at the time of the accident. The horses became frightened at a passing automobile near the home of Mr. Will Forbes and were running when they passed the home of Mr. Earnest Clark. However, it appeared at this time that the young man was about to get the horses under control and probably would have done so had they not become frightened again and ran faster than before. After passing over a concrete bridge the harness broke, sending the wagon into the woods. Elmer was thrown from the wagon receiving internal injuries. Some men passing brought him to the hospital and notified Mr. Murphey.

From the time of the accident until his death the young man was unconscious with the exception of about five minutes. During this time he told his father about the accident telling him exactly how it happened. The deceased was a member of the Methodist church, Grifton, and possessed splendid traits of character. He was beloved by a host of friends. He is survived by his parents, five brothers and two sisters.

TEACHERS COLLEGE OPENED TUESDAY

530 Students Have Been Accepted; Faculty Dinner at Rotary Building Friday Evening

East Carolina Teachers College is having the finest opening in the history of the college. 530 students have been accepted to live in the dormitories. The full quota had been reached by the close of the regular term in June. Since then the office has been busy refusing admittance to students as it was accepting students before.

All students are housed in the new dormitories, so that the first dormitory can be remodeled and made fireproof. The number of boarding students is limited by the space in the dining room.

The women of the faculty who live in the college have moved into the new faculty house, the last in the series of buildings extending to the west.

There have been additions to the staff of teachers in some of the departments that have been overcrowded. Two of these are in the English department, one in history and one in Science. There are a number of changes in the faculty due to resignations and to leave of absence granted several teachers.

There will be a faculty dinner at the Rotary Building Friday evening at 6:30.

Membership Eastern Chamber Is Divided Into Five Parts

The membership of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, are divided into five classes; First a $10 membership for firms and individuals; $5 which is the membership that applies to Chambers of Commerce, Merchants Association, and Fair Association, a bank membership based on its resources; a county membership of $300 which applies to the county; and a town or city membership ranging from $25 up, depending on the size of the town.

However, the quota may be raised in a lump sum. If there are those who do not care to become interested to the extent of subscribing the full $10 they may make any contribution they may see fit and this will tally towards the quota set for that county. The representation on the board of directors will be determined by the amount subscribed rather than the number of subscribers. Each county will be entitled to two directors at large and each town will be entitled to one director, if it has subscribed as much as $100 either in $10 memberships or in an aggregate sum. However, no town will be allowed but two members on the board, except where one of the members allotted to the county, comes from that particular town. The board of directors are elected by the membership in each town or county. This gives every town, it matters not how small, an opportunity to furnish the very best man available, because the local people know who this man is. The directors serve for a period of one year and maybe re-elected if the local members see fit.

Tavis, driver of the truck, claims his vehicle skidded at the corner where the accident occurred and the rear end crashed into the touring car. He was arrested and is being held pending investigation.

POISON PLOTTERS

Minister Declares Only Regret is That His Children Had to Lose Mother

Nashville, Ill., Sept. 25.—Reverend Lawrence M. Hight, held in jail here in connection with the poison plot which cost the lives of his wife, Mrs. Anna Hight, and the husband of his accomplice Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, today showed no outward strain of his plight while Mrs. Sweetin, in jail at Salem, Illinois, worried more over the future of her children than over her imprisonment.

"Mrs. Sweetin and I are still sweethearts and will remain sweethearts until death parts us," the minister said. Jail attendants said that the minister was jovial and talked freely. In mentioning his children he said that for their sake he repented more than ever at committing a crime through which they lost their mother.

Mrs. Sweetin was visited yesterday by Christopher Sweetin, her father-in-law. The conversation mainly was with reference to the future of her children. She expressed a desire that they be cared for in a Masonic orphanage. Mrs. Sweetin's apathy to food has aroused concern. The only nourishment she has taken since she was brought here Tuesday was a glass of milk late yesterday. Physicians said last night she was on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

Football Season of High School Will Open Friday

The football season of the Greenville High School will open tomorrow at 3 o'clock when the locals will journey to Vanceboro to engage in their first game.

The members of the team have been working hard for the past two weeks despite the inclement weather and lack of equipment. The squad, although working under these handicaps, has shown a splendid spirit and has entered into the play with a grim determination to put out a good team.

The players have made a splendid showing especially Capt. Harvey, "Mike" Mayo, Douglas West, Bob Forbes and Dick Crisp of the back field. In the lines are such men as Ricks, Perkins, Jenkins, Jones, Taft, Lassiter, Dresback and Cobb. In the flanks are Bilbro, Caskins, Denton and Turnage. These fellows show promise of developing into real football players.

The Greenville team and the Wilson team will stage a game on the local gridiron on Friday, Oct. 3. The public is urged to attend the game and encourage the boys.

Historic Pageant To Be Staged In Dunn Oct. 7-10

Dunn, Sept. 25.—In "Children of Old Carolina," a historic pageant depicting the life and progress of North Carolina from the time of the settlement of Roanoke Island in 1587 to the present, the Four County Fair to be staged at Dunn October 7 to 10, has a feature unique in the annals of North Carolina fairs, and expect to attract to its grounds a large number of teachers and school officials of the State who are interested in educational features of this splendid spectacle whose originator is Ethel Theodora Rockwell, of the North Carolina University Extension Division.

The pageant will be the main feature of the opening day program and will be staged in front of the grandstand at 2 o'clock. There will be hundreds of characters, recruited mostly from the schools of the county and rehearsed under the direction of Miss Rockwell in person. Sir Walter Raleigh and his colonists, Manteo and his Indian brethren, Edward Moseley, Archdale and his Quakers, DeGraffenreid and his Alpine Swiss; Flora MacDonald and the Highland Scots; Spangenberg and his Moravian Germans; Daniel Boone and his pioneers—all pass in review before the spectator, each living his day and playing his part in the making of Colonial Carolina.

Then come the days of the Revolution, with Cornelius Harnett, Colonel Lillington and other notables of the period, being the central figures.

The plantation period follows, showing a happy, contented land soon to be plunged into the misery of the War Between the States. In depicting this period of Carolina's life Miss Rockwell probably has done her best work.

"O, sorrowing hearts of blood-stained earth,
O, broken hearts of loyal men,
Dread war has taxed his toll again."

In tones Father Time as the scene opens. A small boy heralds, in Confederate Grey, appears and sounds retreat. The figure of Zebulon Baird Vance is seen. A low-muted violin sweetly wafts Saint-Seans "La Cynge" while the War Governor recites Pattie Williams Gee's "Mater Mea, Carolina." As the poem ends the herald sounds "taps." With the ding of the last sad note, another herald, bearing a candle almost burned out and a half-furled flag, appears. He wears a swordless scabbard and is followed by a crowd of Confederate children, poorly clad, each carrying a drooping Confederate flag. Again the violin plays "La Cynge," and over the throng sounds a vibrant voice reciting Father Ryan's "The Conquered Banner," the children pantomiming appropriate action as the poem proceeds. "Taps" sounds again as the banner is furled and the children pass off stage.

Then the spectator is brought to first decade of the present century.

Aycock and his educational program, heralding the progress that is to come in the succeeding years. The final scene, "Children of Today," shows present day life and depicts the various pursuits and pleasures of 1924 boys and girls of North Carolina.

Considerable interest attaches to the staging of the pageant here. It will be the initial performance and for that reason, the extension division has issued invitations to "practically every school official in the State, with the hope of so interesting them that the pageant may eventually be staged in every county of North Carolina.

More than 500 school children will take part in the spectacle. They will have the costumes of the various periods. These costumes are being provided by the Four County Fair Association and will remain the property of that institution. The Association will preserve them for use by other communities that may attempt the staging of the spectacle. The towers and other stage settings provided by the association also will be preserved as far as possible and will be loaned to other communities.

Leading Harnet county men who will portray the principal characters in the pageant are: Hannibal L. Godwin, N. A. Townsend, Rev. G. T. Adams, Charles Ross, Eugene Lee, Judge M. M. Jernigan, Judge C. Cliford, Neil Salmon, Leslie Campbell, Rev. Angus B. McQueen, C. C. Parker, William A. Erwin, Jr., E. H. Bost, W. H. Sprinkle, Harvey Stephenson, Mrs. Herbert McKay, Misses Mame Camp and Blanche Grantham.

Today, countless thousands of people are talking about this entirely new type of car.

One moment it is a closed car—in five seconds it can be transformed into a delightful, airy, open car. But it is always the closed car in deep soft cushions, beautiful fittings and finish and luxurious riding comforts.

The new Studebaker Special Six retains all the qualities which make great reputation—to these have been added every real improvement which science and owner-service could suggest.

Even aside from the sensational new DUPEX BODY—the Studebaker Special Six has no superior in value in any car yet built. It was the conscientious intention of Studebaker in planning and designing the new Special Six to make it just such a leader—to that end every resource of the great Studebaker organization has been concentrated.

Even if we had the space we could not begin to tell you of the very many new and unusual features which indicate its superiority.

Certainly no words could do justice to its distinctive beauty.
In appearance it is unlike any other American car—yet its long, low, broad, sweeping lines are conservative, crisply stylish and in beautifully good taste.

Think of the new Studebaker Special Six Duplex-Phaeton as the ultimate in value and performance in a five-passenger car—think of it as a car matchless in practical convenience and desirability.

But to appreciate the sparkling beauty of its totally new lines you must see it. To know its perfection of operation and performance you must ride in it and drive it.

CONQUEST OF THE NORTH

Though nothing of a sensational character was accomplished by the MacMillan expedition, which has returned to the United States after 15 months of exploration in Northern Greenland, it is scarcely to be questioned, in view of Captain Donald B. MacMillan's declaration that he attained practically all of his objectives, that the voyage was worth while. It is probable that mankind will benefit more by the scientific studies quietly pursued by the party than it would by a spectacular dash to the North Pole.

There is reason to suppose that the inhospitable regions in which the expedition has spent the last year will be visited more and more by white men, some of whom may establish homes in the Arctic. It is important, therefore, that mankind get all the information possible in regard to the resources and conditions in that land. MacMillan is contributing to the world knowledge of the region.

Lest those unfamiliar with the situation may consider as fantastic the suggestion that white men may take up their abode in the territory now inhabited only by Eskimos, it is pertinent to point out that the Canadian government has already established police posts, postoffices and customs houses on Ellesmere Island and Baffin Island. Ellesmere Island is in the same latitude as Northern Greenland and MacMillan's original intention was to winter there, but he was prevented by ice conditions and lack of food. The commander of the Canadian expedition which established the police post on Ellesmere Island declared on his return that the possibilities of the country are great and that if the Canadian government continues to show an interest in it the resulting increased knowledge concerning the region will stimulate additional interest by private individuals and corporations, and a natural healthy development will speedily follow.

An aviator sent by the Canadian government to pick locations for landing fields, in the Arctic country, said in his report: "It may surprise many people to realize that 2,000 miles north of Ottawa the general climate of the winter season is no more severe than in many of the more northerly settled parts of Saskatchewan and Manitoba, and that there are hundreds of square miles of land bare of snow in summer, covered with beautiful flowers, grass and moss, supporting innumerable animals, including caribou, musk-ox and foxes; and there are immense areas of coal and indications of many other minerals." He suggested that aerial transportation might do for this region what the introduction of railroads did for the prairie provinces.

MacMillan reports that the Eskimos beyond the Arctic circle are rapidly adopting civilization and the white man's way, which indicates that the Caucasian race is moving into that quarter of the globe just as it has into most other sections.

The conquest of the Polar region is proceeding. Expeditions like MacMillan's are accelerating it.

WILL HELP SAVE FORESTS

The Forest Service has just written to seventeen of the largest tobacco manufacturers of the United States requesting them to insert warning cards in every package of cigarettes they put out, cautioning the smokers to be careful with fire in the woods. Similar campaigns are being undertaken by various state chambers of commerce.

The reason for this is that in studying the problem of fire prevention, the Forest Service has been forcibly impressed with the hazard of forest fires caused by thoughtless smokers. Figures recently compiled covering Oregon and Washington show that 23 per cent of the fires have been caused by smokers.

The public, year by year, is becoming more and more aggressive on the subject of man-caused forest fires and should demand that whatever steps are necessary be taken to eliminate such fires entirely.

Inasmuch as matches and cigarettes are responsible for the greater part of our annual fire loss, match manufacturers could well join with tobacco manufacturers in spreading the gospel of carefulness with fire.

Palestine Long on Holidays.

Jerusalem, Sept. 25. — Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays, the Sabbaths of the three faiths in Palestine, are recognized as official holidays for purposes of presentation of negotiable paper, and no promissory notes or bills may be protested on those days, according to a decision of a conference of merchants with the Chief Justice. All other official holidays of Moslems, Jews and Christians are similarly recognized in Palestine. "They are heavy, take up a lot of space, and besides we will not need them," said Dr. Hugo Eckener, the commander. Life boats are all right for sea going vessels and sailing ships, but we feel that the ZR-3 is safer than any ship which ever plied the water.

"ANNA CHRISTIE" IS A REALISTIC DRAMA OF TODAY

Depicts Stark Realism of Life; Most Unusual Portrayal of Character.
 "Anna Christie," written for the stage by Eugene O'Neill and translated to the screen by that other lover of the sea and artistic realism—Thomas H. Ince—is a strictly 20th century offering. The "Situations" that wreck homes and lives today are almost identical with those that have troubled other ages.

 The plot maker finds his scope of invention limited because life likes to repeat. In the past centuries, a stilted prudery has encouraged hypocrisy and false modesty. Only in this day and age have playwrights and picture producers had the courage—and audiences the assurance—to dissect stark realism that goes into the making of a masterpiece like "Anna Christie" behind the footlights and on the screen. This is a First National picture, which will be shown at White's theatre on Monday night only.

ZR-3 TO CONSERVE EVERY OUNCE OF WEIGHT ON AMERICAN FLIGHT

Friedrichshafen, Sept. 25.—Beer will make up part of the ballast of the ZR-3 on her flight to America. There will be several kegs taken aboard for members of the crew, who have their quarters mid-ships in the big dirigible, and there will be bottled beer for the officers in the passenger car just under the airship's nose.
 Beer is served regularly to the crew on all German ships at sea, and in the army and navy as well, where it is considered part of the daily ration. There will, however, be no violation of the Volstead act as the beer taken from here will be consumed before the ship reaches the 12 mile limit off American shores. The kegs and empty bottles will be kept aboard as ballast, for nothing will be thrown over board during the voyage.
 It is necessary to retain everything possible to help the ship keep its original weight. Even the dish water from the kitchen empties into a tank and will be kept until the good ship pokes her nose into Lakehurst and ties herself up at the big naval mast.

CALIFORNIANS FORCED TO ADOPT PRIMITIVE METHODS FOR HUNTING

Los Angeles, Sept. 25.—Southern California hunters are facing the prospect of reverting to primitive methods of killing deer this season, as the result of a Los Angeles county emergency ordinance, adopted to prevent forest fires, which prohibits the discharge of firearms in areas outside of incorporated cities. Other counties are considering similar legislation.
 Some hunters have announced their intention of using bow and arrow, while others favor bowie knives or boomerangs.

COTTON LETTER

New Orleans, Sept. 25.—The tendency of market was higher levels today after opening easier on lower cables than due, October tenders, here and in New York were surprisingly small, there was much rain in the South Atlantic states, especially in central Georgia, advices from cotton goods market were bullish, and a bullish construction was placed on government pars furnished for the bureau forecast report.

The average par figures for the next Government report is 176.8 vs. 209 for the last report or an average increase of 8 pounds to the acre vs. about 13 pounds for the previous period which would care for a deterioration of only about two points. In other words, if the next Government report showed a deterioration for this period Sept. 16 to Oct. 1 or condition of 55.4 vs. 55.4 the indicated crop would be about the same as reported September 23rd, or about 12,596,000 but if the deterioration is three points or more a smaller crop than previously reported would likely be forecast.

The average deterioration for period Sept. 1 to 16 was 3.9 points. This feature of the situations furnished the incentive for buying today and is likely to remain a factor pending the issuance of the next crop forecast although numerous private reports will likely have influence the values according to the character of returns.

Owing to the continuance of wet weather in the eastern half of the belt and reports revival of insect activity particularly of weevil especially in the south Atlantic states and the lower pars than generally expected, the disposition is to reduce crop ideas. This development was under the market today.

Indications are for more rain in the eastern half of belt and there is the possibility of less favorable weather in the southwest; increasing cloudiness probably showers north portion.

New York reports a sharp advance in cotton yarns by spinners following the rise in the price of the raw material that the goods marketed are steadier with many small orders in hand.—H. & B. BEERS.
