BOY FIFTEEN PREVENTS TRAIN WRECK

Tar River May Rise Above High Water Mark Of 1919

HEROIC ACT OF YOUTH PROBABLY SAVES LIVES OF TRAIN PASSENGERS

Walking More Than A Mile to Bring Warning, Waddell Fornes 15, Climbs Aboard Locomotive Just Before It Departs From Station Here

Waddell Fornes, 15, is today a hero at least so far as the passengers and crew of last night's Norfolk Southern train, which he saved from going into a washout just east of this city, are concerned.

Young Fornes, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fornes, lives a few miles east of the city along the Norfolk Southern railroad.

According to reports the lad was walking along the tracks between his home and this city when the earth of an embankment gave way beneath him. Climbing back to the tracks, he made a hasty inspection finding that the waters from streams swollen by the excessive rains had cut through beneath the 20 foot embankment and the embankment had caved and although it appeared solid from above only a shell of earth was supporting the tracks for a distance of many feet.

Realizing what the result might be if the passenger train then about due should attempt to cross, the lad started in a run for the city to head the train off. As Engineer Hunter was about to take his train out from the station here for Washington an almost breathless boy climbed to the cab of the locomotive with warnings of a washout ahead. The engineer under the direction of the lad proceeded slowly to the scene of the washout. Engineer Hunter declared that from the cab the tracks appeared perfectly solid but investigation revealed a cavity large enough to envelope his locomotive.

"Had it not been for the lad no doubt my train would have gone into it and no one knows what the result would have been. The kid is responsible for saving us from what no doubt would have been a fatal accident and nothing you can say for him is too good," declared Engineer J. R. Hunter, when interviewed this morning as to details of the near tragedy.

Gen. Albert Cox To Speak in Court House Friday P. M.

General Albert L. Cox, of Raleigh, will visit Greenville on Friday the 8rd, as honored guest of the Kiwanis Club.

General Cox has consented to make a public address at the court house at 8 o'clock on Friday evening, on the Water Transportation and Port Terminals. General Cox is a statesman, a good thinker and a splendid speaker in addition to being one of North Carolina's most esteemed citizens and one of the nation's esteemed Generals on the Battle Fields of Europe. He was in command of the 113th Field Artillery, composed of North Carolina Volunteers. The men under his command bear such affection for him that their friends and relatives should know him, so they and their friends are cordially urged to hear his public address on Friday evening. Also the entire public is invited and urged to hear his address on the very important subject mentioned, it being one upon which the people must vote on in the election in November. General Cox is not Davis in his final drive for the presidential office nor any favor of the idency which began here today, made people, but is, as he was in military service making his best efforts to serve the people in civil life unselfishly.

MAYOR HENDRICKS, GEN. BUTLER MAY BURY THE HATCHET

Reconciliation Being Effected Between Philadelphia Mayor and Director Public Safety

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—Reconciliation is being effected between Mayor W. F. Kendrick and General Smedley D. Butler, director of public safety, according to a statement issued today by the mayor.

As a result of interest of mutual friends, said the statement, I am in receipt of a letter from General Butler which is satisfactory until such a time when his physical condition will permit his calling upon me and discussing the differences which must be satisfactorily and thoroughly adjusted.

The differences between the mayor and General Butler resulted in the mayor writing a letter on September 22 which is reported to have contained a request for the resignation of General Butler. The letter, however, was not delivered because of the illness of Butler as under the mayor's orders it was not to be given to him until he returned to the city hall.

In his statement today the mayor said he told three friends who had conferred with him how impossible it was for Butler to continue under the impossible conditions brought about as a result of absenting himself from his (Kendricks) office for nearly three months and the lack of co-operation he was receiving from the director of public safety. The three told him, Kendrick declared, that Butler had expressed regret over differences.

Gasoline Takes Three Cents Drop

Charlotte, Oct. 1.—Gasoline prices throughout North Carolina has taken a drop of three cents a gallon at Gulf Refining stations and other companies are expected to follow the move, it was said. The Gulf Company yesterday ordered a reduction in 22 states and other companies have issued similar orders. The reduction brings the tank wagon price to 15 cents per gallon and the price at filling stations to 18 cents.

New York, Oct. 1.—The gasoline price cutting war in the east was intensified today when the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, authorized local dealers in its territory to meet the competitive cuts by all other companies.

Prohibition Agents Destroying Brewery Valley Beverage Co.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 1.—Under orders from the Federal District Court, prohibition agents today began the destruction of $500,000 worth of beer-making machinery of the Valley Beverage Company at Sutherlandville.

EUROPEANS TOLD AMERICANS INSIST UPON BEST IN MUSIC

Vienna, Oct. 1.—European musicians who have gained the impression that the United States is a land of gold where art is not fully appreciated and that much money can be obtained with little effort, recently were given some sound, but perhaps shocking, advice by Frieda Henkel, is spending the summer on the continent.

The American singer warned the European musicians that the only artists who succeed in the United States are those who are of high ability and quality and give their best to the American public. Americans, she added, are willing to pay well for their music, but insist upon having the best.

Men and Women in the News of the Day.

Countess Salm von Hoogstraeten, the former Millicent Rogers, heiress to the $40,000,000 estate of her father, Colonel H. H. Rogers, of New York who created a sensation when she eloped with the impecunious Austrian nobleman and motion picture actor, has given birth to a baby boy in New York. The Count, from whom her father separated her, is in Europe, and it is said there will be no reconciliation. Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes will take charge of the political campaign of Theodore Roosevelt, Republican nominee for Governor of New York State. This picture of George R. Christian is being used by the New York City police in a nation-wide search for the absconding member of the Stock Exchange firm of Day & Heaton, who is alleged to have disappeared with $2,500,000 of the firm's money, causing its failure. Federal Courts have exempted under the immigration quota, Ellis Island Immigration Station, New York City, have deported the sixteen-year-old son of Mrs. Adelina Rolla, though admitting her into the country. Paul Rolla, veteran of the A. E. F., had married Adelina Serra and legally adopted her son, but that did not get him into the country.

Speaker Brands Lafollette Nation's Chief Liability

Chicago, Oct. 1.—The political views of Robert M. La Follette, Independent candidate for president, were attacked at today's session of the American Bankers Association general convention. Previous sessions had confined themselves to the condemnation of the principal plank of the platform of the Independent candidate whose name was not mentioned but today he was specifically named as the "nation's chief liability" in an address prepared for delivery by John E. Edgerton, president of the National Manufacturers Association.

Edgerton declared "the elements of distrust, suspicion, prejudice, hatred, discontent and vengeance have multiplied and are being brought together into a dangerous power by the enterprising genius from Wisconsin, who is never happy except when conspicuous either as a constructionist of obstructionist. Except for the fact that the human element responds to the egotistic appeal of the demagogues," declared Edgerton, "that arch demagogue, Robert M. La Follette, and all the other demagogues would be compelled to find some useful employment for their misapplied talent. If there is anything against which the citizenry of our country should hurl resistance," he continued, "it is the impudently recurring attacks of christians in various disguises to weaken the arm of our courts by cunningly devised statutes and amendments to the constitution. It has become a fad rather a disease to amend the constitution and by amending it render it inoperative the wisest provisions of its original architects. One of the proposals which embodies evidences of these fatal tendencies is the so-called Child Labor Amendment. It is meant to restrain production and compel uneconomic advances in wages, expand the power of the Federal government and so require the creation of more public offices making an excuse for raising the cost of operating the government. These men could not usurp the country except that 70 per cent of the voting strength of the country expresses no interest in the government. This 70 per cent includes the more responsible elements of society, bankers, professional and business men. The bankers, manufacturers, and business men have been so absorbed in their individual responsibilities and problems in connection with their own selfish interests that they are generally uninformed as to what is going on about them. They don't get disturbed until after election and then they can get together quicker and pass more denunciatory resolutions than anybody.

Motor Caravan To Attend 'Chester Day' At Big Exposition

CHARLOTTE, Oct. 1.—A motorcade from Chester, South Carolina will arrive in Charlotte Tuesday afternoon to attend the "Chester Day" at the Made-in-Carolina Exposition. It has been announced by C. O. Kueser, secretary of the local chamber of commerce. The secretary stated that he expected at least 500 automobiles to be in the caravan. The visitors will be carried on a tour of the city and then entertained at dinner. Major J. C. Baird, a former resident of Chester, will make a short address of welcome.

JUDGE J. R. CAVERLY NOW RECUPERATING

Judge in Franks Case Suffered Breakdown Immediately After Announcing Decision

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Judge John R. Caverly, who on September 10 sentenced Richard Loch and Nathan C. Lopold, Jr., to life imprisonment for the murder of Robert Franks, was stricken with a nervous breakdown immediately after the close of the trial but is much improved in a hospital here, former Judge C. A. MacDonald announced today after a visit to the judge.

That the Judge had been ill in a hospital or had suffered a breakdown was unknown to his most intimate friends, McDonald declared. Most of the judge's friends, according to McDonald's statement, believed Caverly had gone away for a rest as had been announced. He became ill almost immediately after giving his decision and went to the hospital the next day, said McDonald. Physicians found that he was suffering from high blood pressure and he was immediately ordered to bed. He has improved rapidly and is now resting up.

Black and Gold 11 Twin City High School Treated Varsity Men

Winston-Salem, Oct. 1.—The Black and Gold eleven of the Winston-Salem High School are now being treated as varsity men at college. They have been presented with field blankets of heavy wool. The blankets are of deep gray and bordered with black. H. G. Chatham, of this city, was the donor.

Durham, Oct. 1.—William Wade Hinshaw's opera, "Don Pasquale" near Raleigh the Neuse reached 19.3 feet yesterday afternoon and at department of Trinity College.

Smithfield it passed 21 feet with a predicted crest of more than 25 feet. HEAVY-HANDED DINERS WRECK THE TABLE AT WEMBLEY

STRIKING MATCHES ALL DAY LONG WAS MAN'S WORK MANY YEARS

London, Oct. 1.—Tom Tutthill, who worked for 36 years in a London match factory striking matches to test their quality, died recently from blood poisoning contracted while at work. His job, one of the queerest in King George's Kingdom, was created for him after he had suffered from infantile paralysis, and needed an easy task.

All day long, day after day, year after year, Tutthill went on with his work, scratching all his matches by one hand and passing judgment upon the quality of each fresh consignment as some 54 bars in the exhibition, it from the workrooms. Some years ago he became eligible for a pension, so smashed since the exhibition from his company but he liked his work and would not give it up.

Rivers in Eastern Section Rising Rapidly; Flood Warnings Sent Out; Rise May Break All High Water Records

Tar river here had reached a stage of 13.2 feet here early today having risen almost six feet during the past 48 hours. The river continues to rise rapidly and has now reached the flood stage of 14 feet.

Local observer, B. T. Clark was advised this morning that the river here would probably reach a stage of more than 20 feet at Sunday while at Tarboro it would reach a stage several feet higher.

Railroad inspectors at the Atlantic Coast Line bridge stated that they had been advised the flood may possibly exceed that of 1919 which was 24 feet the record high water mark here.

Throughout the county crops and roads have caused considerably from washouts caused by the excessive rains and flood waters of various streams. Washouts along the tracks have almost completely demoralized train service many of the trains, having been temporarily discontinued and others moving hours behind schedule.

Raleigh, Oct. 1.—Raced with the probability of further heavy damage by rapidly rising rivers, eastern North Carolina last night awaited anxiously the passage of the flood crests of several rivers which were out of their banks as a result of almost unprecedented rainfall.

The United States weather bureau last night indicated that a rise of from 2 to 10 feet above the flood level probably would take place today, the result of more than two weeks continuous rainfall in Eastern Carolina, culminating in downpours Sunday and Monday which broke records of more than a quarter of a century.

Last night thousands of acres of crops were reported under water along the Cape Fear, Tar, Roanoke and Neuse rivers and a dozen smaller streams. The Cape Fear at Fayetteville is expected to reach a 16 foot stage tomorrow. Yesterday river was above the flood stage, having passed the 36-foot mark. At Weldon the Roanoke reached the flood stage of 30 feet with a predicted crest of 45 feet. At Neuse station near Raleigh the Neuse reached 19.3 feet yesterday afternoon and at Smithfield it passed 21 feet with a predicted crest of more than 25 feet.

These figures do not include glasses broken in the drinking saloons, and it is stated that it is no uncommon thing in a busy week for one bar to smash 1,500 glasses. As there is apparent that the number of glasses smashed since the exhibition opened in April must be about 700,000.

MOVIE MEN WORLD MAY BE INVITED TO G. E. N. CONFERENCE

Geneva, Oct. 1.—Declaring that there are at least 50,000 cinema halls in the world and that the moving picture is steadily increasing as an international force for good or evil, Julian Luchaire, Honorary Professor of Grenoble University, France, and Inspector-General of Public Education, recently urged the League of Nations committee on Intellectual Cooperation to convoke an International Cinematograph congress which would bring together representatives of promoters, producers, authors, artists, critics and directors.

Professor Luchaire hailed the motion picture as one of the most important movements in the history of intellectual life in the course of the last 20 years. He said its influence on the populace can only find a parallel in that of the theatre in the cities of ancient Greece and that of the daily press in modern nations since the nineteenth century. He estimated that, taking the average number of spectators to be 300 in each of the 50,000 world cinema halls, and keeping in mind that each picture is usually repeated ten times, a film which goes all over the world, as many is seen in a relatively short space of time by 150,000,000 persons.

Undoubtedly, said Professor Luchaire, the impression made upon this enormous public is superlative compared with the influence of certain books which have taken years or centuries to impress themselves on the human race, certain sacred books, for instance, but it is a striking fact that only the Bible and the Koran have an indisputably larger circulation than that of the latest film from Los Angeles. He said that the cinema has been adapted to religious propaganda in various countries, and that in the United States it is estimated that about 25,000 churches use the screen as an adjunct to the pulpit. For all these reasons and for the additional one that the cinema has become intrinsically international, Professor Luchaire held that it should be included within the scope of the activities of the Committee on Intellectual Cooperation.

The future alone will divulge, the speaker insisted, whether the cinema is to have high educational value and the elevating and ennobling influence which the theatre seems to have had on the masses in ancient Greece, or the debasing influence of vulgar music hall shows or of cheap novels. The French professor said he was convinced that great things could be accomplished by a international conference in the way of leading the cinema into channels which would be productive of good for humanity.

Dayton Setting Stage For Aerial Bombing

Dayton, O., Sept. 24.—A slice of lower Manhattan's well known skyline is rising in miniature in this middle western city. Shortly will be seen the towering dignity of the Woolworth building, and the imposing heights of the Equitable, the Singer and the Municipal Buildings. Plumped right down in the middle of a corn field.

Then, after it's all fixed and made to look like the real thing, along will swoop airplanes and bomb it into splinters.

That will be one of the stunts arranged for the spectators at the International Air Races here Oct. 2, 3 and 4. The model city is being erected at Wilbur Wright Field, where the races will be held, and will cover an area of 2,000 feet. The buildings, which are being constructed now, will be built in proportion, however. The highest will tower some 100 feet. The idea behind the stunt is to show graphically what would happen if enemy airplanes of real warfare. But in order that no one run any danger of injury, the structures are going up a mile from the grand stand at Wright Field, and no one will be permitted near the "war area."

STRANGE KIND OF WORM CAN LIVE ONLY IN ICE

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 29.—A species of worm that lives only in ice and cannot withstand even the heat of a human hand, has been found and photographed by a scientific expedition that recently went into the Olympic mountains.

The ice on Dodwell-Rixen Pass in the Olympics was found literally alive with these worms. They are black, thin and about half an inch long. When the sun is out they crawl into the interior of the ice where the temperature is lower. Scientists with the party said that so far as they knew these worms never had been found before in the United States.

While the worms were photographed, it was impossible to get any of them out of the mountains alive. When the ice surrounding them begins to melt, they die immediately. What they live on is still a mystery.

SHARP EYES NEEDED IN ALASKA TO COUNT THE SWIMMING SALMON

Anchorage, Alaska, Oct. 1.—For the fourth consecutive year hundreds of thousands of red salmon have been stopped and counted as they make their spawning "run" from the Karluk river into Karluk Lake on Kodiak Island. The work was under the direction of C. H. Gilbert, fisheries expert of Stanford University.

A weir, or fish fence, was built across the river during the fishing season. The salmon were forced to pass through small gates in the fence to enter the lake. A watchman counted them.

Professor Gilbert points out that if the number of fish that return at maturity to the spawning ground in a certain year can be ascertained, there will be definite information as to the number to be saved each year for reproduction. The count also will determine the maximum of the salmon run. Tabulation for the fourth consecutive year will enable the packers to ascertain the number of four, five, six and seven-year salmon.

Queen Elena Makes Poor Little Italian Girl Very Happy

Rome, Oct. 1.—Queen Elena of Italy has a mother's heart, and an exceedingly sharp eye for anyone, especially any child, who seems to be needy or in trouble. Recently when the Queen was motoring near San Rossore, the hunting lodge in Tuscany where the royal family spends the summer months, she saw a little girl of eight or ten years of age, barefoot and clothed only in a few rags.

Calling the child Queen Elena spoke kindly to her, asking her name and where she lived. The next day a grand footman brought little Bepina a parcel containing a pair of stockings, one of which was filled with sweets and cakes, while the other contained a purse with money to buy her a frock. A few days later the Queen received a letter, badly written and worst spelled, which said:

"Your Majesty—
Your munificent present has caused me the greatest joy. My father has taken the money; my brother the cakes; and my mother the stockings.
Your most devoted,
"BEPINA."

How Bobbed Hair Originated.

Berlin, Sept. 29.—A young student of philosophy, Robert Volgelmann, in a newspaper article scorns bobbed hair as "the deadly sin against the holy spirit of Dame Fashion, and urges German fraulein to scorn the style.

It was invented by a clever sister wanting to camouflage the poor growth of her hair by trick, he declares.

Gained Ten Pounds

Mrs. George S. Hunter, of Columbus, Ga., says she suffered severely with female troubles.

"I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time," says Mrs. Hunter. "I could not work. My... were irregular and I got very thin. I went from 126 pounds down to less than 100. My mother had been a user of and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble, so she told me to get some and take it. I went to the store after it and before I had taken the first bottle up I began to improve. My side hurt less and I began to mend in health. I took four bottles in all during the last ten months. Cardui acted as a fine tonic. I am well now. I have gained ten pounds and am still gaining." Take Cardui.

EX-101

Mrs. Housewife! Do You Favor Food Law Enforcement?

You appreciate the vital importance of pure and fresh drugs—drugs that are prepared and packed under fixed government regulations.

How about foods? Aren't they just as important? Take baking powder, for instance—it is useful only when it produces its maximum of leavening strength in the baking. Leavening efficiency means light, wholesome breadstuffs—bakings that are easily digested, which in turn aid towards perfect health. Lack of leavening strength means flat and soggy bakings which are surely indigestible.

The pure food laws of our country have standardized baking powder—they require that it contain 12% leavening gas at the time of sale to the consumer. Why is it that these laws have not been applied to baking powder mixed with flour, and sold in sacks as self rising flour?

Thousands of barrels of self rising flour are annually sold in our southern states without any regulation by pure food measures, except in Texas.

Any grade of flour and any quality or strength of baking powder can be used in making self rising flour and sold to the unthinking public without official criticism.

Numerous baking and laboratory experiments have been conducted by state chemists and other investigators. They found a surprising amount of this mixed flour to be so deteriorated as to be productive only of heavy, soggy bakings.

Do you want to eat foods made from self rising flours that do not contain the necessary leavening strength—foods that are hard to digest and a detriment to health? Do you want the law to protect you in this instance as it protects the user of medicine? It is for you and others interested in public health to decide.

Remember Calumet Baking Powder meets every requirement of the law—that it retains its great leavening strength to the last spoonful.

Packed in tin—keeps the strength in.

OCTOBER

These are the days when North Carolina's fields and forests are aglow with glory. The luxurious foliage which held sovereign sway through spring and midsummer has been invaded by a host of yellow conquerors whose triumph is assured. Here and there maroon, russet and crimson intermingle in lovely confusion and the commonest hedge row is adorned by splashes of scarlet and variegated with delicate tints and vivid colors in most unexpected places. The leaves are falling faster with each passing day, until by and by the ground will be carpeted in a pattern of commingled brown and carmine and old gold.

The bird life is meager now and suffers sadly when compared with those choruses that made forest and field vibrant with melody in May. But the merry whistle of Bob White, the cheery notes of the Chickadee, the friendly chirp of a vagrant Woodpecker and the harsh measures of the handsome but unmusical Blue Jay compensates in part for the absence of the velvet throated songsters of yesterday.

The first frosts are coming. The nutting season is on in earnest. An azure haze hangs over the horizon and throws a filmy veil across every vista. There is a tang in the air and the smell of burning brush. The wild geese fly honking overhead, dreaming of the sun-lit pools in the Southland. The chipmunk scampers across the road to a place of safety under a rail pile where, certain of security, he scrutinizes the passersby.

It is October, mellow with the maturity of a year four-fifths gone, rich and riotous of color, but melancholy and sad only to those who will have it so. It is a great month for the pedestrian to be on the road and to tramp across the fields. It is time for the city man to forsake the streets and boulevards and to take the nearest highway that leads to farm land, forest and stream. It is the month of all months to be out of doors and to range at will over highway and woodland ere winter comes and the long nights and the biting cold induce one to linger long by his wood fire and browse among books and magazines.

October in North Carolina is a season of witchery.

GOLD BRICK FOR FORMER GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES

The Republican Administration is engaged in an effort to "bunk" a few hundred thousand former employees of the Government into believing that it is going to put them back on the Federal pay-roll. The "gold brick," the administration is attempting to sell these former employees is gilded with a letter advising them that they are to be restored to their former Civil Service status without further examination, and that there are Federal jobs available for which they are eligible.

This "gold brick" is being passed out in the hope that these former employees who may feel disgruntled at having been deprived of their jobs with the Government will feel more kindly toward the Coolidge administration and rally to its support in the November election if they feel that their names will be restored to the Federal pay roll.

The "gold brick" letter is advising former employees that positions are about to be opened up in the Adjutant General's office in the War Department in connection with the work of paying the bonus to former service men, and informs them that "a person who is able to do typewriting and who at any time has held a clerical position in the Government service under permanent appropriation as a result of examination, may now be certified to the Adjutant General's office without further examination." Nor is the allurements held out exclusively to former employees, for the letter adds that "a person who passed a typist examination at any time within the past five years, whether appointed or not, is also eligible for this temporary work without further examination."

At the peak of war work, on armistice day, November 11, 1918, there were 917,760 employees on the Civil Service rolls. By July, 1921, this number had been reduced to 597,482, or by more than 300,000. At the beginning of this year, it had been reduced to about 540,000, so that during the last five years, more than 300,000 employees have been let out.

The administration is now endeavoring to have all these former employees believe that if they want the jobs, and will only file for them, they may be restored to the Federal pay roll. As a matter of fact, the Adjutant General's office in the War Department has advised that a force of only about 2,500 clerks will be necessary to do the bonus work, so that, with about 2,500 jobs to give out, the administration, through this Civil Service letter, is endeavoring by this subtle method to fool more than 300,000 men and women voters into believing that they are going to get government jobs.

While restoration to Civil Service status is offered only to clerks and typists, about 90 per cent of the discharged employees came under that classification.

The letter advising these former employees of their restored Civil Service status was mailed out of Washington on September 1. As far back as early June, the War Department announced that it was ready to take care of the job of paying the bonus. Nothing was said at that time about restoring the Civil Service status of former clerks and typists. If the Civil Service Commission's letter had gone out then, applicants would have found that there are to be less than 3,000 jobs to be distributed among some 300,000 men and women. Mailing the letter is deferred until too near election day for prospective applicants to learn until after the election that fewer than one in every hundred will get a job.

The administration's changed attitude toward voting former employees is well illustrated by the case of a young man formerly in the Government service, but who was let out a couple of years ago. About a year ago, he applied for a job in one of the Executive Departments at Washington, similar to one he had previously held, but was advised that his Civil Service status had expired and he would have to pass another examination. He urged that the examination be waived, because of the long delay that would ensue, explaining that he needed a job and needed it very much, being in straitened circumstances. He was turned down. A few weeks ago, however, he was advised that he could resume his Government connection, and he is now on the Federal pay roll.

SWEDEN TO EXERCISE CONTROL OVER BROADCASTING STATIONS

Stockholm, Oct. 1. — All radio broadcasting in Sweden is to be placed under government control, the government Department of Telegraphs and Telephones operating jointly with the Swedish press in the connection.

The plan calls for the erection by the government of five broadcasting stations, situated at Stockholm, Gothenburg, Malmo, Sundsvall and Boden. These facilities will at all times be available for use by the government.

Programs given in Stockholm will be transmitted by wire to each of the other four stations, at which there will also be local programs, and it is planned to provide 1,500 hours of entertainment a year. Storm warnings, messages of distress from the sea, etc., will in all cases take priority over entertainment.

$4,000 Cash Prizes Offered Farm Crops Dept. State Fair

Raleigh, Oct. 1.—The educational value of farm exhibits will be one outstanding point on which the judges will base their decisions in awarding the nearly $4,000 in cash prizes offered in this farm crops department of the State Fair during the week of October 13 to 17, states C. E. Williams of the State College Experiment Station who will be in charge of that department for the Fair.

Mr. Williams says, "In judging the exhibit this year, we expect to use well trained men, who will use definite educational standards in their work. Not only will these standards be used in awarding prizes in the county, individual farm exhibits, but also in the individual exhibits of corn, cotton, tobacco, wheat, rye, the legumes and the seed contests. We feel that a study of these exhibits will convince the most skeptical of the practical value to the farmers of the state of the work done by the agricultural specialists of the State College and Department of Agricultural."

The officials of the fair are offering $3,786 in premiums in agricultural exhibits. This is probably one of the largest and most liberal premium offerings to be made by any State fair and the prizes will go to only North Carolina farmers. It was stated by Mr. Williams that these prizes will be awarded so as to give to the observer as well as the exhibitor some idea of an educational value when he studies the displays made.

Mr. Williams also finds much interest in the exhibits this year. He says, "There is a lively interest in this phase of the fair this season. We expect the agricultural exhibits to represent a large part of the agricultural industry of the state. A large number of reservations have already been made and others are coming right along."

Some of the things which the exhibit will show are the value of good seed properly selected for planting; how to build productive soils; the value of a sound farm organization; and how to secure quality crops by rotating them and using better farming methods.

Last year Columbus County took first prize and officials expect much competition from the western counties this year.

PARAMOUNT OFFERS UNIQUE PICTURE IN "OPEN ALL NIGHT"

White's Theatre Thursday, A Radical Departure From Usual Line of Screen Entertainment.

Unique in the realm of sport, the six-day bicycle race has at last reached the screen.

Run for the first time thirty-eight years ago in Madison Square Garden, New York this race is the central hub around which revolves the action of "Open All Night," a Paramount production directed by Paul Bern, in which this sport classic is filmed for the first time.

Since it made its debut to the American public in 1891, the six day bicycle race has been taken up by Europe and there are now two such international events held annually, one in New York, the other in the Winter Circus, Paris.

Both attract world-wide attention from a public that is naturally cosmopolitan. It was the variety of types to be found at the Paris race that gave Paul Morand, famous French short story writer, inspiration for the tales on which Willis Goldbeck based his screen play of the same name.

Goldbeck is the scenario writing sensation of the year in Hollywood. Following Rex Ingram's "discovery" of him in the preparation of "Scaramouche" he came to the Paramount studio and has since written the screen plays for such successes as "The Side Show of Life," in which he collaborated with Julie Herne, "The Alaskan," and "Peter Pan," in addition to "Open All Night."

No story could have been better suited to Paul Bern for his first directorial venture than "Open All Night." It deals with a city and a phase of life with which he is intimately familiar. His chief concern was to find players capable of interpreting the humor and delicacy of the story.

Adolphe Menjou, whose rise to fame has been meteoric, was the actor chosen to portray the leading male role, that of a blaze polished French aristocrat.

The leading feminine roles in "Open All Night" are those of Menjou's butterfly wife, taken by Viola Dana, and Lea, a demimondaine of the ultra-Parisian type, played by Jette Goudal. These roles could not have been more perfectly cast. Miss Boudal was brought from the East specially to fill the role, her first appearances under the Paramount banner. Raymond Griffith has an unusual opportunity in a comedy role and Maurice B. Flynn is the six day bicycle champion. Gale Henry completes the cast.

The result of this combination of talent is a picture which, according to the critics who have been favored with a preview is scheduled to place Bern as high in the ranks of directors as he formerly was among the scenarists.

The Patient Circle of The King's Daughters Meet

The Patient Circle of The King's Daughters held a most enjoyable and large attended meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Alex Blow with Mrs. Blow and Mrs. J. C. Butner hostesses.

The meeting was a regular business session held for the purpose of disposing of some matters of vital importance to the Circle and to elect delegates to the State convention which will be held in Wilmington October 9th and 10th.

The devotional services were conducted by Mrs. Ada Cherry and the meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. N. S. Fulford.

The Patient Circle was delighted to have as guests several members of the Ever Ready Circle of The King's Daughters and a few friends who are interested in the work of the circle.

Miss Martha O'Hagan who for the past several years has been interested in the work of The King's Daughters and who has given of her time and means towards the work was made an honorary member of The Patient Circle.

The Circle's letter which will be read at the convention was read last night and showed that the Patient Circle has accomplished a wonderful work during the past year.

Delegates were elected and it is expected that all four circles of The King's Daughters in this city will be represented at the convention.

After the discussion of several other matters of importance the hostesses served hot tea and sandwiches.

GOLF COURSE AT COUNTRY CLUB IN SPLENDID CONDITION

The golf course at the Country Club despite the heavy rains for the past several days is in splendid condition and the lovers of the sport can enjoy the course again today.

This is unusual considering the weather and is perhaps the only course in this section of the state that can be used to any advantage this early after the inclement weather.

Professional L. A. Nownham is elated over the splendid condition of the course and is doing every thing possible to keep it so the players can enjoy it at any and all times.

I Paid $5

For these powders once By Edna Wallace Hopper

I was asked to offer women my aids in youth and beauty, and I did. They are, I believe, the greatest in existence, for I searched the world to get them.

Then countless women asked me about powders. I am an actress and a movie star. We in our world care nothing for expense. Anything which adds to our beauty is worth many times its cost. So I have long paid $5 per box, as have others, to obtain the very best—Edna Wallace Hopper most in a powder. Each lot was made to photo 1923 my order.

Now I have asked the makers to supply these identical powders, in quantities, at prices all could pay. I have agreed to market them to women who desire them. Thus I am able to supply these same powders at 50c and $1. I owe that to the kindness of the makers.

I use a heavy cold-cream powder, based on my Youth Cream. It clings and stays. This I call my Youth Cream Powder. But many women like a powder light and fluffy. I have this powder made in two forms. All druggists and toilet counters now supply my Youth Cream Powder at $10 and my light Face Powder at 50c. Both come in three shades—white, flesh and brunette.

There may be greater powder in the world, but I have never found them, and I have consulted the greatest experts. I know that anyone who compares them with ordinary powders will be amazed and delighted.

I shall gladly mail you a sample of the kind you want if you will mail this coupon. Please do that now.

YOUR CHIROPRACTOR

When your spine is normal YOU are HEALTHY. Is yours normal? CHIROPRACTIC is based upon natural principles, the first of which is that the human body contains within itself all of the elements necessary to HEALTH, when all parts of the body are properly co-ordinating. Ill HEALTH is brought about when by pressure upon nerves at the spinal column, resulting in deficient transmission of vital energy (life force) from the brain to the affected organ. Chiropractors remove pressure and restore transmission by spinal adjustments delivered with the hand.

CHIROPRACTIC adjustments corrects diseases of the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and lower organs.

CHIROPRACTIC has proven especially effective in cases of so-called Appendicitis, Bladder Disorders, Bowel Trouble, Bronchitis, Chronic Coughs, Constipation, Gall Disorders, Hay Fever, Headaches, Heart Troubles, Kidney Disorders, Ligament Troubles, Liver Disorders, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Neuritis, Nervousness, Paralysis, Pharyngitis, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Spasms, Stomach Troubles and many other conditions.

COTTON LETTER.

New Orleans, Oct. 1.—The return of fair weather to the eastern half of the belt and the continuance of fair weather to the west of the Mississippi river influenced market to a lower level this morning but market recovered this afternoon owing to large exports from the United States and because of the unfavorable crop situation in the south Atlantic states due to the recent almost incessant heavy rains in that section which cause numerous streams to leave their banks and inundate lowlands.

Washington reported: "Temperatures averaged below normal generally with heavy to excessive rains over eastern portion of the cotton belt and mostly light rainfall in west portion. Prevailing weather was mostly favorable for cotton from the Mississippi valley states westward although low temperatures retarded maturity as well as growth of top crop especially in the northwest. Excessive rains were decidedly unfavorable in Atlantic coast states.

Reporting for 24 hours, ending at 8 a. m. today the local weather bureau reported: Temperatures were generally 8 to 20 degrees below normal with minimum of 36 to 44 degrees in the interior of eastern districts, with light frosts south of Macon, Montgomery and Vicksburg, and heavy frosts at several stations in western Tennessee.

No rain occurred except light to moderate rainfall in eastern North Carolina. Several additional monthly private crop reports were released today, their crop ranging from 53 to 54.7, indicating a yield of 12,390,000 to 12,400,000 bales, except that returns to the New York Journal of Commerce averaged the condition of the plant at 50.4 pointing to a yield of 13,015,000 bales but the latter reports was not taken seriously by the trade.

On September 23 the government report averaged the condition of the crop at 55.4 and forecast a production of 12,956,000 bales. This report was based on returns of Sept. 1 since which date almost incessant rains have been the rule to the east of the Mississippi river, especially in the south Atlantic states where considerable damage is reported.
